Mr. Roosevelt will not equip American merchant ships with arms. He will not equip them with machine guns and black accessories and corage of yellow rats.

Builders Report Delay In Obtaining Certain Supplies for Homes.

It was reported today that supplies of certain materials used in the construction of new homes, particularly in the plumbing line, are becoming more and more difficult to obtain, and in spite of Manchester's favorable defense location for priorities ratings, individual builders are having delays and holdbacks in the completing of their homes. While no serious disadvantages have yet been felt other than delay, builders now are making certain they can assemble complete materials before they go ahead on a job to avoid possibility of contract trouble.

One builder jokingly said new home builders in the outskirts may have to take to log cabins again for house design, and he mentioned the possibility that some of the "Saver" ideas and hints may come in handy if plumbing supplies get any shorter. It is expected that Manchester will, in spite of some minor hold-ups, be able to get such materials as it needs due to the location of the town in an area where defense housing is being pushed.
