Four Are Hurt In Odd Crash

Victims Were Investigating Accident—When Hit by Third Auto.

Hartford, Dec. 20.—Four persons, investigating the damage done to a car in an accident on icy New Britain avenue in West Hartford this morning were injured by another skidding auto and, according to Policeman Everett Fredin, over the road.

The woman passenger in the first accident was catapulted off the machine in the second crash.

Three of the injured were taken to St. Francis hospital where they are in critical condition. The fourth, Mrs. Joseph D. Kelly, 121 Woodbine street, Bristol, injured by leg and lacerations, was taken to the hospital by ambulance. Dr. Albert J. Divel, 49 Athens avenue, Bristol, is attending to the injured.

Policeman Fredin said that the car was struck from the rear by a second car, which was driven by a woman. The car was then struck from the side of the road by a third car, which was driven by a man. The woman passenger in the first accident was catapulted off the machine in the second crash.

The Incubates
 It seems to us that the isolationists who were predicting our defeat if we ever got into this war, and who, on occasion, stated that we were not worth fighting for, are not the ones to run the war itself, any more than Chamberlain, their British counterpart, was the man to run the war for England.

Such a view does not appeal to the isolationists themselves, naturally enough. They are looking toward Washington on the first crucial legislative test of war policy. They are not the ones to run the war itself, any more than Chamberlain, their British counterpart, was the man to run the war for England.

Take One More Step

Hitler's Next Move
 Hitler has suffered defeat in Russia, but he has not yet lost his capacity for making the rest of the world wonder what he may do next. That means that the rest of the world still credits him with the ability to hold the initiative for some time to come. It is assumed that he is still capable of striking another blow, and that he will strike it.

 Washington—When the history of the New Deal is written, there will, of course, be a long chapter devoted to the various agencies which were called into service in the Democratic administration, but alongside it will have to be another chapter, often overlooked, that will deal with the great number of representatives of the nation's first families in wealth and social standing who have been attracted to the New Deal and hold key positions in the government set-up.

Vallee Would Like To Act in Pictures

Noted Musician Wants To Really Act; Tired Of Playing Vallee; Owns Beautiful Home.

By Sigrid Arne

Hollywood, Dec. 20.—Rudy Vallee has made the appointment for 1 p. m.

He was sitting in a chair in his breakfast room. The lower part of his face smiled; but his eyes were close. They looked as though they were sitting in each other's lap, as they're a little starting when he smiles.

He frowned now. He had just demolished two eggs. His hair is still boy-curly. But his cheeks are high on such a narrow jaw that he has to use a turntable to switch his automobiles around.

He lives with his retired, young wife, and a copy of the picture which flutters about like worried butterflies over deep valleys. The picture is a circular staircase. The house is high on such a narrow jaw that he has to use a turntable to switch his automobiles around.

War Cancels Fiesta Plans

Pan-American Event Scheduled for October Is Postponed.

New Orleans, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The war today blocked out another gala New Orleans celebration—a Pan-American fiesta scheduled for the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus.

The fiesta, which was to have been held in the city, has been postponed because of the war.

The committee in charge said that the fiesta would have been held in the city, but because of the war, it has been postponed.

Army to Go After Young Will Rescind Recent Orders Against Volunteer Enlistments.

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Thwarted by Congress in its plan for drafting men under 20, the Army will rescind recent orders against volunteer enlistments and allow the younger men, an informed source predicted today.

The Army has made it plain that it wants younger men, said Senator Reynolds (D., N. C.), chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee. "I am sure that it will begin recruiting them immediately."

Awaits Roosevelt Signature

His comment was given in reports as final preparations for drafting men aged 18 through 44 years old, approved by both Houses yesterday, awaited President Roosevelt's signature.

The presidential signature, officials said, will act in motion the House and Senate compromise on the machinery for registration—probably on Feb. 20 through 22, and of men from 20 and 21 years old who have not yet been drafted.

This registration probably will be the first public step in the selective service bill.

It was reported that the bill will be signed by the president on Dec. 20, and that the registration will begin on Dec. 21.

Fliers Anxious To Strike Foe

Army Airmen Fighting Time Since Attack on Pearl Harbor.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Army airmen are fighting time since attacking at the bit-panic Pearl Harbor to strike at the enemy.

To obtain their war reaction, the San Antonio News surveyed activities at nearby Randolph, Brooks and Kelly Fields and reported:

"Every officer, aviation cadet and mechanic is rushing to get this nation the world's most powerful Air Force."

"The men are not just working hard, they are working smart. They are working hard, they are working smart. They are working hard, they are working smart."

Say Welders Will Strike

At Least 200,000 to Lay Down Tools in Protest on Lock-Out.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—(AP)—United Workers' officials predicted last night that at least 200,000 welders would go on strike in protest against the alleged anti-union tactics of the International Brotherhood of Welders.

The strike would be the largest in the history of the industry, officials said.

The International Brotherhood of Welders has been accused of anti-union tactics, including the use of spies and informants.

The union leaders are demanding that the company be forced to recognize the union and to negotiate in good faith.

Noted Actress Is Very Busy

Peggy Wood Is Also at Work Writing Besides Her Stage Roles.

By Mark Barron

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—When a large group of Broadway theatrical producers and stars assembled at the Waldorf-Astoria for various war benefits they wanted to open the meeting by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

As usual when such a thought came into the mind of the group, Peggy Wood, who is also a noted actress, was asked to sing.

She sang with a beautiful voice and a beautiful smile.

She is also a noted actress and a successful writer.

Now I know Henry will Look his Best at the Office...

There's nothing like a well pressed, freshly laundered shirt to keep a man looking neat and well groomed. Shirts laundered by New Model fit that bill... they're done well enough to satisfy the fussiest man. They're starched smoothly to your order... washed gently to preserve life and they're expertly finished by hand. Try New Model Laundry service... it's superior!

And if you have the use of the family car, as we know you must, you can do as hundreds of smart women are already doing—DRIVE TO OUR PLANT on Summit street and bring the family laundry and later in the week again pick it up and

SAVE 15%

Pretty nice, eh? We think so and judging by the number of thrifty women who are taking advantage of this offer we believe they know laundry values.

Why don't you try it? Every bit of work done just as fine as pick-up and delivery work but you pocket the saving by cash and carry.

ember 24. Mr. Bray came to Manchester from England in 1889 and obtained work in the Talcottville Mills.

Mr. Bray married Miss Lillian

Mrs. Edwin L. Bray

Smith, who had come to this country from England in 1891 and they were married on Dec. 24, that year by the Rev. F. R. Waite of Talcottville.

Later the couple moved to Manchester and Mr. Bray obtained employment in Cheney Brothers as a solvent weaver. He was later employed as janitor of the Lincoln School.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray are now living in Allandale, Calif., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Barber, former residents of this town.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Bray, seven of whom are living, six residents of this town and one in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Bray receive The Herald daily while wintering on the coast.

Heard Along Main Street And on Some of Manchester's Side Streets, Too

Until Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon gets a written ticket from the Board of Police Commissioners to permit special parking privileges for doctors, the medical profession, it seems, will have to chitch at parking spaces like the rest of us. The chief wants written orders before he grants special privileges.

So far the only thing the medical profession has done to help is to appear to have knocked off the right to park longer than anybody else. It is only a step until they reach out for private parking spots—preferably, of course, on Main street.

It is fully wondered if that car, parked now for over a year (no joke) beside the municipal building, and parked now on flat tires, hasn't set a record or something? Now that the doctors have been given special parking privileges, the talk along Main street is that others will be seeking similar rights. Volunteer firemen may appeal to the police board to allow them the privilege of over-time parking. And the druggists consider themselves an emergency duty 24 hours a day. The dentists, certainly, rush to alleviate suffering every so often—and then there are so many others it would be difficult to do without, the butcher, the baker, the milkman and the package store man. We might just as well throw the parking stalls on Main street wide open again.

Speaking of special privileges in parking stalls: isn't it the height of something or other to tag an automobile that is parked in front of a theater when that theater isn't operating? There are yellow lines in front of both the State theater and the Circle. A local business man was tagged in one of these theater restricted areas the other day just two hours before the theater was due to open. Saturday mornings that space in front of the Circle theater is valuable parking area. There isn't any sense in tagging cars parked in such places when the theaters aren't operating.

One day this past week it was bitterly cold on Main street. Most everyone was huddled well against the biting winds. Along came three girls of high school age. All of them were wrapped warmly especially around the neck and one of them was wearing ear-muffs, but all three of them were bare-legged! And talk about being bundled against the cold! One of the volunteers for listening post duty showed up on the job with his head wrapped up in a heavy scarf and wearing a hat and heavy fur ear-flaps. He could see airplanes all right but he couldn't possibly have heard one if it zoomed right over his head.

Later the couple moved to Manchester and Mr. Bray obtained employment in Cheney Brothers as a solvent weaver. He was later employed as janitor of the Lincoln School.
