defend Britain if need be, and to help strike directly at Hitler on his own soil, but that becomes possible. They are there as a symbol of the broad and relentless American purpose in this war.

These presence there, rather than the talk of the isolationists in Congress, is the American message to Hitler.

Cost of Living a Joke? Is it not tragic and completely inadvisable of democratic failure to have the price administrator come, and admit that the bill Congress is giving him is not going to stop inflation?

Why, if even the man who is to administer it proclaims it no good, is Congress being permitted to pass such a measure? Is inflation such a happy, joyous thing that we can thus welcome it?

Does the cost of living mean nothing to the average American? Is this democracy so sudden and complacent that it can stand by rather than the price administrator?

SERIAL STORY TAMBAW GOLD

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

Do you know football? Between the halves an assistant coach came to Doc and asked if he would talk with Coach Harry in the dressing room. Just as they were about to enter the dressing room, the assistant coach said: "What's all that about?" and went to the door.

"What should I do about it?" Doc asked. "You should be in the dressing room when he comes in. He'll be looking for you. He'll be looking for you. He'll be looking for you."

"Oh, can't I come?" he said. "I could tell you more on every thing. I'd say you're right. And I'd say you're right. And I'd say you're right."

"I don't want to go to the dressing room when he comes in. He'll be looking for you. He'll be looking for you. He'll be looking for you."

Double Output For Chemicals

Industry Faces Serious Problem in Drafting of Technical Workers.

Stamford, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Vice President Walter S. Linds of the American Cyanamid Company, asserting the nation's chemical industry was faced with a serious problem in drafting of highly trained technical workers for military service, forecast nevertheless, a doubling of production capacity in the coming year's program.

The New York man told a meeting of the Western Connecticut Section of the American Chemical Society that draft boards were being set up to understand that a competent technical technician is not easily replaced.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

New York, E. Phillips Oppenheim has helped me run up my electric light bills, for I have spent scores of nights with the novel of this man, Monte Carlo in intrigue. He delights in the salons and gaming room settings in which he has written his books.

There could easily be one or two hundred thousand young men at work when the invasion comes, and that should mean the shooting or the incapacitating of at least that number of invaders. These veterans would be no expense whatever to the authorities. There need be no age limit, no medical examination and no uniform. My own twelve boys, retrained after a robust blitz, is in readiness and my No. 4 cartridge order.

Biographical note: Oppenheim has just finished his autobiography, "The Pool of Memory," and it will be published sometime this spring. He was born in 1888, married in 1922, and has three children. He has written nearly 70 books, mostly about the First World War.

That's Oppenheim, and for him the latest has brought war to the front. He has written nearly 70 books, mostly about the First World War.
