Doctors Fear Death

Seattle, Feb. 21.—(AP)—In the face of a mother's opposition, a judge of a superior court will decide whether a judge can order the amputation of an 11-year-old girl's grossly distorted arm.

Patricia Hudson, born with her left arm disproportionately large, is the pawn in the tragedy that has aligned her mother against her four brothers and five sisters in the controversy.

The children first brought the case before Superior Judge William C. Long in juvenile court here. Little Patricia, wearing a cape to shield her greatly overgrown member, recently won her appeal for an amputation order, even in the face of what she knew was a grave risk.
