Taking No Chances On 'Flats' These Days

They're not running far on 'flats' these days. Yesterday morning, while cycling the old-fashioned road at the center, a motorist, right in the midst of heavy traffic, had one of those things that cause drivers to have a heavy heart.

Local Women Will Meet at Legion Home

Local women will meet at the Legion Home on Leonard street tomorrow afternoon to roll bandages and make up for the war effort.

There will be a meeting of Home Co. No. 2, M. F. D. tonight at 8 o'clock at the firehouse.

Auto Bureau Meets Tonight

Practically everyone engaged in automotive trades in Manchester will attend an important meeting this evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at the Hotel Sheridan at 8 o'clock.

Propose Lottery Plan

It has been stated this morning by various local dealers that a lottery plan will be adopted, if the local stations are willing, whereby at least one station will be kept open on Sunday.

Whether or not there will be any discussion this evening on the question of rationing could not be learned. It was stated that when this comes through there will be little bearing on the issue before the automotive trade at this time.

Section Comparable to Rhode Island and Connecticut Combined Is Seized Behind German Lines at Leningrad, Pravda Asserts

Moscow, March 18.—(AP)—Soviet guerrilla forces reported today to Pravda that they had wrested back control of some 6,000 square miles, a section as large as Rhode Island and Connecticut together, behind the German lines at Leningrad, and were so close to the city that they could otherwise identify the section, the Baltic states, in an effort to relieve several German units which had been cut off.

Hitler Recalls High Officers To Plan Drive

Bern, Switzerland, March 18.—Hitler has called back nearly all top officers who resigned or were removed last winter to map a significant offensive expected to be launched soon on the Russian front, a Berlin dispatch to the Swiss newspaper Basle National Zeitung reported today.

The dispatch said the meetings were to mention some of the most significant points toward plans to concentrate in the near future, possibly in view of Rommel's success without a surprise also in Berlin.

Boston Flower Exhibit Wonderful This Year

Herald Reporter Gives Description of Hub Show; Local Persons There

By Mary Taylor
Yesterday it was my privilege to again attend the "Boston down town" show, or to be more correct, the "Victory Flower Show," the 71st that the Massachusetts Horticultural society has staged at the Metropolitan building, and conceded by many to be the greatest of all.

The trip to and from the show was made comfortably by bus. I was able to convey all I wished to see the exhibit, and most of them were garden members from Hartford, Rockville and this town. R. M. Crockett, president of the Connecticut Horticultural Society, officiated master of ceremonies as he did in previous years. The trip by train or private car during the week.

While we have been assigned to a description of the exhibit, it is not the purpose of this column to give a list of the things seen, or the one in New York, if anything, we can see in the exhibit, it is worth the effort.

Yesterday's weather was perfect. Before ten o'clock the fog lifted and the sun shone warm and bright. At noon the sun was shining brightly, many were sitting out on the lawn, and many were taking pictures. The show was in full swing, and many were taking pictures.

The stellar attractions are usually in "Grand Hall" of the Mechanics building. On the first floor, the Victory show, headed with the "Smoky Mountain" scene, the "Smoky Mountain" scene, the "Smoky Mountain" scene, the "Smoky Mountain" scene.

Always Rebel in War in Army Eyes

General MacArthur Always Ready to Throw Aside Old Traditions.

Editor's Note: How Douglas MacArthur defied Army tradition and still proved himself a soldier's soldier is told by Joseph A. Monaghan, George Peterson, Russell H. Allen, Richard J. Russell, William A. Simpson, Marvin A. Spindler, William J. Sullivan, and William J. Sullivan.

Washington, March 19.—(Wide World)—The new United States commander in the Southwest Pacific, "Dug" MacArthur, always was a "rebel" in Army eyes. He grinned at the military conservatism that he had to throw aside in the first World War.
