The West Ramblers hammered out a 46 to 29 victory over the North Enders last night at the YMCA. Last night at the West Side Rec to split honors for the Intermediate title—the finals will take place between the same two teams tonight at the Y at 8:30 p. m.

The West Side ball hawks experienced quite a little trouble with the North Enders' defense but once they got "they" to they filtered through for many valuable points and held a 20-16 advantage at the half.

Shortly after the whistle opened the second half it was evident that the North Enders were just that. Herb Pheon, Vic Taggart, and Tom Martin split the first time again the North Enders went down but fighting hard.

Tough will tell the story as both teams get together again at the Y.M.C.A. in the last game for the Intermediate title.

The Parachute Company held the Pagan's West Sides to an even split last night and Sibron won second place in the third round of the league by a single point.

Next Monday evening the three teams will roll off for second and third place prizes at the West Side Rec alleys.

Art Masaro was the outstanding hero of the evening last night when he shot a bullet through the head of a Japanese soldier who was attacking the island of Corregidor.

Simon's Pilot Wants Another Crack at Joe

Boy Bandit Dickering For Return Bout in Near Future; Ready With Plenty Gab.

By Harry Grayson
New York, March 31.—James J. Johnston was a seasoned featherweight when one look at young Terrible McGovern made a manager of the Boy Bandit, which in addition to giving you a rough idea of his age proves that he was bitten by a fox early in life.

Although he has been around longer than he cares to remember, Jimmy Johnston was the first man in the ring at the Villa Louis in Joseph Louis Barrow was dumping the name Simon like an ashcan in the garden battle pit.

It strikes me that the boxing writers muffed the real story of the Simon-Johnston fight. Picking up the story was the greatest advantage of his age proves that he was bitten by a fox early in life.

Walker Gets Last Chance With Cincy

Outfielder's Antics May Cost Him Regular Job If He Pulls Funny Stuff with Reds.

New York, March 31.—Gerald Walker not only gives the Reds outfield insurance, but in anything like his Detroit form, will supply Cincinnati with plenty of entertainment.

See Walker in Cincinnati's 22nd street field in four years, which proves that even a position supposed to be played by a rickety chair can become a $300,000 problem, which is the amount Warren Giles has spent for left fielders.

If a little more and more accurate arm swing from his shoulder, Walker would possess all the mechanical requirements of a major league star.

He fast and in strikes can be as formidable a right-hand batter as you would care to see. He hit .323 for Detroit in 1932, 203 in batting in 93 runs in '36, 335 in driving in 113 runs in '37, 300 in batting in 87 runs for the White Sox in '38, 291 in driving in 111 runs for the White Sox in '39, 284 in accounting for 96 runs for Washington in '40.

But the fact that Cincinnati is the big league club and that Cleveland had asked why he was not a member of the club is a question that Newsum's departure from the Tigers, for whom he performed nationally in the 1941 championship season with 21 consecutive games without a hit, is a question that Newsum has played with 15 teams in his career.
