Humanty Must Learn To Live Together In Prosperity Under Peace Covenants

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

It is a good thing, in days of wartime like these, to read and study a piece of peace and hope. We have seen how, when there was strife between the peoples of Lot and Abraham, Abraham magnanimously offered to give up the country so that there might be no strife. As it turned out, Lot made a choice in his greedy self-interest, and in choosing the fertile and toward Sodom he became involved in that city's downfall.

Selectman Was Once Paid Only $12 for Year's Work

The selectman have found it necessary in the year which closes today to do many things that were not always to their liking, but there was some pleasure derived at last night's meeting.

They drew orders to pay their yearly salary.

The selectman are paid $100 a year, with the exception of the chairman and the secretary, who are paid an additional $100.

They are paid this in full. It was not always so. In the years 1800-1809, when the board was increased to seven, it was made up of five Republicans and two Democrats. They held 23 meetings. A roll call was taken at each meeting and in case a member was absent he was so marked on the result that at the end of the year they were paid only for the meetings they attended.

Honorable B. Cheney was chairman during that year and he was absent on three occasions while the selectman were in session.

Arthur B. Koenig, two and George H. Allen, 17, were two came time to pay for their services as follows:—Honorable B. Cheney, $80.63; Clarence G. Watkins, $100; William E. Alvord, $100; John M. Williams, $100; Arthur B. Koenig, $83.75; Clinton W. Cowles, $86.75; George H. Allen, $12.

It will be seen by that that Mr. Allen, although he performed many duties as selectman, was only paid $12 for his services because he was not present at the meetings.

Signs Show Chile Nears Axis Break

On friendly terms with the Axis, a large segment of Chilean opinion is ardently anti-Axis and will probably lead to a break in mid-October as President Roosevelt invited guest.

Informed sources speculated that protection for Chile's 2,000-mile Pacific coast would be a main point of any discussions in Washington. Weak defenses have been advanced frequently as the explanation for Chile's abstention from the Rio de Janeiro accord, which bound most of the Americas together against the Axis.

Informed sources said Rio would be accompanied by high Chilean officials, including the army, navy and air force officers and representatives of both Houses of the Legislature.

Eager to meet Roosevelt in a cordial response to President Roosevelt's invitation, Rio declared he was eager to meet the United States president, whose vigorous democratic personality enjoys deserved admiration in Chile.

President Rio took office Feb. 2 following a provisional regime, which had succeeded Pedro Aguirre Cerda, pro-Spanish Popular Frontist who died Nov. 28.

He was the candidate of the pro-collaboration Radical party. As recently as July 24 he declared that Chile might shift her position "if interests of the American continent require it."

British Naval Unit Bombards Rhodes; Damage Extensive

British light bombers, an R. A. F. communications section and a U. S. Army communications section, were sent to the island of Rhodes.

Attackers remained on the island for some night patrol activity.

Fighters accompanying the bombers were sent to the Mediterranean.

Of the air-sea battle, the communications section was sent to the Mediterranean Aug. 12-4 and our fighters shot down at least 10 enemy aircraft.

"Reports still are incomplete, however, and it is expected that the figure will be increased."

Our air bases during this period were four aircraft, but one pilot severely had devised a rocket bomb with which the bomber was to drop off its.

The British aircraft carriers of the 23,000-ton Ilustradora type and of the 22,400-ton Furiosa type turned back westward and reached Gibraltar in severely damaged condition, the German communique said.

In addition, it listed three cruisers and two destroyers as badly damaged.

The German communique represents a considerable scaling-down of the combined Axis claim.

The only confirmation of any of these claims is the British knowledge of the 3,400-ton cruiser Manchester.

A heavy follow-up air attack was directed at shipping in Matia Bay.

Italy Claims Another Destroyer Torpedoed

Rome (From Italian Broadcasts), Aug. 15.—Another Italian destroyer has been torpedoed and three more vessels damaged, the Italian high command reported today.

The new losses were credited by the communique to Italian air and sea forces in the course of what it said were further dispersals of "elements of a British convoy" yesterday.

"Another ship of great tonnage" (presumably a merchantman) was said to have been hit with heavy bombs.

The Italian destroyer, working in close range, was said to have hit the destroyer. Both destroyers, one of them described as heavy, and the other as light, were reported to have been hit by air-launched torpedoes.

Battle ship hit in prow.

The communique said the battleship was hit in the prow.

Musolini issued a proclamation to the Italian Navy and Air Force congratulating them on having annihilated Naval forces which contemplated to venture out into the Roman sea.

(There is no confirmation of these Italian claims from any other source. A special German tabulation today made no additions to previous lists—revising them downward in fact, by omitting the United States aircraft carrier Wasp—and indicating that the running battle was over.)

State Traffic Takes a Drop

Hartford, Aug. 15.—Connecticut's highways are showing the effects of gasoline and tire rationing.

A traffic volume report issued yesterday by Commissioner William J. Cox of the state highway department showed that July traffic was a 13 per cent less than that recorded during July 1941.

The fall season's driving to the suburbs the way they used to either, there being a 50 per cent cut in these roads. The gasoline situation undoubtedly was an additional factor, according to the commissioner.

Being his comparisons on records compiled by 24 automatic traffic counters located in various sections of the state in such manner that they afford an accurate cross section of traffic on all through, suburban, local and recreational routes, the commissioner pointed out that a steady decrease in traffic volume has resulted from the rationing program.

Traffic on the state's seven main traffic arteries dropped 51 per cent, as compared to that recorded during the month of July, 1941. The average decrease of traffic on local roads was 29 per cent, and that of recreation roads, 30 per cent.

On the completed section of the road between the Housatonic river and the Derby turnpike, only 5000 vehicles were daily recorded during the month of July, as compared with last July's average of 14,371, a decrease of 65.4 per cent. On the Merritt Parkway, according to the Greenwich records, traffic for the month of July was 14,238 as compared with 23,194 last July, a drop of 38.4 per cent.

Police Court

James M. Babay, 56, of South Windsor, charged with intoxication yesterday afternoon at Depot Square, was found guilty and fined $5.00 and costs. Babay was picked up by officer Skamini lying under a drunken state.

John Mataska, 38, and Fred Bressit, 36, both employed on the Hartmann plantation, Buckland, arrested for intoxication yesterday afternoon. Officer W. H. Casella arrested both men when he answered a complaint sent in from North Main street that the two men were drunk and lying in the woods near No. 408 North Main street. The officer found them slugging drink and a half gallon of wine and a pint of whiskey on them.

On recommendation of Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Charles Crockett, the charges of breach of the peace against Harry Lester, 46, of 183 Hackmatack street, who was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of his wife, was dropped by Judge Bowers.

Judge Bowers warned that any further appearance of the defendant in court on similar charges growing out of family troubles would not be given lenient consideration but would have to stand trial.

Then, Under Sheriff L. J. Doster said he heard his engine sputter and die as it passed over the city. Others said there was no sound from the motor—only a series of whistling—as it swung low over crowds at the Barry county fairgrounds.

Explosion Follows Crash: Fifteen-year-old Louis Rabbits and his brother, Kenneth, of Ballin Creek, said they saw the plane crash to earth with a crash and an explosion followed by flames as they were driving along a highway a mile away.

Army. Proofread near whom the crash occurred, described the same eerie whistling heard by the fairground crowd. He said the crash itself "sounded like the voice of doom."

Japanese Admit Marines Landed

The first admission of an adverse trend in the battle from the Axis side. There was no explanation how they established beach-heads on one island, in face of the supposed rout of the United States' Naval forces.

Chosen Fleet Afflicted Area: The afflicted area is "Chosen Point, a section of about 600 one-family houses and a couple of apartment buildings in the southern part of Chosen. Citizens say the odor is indescribable, a combination of rotten eggs and a mud flat all day long.

It disturbs sleep, creates nausea, induces faint, tarnishes metals, and causes general discomfort.

Willard Beach, one of the section's property owners, declined the odor was far more offensive than the first visitation in July. Beach said the fumes had penetrated his refrigerator and the stamen turned black.

"We're organizing a committee of the American landing, the point," asserted Beach, "and we intend to march on City Hall to demand that something be done."

Sends Mayor Telegram: To Mayor W. H. LaGuardia, Beach sent this telegram: "Another attack of hydrogen sulphide gas of greater intensity and covering greater area of Chosen Point section now in progress. Paint in homes turning black. Residents nauseated. Odor unbearable. Immediate action imperative."

The mayor asked experts from the Bureau of Mines in Washington to investigate.

There is one ray of sunshine: Beach said the smell is so offensive that it has chased away the mosquitoes.

Gas Rationing Coupons Sold

Hartford, Aug. 15.—Charged with conspiracy to defraud in the use of gas rationing books, three men have been arrested in a quick investigation by Hartford police, and are held in bonds of $5,000 each for hearing August 28 pending further investigation.

Those arrested are Francis Lasterose, of Hartford, Peter D. Galisio of West Hartford, an employee of the Pratt & Whitney plant, and Louis Evans, driver for the Standard Oil Company and a constable in the town of Windsor.

The Hartford investigation started yesterday afternoon in the arrest of Lasterose by Policemen David Polrot and Thomas Bowen on charges of evading responsibility when, it is alleged, he failed to stop following an accident a few days ago. In his possession were found two pages of gas rationing coupons and after questioning by Deputy Chief Thomas J. Hickey, in charge of the detective bureau, and Detective John D. McFweeney, Lasterose admitted having purchased the coupons at $2 a page.

The Hartford detectives immediately started an investigation and soon had Galisio in custody who not only admitted having sold the coupons to Lasterose but gave information which brought about the arrest of Constable Evans of Windsor. When Evans was taken into custody it was found he had 70 gasoline ration books in his possession, 20 being A books and 50 of Series B.

Attorney Milton Nahm, chief attorney for the enforcement of OPA regulations in Connecticut, today complimented the Hartford police in unearthing what is known to be the first case of its kind in the state and believed to be the first in the country.

The penalty on conspiracy charges is not more than $5,000 fine or imprisonment for one year or both.

Planes—Tanks— Trucks—QUICK!

5 Reasons Why

- By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we need here to survive and conquer.
- You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's most investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

"LISTEN, Bud—glad to see you getting along. Sure, I know you've had to tighten your belt—for a long time you took it on the chin, and now you're getting good pay."

"That's O.K. with us soldiers. You've got your part to play, just as we have ours. You've got to make the stuff—and we've got to deliver it."

"But just a second... maybe it's none of our business, but say, are you throwing your money around?"

"Here's something straight from the shoulder. You see, we soldiers want to feel that we're not fighting alone—that you're behind us—every one of you, man, woman and youngster."

"How? Listen..."

"How many WAR BONDS are you buying? Are you in on the Payroll Savings Plan? If you're not, you'll get in—won't you? This is your war—in it? We're fighting for you, aren't we?"

"So look..."

"When they come around to you, at your job, and ask you to put aside TEN PERCENT of your earnings every payday—a dime from every dollar—you'll do it, won't you—for us?"

"You'll get a WAR BOND every time you've saved $18.75—and that Bond will build up, year by year, to $25 in ten years."

"So you're helping us and protecting yourself at the same time by your savings. Can't beat that, can you?"

"We've got to have guns and planes, and tanks, and ships and bullets—and you've got to pay for them—from your own, voluntary WAR BOND savings."

"Invest a dime from every dollar in us—and keep it up, week after week, month after month. Then count on us to blast hell out of the Japs, the Huns, and their whole bloodthirsty gang."

"O.K., Bud—now let's go!"
