Propaganda to Japan Attempts to Tell Nipponese of Betrayal by Military Leaders.

(Editor's Note: America speaks to millions in enemy lands each day and night in its propaganda to help win the war. This is the third of four stories by Fred McCallum describing how our propaganda machine operates. Tomorrow: Fabled propaganda.)

By Fred McCallum
New York, Sept. 4.—(Wide World)—"Latin-American" says Robert Thomas, CBS assistant director of Latin-American affairs, "can smell propaganda quicker than any other animal."

General directives on important news events. In all the United Provinces the southern provinces are talked to as a mutual problem in contrast to the way you would talk to a stranger whose sentiments you did not know.

It is in this sense that we are speaking to the Nipponese here. We are just giving information. But says Mr. Thomas, "the minute information shows an enemy border it becomes propaganda."

Articles should be easily portable and useful in any climate, such as toilet kits, watches, note-books, pens, and photo-graphs. Electrical apparatus "is of doubtful need," and food should be avoided particularly, because it is apt to arrive in bad condition.

Noting that the Nipponese are only interested in what they can get out of the war, Mr. Thomas said that the bulk of these and other programs are only sent to Japan to lead the Japanese to get special attention.

Here, as in the case of Germany, the Japanese are to be told how many of the enemy they have killed. This is done by means of a program which is broadcast in Japanese.

People still have choice. The very act of distributing mechanisms to hear their own broadcasts is a very effective kind of propaganda. In the Far East, as in Europe, people still have choice.

As for KGWID's program, it is broadcast in Japanese, and is delivered by means of Japanese and American who work in the Japanese radio stations.

What We're Fighting For
If there is one simple way to express what should and must be the American aim in this war—aim to which things like the Four Freedoms, the Atlantic Charter are merely instruments and servants—it was indicated by one sentence of the President's speech to the International Students Assembly yesterday:

"No soldiers or sailors, in any of our forces today, would so willingly endure the hardships of battle if they thought that in another twenty years their own sons would be fighting still against the same old enemies."

That, in a sentence, is the reason why we must fight this war. It is not for glory, not for honor, not for territory, but for the future of our children.

Washington in Wartime

By Jack Stittner

Washington—Even educated Americans have a slightly Hollywood idea of India, with somewhat more than real knowledge of the country's basic problems. That's the word of Sirdar J. Singh, president of the Indian League of America, now in the capital, who is in the city to discuss the Indian case.

The religious problem, Singh says, is strictly a manufactured bogeyman. There are roughly 270,000,000 Hindus and 80,000,000 Mohammedans in India. Singh says in their day-to-day rubbing-shoulders living there is no more friction than between Roman Catholics and Protestants in the U. S.

There are, Singh admits, religious cracks in India, narrow, but he suggests that this is not a religious problem. It is a political one, and he says that the U. S. government should not get involved in it.

Believes Dead Woman a Kin

Ansonia Negro Tells Police His Niece Disappeared April 1st.

Reymor, Sept. 4.—Edward Williams, 78-year-old Ansonia Negro, believes that the body of a woman found here Tuesday night is that of his niece, who disappeared last April 1st, but police investigating the puzzling case said today they doubted that the body was that of a Negro.

Williams said he had received threatening letters during the past winter.

Only clue so far

Williams' report was the only clue police have had thus far to the identity of the body found in dense undergrowth Tuesday night between 25 and 30 year old and probably had been dead since sometime in March. An autopsy showed two fractures of the skull, but authorities have not yet definitely brand 4 the case a slaying.

Miss Kellems Makes Charge

Says Bradley Is Trying To Repay Luce for Mopey Spent.
Westport, Sept. 4.—Miss Virginia Kellems charged Republican State Chairman J. Kenneth Bradley today with attempting to "foot" playwright Clara Boothby on the party at Congressional nominating in order to repay Luce for the "donation" which he "poured" into the Federal Wilkie's presidential campaign.

Miss Kellems, who divides her time these days between running a business and campaigning against Mrs. Luce, wife of the publisher, for the nomination in the Fourth District, notified Bradley by letter that she would not stay in spite of his announcement that she would support Mrs. Luce.

In a letter addressed to "Dear Ken," Miss Kellems, state campaign manager, asserted that she objected to any announcement relating Mrs. Luce's nomination in order to enable Wendell Wilkie and Sam Pryor (former National Committeeman Samuel P. Fryer) to repay her for the thousands which he poured into the Wilkie's presidential campaign.

"I was not necessary," she wrote, "for me to take a dose of the medicine which she has poured upon the Republicans of Fairfield county in view of the fact that you are in an effort to bring me to my knees to beg the county for the past month."

Bombing Supply Dump
The U. S. Army Air Corps, kept their supply dumps under an almost constant bombardment. Dispatches from the front last night told of a heavy attack on a supply dump by German forces, but British armored units, harassed by the German tanks, were given no chance to get set for the punch he evidently is trying to deliver.

The main body of Lieut. Gen. B. L. Egan's British armor, meanwhile, remained poised, ready to hit back should Rommel make a dash for the desert.

Spanish Policy Variation Not Franco's Plan

Gen. Carlos Arana Cabanillas was made war minister in place of Gen. Jose Varela, and Blas Pietsch, commander in chief, General Gaitanar as interior minister.

"In our fatherland, neither today nor in the past nor in the future can we talk of changes in the government," Arana said. "The present regime the government is one and the same—the real government of the Republic is the government of the Republic, the generalissimo of the army and the national chief of the Falange."

"Changing of Guard"
"Nothing seems more absurd than to imagine for a moment that the Army and the Falange—the Spanish pillars of the regime—policy—change nor will be changed by the changing of the guard," Arana said.
