Manchester Evening Herald
Heard Along Main Street
And on Some of Manchester's Side Streets, Too

There's a letter we received yesterday in the mail, which we don't think is fair to this column at all. But to avoid any possible misunderstanding, we'll say that it was not our fault. It was the fault of the printer. The printer had printed the name of the advertiser as "John A. Smith" instead of "John A. Jones" as it should have been. We are sorry for this error and hope that the advertiser will not be annoyed by it.
