We've Come A Long Way Since Pearl Harbor

It's no military secret that Pearl Harbor was a blow to America; but neither is it a military secret that this country has taken some long strides since December 7, 1941. What's that you say, Adolf, name three? We'll name nine without even batting an eyelash!

Take our armed forces, for instance... it wasn't long ago that ours was still a peacetime nation, and yet right now we have American Expeditionary Forces parked on every important Axis doorstep in the world. You know what we mean, Adolf? You've had a taste of their fury! Then there are the Solomon Islands, Hirohito! That's been quite a battle, hasn't it? Too bad your boys didn't have the training our Marines did. Wait a minute, chum, don't run out! Remember the battle of Midway Island and Coral Sea? 'Nuff said!

Sure, we know you have submarines, boys. But that hasn't stopped our getting aid to China, and lots of it! And we don't have to tell you what a gallant job our Allies have been doing, do we? Your countries are plenty patched up as a result of their fighting.

Yale to Lend Facilities For Training Officers

University to Continue Usual Educational Program as 'Fundamental Service.'

New Haven, Dec. 8.—President Charles Seymour of Yale, soon to lend its facilities to the Army for training officers, said today the university would continue its usual educational program as "a fundamental service to the nation."

The university had made in an interview that since the draft age had been lowered to 18 and the armed services had announced plans to use colleges for training, he had been asked frequently whether Yale would suspend her educational program, but President Seymour gave this answer:

"It is our conviction, in other words, that Yale's regular educational program, as well as special war training courses, must be continued throughout the war for those qualified and able to take them," he said. "We hold to the belief that the maintenance of this program is a fundamental service to the nation."

President Seymour added that he was drafted after graduation from Connecticut college education at Yale as possible. We give this advice because we believe that it will be the best possible preparation for service in war and in peace. . . . The majority of the freshman class which will enter in July as well as those who are completing their college work before going to the armed services, some will be able to complete two or more years of college work before they are providing dormitory, classroom and dining facilities for an officers' training school, the university has reserved buildings for housing and teaching facilities it will need for its own use.

President Seymour added that half the members of the current freshman class were under 18 when they matriculated, and that secondary schools also were accelerating their programs so that students would be graduating at an earlier age.

"I wish," he said, "to emphasize that we shall continue to provide instruction for students planning to go into medicine, into technical positions in essential war industries, and shall maintain all of our liberal arts courses for those qualified for military service."

As for the graduate schools, President Seymour said that while there was property a "sharp curtailment" in the number of liberal arts school and liberal arts graduate students, the work Yale is doing in medicine, physics, chemistry and other technical fields is of even greater importance today than before the war.

PARACHUTES are playing a dramatic role in World War II. . . . placing Paratroopers and equipment behind enemy lines, dropping flares to illuminate bombing objectives, carrying food and supplies to besieged troops, and saving the lives of aviators in distress.

In recognition of exceptional performance in producing parachutes, the Army and Navy have conferred upon the employees of the Pioneer Parachute Company the coveted "E" award. Every man and woman of Pioneer is now privileged to wear the "E" badge of honor. . . . symbolic of the tireless effort, ceaseless vigilance and persevering spirit of loyal Americans who are achieving today what yesterday seemed impossible.

The pride which accompanies this signal honor will add impetus to the drive toward America's ultimate award. . . . Victory.

Sense and Nonsense

Assets and Liabilities. Every man has a farm. Until trouble would seem to be all that he knows. His farm is supposed to be a source of income. But the farmer who has a farm is supposed to be a source of income. But the farmer who has a farm is supposed to be a source of income.

Old Broom. It is better to go straight than to move in the best circles. When the right kind of a man gets into a hole, he turns it into an opening. The "American Way" will always triumph as long as being happy at home remains the supreme ambition of the normal man and woman. We can't increase an increase in the normal system for paying the doctor. It's a wagon tongue that helps a team to pull a load—not a "wagging" tongue.

Helele—What sort of chap is your new boy friend? Agnes—Well, we were to get together right when the lights went out and he spent the rest of the evening repairing the break. Helele—What sort of chap is your new boy friend? Agnes—Well, we were to get together right when the lights went out and he spent the rest of the evening repairing the break.

Passenger to portier while on train to New York—What time do we get to New York? Porter—We is due to get there at 15, unless you has set your watch by Eastern time, which would make it 15:15, then of course, if you is going by daylight war time, it would be 15:15, unless we is an hour and fifty minutes late—which we is.

The soldier sent flowers to his girl friend on her birthday, but couldn't get her to attend the birthday party. Next time he called on her he asked about the flowers. "Soldier—Did you wear them?" "Girl—No, I didn't wear anything else but!" "Soldier—What kind of a party was it?" "Girl—An old-fashioned party with a pin on it."

When a teacher in a rural school appeared late for school the first Sunday, she noted a reproving look on the farmer's face. "Teacher—(apologetically)—I thought it was Sunday and you would get up an early." "Farmer—(sternly)—Yes, it is Sunday, and my rest day, and I like to get up early so I'll have a longer day to rest."

Boos—Ah, you are the young man in question? "Yes, my name is Applicant—Ivan Auszeichmugenschul." "Boos—How do you spell it?" "Applicant—The way its pronounced."

Christmas brings the season when mother's bearing capacity is a hop, skip and jump ahead of father's earning capacity. "The storm which now lowers over Germany and Italy is spreading to Japan; there will be no truce or respite for her." "The growing power of the United Nations will press steadily on till the is stripped of her conquests, punished for her conduct, and deprived of her powers of evil."

Britain to Continue Same Indian Policy London, Dec. 8.—(AP)—A continuation of Great Britain's Indian policy was laid today into Prime Minister Churchill's announcement that she would continue as victor in India until October 1943. The four Scotsmen, who had been chancellor of Glasgow university and civil lord of the Admiralty before he went to India in 1938, has held the view longer than any of his predecessors. King George VI reportedly retired next April. Lord Cranborne, the former colonial secretary, had been mentioned as his successor. Some observers held that Cranborne might have reopened negotiations regarding Britain's offer of Indian dominion status after the war.
