Local Red Cross Worker Tells of Her Job in Italy

Dr. Eugene M. Davis, chairman of the Manchester Chapter of Red Cross has recently received a most interesting letter from Miss Giocconda Balzano of Lyons street, near with the American Red Cross, stationed in Italy telling of her experiences. Excerpts from the letter follow:

"Monday I went to my assignment. It was at a base in a town called Pomigliano. It was days before I could pronounce it. 'Our club had not even been built. After three weeks of painting furniture and counting supplies...

"Being that this club was situated on a base that was about 12 miles from Naples it was a long trip to get into town and the Army provided them with nothing so our club which was open from 8:30 a. m. until 11:00 p. m., was an all-around service. Our program activities consisted of two dances a week, bingo games and our club closed."

Leary in Prison To Start Term; Returned Today

Wethersfield, March 1.—(AP)—Daniel J. Leary, his long flight from justice ended, entered the Connecticut state prison today to start a ten to 15 year sentence imposed after his conviction in the Waterbury municipal fraud case. He entered the prison at 9:35 a. m.

Escorted by Hickey Last of the conspirators convicted of defrauding the city of Waterbury of three and a half million dollars almost five years ago to start confinement here was escorted to the prison by his old nemesis, State Police Commissioner Edward J. Hickey, who served as special investigator in the Waterbury case.

Outraged in Prison Lobby The party was met in the prison lobby by guards who relieved Hickey and returned him to the room where he was interviewed to complete prison records. He was assigned to the prison kitchen and bath and outlived in a gray prison uniform.

Rocket-Radar
Tests Planned

Army Marshals Top
Wizards for Dress
Rehearsal Defense

Washington, March 1.—The Army marshaled its top rocket and radar wizards today for a dress rehearsal defense against pitiless atomic missiles hurtling down from 60 miles above the earth.

The rocket men will send 3,000-mile-an-hour German V-2s into the stratosphere from the White Sands proving ground in the New Mexico desert.

The radar men will try to track them by every known means of electronic detection, including devices used recently to bounce beams off the moon.

Danger May Be Lessened
If the radar technicians succeed a War department announcement said, "danger of atom bombardments of our great cities and industrial centers by long-range stratosphere rockets will be considerably lessened" because radar-guided intercontinental rockets can be designed to pick off the atomic missiles high in the heavens.

The tests have been scheduled for next summer, but will be held sooner if possible, the department disclosed.

The Army Ordnance department will set off 15 or more V-2s aimed in Germany at the war's end and assembled in this country with the aid of German scientists and technicians.

The Air Forces and the Signal Corps will have charge of the radar tracking.

Big Gen. William L. Richardson, chief of the A. A. F. General Staff division, said "no means must be found to defend our country against a sudden enemy rocket attack, and this must be done as quickly as possible."

Must Be Able to Pace Course
"The want to develop a means whereby we can intercept incoming enemy rockets in mid-air. We can not hope to do this however, until we discover a method of tracing their course through the clouds."

Peron Forges Ahead in Vote
Still - Menger Returns Give Two-to-One Lead in Electoral Ballots

Buenos Aires, March 1.—(AP)—Col. Juan D. Peron, former Argentine vice president described as a pro-Soviet by the U. S. State department and a new dictator for next year, with interest at a low ebb, now seems necessary to urge members to re-join.

Peron, however, was only approximately 5,000 votes ahead of his Democratic union opponent, Dr. Jose Tamborini, in the popular vote. With about four per cent of the ballots counted, Peron led, 62,814 to 57,800.

Peron Forces Par in Lead
A computation of votes for seats in the National Chamber of Deputies showed Peron forces far in the lead, with 62 per cent apparently assured as compared with 20 for the Radicals and two for the Progressive Democrats.

A tabulation early today showed Peron leading in six provinces having a total electoral vote of 152, and Tamborini in four provinces with a vote of 78. Ten of Tamborini's votes—from the province of San Luis, where the count is complete—were assured.

The totals:
Buenos Aires City (68)—Peron 7,231, Tamborini 6,572, Cordoba (34)—Tamborini 683, Potosi, Corrientes (18)—Tamborini 2,991, Peron 757.

July (8)—Peron 8,874, Tamborini 4,181.

San Luis (16)—Peron 5,313, Tamborini 3,335.

Mendoza (16)—Tamborini 1,841, Peron 1,783.

San Luis (16) (final result)—Tamborini 17,803, Peron 14,372.

San Juan (10)—Peron 6,742, Tamborini 6,549.

Santa Fe (12)—Peron 2,637, Tamborini 1,836.

Santiago del Estero (16)—Peron 17,434, Tamborini 11,880.

Five provinces still have not been heard from. The total vote in the electoral college is 376, with 189 votes required for victory.

New Elections to Be Held
The possibility of the outcome of the election might not be known for two more weeks as when the Province of Buenos Aires decided last irregularly in six hours were serious enough to cause the results to be thrown out. In the electoral college—largest number in the country—and the results of the election may hinge on the outcome there.

First Celebration
In Five Years
Mobile, Ala., March 1.—(AP)—The torch-lit parade of the Mystic Society, Keweenaw of Columbia, tonight inaugurates Mobile's first Mardi Gras celebration in five years.

With an estimated 25,000 visitors added to the city's already war-swollen population, accommodations were at an added premium, and many citizens were taking tourists into their homes.

The five-day pre-Lenten celebration ends Tuesday with a day of public merrymaking and the grand masked ball.

King Felix, monarch of merrymaking and his queen, will be crowned Saturday night.

Mobile's Negroes are planning their own celebration, featuring the arrival Sunday of King Elieus I, and a parade of night bands and numerous floats through the Negro business section Tuesday.

Willimantic Man's Party Attended
William F. Jordan, for many years head of the Jordan Hardware Co. of Willimantic, observed his 83rd birthday yesterday. He entertained a party of his immediate relatives and friends at a dinner last night at the Nathan Hale Hotel. Mr. Jordan is president of the hotel corporation and also interested in the Willimantic hospital, an asset of the Trust Co. of Willimantic.

The hotel manager, Mr. McKay, furnished the 24 guests with a steak dinner, with all the necessary side dishes. In the center of the large dining table was a beautiful birthday cake made especially for the occasion and Mr. Jordan cut the cake and each of his guests had a liberal portion.

The delegation from Manchester included Frank Cheney, Jr., R. A. Motta Russell, Fred Carpenter, Mrs. Frances Sutherland and Thomas Ferguson. F. A. Varnhagen who went to school with Mr. Jordan, had intended to attend the party but was unable to be present because of the illness of his wife.

Carnival Kings Parade Again
Native Sons and Visitors See Pre-Lenten Fete

New Orleans, March 1.—(AP)—The tinelled kings of Carnival are again on the march after five days of years and thousands of grinning natives sons and visitors are demonstrating that neither past suffering nor present inconvenience can make this joyous city forget how to have fun.

Momus, god of mockery, paraded before record crowds last night. His glittering floats, more brilliant than the background of the city, are since 1941, heralded the restoration of Carnival spectacles that originated here in 1827.

Tonight Hermod, patron of visitors, a dainty pair of the Carnival parade, headed the parade, followed by the king and queen of the Carnival of Merida, Mexico, arrived by air last night and were whisked behind a madcap escort to the city, greeted by the Krewes of Hermea, whose revelries they join today.

The king is Alvarez Dominguez and the queen Maria Elena Larrea, who alighted from the plane crowded with revelers.

There will be at least one parade every day or night during the remainder of the season except Saturday.

On Tuesday during the day Rex King of Carnival, and Zulu, ruler of the Negro merrymakers, will parade. At night the Mystic Krewe of Comus, oldest of the carnivalesque organizations, will ride through the streets on their floats.

Copied Paris Festival
Historically, this unique custom of celebration, which brings to the city more visitors than its rooming facilities can accommodate, was begun by Louisiana when it copied a pre-Lenten festival they had seen in Paris. Mardi Gras means "Fat Tuesday."

The celebration officially ends when a court of Rex and the court of Momus, both of which entertain at balls on Tuesday night, meet at midnight.

In contrast to Tuesday's revelry, this largely Catholic city will begin Ash Wednesday with attendance at mass.

Bayles COLUMN

Bombay, March 1.——Krisna is a young Indian who has given up hope of ever allowing western culture—all because of eggs.

He is a highly intelligent young man, vastly serious and eager to know and assimilate the best that America and Europe can offer.

He is a typical young Indian intellectual. He is very proud of the fact that he can speak six languages. He wears western-cut clothes and likes American movies, although he doesn't believe they are serious enough.

Case: Case of the Two Things. There are two things in life that Krishnavan cannot tolerate. One is Great Britain and the other is eggs.

His hatred of all things British is the ruling passion of his life. Like most Indians of his class he thinks that all things evil in the world originate in London. If the British empire in its long history ever accomplished one good deed, Krishnavan has never been informed of it officially. He sees the British rule of India as one continuous black record of brutality, oppression and degradation for his people.

Yet Krishnavan dresses as much as possible as if he had just stepped out of Saville row, and he likes to speak the English language. He likes to drink like the English, and he would like to go to eat like the bloody English—if it weren't for those horrible things called eggs.

Unhappy Orthodox at Heart. For all his advanced views on life and his yearning to be free of the shackles that have chained his people for centuries, Krishnavan is an unhappy orthodox at heart. He is a Brahmin, highest caste in the Hindu religious hierarchy.

The Brahmins are forbidden liquor and meat. They are strict vegetarians because of an antipathy that ever contained animal life—such as portmanteau steak. For this reason many Hindus will not touch meat. Some will not touch even eggs. They are certain they were laid by hens that never met a rooster. Since this is generally hard to prove in the average restaurant, most slightly orthodox Hindus shun eggs entirely.

But Krishnavan decided he must shun all of these old standards, as many educated Indians have done. He took to eating wine and liquor and now he likes a Scotch highball as much as any Briton. He sampled pork and mutton—beef is verboten because the cow is sacred to Hindus—but then he tried eggs—completely unconscious of their full horror.

"My first one was fried," he said, "and when I cut it in half and the yolk ran out I thought I would faint. But I forced myself to sit there and eat it all. When had finished I had to run from the table and throw it up."

Fifteen times since then—Krishnavan keeps score on his egg-eating efforts—he has forced down an egg and each time it has seemed right back up. He just can't keep a good egg down.

"I have tried them boiled. . . I have tried them fried. I have tried them scrambled. I have tried them poached," he said. "Every time it came back up."

"Taste Impossible to Describe." I asked Krishnavan how the egg tasted to him.

"It is impossible to describe," he said, "except to say that it is horrible. Just as I swallow it, I have the sense that I am doing something terribly wrong. I feel

Stamford Taxi Drivers Strike

36 Walk Out as New Cabbies Replace Six Fired This Week

Stamford, March 1.—(AP)—Thirty-six of 60,000 persons had a second strike on his hands today, the walkout of 36 taxicab drivers here late Thursday afternoon.

The drivers, operators for the Stamford Taxi Cab company, refused to permit identification of the striking drivers, and the strike was a protest against "financial matters and the hiring of several new drivers to replace six men who were fired this week because of union activities."

The drivers, operators for the City Yellow Cab company and the Stamford Transit company, which handle most of the city's heavy service, joined an A.P.I.-led union this week, the spokesman said.

Communist stragglers from New York were stranded at the railroad station by the walkout. The drivers pulled the cabs away from their stands at the station and in the central business area of the city at 4 o'clock, just before the inbound flow of commuters started.

A spokesman for the strikers said that approximately 1,500 of the company's 1,900 non-striking employees returned to their jobs Thursday night.

To Tell Wilson Strike Stand

McLevy to Send Letter to President of General Electric Co.

Bridgeport, March 1.—(AP)—With the assertion "I think everybody knows where I stand," Mayor Jasper McLevy today had provided a committee of striking General Electric company workers that he would send a letter to Charles E. Wilson, company president, on the strike situation.

McLevy made his promise, a union spokesman said, while several hundred members of Local 203 and 240, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (U.E.R.A.) staged a mass demonstration and parade around City hall block Thursday morning.

The demonstration at City hall came without warning but as soon

Several Millions Must File '46 Tax Estimate

Also Must Make First of Four Tax Payments By March 15 If All Tax Not Withheld

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—The full tax will be withheld from your 1946 income?

If not, you must estimate what the full tax will be and start paying the difference between the tax withheld (if any) and the full tax.

You must file the estimate and the first of four tax payments by March 15. The other payments are due June 15, Sept. 15, and Dec. 15.

Job for Several Millions

Several million people will have to do this.

(Full tax will be withheld from wages and salaries up to $5,000. For people in this group—won't have to make any estimate or quarterly payment on their 1946 tax.)

But three main groups of people will have to do so. You will:

1. If your income from salary or wages in 1946 will be more than $5,000 plus $500 for each exemption besides your own.
- Example: You, married, one child, will make in wages $6,000 from which tax is withheld. Full tax is withheld up to $5,000, plus $500 for each exemption except your own. Your exemptions—wife and child, $500 each—are $1,000. You don't file an estimate.
2. In this same case, if you had $6,500 in wages from which tax was withheld, you'd have to file an estimate and start paying the difference between the tax withheld on the $6,000 and the full tax on $6,500.

Must File Estimate

1. If you had income of more than $500 from which tax was not withheld—and if it was in addition to income from which tax was withheld—aid if the two incomes totaled $500 or more—you'd have to file an estimate and make the first payment on the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax due.
- Example: You, single, made $4,000 in wages from which full tax was withheld. But you expected to receive an additional income of $101 from rent on a farm or room, or for some other reason, for which tax was withheld.
3. If you expect to make $500 or more from which no tax is withheld—like a doctor or lawyer paid in fees or a landlord living off rent—you'd have to file an estimate and start paying the tax.

If husband and wife both have income, one cannot use the other's exemption in deciding whether or not filing an estimate is necessary.

Example: If the husband's wages for the year are estimated at $5,100 and the wife's at $200, the husband must file an estimate since his income will be over $5,000. The wife in this case, since her income is under $500, doesn't have to file an estimate unless she wants to.

If husband and wife both have incomes large enough to require an estimate both must make an estimate.

They can do it separately or jointly. At the end of the year they can decide whether they want to make their final return jointly or separately.

Suppose now you are not one of those required to file an estimate but later in the year find that you are because of changes in your income or for some other reason.

File By Next Payment Date

In that case, file your estimate by the next payment date, June 15, Sept. 15, or Jan. 15, 1947.

As a farmer? They don't have to file an estimate on their 1946 income or make any payment until Jan. 15, 1947. On that date, however, they must pay in full.

So in making your 1946 estimate, you can't use the method you used in figuring out your 1945 tax. The new procedure will be explained here tomorrow.

Increased Value Must Be Guarded

The United States Chamber of Commerce has pointed out that while property values have risen and are still rising—millions of property owners are neglecting to protect those increased values with increased insurance.

Edgar H. Clarke of Clarke Insurance Agency said today.

"A home that cost $6,000 to build in 1939 costs on the average $10,000 to build today. The cost of repairs has gone way up, too," Mr. Clarke added. "However, reliable estimates indicate that nearly half the homes in the country are still insured at their old values. In case of a loss by fire, the owners of such underinsured properties would have to pay the difference out of their own pockets if they want to build or buy another home," Mr. Clarke emphasized.

"We in the insurance business are urging all property owners to reappraise the value of their property in light of present day conditions—and then judge whether their insurance is adequate to protect them," Mr. Clarke said. "Many a policyholder's savings have been wiped out just because he neglected to do this," he commented.

Spaak to Form Belgian Cabinet

Brussels, March 1.—(AP)—At the request of Regent Prince Charles Paul-Henri Spaak, president of the United Nations General Assembly, de Ryckwerck was unable to negotiate a working agreement with any of the minority groups.

Brussels, March 1.—(AP)—At the request of Regent Prince Charles Paul-Henri Spaak, president of the United Nations General Assembly, de Ryckwerck was unable to negotiate a working agreement with any of the minority groups.

Spaak, a Socialist and foreign minister in the last cabinet, was charged with the task after Auguste De Ryckwerck, leader of the right wing Social-Christian (Catholic) party failed to obtain the necessary support to form a new government. The Social-Christians won a plurality in the Chamber of Deputies in the recent national elections but not a majority, and de Ryckwerck was unable to negotiate a working agreement with any of the minority groups.

Norwich Soldier Given Sentence

Yokohama, March 1.—(AP)—Mariano Bocca, former secretary to the British air attaché in Tokyo, was convicted by an Eighth Army tribunal today of buying U. S. Army goods and sentenced to four years imprisonment at hard labor and fined $2,000.

The defendant appeared stunned by the sentence, which was double the prison term imposed on two American soldiers convicted previously of participating in the transactions. Bocca was convicted of buying underwear and field rations valued at about $1,500.

Sentences given the soldiers involved in the case included Staff Sergeant Alexander E. Mintz, Norwich, Conn., six months.

Judge Cleared by Coroner

New Haven, March 1.—(AP)—Coroner James J. Corrigan has found that Borough Judge Joseph N. Manfredi of Wallingford was not criminally negligent when his automobile struck Edward Martin, 77, last Jan. 30, inflicting injuries which caused his death. In a 10-page opinion Manfredi the coroner found that Martin was dressed in dark clothing and that it was nearly dark at the time of the accident. The coroner also found that the witness bore out Manfredi's testimony that he was operating the car at a speed of about 20 miles an hour at the time.

40 MILLION TIMES the choice was RIVERSIDE TIRES

"RIVERSIDES didn't come on my car; I CHOSE THEM"

... And I see Millions of Others Are Switching to Riversides!

That's right! All over America, more and more people are putting Riverside on their cars. And it's important to remember that each and every one of those 40 million Riverside tires was a "replacement" sale . . . the careful choice of a person like yourself! (That couldn't have happened 40 million times without some very good reasons!) Think what this means to you. When you buy Riversides, you're buying a tire that millions of people before you have picked in preference to the brands that come on new cars . . . in preference to any other well-known make of tire! Yes! You get more for your money with Riversides . . . more wear . . . more safety. (Riversides are now even stronger than our pre-war tires!). Come into Wards today and "talk-it-over" with Wards tire man.

that Russia's offenses are technical in violation of the United States Charter while our policies are technically outside the letter of that Charter. But the laws of peace are above even the laws of the United Nations, and we are violating these higher laws just as conspicuously as Russia is violating some of the more tangible laws.

There is a strong possibility—a possibility openly recognized in the recent historic debate in the British House of Commons, that it is such betrayals of the cause of peace on our part which are motivating Russia toward her own expansionist and imperialistic policy.

It is even more important that whenever we speak as the champions of peace and of the right, we should be sure that we are right and peaceful in our own hearts.

Byrnes had one paragraph in his speech last night which read as follows: "No nation has a monopoly of virtue or of wisdom, and no nation has a right to act as if it had."

These might have been words of modesty. But they were, instead, more criticism of Soviet Russia, whom Mr. Byrnes obviously visualizes as claiming "a monopoly of virtue."

Byrnes had been able to apply those words to this country and to himself and to his own speech, if he had been able to see this country's own acts as fearfully and as critically as he saw Russian policies, he might have been able to see that the United States has a threat to world peace unless America's threat to world peace is also dispelled.

Showing For Franco The evidence turned in by recent reports from inside Spain hints very strongly that there is only one way to save Spain from Communism. That is to get rid of the oppressive, backward, conscienceless Franco dictatorship.

Francisco's own formula for his own continuation in power is not based on anything he has done or tried to do for the Spanish people, nor even on the loyalty of reactionary Spaniards. His formula for staying in power is revealed in his continuing importation of combat troops, those known as the Blue Division, whose religion teaches that the sure way to their own heaven is to die killing a Christian.

With that the situation inside Spain, that pressure which was inevitable if the free world was to be kept from being plunged into a civil war, was now being applied to the United States. The Spanish danger pointed at her back, has closed her borders to Spain. And the United States has now proposed, in a formal note to Britain and France, that these three nations openly list Franco's acts of assistance to the Axis during the war, call upon him to get out, and announce their own recommendation that an interim Spanish Government be established for the purpose of holding free elections in which the Spanish people can choose their own governmental destiny.

Income Tax Office Open Added Hours

Hartford, March 1—Offices of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will be open additional hours during the next two weeks to accommodate taxpayers wishing to file their returns before the March 15th deadline, it was announced today by Collector Frank W. Kraemer.

All offices throughout the state will supplement the regular five week schedule by remaining open Saturdays, March 2 and 9th from 8 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. Also on the final due date of filing 1945 income tax and 1946 estimated tax returns, March 15th, offices will remain open until midnight.

"An examination of the tax conditions affecting returning members indicates that many returning members of the armed forces are not aware that they may claim refunds," Mr. Kraemer stated.

Personal Tax Collector Samuel Nelson reported at the close of business last night that 14,504 persons had paid their Old Age Assistance. Of this number, 11,144 paid their taxes yesterday.

The total number of tax bills turned over to the collector was 13,355 which leaves unpaid as of last night about 1,000. Mr. Nelson reported this morning that his mail was very heavy and expected to be completed by 5 o'clock tonight.

Sailor Not Put in Brig

Officer at Submarine Base Denies Barnes Given 60 Days Groton, March 1—(AP)—Commander Robert H. Barnes, public information officer at the Navy Submarine Base here, said today there was "no truth" to the report of a sailor's mother that he had been denied permission to attend his wife's funeral, and had been given a 60-day sentence in the brig because he did so.

Mrs. Ruby Adams of Walnut Creek, Calif., said her son, Jack, a 20-year-old ex-convict, had written her that he had been given a 60-day sentence in the brig because he did so.

Barnes who also is personal officer at the base said there was "no record" that Adams ever had a problem with her husband's funeral, and that "we have never turned down such a request where a death was involved."

He said Adams had a previous record of overstaying leave, and at present was on six months' probation. Barnes said the sailor was confined to the brig except for two or three days following his return to the base from an extended leave. Arrangements for a court martial against him being made. This confinement was for safekeeping and not for punishment, Barnes said.

Mrs. Ruby Adams said her son, Jack, 20, an ex-convict, and a veteran of the Normandy landing and numerous Atlantic convoys, had courted Miss Marion Hagerly of Roxbury, Mass., for the past year. On Jan. 14, he was informed that she was critically ill and would probably die. He married her and three days later she died.

Attends Funeral: Gob Put in Brig

Walnut Creek, Calif., March 1—A Navy mother has disclosed her son had written her he was serving a 60-day sentence in the brig at New London, Conn., for attending his wife's funeral without official authority.

Mrs. Ruby Adams said her son, Jack, 20, an ex-convict, and a veteran of the Normandy landing and numerous Atlantic convoys, had courted Miss Marion Hagerly of Roxbury, Mass., for the past year. Business Taxes Due on March 15

Hartford, March 1—Individuals, partnerships and associations engaged in the conduct of unincorporated businesses are reminded by State Tax Commissioner Walter W. Walsh that tax returns and payments covering the calendar year 1945 are due on or before March 15, 1946.

The unincorporated business tax is imposed on persons engaged in conducting a business for profit, whether or not transportation and amusement businesses. If the taxpayer is engaged in a business for profit, a report must be filed.

The law provides that a penalty of 10 per cent of the tax must be paid if the return is not filed on time. In cases where it is necessary to extend the time for filing, the penalty is increased to 25 per cent of the tax. Blank forms and information concerning the tax may be secured from the State Tax Commissioner, Hartford, State Office Building, Hartford, Connecticut.

Assigned overseas in September, 1944, Private Remm was in combat from October of that year until VE day with the 502nd Central Postal Directory, 1st Army, in the Rhineland and Central Europe campaigns, and the Victory Medal.

Prior to entering the Army in August, 1942, Private Remm was employed as an identification officer at the Chance-Vought Aircraft Division, United Aircraft Corporation, Stratford, Connecticut. He is a 1933 graduate of Manchester High School.

Major Nate Gatchell in his address at Manchester last Friday stressed the importance of the cooperation of the Red Cross, the close cooperation with the Veterans Service Organization and the increased obligations of the Red Cross in the transition from war to peace.

Remember the Red Cross was responsible for obtaining and delivering Blood Plasma which saved the lives of thousands of our boys and girls, and generously so that we can meet our quota of $500.

There will be a Cub Scout meeting this evening at 7:30 at the Querryville church. Cub Scouts and their parents are invited to attend.

There will be a Saturday night dance at the Community Hall, Bolton Center, Music for round and square dances will be furnished by The Melrose Grange. The admission will prompt for the square sets. The committee in charge includes: Clyde Marshall, Angela Chamberlain, Velma Munro and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paces. Refreshments will be on sale during the evening.

Need for Food For Children

The need for food for children in Europe is a crying one, and the Red Cross is doing its utmost to see that wherever possible food is supplied to the children.

A survey of Czechoslovakia's needs and resources was recently completed by Melvin A. Glasser of Arlington, Va., assistant director of Civilian Relief, at the request of the Czechoslovak Red Cross. The recommendations were endorsed by Laurence A. Steinhardt, U. S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia; President Benes and UNRRA officials in Czechoslovakia. The following plan will be carried out:

More than 100,000 Czechoslovak school children will receive milk, vitamins and other essential nutrients. The Czechoslovak Red Cross chapter produced clothing as a part of a $2,000,000 American Red Cross emergency relief program to be made immediately available.

To supplement their present diet, these children, 6 to 14 years old, will receive a half-pint of milk every day for three months. It is estimated that this will use nearly 500,000 pounds of dried milk. More than 7,000,000 vitamin tablets are being made available.

Approximately 500,000 chapter produced children's garments will be made available.
