Special Session Strategy... Republican reaction to the Truman strategy in calling a special session of Congress has ranged all the way from the automatically political instinct of Senator Wherry, party whip in the Senate, to the feeling of more intelligent Republicans that the way for their party really to confound Mr. Truman is to give the country a constructive example of what the legislature is capable of.

Recipe For A Rhubarb:

Take These Controversial Legislative Demands by President Truman, Mix Well with Campaign-Year Political Sauce and Simmer Over a Burning GOP Congress, Defiantly Recalled in Summer Session

Truman has frequently urged limited rationing and price controls. He wants the contest sky-high living costs. Other measures such as power to restrict bank credit and control of stock buying, will probably be enacted.

The minimum wage, under the Fair Labor Standards Act, is now 40 cents an hour. Truman wants it upped to 75 cents. Other social security proposals are to broaden coverage of laws. To include many other people.
