Charity Costs Drop Slightly

Reason Is That Some Persons Transferred to Other Agencies

Nine more cases and 10 more persons were on the town charity list during May, 1949, than was the case in May of 1948, according to the monthly report of Welfare Director Albert E. Barrows at 63 State street.

There were a total of 74 cases and 105 persons receiving town aid at a cost of $6,376.85, compared to 65 cases, 90 persons receiving relief during the corresponding period last year.

A comparison of May, 1949, with April of this year shows a substantial decrease in the case load and number of persons being correspondingly smaller drop in expenditure. Director Barrows attributed the decrease to the transfer of certain persons to other agencies and to the fact that the town continues to pay its share of aid.

Welfare costs were kept up by increased unemployment and hospitalization, he said.

The report also notes that in May the town was adding 74 cases to a total of 1,189, as against 79 cases, 127 persons and $6,210.33 in April.

Keeping the Schools Free There is, perhaps, not too much to be said about the question of academic freedom in these times of ideological tension.

Connecticut Yankee
By A. H. O.
The war of nerves between Governor Chester Bowers and his Democratic party leaders on the one hand and the Republican party on the other hand, has reached a point where it is becoming increasingly obvious that the schools are being used as a battleground.

Unusually Unusual
It has, says a Massachusetts weatherman, been "most unusual" spring. In continuation of the abnormally temperate winter, the temperature for April averaged 47 degrees above normal, and for May 21 degrees above normal.

Manchester
The patriot who sees beyond the year and beyond the border is the man who would be a patriot and unconcerned with the relations of his country to the rest of the world.

There are individuals and organizations in the United States that appear to believe that to teach young people about any other country—especially any other than their own—is favorable to any other country is somehow disloyal, or at least naive.

There is no better way, the committee says later, "to prevent the spread of Communism and other forms of disloyalty than to show the people that they can achieve a maximum of freedom, justice and well-being by actively supporting and participating in the American democracy.

Release Appeals

Named to Head "Tickets, or Else"—Patton Tells School Board Here

Fred Patton, East Lansing, Mich., retired Michigan College professor of music who last fall was named to the Manchester Board of Education grant him a special honorary diploma, may receive the diploma because of his resignation from the position of National Chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers with election to the position of National Chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mr. Patton, who has served as chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers for three years, during which he has conducted adult courses throughout the country, is expected to arrive in Manchester on Monday, June 13, for the annual meeting of the organization.

Mr. Patton, considered Manchester's most distinguished citizen, was named to the board of education by a vote of 14 to 1. When he was informed that an election would be held at the school board meeting on Monday, June 13, he immediately resigned his position as National Chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mr. Patton, who had always regretted the fact that he had never graduated from Manchester High school, which he left in 1903, but who despite the handicap of having been a high school graduate, had been scheduled to receive a diploma from the school board at the graduation exercises on Monday, June 13.

named Monday if Hickenlooper is to succeed with plans of his case.

The committee's decision grew out of Hickenlooper's presentation of what he called "Cia." He said that a 100 employee who locally or associations had been questioned through FBI reports had aided in drafting a top secret AEC report.

The report said he did not want to name any of the employees involved in such cases, but intended to show the commission was lax on loyalty issues.

Hickenlooper said he identified the individuals who were involved in the cases. He said such methods were "un-American."
