Freight House Here Affected

New Haven Order to Close Station Week-Ends, Starts Sept. 1

Manchester will be affected by a New Haven railroad management decision to close some 40 of the road's ticket offices and about 130 freight houses on Saturdays and Sundays, it was announced today. The move comes on the granting of a five day week to approximately 17,000 employees commencing September 1.

Here the passengers station will not be affected by the closing order on the week ends, but the freight station will be closed each day for the handling of perishable and carload freight, the railroad headquarters here stated today.

Passenger stations where the volume of business is heavy on Saturdays and Sundays will remain open on a week-day basis and in the larger cities such as New York, New Haven, Hartford, Waterbury, the Bridgeport, employees will be available to deliver perishable carload freight, although necessary, so the changes will not affect the general handling of food supplies.

Reason for change
The Saturday closing of the New Haven's announcement stated "are part of a nationwide re-arrangement of railroad station services made necessary in order to offset the nationwide closing of freight houses on the five-day week granted non-operating employees by decision of the national arbitration board. It is all necessary of course, to operate the railroad plant, in order to handle the rush business, in seven days per week in order to maintain the standard of freight and passenger service."

Checked baggage will not be accepted at, nor delivered from closed passenger stations, although an official of the road pointed out this will prevent patrons from sending baggage in advance on Fridays and picking it up on Mondays.

Accept Fare on Trains
Vice President J. Frank Doolan, in charge of operations for the New Haven, said that where ticket offices will be closed on Saturdays and Sundays, arrangements have been made so that timetables will be posted outside the stations so that the traveling public can obtain information regarding arrival and departure of trains. Conductors will accept fare on the trains from passengers boarding trains at closed stations, without the usual 10-cent rebate-check charge. Doolan said that patrons will not be penalized by the change.

Vice President Doolan suggested that, for week and travel to and from stations which will be closed on Saturdays after September 1, a majority of patrons could purchase round-trip tickets when they depart.

"Since announcements that all non-operating employees in the country are to be accorded a five-day week on September 1," said Doolan, "the New Haven has been making an intensive study in an effort to make the necessary changes to conform to the five-day week and at the same time to provide a maximum of convenient stations and freight-house service to the traveling and shipping public. Each individual station has been studied separately and we believe the changes which will be made in station-attendant and freight-house attendant services will cause little inconvenience to the public."

Very Little Freight
In the majority of cases our freight houses have, for many months past, been used less and less on Saturdays, as industry and business establishments in general have adopted the five-day week. This complete closing of these freight houses on Saturdays after September 1, will affect comparatively few of our patrons.

engers which we can foresee will be that baggage rooms at closed stations will not be available to receive or deliver checked baggage on Saturdays and Sundays. Patrons can, however, check their baggage through by purchasing tickets in advance and sending their baggage on Fridays and picking it up at destinations on Mondays. The majority of the stations in the country the Saturday and Sunday baggage service will remain as it is presently.

General offices of the New Haven at Boston, New Haven and New York will be operated on Saturdays with a skeleton force, the same as is done on holidays.

High Honors Given to Two State Residents Judged As Contributing Most To Rural Life

Storia, Aug. 10.—The contributions to Connecticut agriculture and rural life made by Mrs. Harold L. Strickland of Middletown and George E. Wells of New Milford were recognized at the University of Connecticut last evening as a part of the University's annual Farm and Home Week program.

Last night's party was held at Meadowbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright's place at Andover. A spaghetti supper was served, and an attractive feature was a large cake made for the occasion with the words "Good Luck, Beverly." Singing and dancing were also featured, and a number of useful gifts, including a folding stool.

Mountain Ordeal Results in Death

13-day Ordeal in a Mountain Wilderness Proved Fatal

Portland, Ore., Aug. 10.—A 13-day ordeal in a mountain wilderness proved fatal last night to 19-year-old John Harrison Tracy. He succumbed to starvation and exposure after being lost almost two weeks, the St. Vincent hospital reported.

Rescuers found Tracy on a Mt. Hood Monday, lying in a hut and too feeble to move. He had disappeared on a search for gold.

Harmony in the Bush
Chicago.—Lines of automobiles were parked in a rush hour, impatient drivers kept blowing their horns. The traffic cop at the corner was almost—but not quite—blinded by the horns. He blew his whistle and belted above the din: "Let's try it all together, now in the key of C."

Minor Accidents On Town's Streets

Police Investigated Two Minor Accidents Yesterday Morning

Police investigated two minor accidents yesterday morning, both occurring on Pine street and the other at the intersection of Main and South Main streets.

The first accident, which occurred at the intersection of Pine and South Main streets, involved a 1948 Ford sedan and a 1947 Buick sedan. The Buick was struck by the Ford, which was driving north on Pine street. The Buick driver, George Deane, 35, of 22 Elm street, was injured and taken to the hospital. The Ford driver, who was not identified, was not injured.

Life Meets Stimson
 One invaluable function of the United Nations has been the creation of a position and prestige at least as world status as the office to be held by its own officer, and obviously to do so by his own character and wisdom. Secretary General Trygve Lie fills that role admirably.

The Kingmaker
 One reason James V. Hunt, the Washington "five percent" man, is so successful is that he is a process which faces enormous difficulties, rooted in the structure of our economic, political and spiritual life. Among the difficulties of our time is the question of how to share the fruits of a revolutionary, stirring world. Shall we progress toward human freedom, human dignity, human brotherhood? Shall we find values to live by? Will we carry a light before us?

Character Actor Taken by Death
 Hollywood, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Harry Davenport, 88, character actor, died yesterday of a heart ailment. Davenport first appeared on the stage at the age of five, and had acted in the movies since 1912. Among his 100-odd films were "The Sign of the Cross" and "The Sign of the Cross".

Editor Is Victim Of Heart Attack
 Baltimore, Aug. 10.—(AP)—H. Lowry Cooling, editor of The Sunday Sun, died of a heart attack today at his home. He was 64 years old. Cooling served in the Navy during World War I. He returned to the Sunpapers and within a few years was named assistant editor of the Sunday paper.

 About ten water holes in town have been made available by private citizens for use by fire companies. The last that completed by Harold F. Taylor on his property on South Street, was offered for use in the event of fire in that vicinity. During July six calls were answered by Company 1 of South Coventry. Fire Chief Charles J. Harkley reported four of these were brush fires, one truck and one barn fire. The local company voted to attend the Field Day competition at Clark's Grove, Mansfield Hollow on September 17. The invitation of the Mansfield Volunteer Fire Department, Monday and Tuesday, was accepted. The organization committee of the Nathan Hale Community Center will serve a meat-lobster supper the evening of August 10 in the auditorium. Home made apple pie will be the featured item on the menu.

Manchester's Court Case Has International Tinge

Other cases piled into the courtroom on Tuesday morning in the Manchester court case, which has an international tinge, were the case of a woman charged with the death of her husband, and the case of a woman charged with the death of her husband.

Heart of the threatening charge was made by Harvey Koch, 25, of Montreal, Canada, who, according to State Police Sergeant Joseph J. Kelly, was the driver of the truck which struck and killed the woman.

Koch told the court that he did not intentionally go on the grass field of the Wilbur Wood highway as a "third lane" to pass two other vehicles.

He pleaded not guilty, to which Judge Wesley C. Gray imposed a fine of $25.

Demands an Interview was immediately after a court case. Stating that he had been treated unfairly by the court, Koch demanded an interview with Judge Gray.

He demanded an interview with Judge Gray, who refused to grant it, saying that he had already interviewed Koch.

Koch, who is employed in his father's business in Montreal, Quebec, is on vacation in the United States. He plans to visit New York and Canada on Sunday. They are en route to Cape Cod and Boston.

Koch tried unsuccessfully to demand the return of his car, which was impounded by the police. He was allowed to return to his home in Montreal.

French Army Will Be Defense Line For Pact Allies

Another congressional proposal to delay the major part of the re-arming program until the closed-door defense committee meets a rebuff from Bradley.

The program should not be delayed, Bradley said in answer to a question by Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) of the Foreign Relations Committee.

"Whatever strategic proposal is agreed upon, this equipment will be in the hands of the allies by the time the program is approved," he said.

Bradley also expanded on his reference to the plan to give the bulk of the military aid to France. He said details would have to be worked out by the State Department.

The army chief of staff and his Navy and Air Force counterparts, Admiral Louis B. Mountbatten and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, were called into the White House to discuss the program this afternoon.

In putting forth his financial position, Bradley said that the $1,160,000,000 for the program would be in cash. The remainder would be in the form of credits which will be paid for in cash later, he said.

Bradley also said that the program would be in the hands of the allies by the time the program is approved.

Fail to Settle Singer Strike

Mediators Will Make Another Effort Next Week to End Walkout—Bridgport, Sept. 10.—Mediators say they will try again next week to find a settlement for the 10-week-old strike at the Singer Manufacturing company plant here.

More than four hours of conferences here yesterday resulted in "no progress" according to Philip J. Moore of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration.

Main point at issue between the company and representatives of 2,100 striking CIO Electrical Workers is company-union work-study.

Miss America To Be Chosen

Question to Be Settled Tonight for 52 Girl Beauties of Nation

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Who is Miss America of 1949? That's the $20,000 question to be settled tonight for 52 of the nation's most beautiful girls.

The contestants, who have come through three grueling days of preliminary work, won't even know whether they've reached the final round until the evening of Sept. 11. At that time the 15 contestants who have already been selected for the show will be announced.

On Monday afternoon the contestants will be divided into two groups. One group will be the "Miss America of 1949" and the other will be the "Miss America of 1950." The winner of the 1949 contest will be crowned Miss America and will receive a $20,000 prize.

Education Director

Miss Kathryn Bryon who began her duties as director of the Connecticut State Department of Education on Sept. 1, has completed seven years of service.

Only two other cranes have been as long in service as Miss Bryon. She was born in Canada and came to this country in 1911. She is a graduate of Columbia University and has a Ph.D. in education.

Miss Bryon has been in charge of the Connecticut State Department of Education since 1942. She has been instrumental in the development of the state's public school system and has been a strong advocate of the "open school" concept.

Woolrich Outdoor Clothes
Known for over 119 years as the best quality.
In every line there is ONE name that stands out above all others; one name that denotes the BEST quality. Clifford's is proud of the fact that among our many famous-name lines is the good name of WOOLRICH—for men who never feel satisfied with anything less than the best in outdoor clothes.
