Homes Area Business May Be Scrapped Here

Zone Appeals Board Opposes Further Extensions of Permits in Any Residence Site

The zoning board of appeals declared open war on small business in residential areas last night as it granted final extensions of permits to several applications presented at the public hearing.

In the executive session that followed the public hearing, it was brought out by members of the commission that the board was being flooded with applications by persons conducting part-time or full time business from their homes in the city's main business district. A panel discussion by the five-man board disclosed that many of these business establishments were in direct conflict with the purpose of the zoning rules laid down when first adopted in 1927.

Further study revealed that most of the exceptions to the rules were granted as war-time measures when the availability of space was so scarce, in some instances completely unavailable.

Board's Requests

During recent sessions it has become evident that the applicants are not just seeking temporary permission. In many instances the board is asked to extend the permit to broaden the exceptions, seeking permission for three, four, five and ten years, and still other seek permanent exceptions.

When granting the applications the board considers the non-conforming use of the premises which does not comply with the zoning regulations at the time of adoption and authorizes on appeal, variances from the strict application of the provisions of these regulations. Exceptions have been granted for reasons of unusual difficulty or unreasonable hardship which would result to the property in question or the owners of the property.

As an example, the fields of Road Estate insurance were brought out. During the war and immediately following the war, hostilities in 1945, unlimited space was seen in these ventures, but office space was unavailable and because of the hardship there was a relation of the regulations to allow many persons to operate from their homes in an effort to establish their business.

All Treated Alike

Because the board does not want to aim its attack at any one type of business it is pointed out that a relation of the regulations in the future or extension of permission will be treated in the same manner, unless reasonable hardship can be shown.

The board granted the application for a Real Estate office, presented by Dr. Joseph Masgro, extension of permission to use premises for doctor's office at 29 Park street, Residence A zone and Howard Little, extension of permission to operate Postory Dressing business and garage which will be approximately 15 feet from the rear line and 14 feet from the side line on Franklin street which is closer than regulations allow, on Lot No. 11 Parkers street, corner of Franklin street in a Residence A zone, granted; Wilfred Mendel, extension of permission to operate a business on an uplotary shop at 599 Center street, Residence C zone, granted for two years; Edwin Hunt, permission extended to use cottage for temporary living quarters at rear of 940 Middle street, granted for one year; Walter Kohn, permission to convert a house into dwelling and attached garage, which is on an undersized lot and which is 31 feet closer to rear line than regulations allow on Maple street, East of No. 200, in a Residence C zone, granted, according to the specifications proposed in the application.

Tabled Applications

Two applications were tabled. They were from Truman Cowles, seeking extension of permission to sell dog food and supplies in basement of his home and in the garage, and have sign for same at 72 Hudson street, Residence C zone; and Stanley Nichols, Jr., for extension of permission to keep more than five roomers at 106, 108, and 110 Birch street, Business and Residential B zone.

Steven Coffey was denied permission to erect a breezeway and garage to dwelling 12 feet from rear line, which is closer than regulations allow at 82 Crestwood Drive, Residence A zone.

Hold over from the last hearing was the application of Leonard V. Aceto, seeking permission to convert a four-family dwelling to a five-family dwelling which is on an undersized lot at 45-47 Bayview street in a Residence B zone. The board sought further information about the conversion, and after studying the developments last night, voted to deny the application.

Attack Housing Disposal Plan

Group of Local Officials And Residents at Hearing Yesterday

Manchester officials and residents vigorously assailed any intention of disposal of the town's two federal housing projects at a hearing in Manchester, with the possibility that the municipality will enter the housing picture, as the subject held yesterday in the State Capitol.

General Manager George H. Waddell, Harold Symington representing the Manchester Housing Authority, Charles Hubbard and N. Charles Boggini were among those from the town who listed their opposition to any move that would place Orford Village or Silver Lane Homes out of town. Waddell stated that, in his opinion, the town should not be burdened with the maintenance and repair of the housing project, which is still in a critical position if the project were sold and families faced with the problem of finding a new place to live.

The congressional subcommittee came here to seek facts and determine if the town should take over the housing project, which is still in a critical position if the project were sold and families faced with the problem of finding a new place to live.

The council voted to contribute $25 to the Manchester March of Dimes campaign now being conducted.

Hebron

About 40 were present Saturday evening at the annual meeting of St. Peter's Parish, presided by Rev. J. P. Lupp, pastor. A royal feast was served at 6:30 in the parish hall. A royally fine meal was served from groaning tables, and heartily enjoyed by all. The menu consisted of baked beans, all kinds of salads, macaroni done to a turn, rolls and butter, cakes and topped with coffee.

The Rev. H. H. Keen pronounced the blessing.

A business meeting then took place and officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year, as follows: Senior warden, Lewis W. Phelps; junior warden, Charles C. Sellers; delegate to the diocesan convention and New London Archdeaconry, Henry A. Jones; warden, Daniel G. Horton; alternate, Treasurer, Lewis W. Phelps; clerk, Mrs. Clarence F. Porter; auditor, G. Earl Porter. Vestry members chosen were Marjorie H. Martin, Mrs. David K. Porter, Daniel G. Horton, Jared B. Tennant, F. Elliot Post, Henry A. Jones, Alfred W. Hutchinson, G. Earl Porter, John Phelps. It was voted to use the Henders and Graves fund for church purposes.

Seven new members were taken in on the parish voting list. Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Larcom and Mrs. Daniel G. Horton.

The weather continues remarkably mild, with some hardy flowers in bud or bloom, shrubs full of buds, the ground muddy. The weather may be compared with that of last winter, when in February flowers were to be found dancing in bloom. The thermometer for Monday on this year showed well up toward 40 above zero. Some people think the seasons are changing, yet we hear of terrible blizzards and cold in other parts of the country, which would seem to negate that idea. Anyway, New England seems to be blessed with a warm winter, to date.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ann Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Nelson of Hartford to Gordon J. Rathbun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Enrollment Totals Indicate Manchester Among the Leaders

Only 10 towns in the state exceed Manchester in school enrollment, Superintendent of Schools Arthur H. Hing pointed out last night to the Board of Education in discussing figures compiled from a report of the Connecticut Public Expenditures Council. Three of these 28 towns show a larger enrollment increase, percentage-wise, and 10 of these 28 towns show a larger increase in per capita expense.

In 1944-45, according to the report, Manchester had an enrollment of 4,483 as against 5,194 in 1948-49, an increase of 14 per cent. The per capita expense in 1944-45 was $103.02 and in 1948-49 was $163.67, a 58 per cent increase.

Urge Quick Action On School Proposals

Board of Education Favoring Improving Facilities, New High School Plan

Immediate action was deemed necessary by the Board of Education last night on the recommendations made in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology survey in regard to improvement of facilities at the Washington school and other elementary schools in Manchester.

Changes recommended at the Washington school include the installation of an auditorium and cafeteria and the improvement of heating and toilet facilities. Further changes recommended by the survey include night included changes to the South and Kenney street schools and possibly the Manchester High school.

The second phase of the town's school expansion program which will be outlined by the Board of Directors tonight includes a request for $65,000 for consulting architects and engineers on preliminary plans for the construction of a new high school and renovation of elementary schools.

Against Second Survey It was pointed out that the M. I. T. survey made two years ago recommended the abandonment of the South and Kenney street schools at the completion of the school expansion program. In view of requests since the survey was made, it was suggested that the M. I. T. experts be asked to make a recheck. The $150,000 that would cover some of the elementary schools.

Chairman Charles S. Hound stated that residents of the South and Kenney street school areas have already agreed to the expansion of facilities. A proposal by South school parents that the basement be converted for kindergarten purposes was voted after a recent inspection by the State Department of Education.

Too Expensive The state authorities stated that the expense involved would outweigh the resulting savings. It was pointed out that changes would have to be made in window areas, toilet facilities and heating.

Chairman Hound and Mr. Hines residents prior to last night's board session. The parents suggested the conversion of the basement into two rooms or the construction of a temporary pre-fabricated building to provide expanded facilities.

Superintendent Hing said that the school now accommodates 80 or 90 pupils, including those in kindergarten. The same conditions of overcrowding and the need of more rooms were described by Mr. Hing to parents from the Kenney street school area, he said, and that the South and Kenney schools are the only ones not now providing kindergartens and the parents had their own arrangements for their children. It is expected that the state directors will be introduced at the Board of Directors meeting tonight.

Change School Vacation Dates

Goes Back to Week of April 24; No Teachers on U. S. Census

The Board of Education last night approved the re-scheduling of the spring vacation dates to their original position, the week of April 24 with Good Friday, April 7, remaining a no-school day.

When the school calendar was adopted last spring, the vacation was set for the week beginning April 10 so that, if needed, teachers could work on the National Census.

Included was a provision that stated the vacation would revert to its usual position if it was found that teacher assistance was not required. It does not now appear likely that teachers will be entitled in the survey.

Sense and Nonsense
He glanced at the beautiful woman beside him—his look heavy with anxiety and humble pleading—yet she was unconscious of his appeal. For long moments he watched her—struggling with his emotions—desiring yet afraid to ask the one question that trembled on his lips. Finally, he gave way to his emotions and said with a smile, "I have that little piece of cake that was left over from dinner?"

The editor of an American newspaper dropped into a special after-dinner service for the first time for many years. He listened to the service for a while and then rushed to his office.

The producer of a local dramatic society was giving final instructions before the curtain went up on the first night of a show.

Some rest and change were needed. So the family traveled west. But the bellboys got the change. And the hotel got the rest.

There was an old soldier named Sidney who drank till he ruined his kidney—it shriveled and shrank as he sat there and drank—but he had a good time, though, now didn't he?

First Wife—Frankly, I like to have my husband play golf. Second Wife—I think it's good for him to get his sweating out with my husband?

Business Man—What do you do with all these pictures you paint? Artist—I sell them, sir. Business Man—Name your figures and report Monday. I've been looking for a salesman like you for years.

Looks as if some good psychiatrists and a few policemen would be called in to deal with the outbreak of rumpus-raising by zoot-suited louts.
