Driver Is Cleared

coroner's finding has cleared John McGuinn, Trumbull bus driver, of criminal responsibility for the death of Mrs. Adela Barbieri. Milford Mrs. Barbieri, a passenger on a CR&L bus which McGuinn was driving, suffered a fractured hip last April 10 when she fell as the vehicle bumped over a curb. She died five days later in Milford hospital. Coroner James . Corrigan held yesterday that Me Quinn's "slight miscalculation" rounding a corner, causing th right rear wheel to go over th curb, could not be classed criminal negligence.

Solicitations will be continued among prospective members. It is reported that many establishments had been approached alrendy, but it would be necessary to go back for a final decision.

Progressive Program
Pleased with the success of the operation thus far, the chamber is furthering its plans for a progressive program by taking action to form a nominating committee which will propose a new and full slate of officers to head the organization. The new membership includes a cross section of many professions.
