Grant Policy On Vacations

Store's Employees Get Three Weeks With Pay After 5 Year Service

Miss Margaret Harris personnel manager of the Big W. T. Grant Company store at Manchester, today revealed the company's liberal "expanding vacation" policy by which Grant employees receive three full weeks of employment with pay after five years of employment with the company.

This is a definite advance over old-fashioned vacation programs," the Grant Personnel Manager noted. "Under many old-type programs 2 weeks with pay" was standard for everyone, whether employed for 2 or 20 years.

Under the "expanding vacation" policy 25-year employees of the company get 4 full weeks of vacation with pay.

Between 5 and 5 years, the employee gets the usual 2 weeks with pay, and after 10 years he or she is eligible for 1 week with pay, provided he or she started before February 1st of the current year.

Grants is proud of its "expanding vacation" policy, which adds to its employees' happiness. The company feels that such policies encourage people to stay with the company, so that their experience results in better service to the community.

Miss Harris disclosed that employees will get a Christmas bonus for the year as well as the length of the "individual worker's opinion" on the company's appreciation of its employees.

Summing up many a Grant worker's opinion, Miss Harris said she anticipates many, many more.

New Store Expanded To Triple Former Size

See How Much We Can Give Says W. T. Grant

In a recent interview, W. T. Grant, founder of the chain of 140 stores which he heads, said that the new store at Manchester is being expanded to triple its former size.

"How much can we give the customer, rather than get from her," this basic philosophy set the policy of his first store in Manchester in 1906, and has been a guiding principle through the years.

Freedom Day Guest

There seems hardly a doubt about the building of the broad street elementary school. The lowest bid, plus grading costs will be up practically all of the school appropriations, leaving nothing for furnishing and fitting, but the board of directors will be placing the matter of additional funds before the board of directors Monday night at the time when the directors must meet to lay the local tax rate.

The likely means of securing an additional necessary sum — which the general manager yesterday estimated might run well over $100,000 on the basis of building to draw on the large amount — will be from the bond issue which built the Bowers and Verplanck schools.

Among the many prominent national and state figures who will attend the dedication of the new school is the Honorable Earl Warren, U. S. Supreme Court Justice, who is expected to arrive in Manchester on Sunday, April 8, at the Verplanck school, in a man who takes a back seat to no one when it comes to public service. Commissioner Edward J. Hickey, one of the foremost law enforcement officers, active head of the Connecticut State Police who is one of the honor guests, it was announced today by Chairman Edward W. Kraemer of the "Freedom Shrine" committee.

Commissioner Hickey heads up one of the finest of not the finest Law Enforcement agencies in the United States, and it is largely due to his guidance and leadership that the Connecticut State Police force has progressed to the point where it is now nationally recognized as a model force.

Always in the forefront in state and municipal efforts to curb crime, Commissioner Hickey is the man who will be responsible for the security of the state in any future catastrophic events. Manchester is indeed fortunate to count among its many friends, Commissioner Hickey, a man who realizes the value of preserving traditional American freedoms, and who advocates Manchester's right in taking the lead in Civilian Defense efforts, and the steps to group dedicate ourselves to the fight to preserve and maintain our way of life against communism or any other Un-American ideology which may now or in the future threaten our liberties.

Now the situation seems reversed in the point where there will be enough fought, with the resultant present lack of a sufficient appropriation.

Wet Slippy Streets Hamper Drivers in Manchester

Wet slippy snow today coated Manchester and the nearby countryside with both. Cars slid sideways or couldn't get a start on Main street near the center, and at many of the parking places, while at times the heaviness of the snowfall obscured vision. Plans were made for plowing and sanding this evening if the snow continued. Late today there was some melting which helped traffic conditions.

With March just starting, Connecticut usually has a few storms ahead of it this time of year but if no deep snow occurs, much public money will be saved that otherwise would go for snow removal costs.

6,541 Autoists Register Here

Total motor vehicle registrations issued at the sub branch office of the Motor Vehicle Department, located in the state armory for the past week and a half, fell below last year's total by 908. When the office closed last night at five o'clock, Inspector Daniel Kern announced that 6,541 registrations for 1951 were issued. A year ago the number secured here was 7,449.

The records show that about 1,000 motor vehicles were to be registered in Manchester. Applications by mail or to the mail office, mainly that preventing registration by nearly half of this total. One reason given for the slow down here by Kern was the fact that only one Saturday came during the time the office was open here. In past years there were two Saturdays included in the office schedule. The rush period has always been between three and five o'clock in the afternoon when factory workers usually jammed the building, forming long lines to secure their registrations.

This was not true this year. Local motorists who did not secure their registrations while the office was open here must now get them in Hartford. The staff of workers will return to the armory in April to issue operator's licenses. Current licenses expire at midnight, April 30. A schedule will be announced by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Cornelius F. Mulvihill later this month.

Women Talk On Inflation

County YWCA Meeting Discusses Problem at Home of Mrs. Dik

"Inflation" was the topic discussed at the desert meeting of the membership of the Manchester branch, Hartford County Y. W. C. A., at the home of Mrs. Edward R. Dik, 137 Henry street, yesterday afternoon. The interesting discussion was led by Miss Primrose Woodworth who has made an extensive study of the problem and has conducted many similar discussions.

After a lively discussion the group reached a few conclusions, mainly that preventing inflation, whether by direct or indirect controls, is really largely up to the individual. The individual must develop a feeling of responsibility and be willing to make sacrifices such as lowering his standard of living in order to control inflation and build up needed defenses.

Mrs. James C. Dix, chairman of the Y's finance drive which has been going on in Manchester recently, reported on the drive, and showed where the funds raised will be spent.

Similar meetings of which the next few months, will be held at the homes of various members. Different topics will be discussed and occasionally speakers will be brought in to address the group. Announcement of the next meeting will be made at a later date.

Next Week's Program At Bowers School Announced Today

The program for the United Nations Workshop to be held at Bowers school on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week has been announced by Mrs. Pearl Farmer Richardson who will conduct the classes.

The workshop is divided into two consecutive sessions taking up different subjects so that anyone unable to attend both nights will gain knowledge of the UN in certain aspects. It is suggested that those participating in the workshop bring notebooks to fill in the outline which will be distributed at the meetings.

Tuesday night's main subject will be The United Nations in Review and the United Nations in Review. The first heading will be the world at work. The second part will be a resume of the beginning and organization of the UN.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Richardson will discuss The United Nations in Action and the oratorical nature of the United Nations of the Future. The United Nations in Action will include the early part of the lecture and the operating groups will be organized. The second topic has been subdivided. The "People's Community" and The World Community.

A letter to educators and community leaders from the School of Education of New York University says that Mrs. Richardson, "Her background and experience in the United Nations and her opening in San Francisco in April, 1945, and her method of presentation made the present of the individual in the program take on life and meaning for every individual in the program. She was responsible for stimulating many students for carrying out programs and projects in local schools and communities."

The workshop is being sponsored by the Women's Club of Manchester, the League of Women Voters, and the Parent-Teachers Association. Reservations for the workshop may be made with Mrs. Hal Stewart, president of the Women's Club, or any of the officers of the above organizations.

Wrong Marker Trips Drivers

Those Who Forget to Change Year Tabs on Plates Stopped Here

Approximately 90 motorists who either forgot or ignored the fact that 1951 registrations are effective today had their memories jogged this morning. Local police had stopped that number of vehicles before 10 a.m. because they were all equipped with the green 1950 inserts.

All but one of the motorists, police said, had obtained their registrations but had left them home or had them in the pocket of their coats. The one who was Donald C. Crisler, 18, of RFD 4, North Coventry, who was arrested by Patrolman Edward M. Winkler for driving an unregistered motor vehicle.

Of the others stopped, those who were carrying the yellow 1951 inserts in the pocket of their cars had to install them in their markers before they could go any further. Those who had left their vehicle tags home or had them in their pockets were allowed to proceed.

The State Motor Vehicle department's branch office at the armory closed yesterday, and motorists can only secure their 1951 registrations in Hartford now. Vehicles not equipped with the new inserts cannot be legally operated on the highways.

Two Local Teachers Killed in Plunge Off Bridge Ramp

Miss Ida P. Mindel, Mrs. Dorothy H. Secord, Victims in Accident On Way to Hartford Yesterday Afternoon; Skidding Seen Cause

Two Manchester school teachers plunged 45 feet to their deaths at 3:40 yesterday afternoon after their car skidded off an exit ramp of the Charter Oak Bridge, turned over in the air and landed on its roof on the ground below. The teachers were Mrs. Dorothy F. Secord, 23, of 1953 Broad street, Hartford.

Disagreement over an election law to govern general elections scheduled for November brought the cabinet of Premier Rene Pleven's dominant left Wednesday.

Parliament is almost hopelessly deadlocked on the issue. All non-Communist parties agree the present law, which favors the Communists because it bases seats on proportional representation, should be changed. But thus far the parties opposed to the Communist proposal have failed to agree on how to change the law.

The new Premier and his Cabinet require an absolute majority of 311 votes in the National Assembly, which is expected to meet in Paris next week.

U. S. Doubts Peace Talk Will Be Fruitful

See Russia Intent on Setting Stage for a Propaganda Offensive; Deputies Meet Monday

Washington, March 2.—(AP)—The State Department heavily discounts chances that real "peace talks" with Russia will result from the Paris negotiations beginning in Paris Monday.

Officials here are convinced that the Soviets want to do in Paris what they did in Moscow—set the stage for a diplomatic and propaganda offensive against the Western defense forces.
