Maureen O'Hara Reports Aussies Rabid Film Fans

Hollywood, March 7—(AP)—Maureen O'Hara, a beauty of old Ireland, has just returned from Australia where she made a film for an American company with an English leading man and a Russian director.

Hebron

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Gray have received a photo from their son, Lt. Lloyd S. Gray, sent from Tokyo, Japan, showing his infant son, Lloyd S. Junior, and himself. The baby was three months old at the time, born Nov. 7, 1950 in Tokyo. His mother is the former Marcia Fisher of Wichita, Kansas. Lt. Gray excused himself from frequent letters home, saying that he had quite a job to take care of. He is communications officer with the U. S. Army force. He is a veteran of World War II with the aviation force. He has been in Japan for a year and a half and is under contract to return for another year. He appears rather content in commenting on the present hostilities. He writes that he has got into touch with Sgt. Harold White, a member of the Gilead section of Hebron, who is under treatment at a Japanese Hospital for jaundice and sinus infection, contracted in the retreat from Pyongyang, the North Korean Capital, from which he is reported improving. He has accepted an invitation from the Grays to be their guest for a time when he is sufficiently recovered to undertake the long trip. He is several hundred miles from the Gilead section, at the Johnson air base, in Tokyo. So the two young men, who used to know each other rather intimately when living here, will have a chance to renew their acquaintances under very different circumstances.

One-A-Day Hardie Trio Marks Up Its First Year

Yonkers, N. Y., March 7.—(AP)—A trio of recent years the early part of last month. They are pictures of health and vigor, although two of them were ill during the winter. Judie had flu and Judie had pneumonia.

On Monday the trio celebrated their first birthday.

The only boy of the three was born at 8 a. m. one year ago today. Judie followed at the next day. Judie, the last, was born early the third morning at 11:15 a. m.

Although Judie is the only one whose birthday is today, the party is for all three.

They'll have ice cream and cake with white icing. Decorating the table are the words "happy birthday" written in pink sugar-bitter. The Hardies are expecting their neighbors to drop around during the day to wish the triplets many happy returns. The nearest household is a quarter of a mile away, but they probably won't be too many visitors.

Dr. M. G. Haast, the physician who attended their births, won't be able to get to the party. He has a schedule.

Despite all sorts of weather extremes, the triplets have made good progress. They were born during a flood that covered a million acres of land last spring. They went through the worst ice storm

Army Asked to Adjust Area

Hartford, March 7.—(AP)—Governor Lodge's office said today that he had requested army officials to "work out an adjustment" in the use of areas on Long Island Sound for anti-aircraft practice. The governor, in a letter to Lt. Gen. W. D. Dittmer, commander of the First Army said that aerial practice, particularly in the vicinity of Camp Hood at Montauk Point, "would seriously retard the production of food fish and cause hardship" to Connecticut fishermen.

UN Workshop Opened Here

Nearly 200 Attend Session at Bowers School Auditorium Last Night

An impressive moment of silence observed by the nearly 200 Manchester men and women attending the United Nations workshop opened the meeting conducted by Mrs. Howard Richardson, vice chairman of the Speakers Bureau committee for the United Nations at Bowers school auditorium last night.

This period devoted to meditation and prayer is a ceremony observed at the opening of all General Assemblies of the UN since the San Francisco conference in 1945. Mrs. Richardson mentioned the UN in her address.

The Japanese draft treaty was in question and Mrs. Richardson explained that the preparatory work had been accomplished in five weeks. This will be furnished and the public will be welcome to view it. Anthony Wasth of Rockville is general construction superintendent.

Attractive Setting

A colorful array of United Nations flags and speakers' microphones set in a circle surrounded by UN flags formed an interesting setting for the workshop. The United Nations of today was the first topic discussed by Mrs. Richardson with highlights of international news of the day and the work of the UN.

More than 2,000,000,000 people are concerned with the work of the United Nations, asserted the speaker. The world is peopled by one man, the people. She stated that we can have anything we want in this country if we have faith in the people. She said that we are one another will hold us together. Another member of the audience wondered about the dissemination of material on the UN throughout the world. Mrs. Richardson stated that although publicity material is being distributed in places hoped for, it has been distributed as far as the budget will allow. She said that although our country has the best access to material on the UN, we do not use it as extensively as desired.

A second session of the workshop will be held tonight at the Bowers school when the United Nations action and the United Nations of the future will be discussed.

Boston's Flower Show on Sunday

Those who love to garden and those who enjoy looking at gardens will have ample opportunity to roam through the great hall of the Mechanics building, Boston, Sunday at 1:00 when the 80th annual Flower show opens for seven days with a great international display of the choicest plants and flowers from around the world.

Arno H. Nehring, who has served as director of these exhibitions for several years, states that this mid-century show promises to be the best ever, and that a record number of entries have been received in all classes.

Stretches of waterfalls, a grotto and a bridge are a part of the great feature display in Grand hall of the building, where the thousands of visitors at the show may view a wide variety of plants, including the golden acacia, a formal garden featuring Japanese wall garden of unusual countries signed the declaration in 1942 to 1945 the number of unusual plants, box-bordered rose beds and gay blooming tulips and other annuals and perennials.

Elaborate plans have also been made for the display of flowering shrubs along with a wide variety of unusual countries signed the declaration in 1942 to 1945 the number of unusual plants, box-bordered rose beds and gay blooming tulips and other annuals and perennials.

Foreign Policy Test Is Killed

Rockford, Ill., Not to Include Referendum At City Election

Rockford, Ill., March 7.—(AP)—Plans for a general referendum on foreign policy in the Rockford city election April 3 were killed Monday night.

The City Council, which had approved such a public opinion sampling last week by a vote of 15 to 3, decided at last night's meeting it wasn't a good idea, after all. The reversal vote was 14 to 6, with two aldermen voting who were absent last week.

The reasons for the decision not to hold the referendum included unfavorable reaction to the test by constituents of the aldermen, expense of such a poll, and the idea, expressed by Alderman Thomas McDonnell, that "we don't need a poll to determine how the Republican majority here feels."

Rockford, Illinois' third largest city with more than 92,000 residents, and 40,000 registered voters, is traditionally Republican.

The referendum proposal by Alderman Milton Lundstrom, would have put two questions on a separate ballot April 3:

1. Shall the United States immediately adopt a policy to defend itself and its possessions and give limited assistance to free nations? 2. Shall the United States continue to follow its present worldwide foreign policy and lend unlimited assistance to free nations?

Under Lundstrom's proposal, the result of the referendum would have been turned over to Congress as an expression of the city's sentiment from the midwest city.

It was in line with a bill introduced in Congress in January by Rep. Allen (R-Ill.). Allen represents the 10th Congressional district which includes Rockford.

But, last night, Alderman Harold Peterson asked that the referendum plan be reconsidered. He said the questions on the proposal were "very badly worded" and that people he had talked to about the poll were against holding it, seven to one.

Mrs. Marion Haast, the council's only woman member, said she had been told by Daniel I. Smith, chief election clerk, that it would cost $1,000 to advertise the poll and print ballots for it.

Youth Too Tall To Get a Job

Pittsburgh.—(AP)—A 30-year-old Pittsburgh high school graduate is finding his six feet, eight inches of height a handicap in landing a job.

"It's always the same story," he complained. "They say I'm too tall for their desks, they say I'm too something. Sometimes they say I'm just too tall."

Charles once thought he had a drafting job sewed up. Then he had an interview with the prospective boss. The man said: "I'll call you if I can find a desk big enough for you. He never called."

Urges Truman To Come Home

Democratic Leader, For Republicans To Get the Idea From the Republican Speeches

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—President Truman had a long, range Republican invitation today to hurry home from Florida, and fire officials who have figured in Senate inquiries.

All the signs here indicated that Mr. Truman, working and vacationing at Key West, would ignore a demand aimed at him by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) in the course of a political flap in the Senate last night.

Knowland said the President ought to pay some attention to recent allegations of "mink coats in the White House" and in regard to the buying of jobs in Mississippi.

It seems to me, the California senator declared, "that in the light of these conditions which strike at the very moral fabric of America, the President of the United States should return from his Florida vacation and clean house."

Knowland's accusations were so scathing before a Senate banking subcommittee of reputed attempts to influence RPC board members, about a White House stenographer's mink coat, paid for by a man who figured in that inquiry and to demands by Senators Eastland and Stennis, Mississippi Democrats, for an investigation of reputed attempts to sell federal jobs in their state.

The California Senator's remarks were provoked by a plea from Senator McFarland of Arizona, the land said he didn't want any Senator to get the idea from the Republican speeches that Senator John Marshall Butler (R-Mo) had "anything to hide" or wanted to stop the investigation.

Senior Senator Langer (R-Id.) faced an election contest 10 years ago, advised Butler, seated on the sidelines, not to worry.

Beating the Republicans, McFarland declared:

"The best politics is a job well done. The best politics in the Senate is for us to put our shoulders to the wheel and do the best for our country in a crisis."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the committee inquiry into the Maryland campaign was using the time of senators without any formal charges having been filed against Butler.

Senator Kern (R-Mo) recalled the old Kansas City vote fraud case of several years ago, with 4,000 acres of water.

Commissioner Hill to Discuss Planning as Related to Zoning

Hartford, March 7.—The Connecticut Federation of Planning and Zoning Agencies announced today that State Highway Commissioner G. Albert Hill has accepted an invitation to discuss highway planning in relation to local planning and zoning at its annual meeting in Meriden on March 15.

Edward Adams of Waterbury, federation president, said requests had been made to the association by several towns and city planning boards for a clarification of Highway Department policies projecting new roads through rural areas, and that Commissioner Hill had agreed to explain these policies.

The annual meeting of the federation, including its election of officers, will be held at the Hotel Crown Restaurant, Route 5, Meriden, beginning at 1 p. m. with a luncheon meeting.

The program will entail discussion of several community development problems. Among them are: zoning, defense mobilization, defense mobilization. Among them are: zoning, defense mobilization, defense mobilization.

Building inspection and zoning enforcement, both of which would be made increasingly difficult by the event of new defense housing construction, will come in for discussion at a panel session scheduled for 4 p. m.

Arthur N. Rutherford, West Hartford building inspector, preside at the latter session while Hugh Pomroy, director, Westchester (N.Y.) County Planning Board, will lead the luncheon discussion. He will explain the successful adult education program carried out in Westchester County. Commissioner Hill will talk on the federation's business meeting and its election of officers will take place following a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Columbia

More than 100 legal voters in the town of Columbia put their vote of approval on building of a four room addition on Horace W. Porter school during the annual meeting held in Yeoman Hall Saturday night. There were 100 affirmative votes and two nays which were sufficient at the present time, but in view of the figures showing the child population of the town and the increase indicated by enumeration figures gathered by the Board of Education each year, and the fact that the board chairman, Donald R. Tuttle, the larger the committee will be appointed, three by the Board of Selectmen and three by the Board of Education, to act as a school building committee. The committee has been instructed to immediately secure 100 citations for such addition to present to a special meeting as near April 1 as possible. The committee were instructed to apply to the state of the Building Commission for state aid for the purpose of such building project. The estimated expenses of the town as determined last October 1950 were increased by $10,000. The selectman Chair L. Robinson estimated the increases which included the care of the tin, $150; $200 additional for use in putting the town beach in condition; $150 for Labanon and Columbia as well as $200 for the meeting and collecting taxes account. The meeting also voted to have the selectmen appoint a committee of three to consider the revision of salaries of town officials, all of whom are very poorly paid for the work. The tax collector's commission was increased to 1 1/2 percent next election. The tax rate was raised from 19 mills to 22 mills upon recommendation of Mr. Robinson, with no opposition from the meeting.

Sales Counsel Joins Agency

Jack W. Bray Associated With G. F. Sweet in Hartford

Hartford, March 7.—G. Frank Sweet, president of G. F. Sweet & Co., Inc., advertising agency in Hartford, has announced that Jack W. Bray has joined the staff as an account executive and counsel on sales and merchandising.

Mr. Bray comes to the Lewis street advertising agency from Pierce's proprietaries of Buffalo, New York. There he served as vice president, was responsible for the sales policy of the company and with the president, established and supervised the advertising program.

From 1937 to 1946, except for a four-year leave of absence during which he served with the 8th Air Force, Mr. Bray was managing director of the English subsidiaries of Lehn & Pink Products Corporation.

During this time he introduced to the English market, with marked success, two of the company's cosmetic products: the Dorothy Gray line and Hints Honey and Almond Cream in solid form. Mr. Bray's broad experience in merchandising and advertising was also gained, in part, from his earlier association as sales director with the Jergens Woodbury Sales Corporation.

Mr. Bray, a native of Bridgeport, graduated from Yale University and is now residing in Simsbury.

British-Italian Relations Rome, March 7.—Premier Alcide de Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza will pay a three-day visit to London next week.

16,000 Chicks To Fight HCL

Living Costs Obsolete In Attack as Peeps Indicate Price Battle

Boston, March 7.—The first peeps of 16,000 elite baby chicks, which will peck their way out of shells at the University of Arkansas on March 16, will signal an attack on the high cost of living—or at least that part represented by the cost of chicken dinner.

These chicks, now being incubated as entries in the National Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest, will be descendants of 40 of the most outstanding flocks in the nation.

During the last five years these flocks have demonstrated capacity to produce more and better meat on less feed, and have had much to do with bringing the cost of chickens down in comparison with the cost of other meats.

Special Handling From the first peep until they are 12 weeks of age, each entry of 400 chicks will be housed in its own specially constructed pen and will be fed the same balanced ration, watered and cared for exactly like the others. They will be judged for rapid-feathering, feed consumption, livability and other factors.

At the end of the 12-week growing period, the lots will be dressed under the same conditions and scored for superior meat qualities. To the owner of the lot with the highest overall score will go a $5,000 cash award from A & P, contest sponsor.

India Seeks No Bomb New Delhi.—India is seeking out the raw materials of atomic energy and building plants to process them, but it plans to make no atomic bombs. This country's Atomic Energy Commission stipulates that uranium, thorium and beryllium being mined in India will be used for peaceful purposes only.

Veins of uranium—some quite large—have been found in various parts of India. Beryl is abundant and there are large deposits of monazite sands.

The annual meeting of the Volunteer Fire Department will be held in the firehouse on Friday, March 9, at 8 p.m.

The Junior Choir will meet in the church on Friday at 8:30 p.m. At the regular meeting of the society announcement was made that Jev. A. J. Waggoner of the Congregational church at Storrs will be the guest speaker using the topic "The Sinner Project" at this church on March 15, 8 p.m. All interested women are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served. The annual meeting of the Society will be held on May 26. The Society voted to contribute five dollars toward the local Red Cross drive. Also voted to buy a wastepaper and rag drive. Collections for this are to be made on June 1. Provisions will be made for storing between now and that date. Therefore members are requested to save paper and rags during this time. A committee consisting of Mrs. John Shephard, Mrs. Ronald Bockun and Mrs. George Nelson was appointed to confer with Donald Richards of the Board of Deacons concerning the situation and condition of communion service. The meeting was concluded after the presentation of a devotional service by Mrs. R. K. Reynolds.

Special Suggested Idea W. D. Terhoben, chief of the Poultry Branch, U. S. Department of Agriculture, says the program started in 1940 from a suggestion by Howard C. Pierce, national poultry research director for A & P Food Stores, that something be done to develop in meat chickens qualities similar to those of the broad-breasted turkey. Results are indicated by Terhoben's estimation that 425,000,000 of the 625,000,000 chickens produced for meat in 1950 were from Chickens-of-Tomorrow stock.

Each of the 40 competing breeders, chosen by the National Chicken-of-Tomorrow Committee on the basis of scores in 1949 and 1950 state and regional contests, was required to send two cases (750) hatching eggs to the contest site on the University of Arkansas campus. The eggs are being incubated under identical conditions—temperature, humidity, even the velocity of air circulation are exactly the same.

From the first peep until they are 12 weeks of age, each entry of 400 chicks will be housed in its own specially constructed pen and will be fed the same balanced ration, watered and cared for exactly like the others. How to Get Married It's Almost Spring

Advice Given in Wedding Season News: It's Easy if You Know the Ropes, Follow Method

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of marriage. It's almost spring, and the time has come when many of our young men are planning to get hitched. It is a good idea to get the ropes of the wedding business straightened out before you get into it. The following are some of the things you should know about getting married.

First, you must get a license. This is done at the town clerk's office. You must be at least 18 years old, and both parties must be single or widowed. You must wait three days after getting the license before you can get married. The license is good for 60 days.

Next, you must get a blood test. This is done at a hospital or a laboratory. You must wait 48 hours after the blood test before you can get married. The blood test is to make sure you are both healthy and free of any contagious diseases.

Then, you must get a minister or a priest to perform the ceremony. You must have a church or a hall where the ceremony will be held. You must also have a witness and a best man.

Finally, you must get a reception. This is where you and your guests will eat and drink after the ceremony. You must have a place for the reception, and you must have enough food and drink for all your guests.

Congressmen Cannot Understand Request For Voice of America

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—A presidential request for $97,000,000 to make the "voice of America" more emphatic, a committee of Congressmen yesterday said, was surprised and disappointed by the House of Representatives' action in rejecting the request.

The committee also said that the program has been successful in the past, and that it is essential to the future of the program. The committee's report said that the program has helped to bring the world closer together, and that it is essential to the peace and stability of the world.
