Local Resident Rides "A Honey of a Hobby"

Kenneth A. Miller Describes How He Operates 40 Hives of Bees Scattered in This Area By Gerald T. Szaplana Buzin's bees may give you the jitters, but that him is music to the ears of Kenneth A. Miller, 70 Foley street, because the stung-stung insects have provided him with the honey of a hobby for the past 20 years.

Got a swarm of bees you don't want? Just give Miller a call. He will not only take them off your hands, he will even give you five pounds of honey for the privilege of doing so.

Miller has about 40 hives scattered in his home town of Whitehall, most of them set in apple orchards. Each hive houses a community of 30,000 to 40,000 bees, so Miller would really be stung in his home town of Whitehall, that might threaten the existence of Manchester's honey.

Miller is enthusiastic about his hobby, in spite of the fact that he has been stung "several hundred times." He maintains, however, that bees are "just like a dog. If you don't get them excited by swatting at them, they won't sting you."

Long Interested in Bees

Although local honey has been keeping the insects as a hobby for only 20 of his 46 years, Miller has been coming bees out of his hair all his life. Miller is an expert beekeeper and where his father, now over 80 years old, has been keeping bees for more than 50 years and is still going strong.

Packard Packard 400—most advanced motor car in America

Newest of them all... and built to stay that way! Take power. Packard Thunderbolt engines give you the peak efficiency of America's highest-compression engines. Plus: the service-free simplicity of a design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power! Or study automatic drives. Packard— and Packard alone — offers the unequalled smoothness and efficiency of Ultra-matic Drive. And here again, there's service-free simplicity — and "over-size" strength — that puts this Packard exclusive in a durability class of its own. Look into the rattle-proof rigidity of Packard Armor-rib body construction... the latently smooth firmness of Packard's own "self-controlling" broad-beam suspension system. Look deeper than you've ever looked into a new car before! Every precision-built detail will help explain why Packard holds motorist's most significant, most consistent durability record: Of all the Packards built—in the last 52 years—over 50% are still in service! Let that be your final clue to the most far-sighted good buy in the automotive field today! It's more than a car—it's a PACKARD. Ask the man who owns one.
