About Town

King David Lodge No. 31, I. O. O. F., will hold a district meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 at Odd Fellows hall. Edward G. Hoffman, grand master, will be present and will outline his program for the coming year. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

New meat cases, a new frozen foods case and a new quick checkout counter have been recently installed at the Pinehurst grocery. These improvements will allow for a better display of food and for improved service to customers.

Many Manchester members of the Elks are planning to attend the cocktail party and dinner to be held at the Elks home in Rockville on Sunday, July 29. Reservations for this affair should be in by July 26.

Griswold Family Reunion July 28

The Griswold Family Association of America, Inc., will hold its annual meeting and reunion this year in Clinton, Conn., on U. S. Route 1, on July 28, which is the last Saturday in July, at the Stanton Memorial where it was held last year. The association has over 300 members and new members are joining all the time. It also publishes a printed bulletin for its members and sponsored the publication of two volumes of Griswold genealogy compiled by the late Glenn E. Griswold. Another volume is being prepared for publication by a professional genealogist. Members are eligible from the pioneer settlers, Matthew Griswold in Black Hall, Lyme, Conn., Michael Griswold at Wethersfield, Conn., and Edward Griswold at Windsor and later Killingworth now Clinton, Conn.

Mrs. S. A. Griswold, Branford, Conn., president of the Griswold Family Association, is pleased to announce the Reception is at 11 and after a luncheon at noon served by the women of the Congregational church. There will be a business meeting followed by an interesting afternoon program.

Knights to Give Minstrel Show

Campbell Council Knights of Columbus will sponsor a minstrel show to be held at the Verplanck school on November 5, 6 and 7, Grand Knight John E. Stewart has announced. This will mark the first time the local KC has presented a minstrel.

Chairman of the affair is Ernest Meola. Tales for the show will be written by MC members and their friends. James Skehan of Belle Rambo will direct the production.

Refreshments will start in September.

Warehouse Clearance Sale On Electric Housewares

We have been in the appliance business for a good many years. We intend to stay in this business a good many more years. We have always tried to maintain merchandise of the highest quality. We have always tried to sell to our customers at the right price. We have always tried to give our customers the BEST in service.

Our motto has always been "SATISFIED CUSTOMERS"

Today we find that certain "competitors" are slashing prices, (for no good reason) and that we must go along with them.

However we wish to assure our customers that we will continue our policy of "customers' satisfaction" even at these low prices.

And don't forget Hale's will be in business during the entire length of your guarantee period.

Washington, July 13 (AP) — Republicans charged today that government imposed a general price-wage freeze. Some provisions of the law had been employed earlier.

Representative Reed (R., N. Y.) said it was the administration which has been doing all the prospering that has brought us to severe inflation."

Taber, the G. O. P.'s fiscal spokesman in the House, said the President had been "pouring kerosene" on inflation fires while asking for controls at the same time. "He has double-crossed the people," Taber said. "He can't go on promoting inflation and hold the respect of any decent person. Until the President realizes he has responsibilities, there will be no controls job. That's what Congress thinks."

Jensen declared the President "is getting ready to blame Congress again when campaign time comes around."

Floods Paralyze Wide Kansas Area

Bulletin!

Kansas City, July 13—(AP)—Surging flood waters crashed over levees at this metropolitan confluence of the Kansas and Missouri rivers today and officials ordered immediate evacuation of the city's vital central industrial district.

Topeka, Kas., July 13—(AP)—Spreading flood waters inflicted paralyzing blows today on two major Kansas cities and dealt additional misery to the eastern half of the state.

Kansas City, Kas., and Topeka —the state's second and third largest cities—were the newest areas to feel the full force of the wild Kansas river.

Aircraft of all types were being used in an effort to overcome the paralyzing grip of flood waters. Scores of communities are inundated.

11 Dead in Week

At least 11 persons have died in Missouri and Kansas floods during the past week.

The Kansas river poured over a levee this morning into the heavily industrialized Armourdale district in Kansas city, Kas. The majority of the 15,000 residents had been evacuated but some were forced to flee at the last minute.

Fire added to the fury of the flood.

The fire department reported a lumberyard and a warehouse were burning out of control. The fire started from blazing gasoline floating on the waters. The gasoline came from a half-submerged service station.

The flood hampered fire department equipment that sought to reach the scene.

40 Million Damage

Property estimated at $40,000,000 is in the Armourdale district. The area contains soap making and meatpacking industries as well as huge freight yards, grain elevators and other plants.

Factory whistles sounded shortly after the water poured over the dike, warning the remaining residents to flee. All traffic into the area was halted, except for emergency vehicles.

Chief of Police Earl Swanner said most of the residents who

Hold Mother Under $35,000 In Death Case

Charge Conspiracy to Murder Man Who Was Found Dead in River; Husband in Prison

Hartford, July 13—(AP)—A Hartford mother was placed under $35,000 bond in police court today on a charge that she conspired to murder the man whose battered body was hauled out of the Connecticut river at Middletown last Saturday.

She was Mrs. Mary Czaplicki, 36, who was arrested late yesterday at 147 Fern street, where she runs a large and prosperous rooming house.

The victim in the strange case, now the subject of a sevenpronged investigation and involving labor kickbacks, was John Bowsavich, 55, of 90 Church street, New Britain, who worked for Mrs. Czaplicki's husband.

Marion W. Czaplicki, 39, the husband, was Bowzavich's foreman in the Union Manufacturing company factory, New Britain, which makes lathe chucks.

Since his arrest last Sunday in New Britain, Czaplicki has been held without bail in the Middlesex County jail, Haddam. He has been indicted on a coroner's warrant, without charge.

Prosecutor Nathan Hillman asked that bail be set at $50,000 when Mrs. Czaplicki was presented in Hartford police court this morning.

Her lawyer, Atty. Joseph W. Rose of Hartford, protested, saying that the only purpose of fixing bail was to keep Mrs. Czaplicki in jail.

Medical Examiner Herbert Hall of Middletown performed the autopsy on Bowsavich's body. Hall said that bail set at $50,000 was excessive.

Hall, a pathologist, who was the first witness to testify when the probe opened Wednesday, Dr. Chifelo conducted an autopsy on Miss Ayres' body.

The two Danbury physicians charged with criminal acts in Miss Ayres' death, Dr. Frank T. Canevese, her attending physician, and Dr. Donald F. Gibson, heir to her $100,000 estate, complete their

Rescue Crewman 30 Hours in Ocean

Honolulu, July 13—(AP)—A crewman in the Los Angeles-Honolulu yacht race was rescued dramatically from the tossing Pacific yesterday, 30 hours after he fell overboard from the sloop Li'Apache.

His rescuers said he had killed a seven-foot shark while he drifted in a life saving ring.

Ted Sierks, 40, of Avalon, Calif., was picked up exhausted but uninjured. The rescue was made by the U. S. destroyer-escort Douglas A. Munro after it was instructed to abandon the apparently hopeless search.

The Munro sighted Sierks on its final sweep of the area.

"I felt it was almost a miracle," Sierks was quoted by the skipper, Lt. Cmdr. John A. Lindbeck of Salem, Ore., in a radiophone interview.

"I felt almost certain there was very little chance I would be found. I did not expect the U. S. Navy to come to my rescue. When

Proposes U. S. Build 150 Group Air Force

Washington, July 13—(AP)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass) proposed today that the United States build a 150-group Air Force to assure itself the mightiest in the world. He estimated the cost at $74,000,000,000 over a three-year period.

Lodge told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the U. S. will have only a "second best" Air Force when it reaches the 143-group goal set by the administration.

"We risk national disaster unless we move faster and greatly raise our sights," Lodge said in a statement given to the group.

"We must no longer be content with muddling along in an atmosphere of business as usual."

An Air Force group" is a term for an easily translated into numbers of planes. The planes in a group vary according to the size of the planes.

A heavy bomber group, for instance, consists of 30 planes. A fighter group has 75 planes.

The Appropriations subcommittee is now considering what appropriations should be made for the military services.

Lodge told it the cost of a 150-

Ciero Race Riot Leaves 11 Injured

Cicero, Ill., July 13—(AP)—A racial housing dispute, simmering for three days, erupted into a full-scale riot last night as bayonet-swinging National Guardsmen and police battled an unruly, brick-throwing mob in Cicero streets.

The 450 guardsmen and police fight the hooting, jeering men and women—all white—for more than two hours before quelling the riot.

No Negroes were at the scene. None live in Cicero, a city of 70,000.

But it was the renting of an apartment by a Negro family that touched off the first disturbance Monday night. Last night's fighting, as a crowd of 4,000 milled the apartment building, climaxed three nights or disorders.

Police rounded up 50 persons after the crowd had dwindled during the early morning hours. They were taken to the Cicero police station for questioning, and were held without charges.

N. Y. Dog Has Luxury Life On Golden Bed, 75 Million

Washington, July 13—(AP)—Moscow told the Russians this week about a little dog Toby which it said "sleeps on a golden bed" in New York's fifth avenue "attended by a staff of 45 servants and six lawyers."

U. S. government monitors reported today this picture of the American way of life drawn for Russian radio listeners:

"The streets of New York are full of the children of the workers, dressed in tatters, with pale, thin faces. They stand for ages at the doors of luxurious hotels and restaurants, begging . . .

"They often appear on Fifth avenue in search of something to eat in the rubbish bins they look with envy at ope of the richest quarters, that of the millionaires. Here is a very beautiful, richly decorated house, built by the best architect of the country.

"This is the home of the little dog Toby, whose staff costs the American woman, left it $75,000.

"The dog sleeps on a golden bed; it is attended by a staff of 45 servants and six lawyers. The dog's apartment, a dining room, a drawing room and a bathroom, are done up according to the latest work in fashion.

"This picture gives one a good idea of the American way of life."

CIO Attacks Security Rule

Sees AFL Advantage In NLRB Opinion on Non - Communist Oath

Washington, July 13—(AP)—The CIO today attacked as "exceedingly unjust" a government agency's ruling that their union security clauses with thousands of workers are illegal.

Counsel E. Harris, CIO's general counsel, told reporters the labor group was considering asking Congress to legislate away the National Labor Relations board (NLRB) decision and investigate the board itself.

Besides banning many CIO union shops, the board's action yesterday cast a legal cloud over bargaining rights won by many CIO unions and appeared to point the way for AFL unions to challenge the CIO's status with many employers.

The board's decision was in a single case involving the Ford Motor Co's plant at Canton, O. But a board spokesman said the same set or circumstances apply to CIO contracts with perhaps as many as 4,000 other employers. Only 30 or fewer AFL contracts are in the same fix.

The gist of the unanimous decision is that union security—or union shop—contract provisions are illegal if they were ratified by employes in elections held during periods when the CIO or AFL officials were balking at signing non-Communist affidavits. The union shop requires workers to be union members, or be fired.

Congress in the Taft-Hartley law allowed employers and unions to negotiate the union shop only if employes signified that they wanted such an arrangement in an NLRB-conducted election. An-

Ike's Europe Job Has No Time Limit

Washington, July 13 (AP) — President Truman has added to the confusion about 1952 presidential prospects by saying there is no time limit on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's European defense job.

Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday he and the five-star general have no understanding about how long Eisenhower will remain as commander of the North Atlantic forces.

Some Republicans who want "Ike" to become their presidential candidate next year have been hoping Eisenhower could step out early in 1952 and turn the defense job over to somebody else.

They apparently were assuming he had promised the President to serve a year to get the program started and then would be free to Bridgeport, July 13 (AP)—The state today concluded the presentation of its witnesses before the Superior Court grand jury investigating the death last June 26 of Miss Elizabeth M. Chifelo, Yale pathologist, who was the first witness to testify when the probe opened Wednesday. Dr. Chifelo conducted an autopsy on Miss Ayres' body.

Miami, Fla., July 13—(AP)—The FBI today dropped the name of Ernest Tait 40-year-old desperado, from its list of "10 most wanted men." He is in Miami's sky scraper jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Two FBI agents arrested the tall, quiet gunman in a Miami garage yesterday while he waited to have his new convertible serviced.

Two loaded .45 automatics with which Tait blasted his way to freedom after an attempted holdup in New Castle, Ind., on April 1 were in the car, not on the rack where a garage employe had raised it on a grease rack.

An Associated Press story and picture of Tait which appeared in yesterday's Miami Herald led to his capture.

Tait gave up without a struggle to R. W. Wall, FBI agent in charge of the Miami office, and Webb Burke, his assistant.

Armistice Talks Still In Recess

Seoul, Korea, July 13—(AP)—The Allied command told the Reds today: Korean war cease-fire talks will be resumed only when United Nations delegates have unrestricted movement in an area free of armed guards.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway sent that virtual ultimatum to top Communist commanders after the Reds rejected an Allied demand that news correspondents be accepted as part of U. N. personnel in the conference area.

The Supreme Commander demanded that:

1. The Reds get their armed guards out of Kaesong—original site of armistice talks—or agree to meet somewhere else.

2. End "unreasonable and unnecessary restrictions" on his negotiators and let them move freely.

3. Accept anyone he names as part of the U.N. delegation.

Ridgway's message was broadcast just two hours and 20 minutes after the Reds rejected the third point, originally made yesterday by Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. negotiator.

Reds Reject Demands

The rejection came from North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red cease-fire delegate, in a reply to Joy.

Nam suggested the talks be delayed meet at 1 p. m. Friday (10 p. m., Thursday, e.s.t.), for further discussions.

The U.N. answer came at 1:15 p. m. in Ridgway's expanded demands.

Joy said Thursday that negotiations would be resumed as soon as the Communists agreed to pass the convoy.

U. S. 'Voice' Charges Reds with 'Bad Faith'

Washington, July 13 —(AP)—The United States radio today accused the Communists of "bad faith" in the Korean armistice negotiations and declared this forced suspension of the talks at Kaesong.

The Voice of America, operated by the State department, said the evidence of "bad faith" (1) the Reds refusal to permit Allied correspondents to go to Kaesong, (2) the presence of Communist armed guards in the armistice city and (3) above all, a build up of land and air power in Manchuria and Red China.

The broadcasts were prepared by "Voice" writers in line with the American government's policy of putting up a determined counter propaganda offensive over the Reds' handling of the Kaesong conference. Texts were issued today for immediate broadcast in all languages used by the government radio.

In addition to the broadcast charging "bad faith," another program asserted that the basic question at issue in suspension of truce talks goes far beyond the question of newspaper representation. The program added:

"The question at issue is whether or not the Communists are going to be allowed to compromise the United Nations delegation by controlling the membership of the official party."

The broadcast declared that "responsibility for a successful conclusion to the armistice talks rests squarely on the shoulders of the Communist commanders." It indicated an official belief here that Communists probably want peace in Korea badly enough to give up their propaganda exploitation of the Kaesong sessions and get down to serious negotiating.

"They have tried to squeeze a few propaganda plums out of the Kaesong talks," the broadcast said, "by planting armed guards around by publishing to the world their so-called 'conditions' for a peace, many of which are totally ruled out by their overtly political nature.

Auditors Rap State Welfare

Department Headed by R. J. Smith Criticized For General Laxity

Hartford, July 13—(AP)—Virtually all phases of the State Welfare department's $26,000,000 spending during the 1949-50 fiscal year were severely criticized today by the bipartisan state auditors.

The report, following an extensive examination of the agency's records, charged a general laxity, inefficiency, lack of proper records and infrequent and poorly conducted examination of cases.

The department is headed by Commissioner Robert J. Smith, Manchester Republican, who earlier this year was reappointed for a four-year term by Governor Lodge.

voked the bail totalling $175,000, on the ground trustees of the bail fund were "unworthy of trust." He had sentenced three of them to jail for contempt of court for refusing to reveal identities of contributors to the fund.

The 15 Communists are charged with conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the United States government and are awaiting trial.

Ryan failed them Wednesday with instructions to obtain bail from another source.

U. S. Appeals Court Judge Learned Hand today ordered the bail from the Civil Rights Congress reinstated.

Hand held the full, three-member Appeals Court previously had ruled bail from the Congress as acceptable.

The Congress is listed by the Department of Justice as subversive.

Ryan's decision today was made in the presence of the 15 defendants, who had been kept in jail because of legal technicalities since Judge Hand's ruling.

"Judge Hand has ruled," Ryan said today, "I have nothing but the most wholesome respect for Judge Hand and his court will obey his ruling. What he says is the law. It is not the law. Except I have a personal affection for Judge Hand."

In sending the Reds to jail Wednesday, Ryan had declared the Civil Rights Congress was "irresponsible" and no longer would be allowed to post bail in his court.

The decision came at a hearing when officials of the Congress and attorneys for the Reds were summoned into court to show cause why the bail should not be revoked.

Judge Hand's ruling yesterday was that these hearings had not been concluded by Judge Ryan and that Judge Ryan, therefore, should not have acted until he had finished the case.

Action against the Congress came after three of the group's bail fund trustees had been jailed by Judge Ryan for contempt." of court because they refused to tell who contributed to the bail fund.

The judge said the identities of those who posted $80,000 bail for the missing Reds might provide a clue to the fugitives' hiding places.

Yesterday, two of the trustees — modern writer Rushwill Hunnicutt and W. Alphaeus Hunton — were granted $10,000 bail each pending appeal of their six-month contempt sentences. Judge Hand set the bail after the two had spent three nights in jail. The bail was not posted and they remained in jail last night also.

The third trustee, millionaire Frederick Vanderbilt Field, is free in $10,000 bail pending appeal of his 90-day contempt sentence.

But Field, too, had a busy day yesterday. He spent two hours in closed session under questioning by a subcommittee on Internal Security of the U. S. Senate Judiciary committee.

Senator Smith (D., N. C.), however, said Field was not questioned about the Civil Rights Congress bail fund. It was informed that Field was quizzed about the American Institute of Pacific Relations, of which he once was an official.

Blast Kills Four In Powder Plant

Seneca, Ill., July 13 — (U. P.) Four men were killed last night when a ton of explosives went off at the Du Pont powder plant. All that remained of the small frame building where they worked, authorities said, was a hole in the ground.

The body of one man, who was outside the building at the time, was found 200 feet away. Coroner Davis of Grundy county said only parts of the other three men were found.

There were no other casualties reported.

Deaths Last Night

Toronto, Ont. Fred Wilson, 72, publicity director of the Canadian National Exhibition, former sports editor of the Toronto Globe and owner on the staffs of the Detroit Free Press and Windsor Star.

Bernardsville, N. J. Walter S. Edgar, 62, a pioneer in the lacquer industry whose early experiments with freeing the auto industry from the use of paint and varnish in car finishes.

Local Democratic Women at Party

Mrs. Katherine Bourn, second vice president of the Hartford County Federation of Democratic Women, and Mrs. Helen M. Fitzpatrick, president of the Manchester Federation attended luncheon as invited guests of the Executive Board of the State Federation of Democratic Women.

Plans were made for a dinner for the members of the state federation to be held in Hartford in October with Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas as the guest speaker. The meeting following the dinner will be a public one so all men and women who desire to do so may hear Mrs. Douglas' speech.

Mrs. Vincent P. McFadden of the local federation was given a vote of thanks for the publicity work she did when the Hartford County Federation met in town last month.

No more meetings of the State Executive Board will be held until the dinner meeting in October.

Court Cases

Maurice Danziger of 11 West street was fined $15 in Town Court this morning by Judge John S. G. Rottner for violation of rules of the road. The charge was reduced from reckless driving.

Walter Lowe of New Haven forfeited a $3 bond for overtime parking.

Raymond O. Peretti, 23, of Torrington, was found guilty of non-support. He was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, ordered to post a $300 bond, and ordered to pay his wife $18 weekly for support.

Edward G. Krohne, 36, of Brighton, Mass., was fined $5 for a parking violation and $25 for operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Leroy Bieu, 34, of 22 Devon Drive was fined $2 for keeping an unlicensed dog.

Henry J. Michalak, 31, of 42 Norwood street, was fined $21 for violation of rules of the road. Reduced from speeding.

Frank Rebert, 36, of 529 Tolland Turnpike, was fined $20 for intoxication and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Johnston McKee of 191 Oak street forfeited a $4 bond for double parking and not having signed his license.

Secret Probe On Lattimore

came to the Capitol in response to a subpoena.

As the hearing got started, there was talk among the Senators that they might check later into State department suspension of two top-ranking career diplomats pending hearings on security charges. The department announced its action last night.

Lattimore has served occasionally as a consultant to the State department. He was a central figure last year in the Senate inquiry into charges by Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.) that Communists and Red sympathizers had infiltrated the department.

Puffing on a pipe, Lattimore arrived at the hearing room accompanied by his attorney, Abe Fortas. A few minutes later Mrs. Lattimore joined them.

Pacific Affairs Editor

The Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR) was founded in the 1920's with the declared purpose of objective research and information regarding Pacific problems. Lattimore is an IPR trustee and once was editor of its magazine, "Pacific Affairs."

An advance of the session, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said questioning of Lattimore would be based on "fresh material" which did not figure in last year's inquiry.

Just before the hearing started, cameramen were permitted to enter the committee room briefly to take pictures. Lattimore put on more wire his wife and Fortas.

Ferguson, in a statement for the newsreels, referred to Lattimore as one of "the directing forces" of the IPR. He said the committee was interested in finding out if there were any "Communist influences" in the institute, adding that he did not mean to imply that there were.

It was Ferguson, too, who said the committee might look later into the State department's suspension—pending hearings on security charges—of two key officers linked with U. S. policy toward China.

Suspends Two

The department announced last night it had suspended:

John Paton Davies, Jr., 43, a member of Secretary of Acheson's top level policy planning staff and a veteran of diplomatic service in China.

Oliver Edmund Clubb, 50, director of the department's China Affairs Office.

In a statement, the department said suspension was mandatory under the law once it had been determined that "security charges should be preferred and formal hearings conducted." The department emphasized its action did not carry any implication of guilt pending outcome of the hearings.

Davies' hearing was set for July 23. Clubb's for July 31 before the department's loyalty security board.

Charges Withheld

The nature of the charges was not disclosed.

Commenting on the action, Davies said:

"I welcome the opportunity to answer these malicious and irresponsible charges. I am confident I can dispose of them once and for all. The contemptible accusations have added immeasurably to my burdens as a loyal government servant.

Davies gave no hint of the specific charges against him. Department officials said he is the son-in-law of Henry F. Grady, U. S. ambassador to Iran.

Clubb told a reporter it would be "out of order for me to comment as things stand."

Senator McCarthy said Davies' name was one of those he handed to the Senate committee which investigated his charges a year ago. McCarthy added that he did not accuse Davies publicly at that time, and he said he did not recall the actual charge he made against the career officer.

McCarthy said he also had a file on Clubb, but "didn't feel I had enough on him at the time" to request an investigation.

Park Acreage Survey Made

Directors to Talk Over Possible Need to Add To Recreation Areas

Manchester has a total of 265 acres of park and recreation property, according to a survey made by Superintendent of Parks Horace Murphey. The survey will be considered Tuesday night by the Board of Directors in a discussion of whether the town has enough such property set aside for future residential growth.

The matter was raised by Director Melvin Hathaway at the board's last meeting. He cautioned against the town's being caught short of park areas that could be used for picnic grounds and other recreation purposes, such as tennis courts.

General Manager George H. Waddell told the directors at the time that Superintendent Murphy was in the midst of the survey, which has since been completed. He added that the tentative 1951-52 budget provides for more fireplaces and benches at Center Springs park.

Included in the 265-acre figure are several small parks and squares, such as Munro Park, and the playground areas at the various schools.

The largest park area is that off Charter Oak street, consisting of 88 acres. Next largest are Center Springs, with 58, and Memorial Field, 20 acres. Mt. Nebo has 13 acres and Robertson field 10.

Neighborhood playgrounds at local schools total 34 acres, while Salter's has five and Globe Hollow two. The two pool areas are owned in part by Lydall and Foulds and Cheney Brothers.

Other items to be discussed include the placing of town insurance on a bid basis, and the Lenox street culvert. The latter item has been held up pending a report from Town Counsel John O. LaBelle.

Town Clerk's Office Closing

New Ordinance on Summer Hours Goes Into Effect This Saturday

The office of Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington will conform with the other departments in the Municipal building and will be closed tomorrow and every Saturday through August. The building's offices, including the town clerk's, will be open until 7 p.m. on Thursdays during this period.

The Board of Directors after a public hearing last week adopted an ordinance permitting the Saturday morning closing by the town clerk. The hours were set by a town by-law on March 19, 1909, and the new ordinance was necessary to change the hours.

The idea of Saturday morning closing during the summer was suggested in a petition presented the directors by Municipal building employes.

The request was granted on the condition that the municipal staff work the two extra hours on Thursdays.

The directors have no jurisdiction over the town clerk's office hours, so the special ordinance was necessary. Saturday closing is will be in effect each year during June, July and August.

Hold Mother Under $35,000 In Death Case

ing bail was to keep an accused available for any prosecution that might ensue.

"The evidence on which this accused is held is very flimsy," Kess said. He protested that investigators had prevented him from seeing Mrs. Czaplicki for six hours last night after her arrest.

The investigators themselves kept mum about the evidence, simply saying that they were still checking a wide variety of angles that had developed.

Occupied with the investigation were local police of Hartford, Middletown and New Britain, State Police, County Detective John F. Reardon of Hartford county, County Detective George M. Dunn of Middlesex county and the State Labor department.

Their probing into the motive for the crime and its details realized in part upon charges that Czaplicki had been padding Rose Bowzavich's pay at the factory and then taking kickbacks from him.

The only evidence thus far disclosed by close-mouthed investigators was the fact that Mrs. Czaplicki drove her husband's new car to a New Britain gas station at dawn Saturday and had it cleaned inside and out.

Police seized the car and took Hartford, where experts from the it to State police headquarters at State laboratory and elsewhere have been going over it in a search for blood stains, finger prints, or other telltale bits of evidence.

Additional facts about the case may come to light Tuesday when Coroner Morris H. Wrisbel of Middlesex County opens an inquest at Middletown into Bowzavich's death.

A conference of investigators, scheduled for 2 p. m. yesterday in the Hartford County building, was suddenly called off. Several detectives left. Shortly afterwards they drove up to State Police headquarters, across the street, with Mrs. Czaplicki in custody.

What prompted Mrs. Czaplicki's sudden arrest at that time remained an official mystery today.

Mrs. Czaplicki's three children remained behind in the care of relatives at the Fern street rooming house. She has a teen-age daughter and two young sons.

As police sought to narrow down the area in which the Bowzavich body was thrown into the Connecticut river, Henry Hale, veteran riverman and operator of the Rocky Hill Ferry sai., in his opinion the body entered the river not more than a mile above, or a mile below Middletown where it was found.

The tide, Hale explained, causes floating objects at this time of year to wash back and forth in the section from Rocky Hill to lower Middletown, and if the body was not in the water more than 12 hours, it might have remained in a fairly stationary position.

"There are a lot of likely spots where a body could be dumped in upriver from Middletown," Hale said, "but south of the city the approach to the river isn't so easy."

Hale noted that route 160 leads from Rocky Hill to New Britain, where Bowzavich lived, "and right around here would have been a good place for anybody to dispose of a victim."

Urges U. S. Build 150 Unit Air Arm

group Air Force was estimated at an additional $10,000,000,000 for the current fiscal year—the 12 months which began July 1.

He said in the year starting July 1, 1952, it would cost $27,000,000,000 and the following year $37,000,000,000.

"In sober truth," Lodge said, "the decision whether to appropriate these sums or not and thereby decide whether we will or will not create air superiority will have fateful consequences for us and can spell life or death for the people of western Europe and for the defense of America in Europe."

Lodge argued that the U. S. must have a 50-group tactical Air Force to support the six American divisions being sent to Europe to serve with the North Atlantic defense force.

He said the U. S. may be called upon to furnish 10,000 planes more for a western European Air Force.

Lodge estimated Russia has 9,000 tactical planes it could use in any assault against western Europe and said that if the Allies are to win air superiority, they should have a two to one margin.

Lodge said that while the U. S. has increased its armaments since the Korean war began "I have the distinct impression that ... the Soviet union has increased their armament even more."

"The possibilities of ending the hostilities in Korea furnish no justification whatever for not increasing our armed strength and it is certainly no excuse for slackening or weakening our effort he said.

Lodge added that many "well qualified experts" believe the reason the Soviets finally proposed a Korean cease-fire "was their hope and belief that this would lull the American people into a sense of false security and result in drastically slowing up our rearmament program."

Picture in Paper Bags Top Criminal

Garageman Jesse Marra recognized Tait when the man drove up in his new 1951 Oldsmobile convertible and asked to have it serviced.

"He was very quiet and pleasant and didn't act at all nervous," Marra said . . . "I had his car put on the grease rack and had it hoisted in the air. Then I told our service manager to call the FBI and that I'll try to hold him here . . .

"I told the boys not to let the car down but to act like they were working on it, but if the man came over and told them to put it down, to do it . . . I didn't want anybody to get shot."

The FBI had already begun closing in on Tait. They had received two other telephone calls placing him in the Miami area.

Tait had $2,148 in cash in his pockets when he was arrested, Wall said.

The FBI said Tait has a criminal record dating back 20 years and was shot and badly wounded in 1953 during an attempt to burglarize an Indianapolis bank.

He was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Roger Edward Davis on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. If he waives extradition, he will be returned to Indiana.

edge the government has sought to guarantee for anyone the free enjoyment of CSonstitutional rights.

Wednesday a group of university students and market women invaded the national orphanage and beat the directors and other members of the staff whom they accused of being Communists. Yesterday three persons were killed when troops in trucks fired on demonstrators parading through the capital. Thirty persons were wounded.

Last night's shooting began when soldiers in trucks tried to scatter the anti-Red marchers after an automobile had been overturned and burned in Guatemala's central park.

The hospital said the injured included a Pan-American Airways steward, I. Herman of Miami, who suffered an arm wound.

Casualty figures were obtained from Social Security hospital. There was no immediate government announcement of the dead and wounded.

Violence first flared Wednesday afternoon at the National Orphanage. University students and market women beat up the director and four other members of the orphanage staff whom they accused of being Communists. Yesterday three persons were killed when troops in trucks fired on demonstrators parading through the capital. Thirty persons were wounded.

Last night's shooting began when soldiers in trucks tried to scatter the anti-Red marchers after an automobile had been overturned and burned in Guatemala's central park.

The hospital said the injured included a Pan-American Airways steward, I. Herman of Miami, who suffered an arm wound.

Casualty figures were obtained from Social Security hospital. There was no immediate government announcement of the dead and wounded.

Violence first flared Wednesday afternoon at the National Orphanage. University students and market women beat up the director and four other members of the orphanage staff whom they accused of being Communists. Recently the director had ousted Catholic nuns whose order founded the orphange.

In clashes with police which followed the incident, at least seven anti-Communist demonstrators were injured and several others arrested.

Wednesday night the demonstrators broke into the offices of the Communist newspaper Octubre, smashing the furnishings.

The demonstrations came on the heels of a recent Communist-directed bus strike which stranded some 40,000 Guatemalan commuters and caused wide resentment.

There also have been strike threats by road workers, post office employes and the government-owned telegraph company.

Last April, the Foreign Ministry indignantly denied a claim by former U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, Jr., that Communists have infiltrated the Guatemalan government to "a serious extent."

Patterson said the Reds had worked their way into the government to such a degree that they exert an influence entirely out of proportion to their numbers."

Realtors Plan Annual Outing

James J. Rohan, president of the Manchester Board of Realtors, announced the annual outing of the members of the group and their guests will be held on Wednesday July 18, at Edward J. Holl's estate at Bolton Lake. Arrangements are in charge of William E. Goodchild, Sr., chairman, assisted by Mrs. Goodchild, Edward J. Holl, Walter Olson and Arthur A. Krafts.

Plans, as stated by Mr. Goodchild, include a sports program to begin at three o'clock, to be followed by an Edward J. Holl Hour at five o'clock and a dinner at six, with Garden Grove catering. This will be followed by a guest speaker.

In case of rain the outing will be held the following Saturday at the same time and place.

The Manchester Board of Realtors was organized five years ago. It now has a membership of 18 active, six junior and four associate members.

Cicero Race Riot Leaves 11 Injured

An undetermined number of civilians were treated for injuries in the melee between the mob and steel-helmeted soldiers and police in one of the worst riots in the Chicago area in several years.

Police cars were overturned. Lighted flares were tossed into the windows and onto the roof of a 20-apartment building — focal point of the disturbance. Firemen dodged a barrage of rocks and stones to douse the fires.

Nine persons were arrested and taken to the Cicero police station for questioning.

Order Established

Order was established at the scene—a residential district in this community of 70,000—shortly before 1 a. m. (e.s.t.), more than two hours after the fighting broke out.

About 250 guardsmen were assigned to remain on duty at the scene alla night.

The rioting stemmed from a racial housing dispute.

Last night's fighting climaxed three nights of violent disorders at the apartment building at 6139 West 19th street.

The first disturbance came after Harvey E. Clark, Jr., 29, a Negro bus driver for the Chicago Transit authority, and his family moved furniture into the apartment he rented. The furniture was dumped out and burned by a mob Wednesday night.

Evacuate Tenants

All tenants in the building have moved out temporarily because of the disturbances since Monday night.

Clark on Wednesday told Babb he had abandoned plans to move into the apartment but his attorney said yesterday Clark is planning to move in later.

Clark has filed a $200,000 suit charging he was manhandled by Cicero policemen when he tried to move into the building on June 26 to protect Clark and his property.

Quebec Shrines Beckon Pilgrims of the World

Quebec, P.Q. ... (1951) ... Quebec's famous shrines have attained such world-wide eminence as to be amongst the devout that each year, millions of pilgrims come to La Province de Quebec from other United States and many other countries to make their devotions before the renowned altars at St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal, the Basilica at Ste. Anne de Beaupre just east of Quebec, at Our Lady of the Holy Rosary at Cap de la Madeleine near Trois Rivieres, or at the many others scattered through La Province.

The strong faith of the pioneer settlers of New France carried them through the adversity to make Quebec the peaceful and prosperous province it is today. That they have not wavered in their traditional faith in God is shown by the crosses of today. Throughout the farmlands, amongst the stunning mountain scenery, in the winding villages, the Quebec folk pause to pray at humble roadside shrines, some just crude wooden crosses, others elaborate structures of field stone shielding a statue of the Virgin Mary from the elements. In the cities and towns, the people of Quebec and their visitors in ever increasing numbers pay homage before more famous shrines perpetuated through the centuries.

Many miraculous cures have been attributed to the shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, founded in 1658, and to the shrine of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary at Cap de la Madeleine, founded in 1650. St. Joseph's Oratory, founded in Montreal in 1904, attracts two million pilgrims a year. Lesser known, but with their own devotees, are the shrines of Notre Dame de Lourdes at Riguad, 30 miles west of Montreal, and the shrine of the Sacred Heart at Bergeville on the outskirts of Quebec's ancient capital.

TOO LATE FOR WORDS!

Painfully, slowly, a message is tapped on a dungeon wall. It's a familiar message - - one heard a thousand times over in a dozen countries of Europe and Asia.

LISTEN . . . it's a message of lost hope, of lost rights and freedoms!

LISTEN . . . this message is a warning for those of us who still are free!

We in America are willingly giving up some of our rights and freedoms - - temporarily - - as the price of rearming. We're giving government vast powers over our plans, our businesses, our very lives.

The danger is that these powers may become permanent. There are people who say they should become permanent - - even though that would mean a socialistic U. S. A.

Unless all of us remember the difference between temporary emergency powers and permanent socialism, it may some day be "too late" for Americans, too!

U. S., Australia, N. Z. Sign 'Common Danger' Treaty

Washington, July 13 —(AP)— The United States, Australia and New Zealand have agreed to "meet the common danger" together if Pacific area is an armed attack in the Pacific on any one of the three.

The new security treaty, extending the series of such postwar compacts this country has with the North Atlantic nations and the American Republics, was initialled yesterday.

It is part of a general settlement of the Pacific phase of World War II which is now being put into final form and is expected to be signed at San Francisco early in September at the same time has the Japanese Peace treaty.

Senate approval is necessary as it is also for the Japanese peace treaty.

Proclaim Treaty

In the Pacific pact, the three nations proclaim "publicly and formally, their sense of unity, so that no potential aggressor could be under the illusion that any one of them stand alone in the Pacific Area."

In the treaty itself and in statements by their envoys, the governments forecast that the compact would be broadened ultimately into a more comprehensive system of regional security which would include other Pacific nations. Such regional defense arrangements are authorized in the U. N. Charter.

The U. S. already is bound to the defense of the Philippines and has forces and bases there. A separate treaty being negotiated with Japan would allow the U. S. to keep forces and bases in Japan after the peace treaty comes into force.

Ambassador John Foster Dulles initiated the three-way treaty for the U. S. in a ceremony at the State department. Australia was represented by Ambassador Percy Spender and New Zealand by its envoy, Sir Carl Berendsen.

Key Clause

The key clause of the new treaty is article four which states:

"Each party recognizes than an armed attack in the Pacific area on any one of the parties would be dangerous to its own peace and safety and declares that it would act to meet the common danger in accordance with its Constitutional processes."

In the U. S. this recognizes Congress alone can declare war. The treaty provides for consultation in the event of any threat and calls for one or more conferences including foreign ministers or their deputies to consider matters concerning carrying out of the agreement. Any armed attack and defense measures would be reported immediately to the U. N. Security Council.

The pledge of joint action varying from that in the North Atlantic treaty. This says that the U. S., Canada and 10 other Atlantic nations "agree that an armed attack against any one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all" and calls for each country to take "such action as it deems necessary."

Australia and New Zealand took the lead in the treaty. Both were reluctant to go along with a peace treaty permitting Japan to re-arm without a pledge of support from the U. S. in the event of aggression by revived Japan, from Communist countries in Asia or from any quarter.

Miss Fallow Given Honors

Feted by Employees at Travelers on 25th Anniversary With Firm

Miss Faith E. Fallow of 23 Gerard street was feted by her associates in the Travelers Insurance Company's home office in Hartford yesterday. The occasion was the twenty-fifth anniversary of Miss Fallow's employment by the company. She has been continuously with the Travelers since graduating from Manchester High school with the class of 1926, and is at present supervisor in the fire accounting department.

Miss Faith Fallow

She was honor guest at a dinner at noon at the Hound Table restaurant on Asylum street, at which 46 were present, and all through the day officers and clerks of the Travelers called to congratulate her and to partake of the good things at a buffet table set up in the accounting department for the celebration. Several baskets of roses, gladioli and other flowers added to the gayety. She was presented with an orchid corsage to wear during the day, and had a happy time, one long to be remembered.

The company's gift to Miss Fallow was a chest of silver flatware. From her fellow-workers she received a choice assortment of articles in silver, beautiful lingerie, cosmetics, stationery, together with a shower of cards of congratulation. At the close of the day Miss Fallow signed the guest book.

Miss Fallow, the daughter of Mrs. Ritta E. and the late James P. Fallow, is well known for her community work with the Community Players, since its organization by Mrs. Joseph Handley upwards of 20 years ago. She has not only appeared in starring roles on many of its productions, but has also directed plays at different times.

The term "barbarian" is Egyptian in origin and is a term of contempt, meaning "bearded one."

Soroptimists Plan Social Week End

Soroptimists Clubs of the New England region have made testative plans for a social week end at the Publick House in Sturbridge, Mass., Saturday and Sunday, August 25-26. There are six clubs in the area, and on several previous occasions they have enjoyed an August evening together at this popular inn, which is centrally located for all the clubs, and has a great distance from the furthest north and south points.

This is the first time they have attempted a midsummer week end but considerable interest is evinced in the plan already. Reservations will include Saturday night dinner, over-night lodging, Sunday breakfast and the Sunday noon meal. No meetings and no forums are scheduled, just a happy get-together of the service club women.

It is important that the management know by July 20 how many to prepare for. Local Soroptimist members are urged to contact Mary Taylor, 5121; or evenings, 8163, for further particulars.

"Face" Is The Issue

Arthur Krock, in this morning's New York Times, makes essentially the same points on the issue of American correspondents in Kaesong that we made in this space yesterday. He points out that even if it were established that there were Communist newspapermen in Kaesong, they are there as officials and not as our kind of press. There is, therefore, no true question of reciprocity or equality involved; we have something the Communists haven't and are trying to introduce it into Kaesong. There is, moreover, Mr. Krock feels, no great issue of freedom of the press involved; the talks are in a purely military stage and any information the American press needs can be given it by American officers. Finally, Mr. Krock cites a condition already becoming evident, which is that the United States, in making an issue of the press at Kaesong, does not enjoy the sympathy of other United Nations members, who would not, in a showdown, or if they had a choice, be willing to let the truce talks flounder on the issue of whether or not a few American newspapermen should get into Kaesong for a better study of the expression on Communist faces.

General Ridgway, with his subsequent demand that the Communists demilitarize the Kaesong area before talks are resumed, is himself attempting to get away from the narrow issue of correspondents and on to some broader and more significant ground.

But, even here the question is not really one of specific arrangements, but one of "face." It seems obvious that, on this question, there has been a change of American opinion since the arrangements for the talks were first made. Then we accepted, tolerantly, and as one of our own great contributions to the cause of peace, the prospect that the Communists were going to attempt to save "face" for themselves while they were going through the actual policy which meant their real confession of defeat. We knew they were going to pretend to have won the war, and we knew that their designation of Kaesong, an area south of the 38th parallel still held by them, was part of their strategy of pretense. We accepted this because in this phase, we ourselves realized that there would be no peace unless each side was permitted to act undefeated.

What has happened since is that we don't like the actual experience we once accepted in principle. We conceded the Communists certain conditions we knew would be valuable to them in the department of "face," but we don't like the way in which they have exploited them. We knew they were going to claim victory, but the fact that they have been actually doing it has stirred us up. And now, in effect, General Ridgway is demanding that the Communists remove some of the props from their stage setting of Communist victory.

Now there is, of course, a serious question as to whether, our own "face" being considered, we could return to the previous mood even if we decided to. Yet it is to be hoped that we somehow manage to avoid responsibility for wrecking the talks because we have changed our own mind, finding the reality of Communist propaganda even less pleasant than we knew it was going to be when we deliberately, as our own contribution toward peace, made the concessions of detail which made it possible.

We have to ask what we hope to gain. Are we worried for fear the American public, and the United Nations public, will believe Communist propaganda and interpret the situation in Korea as a United Nations defeat? If there is one thing of which General Ridgway and the American correspondents in Korea could be very sure it is that no one outside the Communist world is falling for the Communist line.

Do we hope, by alteration of conditions and removal of some of the Communist propaganda props, to convince the Communist world that it has been defeated? Do we hope to change the nature and direction and effectiveness of Communist propaganda? Actually, of course, we entertain no such futile hope.

We have begun to worry too much about propaganda. We should have more confidence in the truth. And if peace is made at the 38th parallel, the truth will be apparent even to the Communist world. It will be that the Communists were once close to the conquest of all South Korea, and are now north of the 38th parallel.

The Tight Grip Brittle Too

One of the fearful assumptions of the free world has been that the extension and consolidation of the Communist world means an automatic increase in its power. Thus, there will be some who will greet the rumored news of new and important purges in Bulgaria and Rumania by which Moscow tightens and clamps down its own control of the policies of these two countries with the view that this represents an improvement in the position of the Communist world as against the free world.

But the only thing we can be sure it means is bad news for those Rumanian and Bulgarian Communists who somehow failed to keep themselves in the good graces of their Russian bosses. Whether their sin was sheer inefficiency, or a tendency, the greatest of Communist crimes "deviation," they get the gate if not the axe.

As far as we are concerned, it may mean something else that is not bad news but good. In such instances, Moscow is forced to show its own hand more clearly to the populations it is trying to dominate outside its own borders. In such instances, Moscow is obviously betraying dissatisfaction with conditions inside its satellites. In such instances Moscow is tightening its grip, and thereby admitting that it needs to do so in order to maintain that grip.

That this kind of superficial strength amounts to a confession of weakness, that the tighter the grip is made, superficially, the more brittle and less dependable it becomes that the satellite which has to be held in a band of iron is a liability and not an asset, these are legitimate interpretations which spell out the continued growth and expansion and success of Russian imperialism, but its eventual decline and retrenchment.

A Change In Iran

What is happening in Iran is hopeful. It is that the British have, apparently under American urging, abandoned their own hard and fast attitude in which they were trying to limit the Iranians into a capitulation by their own threat to withdraw completely from operation of the oil industry there.

Production is being curtailed, but is continuing. And British experts, who have been running the industry, are remaining. Previously, the British attitude was that if Iran did not concede quickly to the British point of view, the Britons would wash their hands completely of the Iranian oil industry.

What the change in British tactic does is keep alive the possibility of some future agreement, under which the British will continue to operate the oil industry under financial conditions satisfactory to both sides. A complete British pull-out would have destroyed that possibility.

By its change in policy, Britain seems to be edging somewhat closer to the admission which must be made, tacitly at least, before there can be any settlement of the problem. It is that it is not Britain as a sovereign nation which is involved in the dispute, but an oil company, which, it so happens, is owned by the British government, but which carries none of the attributes of the British government with it.

There has been a lot of muddy thinking on this phase of the Iranian oil situation, some of it expressing itself in editorial diatribes against Iran for refusing to accept the jurisdiction of the World Court, or United Nations jurisdiction. But it would be a thing almost exactly similar for the United States government to admit world court or United Nations jurisdiction in its relationship with United States Steel or Standard Oil. Iran's position—which is that it is dealing with an oil company, not with a nation—is not likely to change. We and the British are quite helpful partners. They frequently see the mote in our eye, and we sometimes detect the beam in theirs.

Auditors Rap State Welfare

pients of care in state institutions and "no positive plan for follow up." Total amount uncollected to June 30, 1950, was $1,040,429. Backlog of "unreviewed and unpaid" medical bills for welfare cases which has run as high as 90,000 on some occasions.

Failure to make sufficient written investigations and reinvestigations of welfare recipients.

Granting aid in some cases to those who have sufficient of their own.

A payment schedule to beneficiaries which, in some cases, would make it more advantageous to go on relief than to work for a living.

Lack sufficient written instruction of policies for use by departmental personnel.

Legislation by the 1949 Assembly which would enable a person to transfer his property to others for a fixed cost before going on relief. This, the auditors said, "provides a means for unscrupulous persons with property to obtain indigency from the state."

Failure of top administrative checking and approval of case reports made by investigators. Keeping leaky determination of amount of aid up to investigators alone.

Poor overall control over amount of mortgages, notes and other resources of recipients of aid.

"And now they are endeavoring to gain an extra propaganda dividend by telling the U. N. delegation who can come to Kaesong and who can't. Admiral Joy (chief U. N. negotiator) has taken the wise and firm decision to bring them back to the realities of the situation. The talks continue.

"If the Communists seriously desire a cease fire, and from their losses in Korea, this appears probable, they will prove their efforts to turn the discussions into a propaganda form and get down to business. One way of getting down to business is to accept the U. N. delegation's warning that it will not tolerate any further effort to control the membership of its official party."

other part of the law requires union officers to sign non-Communist affidavits before the NLRB may hold either a union shop election or an election to get bargaining rights.

For a long time the NLRB required affidavits only from officers of unions coming to it for help. But the Supreme Court, in a recent ruling, held that the law meant that officers of the parent AFL and CIO must sign too, or the AFL or CIO union could do business with the NLRB.

Ike's Europe Job Has No Time Limit

resume his civilian role as president of Columbia university—or some other job.

The prospect that Eisenhower might still be in uniform next June when their nominating convention gets underway is not viewed happily by this group.

Mr. Truman told reporters he had had no recent discussion with the general about politics, adding he could only indulge in speculation as to whether Eisenhower is a Republican or a Democrat. Some Democrats have suggested the general as a candidate on their ticket if Mr. Truman doesn't run.

When a reporter said Mr. Truman had declared in 1948 that Eisenhower had assured him he never would run for President, he insisted that the newsman eliminate the word "never."

The President said Eisenhower's statement applied to 1948 and he took the general at his word so far as that year was concerned. But that was as far as Eisenhower went, he said.

Ayres Jury Verdict Due

testimony yesterday. Both were asked to remain in the courthouse as long as the jury is in session for possible recall to the stand.

Dr. Gibson, whose testimony started Wednesday, answered questions for an hour yesterday. Dr. Genovese was heard for an hour and 15 minutes.

Both physicians caused or precipitated Miss Ayres' death last July 26, according to a finding released last week by former Coroner Theodore E. Steiber.

Steiber charged that Dr. Gibson's motives were to get control of Miss Ayres' property and to be "unfettered" in his plans to marry another woman. Dr. Genovese was called in by Dr. Gibson as Miss Ayres' attending physician in her last illness, and signed her death certificate.

Pioneer Layoff Is Temporary

Coordinating Changes In Government Specifications Is Reason

Because of rapidly changing technical requirements in government specifications the Pioneer Parachute Company has been engaged in coordinating these changes with manufacturing processes. This has necessitated a partial lay-off of personnel for a short period. However, it is expected that full production will be resumed before the end of next week.

The Pioneer Company has a very substantial backlog of contracts and there is no indication whatever of any curtailment in government orders. All parachute companies throughout the United States have been similarly affected by these changes in government specifications.

Armistice Talks Still In Recess

until both sides have agreed.

This reply was delivered to a U.N. liaison officer at 10:55 a. m. but the Allied command did not announce it until 12 hours later after Nam's message had been broadcast by both the Red Peiping and Pyongyang radios. The delay was not explained.

No Settlement

General Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo said:

This reply offered no settlement of the issues contained in General Ridgway's message to Generals Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-Huai, which was then in preparation and later broadcast at 1315 hours (1:15 p.m.) today.

"A reply to General Ridgway's message has been received."

Kim is the North Korean Premier. Peng is the commander of Chinese troops in Korea.

Before going directly to them, General Ridgway took the issues out of the hands of the cease-fire delegates.

The U. N. commander blamed "unreasonable and unnecessary restrictions" imposed by the Reds upon the U. N. representatives for the interruption of negotiations.

Hopeful Note

He insisted negotiations could be resumed only in an area "completely free of armed personnel of either side" and in an atmosphere of "complete reciprocity of treatment."

Amid the exchange of demands, a hopeful note was sounded by Lt. Gen. Sir Horace Robertson, white-haired Australian who commands British commonwealth forces in Korea. He said:

"The United Nations has carried out the war with great success, and I feel sure they will arrange a peaceful settlement with equal success."

Ridgway's message was broadcast in English Chinese and Korean from Korea and again from offshore and ship stations. And an air courier delivered it at the Red road block between the Allied peace camp at Munsan and Kaesong. It was at the road block that Communist guards halted a U.N. convoy Thursday containing 20 newsmen.

Ridgway made three proposals to implement his demands if they are met, he said, the conference can be "resumed without delay and with some expectation of progress."

Ridgway proposed:

1. A circular area radiating five miles from Kaesong be declared neutral. (There is no mutually agreed neutral area now.)

2. The conference area and the roads the delegations use "be completely free of armed personnel." (Armed Red troops now guard Kaesong and nine miles of road leading to it from the U. N. peace camp.

3. Delegations be limited to a maximum of 150, each commander to send whomever he wants, but those in the conference chamber to be mutually agreed upon.

GOP Raps Truman Wider Curbs Bid

And Rep. Brown (R., Ohio) asserted Mr. Truman's "recent activities and statements indicate he will be a candidate in 1952. That suits me."

OPS To Make Stand

Democratic Rep. Harold Velde (R., Ill.) said he would introduce a resolution to impeach Mr. Truman if he does not plan any further action.

Any comment on what Congress is doing, he added, would be made when the finished legislation reaches him.

In the meantime, however, Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials appeared determined to make a last-ditch fight for the price control powers Mr. Truman has requested.

Price chief Michael V. DiSalle said that if Congress eliminates the first rollback on cattle prices, consumers will have to pay ten per cent more for beef than they now are paying. He made this statement in a letter to Rep. Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee.

Suburban Realty Options Property

The Suburban Realty company has taken an option on property at the southwest corner of Middle turnpike, west, and Board street. The property is currently owned by Matthew M. Moriarty.

Although no definite plans have yet been made for the area, which is in an industrial zone, it is understood that several prospective buyers are interested.

Churches Treat Hartford Children

Pupils of the combined Vacation Bible school of the Center and South Methodist churches, gave a party this forenoon at the last named church for the boys and girls from Charter Oak terrace. The children came by Silver Lane bus. Many of them had never before been inside a church. There was a brief worship service in the sanctuary, after which they played outdoor games on the church grounds. They were treated to ice cream and cookies, presented with gifts and had a merry time.

Kindergarten and primary children have been meeting for the sessions at Center church and the Juniors at the South Methodist. There is still another week of the school.

Tuesday the boys and girls at the Center church had a birthday party with a big cake in observance of the 50th anniversary of the vacation school movement. The children brought pennies for each year of their age, and the money was expended for presents for the youngsters from Charter Oak terrace.

Floods Paralyze Wide Kansas Area

waited until the last minute fled its automobiles jacked down with bedding and other prized possessions.

Property estimated at $40,000,000 was in the path of the surging waters.

3,500 Flee Water

Earlier the river smashed a dike protecting another Kansas City area, flooding the 4,0000-acre Argentine district. Water 12 feet deep swirled around some homes and business establishments. Some 3,500 persons in the district were evacuated.

The population of Kansas City, Kas., is 130,000.

In Topeka, the state capital, refugees poured into the municipal auditorium. The Masonic hall, hotels and private homes. Almost 20,000 persons in the city of 80,000 have been forced to leave their homes.

Two bridges linking the north and south sections of the city have been swept away by the Kansas river.

Wichita, the state's largest city was preparing for flood waters. The Little Arkansas river was expected to sweep into the city tonight.

The smaller towns were taking a beating, too.

Describes Scene

Frank Tiffany, Associated Press reporter who flew over east central Kansas, gave this description:

"Small communities are completely flooded—just buildings and trees and stranded autos sticking above the flat brown expanse of water.

"Larger towns are half to two-thirds under water—residential and business blocks alike—with people standing helplessly by parked cars and trucks where each street fades into the flood.

"Mile after mile of rail lines and highways are water-covered, sections washed out, bridges broken or gone. Flying low over the Des-Sept Roads of Rio Grande Do Norte and four members of his administration.

U. S. to Have 82 Video Channels

Washington, July 13 (AP)—The nation will have 82 channels for television broadcasting.

The Communications commission announced yesterday it has decided definitely to reserve 70 channels in the ultra high frequencies. There are now in use 12 channels in the very high frequencies. These "ultras" are described in technical terms denoting position of the frequencies in the radio spectrum.

The commission did not say when the new channels will be opened up for use.

Hunt Bodies of 32 In Rio Air Crash

Rio De Janeiro, July 13—(AP)—Searchers waded into the South Atlantic surf today seeking the bodies of 32 persons killed when a Rio-bound airliner crashed just offshore.

The plane, en route from Natal to Rio, went down yesterday off Aracaju—about 900 miles northeast of here—just after takeoff from the airport near the mouth of the Sal river.

Cause of the crash has not been determined.

Among the victims were Gov. Dix-Sept Rosado of Rio Grande Do Norte and four members of his administration.

Conference Held

The personnel managers of many Connecticut industrial concerns attended a conference on Thursday afternoon in the Superior Court room, Rockville at which time the State Employment Service officials gave a report on the tests of the recent "labor pool" in Rockville. The state officials reported that those who took the tests in Rockville were given a high rating as the result of their tests.

Thomas I. Shea, director of the Employment Service stated that about 300 are now unemployed here and that the 650 still employed in the Hockanum Mills will be released during the next two months. Some 350 of those formerly employed at the Hockanum Mills have already secured employment elsewhere. Mayor Frederick Berger, County Sheriff Paul Sweeney, coordinator of the Citizen's committee and Neal Sloane of Thompsonville, interviewer with the employment service also spoke. It was brought up that the tests show that Rockville textile workers are qualified for various positions in other industries. Mr. Sweeney told the group that if any of the out of town companies needed more space for their manufacturing, space is available in Rockville.

Outing Saturday

A large attendance is expected at the family outing which the Tolland County Women's Republican club will sponsor on Saturday at Valley Falls farm, Bolton road, the home of Col. and Mrs. Charles B. The committee in charge includes Mr. and Mrs. Frank Niederwerfer, Miss Grace Risley, Mrs. Gordon Kauffman, Miss Faith Lyman, John Booth, Mrs. Harriet Madden and Richard Niederwerfer.

Rules Bride Lost Life in Accident

Norwalk, July 13 —(AP)— The case of the bride on her belated honeymoon, whose scantily clad body washed ashore on Sheffield Island here, was listed in police records today as one of accidental death.

Mrs. Ben Gelber, 33, of New York city, went out Wednesday night aboard the cruiser "Atlantis" which she and her husband of five months had chartered. Gelber remained ashore, he told police, to have an earache treated at a local hospital.

Near midnight Frank Nolan, who lives on Sheffield Island, was aroused by a woman's screams. He saw a cruiser go down in Long Island Sound in the vicinity of a ledge known as "Old Baldy."

State Trooper George Boston spotted a body on the south shore of the island yesterday while flying in an airplane. It was the body of a woman wearing only a pair of nylon panties.

Coast Guardsmen from the Matowa Neck station at Northport, L. I., brought the body here where it was identified as Mrs. Gelber's.

Acting Medical Examiner Harry S Phillips gave a finding of death by accidental drowning.

Gelber was described by police as hysterical during a long vigil in police headquarters, waiting for the Coast Guard to arrive with the body. He was released after the medical examiner announced his finding.

Gabriel Ruben of Bethlehem, Connecticut has been hired as principal and fourth grade teacher in the Bolton elementary school. Mr. Ruben has been principal at the Bethlehem school for two years and had taught one year previously. He is a veteran of World War II and is a graduate of New York State Teachers College at New Paltz, New York. He received his masters degree at New York University. Mr. Ruben is unmarried and is currently looking for living quarters in this area.

Other teaching assignments at the school when it reopens in the fall are: Miss Evangeline Lemiaski and John Schmidt, third grades; George Lesniaski, fifth grade; Mrs. Zolpha Carlsen, sixth and seventh grades; and Mrs. Evelyn Halloran, eighth grade.

Mr. Lesniaski, a new teacher in Bolton this fall, did training work with the fourth grade last year while a student at Willimantic State Teachers' College. Although the Board of Education is hopeful that Mr. Schmidt will be able to return to his third grade teaching in the fall, his status in the military draft is still unknown.

The schools building program is progressing slowly, according to George O. Rose, secretary of the building committee and chairman of the Board of Education. Mr. Rose stated that use of the playrooms in the basement as classrooms this fall cannot be avoided.

Location of the town garage and a roadway to it has been an impediment in getting the approval of the State Department of Education for the proposed addition to the school. The State has approved current plans for a driveway along the north boundary of the school tract to a point north of the garage and then proceeding south to the garage. The State Department of Education has also advised the committee that if in the future more classrooms are needed, a further addition to the school could not receive State approval unless the garage were removed from its present site. State law establishing minimum acreage for pupils enrolled would bar any expansion beyond the currently proposed addition with the garage located as it is now.

Mrs. Fred A. Johnson of South road has been named president of the registered nurses group under the local Civil Defense program. Mrs. David McKee of Hebron road is secretary. Use of the North school building on South road has been temporarily given the Health and Welfare branch of the CD organization by the Board of Selectmen. It will be used for storage of supplies and as headquarters for the medical group.

Bolton Grange will observe Neighbors' Night at its meeting tonight at the Community Hall at eight o'clock. Members are reminded to bring their white elephants for the sale to be conducted during the evening.

Five members of the local Liberty board attended the quarterly exchange meeting of libraries in this area at Andover yesterday. Miss Natalie Newton of the Middletown library was guest speaker. Thirty mysteries, westerns and light novels obtained at the exchange will be put into circulation at the library tonight. The library will be open from 7:30 until 8:30.

Will Consider Waddell Raise

Aide and Increase for General Manager Is Topic for Directors

A salary increase and an assistant for General Manager George H. Waddell are items slated for further discussion when the Board of Directors holds its regular meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Municipal building, according to the agenda released today.

The matters were tabled at a recent meeting by Differctor T. J. Crockett. Pointing out the large amount of detail work handled by the general manager, Crockett stated that he believed Waddell deserves a raise and an assistant. The general manager's current salary is $10,000 a year.

Waddell was asked to compile a list of salaries paid to managers in towns of similar size, so that the directors can have something to go by in considering the question.

An assistant, Crockett stated, would not only enable Waddell to give more time to important matters but would also insure the town an experienced man to fill the general manager's shoes "if anything happened to George."

It was pointed out that general managers in many other cities have executive assistants.

Also slated under unfinished business for Tuesday's meeting is an appointment to the Housing authority. The term of Fred T. Blish expires on July 31.

Building Inspector David Chambers will report on proposed changes in oil burner regulations.

Soldier Killed In Auto Crash

New London, July 13 —(AP)— Paul E. Meyers, about 28, a soldier stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., was killed and Ronald A. Hamilton, 29, both of this city, was injured, not seriously, early this morning when an automobile, driven by Hamilton, crashed into a utility pole in Ocean avenue, plunging part of the city and nearby Lawrence Memorial hospital into darkness.

The fatality, according to Detective Sgt. Dennis W. Cavanaugh, occurred about 1 a. m. as the two men were returning home from Ocean Beach Park.

Noise of the crash reverberated through the quiet corridors of the hospital less than 150 feet away, awakening and frightening patients.

Cavanaugh, who happened to be in the hospital investigating a police case, was the first to reach the scene.

The car was overturned with its top crushed. Although carrying a flashlight, Cavanaugh was unable to see inside and finally to his repeated calls, a feeble voice replied that two men were inside and one was unconscious.

Cavanaugh procured additional police help and it took three quarters of an hour to extricate Hamilton from the wreckage.

Meantime, the hospital utilized its emergency equipment to restore lighting.

The police said Meyers was on a furlough from Fort Riley and was due to go overseas soon.

An emergency crew from the Connecticut Power Co. later restored electrical service to the area which was in darkness.

2 Million Damage In Gasoline Fire

Wilmington, Calif., July 13 —(AP)— Civilian and military firemen battled through the night to quell the final flames of a Union Oil company tank farm fire that may have caused $2,000,000 damage.

Four 80,000-barrel gasoline tanks exploded, set four others afire and, for a while late yesterday, threatened Army, Navy and Coast Guard establishments in the Los Angeles harbor area.

Navy officials said smoldering in several tanks and connecting pipelines and ditches, but barring further explosions firemen expected to extinguish the blaze today.

Rescue Crewman 30 Hours in Ocean

I saw the Navy ship, I had just about given up hope."

Then Sierks fell into a deep sleep.

A dispatch from the Munro to the Hawaiian Sea Frontier said Sierks' greatest difficulty was with breaking seas and sharks.

"He killed one seven-foot shark and drove off others," it said.

The message did not explain how Sierks was believed unarmed.

Sierks' first request aboard the Munro was that his mother, Alma Overholt of Los Angeles, be notified.

He toppled off the racing sloop Wednesday, 810 miles northeast of Honolulu. He was tossed up among the eight-foot waves by a life ring tossed to him by L'Apache crewmen as he disappeared.

L'Apache is owned and skippered by Phyllis B. Brunner of Hollywood, only woman skipper in the race.

The sloop said she was badly battered after searching through pounding waves for Sierks. And her generator was giving out.

No fear for L'Apache's safety was felt here. The U. S. Coast Guard prepared to send a search plane to locate her if she failed to report this morning.

L'Apache was in second place when Sierks fell overboard.

Five other yachts near L'Apache's battered 22-foot sloop to hunt for Sierks. A Navy escort carrier and seven destroyer escorts joined the search late Wednesday, and a B-17 search-and-rescue plane flew out from Hickman field.

High seas and strong winds forced the racers to resume their Honolulu course yesterday. The carrier and four destroyer escorts were ordered back early yesterday.

Sierks was found a half hour after Hawaiian sea frontier headquarters radioed orders to the Munro and two other destroyer escorts to abandon the hunt.

Red Sox Trip White Sox in Pair to League Leadership

THE Herald Angle

Passing of the Duds

The biggest duds, also referred to in previous seasons as the Bombers, that ever gained admission to the Manchester Twilight Baseball League are no more. President Nick Angelo, fed up and disgusted with the attitude of the last Hampton Bombers, dropped the team from the membership Wednesday night following the Bombers' failure to appear for a scheduled contest.

Twice within one week the Bombers forfeited Twi League games when unable to field a team of nine men. Last Friday night all the last place Bombers could come up with against Pratt and Whitney was seven players, a high school youth, and an ineligible player. This, the Bombers did at 6:35 p. m., 35 minutes after the scheduled starting time. The game was forfeited to the latter group.

Wednesday night only one East Hampton player put in an appearance at the West Side Oval when the Bombers were scheduled to play the Ridges. It was at this time that President Angelo wisely stepped in and put a stop to the only men in the operation of the league to date by kicking the defeated Bombers out of the league on their own.

Never before in Twi League history has a team been dropped during mid-season and the circuit has been operating annually for the past nineteen years. The Bombers at least gained this distinction, if nothing else.

The Bombers have never lived up to performances in past seasons. The team did not hustle, it was the poorest outfitted team in the fold, and did not have sufficient playing equipments necessary for a ball game. On several occasions catcher's equipment — knee guards, chest protector and catcher's mitts—had to be borrowed from opposing teams.

When the Bombers were officially given a boot out of the league, their record showed two victories and eight defeats. The club was outscrutched in last place in the standings, with only an outside chance of moving up. The Bombers had no crowd appeal and turned out to be the poorest drawing attraction in the league. It was no wonder that fans stayed away for the club had no more hustle and life than a wooden doll.

Sam Hampton, prior to joining the local league, was held highly by Manchester baseball fans on the basis of their previous showings in the Connecticut semi-pro loop days. Then, too, the Bombers ranked as the No. 1 club in the Middlesex County League in recent years. At this writing, the Bombers are deadlocked for first place in the County League with Moodus. Several members of the Sunday Bombers did not play with the duds in the local league. While several of the better players with the Bombers in the local loop do not play Sunday with the team in Middlesex competition.

There will be no tears shed because of the Bombers' loss. With the lone weak sister now gone, the five remaining clubs are expected to battle tooth and nail for the four playoff spots. Prexy Angelo reports that these clubs will carry on for the balance of the season. The remaining schedule will be revised and tightened up to give fans a game every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, weather permitting, at the Oval.

So ends the black chapter in the 1951 Twi League, the passing of the duds.

Yanks Weakening But Still A Threat

New York, July 13 — (AP) — The surprising thing about this American League pennant race isn't that the Yankees seem to be weakening, but that they lasted as long as they did at all.

For two years you've seen the pennant go to a club with definite weaknesses, held together by two strong men, Joe DiMaggio and Phil Rizzuto, and aided by Casey Stengel's magical manipulation of his reserves .... Last year DiMaggio after a poor season, started hitting in August; Rookie Whitey Ford came through to restore a faltering mound staff, and aging Johnny Mize contributed some mighty blows as the Yanks fought off Detroit and Boston .... This summer Ford is in the Army; DiMaggio no longer is the "big fellow" who can pull a team together; the steady, reliable Rizzuto is slower than he used to be ... and three good pitchers have been getting their regular turns, but behind them there are guys like Stubby Overmire, Bob Kuzava and Allie Reynolds, who ... if isn't the of team you'd pick to win the pennant, but half the season is over and the Yanks haven't been knocked out yet.

Who's In First

Final check-up on the bowling season at Hood River, Ore. reveals that Dale Gross and his son, Bill, both bowled on the Websters five-man team which finished first in the Commercial League ....

Bill also was a member of the Webster drug team, which took first place in the City League and, for good measure, family monopoly, Nell Cross (Mrs. Dale) bowled on a women's team which topped its league.

Reynolds Knew He Had No Hitter Going, Told Mates

Cleveland, July 13 —(AP)— Baseball's hero today—Friday the 13th is the New York Yanks' Allie Reynolds who flaunted one of the game's most cherished superstitions then hurled the first no-hitter in his 12 years of professional pitching.

It's a long-honored tradition on the diamond that enraging keeps mum about any possible no-hitter in the making.

Allie gabbed about on the field and in the dugout and still kept the Cleveland Indians hitless last night in winning 1-0 on Gene Woodling's seventh inning homer.

Only four Indians got on base—one on an error and three on walks. The 229-year-old righthander, part Cherokee Indian from Oklahoma, went through the last 12 batters to face him 1-2-3.

The only blow off him that looked like a hit was Sam Chapman's drive to left field in the seventh. Hank Bauer raced back against the screen, raised his glove, and it was just a long fly.

Sure, I knew I had a no-hitter going," the six-foot, 200-pound Reynolds joshed. "I could see the scoreboard as well as anyone else in the park. In the seventh on the bench I asked Eddie Lopat: 'Think I can pitch a no-hitter, Eddy?' He just looked at me and gulped.

"Then in the eighth I told Yogi Berra to stick with that ball as much as possible because I had a no-hitter going and didn't want to lose it.

It worked all right, too, for he got two of his four strikeouts in the final inning—pinchhitter Bob Lemon and second baseman Bobby Avila.

The third no-hitter in the majors this season, Reynolds' victory came just 11 days after Bob Feller, his opponent last night, tossed the third no-hitter of his career from the same mound.

There was one out in the first half of the sixth when Rookie Mickey Mantle, the 32nd batter of the game, slced a double into left field off Feller for the first safe hit of the game. Apart from Woodling's game-winning homer, Feller gave only two scratch hits and no walks after that. Gil McDougald beat out a hot grounder to third in the seventh, and Yogi Berra bounced safely in the ninth.

Reynolds' was the first Yankee no-hitter since Aug. 27, 1938, when Monte Pearson, also a former Cleveland player, beat the Tribe 13-0 in New York.

Local Sports Chatter

Dick Foley, British American third baseman, upped his batting average fifteen points this week and now sports a nifty .515 average, tops in the Twilight League.

Three of the reasons why the British Americans are fighting for a playoff spot instead of leading the pack this season have been the inability of veterans Bill Murray, Jack Holloran and Bill Foley to hit. Murray is batting .148, Holloran .156, and Foley .183. Murray and Holloran were .300 plus hitters for many seasons in the local circuit.

Billy Brown, local pro middleweight boxer, was outpointed last night in Charlotte, N. C., by Fred Krueger, 166, of Charlotte, in the six-round main event. Brown weighed 161.

Dick Hopkins has been engaged as professional at the Laurel Park golf range. Dick is available for lessons daily from 9 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. Walt Hentschel manages the range which is located near the Manchester-East Hartford town line, on Middle Turnpike, West.

Northern Connecticut Board of Umpires will hold a meeting Monday night at 8:30 at the British American Club. All members are urged to be present.

Winner of the 17-inch television set given away by Fisher Dry Cleansers was Russ Paul, vice-president of the Manchester Little League.

Died-in-the-wool rooters of the Boston Red Sox listened to their favorites until 1:45 this morning before the Sox nipped Chicago, 5 to 4, in the 17-inning second game. Lefty Bray was one of the night owls.

Silk City baseball team will practice Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the West Side Oval.

Mailman Chet Morgan enjoyed his day off today. However, Red Sox rooters along Main street have a few questions to ask Chet Monday.

Dr. George Caillouette has returned home following a fishing trip and vacation spent in Rhode Island. He will resume his practice next week.

Hal Lewis, second baseman with the Hamilton Props last season, has returned home after playing with Quebec. Lewis was hitting .334 when he left the Canadian club.

Little League Cardinals will journey to Hartford tonight to watch the Eastern League doubleheader between the Hartford Chiefs and Wilkes-Barre Indians. The boys will meet at the Red Side Ree at 5:15.

Rain washed out last night's scheduled Little League baseball game between the Tigers and the Dodgers at Memorial Field. The game has been rescheduled for 4:30 Saturday afternoon.

Allie Reynolds Hurls No Hitter at Indians

Clyde Vollmer Big Gun In Boston Win; 2nd Game Goes 17 Innings —Rogovin Goes Route

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

A no-hitter by Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees and the surge of the Boston Red Sox into the American League lead shared top billing in the baseball world today.

Reynolds' masterpiece was doubly dramatic since it came over Cleveland's Bobby Feller, king of the no-hit pitchers.

Feller, only hurler to fashion three no-hitters since the turn of the century, surrendered only four hits himself. One, however, was a tenth inning homer by ex-Indian outfielder Gene Woodling that gave the Yankees a 1-0 triumph.

The Red Sox took a full game lead over the White Sox by sweeping a twilight-night double header in Chicago, 5-2 and 5-4. The Red Sox won the nightcap in the 17th inning to establish the major league night game record. The previous mark, also established by a Boston club, was 16 innings.

Clyde Vollmer provided the most telling blow in the nightcap, a single with the bases full on in the seventh inning to snap a scoreless duel at the time. Vollmer, in the 17th scored Lou Boudreau with the winning run in the seventh inning. Boudreau had opened the frame with a single and had raced to third on Vollmer's one-bagger. Billy Goodman.

Ellis Kinder hurled a brilliant relief job, yielding five hits in 10 scoreless innings to gain his fifth triumph without a setback. The two victories increased the Red Sox' streak to eight straight and to 15 wins in their last 19 games. On June 14, Boston was in third place seven games behind Chicago.

Saul Rogovin was the unfortunate Chicago loser in the second game. He pitched the entire 17 innings and allowed only 10 hits. His own error, a two-base wild throw, enabled the Red Sox to tie the score at 4-4. An unearned run in the eighth, Chicago had the bases loaded and two outs in the 12th but failed to score.

Mel Parnell gained credit for Boston's first game victory. He blanked Chicago through eight innings and with nobody out and the bases loaded in the ninth, Harry Taylor took over and retired the next three batters as two Red Sox runners scored on infield outs. It was Parnell's 11th victory. Jog Dobson, former Red Sox righthander, was the loser.

Reynolds Walks Four

Reynolds walked three and fanned four to become the first Yankee pitcher to hurl a no-hitter since Monte Pearson did it Aug. 27, 1938.

It was the third no-hitter of the season. Feller pitched one against Detroit July 1 and Cliff Chambers wove one for Pittsburgh against the Boston Braves May 6.

The victory was Reynolds's tenth half of them via the shutout route. And three over the Indians. It was his second 1-0 triumph against them. The triumph boosted the Yankees into second place, a fraction of a percentage point, over Chicago.

Feller, himself, had a no-hitter until Mickey Mantle doubled in the sixth. When Woodling exploded, in the seventh, it marked the first time a single game has beaten the Indians.

Gus Zernial struck out seven times but he also hit a grand slam homer to lead the Philadelphia Athletics to a sweep of their double header in St. Louis, 9-7 and 7-3. Ferris Fain's two homers won the first game. Zernial + blow in the nightcap, was his 10th homer off Ed Lopat. Louis Brissie, Dick Starr, the loser, yielded four of the Zernial now has 22, tops in the league. Little Bobby Shantz was the winner.

A homer by Hoot Evers proved the difference as Detroit nipped Washington, 5-4 to give Bob Cain his eighth victory against six defeats.

Brooklyn increased it. National League lead to 2½ games with a 9-3 victory whipping the Chicago Cubs 9-3 while the St. Louis Cards were trimming the Boston Braves, 2-0. Homers by Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Jim Hegan highlighted the Dodger victory.

Gerry Staley blanked the Giants for four hits as the Cards slipped past New York into second place by one percentage point. Solid pitching at the National tourney in Wichita, Kansas, characterized the bi-state tourney in charge of the Connecticut Commission.

Thirty-nine prizes will be awarded in the tournament and will be displayed all week in Nassiff Arms display window.

Saddler and Pep May Fight Aug. 22

New York, July 13 — (AP) — A fourth title bout between featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and ex-champ Willie Pep was reported near the signing stage today.

Billy Gore, trainer for Pep, said the match was tentatively set for Aug. 22 in Madison Square Garden.

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said Saddler's manager, Charley Johnston, had cabled from Argentina that he was interested in a title clash for that date.

Details are expected to be ironed out when Johnston returns from South America in about ten days.

Dumont to Televise Boxing Title Bout

New York, July 13 —(AP)— The Dumont television network has bought the rights to televise the Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Wolcott heavyweight championship bout in Pittsburgh on July 18 for $100,000.

However, Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, who made the announcement yesterday, said that Pittsburgh and Johnstown, Pa., would be blacked out of the telecast. The fight also will be broadcast.

Rocky Wants Heavy Crown

Marciano Knocks Out Layne in Sixth Round Of Garden Upset Bout

New York, July 13 —(AP)— Powerpunching Rocky Marciano demolished his opponent in heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles and Joe Louis today following his "perfect fight" victory over Rex Layne.

"Charles, Louis, that's for me," shouted the undefeated Brockton, Mass., cloutet as he accepted congratulations for his six round blitz of the world's No. 3 heavyweight in Madison Square Garden last night.

"I'll take on anybody," said Rocky. "But my manager Marty Weill says it has to be Charles or Louis next. Okay, I'm ready."

This from a guy who was rated a 13 to 5 underdog, wasn't given a chance by the alleged experts, and who celebrated his third year of pro boxing by belting out the pride of the Rockies with a smashing right to the jaw in 25 seconds of the sixth of a ten rounder.

On what he did to Rex and in the manner in which he accomplished the upset, you have to give the ex-GI a chance against anybody.

"He fought a perfect fight against Rex," said Layne's manager Marv Jenson. "He had him figured like Schmeling figured Louis the first time. You got to give him credit."

"Perfect fight," is what Tiny Charley Goldman, Rocky's trainer, called it.

"He kept low so Layne wouldn't have a chance for a clear shot, kept to the left so Rex couldn't get the full leverage for his right and opened up in the fifth and sixth when Layne was looking for some more infighting.

"His style bothered me," said the doleful Layne. "I couldn't get an opening for a clean shot. He hits hard. Not as hard as Louis, but hard. I don't want to take anything away from Rocky—he's good—but I felt groggy all night. Couldn't get going. Maybe I've been working too hard and long. I'm going to take a rest. But I'll be back."

Layne said his right knee popped on him in the third, the same round in which Marciano shattered his rival's bridgework and knocked out a tooth.

At the start of the sixth he caught Rex with a powerful right to the jaw and Layne tottered forward and then fell on his face for the full count.

It was the 31st knockout in 36 fights for the ex-shoemaker from Brockton. He's batting .861 in the Rexo league and no matter who says fight that's big league belting.

Layne weighed 193, Marciano 185½.

Kennel Club Match Sunday For All Pure Bred Dogs

Members of the hard working committee in charge of staging the first Plan A Sanction Match for all breeds of pure bred dogs to be sponsored by the Manchester Kennel Club under the auspices of the American Kennel club are busy these days making all last minute preparations for the show scheduled Sunday at Mt. Nebo.

This will be the first full scale match of this kind to be staged in any town in Connecticut and the interest and is attracting widespread attention among dog lovers, dog breeders and fanciers in this area. Many prominent kennels that specialize in the raising of dogs of one of the more than 50 officially recognized breeds have already filed their intentions of exhibiting at this match. More than 50 local dogs of many breeds are expected to be among the entries that will be judged by the nationally known authorities in this line that were named in an earlier article.

Registration for the dogs entered in the match will commence at 8 o'clock Sunday morning with the dogs being segregated by groups, namely, Sporting, Non-Sporting, Working, Hounds and Terrier and Toys. Individual class winners in each breed will be competed for and judged against other winners in that breed to determine the six group winners will be named by Father Kane of Farmington at 4 o'clock, Saturday Prize for each will be stacked at the Oval on Sunday, afternoon, July 29 at 2:30.

Following completion of the tourney, the winner will be pitted against the Rhode Island winner for the right to represent both states as bi-state champions at the National tourney in Wichita, Kansas. Arrangements for the bi-state tourney are in charge of the Connecticut Commission.

Valuable Trophies

Many other beautiful and valuable trophies which have been donated by prominent persons interested in the promotion of dog shows locally will be awarded to other winners in different classes and breeds as well as the group winners. These sterling silver and plated trophies have been on display for the past week in the window of the Kennel Supply Shop and have attracted widespread admiration and comment for the impressive awards that are being offered.

Interest among the younger element of the match by the classes for junior handlers. Any youngster who owns or controls a dog may enter these classes and compete for the prizes offered. Entry fees for the entire match have been fixed at a minimum to encourage a large entry and magnify the interest that has been manifested since the organization of the local club one year ago.

Facilities on Grounds

All entries will be taken on the grounds and there will be ample room for persons readily available to offer advice gratis to the less experienced exhibitors who may wish to show or to ask questions about the breeding of their dogs. The latest subject. Entries in all breeds will close at 2 p. m. at which time the judging of the matches will commence.

A full line of refreshments will be available on the grounds at all times, which will be operated by members of the Police-Firemen's Athletic Fund of exhibitors and spectators alike. Admission fees are being priced low to foster spectator interest in this event's purse but fast growing local project.

Third Place at Stake In Twi League Tonight

The Twilight League race is now a Thomson said that under pretty tight through the middle and to the finish game between the BA's and Hamilton puts third place at stake. It is the only way that any team can go into that spot. should the BA's win they will start next season possession all alone. They share third with Cyclo Trade but have losses Hamilton has a 5-5 record in fifth place and a win over the Ramblers will leave with Silk City and send the BA's sliding into last place.

Coach Johnny Falkowski has his Props ready to defend their title in the second place in the Hartford Dusty League and after a short start have come on strong lately in defense of their 1950 Twilight League crown. The BA's have been hit by injuries to some key players while their pitchers have not been living up to past performances. Jimmy Griffin's elbow bruise leaves the Maple Streeters without a veteran shortstop and his spot will be filled by Jim Fox. Cal Lyles, ace pitcher, has gone to work on the second shift and Bill Foley, former minor league hurler, developed arm trouble early in the season and has not been able to pitch since.

Rocco Forte is slated to go for the BA's with Herm Correa or Tony Berube behind the plate. Either Jimmy Blanchard or George Swan will take the hill for the Props with Art Pongratz behind the plate.

Dick Foley leads the league with a mark of .515. Right behind him is Hamilton's Bobby Knight, boasting a .476 average. Other noted stick performers are Cliff Keeney, Bill Foley, Fred Hensley, Johnny Green, Dick Zwick, Mike Savarese, Red Jacks and Snowboat Forter.

Dodgers Win Without Pafko

New Fielder Out With Knee Injury, Stanky Near End of Career

New York —(NEA)— It must be exasperation the rest of the National League to find the Dodgers not only so far in front, but as well treat that the loss of a man like Andy Pafko is merely an inconvenience.

Charley Dressen can do with. Andy Pafko but may have to in the feelings of one of his reserves. At the Polo Grounds, Lee Durocher was confronted with a much more touchy situation. Eddie Stanky, who was to have been the key man in the Giants' pennant drive, had been fading.

Stanky had to be told that he was going out of the lineup in favor of Dave Williams, the rookie star called up from Minneapolis and whom the Giants have been grooming as their second baseman of the future.

This can't be looked on as simply a rest for Stanky, because if Williams sticks the job is his.

Injuries at All-Star time are an old story, and a pleasant one, as Ted Williams, Dizzy Dean and Ival Goodman can testify. But leave it to the Dodgers to find the new twist. They found out that Pafko, who wasn't even on the All-Star team, might have to be rested as long as two weeks.

While other players of his caliber were in Detroit battling the American Leaguers, Pafko appeared at Long Island College hospital, Brooklyn, for examination of the stubborn hematoma, or blood swelling, behind his left knee.

Two doctors advised Pafko to stay out of uniform until the swelling disappeared. They wanted him to stay in bed and take heat treatment. That would clear up the condition, the doctors said, but they weren't sure how much time it would take. The guess was anywhere from a few days to two weeks.

Pafko got the injury the second day he played with the Dodgers June 17, in Chicago. Running hard in an successful effort to beat a double play throw to first base, he strained his leg and the hematoma developed.

After that, Pafko was in and out, relying on whirlpool treatments to reduce the swelling.

Had he been an established man in Brooklyn, Andy probably would have stayed on the bench until well. But in his anxiety to get going with a new club, and to dispel a rumor that he was malingering, he insisted on playing whenever the leg felt all right.

On the night of July 7, just before a game in Philadelphia, Hartford Wendler noticed the swelling around Pafko's knee had increased alarmingly. Trainer Wendler felt heat was indicated, said so to Manager Dressen. But Pafko was able to run, was sure the swelling wouldn't bother him. He asked to play, started.

But Andy Pafko had to drop out before it was finished, and Don Thompson was in left field the next day.

Sense and Nonsense

The little Negro church was celebrating its fiftieth anniversary and the pastor invited one of his white brethren in the community to do the little church honor by sharing in the festivities. When the evening arrived for the address which was to be given by the guest-minister, the pastor of the celebrating church introduced him with the following appreciative words: "Brethren and sisters, this church has had the privilege of hearing some of the highest ranking preachers in the state, but tonight, my friens, we is to have the honor of hearin' the rankest preacher we is ever done had in ouah pulpit!"

Don't cry over spilt milk; remember, it's four-fifths water.

It's harder by far in a hoe.
Aquina G. Shea.

The Russians will start a war when they feel they are ready and not before, says General Clay, to the U. S. Senate; but "if we move against them we will be ready and never be ready under the conception of readiness, two odds so heavily in their favor as to assure success," and that is one good reason for the preparedness drive throughout the democracies.

Rooming House Lady—Do you want a room?
Prospect—No, I want to discipline myself in a banana and sleep in the fruit dish.

About Town

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Slogesky, Mrs. Agnes Bajoris and Karl Bajoris, all of 211 Oak street, are spending their summer vacation at Nantasket Beach, Mass.

Rev. Alfred Rapp, pastor of the First Congregational church of Flushing, N. Y., will be the guest preacher at the Center Congregational church Sunday morning. The single service will be held at 9:15.

Members of the Stanley Group of the South Methodist church are reminded of the visit of the student missionaries on Sunday and the potluck dinner that will follow. Those wishing to attend are asked to bring a covered dish or salad. Dessert will be provided.

A daughter was born at the Hartford hospital on July 8 to Mr. and Mrs. John Dexter Sherman of 88 Benton street. Mrs. Sherman is the former Lucille Cheney and the baby is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Cheney of 89 Brookfield street.

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien of 15 Hudson street and their daughters, Lucille and Marjorie, are leaving by car Sunday for San Diego, California, where they will visit their son, Pfc. George O'Brien, who is in the Marines stationed at Camp Pendleton. From there they will go to San Jose to visit Mr. O'Brien's mother and sister. They will return home by way of Indiana where they will visit Mrs. O'Brien' aunts in South Bend and Fort Wayne. They expect to be gone six weeks, returning home August 25.

Assessor Henry Mutrie will attend a four-day special summer course at the University of Connecticut next week. Assessors from throughout the state will attend the conference which opens Monday, July 16, and ends on Thursday, July 19.

Major James H. O'Brien, of 116 Falkner drive, executive officer of the First Battalion, 417th Regiment, is helping conduct a condensed two-week basic course for Reservists of the 76th Infantry Division at Pine Camp, N. Y.

Thomas Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Stratton of Garden street, expects to march in the big Orange parade tomorrow at Cheney Farm, North Hadley, Mass. Tommy is printer's devil at the Herald.

Mrs. George W. Cheney, Sr., of Hartford Road will spend the major part of the summer at the Cheney place in Fenwick.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson of 52 Wedgewood street, July 10 in Hartford Hospital; and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mirtl of 54 Overland street.

Korea Veteran Returns Home

Sees Changes Here After 37 Months Spent In Eastern Theater

Master Sergeant John Robert Moriconi, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moriconi of 1077 Main street, has arrived home from Korea, after serving in that country and Japan for thirty-seven months. He has been fighting at the front with the 1st Cavalry

M-Sgt. John R. Moriconi

Division since the conflict started a year ago, and has been returned home under the rotation plan. His three year term since enlistment expired in June, but the Army has extended it to May of 1952.

Robert, as he is better known in town, notices a number of changes which have occurred during his three-year absence, and he is happy to be home again with his parents and friends for a thirty-day furlough. His parents have continued to operate Bob's Coffee Shop at 1061 Main street, across from the Army and Navy Club, and will continue to do so until he is released from service. He will report at Fort Devins for a new assignment at the close of his leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Moriconi have a daughter serving with the WAVES at Pearl Harbor. YNSM Lorraine Moriconi has served six months of a two-year term.

County Children Get Picnic Treat

Second Congregational Merry-Weds, the married couples club, treated twelve of the boys and girls at the Tolland County home in Vernon, to an outing at Hammonasset one of the hot days this week. It was the first time a number of children had been to the salt water and they thrilled at the opportunity. They went in bathing before the noontime luncheon, and again as soon as they were permitted, which gave them a ravenous appetite for the Frankfurter sandwiches, salads, watermelon, cake, chocolate milk and other good things provided for them.

They left Vernon about 9:30, and returning reached the home about six o'clock, a tired but happy group of youngsters, all of them well behaved and a credit to Matron, Mrs. Robb and others at the home.

The Merry-Weds for a number of years have been taking children from the home to nearby lakes, but this was the first time they attempted a trip to the salt water. The boys and girls appreciated it so much the club felt it was well worth while. In addition to giving them outings, the members have "adopted" children at the home, remembering them with gifts at Christmas, birthdays and other occasions.

Zone Hearing Open Tonight

Town Planning Commission Will Consider Six Proposed Changes

Six proposed zone changes will be considered at a public hearing of the Town Planning commission tonight at 8 o'clock in the Municipal building hearing room. Chairman Francis F. Handley will preside over the hearing.

A change to industrial zone of a rural residence zone on the northerly side of Wetherell and southwesterly side of Bidwell street will be asked. Camillo Gamboloti will request a change from residence A to industrial on all or part of an area on the northerly side of Hartford road.

Other requests are as follows: from residence B to residence A area between Woodland, Irving, Chambers and Broad streets; change to business zone II, now in residence zone B an area on the southerly side of West Center street, west of McKee street; change to residence zone B an area now in residence zone AA and rural residence zone an area on the southerly side of Hartford road; and change to business zone I or II, now in residence zone B, an area on the westerly side of Main street from Middle turnpike west to Sterling Place.

The hearing is open to anyone interested.

Asks Flood Area Relief Fund

Truman Asks Congress for 15 Million

Washington, July 14—(AP)—President Truman today threw the administration's weight behind a move to appropriate $15,000,000 for emergency relief in the flood-ed Kaw river valley.

The White House announced the President had been in conference overnight with Speaker Rayburn (D., Tex.) and Chairman Cannon (D., Mo.) of the House Appropriations committee and had asked them for the money.

The appropriations group had an emergency session scheduled today to consider the matter.

The White House announcement also said that Mr. Truman had asked Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to survey the situation and see that necessary food is available, and to provide loans and other assistance for farmers "to help them get started again when the flood waters recede."

Last night the President dispatched Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, Chief of Army engineers, to the flood area to see what help he can give. The general was on the scene this morning.

It was indicated that the administration will ask for more money than the $15,000,000 if surveys show the need.

Action on the project was asked by Mr. Truman as soon as possible.

Drought Hits Big S. W. Area

Arizona, New Mexico in Dispute Over Water; Stockmen See Ruin

By The Associated Press

"We not only ain't had any rain. We ain't even had a cloud."

Just like that, a Utah stockman tells why you'll find it harder to get beef steak, mutton chops and rice pudding.

Drought poises over two sections of the Southwest.

In an area as big as the Atlantic seaboard, hot, dry days are burning cattle and sheep country in Arizona, most of New Mexico, southern Utah and southern Colorado.

Skipping a belt in the high plains of eastern New Mexico and west Texas, the drought has hit the rice and cotton country of Texas and Louisiana.

There are disputes over water, two on an interstate scale.

Governor Howard Pyle says Arizona has reached its water limit—unless it can get a larger share from the Colorado river. Texas has threatened suit in U. S. Supreme Court to force complete draining of El Vado reservoir in northern New Mexico.

Stockmen talk of ruin if they can be abandoned or alleviated, they will be." But he added:

"It is childish to prate...d that inflationary pressures are not with us."

The House version of the bill to extend wage-price-rent controls is expected to be completed by next Thursday. The bill then will go to a House-Senate conference committee for ironing out differences between it and a Senate-passed bill.

Cuts Truman Powers

The Senate measure reduces President Truman's present powers over the nation's economy and gives him none of the new authority he is asked. The House bill appears certain to be as rough—if not rougher—on the administration.

Representative Dollinger (D., N. Y.) told the House yesterday that it "is not controlled by Democrats; it is controlled by an unholy alliance of Republicans and Dixiecrats."

Dollinger's statement drew from Rep. Halleck (R., Ind.) the comment-charge that Democrats were "playing politics" with controls, and asserted the House has yet to adopt "one single amendment which affects wage or price controls."

Underwood Vote Set for Tuesday

Hartford, July 14—(AP)—Workers at Underwood corporation are scheduled to walk off their jobs at 3 p. m. Monday for the second mass meeting within a week to vote at 3:30 on acceptance or rejection of the company's latest contract offer.

Undisclosed compromise agreements reached by union and management at a meeting with State and Federal conciliators in a six-hour session Friday, averted a strike scheduled for today which would have idled 2,300 production and office workers.

Earlier in the week, workers at a mass meeting sponsored by Underwood's three unions, voted 2,000 to 88 to strike unless substantial concessions were made.

Truman Forces Fight To Save Curbs Power

Washington, July 14—(AP)—The battle over economic controls continued today with the administration fighting a rear guard action against a rampaging House coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats.

Although Congress was in recess until Monday, there was no let-up in the administration's drive to stave off defeat.

Secretary of Defense Sawyer took to the air last night to broadcast a warning that inflation will do the nation great harm "unless we keep controls."

In a radio speech, Sawyer promised that "as soon as controls

Margaret Truman Returns to U. S.

Washington, July 14—(AP)—Margaret Truman got home from Europe last night, and the President went to the station to meet her.

Photographers and reporters turned up for the meeting, too, but Secret Service men kept them at a distance, explaining that the meeting was a private one. The White House had not announced that Mr. Truman would meet his daughter.

Urges UN Act On Monopolies

U. S. to Ask International Machinery to Crush World Controls

United Nations, N. Y., July 14.—(AP)—The United States gave strong indication here today that it is going to ask the U.N. to do something about world-wide monopolies that keep up the price of wool in your overcoat and the cost of rubber in your automobile tires.

Without specifying the countries or products aimed at, the U. S. delegation has announced it will ask the U.N. to create international machinery to crush what it calls "restrictive business practices."

RED PEACE DRIVE

London, July 14 — (AP) — The Communist Daily Worker stepped up its "peace campaign" today with a faked page one photo of Big Five leaders sitting around a conference table—smiling.

"These five men can make peace," the newspaper's front page banner said. Below it a three-column picture purported to show Stalin, Mao Tse-tung, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

"This is the picture the world is waiting to see," said The Worker.

Predicts Red Push On Southeast Asia

Bangkok, Thailand, July 14.—(AP)—Premier Phibulsonggram says a Red Chinese drive to dominate the non-Communist countries of southeast Asia—including prosperous Thailand—will not be reversed by any cease-fire in Korea.

The next phase of the Communist program in Asia after any Korean cease-fire will be to infiltrate all countries of southeast Asia," the premier said yesterday in an interview with the Associated Press. "Communist tactics of the world war, infiltration and 'volunteer invasions' will be used against Thailand, Indochina, Burma and Malaya down to Indonesia.

Bridges to Open Perjury Appeal

San Francisco, July 14—(AP)—Lawyers for longshore boss Harry Bridges, rebuked in their request for a fifth delay, must file opening briefs Monday in Bridges' appeal of his perjury conviction.

Attorney Norman Leonard told the U. S. Ninth Court of Appeals he would comply.

The court denied his request for further delay yesterday. Leonard said he needed more time to study the some 8,000 pages of testimony delivered in Bridges' lengthy trial last year.

Four previous requests for delay were granted.

Bridges and two of his top aides were convicted in April, of last year of lying to naturalization examiners when they swore Bridges had never belonged to the Communist party.

Beaulieu Raps Auditor Claim

Real Assets Ex-Head Says He Saved Over Million for the State

Hartford, July 14—(AP)—I've saved the state more than a million dollars," was the answer today of Arthur G. Beaulieu, former director of the State's Real Assets division which was recently criticized by the State auditors.

Beaulieu, who now runs his own engineering consulting firm in Hamden, left the impression that the auditor's criticism of the agency was not based on a knowledge of construction techniques.

"Some people just don't understand what construction is," he said.

The two State auditors, Democrat Joseph B. Downes and Republican Raymond I. Longley, in a used a report recently charging the agency with inefficiency, waste and inadequate records.

The report covered the period from July 1, 1948 to Dec. 31, 1950. Beau-

Red Bail Hearing To Be Marathon

New York, July 14—(AP)—A Federal judge plans marathon court sessions Monday to complete hearings into bail furnished 14 Communists by the Civil Rights Congress, chief bond source for the Red party.

Until the hearings are completed, 14 indicted Reds will remain free in a total of $165,000 bail posted by the Congress.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, bowing to a higher court, reinstated the Reds' bail yesterday and ordered their release after they spent two nights in jail.

But he told attorneys for the defendants that he planned to continue the bail hearings without further adjournment, going into night session if necessary.

Judge Ryan granted the week end recess on a defense motion that it needed time to gather evidence against the revocation of the Congress' bail.

Meanwhile, two trustees of the Civil Rights Congress bail fund remained in jail here on six months contempt-of-court sentences. Both are expected to seek their release in bail today.

Two Men, Two Girls Plan 1,300 Mile Trip on Raft

New Kensington, Pa., July 14—(AP)—The raft Lehargia will head down-river for New Orleans in a day or two, carrying four young people intent on an experiment in "living in small groups."

Two men and two women, strangers before the raft idea came up, will make the 1,300-mile trip. They hope to finish it by Oct. 1.

Guiding spirit of the experiment is Mary Ellen McGrady, 24, of Ann Arbor, Mich., a five foot five blonde graduate sociology student at the University of Michigan.

Miss McGrady said the idea of rafting down to New Orleans occurred to her while she was touring England. Back home, she wrote a piece about it in the University of Michigan newspaper, calling for volunteers.

"Out of a school of 20,000 students only two were interested in the adventure," said Mary Ellen. These two are Milton Bordon, 30, of New Bedford, Mass., an aeronautical engineer who graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is now studying forestry, and Don

Beaten Senator Given Reward

Truman Shows Regard For Lucas by Naming His Nominee to Bench

Washington, July 14—(AP)—President Truman apparently has produced something rare in politics —an award to a defeated Senator in the form of a Federal court appointment for a friend.

The reputed recipient in this case was former Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, Democratic Senate leader who was defeated last November by Senator Dirksen (R., Ill.).

Lame duck Senators sometimes get appointments for themselves but few of them find that even a long record of service for the administration can land a job for a friend after they themselves have tasted defeat.

Slap At Douglas

President Truman' appointment yesterday of Joseph Samuel Perry, 57, of Prome Drucker and Cornelius J. Harrington as Federal judges for the northern district of Illinois was regarded generally as a slap at Senator Douglas (D., Ill.), and something of a reward for Lucas.

Friends said Lucas had backed Perry with the argument that he could have suggested a nominee before his defeat last November but didn't do so under an agreement with Douglas to wait until after the election before filling the post.

The fact that Douglas also endorsed Perry was overshadowed by the president's action in naming Drucker and Harrington.

Dr. Gibson Indicted in Ayres' Case

Bridgeport, July 14—(AP)—A 49-year-old doctor has been indicted for manslaughter in the death of a wealthy, 74-year-old spinster who made him her heir.

A Fairfield county grand jury says Dr. Donald F. Gibson, of Danbury, caused the death July 26 of Miss Elizabeth M. Ayres, also of Danbury, by "reckless and grossly negligent administration of drugs."

The same jury, in its action here yesterday, made no charges against another Danbury physician, Dr. Frank T. Genovese, who also had been implicated in the affair.

Nothing on Motives

In the indictment, the grand jury made no reference to motives. However, a coroner's finding previously charged that Gibson hastened Miss Ayres' death to gain her property, and to free himself of an amorous entanglement with the spinster.

The finding by Theodore F. Stelber, who conducted an inquest before signing the coroner, pointed out that Gibson wed his office nurse, Mrs. Frank Wilcox, the day after Miss Ayres' funeral.

Miss Ayres' death left Gibson in sole control of real estate the two had held jointly under survivorship rights. The coroner's finding also said Gibson had "denuded" Miss Ayres' bank account.

The grand jury action, following a three-day investigation, left Gibson dazed and silent. Genovese tearful and exhebrant.

Genovese had been called in by Gibson as Miss Ayres' attending physician in her last illness. The coroner's finding said Genovese had signed a death certificate leaving "the date and hour of death in blank."

Genovese Weeps

When the grand jury concluded its work without taking action against him, Genovese wept and sobbed to newsmen:

"I'm relieved that it's all over.

Vital Journey

President Truman (right) bids farewell to W. Averell Harriman, who left for Iran where he will try to find a peaceful solution to the British-Iranian oil dispute. Members of the cabinet were also on hand for a brief good-bye ceremony in the White House Rose Garden. (NEA Telephoto).

Harriman Optimistic On Iran Oil Dispute

Paris, July 14—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman said today "I can't help but feel that a solution can be reached" in the British-Iranian oil dispute.

Harriman, President Truman's foreign policy adviser, stopped here on a flight from Washington to Tehran. His wife met him here.

While in Paris he will see General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Atlantic Pact Army commander; U. S. Ambassador David K. Bruce, and FEA Chief Milton Katz. These talks are completely unrelated to the Iranian oil issue, he told reporters at Orly airfield.

Harriman said he would take off from Paris for Tehran, and expects to reach there tomorrow morning.

He said he was carrying no formal proposal from President Truman for settling the quarrel over Iran's nationalization of the oil fields, but that

"President Truman is very anxious to be helpful. There is a great mutuality of interest between Iran, which has the source of supply, the British which have the distributive facilities, and people all over the world, who have need of the oil."

Hopes for "Break"

Tehran, Iran, July 14—(AP)—American Ambassador Henry F. Grady said today he hopes for a "break" in Iran's oil crisis during conversations between roving U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Harriman is expected here tomorrow morning as President Truman's personal envoy. He plans a last-ditch effort to settle the latest dispute between Britain and Iran over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company's properties.

Grady made it plain that both sides would have to give a little to bring about a solution.

"Neither side can stand in position adamantly," he said. "Both take the attitude that each is one hundred per cent right and the other one hundred per cent wrong."

Officially the British and Americans have been virtually acting jointly on many aspects of the oil dispute but some Britons make no secret of the fact they think America should keep its nose out of what they consider their own oil preserve.

Comment Misunderstood

Will Admit Reporters In Kaesong

Seoul, Korea, July 14—(AP)—Red radios tonight reported acceptance "in principle" of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demands for equality in cease-fire talks.

Japanese monitors in Tokyo reported top Communist commanders told Ridgway in a message broadcast by Pyongyang and Peiping radios:

1. "In principle we agree to neutralize Kaesong."

2. "We propose" joint negotiations for insuring safety of delegates.

3. "We agree to admit not more than 20 correspondents" to Kaesong.

But the Reds objected to Ridgway's "one-sided demand" . . .

Ridgway's headquarters said:

"There will be no comment until we have received a properly authenticated message."

The Pyongyang broadcast was recorded by Japanese monitors of Kyodo News service at 9 p. m. (6 p. m. e. s. t.) that was 24 hours after the U. N. commander laid down his terms for renewing armistice talks.

The U. N. broke off negotiations Thursday when Chinese guards refused to allow 20 newsmen to continue with a U. N. convoy of which they were an official part.

Addressed to Ridgway

The Pyongyang broadcast was addressed to Ridgway and signed by the "commander in Korea — Gen. Kim Il Sung, North Korean premier and Gen. Peng Teh-huai, commander of Chinese Forces in Korea.

Main Action on Korea War Front Centers Northeast of Chorwon

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, July 14—(AP)—United Nations and Red Forces sparred lightly today along the 100-mile Korean war front.

In the main ground action, U. N. troops dispersed a Red company northeast of Chorwon on the central front.

Probing patrols maintained light to moderate contact elsewhere.

During the 184 days fighting, French U. N. forces observed Bastile Day.

The celebration was highlighted by inspection of French ranks and award of the Croix de Guerre to American and French soldiers who fought in the latter battles of Wonju and Chipyong.

The simple military ceremony lacked the usual pageantry attended with Bastile Day celebrations.

Philippines Rejects U. S. Jap Pact Draft

Manila, July 14—(AP)—A Presidential committee last night unanimously rejected the American draft of a Japanese peace treaty as unacceptable to the Philippines.

The 15-man peace treaty committee said it would have no official reply to the United States Friday by Monday.

The draft "filled the Filipino people with disillusionment and dismay," said Foreign Minister Carlos P. Romulo, former President of the United Nations Assembly.

Betrayed by U. S.

Filipinos "have been betrayed by the United States," charged Senator Vicente J. Francisco, leader of one wing of the dominant Liberal party.

Former Supreme Court Justice Claro Recto, leading candidate for the Nacionalista party nomination for President, urged the Philippines to sever all ties with the U. S. He was Foreign Minister of the Japanese puppet government during the war.

Recto said the treaty was the result of a "delusion that the Japanese will fight America's battles in Asia" and "an oppressive guilt complex engendered by the massacres at Hiroshima and Nagasaki."

The proposed treaty, Recto said, seems "to be guided by the objective of victory for the enemy, and defeat and surrender for the ally."

Recto bitterly criticized Gen-

Red Press Raps Jap Pact Draft

Moscow, July 14—(AP)—Moscow newspapers today denounced the proposed American draft of a Japanese peace treaty as "an aggressive-setup directed against the national liberation movements in south and southeast Asia." It said the treaty will blow up stormy protests in Asia.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, said the opinion of (Communist) China and (North) Korea has been ignored by their official notes to Moscow concerning this "illegally worked out project." It said India's opposition had been explained by the second All-India Congress of Peace Partisans which condemned it in advance.

The paper said public figures and the press in other Asian countries have categorically come out against the proposed treaty.
