Boyce Silent On Charges

Has "No Comment" on Rumor He Is to Quit The Housing Authority

Robert J. Boyce, a veteran member of the Manchester Housing Authority, gave a terse "no comment" when queried recently about a rumor that he is planning to resign from the authority because of laxity charges made by Director Melvin S. Hathaway.

At a recent meeting, Hathaway stated that Boyce has not attended an authority meeting for several months and questioned whether the town is "getting the benefit of his capable abilities." He had the matter placed on the agenda for discussion at tomorrow night's session of the Board of Directors.

The housing board meets on the first Monday of each month and has charge of three housing projects, Silver Lane Homes, Orford Village and Greenhaven.

Boyce is also secretary of the Manchester Savings and Loan Association, Inc.

Among other matters scheduled for discussion by the directors are an addition to the Bowers school, the 11 capital improvements recommended by the Town Planning Commission, an ordinance banning the private discharge of fireworks, and the placing of town insurance on a bid basis.

To Scan Town Wages Scale

Directors Committee to Meet Today on Possible Increases in Pay

The Salary committee of the Board of Directors will meet at 4 p. m. today at the Municipal Building to discuss the feasibility of providing wage increases for town employes. The committee is expected to report at tomorrow night's meeting of the directors.

Members of the committee are Chairman Walter Mahoney, John Lappen and Ray Warren.

At a recent budget session, Director T. J. Crockett suggested that several employes of the engineering department be given raises, and the matter was referred to the Salary committee. The question of how such selected increases will affect other municipal employes was brought up, and the committee is expected to consider the overall wage situation.

Some directors feel that wage boosts for only a few town employes would be considered unfair by the other employes and would cause resentment harmful to morale. One director estimated that a general salary increase among all municipal employes would result in a two mill tax increase.

The directors have already approved a 1951-52 budget totaling $5,118,337. An amendment was adopted with the budget stipulates that General Manager George H. Waddell take no action on proposed wage increases until recommendations have been received from the Salary committee.

Church Helps Flood Relief

Collection at St. James Yesterday Totals the Sum of $397.68

The Manchester Flood Relief Drive was boosted considerably by collections taken at St. James's church yesterday which totalled $397.68. Rev. John Hannon, a member of the Flood Drive committee, presented the check to the Red Cross office this morning. Collections were taken up after all the masses yesterday by girls from the Children of Mary Sodality.

Edgar Clarke, chairman of the Flood Relief Drive, expressed his gratitude for the cooperation being given the committee. "It is certainly reassuring to the committee to find that the people of Manchester are willing to help put this drive over both with their contributions and their personal services as solicitors and workers."

"Although the middle of the summer is far from the ideal time to run an appeal for funds we feel that the Flood Relief Drive can be successful since the residents of Manchester seem to realize that this is a great emergency. Disasters do not wait for a convenient time to strike and we all want to help our mid-western neighbors to get back on their feet as soon as possible.

"If a small contribution from each of us can cut short the suffering of thousands of people I know that we in Manchester will respond speedily to this urgent appeal for help. If you can spare a dollar to send to these flood victims won't you send it to Red Cross office, 993 Main street, today?"

Boy Given Party On 5th Birthday

Elliot, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot B. Dodge of 157 Vernon street, was five years old Friday. The event was celebrated the same afternoon by a birthday party which was attended by ten little boys in the neighborhood. The children had a merry time playing games outdoors until rain drove them into the house, when they had the opportunity of admiring Elliot's toys and gifts.

Mrs. Dodge made a large birthday cake and decorated it for the occasion, and served other good things. She was assisted by Elliot's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marshall Young of Garden street. He expects to attend the kindergarten at the Manchester Green school in September.

Man Faces Death Chair; Court Denies Clemency

Hartford, Aug. 7—(AP)—Francis C. Smith, 26, convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of a night watchman at a yacht club in Greenwich, lost today an attempt to escape the electric chair.

In an unanimous opinion, the state Supreme Court upheld his conviction, rejecting an appeal in the behalf by his counsel, former Governor James C. Shannon, of Bridgeport, and Melvin M. Dichter, of Stamford.

Smith and George Lowden, 23, of Stamford, were indicted after night watchman Grover S. Hart, 53, was found shot to death on July 28, 1949 in the clubhouse of the Indian Harbor Yacht club at Greenwich. The shooting occurred during a burglary.

Lowden pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Smith, a former resident of Noroton Heights, Darien, elected to stand trial, and was convicted of first degree murder by a Fairfield County Superior Court jury on June 7, 1950.

Gets Automatic Stay

Protesting his innocence to the last, Smith was sentenced by Judge J. Howard Roberts to be electrocuted in November, 1950. An automatic stay of execution was granted when his appeal was filed.

A new date for the electrocution must now be set as a result of the Supreme Court's decision. The only hope left to Smith is an appeal for clemency to the state board of Pardons.

The Supreme Court noted that the State's case against Smith "rested exclusively on circumstantial evidence," but added:

"It does not follow from that, however, that it was not a strong case. The jury recognized no distinction between circumstantial and direct evidence so far as probative force is concerned. If evidence, whether direct or circumstantial, should convince a jury beyond a reasonable doubt that an accused is guilty, that is all that is required for a conviction."

Rejects Mistrial Bid

The Supreme Court also rejected contentions that Smith should have been granted a mistrial because additional talesmen had to be summoned before a jury could be completed, and that there were errors in the judge's charge to the jury.

The court held further that the judge had ruled correctly on certain testimony by Lowden. Lowden testified at the Smith trial, but refused to answer when asked whether he and Smith had been together on the night before the slaying. The court noted that the jury had been instructed to disregard Lowden's remark that he refused to answer because "it might incriminate Frank Smith."

State's Attorney Loren C. Willis was properly permitted to cross-examine Lowden when the "State was taken by surprise by the witness' refusal to testify on important matters," the court ruled.

Individual Tax Hike Now Is Due October 1

Washington, Aug. 7—(AP)—Chairman George (D., Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee said today that individual income taxes probably will be boosted Oct. 1.

This would be a month later than the date in the House-passed $7,200,000,000 general tax increase bill.

George told newsmen he saw no chance for Congress to complete its work on the bill in time to make the higher withholding rates effective Sept. 1. The lawmakers never would approve a retroactive boost in personal income taxes, he added.

Wells Senate Bill

George said his committee will begin closed sessions next Monday to write its tax bill. The group finished six weeks of open hearings last Friday.

It probably will take two weeks for the 24 Senators to complete their version, the chairman said. And that estimate, he explained, is based on belief the committee "energy will work over the House bill rather than draft a completely new one.

He implied that the Senators would not go into a new field such as a federal retail sales tax or general manufacturers' excise levy. Many business groups advocated one or either of these.

George said he himself opposed a federal sales tax because it would open up a controversial issue which might delay adjournment indefinitely; the House already has declined to approve such a levy this year; and it would put Washington into direct conflict with a major revenue-producing tax in 20 states.

George would not make any estimate of how much the new bill would bring in.

Police Hold 130 In Jamaica Riot

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 7—(AP)—Steel-helmeted police, bayonets fixed, stormed through a mill of bricks and broken bottles at night and arrested on riot charges 130 persons in Bustamante Industrial Trade union headquarters.

Police made the raid after citizens complained they had been molested walking past the headquarters of the union, run by W. Bustamante, Communications Minister and virtual prime minister of this British colony.

Everyone in the building except Bustamante was arrested. The skirmish followed a long period of unemployment on the island. No serious injuries were reported.

U. S. Ready to Reject Red 'Peace' Pact Bid

Washington, Aug. 7—(AP)—The United States is reported ready to turn down quickly Russia's newest bid for a Moscow-styled Big Five peace pact to end the cold war.

Russian President Nikolai Novikov received the two-year-old Soviet offer last night in a surprise letter to President Truman.

"It's the same old chestnut tied with a new ribbon," said a high American official who studied the letter's contents.

Shvernik's message, bristling with denunciations of Western war-mongering," was accompanied by a 2,500 word resolution proclaiming Russia's alleged dedication to world peace."

Seen as Red Reply

This appeared to be Moscow's answer to a resolution Congress passed last June. The American document expressed friendship and goodwill toward the Russian people.

President Truman sent it along to Shvernik's leaders to make it public so the Russian people can learn the "peace aims of the American people and government."

Russia's replying resolution came from the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament), a

Tells Senate Probers Greenberg Took IPR Job Held by Lattimore

Washington, Aug. 7—(AP)—A university professor, who identified himself as a former German Communist, told Senators today he met Michael Greenberg, a former government official, among "Communist friends" and had assumed Greenberg was one.

With this testimony from Dr. Karl August Wittfogel, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee put into its record an August 31, 1943, letter on White House stationery, with the typed signature of Michael Greenberg.

Also put into the record were documents listing Greenberg as a former employe of the Board of Economic Warfare, the Foreign Economic administration and the State department.

One of these documents was a letter from Robert Ramspeck, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, saying that on March 7, 1947, Greenberg was barred from employment in Civil Service examinations "because of questionable loyalty."

Now On China Project

Wittfogel, whose residence is in Oceanside, N. Y., said he met the committee as director of a Chinese history project co-sponsored by the University of Washington and Columbia university.

He testified at the committee's inquiry into whether subversive influences have affected U. S. Far Eastern policies.

Wittfogel said he was a Communist in Germany but broke with the party in 1929.

He told the Senators he met Greenberg in England in 1934 "among my English Communist friends."

He said he had not seen Greenberg's party card but that he met him under circum-

Egypt May Cancel Treaty Of Defense With Britain

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 7—(AP)—Egypt has warned Britain that she intends to cancel the Anglo-Egyptian mutual defense treaty by the end of this month. The treaty, which permits Britain to keep troops at the Suez Canal, has been a sore spot between the two countries since the end of World War II.

Egypt's Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah Eddin told a cheering parliament Britain had closed the door to further negotiations on the disputed treaty and it would be cancelled "before the end of this session of parliament."

The session is expected to end late in August.

Eddin's statement was a formal reply to British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison's charges in the House of Commons July 30 that Egypt is taking an "uncompromising" and "irresponsible" attitude toward the major problems in the Middle East.

Since negotiations started in 1946 to renew and revise the treaty, Egypt has demanded that British withdraw her troops from the vital Suez—main supply route during World War II. Egypt also

Navy Air Crash Kills Nine Men

Seattle, Aug. 7. — (AP) — Nine Navy airmen plunged to their death yesterday in the crash of a PB4-Y Privateer patrol plane at the entrance to Puget Sound.

The four-engined bomber fell into the water about four miles west of the Whidbey Island Naval Air station. Wreckage was strewn over a quarter mile area. Flaming oil bubbled on the surface, but quickly burned itself out.

Two bodies were recovered within an hour of the crash. A search was continuing for the others.

Names of the victims were withheld by the Navy.

McCarthy Replies to Benton

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R., Wis.) plays with some papers at his Capitol desk after he issued a statement replying to Sen. William Benton (D., Conn.) who called in a Senate speech for the expulsion or expulsion of McCarthy from the Senate. McCarthy, in his statement said, "Tonight Benton has established himself as the hero of every Communist and crook in and out of government." (AP Wirephoto).

Benton to Demand Probe of McCarthy

Washington, Aug. 7—(AP)—Senator Benton (D-Conn) said today he will press for a showdown on his demands for a Senate investigation to determine whether Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) should be expelled.

Benton suggested in a Senate speech yesterday that McCarthy should resign. As an alternative, he introduced a resolution providing an investigation of the Wisconsin lawmaker's activities to determine whether the Senate should oust him.

Mental Midget

McCarthy fired back by calling Benton a "mental midget" who, he said, "worked hand in glove with the 'Crimen Clique'" as an assistant Secretary of State. He did not elaborate on this point.

Benton said he had no reply to McCarthy's statement "because I'm not going to engage in that kind of argument."

But he told a reporter "I absolutely am going to press" for action on the proposed resolution to investigate McCarthy.

He will have a chance to do this tomorrow, when the Senate rules committee, of which he is a member, is scheduled to meet behind closed doors. The resolution was referred to this committee at Benton's request.

The resolution quoted excerpts from an elections subcommittee report which described as "despicable" some aspects of the 1950 Maryland election campaign which unseated the then Democratic senator, Millard Tydings. The report, made public last week, named McCarthy as an active figure in the Maryland campaign.

Improper Tactics

The elections group — a rules subcommittee—said that any Senator, regardless of whether he was an actual candidate, "should be subject to expulsion" if he engaged in improper tactics. It said, however, that since this theory has not been applied before, it should not be applied retroactively.

McCarthy has denounced the subcommittee report.

In one of Maryland's most bitter election campaigns, Republican John Marshall Butler defeated Tydings by a margin of some 43,000 votes. McCarthy went into Maryland to make campaign speeches in Butler's behalf.

The subcommittee denounced portions of the tabloid publication circulated by Butler's supporters and containing a composite photo-

Await Red Neutrality Assurance

Tokyo, Wednesday, Aug. 8—(AP)—The Peiping radio asserted last night that American troops violated the neutrality of Kaesong July 16.

The current truce talks now are interrupted because Chinese Communist armed troops entered the conference city Saturday in violation of an agreement to keep Kaesong neutral.

Tokyo, Aug. 7—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the Reds today Korean cease-fire talks will not be resumed until they assure him they will keep their Kaesong neutrality agreement.

The Allied Supreme Commander bluntly acknowledged the Red apology for last Saturday's violation of the neutral zone. Then he told them that wasn't enough.

In a strongly-worded message to the two Red commanders in Korea, Ridgway said he needed new assurances that Communists will keep their word.

Only then, he said, will he send his five negotiators back to Kaesong to resume armistice negotiations.

State Liquor Tax Dips 7 P.C. In July

Hartford, Aug. 7—(AP)— State alcoholic beverage taxes dropped about seven per cent during the last month as compared to the July Korean "scare buying" period a year ago.

Figures released today by Tax Commissioner William F. Connelly showed that July collections of this year totaled $468,801, or $35,- 101 below a year ago.

At that, however, present sales are considered satisfactory especially when considered on a normal month basis. Last year's heavy buying spree was result of stocking-up action by those who feared a scarcity of the beverage.

Heaviest beverage tax yield comes from hard liquor taxes which last month ran $320,575— about 6.5 per cent below a year ago. Taxes on beer and ale last month brought in $132,088, or 6.5 per cent under a year ago.

Clown Troupe Coming Here

Traveler's Men to Give Show for Benefit of Flood Relief Drive

There's a lot of fun in store for the children of Manchester — the Travelers' Clown Troupe is coming to town Thursday evening to give a show for the benefit of the Flood Relief Drive. Of course the children's parents enjoy the antics of these jolly clowns just as much as the small fry do but this particular troupe always makes sure the children are having a wonderful time.

The Travelers' Clown Troupe is made up of men from the Insurance Company who spend their off-hours making other people, especially youngsters, laugh. Originally organized to amuse the children at the annual Travelers Christmas parties they have increased their activities year by year.

Arnold C. Thompson of Manchester is the manager of the troupe which also includes T. Lincoln Pearson of Manchester, Joseph Zaccagnino, Andrew M. DiBella, Frank Gozzo, Edgar LaQuerre, Frank M. Cope, and Maurice E. Sullivan.

Established as one of the top gags of funsters in the state these men devote their time to appearances before such deserving audiences as the youngsters at the Manchester Home for Crippled Children, the orphans of the County Home at Wapping and the patients of the Shriner's Children's Hospital at Springfield and many others of similar nature.

Their hilarious routines combined with much extemporaneous comedy are guaranteed to keep any audience young or old well entertained. Their appearance at the Flood Relief Show will be their first show in Manchester.

Arnold Thompson has also secured a variety of excellent acts through the Insurance Entertainment Bureau who will appear in the benefit show along with the Clown Troupe. The performance will begin at 8:00 p. m. Thursday evening in Center Park just below the Mary Cheney Library.

Contributions received today at the Red Cross office were: Lyman H. Byrd, $10.00; Wells C. Dennison, $5.00; Dr. W. John Field, $5.00; Rev Clifford Simpson, $1.00; R. S. Nash, $1.00; E. C. Haven in the night

The sorrow of illness, the grief of death, the joy of a newborn child are poignant realities that all experience at one time or another. These experiences are encountered every day by your doctor, who, when needed, is like a haven in the night. He has learned to console, to encourage, to sympathize, to rejoice. Your grief is his sorrow, your happiness his job well done. You cannot practice medicine or compound prescriptions without developing deep feeling and interest in those who entrust their health to you. Only the best is good enough for our patrons.

Income Tax Boost Now Due October 1

timate as to the final tax hike total in the Senate bill. Other committee members have said the House figure will be ent rather than raised toward the $10,000-,000,000 boost asked by President Truman.

The committee chairman indicated there would be much sentiment in his group to knock out the $732,000,000 boost in excess profits taxes voted by the House.

If the Senators do agree to the House decision to change the excess profits levy, "then we will have to take up a very large number of amendments that have been submitted in an effort to get relief in specific situations," George said.

The Senator also said he thought his committee would spend a lot of time trying to correct "inequities" in the individual income tax boost voted by the House.

The House bill would obtain about $2,850,000,000 in additional revenue by making a 12½ per cent increase in the amount now paid by each taxpayer.

George said there was sentiment in his committee to make the corporation income tax increase start at a later date than in the House bill. The House made it retroactive to last Jan. 1.

Pakistan Blasts Claims By India

Frank P. Graham, meanwhile, resumed his talks with Pakistani officials on the dispute over the northern state claimed by both nations. Accompanied by his civil and military advisers, he talked for two and a half hours with Pakistani Foreign Minister Zafrullah Khan and Kashmir Affairs Minister Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani. Previously he had talked with Indian officials and had an observation on the spot in Kashmir.

Pakistani spokesmen have charged that Indian troops are only 10 miles from Kotata's border opposite the country's Sind province, completing a troop line from Kashmir in the north to the Gulf of Kutch. India had claimed that to keep its troops at least 20 miles from the border to prevent incidents. Kashmir, predominantly Moslem, acceded to Hindu India at the time the subcontinent was divided into two nations two and a half years ago. Kashmir's ruler was a Hindu Maharajah.

Violated Pact

The statement of Pakistan's Prime Minister to India's Nehru said:

"In violation of a solemn international agreement on Kashmir, and in defiance of the Security Council (of the U. N.) India claims Kashmir as Indian territory and seeks to enforce this unjust and unfounded claim by military means.

"This attitude is a challenge to the United Nations and a grave threat to international peace. You are now threatening Pakistan with your armed might to intimidate us into acquiescing in your claim to Kashmir.

"Your statement that you stand by your pledge to the people of Kashmir that they shall decide their own future is belied by each of your actions during the last two and a half years. You are now engaged in an effort to perpetuate your hold on Kashmir by manipulating a puppet constituent assembly under the control of your armed forces."

War Still Open

The Pakistani leader said the way still was open for India to accept Pakistani proposals for a settlement, adding:

"The real issue before us is to preserve the peace and to settle our disputes in a just and peaceful manner. I put forward my plan to attain this objective, but you have not accepted any of its provisions. You appear determined to put in jeopardy the peace of the subcontinent and the world for the sake of staging a political farce and forcing through your program of aggression in Kashmir. I have tried my utmost to point out the path of peace. The world must now judge between us."

There were many servicemen among the estimated 260 passengers on the 15-car train. No servicemen were reported hurt.

someone concealed in the back seat, waiting for the men to enter the automobile. A witness said he saw a man run across the street from the shrub and speed away in a waiting car.

The windshield was shattered by five bullet holes.

Det. Capt. Thad Brown said the men had floated for the past five years between the underworlds of Los Angeles and Chicago.

The car carried a Missouri license.

Brancato, 36, and Trombino, 31, both were questioned about the 1948 shotgun murder of Harry Rothman in Mickey Cohen's haberdashery. Police failed to them again after Cohen was ambushed a year later. This blast killed one of Cohen's henchmen, Neddie Herbert.

Cohen is in the county jail while appealing his recent conviction on federal income tax evasion charges.

Brancato also was questioned after the slaying of Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel in 1947.

Trombino, the driver's seat, wore an expensive grey suit. His garage lining from one car Brancato wore a flashy sports coat.

Brancato, an ex-convict, was placed on the FBI's most-wanted list June 27. The FBI said he operated in San Francisco and released Aug. 3 on $10,000 bail pending an extradition hearing. Aug. 29 is the date set by Gov. Val Tyson, Nev., in connection with the holdup of a resort hotel.

Local Men Fined In East Hampton

Two local men, Kenneth Behrend of 32 Cooper Hill, and Robert E. Price of 3 Drive G, were fined in East Hampton Justice Court last night for breach of the peace. Behrend was fined $10 and Price $40.

State Policeman Kevin MacDonald arrested the two men Sunday night on the complaint of a hotel proprietor in East Hampton.

He claimed the two men had broken beer bottles and some glasses. The proprietor also said Price had used abusive language.

In addition to the fine, Price was given a ten day suspended jail sentence by Judge Roy Halberg and placed on probation for one year. Judge Halberg also warned Price that any further disturbance caused by him in the state would be dealt with severely. Price paid out with 20 days added to it.

Price has a local police record which includes loitering and operator's license. He was fined $10 on this account in Manchester Town Court. On two occasions in 1948 and 1949 while in the army, he was picked up here by local police for being AWOL from Camp Kilmer, N. J., and turned over to Military Police of Westover Field.

graph which seemed to show Tydings in conversation with Earl Browder, former Communist leader.

Clashed Before

Benton's resolution quoted portions of the report which contended that McCarthy's staff had helped to prepare the tabloid with McCarthy's knowledge. The publication, it said, included "completely half truths, misrepresentations and false innuendoes without any foundation attack the loyalty and patriotism" of Tydings.

McCarthy and Tydings had clashed prior to the Maryland campaign. McCarthy accused Tydings of conducting a whitewash of the Wisconsin Senator's Communism investigation, charging which a majority of the Tydings investigating committee had called "a fraud and a hoax."

In his statement replying to Benton's resolution, McCarthy predicted "Benton will learn that the people of Connecticut do not like Communists and a whitewash of government any more than the people of Maryland like them."

Not Surprising

McCarthy said, "Benton has established himself as the hero of every Communist and fellow-traveler in and out of government." He did not specifically write the resolution suggestion that he should resign, and declined to elaborate on the contents of the text of his statement.

Senator Gillette (D-Ia), who heads the elections subcommittee, told a reporter he considers it "somewhat regrettable" that Benton made issue of its report in the Senate before the full rules committee has acted on it.

Tydings of Europe. Butler's staff said he was out of the city and not available for comment at this time.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, told Benton in a Senate speach that "it is perfectly obvious" the resolution "is unfair" and that Benton had "only political motives" in offering it. McCarthy was not in the Senate chamber when Benton and Wherry spoke.

Man Facing Chair, Denied Clemency

beds in a Shelton tenement house fire resulting from the operation of an illegal still.

The State Supreme Court ruled that the pair, Arthur DiLorenzo, 36, and George Giuccione, 22, had been properly convicted at their trial by Superior Court Judge Abraham S. Borden in November, 1950. Each was sentenced to serve three to five years in State's prisons.

The two children, John M. Kibley, 4, and his cousin, Jacqueline Reilly 3, burned to death in the second story of a wooden tenement building in Shelton shortly after midnight on March 20, 1950. Firemen and police found a crude still in the basement.

Manslaughter indictments were brought against DiLorenzo, Giuccione, and Stephen A. Pribula, 58, of Shelton. Pribula died later and by the court to have been in charge of operating the still, was committed to the Fairfield State Hospital at Newtown as an insane patient before his case came up for trial.

The court's 4-1 opinion rejecting the appeals by DiLorenzo and Giuccione was written by Justice P. B. O'Sullivan. Justice Ernest C. Inglis dissented without opinion.

The appeals were based on technical grounds, with the outcome of both being governed by Di-Lorenzo's case which the court noted was identical with Giuccione's.

Water Case

The Supreme Court also ruled that the Connecticut Water company has the right to divert water from the Salmon River in that town. But, said the court, the company ought to pay the owners of a mill which has used the stream for injury to their property rights in the "accustomed flow."

Many luxurious estates line the river banks. Owners have created artificial ponds and islands.

U. S. May Reject Red 'Peace' Bid

hall group which acts when the Russian legislature is not in session.

In his accompanying letter, Jevernik called for an agreement by the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China to disarm and prohibit manufacture of atomic weapons. He reiterated Russia's willingness to agree to some form of inspection as a guarantee of her good faith.

UN Rejected Move

The United Nations Assembly overwhelmingly rejected an identical Soviet offer in November, 1949. American officials recalled it was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

Other nations did not trust Russia to live up to its word, these officials said, especially after Vishinsky made it clear Moscow would not agree to United Nations control over the continuous inspection and international control of atomic energy plants.

Moscow's move in reviving its proposal was viewed by officials here as "a pure propaganda gesture" designed to persuade the world America and not Russia is seeking world peace.

It is obviously timed, they said, to coincide with the world peace continent fanned by the Korean war-free negotiations now under progress. Communist leaders throughout the world can be expected to ballyhoo it as part of Russia's current peace offensive.

President Truman in his message to Congress today urged that the Soviet peace campaign be met by a firm policy of "full and free discussion" of Russian maneuver at the earliest opportunity.

Moscow Letter Public

Mr. Truman ordered Russia's acceptance of Jevernik's letter be made public a few hours after they were received from the Russian embassy.

Thus far the American resolution and Mr. Truman's message denying almost daily challenges to Russia's leaders to make them public if they are not afraid of the truth.

State department translators and press officers worked until 10 p. m. to carry out the President's instructions.

In his personal letter to the President, Shvernik said the continuation of a Big Five peace pact would have "an exceptionally important significance in the improvement of Soviet-American relations."

He coupled this, however, with a familiar propaganda blast:

"The Soviet peoples has no basis for doubting that the American peoples also do not want war. However, the Soviet people know well that there exist in some states forces which are striving to unleash a new world war."

Attached to Peace

The lengthy Russian resolution repeatedly professed Russia's great attachment to peace. Russia, it maintained, has been pursuing "a consistent policy since Nov. 21, 1917 when the Communist state was formed. It added:

"The Soviet Union has no aggressive plans and does not threaten any country or people. The armed forces of the Soviet union are not used for any purpose and are not taking part in any military actions.

"The peoples of the Soviet union are completely absorbed in fulfilling the tasks of peaceful construction."

Peaceful Plan

American efforts to date are used to Russia's propaganda blasts, scoffed at the last statement. Russia is a country "absorbed in peaceful reconstruction tasks," they said privately, that it has mobilized the following:

1. More than 200 divisions.
2. The largest airforce in world peacetime history—20,000 first line planes.
3. Nearly 3,500,00 troops in Communist China and Russia in the eastern European satellites.

Nature May End Food Price Row

a good report yesterday any future food price increases will be mostly man made — limited largely to boosts permitted under the Defense Production act. The act relaxed limits on margins for processing and marketing food. The Bureau said there might be some widening of the farm-to-store price spread.

The Bureau said beef cattle prices may drop below ceiling during the heavy marketing season this fall. But that overall supply supply will probably be about what it was last year—144 pounds per person. Earlier, the Bureau predicted 147 pounds. Continued strong consumer demand "may prevent any substantial decline in prices," the report said.

It predicted that average food consumption will be slightly above the 1950 level, and 13 to 14 per cent better than the American table in the pre-war 1935-39 period.

Prohibition Issue In Miss. Primary

mary when Wright won the nomination, is in the race again. Ross Barnett, Lieutenant Governor, Sam Lumpkin, also seeks the chief executive post.

For the first time in the history of the state a woman is in the race. She is Mrs. Mary Cain, editor of a weekly newspaper at Summit, Miss.

The other candidates are three attorneys—Ross Barnett, Kelly Hammond and Jimmy Walker.

Two of the candidates are bone dry. They are Barnett and Johnson. Barnett told the voters that crime, highway accidents and alcoholism were more prevalent in wet states than in Mississippi. Johnson would oust sheriffs who fail to enforce the State's prohibition law.

Walker said the State has "the best alcoholic ward in the world," and called prohibition "a farce."

Byrd said legalization of liquor would provide taxes for needed improvements.

White, who votes dry, argued that prohibition was a matter for the legislature.

Backs Referendum

Lumpkin, with an unbroken dry record in his 20 years in the legislature, said he "would not stand in the way of a referendum" submitted to the people on the liquor question. He said "I have no idea how the people will vote."

Mrs. Cain also believes in a State referendum, with a clause permitting local options in counties.

Hammond endorsed the idea of a referendum.

Twenty-five candidates for other state offices, and some 10,000 candidates for county offices also were to be voted upon.

Virginia Primary

Richmond, Va., Aug. 7—(AP)—Virginia Democrats voted today in a primary nomination for state and local officers for the next two years. The State's dominant political group stood to lose nothing more than a little composure.

Only 31 of the 140 seats in the Virginia legislature were at stake, and only about a dozen of the contests shaped up as battles between the regular organization wing, headed by U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd, and anti-organization forces which, with the general support of organized labor, gave the regulars a real fight in the 1949 gubernatorial election.

A spotty voting pattern was indicated, varying with the number and intensity of contests for such local offices as sheriff and prosecutor. Some counties featured heated campaigns for all offices; other counties had no contests scheduled.

Light elections were not statewide. A number of counties, particularly in southwest Virginia, already have nominated or will choose party slates by the convention method.

Siler vs. Wetherby In Kentucky Race

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7—(AP)—The race for Governor of Kentucky in November will match an eloquent mountain lawyer against a banking and business attorney.

Eugene Siler, a bible-quoting orator, won the Republican nomination for governor in last Saturday's primary. Returns from the rural areas favored Siler so steadily that his opponent, former Governor Lawrence Wetherby, conceded defeat last night.

Wetherby, the Democratic victory of Gov. Lawrence Wetherby was indicted when the first returns rolled in. He achieved the biggest primary victory ever, won by a Democrat in Kentucky when his margin over Howell W. Vincent of Covington exceeded 138,000. The old record was Alben W. Barkley's 96,000 plurality in a U. S. Senate race in 1944.

FIVE DAY FORECAST

Boston, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The temperature in New England during the next five days, Wednesday through Sunday, will average near the midsummer normal with no marked day to day change but with somewhat higher humidity than in recent days.

Only moderate rainfall during the period will show and average total of between one-tenths and two-tenths of an inch occurring as showers late tonight and Wednesday and as scattered thundershowers toward the end of the week.

Egypt May Cancel Pact With Britain

wants to incorporate the Anglo-Egyptian treaty under United Nations auspices.

Britain has declared world tensions—and particularly those in the Middle East— make it necessary that she keep her troops in the Suez to protect Egypt's as well as Britain's interests. She also opposes turning the Sudan over to Egypt.

Egypt served formal notice last November that the treaty was no longer regarded as legal. But she stopped short of actual cancellation expressing the hope that Britain would meet her demands.

(Although British troops are stationed at the vital shipping link between Europe and the East, Egypt has full control over shipping through the Suez. Supporting the Arab blockade of Israel, she has imposed rigid restrictions on shipping and has stopped several ships carrying goods to the Jewish state. The U. S. Security Council meeting in Paris yesterday served notice they would introduce a resolution in the U. N. Security Council demanding that Egypt lift the blockade.)

London, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Foreign Office said today that Britain's reply to Egypt's demand for revision of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of 1936 will be made in a speech in Cairo by Egyptian Foreign Minister Salah Eddin Pasha who said that the door is closed to further negotiations over revision of the long-disputed Anglo-Egyptian treaty of 1936.

he has called since the scandal broke last Friday.

The 90 cadets are facing ouster for exchanging information on classroom examinations.

The case is presently before a screening board here at West Point.

Parents of some of the youths sent a telegram to President Truman appealing to him to restore the accused cadets to duty. The White House acknowledged receipt of the wire, but had no comment.

Gen. Irving said: "Those cadets who have admitted guilt under oath will be given the opportunity to resign.

"Those cadets who have admitted guilt under oath, but who refuse to resign, will be discharged.

"In other cases, cadets may be discharged administratively, or, at the discretion of the investigating unit, may be tried by courts martial, depending on the evidence."

"In cases where insufficient evidence exists to support the charge of guilt, the charges will be dropped."

Gen. Irving explained that any cadet allowed to resign will receive an administrative order to leave West Point.

No Blot On Record

Under such an order, he said, there would be no blot on their record should they ever rejoin the Army.

"They would have a clean slate, the two-star general said.

Gen. Irving a slender erect man graying slightly at the temples met the press for the first time in his own office beneath photographs of his predecessors at West Point.

He denied statements by some of the 90 cadets that at least 200 of their comrades escaped punishment by falsely denying any cheating.

"To the best of my knowledge and belief, these (90) are all," he said.

Probe 29 More

Gen. Irving did reveal, however, that in addition to the 90, at least 29 other cadets were investigated on the same charges. There never was enough evidence to punish them, he added.

Speaking of the greatest scandal in West Point's 150 years, the superintendent said:

"I feel we probably are cleaner than almost any other institution. The fact that we took action makes us look bad."

Of the 90 cadets themselves, Gen. Irving said:

"I feel they are fundamentally a good bunch of boys.

"They probably got a wrong sense of values and got off on the wrong step. I think they are basically honorable."

The general was asked about charges that "stool pigeons" circulated among the cadet corps in an effort to trap cadets in any wrongdoing.

He replied that as far as he knew, there were no stool pigeons.

"The initial information was brought to the attention of the commandant by a cadet who had been approached to go into this ring," he said.

Gen. Irving was asked why, in his opinion, Army's great varsity football team was at the hub of the scandal. Of the football players he said:

"These boys get very close—a very close friendship. They go a buddy in distress, and they get a false sense of values. They think that by helping him, they are aiding the academy."

The general said that West Point in the future, as in the past, is going to insist on its athlete's keeping up academic standards.

"We have no easy courses here," he said. "Everything takes the same courses, and they are hard ones."

Same Tests

Many of the 90 cadets have said that they began cheating when they found that the same questions given one class were repeated later in their own classrooms.

Gen. Irving was asked if a solution to this problem might not be found by having the entire class take the same examination at the same time.

"Our classroom facilities do not allow all cadets to take their examinations at the same time," he said.

Some Senators debated the possibility of abolition of West Point's football team, 44 of whose players reportedly are among the accused. The Senators disagreed widely on this issue.

Coach Earl "Red" Blaik, whose Army football teams usually have every hope, rooting for a seventh consecutive season at the academy's West Point campus yesterday to ask a congressional probe "so the true character of these boys can be restored" strength of football to life at the academy can be brought to the country."

Blaik would not comment on reports he would resign as coach, a post he has held here since 1941. He said he would state his position fully at a New York city news conference on Thursday.

His son, Bob, has criticized the dismissal move. Young Blaik, a star Army quarterback, referred to the 90 as "we" but refused to say whether he was among them.

The Moral Vacuum

We said, in discussing the West Point scandal, that it, along with too many other things, illustrated the need for this America to look, with prayerful humility, into its own soul. The disease, we said, is national.

We find the general diagnosis of this disease contained in the baccalaureate sermon the Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo delivered at Georgetown Junior College this graduation.

"The greatest single need of our time," he said, "is the recovery of faith.

"We are losing faith in ourselves. In going up and down the country I find increasing numbers of people crushed by frustration. They have made themselves believe they do not count and there is no place for them in the world. They are quite sure they are of no consequence and have lost the sense of their significance. Great movements are surging through the world, but they will never advance them. Mighty tides are tumbling to the shores of time, but they, themselves, are only drifting farther out to sea . . .

"Then, too, we are losing faith in one another. This is one of those times when the air waves are crackling with insinuations and innuendoes . . . This is the hour of the character assassin. Just at a time when we should be holding fast to one another, trusting one another, and closing our ranks to show the world that in a democracy people do live together for the common good, we are tumbling apart into brittle groups, each seeking advantage at the expense of the other . . .

"What is even more significant and sobering is that we are losing faith in a better world. We are part of a generation which is drenched with syncism . . .

"In this country we have a way of boasting about our might. We are supposed to be the most powerful nation on earth and possess fabulous wealth. Indeed, the Internal Revenue Department has announced that many Americans possess untold wealth. There are in our hands amazing resources of human and natural power. We have the know-how. Our technical skill and genius are the marvel of all the people of the earth. And yet, strangely enough, we are unstable, uncertain and often hysterical."

But the way of faith, said the speaker, "is a way of life which makes one eager, alert and expectant." It is also "full of hazards."

"But one cannot bargain with faith. The moment you draw the line somewhere, beyond which you will not go, then it ceases to be faith and you live with expediency.

"You say to me that it all very well, but how can I obtain this faith and what are its sources? It is rather significant that an age which has disavowed moral and spiritual values is haunted by frustration. So much of what passes for modern culture is only an attempt to push God beyond the world which He made.

"Everything today is judged on the horizontal level, until we have produced a mechanical civilization which dances to the witchery of Karl Marx: economic determinism. We have come to believe that steam shovels and chromium-plated doorknobs and atomic energy and hydrogen bombs will bring in a new heaven and a new earth. This current disavowal of values has created a moral vacuum into which communism is rushing with its frightening and ruthless power."

This description of the "moral vacuum" describes a state of life which is not only an invitation to communism. It is also an invitation to cheating in business, cheating in sports, cheating in West Point, cheating in politics. For men who do not believe in themselves, or in each other, or in their own destiny in a better world, men who believe that the individual no longer counts, except to exploit another or be exploited, men whose cynicism leaves only gold itself as a value worth cynical effort, men who see life only on the horizontal level, do not necessarily go all the way to the didactic negative faith that is communism. They may go only half way, into the house of nihilism, into the purgatory of the baseless and the rootless, into the tortured swirl of the soulless, where they no longer sense or care what kind of clutch they make at existence, and judge morals not by any absolute standard, but merely by the degradation of each other, sneering each other downward, never cheering anybody upward.

"To such a world," said the speaker, "comes the man who lives with an unfaltering faith in an unfailing God. He is convinced with Lincoln that things are never settled until they are settled right. He is convinced that what holds the world together is not chemistry, but spirituality; not blind chance, but eternal purpose.

"Living with this unfaltering faith means that history is coming out somewhere, for history belongs to God. It means that God is still God, Christ is still Christ, and love is still the most omnipotent thing in the world . . . It means that truth is more beautiful than falsehood, that giving is more divine than getting, and that sharing is more eternal than hoarding. Not Corsica, but Galilee; not Pilate, but Paul; not Judas, but Jesus, have the last word."

There, in that direction, lies the possibility that men may learn to live with themselves again, in strengthening respect for themselves, for their fellows, and for the destiny of man, delivered from the moral vacuum, the cynical, desperate limbo of mutual degradation. When men dare to believe and to aspire they will be free to touch nobility again.

Fact Or Fiction?

For some ten meetings, the truce talks at Kaesong had been stalled on the location of the proposed buffer zone. The controversy was clearly described, by United Nations briefing officers, as one in which we were insisting upon the present battle line as the guide for the truce area, while the Communists were insisting upon the 38th parallel.

Next, the Communist radio broadcast something about a United Nations demand for a buffer zone much farther north in Korea than even the present battle line. United Nations analysts were quick to sense, in this broadcast, a clever Communist preparation for yielding on the buffer zone issue. By pretending that we were asking a buffer zone location far north of the line we really want, the Communists were getting ready to accept our line, and to pretend that they had bargained us back to it.

Then, last Saturday, came the real puzzler. In a surprise move, which was given all the atmosphere of having caught United Nations high brass itself by surprise, United Nations officers in Tokyo issued a statement in which it was affirmed that we had indeed been seeking a buffer zone located somewhat between the present battle lines and the Yalu River, which is the northern boundary of Korea. That we were seeking a buffer zone that far north was a surprise to everybody.

This development could be analyzed in only two ways. Either this surprise revelation was the truth, in which case we must conclude that we are not really trying to reach any truce agreement in Korea, and are busy asking the impossible in order to make agreement itself impossible.

Or the supposed disclosure was not the truth, and we have not actually been asking a buffer zone that far north. In that case, the "leak" of information to the effect that we had been asking it must be rated as a strategem in which we were deliberately manufacturing some backing for the claim the Communist radio had made to the same effect. In that case, we were giving the Communists an assist in their strategy of overstating our demand so they could claim to have argued us back to the line we have really been asking all the time.

If we were doing this, it was because we were really interested in getting a truce agreement in Korea, interested enough to spread a white lie in order to help the Communists establish the white lie which would save face for them in the buffer zone deadlock.

If this second analysis seems somewhat veiled and fantastic, it nevertheless seems the only alternative to the first analysis, which would have us seeking a buffer zone location we surely knew we could never get.

And sure enough, the Saturday statement, after having been cut and pasta by enough for Communist use, has now been corrected, and our demand taken back to the old line.

Believe Leg Clue To Lost Plane, 38

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The discovery of a human leg and parts of a pair of green whipcord trousers on the beach at Yakutat held a possible clue today to the fate of a Korean airlift plane missing since July 21 with 38 persons.

Tenth Rescue Squadron is now expected to concentrate its search for the craft along shore waters of the Yakutat area.

Three Juneau doctors said the leg had been exposed to water about two weeks—about the length of time since the airlift plane disappeared.

The trousers, which were found some distance from the leg, were from a different person, officials said. A check was being made of laundry marks for further clues to the person who wore them.

There was no positive confirmation from Canadian Pacific Airlines, operators of the airlift plane, that either find was connected with persons aboard the ship.

Connecticut Yankee

By A. H. O.

Republican National Committeeman Bill Brennan of Stamford is not, of course, the only party leader who musters something less than complete enthusiasm for what has been the course of the Lodge administration. Others, on a much lower level of standing and intelligence than Brennan, have had their grievances and doubts.

Some members of the party have not understood, and never would understand, the unique brand of strategy Governor Lodge and his personal advisers brought to Capitol Hill.

Governor Lodge defeated the Democrats, in their typical press agent onslaught upon him, by the simple expedient of ignoring them. Their attack—in content and extent the greatest and most persistent taunt ever delivered to a Governor—spun itself into futility because Lodge never gave it the answer which might have given it traction and attention. There were in the Republican party for whom this technique was far too subtle. They, if they had had their way, would have spent the past six months slugging the Democrats in turn, making up bigger and better cuss words, mixing deeper and dirtier mud, and, as a result, the Democrats would have had the satisfaction of turning the legislative session into a murky donnybrook.

To such Republicans, the Lodge strategy was merely spinelessness and lack of spirit.

Governor Lodge defeated the Democrats, at their legislative game, by snatching the prestige of a dual job ban bill, and by reaching for the budget with which the Democrats hoped to deadlock and jam the adjournment week of the session. This, again, left the Democrats with their whole spinning still. there are some Republicans who viewed such strokes merely as cravens and abject surrenders.

So, from practical politician elements in his own party, Governor Lodge has been under fire, on one flank, because he did not blast and fight the Democrats loudly enough and on the other flank, because he did not make more deals with them.

These party elements, as that paradox would imply, were really rather hard to please, anyway.

And Governor Lodge and his advisers have not suffered from the deals they did not make.

In the case of the minor courts, they have had the fortunate result of having their refusal to deal for a split turn into a successful non-partisan operation, which produces, on the practical side, more patronage for the party than any deal would have produced.

Nor do we think the Lodge administration suffered because of another deal it did not make. This one was apparently the bright idea of one of the party leaders who has consistently opposed Governor Lodge "practical" enough.

This is the story:

One of the state's standing problems is the acquisition of additional office space, which might enable it to end costly rentals. During the past session, it became known that a well-known and suitable Hartford office building was available. Discussions and preliminary negotiations on price were held with the owner. Then, one day, the owner of the building received the dubious honor of a visit from the Republican leader in question. He was accompanied by a counterpart from the Democratic party. They were there, they reportedly said, to make the success of the prospective sale to the state. There was one little matter to be discussed. It was the matter of arrange, as a sort of commission, approximately 10 per cent each to the Republican and Democratic party treasuries.

The private businessman, after he had recovered from his first mesmerized assumption that this must be the way all politicians did business, and the Lodge administration, when it heard of the visit, were both so shocked and disturbed that the proposed purchase was dropped.

In this, of course, Lodge lost an opportunity to make a good arrangement for the state, fatten the Republican party coffers, and pass a nice chunk of taxpayers' money to the Democrats too. No wonder some Republicans consider him a strange and troublesome breed of Governor!

Bank Doubles Capital Stock

First National Organization Applies for Right For Increase

Willard B. Rogers, president, announced today that, in addition to doubling the bank's quarters and working areas, the Board of Directors approving recognized standards governing National Banks has decreed it wise to double the bank's capital structure to bring it more in line with its present deposits and expected future growth. Mr. Rogers stated that an application has been filed with and tentative approval has been obtained from the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C.

The present plan, which is subject to the approval of the stockholders at the next annual meeting, is to issue 8,000 additional shares. The issuance of the stock is to be handled directly by the bank without entailing brokerage fees or fees of any kind.

Each stockholder of record has now been informed of the tentative plan inasmuch as the Comptroller has pointed out that all present stockholders will receive first opportunity to subscribe to the same number of shares owned of record. To the extent possible unsubscribed portions of the new stock issue will be made available to the public following complete approval and consummation of the plan.

This increased capitalization will bring "The Friendly Bank's" capital structure in line with its present deposits and will also allow for expected future growth and expansion of business opportunities.

"This letter is written to inform you of this plan and to obtain from you an indication on the enclosed form of your interest in securing additional shares. Under our By-Laws, each stockholder will be entitled to subscribe to the same number of shares he already owns at present. In addition thereto your Board of Directors desires, to the extent possible to give the present stockholders a first opportunity to purchase the unsubscribed portion of the new stock issue. Upon approval of the plan by the stockholders subscription blanks and transferrable warrants will be mailed to all stockholders of record.

"We have been asked by the Comptroller of the Currency to compile advance information of the approximate number of shares which will be subscribed for by the present stockholders and the number of shares, if any, which may be available for sale to the general public. We are asking therefore the prompt return of the enclosed form at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,
Willard B. Rogers,
President.
John S. G. Rottner,
Secretary."

The Garden Grove Caterers pushed themselves into a first place tie in the Rec Softball League with a bang last night as they exploded with a 23 to 3 victory over Green Manor. The Caterers were never behind, scoring 13 runs in the first frame, while adding 10 more runs during the remainder of the contest.

Coach Nino Pagani's entry wasted no time in getting in hot-er Frank Johnson, as it blasted out 13 runs in the first inning on six hits combined with walks, errors and a hit batsmen.

Banjo Galli and Johnny Rivosa lead the Caterers with their big bats, banging out three hits apiece, driving in five runs each, while scoring seven runs between them. Both players slashed out a round trippers as did Bernie Augustaut for the winners. Nino Pagani and Jim Minnicucci connected for two hits as all but one of the catterers hit safely while eight took part in the scoring.

Pete Aceto mesmerized pitched one of his better games, allowing only four hits for three runs while going the route. Carl Black's double was the only extra base hit of the righthanded chucker.

Three more games are scheduled for this week with the big contest coming Friday night when league leaders Paris Curtain and Garden Grove battle it out for first place honors. The other two contests are slated tonight and Wednesday.

Three more games remain to be played in the Twilight Baseball League, Wednesday night the BA's face Pratt and Whitney. Friday night the Ridges oppose Silk City, and Monday night Pratt and Whitney plays the Ridges. The playoffs will get underway next week.

Pratt and Whitney and Silk City have clinched playoff berths in Twi League competition. The British Americans, Ridges and Hamiltons are battling for two of the remaining playoff berths. Only one-half game separates third and fifth place.

Joe McCluskey staged several track and field events last Sunday at Bulkeley Stadium in Hartford prior to the Hartford Eastern League game.

Manchester Coon and Fox Club will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the clubhouse in North Country. The Grand Final field trial has been awarded to the local club and will be run in September. Final arrangements will be made at the meeting. Committee chairman Joe Deacon will also report on the pheasant program. Refreshments will be served.

Pete Kletcha reports that several baseball uniforms owned by the Polish American Club are still in the hands of players from last year's team. Pete would appreciate all equipment belonging to the club was returned as soon as possible.

Dick Foley of the British American is back to win the 1951 individual batting championship in the Twilight League. With but one more game to play, Dick sports a .476 mark in 14 games.

Ray Owens dropped into the sports department yesterday and ordered a Red Sox black arm band.

Roy Warren and Bill O'Hara surprised the ardent New York Yankee rooters yesterday morning at the bank when they appeared with the day's receipts. No matter how long or loud the Yankee chirpers chirped, Roy or Bill could not hear a peep as they cast their cats plugged up with cotton.

Little League Notes

Joe Prentice umpired on the bases last night at Memorial Field for the Little Leagues. Joe is the first ump to be seen "working" while wearing dark glasses. Ashburn Enjoys Hitting Spree

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Stan Musial of St. Louis has a new challenger for the National League batting title in Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' fleet center fielder.

Ashburn, tops in total hits most of the season, passed Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn during the week ending last Sunday to make his bid. Musial at .377 still holds a 12-point edge over Ashburn's .357 but the persistent Phil's climbing fast. While Stan lost five point in a week, Ashburn moved up six with 14 hits in 23 at bats for a week-long .424 pace.

Robinson, troubled by a sore hand, dropped to .346 from .360.

With eight weeks to play, it looks like a three-man scrap, for the others are scattered far behind. Tied for fourth at .328 are Del Ennis of Philadelphia, Wyrostek of Cincinnati and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn.

Al Dark of New York is sixth with .321, followed by Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Bob Elliott of Boston, tied at .320. Kiner and Ashburn are tops in runs batter- who boosted their averages during the week.

The Wee Reese at .317 and Carl Furillo at .316 give Brooklyn ninth and tenth positions and four of the top ten.

Minoso Holds 13 Point Bat Lead

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Although slumping two points to .344, rookie Minnie Minoso led the Chicago White Sox continued to head the American League batters' during the week.

Washington's Gil Coan skidded nine points in averages computed through Sunday's games and dropped from second to fourth place. He has a .331 after tapping only nine hits in 29 tries.

Injured Ferris Fain of Philadelphia returned to second with an unchanged .334 while Detroit's Kell went into third with .332.

The other leaders were Bobby Avila Cleveland, .327; Ted Williams, Boston, .323; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .316; Hank Majeski, Philadelphia, .312; Dom Di Maggio, Boston, .306; and Billy Goodman, Boston, .304.

Bob Dillinger of Chicago and New York's Gil McDonald were replaced in the big ten by Majeski and Goodman.

Hambletonian

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The mob scene which is expected to the the 1951 edition of the Hambletonian classic will be clarified today as the owners of the country's top three-year-old trotters trek to the entry box and post their $500 starting fee.

A field of some 23 horses—largest in the history of trotting's Kentucky Derby—is expected for one of the most wide-open Hambletonians of them all.

Sending eleven men to the plate and scoring six times in the second inning, Hamilton kept alive its hope of gaining a playoff berth in the Twilight League last night by defeating the Williman Ridges 10 to 1 at the Oval.

George Swan tolled the route to gain his second win against two defeats while Ben Majcher, first of three Thread City hurlers, suffered the loss.

Mike Zwick and Showboat Porter highlighted the nine hit attack by the Props with two hits each. Zwick started the big rally with a double and Porter's triple a deep left center broke the 1-1 tie created in the opening stanza when each team scored once. The Hamilton pitchers, Porter, Swan and Del, hammered out a pair of singles apiece.

Majcher faced five men in the second and couldn't get one retired. Bob Dunnack was relieved by Majcher without having time to warm up. Bob Dunnack twirled the final frame.

Hal Lewis accounted for the first run as he reached on an error, stole second, took third on a long fly by Johnny Greene, and score on a wild pitch. Jerry Dunnack singled in the second half of the first, went all the way to third on a sacrifice and raced in as Zeke Porter lined a hit to center.

After Zwick had opened the second with a double, Jerry Williams beat out a bunt and Porter triple both in. Art Pongratz drew a pass and Swan singled, ending Majcher's stint on the mound. Dunnack issued two passes, forcing a run and Charles McMean doubled to left for another pair, ground out and two pop ups ended the rally off.

Two More Tallies

Two more tallies were registered by Hamilton in the fourth on a walk, fielder's choice an singles by Red Green and Zwick.

Lewis singled in the sixth and was safe at second on a fielder's choice when Jerry Dunnack dropped the throw. On the double steal, Stu Pringle threw the ball high to third and it got away from the third sacker and Lewis romped in with the last run of the game.

The win enabled Hamilton to move into fourth place ahead of the Ridges. It was Hamilton's first victory over the Ridges in four starts.

Grid Yankees Seeking Coach

Red Strader Fired by Owner; Greasy Neale In Line for Post

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)— The New York Football Yanks were scouring the country for a coach today—and reports were that they wouldn't have to look far. Greasy Neale, deposed last February by the Philadelphia Eagles, has the inside track for the job.

Neale could not be contacted immediately and owner Ted Collins merely indicated that he would have to find someone fast. That much is understandable. The Yanks started training at Ripon, Wis., last Friday and the players still have not seen a head coach.

Until yesterday, Red Strader had the job. He said he was fired. Collins said he was "completely shocked" at Strader's action, maintaining Red was not fired.

Said Strader, who has been Yank mentor since mid-season of 1948:

"I most certainly was fired. I was told definitely that I was through. Needless to say it was a shock to me. I was ready, willing and able to carry on my duties as coach, and I figured on doing so."

Apparently by mutual consent revolved around an interpretation of a contract. Collins admitted he asked Strader to sign concerning his health. Strader spent most of June in the hospital with a heart ailment.

Collins maintained he was advised it might be fatal for Strader to continue as coach.

He continued:

"I was sympathetic and willing for Strader to continue as coach but was unwilling to take upon myself the responsibility for the possible physical consequences to Strader. I therefore requested Strader to sign a letter absolving me of responsibility . . . However, until the last moment indicated he would do so, but apparently now has finally decided he will not. Under these circumstances, I find it impossible to permit Strader to act as coach."

"I never heard of that type of document demanded of anyone," Strader said. "It looks like a death certificate . . . The only difference between me now and last season is that I'm a year older. My life is more important to me than anyone else. I love football, but wouldn't go out there if I thought it meant committing suicide."

A graduate of St. Mary's College, Strader joined the Yanks as an assistant coach in 1946 after serving in the Navy during World War II. He replaced Ray Flaherty in 1948. Last season, the Yanks won seven and lost five.

Neale is the logical candidate for the job. For one thing, he is the only big-name coach not plying his trade. Fo, another, he is well-experienced among the pros. This is important if the new mentor is to step in "cold."

Young Tom Morgan Newest Yankee Find

21-Year-Old Righthander Cops 8th Straight Verdict as New York Increases Loop Lead

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees appear to have come up with a worthy replacement for 21-year-old Eddie Ford. He is 21-year-old Tom Morgan.

One of the reasons critics were predicting the fall of the Yankee empire last spring was because of Ford's call to the armed forces.

"Where will the Yankees get a replacement for Ford?" they asked. "Who among Casey Stengel's newcomers is going to win nine more games that Ford copped after the Fourth of July?"

Early hopes that Morgan might do it faded when the young righthander was shipped to Kansas City last May after losing his first start. But Morgan came back after a month of seasoning and wasted no time filling Ford's shoes.

Stengel started him against Washington on June 28 and he responded by shutting out the Senators, 3-0. Since then he has racked up seven consecutive victories without a defeat. His eighth straight came last night, a 4-0 whitewash job against the Senators. It was his third shutout. He won a 1-0 hurling duel from Ned Garver of St. Louis on June 30.

The victory stretched the Yankees' first-place American League lead over second-place Cleveland to one full game and over third-place Boston to four games. Both Cleveland and Boston were idle.

Yanks Hit Hard

In the only other big league activity, Chicago's fourth - place White Sox whipped the Tigers in Detroit, 10-1. First baseman Eddie Robinson cracked two home runs, a double and single to lead the Sox attack while righthander Joe Dobson stopped the Tigers with five hits for his seventh win.

Detroit surrendered only five hits, all singles. The Senators staged scoring threats in each of the first and eighth innings.

Gil Coan and Mickey Vernon singled in between outs in the first but Sam Mele struck out to end the threat. Jim Busby singled and Cass Michaels walked to open the eighth but Morgan retired the next three batters.

Gil McDougald, another Yankee rookie, accounted for the first two runs off former Yank righthander Don Johnson, with his ninth home run to score Yogi Berra in front of him. McDougald drove in the third run with a long fly and Gene Woodling's triple followed by Bobby Brown's a single closed out the scoring in the seventh.

The White Sox sweetened loser Hal White and two relievers for 15 hits to remain seven games behind the Yankees. It was Dobson's first victory since the All-Star game July 10. Joe Ginsberg's eighth home run in the sixth was the only run scored off the 34-year-old slabster.

A crowd of 44,344 saw utility infielder Merrill Combs hit a two-run homer in the ninth to give the Indians a 5-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition game in Cleveland.

The late Col. Matt J. Winn introduced the $2 unit of betting as the standard at Churchill Downs, Ky., in 1911.* Prior to that the standard betting unit was $5.

Continues to Win

Ernie Johnson

Leading chucker in the American Association League this season is big Ernie Johnson of the Milwaukee Brewers. The righthander has chalked up ten wins against two defeats for a .833 percentage. Johnson won two games last week, beating Indianapolis and Toledo. He has won his last six decisions.

Known to Manchester fans for his basketball ability, Johnson has been in 24 games with the Brewers, half in relief during the first half of the season, and pitched 136 innings. He has 90 strikeouts, best mark in the loop. Johnson joined the Manchester ag- ers in the Eastern Pro Basketball League last winter.

Rocky Gains Easy Victory

Hunter Disqualified and Future Forfeited in 2 Round Boston Bout

Boston, Aug. 7.—(AP) — Rocky Graziano who hopes to regain the world middleweight championship one day, won another fight last night from Chuck Hunter of Cleveland—but there was considerable confusion before the verdict was announced finally.

Ma...sachusetts boxing commissioners announced belatedly, "Graziano wins. Hunter is disqualified and his purse forfeited to the commonwealth."

Graziano, who had a similar experience four weeks ago in Kansas City with Cecil Hudson of Milwaukee, appeared to have knocked out Hunter late in the second round.

Referee Ed McDonald began counting when Hunter went down after being hit on the chin by a Graziano cross.

McDonald adjusted to have counted Hunter out and headed for that portion of ringside where the commissioners sat.

The two fighters began mixing again and McDonald stopped them.

The fight was announced "no contest."

McDonald explained only, "The whole thing stunk from the start." Hunter was slapping before Graziano hit him with that right cross. Jerry Norton pulled him aside.

The news se went out before Norton and Commissioner Tommy McFarland reappeared at the deserted ringside and told boxing writers the final decision.

They reported Hunter was disqualified by McDonald and Judges Jim Shaughnessy and Joe Santapio and Graziano awarded the victory.

Some of the small Boston Garden crowd of 5,885 booed during the first round when Graziano missed often with his windmill rights and lefts while Hunter, who at 169 had a four and half pound edge, flicked left jabs into the Brooklynite's face.

Hunter didn't even blink as Graziano staged scoring threats in the first and eighth innings.

Gil Coan and Mickey Vernon singled in between outs in the first but Sam Mele struck out to end the threat. Jim Busby singled and Cass Michaels walked to open the eighth but Morgan retired the next three batters.

Gil McDougald, another Yankee rookie, accounted for the first two runs off former Yank righthander Don Johnson, with his ninth home run to score Yogi Berra in front of him. Scatters Three Hits in Extra Innings Game, Bests Steve Cooper In Great Mound Duel

Ronnie Simmons was the hero for the Little League Cardinals last night against the Red Sox in an extra inning game at Memorial Field. Simmons scattered three hits, Cooper, the Red Sox ace and No. 1 pitcher in the loop, and also drove in the winning run in the bottom half of the seventh inning for a 2 to 1 triumph.

The freckle-faced right hander gave up but three hits, two by Cooper and one by Danny Renn. The Cards collected eight base hits off Cooper, with eight players each getting one base knock.

Fine Defensive Play

For six innings it was a scoreless battle, replete with fine defensive plays. Then, in the top of the seventh, Joe Soucy broke the ice for the Red Sox with a single tally. Cooper singled, stole second and scored on a single by Danny Renn's double to right field.

Coach Ronnie Dupre's Red Birds rallied their forces in their last at bats. Little Bobby Sutton singled to right to start the fireworks. Johnny Alosky beat out an infield roller for a hit and there were runners on first and second with none out. Bobby Dugle, sent up to sacrifice the runners along, did just that all right, but he beat the throw to first for a base hit. With the sacks jammed, Dick Farrell was sent to the plate for Benny Nelson. Cooper uncorked a wild pitch and Sutton scampered home. Catcher Roger Benson of the Sox retrieved the ball and flipped to Cooper. Sutton was called out, but when Cooper dropped the ball, the decision was reversed. The score was knotted at 1-all, and the Cards had runners on second and third base.

Farrell Whiffs

Farrell struck out for the first out and up strode Simmons to the plate. The left-handed swinger rifled Cooper's first pitch down the rightfield line for a single as Alosky scored the winning run. Jimmy Maneggia managed to get his place on Simmons' hit, but could not grasp the pill and it rolled to the outfield.

Tonight the Yankees meet the Dodgers at 6 o'clock at Memorial Field.

Car Smashed, Hit by Truck

Intersection at Oakland And North Main Is Scene of Collision

A car and dump truck collided about 5 o'clock last night at the intersection of North Main and Oakland streets. Damage was reported minor to the truck but extensive to the car. Patrolman John Thurner investigated and made no arrests. No one was injured.

The car, a 1949 Cadillac convertible club coupe, owned by the Johnson Motors of West Hartford and driven by George Hutchinson of 2 Lemay street, West Hartford, was proceeding south on Oakland street, according to the report. Robert H. Klotzer, 19, of Rockville, was going east on North Main street. Hutchinson stopped before cutting across traffic at Apel place to go on towards Burnham street. Klotzer rounded the bend and did not see the stopped car because his vision was blocked by another vehicle. He applied his brakes but couldn't avoid the impact. Estimated speed was 20 miles per hour and neither vehicle was pushed very far.

Damages to the Klotzer truck were confined to the right front fender while the right front of the Hutchinson car was smashed and required Dillon's wrecker to tow it away.

Start Erecting Steel Towers

Work has been started on the erection of transmission towers at the Connecticut Power company's new sub-station on Olcott street. The galvanized steel is being handled by a large crane.

The 8,000 kilowatt sub-station will handle two new transmission lines which will run over rights of way to East Hartford and connect with Hartford Electric Light company lines to the South Meadow generating station in Hartford. The local plant is expected to be completed and operating by October 1.

The station is being built on a nine and a half acre plot formerly owned by Wilbur T. Little and will cover about four acres. The rest of the land is being landscaped. A one-story cinder block and brick building has been erected close to the Olcott street entrance.

The large residential growth here in the past few years has made the project necessary. The sub-station is designed to improve and enlarge electric service and insure an adequate power supply for many years.

Group of Manchester Electric Workers to Go To Middletown

A few of the office employees of the Manchester division of the Connecticut Power company at 773 Main street will be transferred as of Oct. 1 to the company's Middletown offices for the purpose of combining the billing and part of the bookkeeping operation, it was learned today.

The transfer will not effect a major change, and the few employees involved have been given advance notice of the plan.

The Manchester office will still be maintained and local customers will continue to pay their bills here, but the accounts will be handled at the Middletown office.

Blaik Admits Point Recruited Gridders

Academy Head States Army Case

Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy, glances as he addresses newsmen in his office at West Point, N. Y. Gen. Irving told interviewers that any of the 90 censured cadets who admit classroom cheating will be given a chance to resign with a clean record. The news conference was the first held by the General since the scandal, biggest in academy history, broke last Friday.

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Head football Coach Earl H. Blaik said today that West Point yearly recruits a percentage of its football team from the nations high schools.

"If we did not do that," he said, "we would be unable to have any athletes in West Point able to play a normal schedule."

Blaik's statement came in the midst of a controversy over dismissal of 90 cadets, including most of the football squad, for cribbing in classroom examinations.

It followed a report quoting Donald MacDonald, Flint, Mich., high school star, that the academy attempted to recruit him.

Denies High Pressure

Blaik denied, however, that any of the high school boys were highpressured to enter the academy. Many of them, he said, themselves contact West Point and ask for an opportunity to enter.

Of 24 boys given such an opportunity this spring, Blaik went on, only seven of them were able to pass stiff entrance examinations, and only five of them actually entered the academy in July.

The Chicago Tribune had quoted MacDonald as saying he had a five-week expense-paid vacation at the academy this summer and other football prospects and potential players had informal talks with Blaik.

In Flint, however, MacDonald said the story was a "misrepresentation of facts."

Blaik said in his statement:

"Young Mr. MacDonald has informed my office that remarks made by him were garbled to such

1,000 Battle to Reach Youth Peace Festival; West Counters East

Munich, Germany, Aug. 8—(AP)—About 1,000 West German Communist youth armed with clubs and brass knuckles stormed the East German border today in an effort to reach the "World Youth Peace Festival" in Berlin, West Germans announced today. Most of them were turned back.

The youths concentrated at several points north of Bamberg and battled police who barred their way across the frontier, the police announcement said.

Four persons were injured, including one Communist youth who was shot in the leg by a policeman.

Police detained 404 of the youths and 246 of them are still under arrest. An undetermined number crossed the border into Soviet East Germany.

Two Bound Over In Shooting-Theft

Avon, Aug. 8—(AP)—Charged with robbery with violence and assault with intent to kill two men were bound over to the Superior Court in bonds of $15,000 each by the Avon town court last night.

Joseph A. Taschner, 20, of Farmington, and Robert M. Beers of Hollis, N. Y. both pleaded innocent to the charges.

Police captured the pair at gunpoint July 28, after a holdup in Buddy's Snack Bar here during which Mrs. Idella Brown, the proprietor was shot in the stomach.

Both men were said by police to be AWOL (absent without official leave) from Camp Atterbury, Ind., since July 7.

In addition to the robbery and assault counts Taschner and Beers are charged with the theft of three automobiles and with breaking and entering, theft and defrauding a service station.

Virginia's strong Democratic organization, headed by U. S. Senator Byrd, suffered at least two setbacks in important State Senate races in yesterday's primary election.

And down in Mississippi two old-timers and a political newcomer were locked in battle today for two berths in the run-off Democratic primary for governor.

Unofficial returns from more than a third of the state's 1,782 precincts gave former Gov. White 18,479; Ross Barnett, the newcomer, 18,105 and Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin, 16,908.

Just a shade behind them was Wall Doxey, Jr., with 16,855 votes.

In both elections, nomination is tantamount to election.

Virginia's anti - organization wing scored one victory in the heavy industrial district in the Newport News shipbuilding area.

Democrat Case Is Dismissed

Washington, Aug. 8—(AP)—Congress received an unofficial estimate today that the war in Korea already has cost the U. S. $5,000,000,000 and may cost at least that much more by next June 30.

That is in addition to the cost in American men killed, wounded or missing in action.

The estimate came from Rep. Mahon (D., Tex.) as the House started debate on a record peacetime $56,062,405,890 military budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Mahon, chairman of an appropriations subcommittee which drafted the bill, told a reporter that while his estimates were "not authentic", they were based on the best information available to Congress. The cost up to last June 30, he said, was about $5,000,000,000 and the estimated cost for the year ending next June 30 "will be around $4,500,000,000 if the Korean action continues without expansion.

The pending bill does not include the cost of the Korean campaign for this fiscal year, an additional measure being planned to finance that.

Mahon's statement was interpreted generally as a bid to Congress not to make any major reductions in the bill because of the gravity of the international situation and the necessity of building up American defenses. The appropriations committee already has cut $1,542,608,500 from the amount requested by President Truman. A Senate appropriations subcommittee is holding hearings on a similar bill.

No further major cuts are expected when the House starts amending its bill tomorrow. However, many members favor an amendment to limit the future use of American troops for General Eisenhower's Western European Defense army. A move to impose such a limitation in the draft bill last April failed by only five votes.

The Senate has passed a resolution saying that no additional troops commitments should be made for the Atlantic Pact army without Congressional approval. The resolution has been shelved by the House Foreign Affairs committee and apparently the only way the House can express itself on the subject is through amendments to military bills.

About half of the money in the pending bill is for the purchase of air-cooled military hardware—air-

Scant Hope U. S. Curbs World War

"In my judgment, there is only a minimum hope that our difficulties with Russia can and will be resolved short of war. Trends from cold to hot war, from little wars to big wars, do not have a tendency to reverse themselves short of an all-out explosion.

Tension Grows Over Kashmir

Pakistan Centers Hold Blackout Tests; Fear Aggression by India

Calcutta, India, Aug. 8—(AP)— War tension between India and Pakistan increased today with reports that cities in East Pakistan staged effective practice blackouts last night and with claims by the local Indian press that Pakistan plans joint attacks on Kashmir and India's east Bengal area.

Reports reaching here said sirens wailed and streets were quickly cleared in two-hour test alerts in the east Pakistan capital of Dacca, and at Narayangung, nerve center of Pakistan's vital jute industry.

Calcutta's Hindustani Standard claimed to have information from the most reliable sources that Pakistan plans to stage "aggression' against the disputed princely state of Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan are fighting.

Prime Minister Nehru declared last week he had information that

De Gasperi Wins Senate Backing

Rome, Aug. 8—(AP)— Premier Alcide de Gasperi today won a 151 to 101 vote of confidence from the Senate for his seventh government.

Eight senators abstained from voting.

The vote followed a fighting speech by the Christian Democrat premier in which he avowed that his government would continue to oppose Communism and the resurgence of Fascism in Italy.

De Gasperi described the increased vote won in recent elections by the Fascist-line Italian Social Movement (MSI) as "a return to ancient error."

"Truly," he added, " I confess

Scant Hope U. S. Curbs World War

Washington, Aug. 8—(AP)—Congressional military expert told the House today "there is only a minimum hope" that the United States can avert an all-out war that might last 10 years.

Opening debate on a $56,000,000,000 military appropriation bill, Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) cautioned against "complacency" and sounded this warning:

"In my judgment, there is only a minimum hope that our difficulties with Russia can and will be resolved short of war. Trends from cold to hot war, from little wars to big wars, do not have a tendency to reverse themselves short of an all-out explosion.

"We are not so blind that we fail to realize that an all-out shooting war might last for a decade and might very well destroy much of civilization as we know it on this planet.

"One cannot but shudder at the

N. C. Blaze Loss Set At Million

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A spectacular fire swept through a section of this east central North Carolina city of 22,000 early today, destroying one large tobacco warehouse and damaging several other buildings.

City Building Inspector B. L. Hedgepeth estimated damage at one million dollars.

The centre brick warehouse No. 1, with 166,000 square feet of floor space, was a total loss. It was the largest warehouse in this tobacco center.

The cause of the blaze, discovered shortly after 2 a. m. (EST), has not been determined.

Nabs 6 More Reds; FBI Score Now 51

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The FBI snared another batch of alleged American Communists yesterday, promised more arrests, but said there would be "no hysteria, no mass raids, no roundup of thousands."

The latest roundup netted five more Communist leaders in New York, Baltimore and Cleveland. A sixth person, described by the FBI as an attorney for the Red party, was arrested in Baltimore.

All six were charged with plotting to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government. This same accusation was leveled against 11 convicted top-run Communists last year. It was also used against 24 more indicted Reds now awaiting trial.

Hunt Eight Others

Federal agents currently are pressing a hunt for four of the convicted and four of the other defendants.

Those arrested early today and yesterday were:

In Baltimore—George A. Meyers, 38, chairman and organizer in the party's District 4 (Baltimore) headquarters; Roy Wood, 36, Washington, D. C., party chairman; and the attorney, Maurice Louis Braverman, 35, of Baltimore.

In Cleveland—Regina Frankfeld, 41, of Cleveland, a former organizer in Baltimore.

In New York—Dorothy Rose Rose Blumberg, 47, of Brooklyn, former treasurer of the party's 4th district, and Philip Frankfeld, 44, party organizer in Cleveland, apprehended as he boarded a plane for the Ohio city.

The FBI, which announced Braverman's arrest early today, pointed out that he has never publicly admitted affiliation with the party but that he allegedly is the official attorney for the party's Baltimore headquarters.

Meanwhile, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said in San Diego, Calif.,

Charge UN Is Stalling Truce Talk

Tokyo, Aug. 8—(AP)—Red radios remained silent tonight on the United Nations demand for fresh guarantees of neutrality at the site of Korean armistice talks.

Allied negotiators returned to Korea during the day, ready to resume cease-fire talks if and when Communist commanders pledge the Kaesong neutral zone will be kept inviolable.

But neither the Peiping nor Pyongyang radios mentioned tonight the new demand of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. N. commander, first broadcast at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday (10:30 p. m. Monday EST).

Instead—32 hours later—the Chinese Red radio at Peiping featured a report the Red commanders still were waiting for Ridgway's reply to a Communist message dispatched Monday morning.

Report Assurances

The Peiping broadcast said the letter, entrusted to an American liaison officer, contained assurances from North Korean Gen. Nam Il Sung and Gen. Peng Tehhuai that the Kaesong neutrality pledge would be observed.

The apparently was the Red message which Ridgway acknowledged Tuesday in his demand for a new Red pledge they would keep their word.

The monitoring agency in Tokyo said the Red radio broadcast the story in English, Chinese and Japanese. It was featured as a top new items, said to have been written by a Red correspondent at Kaesong.

Waited Tuesday

The Peiping broadcast said the Chinese and North Korean ceasefire delegation waited at Kaesong Tuesday for the U.N. negotiators, but "the latter failed to arrive."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy led the four American delegates back to the Allied headquarters from top secret conference with the U.N. commander in Tokyo.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, delegation spokesman, said the order to resume the interrupted

Strike Threatens Output of Copper

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 8—(AP)—A strike which could cut off an estimated 95 per cent of United States copper production was voted early today for not later than Aug. 20.

The metal trades councils representing all AFL unions in the copper industry, took the action at meeting here.

Council spokesmen said the walkout would hit the big four of copper—Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda Copper Mining Co., Phelps-Dodge Copper Co. and American Smelting and Refining Co.

The move nearly duplicates, but with a definite time limit, the recent vote of the Independent Inter-

Red Propaganda Gains In Exchange of Notes

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 8—(AP)—Moscow's press today published fully the exchange of statements between the United States and the Soviet Union expressing friendship between the two peoples. Moscow can be expected to press its campaign for a five-power peace pact, and to interpret its rejection by the U. S. as turning down of the whole idea of friendship.

The Moscow proposal calls for a pact among Britain, France, the U.S.S.R., the United States and Communist China. For a long time the Soviet Union has been pleading for this as a means of lessening international tension. The United States does not recognize the Communist government of the Peoples Republic of China.

Get Wide Display

The press and radio of the U.S.S.R. now have given almost the entire Soviet population of 200,000,000 an opportunity to become acquainted with the exchange of messages—(1) President Truman's letter commending a Congressional resolution of friendship for the Soviet people and (2) the reply of Nikolai M. Shvernik, President of the Supreme Soviet, the U.S.S.R.'s legislature. The texts were broadcast and were given wide display in the newspapers.

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, in an editorial on the exchange, commenting that forces of "international reaction" now

Heat Wave Broils Texas, Hits Crops

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 8—(AP)—A blistering heat wave with a rising death toll continued without relief for Texas today.

No prospects of rain deepened the gloom of farmers faced with withering crops.

City officials in many cities begged residents to save dwindling water supplies for fire fighting and essential home uses. Lawns and flowers turned brown in tens-
