Arrest Women Selling Tacts

Police Pick Up Hartford Pair Alleged to Have Entered Local Homes

Mrs. Antoinette Flores, 54, and her daughter, Josephine, 18, both of Hartford, are being held by local police for breach of peace, Chief Herman Schendel said today. They were picked up yesterday afternoon upon the complaint of a local resident. Chief Schendel said they are now being held. Chief Schendel said investigation will be continued.

The two Hartford women claimed to be selling religious pamphlets from door to door. Complaints have been received, Schendel continued, to the effect that they would ring a door bell. If they received no answer and the door was unlocked, they walked right into the house. In some instances they were confronted by the tenants and offered an excuse that they wanted to use toilet facilities.

Following a complaint of a Walker street resident on Saturday, Patrolman Peter Blaum was dispatched to the scene and ordered the women to leave town. They did so agreeably but returned yesterday. Patrolman Thomas Graham was sent out to investigate, and they were now being held. Chief Schendel said investigation will be continued.

National Bank Hours Change

Institution Closing Wednesday Afternoons to Conform with Stores

Effective September 12, 1951 the First National Bank of Manchester will adjust its hours to suit the public and close at noon on Wednesdays throughout the year.

For many years it has been the traditional policy of most Manchester merchants and business concerns to close Wednesday afternoons throughout the year, with the exception of the peak season during the month of December. The Board of Directors of "The Friendly Bank," following a systematic survey of its customers, has decided to adopt this policy and the Wednesday afternoon schedule of the First National Bank will conform to that of the other major business concerns in Manchester.

N. William Knight, executive vice president, points out that this change in banking hours will in no way affect the Saturday morning banking until noon or Thursday evening banking 6:30 until 8:30. The regular banking hours from 9:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. will continue daily except for Wednesdays and Saturdays from 9:00 until 12:00 noon. Proper notice is being given to all depositors.

Britain, Iran Near Break in Oil Row

London, Aug. 22—(AP)—Britain's cabinet met today in emergency session on the prospects of imminent collapse of the British-Iranian oil dispute negotiations.

Prime Minister Attlee presided over the session, which was attended by Sir William Fraser, chairman of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, whose holdings in Iran have been nationalized.

The Tehran government's reply to a British ultimatum's deadline was "now delayed, a Foreign office spokesman reported, adding that Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran asked for—and got—an extension of the deadline until after his cabinet met tonight.

Richard R. Stokes, leader of the British oil mission in Tehran, was expected to fly back to London at once should the Iranian answer to British demands be a flat "No." But some officials said he might delay his return by 48 hours or so, should Iran show the slightest inclination to come to terms.

Collapse of the Tehran talks would face British leaders with the question whether British troops should be sent to occupy the Iranian oil refinery port of Abadan on the Persian Gulf. A Labor government spokesman said recently Britain would occupy Abadan under certain circumstances, which he did not define.

However, many observers said it was unlikely Britain would risk charges of aggression before the United Nations by undertaking any military expedition in Iran unless she could count on full American support.

The crux of the disagreement between Britain and Iran now seems to revolve about whether control of the oil industry should be vested in British or Iranian personnel. Stokes has given the Iranians terms under which the British staff would be retained in the new Iranian National Oil company.

He suggested that British management work in Iran under the policy control of the National Iranian company. The British apparently believe that if this issue could be solved, other outstanding issues, such as oil prices, supplies and compensation for British assets, could be settled later.

Water Supply Hit In Hawaii Quake

Honolulu, Aug. 22—(AP)—The heaviest earthquake ever recorded on the volcano island of Hawaii cost the Kona coast district most of its treasured water stores—with two months of normal drought ahead.

Property damage was estimated officially at between $750,000 and $1,000,000, but the water loss was the most critical.

The quake jarred the largest of the Hawaiian Islands in early morning darkness yesterday. It wrecked or damaged more than 200 wooden water storage tanks —20 of them on one cattle ranch.

An after-shock bumped the Kona coast last night. Kona police said it was weak and no damage was reported. But it set-shook kettles, dishes and windows in Honolulu.

Japs Believe Russia Will Sign Peace Pact

Tokyo, Aug. 22—(AP)—There is a growing belief in this country that Russia will do the unexpected and sign the Japanese peace treaty in San Francisco next month.

Many Japanese and diplomatic circles express the view that the Russians will sign after putting up a strong fight for inclusion of one major provision.

They say the Reds will agree to keeping an American military establishment in Japan — but will demand a definite date for departure. They are opposed to a treaty before Peiping Radio that Japan's acceptance of a peace treaty not approved by both Red China and Russia would be considered an act of war.

Red China wasn't invited to the peace treaty conference. Soviet Russia accepted after considerable delay.

The feeling around Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Allied headquarters had been that the Soviet delegates enroute to San Francisco are carrying brief cases loaded with monkey wrenches.

But Japanese observers predict the Russians will sign the treaty if they can thus prevent a separate treaty between the U. S. and Japan.

The present plan is for the United States and Japan to sign a unilateral treaty as soon as the ink is dry on the treaty at San Francisco.

This unilateral treaty would provide for the stationing of American troops — between two and four divisions of ground troops plus an Air Force and a Navy—in Japan until this country is able to defend herself.

Russia is believed willing to sign if the provisions of the military establishment are placed in the treaty and a date set for the last American soldier to leave Japan.

Failing in this, the Russians may go ahead and sign anyway because of several reasons.

Even after the treaty is signed it must be ratified before it becomes effective.

Signing would be a surprise and the Russians love to shock the diplomatic world.

Another reason for believing

Four Hurt, Loss Is Set At $30,000

By the Associated Press

Connecticut's first full-fledged tornado in more than a century ripped through the center of East Hampton late yesterday, while further to the West a series of violent electrical storms raged over a wide area.

Four persons were injured, one critically. Property damage in East Hampton alone was estimated at $30,000. High winds uprooted scores of trees in western Connecticut. Power and telephone lines, ripped down by falling trees and limbs, littered roadsides. A number of towns were without electric light and telephone service for hours.

Fred Franson, 61, a Watertown farmer, was critically injured when high winds collapsed a barn around him. He was milking a cow when the wind ripped the roof from the barn and whirled it 25 yards away. The sides collapsed and Franson received crushing injuries when struck by a bale of hay. He was taken to a Waterbury hospital.

Two three others injured were among eight women working on the second floor of the A. M. Starr Net company in East Hampton when the tornado struck, matching away the roof from over their heads. Miss Eva Cook suffered a

Attack Sub Launched

The USS Trout, third of a new class of six fast attack submarines being built for the Navy, was launched at Groton, Conn., yesterday. The 1,000-ton craft is designed to travel at greater speed underwater than on the surface. The Trout was sponsored by Mrs. Mary Crane Clark, widow of Lt. Comdr. Albert H. Clark, who was lost when an earlier Trout went down during actiho off the China coast in 1944.

Atom Submarine Ordered by Navy

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—The Navy has let a contract for the first atomic-powered submarine—a craft described by a Congressional authority as having "immense implications."

Announcing yesterday the award of a contract to the Electric Boat Company of Groton, Conn., the Navy gave no details. Nor would officials elaborate on the 26-word announcement.

But semi-official sources have said an atom-powered submarine would have a vast underwater cruising radius—and that its possible speed has ranged as high as 50 to 60 knots (or about 65 mph) an hour—more than twice that of conventional undersea craft.

Project Advanced

The Navy's announcement, first open step into an atomic powered future, came somewhat after the time when had previously been guardedly expressed.

In March the Navy hoped to start its first nuclear-powered submarine by the end of this year. Yesterday's announcement indicated an approaching solution of major problems in the way of ship propulsion by controlled splitting of atoms now in devices the scientists call reactors.

The craft to be constructed at Groton, it is hoped, will be a 2,500-ton vessel, somewhat larger than the Navy's present fleet submarines.

Neither the Navy nor the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) is likely to give any hints about its performance—assuming it is successful—until it has met its real test on land and under the seas.

But Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee has said the project has "immense military implications."

Taft 'Spills the Beans' On Presidential Hopes

Rockland, Me., Aug. 22—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft accused President Truman today of attempting to dismiss charges of Communist influences and corruption in the administration with shouts of "liar."

The Ohio Republican—named by Mr. Truman as his favorite for the GOP Presidential nomination in 1952—told a party rally in this old fishing port:

"The fact that the President of the United States can so blithely dismiss the proved charges, in many cases brought out and substantiated by Democratic committees, is evidence of his low standard he accepts himself and hopes will be accepted by the people."

Taft challenged the President to follow up denunciation of "scandal mongers" by being specific.

"I suggest," declared Taft, "the President point out the lies instead of shouting 'liar'."

Beginning Down East in a political pulse-taking tour of northern New England, Taft insisted he has not yet made up his mind about running for President—but admitted he might be "forced" to make a decision early next year.

Taft frankly conceded he is thinking about the early Presi-

Center Due Today Over Mainland

Tampico, Mex., Aug. 22—(AP)—A dangerous Hurricane hit Tampico with full fury this morning. Houses were wrecked. Early report said 15 persons injured by windborne debris.

Electric power was cut off to prevent fallen wires from killing people in the streets.

Firemen rescued 25 families from the wreckage of their homes.

The terrific storm hit about 8:30 a. m. CST in the midst of a heavy rain. The Weather Bureau estimated the wind's force at 78 miles an hour. The greatest force of 130 miles an hour at the Hurricane center passed only about 60 miles east of Tampico, and was expected to hit the mainland late today 30 miles north of here.

The storm's fury was such that Associated Press Correspondent Robert Allen, on his way to the city, was unable to drive his car across the Tamesi river, on the mainland side of the peninsula on which Tampico stands.

Worst in 15 Years

Veteran Tampico newsmen described it as the worst storm to hit the city in 15 years. Many lives were lost and the city badly wrecked in the last big hurricane of 1936.

The power company pulled all switches shortly after today's hurricane hit. That left Tampico without lights, stopped street cars, silenced radio stations, cut communications.

Panic stricken refugees ran into schools and public buildings, where hundreds had already taken refuge during the night. Many drenched and frightened townspeople crowded into churches to pray as the winds screamed outside.

Firemen said they had uncount-

Sees Billion Slash in Aid

Connally Predicts Cut In Economic Section Of Request by Truman

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee announced today he would propose a $1,000,000,000 slash in the economic aid section of the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid request.

"I think it will be approved by the military implications," Connally told reporters after a closed-door session of the Foreign Relations and Armed services committees.

This would be a deeper slash in economic funds than that voted by the House when it approved a $7,495,000,000 measure, after cutting the economic funds by $711,250,000.

Connally said two tentative decisions were made by the committees.

One would retain administration of the "Point Four" program for aid to underdeveloped areas within the State department. The House had voted to put this together with all other foreign aid under a proposed new mutual security administration.

Connally said about $118,000,000 of "Point Four" funds were sent-

In other action last night, the board changed the special joint meeting to discuss capital improvements recommended by the Town Planning Commission from Sept. 11 to Monday, Sept. 17. The directors also accepted the resignation of Fred T. Bilsh, Jr., from the Housing Authority.

Director Walter Mahoney, chairman of the Salary committee, reported the wage study has not yet been completed. He was instructed to place the matter on the agenda when the report is ready.

A scheduled discussion of a policy for members of appointed boards was continued on the agenda.

They stress the fact that the blanks must be sent in to contest headquarters no later than August 25. Queen contest headquarters is at the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

The beauty shops of Manchester will also make awards to the Queen and her attendants. Terry's Beauty Salon will donate to the Queen a permanent wave. Coiffures for Queen and her attendants on the float.

The following beauty shops will donate to the Queen and her attendants beautiful compacts: Beauty Nook, Helen Erickson, Yolenda Felice, Harriette Beauty Salon, Jeanne's Beauty Shop, Kay's Beauty Shop, Lily's Beauty Salon, Marlow's Beauty Salon, Schultz Salon and Weldon Beauty Studio.

It is this fine spirit of cooperation as shown by the beauty shops of Manchester which will make the Manchester Queen contest the most successful contest that Manchester has ever had. The local gifts alone will be wonderful prizes for the Manchester Queen and her attendants. The list of prizes and their value grows day by day.

Shingles and Tables Fly In Mountain Road Gust

Manchester has maintained its unusually lucky streak with storms this summer. Although much wind damage was suffered throughout the state in storms last night no damage was reported either to the office of Town Engineer James Sheckey or to the offices of the Connecticut Power Company.

Quite severe damage was done on Mountain road, Glastonbury, just over the Manchester town line, in a small area containing only six houses. The wind damages hit homes on Mountain road from the house of Weston M. Jenks on the south side of the street to the house of Aivah A. Russell on the north side of the street.

An oak and a maple tree were blown down, taking with them the power lines. Soft wood trees and ornamental evergreens were uprooted. A house belonging to M. B. Pratt lost about a third of the asphalt shingles on the west side of the roof, and a wrought iron garden table in the yard was picked up by the wind and has not been located yet. The house next to Mr. Pratt's lost the aluminum storm sashes from two sides. Awnings were destroyed, and all of the TV aerials in the neighborhood were bent over. One large apple tree was uprooted and carried 200 feet.

Residents of the Mountain road section report that all of the damage was done in less than a minute. The winds were reported to have been of tornado force, but no cone, characteristic of that type of storm, was reported.

'Cracker Ban Made in 1918

Town Counsel Informs Directors of Existing Law on Fireworks

Manchester will not have to hold a public hearing on the proposed ordinance banning fireworks because a similar by-law has been in effect since June 14, 1918, in the opinion of Town Counsel John D. LaBelle. The town counsel's letter was presented the Board of Directors last night by General Manager George H. Waddell.

LaBelle states that the 1918 by-law "prohibits the discharge of fireworks in any part of the town without a permit so to do from the chief of police. As far as I am able to determine, that by-law has never been repealed. A by-law passed June 25, 1930, concerning the sale of fireworks contains a paragraph with reference to the discharge of fireworks, but that by-law did not repeal the by-law passed June 14, 1918."

Sept. 18 had been set as the tentative date for a public hearing on an ordinance banning fireworks here.

The 1918 law provides a $20 fine for violators.

Director Walter Mahoney, who is opposed to any legal ban of fireworks, vigorously expressed himself again last night. The law, he says, "trespasses on the rights of the people." He claimed the law is useless because it can not be enforced against children, who are the principle violators.

Although the by-law has apparently been unenforced for several years, the directors did not discuss whether they were going to ask Chief of Police Herman O. Schendel for strict enforcement of the "new" law.

Japs Believe Reds Will Sign Treaty

the Russians will sign is that they have to maintain an embassy here to continue their customary Communist propaganda activity among the people.

Throughout western Europe, the Red propaganda offices are directed from the embassies and everyone knows it.

In Japan, the Russians have an impressive embassy atop a hill and from a tall flag pole a gigantic Red flag furls impressively in the breeze, every day except Sunday.

Closing their embassy would mean pulling out of Japan diplomatically and the Russians are too smart for that.

Exchange Plans Products Show

The regular meeting of the Exchange club was held yesterday noon at the Country club. Plans for holding the annual Products Show were discussed. The committee in charge of the show include Pres. Ed Krasenics ,Earle Rohan, and T. J. Crockett. The dates for the show were set for October 10th to Oct 13th.

A vote was taken and passed to incorporate the club. Attorney Lee Podrove was authorized to draw up the papers as soon as possible.

It was also voted that instead of having the Ladies Night in September that the club members and their wives attend a play in New York. Secretary Frank Robinson and Bill Partridge were appointed as a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

The next meeting is scheduled for the evening of Sept. 10. Maurice Gaudet will provide the speaker and Ed Krasenics the door prize.

Reds to Increase Lease Settlement

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Russia has indicated it is willing to go higher than its last offer of $240,000,000 in settlement of its lend-lease account with the U. S.

The Soviet received $11,000,000,000 worth of U. S. goods during the war, but this government has been willing to settle for $800,000,000 or less, on the basis that most of the total amount of goods had no peacetime value.

The State department, after settlement talks were resumed yesterday, said Moscow's negotiators had agreed to up their previous "final offer" but did not say how much. Talks will resume Friday.

The Russians refused, however, to return 670 small naval vessels they got from the U. S. during the war. They contend the U. S. welched on an agreement to sell the ships, and that anyway only 498 of them are left. They did agree to return two icebreakers.

Taft 'Spills Beans' On Hopes For '52

ential primaries—the first in the ition being in New Hampshire in March.

Spills Beans

And a group of Portland Republicans whom Taft addressed last night wondered if he had spilled the beans about his plans.

Urging hard organizational work in '52, Taft said:

"If Republicans get out there isn't any doubt of my election."

When the applause and laughter died down Taft added:

"I mean there's no doubt in my mind we can win."

The Ohio Senator opened his five-day junket with a swing through New Hampshire, where he met party leaders—and was told privately that the sentiment there has not yet crystallized.

While swinging out with both fists in his denunciation of the Truman administration's policies —at home and abroad—Taft brushed aside attempts to feel him out on General Dwight Eisenhower as a potential Presidential candidate.

Shepherding "Taft in his Maine travelings was Maine's Senator Owen Brewster, (R), who is pushing the Ohio Senator's candidacy with the slogan "Taft or Chaos."

Taft predicted the Republicans would present a "united front" in 1952 and declared:

"The real split in Washington is in the Democratic party because half of them are left-wing socialists who dominate the executive administration, but can't control the Congress."

Taft described the Truman administration as "wavering and uncertain" in both its foreign and domestic programs.

War Games Tide Shifts to Defense

Guard unit from Denver, Colo., and transferred them to U. S. forces. Both the 137th, which flies the speedy F-84 jets and the 140th, equipped with convehtional type F-51 Mustangs, are now based at Wilmington.

Thus, two U. S. Army divisions, the 25th and the 43rd, found the tide shifting in their favor after two days of reverses, that forced them to withdraw about 10 miles. The reverses which are still continuing today, enabled the two former National Guard units to gain valuable training under realistic battle conditions and without the benefit of a dominating air force.

All signs were pointing to a major buildup for a counter-attack by the U. S. Forces and the emphasis was on supply. The broad responsibility for moving the supplies up in time fell on the shoulders of a Korean veteran, Maj. Gen. Crump Garvin. Gen. Garvin is commanding general of the 301st Logistical Command, a former New York City reserve unit that was pulled into active service last fall.

Stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala., the 301st is a new-type army outfit that relieves high-ranking field commanders of many headaches, of administration and supply.

Film of Manchester Ready For Showing Soon at State

Your childhood dream of someday getting into the movies has finally come true and you can see yourself on the screen at the State Theater in the near future. A film entitled "My Home Town," a 31-minute production of Manchester, has been completed and was previewed by local businessmen and professional men yesterday afternoon at the Circle Theater through the courtesy of Jack Sanson, manager of Warner Brothers movie houses here.

The film was completed recently after ace cameraman Charles Wicker finished shooting scenes of Manchester. Leading roles are played by you, you and you. Probably you didn't know you were going to be in the movies, but you are. The narration is done by Bill Stern, noted sports commentator. It was produced by Home Town Movie Company of New York, sponsored by businessmen of Manchester.

No one will want to miss this movie. Everyday life in Manchester is depicted ir. scenes taken at work and at play. The opening scene shows Manchesterites strolling on Main street on a busy shopping day. Some of our historic spots, leading business establishments, churches, schools, industry, your police and firemen in action, several shots of Little Leaguers and Globe Hollow, city officials, the hospital and many other points too numerous to mention, are pictured. The fireworks display of July 4 is also included in the movie.

Scenes taken in several of the industrial sections include workers at Case Brothers, Cheney Brothers, Pioneer Parachute, Manchester Modes, and Rogers Corporation. Other scenes were taken of Sunday morning worshippers. Police Chief Herman Schendel is seen putting his men through their training, both in first aid, traffic duty and on the firing range.

Shopping facilities are shown in scenes taken at Keith's Furniture Store, Watkins Brothers, Tweedie and Manchester Motor Sales. The new construction projects come in for a share of the movie with Alexander Jarvis and his company right at work. Children play an important part as they are depicted enjoying the swimming facilities, movies and Little League baseball at Memorial Field. The newsboys are shown starting out from The Herald with papers to cover routes.

We could go on and on telling you what is in the movie, but wouldn't take any of the enjoyment away from the picture. But, it is a movie none will want to miss. Residents don't realize just how much the town has to offer until they see it on the screen.

Wecker, a New Yorker, is rated one of the top men in his profession. He was a photographer in Europe for the State department during the war and has filmed some of the big movies seen on the screen today. Similar films of home towns have been made in other towns throughout the country. It took about three months to complete production of the film. This will be a chance for the viewer to see Manchester "go Hollywood."

Budenz Airs U. S. Politburo

testified before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. Senators are inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

Chairman McCarran (D., Nev.) contends the IPR has influenced official policy. The IPR is a private organization, formed in the 1920s, with the declared aim of promoting knowledge of the Pacific area.

Budenz told the Senators that he attended Communist politburo meetings at which IPR officials received orders from the then Communist leader Earl Browder.

He called IPR a "captive" organization "completely under control of the Communist party."

Within its ranks, he said, was a joint Communist cell with Amerasia." Amerasia was a magazine dealing with Asian affairs, but was not officially connected with IPR. It no longer is published.

Budenz said he knew from "official communications within the conspiracy" that Owen Lattimore, one time editor of IPR publications, was a Communist and that so was the millionaire New York belle, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, a former IPR official.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins university professor, denied under oath at a Senate inquiry last year that he was or ever had been a Communist. Field once refused to answer questions as to whether he had held Communist connections.

Budenz said he and other high leaders used to get detailed reports of Communist activities in which persons on "delicate" assignments for the party were identified only by blank spaces or by initials. He said Lattimore was identified in these reports as "L" or "XL."

Budenz said he attended Politburo meetings at which he saw and heard Field receive instructions. Field sometimes operated under the code name of "Comrade Frederick Spencer," he said.

Politburo, Budenz said, was the name given the Communist party's policy making body in this country, but the name later was abandoned.

Budenz said Lattimore received at least some Politburo instructions through Field, and was considered valuable because he "could bring support of Soviet policies in language which was non-Soviet."

Upsets Court On Remington

guilty by a jury of seven women and five men last Feb. 7. Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan imposed the maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The reversal was based in large part on technical grounds. Judge Swan agreed with the defense that the definition of membership in the Communist party, contained in the charge to the jury, was too vague and indefinite."

Concurring in the decision were former Chief Judge Learned Hand and Judge Augustus N. Hand.

Remington had risen rapidly in government service until his loyalty was questioned. At the age of 29, he was the Department of Commerce official in charge of exports to Russia and its satellite countries.

During his trial he occupied the witness stand for a week and insisted throughout he never had been a Communist. The prosecution was never able to prove that Remington possessed a Communist party membership card, but contended he used a Communist party post office box to receive mail at Knoxville, Tenn.

Challenge Truman Curbs Fight Aim

ator:

"I challenge the President of the United States to send down his idea of (any new) legislation. Let's have this thing out, once and for all."

Capehart defended the new price control law as "a good law that will prevent runaway inflation" if properly administered.

He is the senior Republican and Maybank is the chairman of the Senate Banking committee, which handles economic controls legislation. Maybank said he will be willing to listen to any administration proposals.

Mr. Truman has denounced the present controls law as inadequate to cope with inflation under the rising pressure of vast defense spending. He met yesterday morning to discuss with his 17-man mobilization advisory committee what Press Secretary Joseph Short called "a probable message to Congress asking for further amendments."

Presumably any such message would ask revision of the restrictions on price rollbacks and a ban on meat [illegible].

Mr. Truman and his economic aides have singled out those provisions for criticism.

Short said that "naturally the administration is trying to do the best it can with the law as it now stands, but he's thinking in terms of another message to Congress."

Varna, Bulgarian port now known as Stalin, is a city of 75,000.

dence today to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh on his stand rejecting the latest British proposals for settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. But the Lower House urged him to continue the oil crisis negotiations which are threatening to break down.

The vote in the Majlis (Lower House) was 73 to nothing. Earlier the Senate had approved the nationalistic Premier's uncompromising policies by a vote of 33 in favor with three abstentions.

After Deadline

This new parliament move came an hour after the original deadline set by Britain's chief negotiator Richard Stokes, who yesterday said he would return to London unless Mossadegh abandons his stonewall stand against the British proposals.

A British spokesman said Stokes extended his ultimatum deadline to 3 o'clock this afternoon local time (7:30 a. m., e. t.) in view of the fact that Parliament appeared to want to keep the talks from breaking down.

Later, Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi said the cabinet would meet at 4 p. m. to start an answer to Stokes' latest statement. This seemed to make it plain that the Iranian government was ignoring the Stokes deadline, which apparently irritated the Iranians.

Fatemi told reporters that on the advice of W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's special envoy in the oil crisis, "We have the utmost desire to settle the oil dispute in friendly talks."

GREEN HITS CONTROLS

Columbus, O., Aug. 22—(AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said yesterday changes in the new defense production act "make a mockery of price control."

Green, in a speech before the 66th annual convention of the Ohio State Federation of Labor, said "The record of the Congressional coalition (of Republicans and Southern Democrats) in retaining controls at this critical time constitutes a scandalous indictment."

We Won't Because We Didn't

This, as a period when international relationships are full of both drama and change, is quite naturally a hot time for the amateur prophets, who sit down with their crystal ball and make sweeping predictions of how it is all going to come out.

One Washington prophet sat down the other day and came up with this reading of the present situation.

In Korea and elsewhere, he said, Russia has proved that she does not back from war with us. Therefore, the danger of war has receded, because Russia will not start war with us. But, he said, the danger of war will reappear when we, the United States, become powerful enough to go after Russia and corner her into a showdown.

That is a lovely thought, isn't it? Russia isn't going to start a war, but we may.

Well, we hope he is more accurate about Russia than we think he is about us.

We haven't the slightest doubt that there are some Americans who think that the thing we should do, after we amass sufficient military strength, is go over and blast Russia off the map.

Nor are we blind to the historic tradition which says that any nation which builds the military strength we plan to build sooner or later has a temptation to use it.

Yet, taking such factors into consideration, we doubt that the American people are ever going to support or tolerate such a use of American power, or even be blinded or fooled into letting it happen in spite of themselves. We happen to think the American people are a lot closer to, and a lot more critical of, their foreign policy than they have ever been before. We happen to think they want peace, and not war.

Perhaps our best proof of all this lies in the MacArthur controversy. As we said when it opened, there was every surface reason for MacArthur to sweep this country—his personal prestige and glamor and military record, and, on the other side, the drab unpopular personality of Truman. On such factors, sentiment in this country could easily have been completely one-sided, leaving only a handful of professional Democrats still siding with Truman.

But, as we also said at the very beginning of the controversy, there were other factors which, if the American people were intelligent, were bound to prove decisive. For all his glamor, MacArthur was wrong. For all his unpopularity, Truman was right.

The wrong and the right of the controversy did not lie open and prominent on the surface of it. They were to be found only in thoughtful analysis of what MacArthur recommended, in a study of his inconsistencies, in an evaluation of the very glamor and dramatic art he brought to his presentation of his case, in an effort to understand where his policies would lead if they were followed.

But as a result of the study and understanding of the issues involved, in contrast to the personalities, the American people reached their own opinion. The result has been that so far as the controversy is still alive, it is not Truman, but MacArthur who is down to a last die-hard group of supporters. He has the fanatics, but the great majority of the American people long ago turned from the personalities to the fundamental issues involved. And if the American people can cut through such absorbing drama of personality to find their own views of policy, they can keep their heads any time a similar challenge to the is flung.

We don't think we're going to seek out war with Russia. We didn't.

A Valid Political Attack

Republicans at Washington these days are specialising in minority reports which are obvious blueprints for use in the 1952 campaign. One such minority report—probably no real favor to the party—appeared on the MacArthur hearings. Now another minority report, also political in intent, but much more soundly based and not likely to run into any dissent from Republicans anywhere, has appeared, by Senators Capehart and Bricker, who sat in on the Fulbright Committee's investigation of charges of favoritism in RFC loans.

The minority charge that much of the unsavory atmosphere in the RFC record stems directly from the White House itself is a political charge, but it is also altogether too true. If the minority charge overplays the importance of President Truman and Democratic National Chairman Boyle in the RFC record, it is also true that President Truman has underplayed the importance of what had been going on in RFC loans, and tended to apply to the whole investigation, as to other matters in which public ethics were involved, the standards of the Pendergast machine for which he himself was once a minor frontman.

There has been corruption and favoritism in Washington in general, and in the RFC in particular, and Truman's consistent refuge has been that any charge or allegation to this effect has been merely partisan politics. And that it is, but it is also truth, which the country would like to see respected and acted on.

In only one instance is the Republican minority clearly vulnerable itself. It did not dare to comment on the fact that one Republican Senator, McCarthy of Wisconsin, was also in the RFC net, receiving a $10,000 fee from one of the more questionable RFC borrowers. Senators Bricker and Capehart could have strengthened their case if they had forgotten their artificial party loyalty to McCarthy and their own foreign policy sympathy with him, and bracketed him in the same shabbiness they condemn so wholeheartedly when they can pin it on the Democrats.

But, on the whole, the Bricker-Capehart attack is no more than an administration which has grown careless and callous in its use and abuse of its power fully deserves. And if the administration thinks that the public does not really care, or will forget, it is, we think, due for something of a shock, come 1952.

What Iran Wants

The British have made slow and painful progress towards recognizing and granting what it is the Iranians want in connection with the future of their oil industry. In the recent negotiations, they have offered the Iranians everything they want except one thing. That, unfortunately, is the all important thing, so far as the Iranians are concerned—more important than the question of profits.

The crucial issue is that of whether or not the Iranians shall be free agents in their new ownership of their own oil fields, or whether they shall still operate under a British veto.

That veto is now being wielded in the form of the unwillingness of Britain to allow its own executives and technicians to continue in the employ of the oil industry unless certain conditions are guaranteed. Iran wants the British to continue to operate the oil industry. That is not where the quarrel comes. The quarrel comes in the very subtle business of conditions. The British condition is that Iran shall guarantee that the chief executive head of the oil industry shall be a Britisher. In fact, it is quite likely that Iran would choose to hire a Britisher for this post. But Iran will not be told that she must do so. She will not have this Britisher, whoever he might be, guaranteed his job by Britain instead of Iran.

Iran fears that any Britisher come to the position under such conditions would have so much power that he might hold the whip-hand over Iran. He would do this, it suspects, by threatening to resign, along with the British staff for the oil industry, any time his policies were questioned.

The British, as we have said, have come a long ways in the course of the Iranian controversy, but they have not yet taken the final step. Probably it seems almost preposterous to them, for it is the concession of complete equality, it is the abandonment of the last British string. It is the admission that Britain has no right to impose conditions of any kind, and that Iran is as free to operate its oil industry as if Iran were the United States or France, and as free to hire British technicians as either of these countries might be. Britain does not impose conditions if a United States company wants to hire a British expert. That is the status Iran is demanding for itself. It is surprising and shocking that Iran has become so bold so soon, so bold as to demand full equality among nations, and it is easy for outsiders to recommend that Iran be patient and reasonable. But, fundamentally and honestly, who can really quarrel with the way Iran feels?

Center Thespians To Play Pygmalion

"Pygmalion," George Bernard Shaw's well-known comedy-romance, will be presented by the Center Thespians at Verplanck school on September 7 and 8 under the direction of William Astley.

Cast in featured roles are Alan Coe, Jr., as Henry Higgins; Joan Astley as Liza Doolittle; Ernest Wettlich as Colonel Pickering; Ruth Rowley as Mrs. Higgins, and Donald McClain as Alfred Doolittle. The cast also includes Cecilia Carroll, Mary Jane Wilson, Betty Lundberg, Merrill (Butch) Adams, and Charles (Chuck) Pinney.

Truly a "play-on-words," "Pygmalion" is woven around the complete making over of a bedraggled Harold L. Hudson, and baritone and illiterate young woman of the London slums to a beautiful and well-spoken lady - in-waiting of the Queen's Court. As Henry Higgins, a professor who specializes in phonetics, works this metamorphosis in his protege, Liza Doolittle, through patient (and perhaps more often impatient) application of his teaching theories, the ensuing repercussions provoke both laughter and tears in theater audiences.

Millions 'Strike,' Boom Peron, Eva

President and Vice President in the Nov. 11 elections.

Although the city took on a festive air, there was an undercurrent of tenseness as federal police declared that a plot was afoot to frighten people with reports that trouble may be expected during the demonstration. But opposition leaders said they had given orders to their followers to stay away from the demonstration and to avoid disorders of any kind.

Police Alerted

Police are alert for any move on the part of the opposition to capitalize on the rally. Special guards have been placed on all trains bringing workers to Buenos Aires for the demonstration. Others have been stationed at important public buildings, bridges and power plants.

There was no indication whether the President and his wife will announce their candidacy on a "Peron-Peron" ticket until after the superior council of the Peronista party meets in a day or two.

Peron has said repeatedly he does not want a second six-year term. But during recent months he has left little doubt in the minds of his followers that he can be drafted. If Mrs. Peron agrees to run with him, she will be the first woman in Argentine history to seek election for public office. It was she who fought to get Argentine women their right to vote.

Victory Almost Certain

If the couple chooses to run, their victory appears almost certain. Opposition parties are prevented by law from forming a coalition to buck the huge Peron political machine. Opposition leaders often accuse the government of preventing their free action through control of radio stations and newsprint.

The biggest problem for the CGT has been to find lodgings for the thousands of visitors they have brought in free of charge. Garages have been turned into temporary hotels with bedding on the floors. The city's hotels are bulging with guests—most of them Peronista and CGT leaders. Field kitchens have been set up at strategic places. The CGT as well as Mrs. Peron's social aid foundation will distribute food and soft drinks during the day.

Water Supply Hit In Hawaii Quake

he west slope of Mauna Loa Volcano, had at least one advantage for tasting, drinking and household water.

The Kona coast is the driest section of the islands.

Yesterday's tremor was centered deep below the undersea slope of massive Mauna Loa. The volcano rises 13,680 feet above sea level and slants 18,000 feet under water to the ocean floor.

There was no evidence of any impending eruption by Mauna Loa, one of the world's most active volcanoes. It spilled molten lava into the sea a little more than a year ago.

Police Sgt. Emery Kunitomo at Kailua on the Kona coast said Territory department and Hawaii county trucks from Hilo, across the island, were hauling emergency water supplies to Kona coast residents.

The water-hauling must continue daily. The Kona coast normally receives its rain until well into October.

Kunitomo said there had been little rain through July and August.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Aug. 22— (AP)—A strong earth tremor was felt in this capital last night at 11:40. No reports have been received so far concerning other sections of the country.

Macy Ends Reign In New York GOP

many is the Democratic organization in New York County (Manhattan).

Elsewhere in the state, there were only mayoralty contests that attracted little interest from the voters.

The Macy battle in Suffolk brought out voters in near Presidential-year numbers.

Macy made Dewey a chief target of his campaign, while announcing that if he won he would support Taft for the Presidential nomination.

R. Ford Hughes, leader of the anti-Macy forces, claimed victory last night only a few hours after the polls closed.

At that time, Hughes held a two-to-one lead in his fight to run again for county clerk against the opposition of E. Conway Plummer, a Macy man.

A four-to-one anti-Macy margin was noted in contests to elect 420 GOP committeemen, who will vote on the new chairman within a fortnight.

While neither Macy nor Plummer was available for comment, Macy's wife told a newsman by phone that her husband would not have a statement until the final returns are in. That may not be until Friday.

In Manhattan, regular Tammany candidates won 13 district leadership contests and lost three, with five undecided.

MacArthur Drops Jap Parley Bid

time alloted this country but MacArthur had declined. The general's aide, Col. Lawrence Bunker, said MacArthur had received no invitation.

John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the State department and a key figure in the forthcoming conference, was said to have approached MacArthur, also a Republican, last week. At that time, MacArthur was reported to have accepted, then turned down, a proposal to attend.

The State department last Thursday said it considered MacArthur's participation in the conference as only logical due to his five years as supreme commander of the Allied Occupation Forces in Japan.

At the same time Mr. Truman who fired MacArthur from all his Far East commands because of differences over policy and the general's public comments, said the general could attend the conference if he wanted to.

Mr. Truman himself is scheduled to make the principal address at the conference opening in the War Memorial Municipal Opera House in San Francisco's Civic Center. He will be introduced by Secretary of State Acheson, serving as temporary chairman.

Coffin-Palmer

Mrs. Clifton C. Coffin

Miss Rosalie Merle Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Hazel E. Palmer of Manchester road, Glastonbury, and the late Charles Royce Palmer, was married Saturday to Clifton Clarence Coffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ahdrew J. Stroker of Manchester road, Glastonbury. The double-ring ceremony was performed at two o'clock in the Buckingham Congregational church by the Rev. Rockwell Harmon Potter of Hartford, in the absence because of illness of the minister of the church, Rev. Philip M. Rose.

Mrs. Walter Kearns, organist of the church, played the traditional bridal music and accompanied the singer, Miss Lucille Taylor of East Hartford, whose selections were "O Promise Me," "Because" and "I Love You truly." White gladiolus and palms decorated the chancel.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Royce Charles Palmer of Stratford, the bride was attended by Miss Janet Lee Mader of Spring street, Glastonbury. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace Bidwell and Miss Jean Ruth Cox, both of Glastonbury. All three attendants were classmates of the bride in the 1950 class of Glastonbury High school.

Richard Brower of Charter Oak street, this town, was best man for Mr. Coffin, and ushers were Joseph Nowak of Hartford and John Martin of this town.

The bride was gowned in white satin and lace, the train edged with the lace. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was scalloped and draped from a sweetheart headband studded with pearls. Her bouquet of white bridal roses had a shower of stephanotis.

The gown worn by the honor attendant was of coral lace and nylon over taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladiolus. The gowns of the bridesmaids were similar in design but of powder blue lace and nylon over taffeta. Their bouquets were of pink gladiolus.

Mrs. Palmer selected for her daughter's wedding a gown of aqua lace and chiffon, the neckline of lace elaborately beaded. She wore a pink feather hat and pink accessories, also a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Stroker, mother of the bridegroom, wore a similar dress but of coral lace and chiffon, beige feather hat and corsage of yellow roses. They assisted the bridal party at a reception for 200 guests following the ceremony, in the social room of the church which was decorated with white gladiolus and white wedding bells.

A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table.

When leaving for a wedding trip to Lake Placid and other parts of New York state, the bride was wearing a lavender linen, two-piece dress and white accessories. On their return the couple will live for the present with the bride's mother, and will receive their friends after September 10.

Since her graduation from Glastonbury High school, the bride has been employed by the Aetna Fire Insurance Company of Hartford. The bridegroom, a graduate of Manchester High school, is employed at the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft plant, East Hartford.

Board Considers Hiring Architect for Town As Economy Move

Since Manchester apparently will be building schools for the next several years, why can't the town save money by employing one architect to handle all its needs during this period?

After some discussion of this question last night, the Board of Directors instructed General Manager George H. Waddell to look into the possibility of hiring a town architect and staff and to determine the estimated cost of setting up such an office.

An architect who would be a "town employee" would mean considerable savings in the fees now paid for drawing plans for each new school, it was said. One director pointed out that the state and public works departments of large cities have their own staff of architects to handle the various building projects, and that considerable savings are effected in that manner.

The discussion about architects and architect fees came after Waddell read a letter from Charles S. House, chairman of the Board of Education, concerning the proposed plans for school expansion here.

House asked that as soon as the town acquires title to about 20 acres of land in the Vernon street area, Waddell advise Superintendent of Schools Arthur H. Illing of his (Waddell's) choice of an architect so that discussion can be started on the proposed new Vernon street school, additions to the South and Bowers schools, the feasibility of an addition to the Green school and the proposed new High school at Memorial field on Middle turnpike.

Director Katherine Bourn at this point questioned whether one architect would be selected for all the projects or what the procedure will be.

Attorney Jay E. Rubinow, who was present, asked permission to speak on the matter. He expressed the opinion that Manchester could effect considerable savings by having a town-hired architect and engineer do the work while using former plans as a basis.

General Manager Waddell pointed out that the blueprints of the recently built schools are not the town's property but belong to the respective architects who drew them.

State regulations concerning new school building and the architectural rates and fees as established by the American Institute of Architects were the subject of considerable discussion.

Waddell offered the information that new federal regulations on building materials are causing some difficulty in the construction of the Broad street school and that Congressman Abraham A. Ribicoff of Hartford is helping local officials in an effort to solve the problem.

Chairman House's letter was the result of a directors' request for a report on the status of the school expansion program. House states that the "Board of Education is anxious to press as speedily as possible the proposed plans for school expansion" and that "Mr. Illing and Mr. Bailey are also working this summer on the administrative needs for the proposed new high school on Middle turnpike, east."

Release Right To Dig Ditch

Only 15 Voters Appear At Town Meeting on Pipe Right of Way

Rockville, Aug. 22—(Special)—Fifteen voters attended the special town meeting held Tuesday evening in the Town Hall to take action on the pipe line and ditch on the property of Mrs. Rose Amiot, situated in the town of Tolland. As stated in the warning for the meeting the right and privilege owned by the Town of Vernon to excavate a ditch and lay a pipe across the property was given to the town of Vernon by a quit claim deed from George H. Kingsbury. First Selectman Herbert Pagani was named moderator and Town Clerk Kerwin Elliott read the warning. It was brought out in the meeting that Mrs. Charles Gunther has water rights acquired by the late Mr. Gunther in 1925, and it was further stated that any action taken at last night's meeting would in no way affect these rights which were acquired from John Kingsbury.

Upon the motion of Attorney J. Pigeon it was voted that the town give up all interest in the property and relinquish the rights and privilege stated in the warning for the meeting.

Board of Finance Meeting

The Board of Finance of the Town of Vernon, with Attorney Robert J. Pigeon chairman, held a session last evening to receive requests for appropriations to be included in the budget for the town meeting in October. Among the requests received was one for $2000 from the Rockville Public Health Nursing association, the same amount as last year; $6,000 for the Rockville Public Library, an explanation being made by Mr. F. Hallcher that some $2,500 of this would be needed for repairs; $393,000 from the Board of Education. John Gottier, a member of the Board, also asked that the balance remaining from the $18,500 voted to the alterations of the old High School be reappropriated, as only $3,000 has been spent to date.

Blood Donor Program

Manchester's August Bloodmobile day yesterday resulted in 124 pints for the Red Cross Blood Program. Although this total falls short of the Manchester monthly quota by 26 pints, the personnel of the Bloodmobile unit felt that the town had done very well in view of the number of people out of town on vacations at this time. There were 28 persons who made appointments who did not appear, and 14 cancellations. The appearance of these donors, it is pointed out, would have put Manchester over the top on its quota for the second month in succession. Twenty-three prospective donors were turned down because of low hemoglobin blood count or because they failed in some other minor particular in measuring up to the high physical standard which the Red Cross maintains as its minimum for acceptance.

Our honor roll of donors includes the following Manchester residents:

CASH'S WOVEN NAME TAPES are among the several techniques for identifying possessions which are available at the Notion Department of the J. W. HALE COMPANY. The famous cash tapes are three dozen for $2.25 or six dozen for $2.75. Other naming tapes for clothing of the young people going away to school or for the laundry that goes out are Glendale printed name tapes at six dozen for $1.25 or the Mc-Clure Name Transfers, which are ironed on, at $1.95 per roll of 300 names.

DECORATIVE MIRRORS are shown in many beautiful styles at KEMPS, INC., 763 Main street. There are several large framed mirrors, designed to harmonize with antique or modern decorating schemes. Several mirrors are finished without frames in the latest stream-lined fashion. Any of the mirrors would add distinction to a room.

UPHOLSTERY FABRICS IN REMNANT LENGTHS have exceptional interest just now in a variety of Cheney weaves. From shiny, satiny, damask-type styles in shimmering colors to solid-color, deep pile frieses, there is a wealth of choice for covering cushions or chairs or for making slip covers. Prices are most advantageous at the CHENEY BROTHERS REMNANT SALESROOM.

INEXPENSIVE WATCHES FOR YOUNGSTERS, as shown at MATHER'S AT THE CENTER, make a splendid back-to-school gift. Any child would be thrilled to own the "Alice In Wonderland" watch for girls, at $7.76 including tax, or the Westclox watch for boys at $6.67. No excuse for not getting home on time if one owns a dependable watch!

"EASY OFF" OVEN CLEANER, that new and praise-worthy product that cleans iron, steel or porcelain enamel—from burners to broiler pans—in only 5.6 (not 6.56, as previously announced) at the JOHNSON PAINT COMPANY, 699 Main street. Just brush it on with brush or cloth and let the harmless chemicals work for two or three hours; then wash it off with warm suds. So simple! So satisfactory!

To make Lorenzo Dressing, often seen on the menus of fine restaurants, simply add water cress, egg salad, and on sliced tomatoes, etc.

possible brain concussion, probable fractures of several ribs, contusions of the head and chest, injury. Her sister, Alice, had bruises of the left arm and shoulder, and Mrs. Max Christensen was cut on the head. The four sisters were under treatment at a Middletown hospital.

One witness described the tornado as hitting "with a roar like an express train." It covered an area only about a block and a half long and 400 to 600 feet wide, but left destruction in its wake. Windows were shattered, roofs damaged, and television antennae toppled.

The roof of the net company plant, a two-story brick building measuring about 60 by 80 feet, was ripped away, partly on the lawn of the Congregational church and partly on Main Street.

James Vaill, an East Hampton resident who is meteorologist at the Weather Bureau in Hartford, said the storm was the first real tornado in Connecticut since one hit Wallingford in 1850, although many smaller "twisters" including a couple yesterday, have been reported since then. He said he estimated the funnel of the tornado approach the town from the west, then curved on a due north course.

The tornado hopped over to Lake Pocotopaug, summer resort on the outskirts, where it struck the water. Two sailboats were overturned, but cottages on the crowded shorefront escaped damage.

John Kelly, of Moodus, and Robert Brown, of East Hampton, who also saw the tornado as it hit the center of town, said they saw water, rocks, leaves and even some trees pulls in the funnel.

Some freakish things happened when the wind hit.

Bill Veeck's Latest Stunt Belittles Entire Structure

New York — (NEA)—Permit-a-head? Just wouldn't be funny, and perhaps by that time even Veeck would realize he was carrying his pranks too far.

Veeck once more has the comic contortionist Max Patkin coaching at first base.

Joe McCarthy had the right answer to that one when he threatened to take the Yankees from the field.

Morse Joe, you see, was an old-fashioned bloke who had the quaint idea fans came to the park to watch baseball.

And he couldn't see how the Yankees were improving themselves with one eye on a highly-entertaining contortionist and the other on the baseball.

Veeck kept his comedians with the Indians until one of them released a bagful of snakes in a crowded Pullman car. That finished the funny men with Lou Boudreau who wanted no part of them in the first place. Then he went on to win the pennant and the World Series, and break all attendance records at the same time.

Now with a total of 4,393,926 paid, 2,620,627 at home and 1,762,399 on the road.

Veecks acrobats, antiquated automobiles, midget bands, donkey baseball games, baby contests, ice skating, fireworks, juggling, midget auto races—what is one thing and quite all right, as long as they don't interfere with the business of baseball.

Seeing an untrained midget to bat is quite another.

Bill Veeck should be made to confine his talents to sideshows. There is no place for them once the main event starts in the ring tent.

If sending a midget to bat and employing a clown as a first-base coach is as far as the American League has advanced in 50 years, they ought to call the whole thing off.

They wouldn't do things like that at a Roller Derby.

Big Baseball Post Narrowed to Three

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Baseball's new commissioner, who may be named at the National League joint meeting in Chicago September 20, likely will be either Ford Frick, Warren Giles or Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, but the field still is open to a darkhorse.

In a six and a half hour meeting here yesterday, the club owners narrowed the field of candidates down to these three men, the Associated Press learned today. The owners also voted that the executive council call a meeting for September 20 for the express purpose of electing a man with increased powers and a larger salary than any of his predecessors. However, the fact that three names remain, does not mean that one must be elected commissioner. Happy Chandler, the ousted commissioner, was a dark horse when he was elected.

Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees and chairman of the screening committee, announced at the close of yesterday's session that the field had been whittled down from 11 to five.

It was learned on strong authority, however, that Mr. Webb and Mr. Douglas MacArthur and Dwight Eisenhower, president of Penn State, the others were Gov. Lausche, Giles and Frick. Giles is president of the Cincinnati Reds and Frick is president of the National League.

Local Sports Chatter

Rain washed out all scheduled softball and baseball games last night. The Twi League baseball game between the Ridges and Silk City has been rescheduled and will be played tonight. The Little League baseball game between the Red Sox and Yankees will be played tonight at 6 at Memorial Field. The Sox softball League playoff game between Army and Navy and Green Manor has also been rescheduled for tonight at 6 o'clock at the Charter Oak Lots.

The Twi League game between Silk City and the Ridges has now been postponed three times. In addition, the teams battled to a 1-1 tie. Tonight the teams, plus President Nick Angelo, hope that a decision will be reached so that the regular playoffs can get underway Friday night. A Ridges win will create a three-way tie for third place in the final standings. A Silk City victory would eliminate the Ridges. If this is the case, the BA's and Hamiltons will meet Friday night in a one-game playoff for the fourth and fifth places in the final standings. However, if the Ridges win, Nick Angelo will have to iron out a playoff system between the Ridges, BA's and Hamiltons.

Charter Oak House Bowling League will have its meeting Friday night at 7:30 at the Charter Oak alleys. All managers are asked to have representatives present. The league will start operations on Friday, Sept. 7.

The Charter Oak alleys will be known as the Double Strike bowling alleys under a trade name recorded with the Town Clerk's office since "Hippo" Correnti will serve as owner and general manager of the lanes.

Army and Navy Club will meet Green Manor tonight in the first game of the Rec Softball League playoffs at 6 o'clock at the Charter Oak Lots. The winner will meet Silk City Thursday night. Winner of Thursday night's game will face the Garden Grovers on Friday night. All games will be played at the Charter Oak Lots.

Bob Mulcahy won the Kicker's Tournament at the Country Club last Monday for members of Cheney Brothers Athletic Association.

Grace Lenczyk Soundly Trounced

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A hopeful group of 32 women, survivors in the first round of golf play yesterday—moved into the most brutal phase of the 51st annual Women's National amateur golf tournament today.

It was "black Wednesday," because for 24 of the starters it was elimination from further play. The second round scheduled for this morning saw the field cut to 16 and this afternoon's third round cut that figure in half.

If yesterday's play gave any hint of what may happen, Somewell known names were due for oblivion as far as this year's meet is concerned.

What might be an omen of the future came yesterday with elimination of Grace Lenczyk, Newington, Conn. the 1948 title winner, by Gloria Fecht, Los Angeles.

It was a decisive victory for the pretty 24-year old ex-skater in an ice show. Miss Lenczyk didn't win a hole as she played to her own words "a miserable game," to lose, 6 and 5, to Miss Fecht.

Grant Sudden Death Winner

Hamden, Aug. 22—(AP)—In a "sudden death" playoff of the 72-73 tie Bobby Grant of Wethersfield defeated Burt Resnick of Woodbridge for first place in the final one-day individual tournament of the Connecticut State Golf Association season at the New Haven Country Club here yesterday. Competing against a field of 167 golfers, Resnick and Grant braved a high wind which forced many contrants to post identical cards of 35-38. The playoff followed matching of cards and the Wethersfield stylist copped the honors with a par on the long first hole.

Panel to Study Pro Grid Wages

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Professional football comes under scrutiny of a government wage panel today (9 a. m. e.s.t.), in a study of the effect of federal inflation controls on sports salaries.

The special three-man panel, appointed by the salary stabilization board, will delve into professional basketball and ice hockey at this afternoon's session.

Spokesmen for the various sports will give their views on how federal controls should be applied to the earnings of the professional athletes.

Baseball held the spotlight yesterday as the two-day hearing opened here. Louis P. Goldsmith, counsel for the National League, the diamond sport pacesetter, began to follow last year's practice of running its business without government regulation, paying players what clubs thought they were worth.

Dr. Raymond B. Allen, chairman of the Labor Stabilization Board, said the government favored letting baseball administer its own individual affairs.

After the baseball discussions, the panel will hear testimony today from horse racing, tennis and soccer.

Jack Flamhart, of the American Soccer League, suggested a $25 limitation on player salaries, which he called a part-time activity now paying players as much as $50 a game.

Attorney James Allen Bernson, of the Professional Lawn Tennis Association, said there was currently no problem requiring regulation. He said tennis provides a "relatively healthy living" and that he knew of no players averaging as much as $5,000 a year over a period of years.

William F. Buckley, of the New York Polo Club, said he could make no recommendations in the horse racing field. He said jockeys are paid by individual stable owners who race the horses, and not by tracks.

Members of the panel are Dr. H. Eliot Kaplan, Washington, Md., lawyer-president and former football coach there; Ty Cobb, baseball's all-time greats, and John Kieran, former New York Times sports columnist.

Irish Bob Says Maxim Won't Be Around Long

Defending Champ Says He'll Win Because "I've Got to Win"; Fight on Radio, TV

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Confident Bob Murphy will knock out lightheavyweight king Joe Maxim and become the new champion about 10:30 p. m. tonight.

"I'm going to knock him out within seven rounds. And with a right to the body," said the husky, hard-hitting San Diego redhead as he awaited the 10 p. m. starting gong for the 15-round title scrap in Madison Square Garden. The bout will be broadcast and telecast by the C. B. S. network.

"I'll win—I've got to win," was the way Maxim got it. The tall, swarthy champion is defending his crown for the first time since he lifted it from Freddie Mills with a ten-round kayo in London 19 months ago.

The bettors lean strongly to Maxim, making the veteran challenger in the last few days has zoomed his from an underdog to a 6½ to 5 choice. By fight time, the California southpaw may be favored 2 to 1 or more.

Maxim's lackluster workouts are the reason for the shift in the odds. When the bout was first made after Maxim took a first but crude challenger.

But in his secret drills, Maxim is reported to have looked like a world beater.

Maxim is the key to the fight. Everyone is sure what Murphy can do. The ex-sailor bores in with relentless attack. He's a dangerous man to get involved with at close range, and a knockout wallop in his left hand. He's easy to hit and willing to take a couple of punches to get in one, aiming for a hole at the pinkish face or the words "a miserable game," to lose, 6 and 5, to Miss Fecht.

George Metkovich, outfielder with the Pittsburgh Pirates is believed to be the only Croatian in the National League.

Moodus to Oppose Twi Loop All Stars Tuesday

The Twilight League All-star game for the benefit of the Accident Fund will be played at the Oval Tuesday night. Providing the opposition will be the Moodus Noises, recent winners of the State semi-pro baseball championship held here.

President Nick Angelo, other officials of the league, and all team managers will help select the all-star team from players in the league.

When contacted and asked to participate in the game, the Moodus nine was eager to come back to Manchester and play. Travel expenses were offered them but they refused. Manager Joe Platek said his team "was thrilled at the way your fans received their club and supported us in the tourney. This is our small way of saying 'thanks' to your generous fans. We don't receive that kind of treatment everywhere you play."

Saw action in 12 major campaigns. Received 12 citations. Exceptional personality, loves to sit around and talk baseball any one.

From this corner, Murphy will be the next lightheavyweight champ. Maxim will not be around for the eighth round.

Midget Ed Gaedel Major Leaguer for One Minute

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Midget Eddie Gaedel has taken his ouster from the American League with mingled feelings.

"It was good to know I was worth $100 a game for a day in St. Louis Browns, and losing a chance at this kind of dough makes me feel down," said the 43-inch-tall mite.

"But then again. I am happy—I've got a clipping of a box score that shows: Gaedel—walked for Browns in 1st.'

"I've got that big league box score with my name in it! I've got a bunch of clippings and pictures about me; I've got a baseball uniform and most of all I've got my memories."

Yes, the tiny, 26-year-old Gaedel has had his big moment. A moment was about all his big league playing career lasted as the 1-8 midget batted as pinch-hitter for the St. Louis Browns.

Yesterday the American League banned playing midgets, cutting short some of the promotional endeavors planned by the Browns's new owner, Bill Veeck. He may pop with a giant next.

The American League said Gaedel's participation in American League championship games "is not in the best interests of baseball."

Aside from loss of the $100 fee he was to draw when used, the 50-pound Gaedel's greatest disappointment was failure to stay around long enough to be sent to the plate by Veeck with the bases loaded.

"That was the spot they were going to send me in some time," the wiry little man, who was a movie worker inside airplanes. "I really didn't think I was going to get up by the umpire at the plate in Sunday's game, even though I did have a signed contract from Bill Veeck. So, actually, I didn't expect to be around as long as I was. But when he let me play, I thought everything would be okay."

At the start of Sunday's second game between Detroit and the Browns in St. Louis, Gaedel was sprung to bat for rookie outfielder Frank Saucier. Tiger pitcher Bob Cain pitched four balls, Gaedel trotted down the line, dropped his bat and jogged to first base. Jim Delsing was sent in to run for him.

Delsing was a member of the Philadelphia Athletics' 1949 and other American League games.

Gaedel broke into the National League, the New York Giants stretched their winning streak to eight games, beating the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4. The Philadelphia Phils defeated the Braves, 3-2 in 10 innings in completing a suspended game of July 22 and then lost to the Cubs, 4-1, in the regular scheduled night game. The Boston Braves clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1. Rain washed out the game between the Dodgers in Brooklyn in the third inning.

Feller allowed only six singles and was in command throughout. It was Feller's fourth consecutive win since 1947 and his sixth in 13 starts—a feat matched by only five other American League pitchers, Cy Young, Walt Johnson, Lefty Grove, Wes Ferrell and Eddie Plank.

The Indians provided Feller with a 5-0 lead at the end of three innings. Harry Bimpson drove home the first run and Ray Boone and Al Rosen knocked in the next four. Larry Doby ended the scoring with the 10th home run of the season. The loss was Washington's tenth straight.

Yogi Lowlow Attack

Yogi Berra, Gene Woodling and Johnny Mize led the Yanks' 17-hit attack against the Tigers at Detroit. Berra poled his third homer in as many games to open the Yank scoring. Woodling drove whose sixth season waf in 1936. In between came Eddie Plank, seven seasons; Walter Johnson 12; Nick Altrock, one.

"I thought there were a lot more than that," said Feller, "but I know I was joining such select company."

No other major league hurler has wo hmore than 17 let this season.

An excellently conditioned athlete, Feller expects to pitch "three or four more games" to wind up with which Manager Lopez agrees. So this may not be the last time he wins 20.

And, as he says, it will be too bad for Cleveland and the conditions if he stops there this year.

Teammates Carry Feller Off Field

Cleveland, Aug. 22—(AP)—Three ambitions Bob Feller had when the Cleveland Indians opened last spring has narrowed down to one today as his drive for 20 victories against Indians to a World Series victory.

It sounded as though the one-hitter Feller hurled to beat Washington 4-0 would be a night rough row to hoe a night rough row to hoe. But the only trouble the goals were to pitch a third no-hitter, win 20 games and cop a World Series money.

He got the third no-hitter against Detroit here July 1.

So after his six-hit 6-0 whutout of the Washington Nationals last night for his 19th victory against five losses, Bob was two-Uirds of the way down the row. And the last that certainly looked like it could be hoed.

Big pooling his third shutout of the season and handing the Nats their 10th straight defeat, Feller kept the Indians out in front of the American League by a full game.

The Tribe hasn't lost in the big Lakefront Stadium in the last 14 games there. For the season their home-park record is 43-16. That's why Manager Al Lopez is counting on the 16 remaining games of the current home stand to put his boys so far in front they can't be caught in the final month.

Unless the Lopez Limited is derailed in its dash to pennantville, Feller will get his chance to make up for the disappointment of two losses in the 1948 World Series. His defeat in the opener of that classic was a 1-0 heartbreaker. Bob gave just two hits, but his teammates got only four off the Boston Braves' Johnny Sain. "I could pitch a long time yet if they came as easy as tonight," the 32-year-old Feller said as he dressed to leave the stadium. "I had pretty good stuff, and it was wonderfully cool out there."

Bob took victory No. 20 more calmly than his teammates who carried him off the field on their shoulders to the cheers of 18,556 fans.

Feller has won 20 or more in six of the 13 seasons he's pitched for Cleveland, but he hadn't been able to do it in the past three years. A major reason was that the Indians weren't hitting behind him.

Now Aims for Victory In World Series Play

Pre-Season Ambitions Were to Hurl a No Hitter, Win 20 and Win a Series Game

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Feller has reached the second of three goals set before the start of the 1951 season.

The 32-year-old righthander of the Cleveland Indians set 20 victories, a World Series triumph and a no-hitter as his objectives for the season. He got his no-hitter against Detroit on July 1.

Feller realized his second ambition last night as he became the major's first 20-game winner, and the way the Indians are traveling he should have no trouble in the way of attaining the other.

The no-hit master pitched the Indians to a 6-0 triumph over the Washington Senators and presented Cleveland's one game edge over the runner-up New York Yankees. The Yankees hammered the Detroit Tigers, 11-4, while the St. Louis Browns upset the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated other American League games.

In the National League, the New York Giants stretched their winning streak to eight games, beating the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4. The Philadelphia Phils defeated the Braves, 3-2 in 10 innings in completing a suspended game of July 22 and then lost to the Cubs, 4-1, in the regular scheduled night game. The Boston Braves clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1. Rain washed out the game between the Dodgers in Brooklyn in the third inning.

Feller allowed only six singles and was in command throughout. It was Feller's fourth consecutive win since 1947 and his sixth in 13 starts—a feat matched by only five other American League pitchers, Cy Young, Walt Johnson, Lefty Grove, Wes Ferrell and Eddie Plank.

The Indians provided Feller with a 5-0 lead at the end of three innings. Harry Bimpson drove home the first run and Ray Boone and Al Rosen knocked in the next four. Larry Doby ended the scoring with the 10th home run of the season. The loss was Washington's tenth straight

"Yes, sir! That little son of mine spoke his first sentence today, ballit!—"Thirty dollars or thirty days!"

BY GALBRAITH

"Wish I had back all those Sunday school pennies I gave for the heathen Chinese when I was a little girl!"

Sense and Nonsense

As to the efficacy in a raw onion in breaking up the common cold we can not say. But for breaking up the beautiful romance, it's positively sure fire and acts fast.

Brains and beauty
Has Dottie Drew;
She'll show you
A think or two.

Woman—How did you break your husband of that habit of staying out all night?

Neighbor—When he came in late one night, I called out "It's that you, Ralph?" and my husband's name is John.

Jack—How about pulling a joke.
Bill—I can't, I have no pliers.

Gas Shortage
The stations selling gasoline
Hardly few and far between
And many are the ones you pass—
Until you're running out of gas!
—Richard Wheeler

Agnes—I'm the most graceful dancer in this state.
Grace—You may be in this state but not when you're sober.

Cal—Bare knees are like my restaurant.
Pal—Why?
Cal—Because it's a joint too.

Ralph—So your wife ran away with the chauffeur. I'm sorry, old man.
Jerry—So am I. He was a darn good chauffeur.

In McKesort, Pa., R. E. Stone, furniture store operator, used the following advertising slogan: "Try Stones for Soft Beds." — Mrs. Nina Withers, West Elizabeth, Pa.

Girl—For crying out loud! Use both hands!
Guy—I can't—I have to steer with one.

Witnesses of accidents should take note of the numbers of the cars involved so that, if any of them should drive away, the drivers may be identified. That is particularly important when anyone has been injured.

Expert—Better consider my course in efficiency training. I can show you how to earn more money than you are now getting.
Student—I do that now.

Dad—So, young man, you wish to become my son-in-law?
Suitor—No, but I marry your daughter, I don't see how it can avoid it.

Visitor—I suppose you have to step on guard all the time to keep these lunatics from escaping?
Guard—You bet. They're all crazy to get out.

"New gadget holds the telephone leaving both hands free." Which should prove a bone to housewives with children to attend while conversing on the wire.

Londoner Given Farewell Party

Charles F. Priddle of London, England, who will sail on the Queen Elizabeth, August 28, for his home, after spending three months in this country, was one of the guests of honor at a large outdoor party Sunday afternoon, which was virtually a combined farewell, birthday and family reunion, Mr. and Mrs. August F. Kanehl of 26 Woodbridge street, to whom he is related, and Miss Anna Gallschneider, a near neighbor, all have August birthdays.

Arrangements for the party were made by Mrs. Frederick W. Smith, the former Miss Helen Kanehl, who lives nearby. There were 65 guests from New Haven, New Britain, Hartford and this town present. The hostess, Mrs. Smith, was assisted by her daughter, Miss Janice Whalen, and by Miss Gallschneider's brother George. Music and other forms of entertainment were provided and a delicious buffet style luncheon was served.

Four banquet tables were set up under a canvas canopy. They were artistically decorated and centered with baskets of gladiolus, and bouquets of other cut flowers, sent to Mrs. Kanehl for her birthday, in addition to other beautiful gifts. An Easter lily nearby in the garden, bloomed for the second time this year in time for the party.

The fun and festivities continued until dusk, when lighted tapers illuminated the scene.

Midweek prayer meetings will be held this evening at both the Church of the Nazarene and the Covenant-Congregational church.

Britain Plans to Remain in Abadan

Bids Iran To Permit Oil Output

London, Aug. 23—(AP)—Britain announced officially today her determination to remain in Abadan until Iran permits oil production to resume again.

A Foreign Office statement warned Iran that Britain will take "the necessary measures" to ensure safety of British personnel in Abadan, site of the world largest oil refinery, if the Iranian government fails in its obligation to do so.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil company had announced a few hours earlier that it was recalling British workers from the oil fields surrounding Abadan for movement home, but that it was retaining a thinned-down staff at the refinery itself.

OIL TALKS HALT

Tehran, Iran, Aug. 23—(AP)—Oil talks between Britain and Iran ground to a halt today and Britain's chief negotiator, Richard Stokes, prepared to fly home.

W. Averell Harriman also made ready to leave Iran for Washington. He will report to President Truman who sent him here last month in a last-ditch effort to keep Iranian oil flowing to the west.

Harriman Hopeful

Harriman appeared more optimistic than others close to the negotiations and issued a statement saying the talks were merely suspended—not broken off.

Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said "it is finished" (Stokes is due in London tomorrow morning. It is expected he will be summoned to an emergency cabinet meeting soon after he ar-

Formal acceptance by Peron and his wife of the draft call by the Peronista party and leaders of the government-controlled General Confederation of Labor (CGT) is considered a certainty. They told wildly cheering throngs yesterday they would "abide by the will of the people."

Foreign Aid Control for President

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Senators voted today to give the White House general control over the new $7,499,000,000 foreign aid program.

Rejecting a House-approved proposal to turn the program over to a separate mutual security agency, the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees voted 19 to 1 to divide authority among the Pentagon, State department and the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA).

Any policy dispute, however, would be settled by the President himself, an individual he designates for that job or by a three-member advisory board which he would name.

No Connection

The arbitrators would have no connection with any other government department and would operate from the White House.

Previously President Truman had acted to give Secretary of State Acheson policy direction of the program.

The Senate committees' action would bar Acheson from this role, as well as Ambassador W. Averill Harriman, Mr. Truman's foreign policy advisor, unless he served his connection with the State department.

The committees made their decision on administration of the second program going along with the House in clipping $1,000,000,000 off the $8,500,000,000 fund which Mr. Truman had sought for it.

The House proposal to put a mutual security agency in charge of the program was opposed by administration officials.

Attacks Move

Such a move was criticized sharply last night by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. He called on Congress to give the State department authority to distribute all foreign aid.

To cast any other government agency in this "Santa Claus role" would make it "extremely diffi-

The plane was enroute to Elmendorf Air Base near Fairbanks from Elmendorf Air Base at Anchorage.

A Civil Aeronautics administration radio officer at Summit reported he had talked to the pilot of the plane shortly before the crash but was not informed of any trouble.

Contact was broken and the operator said he saw the plane diving into the runway of the Summit landing field.

Bad weather kept search planes from Summit.

Army Suspends Ordnance Chief

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—The Army has relieved the commanding officer of an ordnance depot at Toledo, Ohio, where House investigators last week reported they had found evidence of "highly irregular conduct."

It announced late yesterday that Col. S. W. McIlwain has been relieved as command of the Rossford Ordnance Depot, but gave no reason. Chairman Hardy (D-Va) of a House Expenditures subcommittee said last week the group had found evidence of "improper dealings" with contract-holding firms by procurement officials he did not name.

The Army also said that overseas orders of Big. Gen. David J. Crawford, recently suspended as commanding officer of the Detroit

Soviet Deputy Forecasts Tito Regime to Fall

Moscow, Aug. 23—(AP)—Marshal Kliment Y. Voroshilov, a Soviet Deputy Premier and member of the Politburo, renewed Soviet predictions today that the regime of Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito "cannot long continue."

His words, spoken in Bucharest at the seventh anniversary celebration of Romania's liberation from the Nazis, echoed those of Deputy Premier Vyacheslav M. Molotov at a similar celebration in Warsaw just a month ago.

Voroshilov's remarks were published in all Moscow newspapers this morning.

MacArthur for Force To Guard Jap Peace

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, in a letter to Senator Lehman of New York, has called for "adequate security" for Japan as a threat to internal peace and the national security" the former Supreme Commander in Japan said. He added:

"To such end, so long as existing international tensions exist in Asia, adequate security forces should be maintained to safeguard Japan's internal peace against any threatened external attack."

Eight Principles

MacArthur's letter was in response to a July 13 note from the Prime Minister which expressed gratitude for the General's efforts in behalf of an early peace treaty for Japan.

The General advocated eight principles as basic to "healthy national progress."

One of those principles was the maintenance of security forces in Japan.

The General did not say whether the forces should consist of American or Japanese troops.

Research Plane Explodes In Air

Edwards, Calif., Aug. 23—(AP)—A Bell research rocket plane exploded and caught fire yesterday just as it was about to be released by a B-50 plane at 10,000 feet over Edwards Air Force Base. There were no casualties.

Lt. Col. Frank K. Everets, pilot of the research plane, managed to climb to safety in the B-50 just before the rocket ship was jettisoned. The plane, the XI-D, is the latest refinement of a craft that first broke the sonic barrier in 1947.

Sees Blow Eased On Tax Increase

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Senator Millikin (R., Colo.), of the Senate Finance committee, said today the final version of the George tax bill will ease the blow on middle income married groups.

George told newsmen that in no case would any taxpayer have to pay more under the Senate formula than he would under the bill the House has passed.

He said, however, no final decisions were reached this morning and the committee would get together again on the matter in the afternoon.

Hump in Plan

One member told newsmen late yesterday the formula didn't work out the way the committee had anticipated. This Senator, who asked that his name not be used, indicated the trouble was caused by a hump in the impact of the plan at middle income levels.

Tables showing how the formula would apply were released yesterday. They showed that some married couples in the $5,000-to-$15,000 income brackets would pay more under the Senate formula than under the system the House has voted.

The Senator said the committee

Truth on Reds in Govt. Gagged, McCarthy Says

Washington, Aug. 23— (AP) — President Truman has been accused by Senator McCarthy (R., Wis) of forbidding federal employes to "give Congress the truth about Communists who are in our government."

The Senator also charged last night that Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup was formerly editorial director of a Communist-front publication which he said received "thousands of dollars of Communist money."

Jessup, who has denied he had any Communist connection, declined comment on the latest McCarthy attack.

Truman May Reply

Mr. Truman's weekly news conference scheduled for today seemed a likely forum for rebuttal. Broadcasting over the ABC network, McCarthy said an "incredibly fantastic order" barring federal employes from testifying on loyalty matters to Congress went into effect Aug. 21, 1948 — that 17 days after the Hiss case broke.

This was a reference to Alger Hiss, former State department official, who was convicted of perjury for denying he ever passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring.

McCarthy said that when the order went out, "President Truman had just made his famous statement that the Hiss case was a 'red herring' and that those who uncovered Hiss were seeking publicity and endangering unity." The Senator added:

West Ministers to Review Cold War, Germany Issues

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson is making tentative plans to meet here with the British and French Foreign Ministers September 10 to review German problems and other key cold war issues.

Acheson has suggested, it was learned today, that the American-British-French high commissioners in western Germany also join the three power talks.

Informed officials said the Secretary will discuss problems ranging through Europe, the Middle East and Far East during a three to four-day conference with British Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

All three plan to fly back here September 9 for their round of talks after attending the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco.

Plans Policy Session

In addition to meeting with Morrison and Schuman jointly, Acheson plans separate conversations with the French and British foreign policy chiefs to discuss specific problems they have in conjunction with the U. S.

Hits Claim UN Aircraft At Kaesong

Munsan, Korea, Friday, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Communists abruptly broke off the Korean armistice talks Thursday on neutrality violation charges which Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway rejected today as a frameup planned in advance.

Whether the long-stalemated negotiations ever would resume was an open question, obscured by a typical outpouring of Red propaganda tirades and exchanges of strong language on both sides.

The Chinese and North Korean Communists made the break after a succession of charges boiling up to the climax at 1:45 a. m. Thursday.

First they charged that Allied troops killed a Chinese patrol leader in an ambush near the conference site of Kaesong on Sunday.

While the United Nations command was rejecting this as obviously the work of civilian guerrillas either North or South Koreans, the Reds made a new charge that a Communist jeep with a white flag had been bombed, also on Sunday.

Overlapping the U.N. reply that prior notice of vehicle movement was required, the Communists then roused the Allied liaison officers from bed at Munsan early Thursday.

The Reds alleged an Allied plane had bombed Kaesong. An Allied investigation showed no U.N. planes were in the area.

Meat Industry Officials Get Word of Contemplated OPS Rule Hike From Aides of DiSalle

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Beef price ceilings may go up a cent or two a pound or many cuts increased by being reduced a dime as the government had planned.

Meat industry officials got word of the contemplated price boosts from aides of Price Controller Ross Michael V. DiSalle and expected to get further details today at a meeting with DiSalle himself.

Housewives probably will have to pay the penny or two extra a pound for beef round cuts. But ceilings on hamburger are likely to remain unchanged and some 4-Point cuts on loin and rib cuts are expected.
