Winter Not Only Gentle, Also Proving Economical

The gentleness, thus far, of winter appears to have favored the taxpayers a considerable sum of money.

According to figures received from the city engineer, the sum of only $3,234 has been expended on snow removal and ice removal.

At this time last year $8,100 had been expended on snow removal and ice removal.

proposals, such as those involving the establishment of a State Board of Agriculture, the integration of our natural resources agencies and of our institutions of higher learning, the reorganization of the vocational school curricula, the implementation of the law relating to defective delinquents, the long-term care, treatment and confinement of sex deviates, and the treatment of the criminally insane and insane criminals, integration of the functions of the Public Welfare Council with those of a reorganized Welfare department, unification of legislative services, and other proposals which bear upon improving the efficiency and increasing the economy of our state government operations.

His Bowls' Regime
 Without mentioning Bowls, now U. S. Ambassador to India, by name, Lodge hit at the reorganization attempt made by the 1949 legislature.
 He said:
 "Through a curious, but understandable set of circumstances, the word reorganization has fallen into disfavor with many citizens of our state. They have seen an ambitious reorganization program defeated in the General Assembly because those who sponsored it did not thoroughly understand all the problems involved, and were not adequately familiar with the historical roots of those problems. The program failed also, I suspect, to the extent that some of the proposals represented little more than a mere reaping of functions that were being performed by other agencies. We shall also need to give thoughtful consideration to other such consolidation. A brand-new organization chart is in itself no panacea. It should be brought back into general favor, among those who should be happy to think that this is the 1953 general assembly."

 As to other means of effect economy, Lodge said that he himself has "taken the stand that no new services or new facilities can be considered until we have cut to the lowest practical minimum the costs of existing services and facilities."

"Like a spinning top," he asserted, "our fiscal machine has acquired a momentum in one direction which only a determined effort over a period of time will serve to halt and to head in the other direction. It is my deplorable conviction that, if in this administration we do not increasingly strive to check the trend, we shall be parties to the betrayal of the people of Connecticut."
 Much emphasis, said Lodge, has been given to economy by his administration. "Yes, we are apostles of economy," he said.
 "Yet, this administration has kept as its foremost purpose the responsibility of providing adequately those services and facilities important to the health, safety and well-being of the people of our state. We conceive it also to be an important duty to provide those services and facilities at the lowest reasonable cost."
 Lodge, midway in his four-year term, discussed his duties only in the most general terms. When he failed to start his speech in detail in his budget message next month.

Police Nab AWOL Marine After Attempted Holdup
Bulky Auto Is Factor in Thwarting Robbery on Main Street Last Night

Richard W. White, 23, of Thompsonville, a marine, who told police he had been without a gun for over a month, is being held here under $5,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to rob.
 White, police said, tried to rob James Timonios, proprietor of Peter's Chocolate Shoppe, 601 Main street, while the intended victim was standing in front of his shop shortly before 11 o'clock last night. Timonios said he had $120 on him at the time of the attempted robbery.
 White's alleged attempt at robbery was thwarted by the arrival of a service station truck called by Timonios to help him get his car started, and the accused was in police custody within an hour.
 White has been AWOL from Camp Lejeune, N. C., police said. The arrest was made by Patrolman Thomas R. Graham on a description furnished police by Timonios. Graham apprehended White in front of the Army Tavern, 305 Main street.
 Timonios told police he had closed his business about 10:30 and, when he went out to his car which was parked in back, when it failed to start he went back into the shop to call Monterey service station and then went out on the street again to wait for the truck.
 He said that while he was waiting, a man who had been standing near him for about 10 minutes in the deserted street walked up to him, grabbed him by the arm and said, "I've got a gun here give me your money."

 Timonios said the man had his hand in his pocket and that it appeared he had a gun, but he did not have a gun, but police say no weapon was shown in the attempted robbery.
 As Timonios was about to be led away down Brainerd place the service station truck pulled up to the curb and the would-be robber fled.
 Timonios who later identified White at police headquarters, reported the incident to Patrolman George D. McCaughey whom he saw in front of Monterey's service station after being pushed there in his car by the truck.
 Both McCaughey and Graham are continuing the investigation.
 The case was continued for one week by Judge John S. C. Rotner when it was presented in Town Court this morning.

Grumewald Probe May Skip Truman
 Gen. Larson, the government's General Services administrator, disclosed he collected $500 from Grumewald for Monroey's 1950 primary election campaign fund. Nothing improper was involved, Larson said.
 Monroey said in a statement there was no basis for McCarthy's suggestions that he had violated state or federal election laws.
 The White House said it could not confirm that Truman had written Grumewald a thank-you letter but that if he did, it was a routine form sent out to campaign contributors.
 The elections subcommittee announced it had sent the Justice Department a copy of its report containing both McCarthy's and Benton's, also had sent along supporting evidence. Copies of the report also went to the Internal Revenue bureau and to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), the agency which insures bank deposits, for any action deemed appropriate.
 Monroey had left the subcommittee's long before it submitted its weekly report questioning whether McCarthy had diverted to his own profitable use money donated to his campaign against alleged Communists in government.
 Deputies Action
 Jenner who will head the Senate Rules committee, the subcommittee's parent, didn't like the subcommittee action in sending along its report and files.
 "I don't see it as illegal, but I'm far from sure it was proper for the subcommittee to take this action before the full rules committee has had a chance to consider whether it wants to accept the report, reject it, or amend it," he told a reporter.
 Jenner said that "as chairman of the rules committee, I'll send Sen. McCarthy's letter concerning Sen. Monroey to the new privileges and elections subcommittee for an examination of the facts involved." McCarthy told a reporter he does not intend to press for an investigation of circumstances behind Truman's letter to Grumewald "but I thought the public is entitled to know about it."
 "The President has a perfect right to accept funds from Grumewald and to thank him for them," McCarthy told reporters. "Thanking Grumewald was the gentlemanly thing to do."

Conferences Aim At Budget Cut
 were told that his replies to oral questions could neither be quoted nor attributed to him by name. He made a few exceptions to this rule as he went along. Otherwise the rule was enforced.
 Reporters left, however, with these impressions:
 Democrats will not submit to Congress a budget of his own to duplicate Truman's. However, Eisenhower can be expected to present ten-by-ten revenue and expenditure bills that can be developed, starting in April.
 Dodge is unwilling at this point to forecast how soon a budget balance may be achieved, or what spending level.
 A reporter asked whether Dodge was confident the Eisenhower administration "can balance the budget in four years." Dodge the colloquy which followed, newsmen drew the inference that the answer to such a question would have to begin with certain assumptions.
 Dodge joined in the general laughter when, in obvious reference to the election campaign, the correspondents queried: "It didn't last summer, Sir."

Standard, was a most illuminating and engaging in a rebuttal of the report. By these standards Mr. Smith has perhaps the highest of all. We are merely pointing out that a failure to comply with such standards does not necessarily imply that the state and its people have been ill served. Such failure, quite to the contrary, might have some elements of virtue and decency and humanity in it. We are not sure that a world run by statistics would be the perfect world after all. Add to our fellow townsmen, we would say: Most of us know the intricacy and hard work and the capability which has gone into your whole career of public service to town and state, and judge you as we know you.

Battered Quickly
 A "trial balloon" news story was floated the other day, to the effect that Britain and the United States, who maintain troops in Trieste, were considering withdrawing these forces; thus inviting Italy to take permanent possession of one part of the territory, and Yugoslavia to take permanent possession of the other part. This would amount to a tacit compromise solution of the problem of Trieste, and doubtless we and Britain would find it comfortable, if the parties concerned would accept it. Italy has promptly labeled the report a "trial balloon" and has pricked it quickly and unceremoniously. Italy wants nothing of any compromise. Italy wants all Trieste, with none of it going to Yugoslavia.

The Odds
 Gamblers are noting on that the odds will, if it continues, raise the level of the world's oceans a whole inch by 1960. Harbors in Spitzbergen which were once open only three months of the year are now open seven. Cool swamps north of Greenland, where for the first time in recorded history, the Eskimo state has been in production. Icebergs in sections of Canada and Siberia where, not long ago, the deep freeze lasted all year round.

Many meteorologists studying these and similar facts, are concluding that the earth's temperature is steadily rising.

We are not preaching any firm conclusion about all this. We are merely citing the odds confronting anybody who, year after year, makes a forlorn prediction of an old-fashioned winter.

While our main effort was in the direction of existing world trends, we are making real progress in the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Bloodmobile Has Bad Start Despite 49 Walk-in Donors

Cancellations and No-Shows Result in Only 132 Pints; Quota 150

Yesterday's visit of the Bloodmobile to Manchester was a disappointing start to the 1953 blood donor program, both in the failure to make the quota of 150 pints, and in the large number of cancellations of appointments or failure to show up for the appointment.

There were 132 pints of blood given during the afternoon. Although there were 183 appointments made, the possibility of making more than two-thirds of the quota looked slim because of cancellations. Only the failure of the donor to show up at Center Church, or the failure of the appearance of the 49 walk-ins who arrived gradually throughout the afternoon made possible the securing of the 132 pints.

The next visit of the Bloodmobile to Center Church will be on Feb. 4. A Red Cross official said today that "it is to be hoped that those who sign up for appointments on that visit will consider what the failure to keep those appointments means to the life-saving program in our civilian hospitals and in Korea."

Union Men May Be at Talks By Directors on Pay Boosts

The possibility that representatives of the town-employees union will be present at the informal meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday for a discussion of wages and salary increases appeared today after a committee from the union and A. W. Bink, a special union representative, met this morning with General Manager Richard Martin in Martin's office.

The press was excluded from the meeting at the request of one of the members of the four-man committee from Local 981, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, A.F.M. A union member delivered a prepared release to The Herald shortly after the meeting.

Outdoor workers in the Highway, Sewer and Water, Cemetery, and Park departments, belong to the union, which is seeking wage and working condition agreements including arbitration and a modified wage. The union will ask for a single rate of pay for each job.

Also agreed at today's meeting with the manager is that an urgent need exists to make appointments as quickly as possible those working conditions already agreed upon.

The committee will meet with Mr. Martin on Wednesday, Jan. 13, for the purpose of presenting the union's position on wages. The union will ask for a single rate of pay for each job.

Calls for Probe of Desertions

are true. "It's a national disgrace that the armed forces have not taken vigorous steps to bring these men back into the service."

The Louisville Times said that pressure on the military, from members of Congress in behalf of deserters has weakened discipline and morale.

"If that is true, it will bear looking into," said Rep. Short (R-Mo.), new head of the House Armed Services committee, and this "is one of the things we will look into."

To loving memory of Peter Balon who died January 7, 1952. Dear Father, it is now a year since God called you home with him. You left no heavy load upon us. Whose hearts are sad and dim. For you'll never know his value 'til you see his vacant chair. Wife and children.

Grid Coaches Propose Radical Rule Change

Washington, Jan. 7.—(AP)—In a move to discourage what is popularly called the "nuclear shift," college football coaches have recommended one of the most radical rule changes in years.

THE CHANGE to supplement the present regulation on false starts would make it illegal for a line man to make a move once he has assumed a starting position.

COLUMBUS LOU LITTLE, chairman of the Football Coaches' Association, said that a line man would be subject to penalty if he reached up and scratched his nose after once getting down in what is known as a three-point position.

THROUGH LITTLE, the coaches presented the recommendation yesterday along with another proposal, that the "quarterback" be made inactive as a runner after handling the ball from the center.

THE VICTORS established a commanding 22-9 lead at the end of a period and from there on in it was a matter of time before the coaches. The coaches are only an advisory body.

THE FOOTBALL players voted to keep all other rules virtually intact, including the controversial rule of substitution.

LITTLE acknowledged that the change in the false start rule probably was provoked by the publicity which Notre Dame's famous shift had added that the Irish were strictly within bounds of the present rule.

NOTRE DAME shifted from the T formation to the single wing at certain times, and the opposition often broke over the line before the play had started.

THE COACHES decided to ask for the change in the false start rule in which holding the right arm straight in the air is significant.

Tito Discusses Vatican Rift with Slav Prelates

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Premier Marjovic today discussed with seven Yugoslav bishops the widening rift between the Communist country and the Vatican.

The gathering at the marshall's residence was the first since the Vatican spokesman said the church leaders would not discuss the nature of the discussion.

The Vatican spokesman said the meeting was received as certainly connected with the announcement that the Pope would create Alojzije Stepinac, Catholic Primate of Yugoslavia, to the rank of Cardinal, and possibly as a step by Yugoslavia towards the "nationalization" of the Catholic church.

Radio Belgrade reported that at the meeting, cardinals discussed the mission to prepare detailed material on the basis of which the rift between the state and the church could be settled.

Following the announcement last Nov. 29 of Stepinac's inclusion in a new list of cardinals to be elevated, Monday, Yugoslavia broke diplomatic relations with the Vatican, and the Vatican's foreign minister said that Yugoslavia's foreign minister had broken relations with the Vatican.

Stepinac reported "conditionally" free by Yugoslavia's Communist but anti-Communist authorities, but he will not go to Rome to get his title for he will not be able to re-enter this country.

Pacific Storm Splits Tanker

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A Swedish tanker with a crew of 40 broke in two today and three cargo vessels were on back part and 21 men on lifeboat still drifting. If any ships nearby please give help.

The British freighter King Edgar and the Panamanian freighter Santago both were reported in the north central Pacific.

A coastal lumber schooner, Cynthia Olson, jettisoned her deck cargo of Oregon and slowly made her way to San Francisco after earlier making landfall.

The Avanti SOS was picked up here by Globe Wireless. There was no quick report whether other ships were in her area of the vast Pacific.

The Avanti gave her position as 28-11 north and 132-03 east. That would place her about 240 miles northwest of Okinawa and about 180 miles south of Kushu, southernmost Japanese island.

Lloyd's Register lists the Avanti as a 4,018 net ton tanker, built to carry bulk petroleum. It has her own radio room, a radio room and her home port Gothenburg.

A radio dispatch from the President Pierce today reported the British freighter King Edgar was drifting helplessly about 300 miles northeast of Honolulu.

Mountainous seas smashed one lifeboat aboard the King Edgar, wrecked cabin doors and flooded crew quarters and food storerooms, the dispatch said.

The ship was attempting to keep the 704 ton freighter headed into the wind. The rudder was disabled.

The dispatch said the master of the Avanti had been killed.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's television committee today recommended that strict controls be placed on the televising of football games in 1953.

The committee did make one gesture toward those who have been clamoring for a relaxation of its television program—that it would permit the televising of football games in 1953.

Editors Protest Jelke Trial Ban

Editors of seven New York City daily newspapers and three press associations later sent Valente a telegram saying they believed that "open testimony in the public interest."

Valente actually ordered the press and public excluded from the courtroom yesterday because of Miss Ward's age. He acted on the request of her attorney and despite defense objections, Valente said he thought things over during a week-end recess.

"Suppression of any testimony," the editors wired Valente, "would lead to many rumors, some unfounded and unjustified, and persons damaging to innocent persons."

"Any censorship on press coverage of court proceedings would set a dangerous precedent, especially during these times when the free flow of news is restricted in many sections of the world."

Lutherans Oppose Envoy to Vatican

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 7.—Lutheran leaders here advised President Eisenhower that they are opposed to appointment of any representative to the Vatican personal or otherwise.

In a letter to the President the National Lutheran Council, representing four million Lutherans in this country, said yesterday:

"We believe that the appointment of a representative to the Vatican violates the principle of the equality of treatment of all churches and of the principle of the separation of church and state."

The council said it would be sound in conscience to oppose any appointment "with all possible vigor."
