Werner Pupils Present Recital

Intermediate piano students of Frederic E. Werner presented a program of an hour's duration last night before an audience that filled the Chapel of the South Methodist Church. Pianos and singing flowers were used for the decorations.

Following are the names of the pupils who took part: Carol Ann Chase, Ann O. McKenna, Anne F. D'Avellan, Antoni Radzicki, Jr., Judith A. Kludersberger, Earle B. Bidwell, Jr., Donald T. Bouffard, Donald M. Mohr, Marilyn L. Tr...

U. S. Awaiting Plea for More Aid to France

From five top quality and seven secondary ones to perhaps 10 or 12 first-class units. In addition, she could step up the training of Vietnamese soldiers to take over her fight in Indo-China.

That is the story to be given at delegations France has ever sent to the western hemisphere. It includes: Premier Rene Mayer—wealthy, highly-educated lawyer and self-assured statesman.

Accompanying the group are experts on the budget, foreign affairs, finance, economics and all the various subjects they will discuss with the Americans. In Washington, they face what increasingly looks like one of the toughest diplomatic battles of the year.

Reds Claim U. S. Plane Fired First

The Russian reply said it had been "established" that the bomber made two flights over Soviet territory on March 15—the first at Cape Krestovok, in southern Kamchatka, and the second near the village of Zhupanovo, northeast of the Soviet base of Petropavlovsk.

It claimed that the U. S. plane shot at Soviet fighters that had taken off when the second alleged violation occurred and "for the purpose of self defense one of the Soviet aircraft had to open fire."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) accused the U. S. Air Force last Friday of issuing a "false report" on the air. He asserted that the bomber was not just there on weather business. It may, nevertheless, have been engaged in a possible widening of Bridge street.

Town to Probe Widening Of Bridge, Lenox Streets

At the urging of Police Chief Herman O. Schendel last night, the Board of Directors authorized General Manager Richard Martin to get engineering data on the widening of Bridge street and Lenox street.

Schendel asserted that the Town Planning Commission had "missed the boat" in not insisting on a 50-foot width for Lenox street for the 200 foot depth of the plot recently rezoned as Business Zone I.

The police chief took the opportunity to express his opinion on the widening of Bridge street when Director Walter T. Mahoney said the Police Department should conduct a traffic survey of the town.

Open Forum

To the Editor: "Against Monopoly" should like to be allowed some space in your paper through the Open Forum to express my thoughts about the moving of the Imperial Package Store and the Planning and Zoning Board of the Town of Manchester.

First, I believe that the Planning & Zoning Board was correct in allowing the Imperial Package Store, owned and operated by William Wiganooka to move from 35 Oak street to Spruce street. There were two package stores there at that time (1951) and with the volume of traffic on Oak street it was, and still is a definite hazard.

Furthermore, this move was not considered detrimental to the neighborhood as a petition was signed in favor of the anticipated move by practically all of the neighbors and business men in that vicinity.

Formica to Attend State Convocation

Tolland, March 24—(Special)—Local School Principal Frank A. Formica and William E. Anderson, chairman of the Tolland Board of Education will attend the 15th annual convocation of the Connecticut State Board of Education on Thursday at the Hartford Club and the Horace Bushnell Memorial Hall in Hartford.

The convocation will be held in three parts, the afternoon and dinner programs will be held at the Hartford Club with the evening session scheduled for the Bushnell.

Six discussion groups in the afternoon and evening sessions will be held at the Hartford Club for laymen educators and invited guests.

Stress Citizens' Place

Departing from the regular procedure of past convocations, the State Board of Education this year will stress the citizens' place in public education. The program has been designed for laymen instead of professional educators with an emphasis on citizens' interest and participation.

The evening session will open with a panel discussion of key laymen of the state on the major points in question coming out of the afternoon deliberations.

OPEN LETTER FROM MANCHESTER MODES, INC. TO: OUR FELLOW CITIZENS OF MANCHESTER

American Industry and Business are the leaders in the world today because of a long history of close co-operation between labor and management. There is no such thing as working for management against labor or working for labor against management. One cannot prosper without the other; neither can exist without the other. Labor, under the policy guidance of management, is responsible for manufacturing a product efficiently and at a price competitive to all other like products in the market. How well they accomplish this is part of the measure of success of any business or industry. Both labor and management represent purchasing power for the very products they, and thousands of other industries, manufacture. To turn out a product efficiently made but overpriced as to the earning power of the consumer nullifies the daily co-operative work of both labor and management.

We, at Manchester Modes, have always believed in and practiced these principles. We know everyone employed at our factory personally, many of their families, and understand their problems. We appreciate what they have accomplished for us over their long years of employment. We have established benefits and wage scales the equal or better than our competitors in this and comparable areas. This we have done of our own free will and will continue to do as long as conditions warrant it. We, of labor and management, have been interested, active, participating members of the Manchester community for 16 years. We have built our homes, joined its churches, paid our taxes, and transacted our business in Manchester. We, as individuals and as a corporation, have entered into and supported all worthy drives and have been active in all civic activities since our establishment in Manchester.

We have enjoyed 16 years of uninterrupted harmony with our employees. This is now threatened by an outside interest group, who have made our employees extravagant promises of things to come. We have provided more working hours for our people than the average union shop, frequently at an operating loss to ourselves. We feel a responsibility to our employees to do so at times when the industry is in the doldrums. We believe all of this will be lost under union domination. We have tried to tell our employees without bias the facts involved in this forthcoming election for their enlightenment and guidance. We believe their interest lies in a continuance of the co-operation and policies that have been harmoniously maintained for these many years.

Cordially
MANCHESTER MODES, INC.

Maneuvering
 A democracy can afford the existence of a secret police only when its processes are safeguarded. If the FBI were to be turned into an instrument for the sake of Senator McCarthy, this democracy could no longer afford to maintain the FBI. Dastardly as its job may be, the FBI does it honorably, conscientiously, and efficiently. This would all be lost if its raw materials were to be turned over to the rumor-mongers in the Senate.

And A Sprinkling Of Deeds
 Suddenly again, the United States helped Russia win World War II. In fact, that war was won by cooperation between all the allies, not just by any one of them alone.

Fire Endangers Lavitt Property
 Ellington, March 24—(Special) —The fire department was called to the Lavitt property on Maple street Sunday afternoon for a grass fire in the rear of the building.

Guarding FBI Procedure
 Discussion of the Bohlen case highlighted the precise nature of FBI reports on individuals whom it is asked to surveil. We have been told that there is in the FBI file on Bohlen, "degradatory" material. We have been told that Bohlen has, at some time in his career, been associated with or friendly with some "disolute" character.

I. LOOK IT OVER
 The system under which the FBI operates is one in which it gathers everything that it can possibly get with regard to an individual, including gossip, malicious or otherwise, and including anonymous complaints. It gathers this material, repulsive as the process may often be, because there are admittedly times when this gossip lies in with something true, which can be established independently of the anonymous gossip.

2. TRY IT ON THE ROAD
 The dissatisfaction with Premier Yoshida was featured by somewhat contradictory currents of political thought. On the one hand, he was attacked as too "American." On the other hand, he was attacked for seeking to undo American reforms given to Japan by our occupation forces.

3. GET THE FACTS
 But, if it is bad enough, and substantial enough, for this country to know that, under the functioning of the FBI, any piece of malicious gossip can get itself down on official paper, it is unthinkable that such gossip should find its way, beyond the officials who would evaluate it conscientiously and fairly and hurriedly, if in such respects, the issue is forever when it was not substantiated, into the hands of

Coventry Brush Fire Brings Appeal From Chief Delmar Potter
 Coventry, March 24—(Special) —Fire Chief Delmar W. Potter today appealed to all local residents to heed the laws of common sense in regard to extinguishing fires. Potter's statement followed a brush fire yesterday afternoon that consumed some one half acre on Rensselaer trail before it was brought under control. The fire was located on the property of Otto Miller.

Grass In Tender-Dry
 Members of the Volunteer Firemen's Association fought the elusive blaze to a standstill although the dry grasses and brushland presented a difficult combination. Potter said he thought the origin of the fire lay in a smoldering wood stump which had been left burning.

Miss Lakeray Wins Nurse Award
 Officers of Ursula Lodge, A. F. and A. M. conferred with Mrs. Miss Lakeray for her successful completion of a 40-hour nursing course at the University of Connecticut. Mrs. Lakeray is a member of the Ursula Lodge and is employed as a nurse in the hospital at the University of Connecticut.

ALERT PARENTS CAN HELP STOP SPREAD OF SCALP RINGWORM

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. Written for NEA Service

"I have a little grandson" writes Mrs. C. D., "who has had ringworm of the scalp for four months. He has lost all his hair. What causes it and how do you get it?"

Ringworm of the scalp, or tinea capitis, is a fungus infection of the scalp and that part of the hair which is close to the scalp. Sometimes there are scattered scabs on the back or sides of the head, but complete loss of hair is rare. Under the infected hair is a white mass and is often broken off at the root.

It is often necessary for the physician to use special equipment in order to make a diagnosis. A test which consists of ultraviolet rays filtered through a special type of glass is used and must be carried out in a darkened room. Under this special light the infected hair usually gives a bright glow.

Other tests, such as looking at the hairs or scrapings from the scalp, are sometimes made. The treatment for ringworm is not easy, but in time is usually successful. The ointments and shampoos which have worked on other types of fungus infections may not prove effective for this so treatment may seem discouraging for a time. Some success has been reported with X-ray treatment.

When ringworm of the scalp is really epidemic in a community, an attempt should be made to find all children in homes, day camps, schools and kindergartens. Children in families where one child is found to be infected.

Children living in institutions are even more likely to be exposed than children in homes. Teachers can help enormously by being on the lookout for any diseases and reporting it immediately. It is most important to recognize the infectious nature and to stop it from spreading.

Corporation Tax Deadline April 1

State Tax Commissioner William F. Connelly calls the attention of all corporations doing business in Connecticut to the necessity for filing corporation business tax returns covering operations conducted during the calendar year 1952, on or before April 1, 1953. Attention is further called to the fact that payment of the full amount of tax found to be due must be accompanied by the return and, further, that all returns must be signed and sworn to before they are acceptable for filing. Corporations which fail to file on or before April 1 will be subjected to the statutory penalty of $5 for delinquency in filing and also to interest charges at the rate of six per cent per month from the date of the return to the date of payment.

Ruth Millett

Do We Call Her 'Mamie' Or Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower? Now that she is the First Lady of the land, is it disrespectful to refer to the lady with the fetching bangs and the friendly smile as 'Mamie'?

A reader recently chides me for doing so in the following letter: "I enjoyed your writing about why people like 'Mamie' with one exception. Now is your opportunity to help correct the common way people have of speaking about her. She should always be called Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower and the newspapers should honor her by always writing it in that way. She is the First Lady of the land; it is entitled to dignity."

Maybe so. But here's a lot more recognition of the fact that Mrs. Eisenhower is a charming individual in her own right who is sometimes referred to affectionately as "Mamie."

Fame Is Not A New Experience "After all our new First Lady has been the wife of an important man for a long time. And even though she has stayed out of the limelight herself, she has managed to maintain her warm personality, her friendliness (including her bangs), and her own informal way of meeting important occasions, and even though she is the First Lady she is the same Mamie (or Mrs. Eisenhower) who stepped out on the platform of her husband's campaign train with pin curls in her hair to greet well-wishers.

They wanted to see Mamie and she was gracious enough to consent even though she wasn't dressed for a public appearance. To me that kind of personality, the "Mamie" rather than "Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower." But, as I say, maybe I am wrong.

Perhaps we ought to leave it up to the First Lady herself. So I'll not say what I'll do. I'll send this column to the President's wife and let her know how she feels about Mamie versus Mrs. Eisenhower; and if she has time to tell us I'll let you know through this column.

Why Should Manchester Workers Be Paid Less?

A Statement to the Community and Our Garment Workers at "Manchester Modes"

Unions are people and the people are our neighbors. That's why the "Yes" votes in the union election at the West Side Recreation Center tomorrow afternoon are as important to the whole community as they are to the workers themselves.

The pay envelopes of the 300 workers turning out coats and suits at Manchester Modes keep a lot of families going, pay a lot of rent, keep a lot of children in shoes and clothes, buy a lot of appliances and keep lots of cash registers ringing in lots of stores.

Why Less?

You can get the real point in the whole situation from the answer to one question: "WHY SHOULD MANCHESTER WORKERS BE PAID LESS?"

The owner of Manchester Modes has a big interest in the same kind of factory you do. It is in an area where wage rates are uniformly lower. Yet the garment workers in that other shop doing the same kind of work we do here earn at least 20 per cent more on the average.

That's a healthy difference. In addition those workers have job protection, old age pensions, a voice in fixing their conditions through their own elected shop people and lots of other important benefits.

There's An Answer

Just figure it out. Here's practically the same employer. Our garment workers are doing the same kind of work. But—they get substantially lower pay . . . and they are deprived of very important benefits.

INTERNATIONAL LADIES' GARMENT WORKERS' UNION, A.F. of L.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT THE ILGWU: The union is over a half century old. It represents close to 450,000 garment workers in the cities, towns and villages of the United States and Canada. These members run their own affairs in close to 450 "home town" local unions. Over these many years the ILGWU has earned a national reputation for soundness, responsibility and the conservative approach to the problems of collective bargaining. The Pulpit, Press and Community Leaders are a unit in praising the ILGWU.

Here's what LIFE MAGAZINE said over a 17-page illustrated article: "A great and good union points the way . . ."

TIME MAGAZINE recently selected David Dubinsky, ILGWU President, for its "cover man."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST in a long story praised the ILGWU for its accomplishments in helping its membership.

THE READERS DIGEST did the same in two stories.

Practically every important magazine and newspaper in the country has singled out the ILGWU for admiring comment.

Regular financial statements keep the membership and the public fully informed of the union's operations.

The union's pledge today is what it has always been for a half century: "The ILGWU will always continue to press for the prosperous employment supporting prosperous workers contributing to the prosperity and well being of the communities in which they work."

Why do our Manchester people get the short end of the deal? It is simply because the firm has succeeded so far in "keeping the union out." That's his business . . . and good business for him. But it is the business of the workers to get their standard wages and other benefits. That's good business for them and the community.

Until Tomorrow

We can be certain that this unfairness will be over soon. Our Manchester workers are thoroughly tired of being stepchildren . . . of getting half a loaf and being told that it is cake. They want what is rightfully coming to them. They are tired of favorites and pets in the shop.

They want to belong to the Ladies' Garment Workers, American Federation of Labor . . . the solid, respected and powerful "Home Town Union."

Watch This Election

The United States Government is running the election tomorrow. Balloting will take place between 2:30 and 5:30 P. M. at the West Side Recreation Center.

The vote is completely secret . . . just like town and national elections.

Laid-off workers are entitled to vote . . . a ballot is their right. You can be sure that the big majority of our garment workers will vote "YES" . . . for the best interests of themselves and their families . . . for the best interests of our community.

Bolton

Broll on Vernon GOP Panel Dealing with Redistricting

Bolton, March 24 (Special)—A Senate effort of the local library and the school. At the same time, they will also have access to the Sunday edition of the New York Herald-Tribune, the gift of the G. W. Smith family of Shoddy Mill road.

Has Idea of Topic Senator Broll said today he will probably elaborate on legislation designed to correct the apportionment of representation in the legislature. Both houses have recently passed a bill redistricting the State since, by constitution, Senate representation is based on population.

The current district lines, have resulted in such situations as one Senator representing a district of 130,000 population and at the opposite extreme, a Senator representing a district of 24,000.

Am Companion Bill Companion to the redistricting bill is one proposing a constitutional amendment providing for one Representative from each town. Representation in the House of Representatives on a basis of units of government.

Cites Such Situation This results in a situation where Hartford with a population of 177,000 has two representatives and no other Hartfordians with a population of 549.

Advocate of this legislation believes, Senator Broll stated "that the Senate redistricting bill adjusting district lines to set up evenly balanced districts according to population, and the constitutional amendment re-establishing representation in the house on a basis of units of government, will correct the present inequities of representation in the General Assembly."

Others on the program at the YVW house on Elm street tonight include Reps. Richard M. Grant of Bolton and Franklin Wales and Luther A. White of Vernon.

Praises Gotham Paper Upper grades at the local elementary school will have an opportunity to make a more complete study of the Sunday New York Times. This was evident in a statement, released by the local school administrator's office today.

The principal told The Herald that his views—shared by other educators—indicate that four year's thorough reading of the Times Sunday edition is the rough equivalent to a college education. The opportunity is being provided students through the cooperation of the local library and the school.

Students Seek Knowledge Encouraged by the manner in which the students already use the daily newspapers available to them. The Manchester Herald, Hartford Courant and Hartford Times, the administration feels the addition of the New York metropolitan area Sunday papers a valuable expansion of this work. The three daily papers have been used frequently in lesson assignments and it is felt, the Sunday editions will broaden this program.

Greets 25 Candidates Blanca Caldera coach of the girls softball team greeted 25 candidates at yesterday's opening practice session. With an eye to the successful seasons experienced by local girls in previous years, Miss Caldera nonetheless opined, "Looks like we're going to have another good team this year."

Town Surpasser Quota Bolton is over its Red Cross quota by 25 cents. Miss Jeannette Sumner, local fund head, reported last night a total of $645.25 has been received to date. Workers have completed their house calls but Miss Sumner stated a few more donations are anticipated.

PTA Schedules Session The executive committee of the local PTA unit will meet at the school tomorrow night. Because of the rehearsal of the unit's comedy to be held the same night at the school, the meeting of the committee has been advanced to 7:30 o'clock.

Several committee members are also in the cast and it is hoped to dispense with items of business quickly to free them for rehearsal. Since this will be the last session of this group of officers, it is expected that annual reports will be read for presentation to the membership.

Map Wins Approval The Zoning Board in session last night, approved a revised map which was submitted by the Holl Investment Company.

Personal Mention Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reuben of Long Island City, N. Y., are staying a few days here at the guest of their son, local school principal.

Today's Activity Calendar Student Council met at school at 8:00 p. m. The organization of boys baseball team at school took place at 2:40 p. m. Membership class at United Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m.

Zoners Vote Nine Requests, Deny Three and Table Two

Nine exceptions to the zoning regulations were approved by the Zoning Board of Appeal following a public hearing in the Municipal Building last night.

Nicola-Bristol, Inc. of 1089 Main street was denied permission to erect a building at the rear of 4 Edgeway street, Business Zone III.

Applicants granted were as follows: Kosta Berzenaki, two years permission to conduct live bait business at 7 Nelson place.

Both parties objected because they own property close to the proposed site for the tire recycling business.

Dillon Gets Okay: Stewart Dillon was granted a permit to erect an addition to his triple tie at the end of each round.

53 Planes, Animals in Atom Tests

 Presumably — in view of the brighter flash and the fact troops were stationed about 300 yards away — today's explosion was more powerful than last week's, and presumably the weak shock wave was due to different atmospheric conditions.

53 Planes, Animals in Atom Tests

 Today's mushrooming cloud turned a fiery red-pink as it rose high in the desert dawn and finally caught the rays of the rising sun. As it divided — and observers said this was the first time such a division has been noted here — it was swept slowly northward on the breeze.
