European payment union and the move toward economic integration in Europe.

The Indo-China war loomed as the key discussion point.

France was expected to appeal indirectly for bigger and faster military aid shipments to this area in order to train 37 new "combat battalions" of Indo-Chinese troops.

Plans indefinite

American officials are expected to grant this request even though general foreign aid plans for the future are still indefinite. This French plan for turning over a higher share of the fighting to Indo-Chinese forces fits in with the broad strategy favored by Eisenhower of disengaging American and French forces from Korea and Indo-China as rapidly as possible.

Dulles is reported hopeful that Mayer's visit will result in approval of the atomic energy European treaty before European parliament adjourn for the summer.

If he wins a firm public pledge from Mayer to speed French action, Dulles reportedly will consider the compromise a success.

Wine Money Battle

Premier Mayer carried with him the prestige of victory in a parliamentary money battle and a six-nation compromise on French conditions for approving the proposed European Army.

Accompanied by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Finance Minister Robert Schuman, Mayer boarded his plane daily for day after long hours of work on a number of issues, all apparently aimed at strengthening his talking points at Washington.

His take-off was delayed several hours by a still parliamentary fight for approval of a loan of 80 billion francs (230 million dollars) from the Bank of France. The National Assembly first voted against the loan—designed to meet current government operating expenses.

Vote 240 to 231

The lawmakers finally okayed the deal 260-221 after Mayer threatened to call off his Washington project, the lower house of the West German parliament has ratified the treaty despite German objections. The treaty would entail western European defense force.

ary the U. S. expected concrete and visible signs of such progress this spring.

Previously she had insisted that they be adopted as protocols to the European Defense Community (EDC) treaty, which she signed here last year along with the UN. He said that, recalling the activities of the Russian spy ring in Canada—directed by officials of the Soviet embassy—it was difficult to understand Red efforts against admitted spy acts by diplomats of other countries.

nally to the queen, and members bid solemnly out of the chamber.

A similar address was voted unanimously by the House of Lords, and both houses then adjourned until tomorrow.

Holding a single sheet of white paper in his trembling hand, the dinner-jacketed government leader said in a voice breaking with emotion: "Mr. Speaker, I rise to move adjournment of the House. I have with great regret to make the announcement that Queen Mary has died."

A few cries of dismay from public galleries broke the quiet. Churchill told the House he would make an address of condolence to Queen Elizabeth today, then ask adjournment for the day as an expression of his profound sorrow and respect.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent announced the death of the Canadian Queen and that House also adjourned.

Last Bulletin

As Churchill spoke, a solemn attendee a few blocks away predicted the fourth and last funeral of the British monarch, the death of Marlborough House.

Edwin in brief said simply: "While sleeping peacefully, Queen Mary died at 20 minutes past 11 o'clock."

Millions Mourning

Four generations of Britons who knew and loved her as the proud symbol of royalty paid their tribute. Throughout the free-flying British Commonwealth and Empire, with their 375 million inhabitants, flags were dipped and minutes of silence observed.

U. S. President Eisenhower sent his deep personal sympathy and recalled "Queen Mary" as a great, great queen. Few people the world over will mourn her less.

Similar expressions from other chiefs of state poured in for a bulletin of yesterday afternoon. In the office of General Manager Richard Martin.

One of the contracts is for about $10,000 to break highways and repair sections of highways which have been broken up by weather.

The other contract for which bids will be opened tomorrow is for about $100,000 in construction of sidewalks on Woodland street, from Ripod to Hillard streets.

Included in this season's schedule of work on roads is the armor coating of Broad street from Center street to Middle turnpike west, according to Town Engineer James H. Sheehey.

Sheehey said today that he is eager to get the peckmarked highway which must be graded after each heavy rainstorm, but suppliers of street oil have not yet opened. A grader was at work today.

Sheehey's plans call for additional catch basins along the street to solve the drainage problem. There, one or more coats of oil, and eventual armor coating, which will be done by the contractor.

Subject of Police 'Rescue' Hunt Fined, $75 in Court

Gerard F. Sullivan, 48, of Manchester, Conn., who had been charged with the murder of a man who had police officers hunting for him, was fined $75 in court today.

Sullivan was charged with the murder of a man who had police officers hunting for him, was fined $75 in court today.

Deputy Judge John J. O'Connor found Sullivan guilty of evading responsibility despite his contention during the trial that he was too ill during the day and a half spent in the woods near the accident to report the accident to anyone. Sullivan said that he had blacked out after the accident, which saw his car ram through a wooden guard rail on the Fern street bridge, and had spent his time in the woods in a dazed and confused condition.

Search parties Sullivan's car about 6 p. m. March 3, had hunted the wood for him until 3 a. m. the following morning and were out in a search party again for him the morning of March 5, the day he gave himself up at police headquarters. Sullivan surrendered to Chief of Police Herman O. Schendel shortly after a 10-man squad returned from a three-hour search.

A breach of the peace charge that had also been lodged against Sullivan in connection with the episode was nolle.

Bond for appeal on the evading responsibility conviction was set at $100.

Prosecutor W. David Keith and Attorney Philip Bayer, who represented Sullivan, each presented a number of witnesses during the hour-long trial.

Attorney Bayer advanced three main arguments in his effort to prove that the provisions of the

Czechs Reveal Long-Laid Plan Aided Venture

Frankfurt, Germany, March 25.—Six Czechs, who fled their Red-ruled homeland by sailing an airplane in flight, said today they were glad to escape being shot down by Czech pilots or anti-aircraft guns at the German border.

In a news conference marking their first public appearance since their daring flight to freedom Monday night, the refugees told a dramatic story.

They would not disclose completely how they pulled off their coup, because they said they did not want to handicap others who might try to flee the same way in the future.

The desperate adventure was plotted by four persons: The airline's pilot, Miroslav Slovák; former Royal Air Force pilot John Lenti, a farmer whose farm is at the edge of the woods into which Sullivan disappeared; and two other men, who had testified he talked to Sullivan.

O'Connor also held that the guard rail, though rotten, still served a valuable use as a warning sign to motorists using the bridge.

RAINSI MADE TRUSTEE

Hartford, March 25.—Attorney John K. Haisel of Thompsonville has been named trustee and a creditor's committee has been selected to dispose of the assets of the former operators of a Bradley Field restaurant.

The appointments were made yesterday by U. S. Referee Saul Berenson at a session of bankruptcy court in which Charles H. Millard of East Hartford and Arthur Bunnell of Hartford had first hearings. The two men relinquished their possessions at the airport last month. They listed liabilities at $63,616 and assets of $23,076.

Color Television Is Still Unsettled

Washington, March 25.—The president of the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) said today the question of color television has everybody puzzled, and that it's up to the Federal Communications Commission to "get this question settled once and for all at the earliest possible moment."

The statement was made by Dr. Frank Stanton, who was called before the House Commerce committee as part of its inquiry into why its color television system in 1950 Under its system, color telecasts could not be received in black and white on sets now in use. This is called "incompatible."

If NPA lifts the ban, manufacturers of CBS system sets could begin at once.

The situation is clouded, however, because the Radio Corporation of America (RCA) says it has developed a "compatible" system in which color telecasts could be received in black and white on ordinary sets.

A partial government ban on the manufacture of color television sets is expected to be lifted soon, perhaps even today. The National Production Authority was meeting to consider taking such action before the House Commerce committee as part of its inquiry into why

18 TEACHERS IN PROBE

Washington, March 25.—William Janssen, New York City superintendent of schools testified today that about 180 public school teachers there are under investigation in a program to oust Communists.

They would not disclose completely how they pulled off their coup, because they said they did not want to handicap others who might try to flee the same way in the future.

Only Seven at Meeting

The Zoning Commission hearing on the revised map of Rosedale section at the Community Hall on Monday night was attended by only seven persons, four of them commission members.

There were no objections to approval of the sub-division and Zoning Agent Oscar Kivrygk has announced the commission voted approval of the revision.

The sub-division has been plotted and filed prior to the effective date of zoning regulations showing lots with 50 foot frontage. The revised map, approved on Monday, contains 106 lots of 75 foot frontage and several 40 foot roads. One road will give an additional second front lot and road into the development.

Asked For Repeat

Saturday night's square dance at the Community Hall proved successful. Mrs. Paul Arnold stated today that Group One of the Ladies Benevolent Society which sponsored the event, has been besieged with requests to repeat the idea. Although hesitant to set a date at this time, Mrs. Arnold felt the group would sponsor another dance of this type again this spring.

About 60 people, most of them local, danced to the amplified music of William H. Dobson's record collection.

Musician boss Petrillo would no doubt frown at the idea but several dancers felt that for this occasion, the records were "better than an orchestra."

Many Are Nervous

Most of those who attended were not familiar with square dancing and appreciated the fact that caller Elton Dobson walked through almost every dance before calling it. There were still confusion in some dancer's mind, the instructions were repeated. Even Dobson enjoyed the evening and felt that he could teach this active group a Center church will be discussed tonight in a meeting of the renovation committee at the parish room at 8 o'clock.

The renovation committee will be very extensive since it is expected that final plans will find a complete re-plastering job one of the basic items.

The committee is considering suggestions from members of the church and have requested that they be left with Mrs. Robert C. Glenney, secretary of the committee.

Work Nearly Completed

Preparatory to the work of this committee, the Men's Fellowship of the church has been replacing the hymnal and communion glass racks on the back of the pews. This group expects to complete their work on Friday night.

Nine Get Chummy With Atomic Blast

It was Bullock who selected four Army, four Navy and one Air Force officer from a group of volunteers for yesterday's close approach. In the Civil Defense test last week, 1,200 troops and military observers and 20 newsmen were in trenches 3,600 yards from the explosion. Yesterday, 1,300 troops were 4,000 yards away.

The Army and the Atomic Energy Commission exposed sheep pigs and rabbits to yesterday's explosion, for biologic studies, but announced no immediate results. The biologic studies, up its customary mushroom cloud, which divided and drifted away in the northeast. The AEC said there were no reports of radiation from the explosion.

The AEC said 40 of the 50 clothed mannequins placed in two test houses and automobiles in last week's test have been decontaminated and are being prepared for public exhibit.

The simulated families of the doomed atomic village "look" a fearful heating in rooms above ground, indicating humans would have been killed or horribly injured, but mannequins in basement shelters of the houses were virtually undisturbed.

More and more people will be aiming high, now that Uncle Sam has removed so many price lines.

The second shot of the spring series was from a 300-foot tower on Tucoes flat in the vast Nevada proving grounds 65 miles northwest of the gambling resort city.

It was accompanied by expanded Air Force participation, 53 planes in all, including 12 B-36 bombers which flew near enough to get a jolt from the blast.

A Navy A-22 fighter drone plane, controlled by two mother ships, was flown into the thermal envelope or heat waves and back to land safely at Indian Springs AF Base.

An Air Force spokesman said, of the B-36 crews: "We want the lead crews of bombers which might some day be involved in a real atomic operation to know at first hand what a blast is like. We want them to know that they don't suffer from buck fever. We want the same sort of training for crews of other planes at later dates."

Reports FBI Files Hold Vague Quilt

Tart said he thought his own examination of the FBI report had strengthened the administration forces.

Some other critics of Bohlen have said there might be more than four of five.
The climactic debate brought a big crowd of spectators to the Capitol. Senate galleries were packed well before the session opened.

Sen. Beall (R-Md.), supporting Bohlen's nomination, told the Senate that opposing Bohlen is tantamount to opposing the integrity of the Executive branch.

He said Bohlen's character has been "fairly attacked" and added:
"The integrity of our Secretary of State, and indirectly that of our President, has been questioned."

By our votes today we in this Senate can reaffirm our respect for, or our understanding of, the human liberties our constitution protects.

Tart anticipated a possible challenge in the Senate of talks by Bohlen and Sparkman to demand direct access to the FBI "raw" files. These are the original reports of FBI investigators and they contain unvalued information, including rumors and gossip.

Sparkman called the information against Bohlen "top secret" and said some Senators have described it as alleging that Bohlen has associated with persons whose morals are suspect.

McCarthy and Bridges planned to call their colleagues to vote that Bohlen should be confirmed because of his making association with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

McCarthy said in an interview he won't be satisfied on the security and loyalty scores until some committee hears testimony from McLeod on what he knows about the FBI investigation.

Folks Just Like to Fib, Pinocchio Drive Proves

By JACK BRUNINI AP Newfeatures
Pascia, Italy—This little town's world-wide pennies for Pinocchio drive proves that almost everybody loves a cheerful liar.

It shows, too, that a lot of us would like to be allowed to tell a few harmless lies, ourselves.
Money for a monument to the long-nosed puppet started rolling in when Rolando Anzilotti, Mayor of Pinocchio's home town, offered certificates allowing donors to tell one lie a week.

A good share of the money is coming from the United States. A lot of husbands and wives—and one lawyer from Madisonville, Ky.—have sent contributions and asked for the certificates.

Life Certificates Help
So far, mostly since promising the fib certificates, Mayor Anzilotti has raised $5,327,000 lire—over $1,000,000.

That is about half what he wants to start building next spring a Pinocchio monument in Colodi, a suburban hamlet which comes under his Pasca administration.

There, just 70 years ago, the regular puppet was born in the hunger-wracked imagination of Carlo Lorenzini, an out-of-work Florentine newspaper reporter.

To pick up some spare spaghetti money, he wrote the stories for a boys' magazine under the name of Collodi.

Since then the puppet's adventures have been translated into every major language of the world, and soon even wider fame through Walt Disney's cartoon film.

Was U. S. Teacher
Mayor Anzilotti taught English at the Illinois Wesleyan University a few years ago. Previously he had Miss Gloria Italiano of Waukesha, Wis., while she was studying Italian and literature at the University of Florence.

Board Will Get Agendas Earlier

Agendas for meetings of the Board of Directors will be mailed to the board of directors earlier, according to a decision made by the board and General Manager Richard Martin in a brief closed session Monday.

Martin said today earlier mailing of the agendas had been discontinued before Monday.
Agendas are now mailed to the directors on Wednesday or Thursday and are sometimes not received until Friday, the day of regular meetings. The directors felt, it is reported, that earlier receipt of the agendas would permit them more time to study impending matters.

Lodge Lauds State Press at Meeting of AP

New Haven, March 25.—Gov. John Lodge says newspapers fall to serve their own best traditions and interests of their readers when they give full coverage to political criticism to the point of vilification during the heat of the political campaign.

It is the obligation of the press, he said, to encourage restraint of such partisan utterances by refusing to give large currency to the reckless misstatements with which the truth-seekers can catch up.
Gov. Lodge spoke last night at the annual circuit dinner meeting here of the Connecticut members of The Associated Press.

Alan J. Gould, executive editor of the AP news service, also a principal speaker, told the group television has increased the general interest in and demand for expanded newspaper coverage of major events.

TV, he said, has sharpened some of the newspaper's concepts and stimulated ideas concerning both picture and news coverage.

Connolly Re-elected
Connecticut members of the AP re-elected these officers for another year's term:
Roger A. Connolly, New Haven Register, chairman; Raymond J.

Fanning, Waterbury Republican-American, vice chairman; and William J. Poole, Hartford Connant, secretary-treasurer.

The members unanimously approved the recommendation of the Continuing Study Committee of Managing Editors of the Connecticut AP Circuit backing the bill now before the General Assembly which generally outlines the rights of the press to have access to public records.

Lodge praised Connecticut newspapers because "they show a great sense of responsibility in many fields, particularly in reporting and analysis of public affairs."

He lauded out at the "newspaper editor who concentrates on the sensational." That editor will soon be discarded, Lodge declared, that to keep his readers' interests he must give new attention on odd, with the ever-increasing danger of departing permanently from truth and from proportion.

Moscow Sends U.S. New Peace Appeal

The Soviet broadcast to America—part of a stream of assurances of peaceful Russian intentions that began after the death of Joseph Stalin—declared that Moscow is spending so much money on "economic and cultural development" that it could not possibly be preparing for a third world war.

But the Soviet offer to Britain spoke less convincingly of the U. S. That broadcast said unfortunately there were influential circles in America "which claim there must be no cooperation with the Soviet Union and the People's Democracies."

This broadcast said that what these American critics want is increased street sales, as a whole, whereas only few showed little or no change, Gould reported.

John Day Jackson, publisher of the New Haven Register and host for the meeting, was unable to attend the affair because of a severe cold, Connolly told the meeting.

William Jackowski, President National League umpire, donated the mask for the first time professedly in 1916 in the Class D Blue Ridge League.

editorial criticism which his misrepresentations, often too tardily, evoke.
Connecticut newspapers, Lodge said, "rank uncommonly high. It might be argued that news standards must be high in order to keep pace with the intelligence and the forward look of our Connecticut people."

Lodge said he liked to think of government and the press as working partners.
"I am trying increasingly, to make more useful by own contributions to that partnership," Gould, after tracing the development of the Associated Press from its reorganization in 1900, told the members television "has increased our sources of news, and stimulated others."

An AP spot survey around the country the day after the presidential inauguration last January showed that TV coverage of the event gave a solid boost to newspaper sales, Gould said. Morning and afternoon papers in 20 cities showed increased street sales, as a whole, whereas only few showed little or no change, Gould reported.

Trailer Truck Catches Fire; Driver Saved

Greenwich, March 25—(AP)—A trailer truck bearing cargo valued at $50,000 was destroyed by fire here early today. The driver, trapped inside the cab, was hauled to safety by an unidentified passerby.

The driver, Julius C. Reese, 30, of 1350 Seaview avenue, Bridgeport, was treated for a wrist injury at Greenwich Hospital and released.

Police said the truck was westbound on the Boston Post road, carrying a load of cosmetics, medicine and general merchandise from Bridgeport to Jersey City, N. J. They quoted Reese as saying his attention was distracted by a police cruiser parked along the highway and as he gazed toward the trailer hit a rock ledge on the roadside, tipping the vehicle.

The truck then swerved into the ledge again and ignited. Firemen said gasoline from smashed tanks on the trailer ignited the fire and burned furiously. Both doors on the driver's cab were jammed shut and Reese was trying to escape feet first through an open window when he was assisted to safety by a passerby.

Fire Chief Stuart M. Potter estimated overall damage, truck and cargo, at $41,500. The vehicle was owned by the Vehicle Transport Manufacturing Company, a subsidiary of the Company and Corbett Company of Stratford.

Over $6,000 Damage Seen In Loss of Summer Home

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Muttly of 30 Waddell road are taking an inventory of furnishings and other belongings destroyed in a fire that leveled their summer home at Surry, N. H., Saturday night. Punctuated by two explosions in gas tanks at the cottage, the fire swept through the building and forced seven persons to flee. Preliminary estimate of damages is $6,000, but Mrs. Muttly this morning said the total loss would exceed that figure. The building and contents were partially insured, she said.

Originally from Maine, the couple has resided here about eight years. Muttly is employed by Hinton Standard in Windsor, Locke.

When the family goes back to Surry this week, the purpose will be to continue the inventory and make plans to rebuild.

Malan Forces Plan New Bid For Race Laws

Monday White House announcement came as a surprise to him. Caphart plans to wrap up his freeze proposal in a package bill along with sections of the present defense production act which his committee decides should be extended.

1. A law cutting voting rights of colored people.

2. A measure setting up the highest law-testing court in the land with powers to overrule the regular judiciary on constitutional questions.

3. Regulations segregating non-whites from whites in railway stations. This third measure was used Monday when the court ruled that equal facilities must be furnished both whites and non-whites and that otherwise all citizens are entitled to share the available conveniences.

This latest judgment seems the immediate cause of the Nationalist talk of a stepped-up campaign against the courts.

When Malan's men originally launched their campaign of racial agitation they promised separate but equal facilities for whites and non-whites in government post offices, railroad stations and other public places.

But the Nationalist argue now that if the rigid test of equal facilities is applied, the economic burden on the state would be intolerable. Not only waiting rooms but dining cars, coaches and other services would have to be duplicated for both whites and non-whites. Nationalist party officials argued that American experience in this field promised endless litigation.

Aunt Gives Party For Miss Rogers

Miss Constance J. Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Rogers of 500 East Center street, was given a miscellaneous shower recently by her aunt, Mrs. Fred I. Rogers of 33 Wellington road. Those attending were aunts, nieces and cousins, numbering 23. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mrs. Harvey Peterman, aunt and cousin, respectively of the bride-elect.

The motif was green and yellow. The bride-elect sitting before the fireplace to accept her gifts which had been placed there in a decorated white-wicker chair. A lunch served with the table centerpiece a cake decorated with green and yellow.

Miss Rogers was honored three weeks ago with a shower at Manchester, Mass., given by her friends and associates at Jackson College, from which she graduated in 1952. Miss Janis Rogers, her cousin, was the hostess.

Miss Rogers will be married to Donald K. Richardson of Los Angeles, Calif., at the South Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon.

For Friday night supper and cooked shrimp, dried canned mushrooms, and cooked peas in a medium white sauce. Serve over toasted English muffins.

to determine whether or not this is a valid assumption.

After Monday's White House meeting with congressional leaders, House Speaker Joseph Martin (R, Mass.) reported the President also wanted a five-month extension of general federal rent controls.

These ceilings apply in several large cities which voted last fall to continue them; they are scheduled to die April 30.

The extension Martin said was agreed upon would run to Oct. 1. However, the fate of such a five-month extension in the Senate is highly doubtful.

Caphart said in an interview he could not understand the White House request for it. That it complicates his task in getting a free bill through. He said this is so because many businessmen opposing his bill have insisted there was an undercover purpose to extend present controls.

He says he is as strongly opposed as anyone to peacetime controls, but he is just as vehement in insisting that controls will be back if a big war breaks out and that Congress should prepare to extend present controls.

Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier and adviser to President Truman, made a strong appeal Monday for standby controls authority. He said he didn't know what position the administration would take, but that Congress should pass such a bill regardless. Most business witnesses have opposed the idea.

Caphart assured real estate and landlord witnesses last week there was no intention that he knew of anywhere in Washington to extend rent controls in non-critical areas. That is why he

Sense and Nonsense

SOB STORY (Victoria, Canada, Times) I once knew a farmer who was so poor, he lacked the plane fare to get him back from his Pasadena hotel to the Regina hotel from which he managed his farm. So he had to stay in California all summer, paying room and board. He dropped me a line, saying the price of food was something crazy these days, and the government ought to step in and take it over. I thought that was a little out of course as I know in the cities only so that nobody could make a profit except himself. This letter touched me a lot... for double postage, it was unstamped. A Tennessee hillbilly discovered a mirror which had been left behind by a tourist. Hilbilly—Well, if it ain't my old puppy, I never knowed he had his picture took! He sneaked it home and went up to the attic to hide it. But his wife spied him, and that night...

Lodge Defends Job Injury Bill

that of any other New England state. He added that although everyone is looking forward to the day when we can enjoy a less precarious peace, such a time will bring with it big problems of conversion from a wartime to a peacetime economy.

Financially Impossible Although it is financially impossible to do everything that is desired in the state government, Lodge said, "our services are, by and large, unexcelled throughout the country and, some say, are unmatched."

As an example of some of the things that have to be deferred, the governor said he was sorry he could not recommend establishment of a poultry laboratory at the University of Connecticut. "I have often said," he remarked, "that we have to differentiate between what is desirable and what is necessary, and that is one of the things we thought we could do without."

The governor told farmers that although he and Mrs. Lodge are members of the Grange and attend many fairs and other agricultural functions each year, he proposed to be no expert on agriculture.

Grand Road Construction A bill authorizing the construction of a thruway across Connecticut between the New York and Rhode Island state lines to Day had the approval of the legislative Roads, Bridges and Rivers committee.

The committee, however, made no recommendation for financing the 12-mile project the cost of which is estimated at $200,000,000, of which $135,000,000 would be spent on the controversial Fairfield County thruway as a relocation of U. S. Route 1.

Eastward from New Haven the proposed route would continue along the shore for several miles until it cuts inland to meet the Rhode Island boundary in Killingly along the line of the present U. S. Route 6.

Proposals have been made to finance the project with a bond issue to be liquidated through toll revenues.

Urging that the state rent control law be extended, a labor spokesman has suggested to the legislature's Judiciary committee that it ignore "the sweet talk that has come out of the Kremlin" recently.

Miss Elizabeth Irwin of the Connecticut Federation of Labor (AFL) said at a public hearing yesterday that "it is not sufficient to control the AFL, that peace is about to break out all over."

The committee has before it two bills proposing that the rent control law remain on the statute books "during the period of the Korean emergency."

About a half dozen landlords spoke against it. A bill which would set up an adult probation system at a cost of only $63,000 for the next two years received wide support at a hearing before the Judiciary committee yesterday.

Case Correct Defect The commission was told that Connecticut can correct "a great defect" in its administration of criminal law by approving the proposed measure.

Those who spoke, and there was no opposition, said adult probation is not a new concept. It has been used by the General Assembly since 1910 because of the high expense involved.

Backers of the more modest bill expressed confidence it would be supported by the Assembly and would "make a very good approach to the problem."

The bill would set up an adult probation commission of seven members, including one judge from the Superior, Common Pleas and Municipal Courts. The commission would have the power to appoint a state director of adult probation, and general supervision of the adult probation service, now operated by probation officers appointed by individual courts.

CAPTIVES ON ISLAND Hong Kong, March 25—(AP)—A report from Macao today said that 100 Chinese were being held on Tongkawan Island, 10 miles north of Macao.

The report said travelers to Macao related that the Communists were holding the men on the island pending instructions from Canton or Peking. Previous reports from other sources had said the three were taken to the town of Shikou, on the mainland, en route to Canton.

Joseph E. Lutz of 78 Alton street has been named to succeed A. Roy Hills as district manager of the Hartford and Massachusetts sales districts of the Connecticut Coke Company, when the latter retires in the late summer. It was announced today by Hugh MacArthur, president of the company.

Mr. Lutz, who has been employed at the Hartford office for the past 23 years, is married and has two daughters. He is at present serving as chairman of the Town Planning Commission.

Congress Gets Plan to Revamp Farm Bureau

Agriculture, while others delegate major functions to subordinate officers and agencies.

The reorganization plan, with some exceptions, would transfer the latter functions to the secretary.

That, Eisenhower added, would correct "the present patchwork arrangement of statutory functions in the department."

The functions exempted from transfer to the Secretary are those of hearing examiners under the administrative procedures act; those of the corporations of the department, including their boards of directors and officers; those of the advisory board of the Commodity Credit Corporation; and those of the Farm Credit Administration and the banks, corporations and associations supervised by it.

As for the proposed addition of new top aides to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, the President said Benson had advised him that the two assistant secretaries the plan calls for, and the administrative assistant secretary, would simply replace existing positions and that hence the creation of these offices will not result in any increase in the personnel in the Department of Agriculture.

Eisenhower's message today said the proposed reorganization would save the taxpayers money, but he added the amount of such reductions "cannot be itemized at this time."

Today was the second reorganization plan submitted to Congress by the Eisenhower administration. Two weeks ago the president proposed transferring into a cabinet-rank department of health, education and welfare. The House already has voted to advance the effective date of that plan. The message still is pending in the Senate.

Ralph Richmond's Suggestion on Oil Seal Is Judged the Top Award
 Ralph A. Richmond of 14 Pioneer circle won the maximum award, $2,500, in Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's suggestion program for February. William P. Gwin, general manager, announced today.
 By receiving the top award, Richmond, who is an assembly analyst at the Aircraft, became the fifth maximum award winner since the present suggestion program went into effect in March, 1947. Hospitalized by a serious cardiac ailment on Feb. 23, he heard the good news while recuperating at his home.
 In February, P&W had 124 award winners who shared $4,956. Richmond bid the jackpot by recommending the redesign of the oil seal and preventing leaks. As a result, oil and fuel have been saved.
 An employe at P&W for more than 11 years, Richmond is one of the most frequent contributors to the suggestion program. He has now entered 92 suggestions and 68 of them have been judged worthy of awards.

Heavy Rains Swell Connecticut River

Hartford, March 25 (AP)—The Connecticut River here was rising today and observers say it is expected to reach the 16-foot stage by mid-afternoon.
 The crest of about 24 feet is expected sometime tomorrow, but without appreciable damage although it will be several feet above that of last week's rise, according to the U. S. Weather bureau at Brainerd Field.
 It will mean flooding of fields and farmland close to the river's edge where the dikes do not protect.

Propaganda Techniques
 In every difference of opinion over strategy of the Voice of America, as these differences of opinion have been revealed by Senator McCarthy's investigation, the issue has come down to the basic question of whether our propaganda should use a meat axe, or be a little more clever and a little more subtle.
 Every disgruntled employe of the Voice who has testified has been an advocate of the meat axe technique. The American complaint from the disgruntled employe has been that somebody else in the Voice eliminated the meat axe and refused to use it. The standard conclusion, from the McCarthy hearings, has been that such refusal to use the meat axe means that the officials who refused to use it must have been a Communist or a Communist sympathizer.

American Attacks Bog on Old Baldy
 gone wrong against the dogged Reds.
 The Reds await over Old Baldy the American fighting men have been trying to get it back since.

Troops Ordered Back
 An American attack force pushed on this morning toward a Red trench network on the northeast and was stopped cold.
 Another lashed out toward the northwest. A division officer said this one "got close" but was finally ordered back in the afternoon.
 "When the going got too rough," it was the fighting, a line of close-quarter grenade and small arms fire.

Heavy Casualties
 The Reds were reported taking heavy casualties that what New York City needs is a city manager instead of a mayor. But, at the moment, it looks as if New York City had a city manager.
 His name is Thomas E. Dewey, who also dabbles in being Governor of New York.

"City Manager" Dewey
 There have been recurrent suggestions that what New York City needs is a city manager instead of a mayor. But, at the moment, it looks as if New York City had a city manager.
 His name is Thomas E. Dewey, who also dabbles in being Governor of New York.

Inkkeeper Beaten By Two Robbers

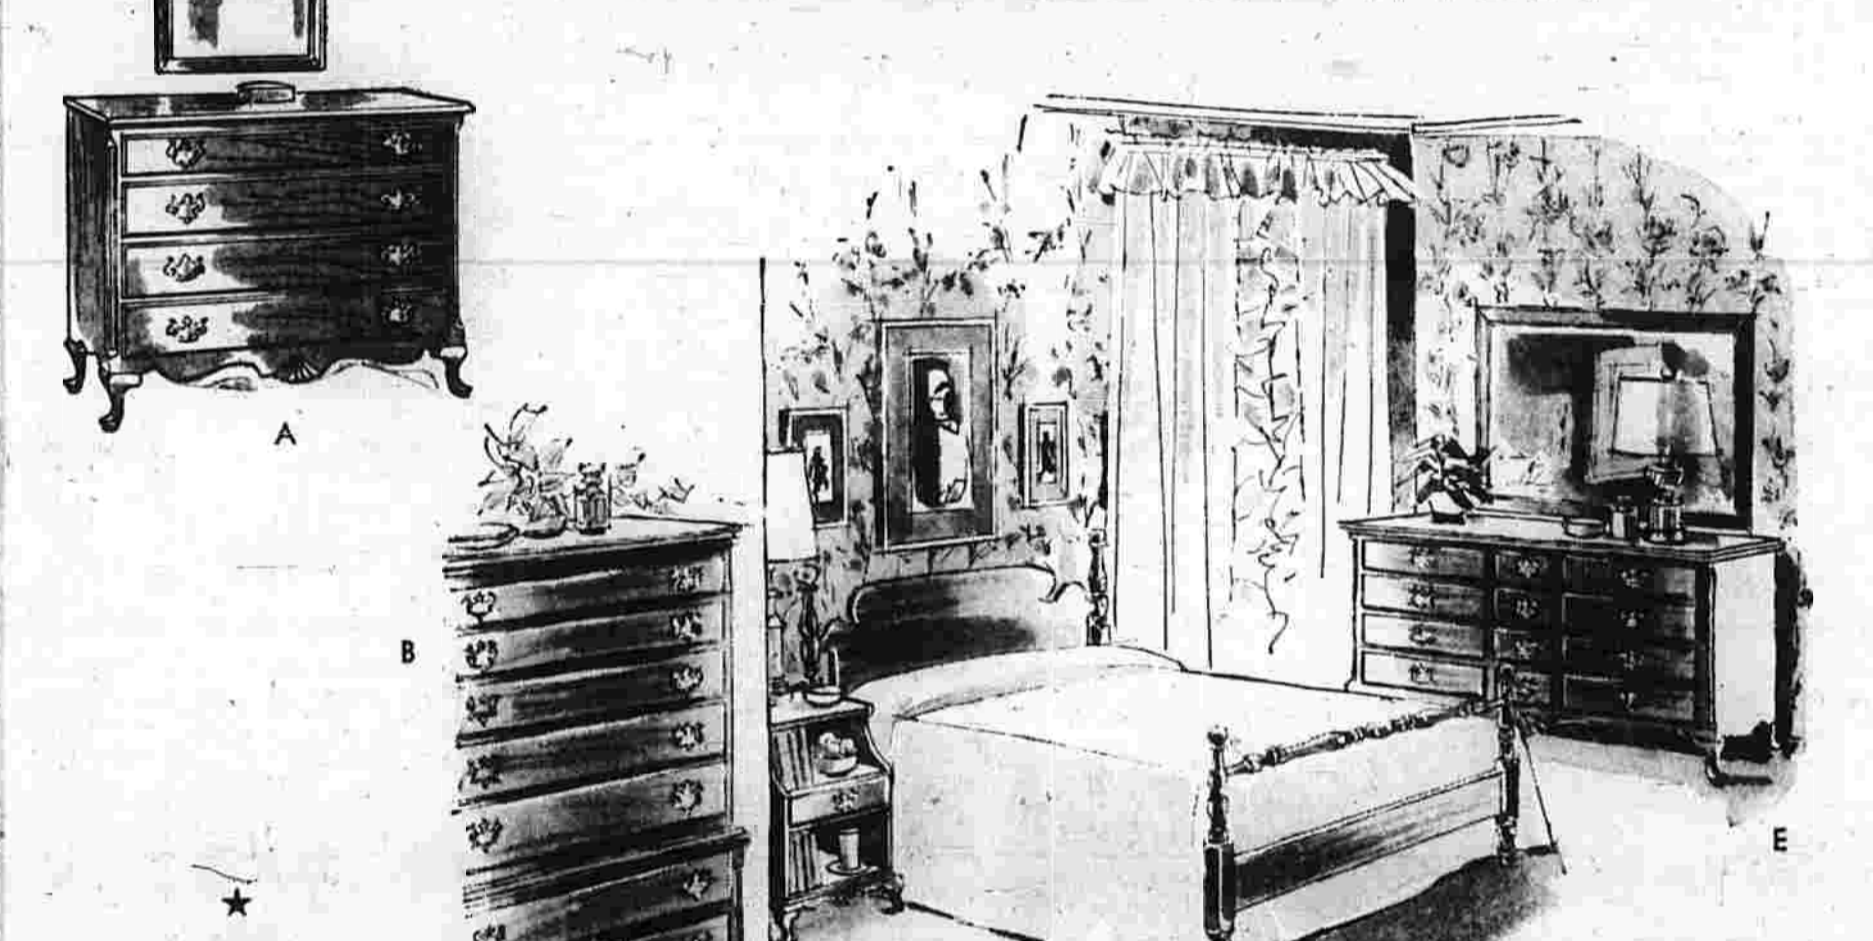

Westport, March 25 (AP)—A restaurant proprietor was beaten unconscious and robbed early today when his Boston Food store establishment, State Police Sgt. Francis J. Bennett identified the man as Edward Bowe, 57, of Westport.
 Bennett said a woman who declined to identify herself telephoned Bowe's home saying that a man had been assaulted at the Cedar Brook Inn on the Post road about 1:15 this morning. Bennett said he found Bowe unconscious when he arrived to investigate.
 Bowe was revived at Norwalk Hospital and kept for observation. Bennett quoted Bowe as saying he was "jumped" by two men outside his dining place area on the Post road. He said the men took his wallet which contained about $40 and about $200 in bills from a pocket. He said he had no idea how the men escaped.

Ruth Millet
Being a Homemaker Is Not a Thankless Job
 I received this letter from a career-minded housewife:
 "Several years ago I gave up my career to become a full-time wife, mother, and household drudge. It has been the most thankless job in the world."
 "So I'm one wife who is starting out on a career for the second time."
 Some women are so career-minded they don't find any satisfaction in being the homemaker for a family. Evidently the writer of this letter belongs to that small minority.
 But if she is disillusioned with her try at being a full-time wife and mother simply because she found the job "thankless" she is being short-sighted.
 Most homemakers don't get their "thanks" every day for a job well done any more than a man hears every day how wonderful he is for earning the family's living. Their Praxis is accepted.
 Without question most homemakers are pretty much taken for granted when it comes to spoken appreciation from husbands and children.
 But they get their appreciation in other less obvious but more rewarding ways.
 They know how well they have done their job when a child says: "I feel sorry for Jimmy. His mother is always so cross. I guess she doesn't like kids or want them around like you do, to be told they are good housekeepers. A well-run house speaks for itself as a job well done."
 They don't have to have a husband constantly telling them how much they are appreciated. If he stands by in times of trouble, uncomplainingly supports his family, likes his home, and is good to his wife and children, he is saying "Thank you" in his own way.
 So it is rather short-sighted of a woman to decide that homemaking is a thankless job just because she feels she isn't getting her share of praise every day.
 If she is a good wife, mother and homemaker, the world can use for itself what she is being a full-time wife and mother isn't the most thankless job in the world. It's the most rewarding.

Rockville-Vernon Stolen Rayon Held No Loss By American Dye Concern

Rockville, March 25—(Special)—Mrs. Burton Sweet was elected to lead the American Dye Concern here, today told The Herald. Her firm is completely protected from loss in regard to a load of rayon stolen from a delivery truck in New York City on Monday.

The Herald's Manhattan news facility, Park Row News Service, reported that a truckload of rayon, including consignments from the American Dye plant here, was stolen while the driver was occupied with deliveries. The incident occurred only a few moments before the noon hour.

Sweet said nine cases from the local plant were on the truck and represented material that had been sent here for dyeing and was not owned by the Rockville concern.

Explains Procedure
As he explained it: The firm receives various shipments of fabric for coloring. Once this process is completed the material is re-shipped to its original source or to a destination requested by the weaver.

The original owner carries insurance on the material; the trucking company insures its cargo; and the local plant carries what is called contingent insurance to make up any difference. But Sweet emphasized that his firm will lose nothing because of the theft as the property at all times remains under ownership of the originating mill or customer.

Thruway Named
Warren Thurauer of 2 Walnut street, plant manager of Connecticut Filter Corporation of Stamford Springs, will direct the American Cancer Society's Crusade in this area.

The goal for this year's drive which starts April 1 is $25,000 and includes funds to be raised from Rockville, Vernon, Ellington and Tolland. The American Cancer Society drive here, it has been pointed out, is a joint fundraising and educational venture to seek continued public support of the triple attack on cancer through research, education, and service to cancer patients.

Full Support Urged
Initial plans for the drive were formulated at a meeting of the committee held Thursday night at the Thurauer home. Full support of the cancer control activities during the drive is urged by the chairman and anyone who can contribute two hours of their time is asked to contact either the chairman or committee member.

Groenig, Harry Hansen, Alfred Deber, Louise Billings, Lillian Boothroyd, and Rev. Maurice G. Foulkes.

The club made plans for a food sale to be held April 11th to raise money for the purchase of new prayer books for the parish. The entire parish will be solicited for the project.

Miss Lucille Kuhnly, chairman of religious education for women's work, gave a presentation of the life and work of the church in Liberia, showing pictures to illustrate her talk.

The Youngstown Kitchens Jet-Tower Dishwasher "does them all!" Does almost every article you use in preparing and serving meals, and does them better and faster than you can do them by hand... because the revolutionary new Youngstown Kitchens Jet-Tower Dishwasher uses exclusive Hydro-Brush Action. Dishes, utensils, and odd pieces are done speckle-free in less than ten minutes. They are washed and double-rinsed in booster-heated water hotter than your hands can stand, then the lid pops open for fast self-drying—all automatically, electrically.

All you do is scrape off excess food waste, put the articles into the easy-loading racks, close the lid and start the Dishwasher by turning the handy switch. Everything else is done for you.

Hartford, March 25—(AP)—Connecticut Milk Administrator Donald O. Hamnerberg yesterday approved a temporary one cent-a-quart cut in the price of whole-sale milk, a decrease sought by state milk dealers fearing out-of-state competition.

Coventry Ambulance Service Limited To Emergency Cases Only

Coventry, March 25.—(Special)—About 50 members of the Coventry ambulance service are about to meet tonight at the volunteer ambulance service here. The Coventry ambulance service here, Volunteer Firemen's association 1 today announced that future use of the vehicle will be limited to emergency cases only.

Fire Chief Delmar Potter said the association is in need of funds to maintain the standard of service, meet operating expenses and pay for such items as laundry, fuel, for sheets and blankets, oxygen and first aid supplies. Potter issued an appeal for contributions to aid this public service.

Admit Newcomers—Two new members admitted Monday night were Mark Spink and Malcolm C. Rose. Persons placing fire alarms are requested to dial the full number RA-5-2523. Recently calls have been delayed because residents have failed to include the RA as part of the Willimantic Fire Department headquarters central alarm system service call number.

Need Identification
All persons driving to the scene of fires in the future must have identification on their cars. Potter said otherwise they will not be permitted to enter the scene. He or other officials of the company may be contacted for further details on the matter.

Local members and the public have reminded on the matter. Volunteer firemen are fire emergency lights and state law demands that they be respected as such. Several instances have been reported where violation of this law has occurred recently.

Persons requesting when obtaining permits to start open fires to be sure they call out the fire before leaving the scene.

Named Chairman
Mrs. Edward Schuchman has been named chairman of the local cancer drive which begins April 1 toward a $500 goal. Volunteer canvassers are needed. Mrs. Schuchman is compiling a committee of workers. The local drive will be toward the Connecticut Cancer Society, Willimantic Chapter.

On Washington Trip
Armed Forces of Coventry, president of the Manchester Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association with two other members of the association in company with D. C. John Perchick, also of Coventry, treasurer, and Eugene Gagliardone, representative from Bolton, and a former association secretary with Potter left Sunday to attend a three-day meeting and dinner with President Eisenhower and the secretary general of the United States and other officials from all over the country. The conference will be in the Hotel Raleigh, Washington, D. C., Tuesday through Thursday.

Peace is the association's first objective and has, within a short time to time since the group was organized 25 years ago. There

4th Body Found In 'Death House'

One of the dead women was believed by police to be the wife of the central figure in the general manhunt underway—50-year-old John Christie, the last tenant of the apartment. A police post-mortem indicated the first three women found—all between 20 and 30 years old—had been strangled. Police with shovels and crowbars searched other rooms and behind the house. The new discovery brought to light the bodies of three other women. Christie was hanged for the double murder. Neighbors said Christie, who worked for a truck firm, had a nervous breakdown soon after the Evans trial.

Roasted coconut is delicious sprinkled over a cake frosting. Rows broke through the paper and was horrified to find the nude body of a woman. He called the police, who found two more corpses in the niche. Police records revealed that Christie was the principal witness in 1949 at the trial of Timothy J. Evans, who strangled his wife and disfigured her in the same dingy house. Evans was hanged for the double murder. Neighbors said Christie, who worked for a truck firm, had a nervous breakdown soon after the Evans trial.
