Kelley Picks Baseball Team

Captained by Maneggia 5 Lettermen Return For Meriden Opener

After a little more than a week of practice, Coach Kelley has picked this year's baseball team. Captained by Pete Maneggia, last year's ace hurler, the MHS team is looking forward to a fine season. Many good looking prospects are out this year.

Returning lettermen Jim Roach, Bernie Alamy, Rick Koppin, and Roy McGuire will play important roles in this year's baseball machine.

Maneggia opens this season next week on April 21. The Kelleymen will journey to the Silver City, Meriden, for the first encounter with a C.C.I.L. foe.

Manchester's first home game will be on April 24, when the team is slated to play at Mt. Vernon. Following is a list of this year's team: Jim Roach, Roy McGuire, Bernie Alamy, Pete Maneggia, Dave Balon, Rick Koppin, Martin Hunt, Gary Bogli, and summer Harry Griswold, Jim Nevin, Bob Provat, Buddy Cyr, Gene Johnson, Mike McDonough, Red McNeil, Bob Beard, Bill Miller, Gene Sullivan and Norm Baker, '54.

Points & Penalties

In all three sports, girls' sports' highlights. Excitement is building up for the big day approaches—Friday, April 17. This is the day for the try-outs for the 1953-1954 cheer-leading squad. Fifty girls are trying out from which seven will be picked. The judges will be Miss Katherine Martin, Miss Julia Case, Gilbert Hunt, Anthony Albino, Captain Chare Jansen, Miss Patricia Shirer, and James Farrell. The try-outs will begin at 12:15.

There was a meeting of the Girls Athletic Club on Sunday, April 13 at 5:30. Plans for a "Red" night with the variety "at" Club sometime after vacation were discussed.

The present girls' after school sports program will end before vacation, and after vacation sports for freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors will be offered. The swimming club will continue as before. A definite schedule as announced later.

Miss Julia Case, girls' physical education teacher, has been named director of Camp Asta Wana on Columbia Lake this summer. Girls and boys are planning to work at the camp. The girls are Ruth Shinn and Ruth Blount, working on waterfront. Nancy White, evening program; Peggy Wolterdorf, budding and evening programs; and Althea Dunlap, camp store and camp library.

That rounds up the news for this week. Bye now, Barbara Field '54

Styled For Half-Sizers

Each of the girls was to make some article of clothing to be finished by the end of the third term. When the projects were completed, they were marked on various sheets including the name of the garment on the girl wearing it, and the names of the stitching. Some of the most outstanding projects were: a beige suit by Devona Hevel, an orchid cluster by Avarad Huestis, a green dress worn by Eleanor Flanders, and a red plaid jacket made by Carol Balkus.

Other successful sewing projects included: a blue skirt with white, brand trim, seen by Claudia Richard, black and aqua lounging pajamas by Lois Hines, a pair of yellow, corduroy shorts by Mary Lou Coughlin, and red plaid pedal pushers by Susan Crook. '54

Candid Questions

Since the baseball season is really around, it is regarded to this red sport.

Of course there were various answers. A few loyal MHS students were asked, "What team do you think will win the pennant this year?" "Tommy Russell," '54, who answered, replied, "The Dodgers, they're tops."

The Cleveland Indians have started the best pitchers and they have in the infield," Albert Martin, '54, explains. "The Yankees are bound to win! They have more strength than any other team. It sure agrees with you! Wonder what team this optimum favors? One guess is enough!"

Both Jack Strall and Robert Miller are strong White Sox roots. They both agree. (It is possible that the White Sox have the most speed and are the best team.)

Good luck, fans, may the best team win! —Deanne Rotfner, '54

Pearson Leads Spring Concert

Several Solos Highlight Evening of Classical Melodies and Hymns

An evening of music and harmony was enjoyed by all who attended the annual Spring Concert presented by the combined choirs and orchestra on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, April 14 and 15.

The concert, under the direction of G. Albert Pearson, opened with the orchestra playing "The Circle of Solos" and was followed by the combined A "Angela Chorus singing "O Lord, My God" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Robert Richardson, talented high school pianist, presented several difficult selections during the program.

The "Freshman Boys" and Girls' Chorus appeared singing "Grace Before Meals," "The Lord's Prayer," and "The Holy City." Nancy Grinnison and Joyce Leaver were the soloists.

The combined A "Angela Chorus" presented a most impressive appearance singing "The Night is Calm and Cloudless," "Madame Jeanette," "Lord Our God Have Mercy," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The finale consisted of all the choirs blending their voices in "The Heavens Are Telling" from "The Creation" and "The Lord's Prayer."

To add to the beauty of the music the multi-colored gowns displayed by the girls in the choir gave a final spring touch to the concert.

Please—Old Clothes!

Pleat reports from the drive for discarded clothing to help out the MHS "adopted" Indian school has been disappointing. Money gifts have been coming in though not so well as last year's opening—but the clothing is very much needed.

The particular articles of clothing brought in here may not go to Arizona, but the Save the Children Federation here is very grateful for it. It is used for suitability, then sent to the Indian school, an amount of the type of clothing which the Indian children need.

Drama Club Seeks Authentic Apparel

Straw hats, striped blazers, middie blouses, canes and white neckties are being sought by the Drama Club for their production of "Meet Me in St. Louis."

Now that exams are over, we've all breathed a sigh of relief, but here's a little "quid" that we don't think you'll mind taking. Here are some helpful clues to help you identify her: she possesses short black wavy hair, a personality which may be aptly described as dynamic, and she is a native of St. Louis.

"Meet Me in St. Louis" is a play which tells the story of a family who, in 1904, leaves their home in St. Louis to move to New Orleans. The play takes place in St. Louis at the time of the World's Fair.

After the success of the play, the Drama Club is seeking authentic apparel for the production. The items needed are: straw hats, striped blazers, middie blouses, canes and white neckties.

Those who wish to donate items should bring them to the Drama Club, Room 101, at the Y-Teen Club, 101 Park Street, Manchester, Conn.

Juvenile Court's Setup Explained For Green PTA

The workings of Connecticut's Juvenile Court were explained to the Manchester Green PTA last night by William N. MacKay, director of probation for the Third District.

A program of square dancing preceded the speaker. The director, under the direction of Mrs. Madeline Mitchell, teacher, and Mrs. Julia Quinn, physical education director, were members of the sixth grade.

Mr. MacKay first explained to his audience the Juvenile Court system in the State of Connecticut. Three judges are employed full time traveling on a circuit system to hear cases brought to the court's attention. The juvenile age in this state is set by law at 18 but as the speaker pointed out there is a statute where a juvenile between the ages of 16 and 18 brought before a local court can be referred to the Juvenile Court by the local authority.

Last year, Mr. MacKay stated there were 5,200 cases brought to the Court in a ratio of five boys to one girl.

The earlier situation is referred to as the easier we are able to make the necessary adjustments," stated Mr. MacKay.

The new concept of delinquency practiced by the juvenile authorities is that they have not only an obligation to protect the community but also a greater obligation to the child and the cause of his delinquency.

In his description of the court, MacKay emphasized five points. The judges are full-time judges. No

MHS Musicians Display Fine Talent in Concert

High School Choirs and Orchestra Combine to Give Spring Program

Two evenings of music in the High School auditorium concluded last night when vocal and instrumental units presented a full concert of entertaining melodies. This was the annual indoor Spring concert by the High School choir and orchestra. Appropriately named "An Evening of Music" several years ago, the concert was lengthened to cover two nights in recent years.

The SHO sign was hung on Tuesday evening but last night's crowd was somewhat disappointing. There were plenty of choice seats available in the auditorium that one was filled to capacity for each and every concert.

For the approximately 200 persons who attended, it was an evening of relaxation, a deviation from every day routine. Not a run-of-the-mill program, some new and some old — rounded out an attractive selection of numbers compiled by Director G. Albert Pearson.

Choirs Combine About 250 vocalists participated in the program. The Junior-Senior and Sophomore choirs combined for night selections. Three vocal duets were offered by the Freshman Boys' and Girls' choirs. The orchestra presented four pieces and all choirs gathered for the finale.

Guest artists during the program were Russell Stevenson, Nancy Grimason and Joyce Leavstrom, soprano, and Robert Richardson, brilliant pianist.

The orchestra, about 30 pieces strong, initiated the program promptly at 8 o'clock with "Excerpts from Symphony No. 8," Tchaikowsky. A few of the movements were the rolling rhythm of strings carrying the melodic strains as set forth by Tchaikowsky's artistic pen.

There was something captivating in the performance of "On the Trail." It is a familiar tune as a theme song on the radio. The work of Ferde Grofe has several fine passages containing beautiful chords and the youthful musicians were near pin-point perfection in the offering.

Five Vocalists Manchester High has produced many fine vocalists. Russell Stevenson, a sophomore, has a far-reaching, tenor voice capable of tremendous power. His performance was excellent in "Yonder, Yonder," a slow moving Russian folk song with a chorus humming background that intermittently broke into a full choral quartet.

Popular concert numbers enjoyed annually and presented again last night were "Onward Ye People," by Jean Sibelius and "Beautiful Savior," a Christmas composition.

The Junior-Senior and Sophomore choirs changed the atmosphere completely, breaking into the jolly "I Like It Here." Parts were offered in unison as well as four-part division. At any moment during the song we expected to see comedian Jerry Lewis running up and down the aisles screaming his familiar "I Like It Here."

Nancy Grimason and Joyce Leavstrom were paired in a double soprano solo of "The Holy City." The Freshman Boys' and Girls' choirs also sang the short "Gloria Before Singing" and "An Evening Pastoral."

Director Pearson, who needs no bation to bring out the best in his musicians, directed the orchestra in Ballet Music from "La Gioconda." Strings and flutes were featured. A little later in the program the group again performed offering Excerpts from Tchaikowsky's Fourth Concerto in B flat Major.

The music is recognizable to the younger set and non-semantic music lovers as "The Night We Love."

Richardson presided at the grand piano and his nimble fingers produced two excellent and exacting selections. More fami-

lar of the two was "The Ritual Fire Dance." He first played "Wedding Day in Tullnauigen" by Grieg. A senior, Richardson has been an accomplished pianist for more than 10 years. He has appeared in many recitals throughout the city and his keyboard skills are immeasurable ability at the keyboard.

Other numbers sung by the upper class choirs were "The Night is Calm and Cloudless," "Madame Jeanette," "Lord Our God Have Mercy," and the duet from Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Gondoliers." "Lord Our God Have Mercy" was impressive and communicative. The words were repetitious, sung in four part harmony, a play on chords up and down the scale modulating from soft tones to powerful accents as the words imply.

Combine at Finale The combined choir closed out the evening by offering "The Heavens Are Telling" from Haydn's "Creation," and "Land- sipping" by Accompanist during the program were Alayne Murphy and Martha Diana, who were roundly applauded for their artistry.

Director Pearson stepped aside following the last number, his choristers acknowledged audience applause and then burst into a chorus of "Happy Birthday to Him." It was Pearson's birthday and the tribute was conclusive evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by his young musicians.

Vandals Overturn Monuments

This is one of the three monuments tipped over in last night's desecration of the East Cemetery. All three gravestones, along with their bases, were chipped, and the top of another monument was broken. The vandals did not confine themselves to one area, but did their damage over a scattered area.

George Elliott, superintendent of the cemetery department, reported this morning that vandals destroyed the East Cemetery last night, tipping three monuments and removing the top of another. He said it was the most serious case of its kind here that he knew of.

He said that in being pushed over, both the monuments themselves and the marble bases on which they rested, were chipped and that the top of one of them, the largest, had broken. The top of the monument that had been removed was found in the vicinity of the two smaller monuments, where it had been dropped.

Elliott said the damage was scattered and not confined to one area of the cemetery. The superintendent said all of the monuments were fairly old—50 years or more—and that it would be difficult to give a dollar-and-cents estimate of the damage. However, he said that besides the sentimental value attached to them, the cost in replacing them would run from $200 for the smallest to the largest.

Elliott said that he did not know of any monuments ever being damaged before, although there had been cases of gravestones being ripped over and of flowers and flower pots left at graves disapparing.

In previous instances of gravestones being tipped over, Elliott said, the stones were not damaged and could be righted again. Elliott said there is nothing to prevent persons from cutting through the cemetery and adding that many use it as a short cut from the Autumn street and Westminister road section to Broad street and the main shopping area on Main street. There is also automobile traffic through the cemetery after hours, he said.

The only way to keep the public off the grounds after the cemetery is closed would be fence it off. Elliott said. However, on one occasion when he did try this, there were so many protests from persons who wanted to cut through the cemetery that he opened it up again.

OFF DANGER LIST Charles J. Marr of 23 Lyness street, who is a patient at the Booth Memorial Hospital, Brookline, Mass., where he underwent major surgery, was removed from the danger list as of yesterday.

Members are: Ray W. Gode, Hayden Griswold and Mrs. Natalie McIntosh, representing the School Building committee; Sherwood G. Bowers, Jacob Miller, representing the Board of Directors; Sherwood Robb, George Cheney and William Robb, representing the Board of Education; Arthur H. Hill, superintendent of the school.

Preliminary plans, drawn by Arnold Lawrence, architect, for the proposed six classroom elementary school, have been approved by the Board of Education. The School Building committee has given its approval to the building plans but raised some question about the location of the structure on the site.

Ray Gode, chairman of the School Building committee, has said he feels the building should have sewer outlets to Hackensack street as well as Keeney street.

The joint subcommittee is similar to one which has been working on plans for the high school and its membership is almost identical.

South School Grant Okayed

Town Sated to Receive $38,538.33 in Payments Over 20 Years

A grant of $38,538.33 from the state for the South School addition now nearing completion has been approved preliminarily by the State Public School Building Commission and the town is scheduled to collect the grant in 20 annual payments.

A letter approving the request for the grant was received this morning by General Manager Richard Martin for the commission.

Megawville Arnold Lawrence, architect, for the school has written Rev. G. A. E. chairman of the town's School Building Committee, asking the group to give formal approval for acceptance of the building.

Total appropriation for the South School project was $130,000, but of this $14,383 was for work on the old portion of the building and could not be counted in determining the amount of the grant.

The town is now collecting grants for the Verelock and Bowers Schools. The Wadwell School has not yet been accepted by the Board of Education.

Japan Follows U. S. Methods

State Consultant Relates Experiences in Nippon To Bowers PTA

The Japanese are learning U. S. democratic thought through their educational system, Miss Anna Foberg, elementary consultant for the State Department of Education, who had spent eight months in Japan as part of the U. S. Army's educational program, told members of the Bowers School PTA at their meeting Monday night.

Miss Foberg said that the Japanese are quite interested in U. S. educational methods and copy them whenever possible. However, they are much gentler towards their children than Americans are, and they are somewhat forward in the information they give towards children in the United States.

On the negative side of the ledger, the Japanese state still exercises some thought control in that the teachers are told what to teach the children. In addition, student-teacher relationships are formal and the rather close relationship that exists in the United States is not apparent in Japan.

The physical set-up in Japan is also a handicap to the educational system, continued Miss Foberg, for the country is overcrowded and relatively poor. For that reason, most of the elementary schools are wooden and lack central heating, so most of the students and teachers wear slacks and sweaters to school. There is also a shortage of teachers, which results in large classes and a lack of individual instruction. Despite these drawbacks, the Japanese are interested in modern teaching methods and have made remarkable progress in their use.

Miss Foberg illustrated her talk with many slides which depicted the country and schools and the evening's activities commenced with a business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Robert Lynch, president, and concluded with refreshments served in the cafeteria in charge of Mrs. Robert LePolt and Mrs. Richard Nelson, co-chairman of the hospitality committee.

SON BORN TUESDAY The son born Tuesday at the Manchester Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Elton Morrison of 133 Union street has been named Edward Joseph. He is their second child. Mr. Morrison is the former Agnes Bartley of Bridge street.

Ellington Many Recollect Another Storm With Chunks

Ellington, April 16.—(Special)—The heavy, wet snowfall of Monday night and Tuesday morning brought back a few memories to residents who could recall just as severe a late-spring storm some 23 years ago.

April 14, 1929, was a Sunday morning and at 9 a. m. the ground was covered with snow. John T. McKnight, local resident now deceased, attended church by driving a sleigh. By the time services were over the ground was clear of snow and McKnight found the return trip a bit difficult. It brought many chunks.

Eight local women's club members attended the annual county meeting held at Stratford on Monday. Those attending include Mrs. Lillian Hamilton and Mrs. Peggy Miniga, registrars will hold a public session for the purpose of collecting preliminary lists of voters at the home of Mrs.

Mossadegh Foes Block Army Grab

(Continued From Page One) knocked the wind out of a massive demonstration this morning supporting the Premier by some 20,000 persons—at least 5,000 of them from the Communist ranks. From early morning, Tehran was kept to a high pitch of excitement as crowds converged on the Majlis square. Sixteen persons were reported injured in scuffles between the Communist demonstrators and members of the "Anglo-American imperialist" with their cheering for Mossadegh. American government offices in the city were closed for the day, however, and American embassy cars stayed out of the street. The Shah's palace and Mossadegh's home nearby were heavily guarded.

COME TO BREAKFAST With sausage and pancakes on the range there's no cooking the family to breakfast. For sausage patties at their best, place them in a heavy frying pan with 2 or 3 tablespoons of water. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Then uncover and cook until brown on both sides, pouring off fat as it accumulates.

Under the program direction of Mrs. William Egan, the Manchester Garden Club was entertained Monday evening in the Robb's room of Center Church House by a series of horticultural talks. Mrs. Chapin has on the lawn of the Manchester Memorial Hospital as a gift from the Garden Club.

Mrs. David C. Tompkins of Bolton gave a talk on the culture of annuals from seed. She brought a beautiful basketful of annuals for sale for the benefit of the hospital. Mrs. Tompkins also has a large variety of specimen dahlias.

Four distinctive arrangements of dried grasses, wild flowers and ferns were displayed by Mrs. Edith H. Herrick, who described them, and advised the members how to collect the material and dry it before storing.

Dr. H. B. Bunker was designated in the Buckley garden by residents, and Miss Ellen Buckley talked about the problem of measuring used to assess it. It was voted to present Mrs. Chester Cook of Lexington, Mass. at the club's next meeting on May 14, which will be open to the public.
