Hospitality

Bad Shortages Of Personnel

"Your Hospital is an interesting place to work" is the theme this year in Connecticut for National Hospital Week, May 10-17, which celebrates the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale on May 12. This theme was selected by the Connecticut Hospital Association in order to bring to the attention of Connecticut citizens the hard fact that hospitals face serious shortages of trained personnel, so necessary to good patient care.

In many areas of the state it has not been possible to utilize or even newly built facilities because of lack of trained personnel. As a result the community suffers as well as the patient.

Since training of nurses or technicians requires one or more years to obtain, the hospitals of Connecticut have joined in a program to interest people of all ages in careers in hospitals. They pay a considerable amount of attention to the young people in their communities and high security and health care is assured since hospitals operate round the clock year after year.

To interest people in hospital careers a series of colored slides have been made available to Connecticut hospitals depicting hospital personnel at work on their jobs: the nurse caring for a newborn baby, the laboratory technician making a count of blood cells, the chief preparing the noon day meal, the electrician replacing a section in an electrical line, the medical secretary preparing the physicians case report, the maid preparing a hospital room for an expectant mother, the anesthetist preparing the patient for an operation, the X-ray technician operating the X-ray equipment.

The slides, which portray these and many other hospital people at their work, have been prepared from photographs taken by member hospitals of the Connecticut Hospital Association. They will be exhibited to visitors who come to see their hospital during National Hospital Week, and to boys and girls in high schools who are in the process of choosing their future careers. Hospitals offer an unparalleled opportunity for service to one's neighbor, thus providing a greatly appreciated job satisfaction.

To continue this program, which has its inauguration in National Hospital Week, throughout the rest of the year, the Connecticut Hospital Association is sponsoring a series of hospital visits.

U. S. Jet Thrust Scores Heavily Near Sinanju

Washington, May 13—(AP)—A well-tested today that cancellation of all Voice of America broadcasts to Latin America at the end of this week was "part of a plan" of William C. Johnston, the Voice's assistant program director, who resigned last Friday.

Stephen Baldanza, chief of the Voice's Latin American division, told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee yesterday that he had been told by Johnston that the cancellation was "part of a plan" to destroy part of the effect of the Voice.

That is part of a plan, Baldanza continued, "of a man who defied the national debt and to make law."

New UN Truce Plan Gets Poor Reception

Manmumjoo, May 13—(AP)—The UN Communists today handed the Communists a new blueprint for an armistice in Korea. It was a sweeping 11-point plan for exchanging prisoners of war, last big roadblock to a truce.

The Allies would free 35,000 North Koreans who refuse to go home and—on certain conditions—take temporary custody of 14,000 belligerent Chinese to a five-nation commission made up of Great Britain, France, Poland, Czechoslovakia and India.

The Communists called the proposal a "step backward" and said the Allied attitude "betrayed the prospects of the whole armistice negotiations."

The broad plan—a counter-proposal to one advanced by the Communists—was based on the "standing Allied position that no prisoner will be sent home against his will."

After the lengthy document was read and the Communists commented, the UN Communists adjourned until 11 a. m. today.

Lodge Veto Disturbing Sen. Saden

State Capitol, Hartford, May 13—(AP)—Governor John Lodge's first veto of the session—on a labor bill to prohibit rumblings of dissatisfaction today among some legislators.

A reliable source reported that especially disturbed was a member of the House of Representatives, Sen. George A. Saden (R-Bristol). Saden, chairman of the Labor committee.

Refuses Discussion Saden, however, declined to discuss publicly the governor's action other than to say that the bill will be redrafted in an attempt to meet Lodge's objections.

The vetoed bill is intended to appeal in labor injunction disputes. Lodge said in his veto message, "The bill is in the public interest and in sympathy with the bill's purpose, but that there were provisions he believed were 'too rigid.'"

One provision provides that no extension of time, beyond the procedure set forth in the bill, shall be granted for perfecting an appeal. The other stipulates that the Supreme Court must hear the case within a week after the appeal is perfected.

Lodge said that some circumstances such as the sudden illness of a lawyer working on an appeal could create a hardship if the first provision was enforced strictly.

Also, he said, if an appeal was perfected during the summer months when the court is in recess, it would be difficult to convene the Supreme Court to hear the case.

Saden, on source said, was surprised to read about the veto and felt misled that he had not been told beforehand that Lodge would veto the bill.

A Democratic leader asked Governor Lodge why he vetoed the bill. Lodge had been quoted as saying that the bill would create a hardship if the first provision was enforced strictly.

Egypt Warns Britain With Suez Ultimatum

Cairo, Egypt, May 13—(AP)—Lt. Col. Gamel Abdel Nasser, chief of staff to Premier Naguib, said today that unless Britain evacuates the Suez Canal Zone within two or three months the temper of the people would not even allow the existence of the base.

This is the first time Naguib has given any hint of a deadline for evacuation.

Abdel Nasser, who at 35 years of age is a leading figure in Naguib's government, said "nothing is nothing in the way of a defense line to halt an enemy such as Russia." From newspaper reports through Iran and Iraq and to Egypt and taking over the base, British troops remain there.

Royal Navy Units Leave For Canal

His announcement came shortly after Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons that British soldiers in Egypt have been "ambushed, shot and assaulted" in some 30 attacks since the beginning of April.

Declaring that many of the attacks apparently were carried out with "at least the connivance" of members of the Egyptian armed forces, Lloyd added that "our soldiers have no option but to defend themselves."

In Cairo, Egyptian Minister of National Guidance Foad Ghalil said Lloyd's statement "distorted the facts."

Reports from Port Said, at the canal's northern end, said British troops were digging trenches at several points in the zone and have set up tank-supported military posts at certain crossroads.

A British Army spokesman in Cairo commented that it was the "normal" responsibility of commanders to ensure at all times the security of troops and installations.

British Egyptian talks over Egypt's demand for withdrawal of the 80,000 British troops in the Canal zone came to a halt last Wednesday when London's negotiators demanded that some 5,000 British technicians remain to keep the vast military installations in readiness.

The Egyptians refused, maintaining they could do the job themselves with only 500 British technicians.

Ghalil told a news conference in Cairo last night that the statement of Lloyd "can resume only on the basis of a new agreement which has not changed—unconditional evacuation of the Suez base and full Egyptian control of it."

Lloyd who spoke during a Commons debate on foreign affairs, declared that Britain was in Egypt "by virtue of our treaty rights—rights which were signed in 1936 and held as a great triumph for Egyptian statesmanship."

The minister of state added, however, that Britain would not ever, that Britain would "much prefer an amicable revision of the treaty, and new arrangements, arrived at by amicable means."

Lloyd said he had made it clear to Naguib that Britain wanted to discuss the maintenance of the canal base with a view to its immediate reactivation in case war, the phased withdrawal of British troops, regional arrangements for defense, and a program of military and economic assistance to Egypt.

The hot dispute has been a chief concern of U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who arrived in Cairo Monday on a fact-finding tour of the Near and Middle East with foreign aid director Harold Stassen.

Action was limited to light ground and platform probes elsewhere on the 155-mile front. Spring rains—which had grounded most Allied planes the last few days—cleared during the night. B-26 bombers hurled 20 tons of bombs on an airfield at Sinanju above the western front and a railway at Owan on the east coast north of Wessan port. One of the MIG jets was credited to Capt. Joseph McConnell of Apple Valley, Calif., second ranking jet ace in Korea. It was McConnell's 11th.

MILITARY HEADACHE

Hanoi, Indochina, May 12.—A single powerful division left behind in Laos by the Communists and Vietnam was proving a headache today to the French and American defenders of the little mountain kingdom. All that remained to write fins to Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's invasion of Laos was for the defenders to support the Vietnamese crack Division 304—but it appeared a tough prospect. This division, behind a newly erected strong defense line, was concentrated around the town of Xiengkhong, 18 miles south of the Plain of Jars in the heart of the kingdom. The French had no explanation why they didn't attack from their entrenched position on the plain.

However, the Allies warned against any effort to intimidate or force the prisoners. "It is an excellent basis for an armistice," Harrison told Nam. He asked the Communists to study it "in the same spirit of constructive negotiations in which we have studied your eight-point proposal on which it is based." Nam observed coolly that the Allies had not accepted the Communist proposal—the Reds had put it on an "all or none" basis—but was "a step backwards from the three-point proposals put forward in the letter of April 16 by your side." The Allies had nominated Switzerland as a neutral to handle all reluctant prisoners. "Obviously," Nam went on, "this

In Place of Post
 Hebron, May 13—(Special)—Hebron's special town meeting, held Monday night at the elementary school auditorium, went off, but for a few minutes, as planned. "Perhaps my visit here will help clear up some misunderstanding. We look upon General Naguib as one of the outstanding leaders in the free world of the post-war period."
 "That is very charming, and a little surprising, as well. Most of us poor benighted Americans didn't really know we rated Naguib so high," said the speaker.
 "Platery is one part of the approach to these Eastern problems. The appropriate gift is another. President Eisenhower, we recall, it used to send automobiles or cruises or such things to our friends. He has been very generous in his gifts. The Secretary Dulles transported from him was a Cadillac. It is a very nice car. President Eisenhower, in his own private collection, has a silver plaque on which is inscribed 'To General Naguib from his friend Dwight D. Eisenhower.'
 "We didn't know they were such close friends. And our analysis of the situation in Naguib were in the picture in which he has been fingering the gift from old friend Dwight indicates that it is in the Dulles family which is genuine, while Naguib's claim seems highly exaggerated."
 Later, Dulles and Naguib got into a discussion. Mr. Dulles, who is in the Canal Zone, who is in Egypt that Britain, who is there, should get out, as Naguib has been demanding. Presumably, it was in anticipation of this backing from his negotiations with Britain and the United States. Mr. Dulles, who is in London at about the same time, said he would welcome American participation in a conference with Egypt.
 "This statement from Dulles and Naguib doesn't mean that we are joining Naguib in his battle with the British. It is an indication that we are wheeling Naguib into letting us in on the future business of protecting the Suez Canal. This means, apparently, a revival of our proposal for a special pact in the Near East—another of those patchwork, old-fashioned, regional, power politics alliances to which American policy has been resorting in the post-war era."
 With an Eisenhower pistol in hand, Naguib supposedly has conquered Egypt's previous fear of being only a minor partner in an alliance for the defense of Egyptian soil.
Russels Bloom Last
 It is perhaps the most poignant aspect of life, as it is with the bloom, that, by the time we are able, we think, to sit down and enjoy the beauty of the best thing, we notice is a petal falling.
 That is only one brief phase in its cycle. The cycle itself leads on to fruit, and to seed, and to leaf falling, and then to sprout and bud again. The cycle itself is beautiful, with beautiful sadness and beauty, but hope in it, and a promise that if this is the way it is with apple bloom, it may be so with all parts of nature. But still the bloom is the most beautiful phase, and yet before one has a chance to sit down and look at it and express a hope that it will last forever, a sudden breeze stirs the flowers, a loose and sends them scattering into oblivion.
 In such moments, it is human instinct to wish for and reach for any kind of prolongation, even for a day, of a perfect phase. And it is here that the russet plays its part, and proves worth planting.
 The fact that the russet blooms late is a surprise dividend, and not of course, the reason it was planted. Russels are planted, now, because of obdurate memories of apple barrels down in cool, earthy cellars, and of the sweet taste russets had, years ago, when they got to the wrinkly stage. That is why russets are planted, nowadays. And, in fact, the truth, it is at least partly a pursuit of an illusion, like all efforts to preserve childhood.
 By the time the tree is bearing, one discovers that it is the idea of having russets, rather than the actual eating of them, which is most pleasant.
 But then one also discovers that the russet has at least one charm for adults which childhood never even noticed. On the day after other trees first begin losing their petals on the May air, the russet petals first open. If one is late for the perfect moment, one moves to another part of the orchard.

Bolton
July 4 Set as Target Date
For New Drive-In Theater

Bolton, May 13—(Special)—The Fourth of July week, and should see the opening of a $100,000 drive-in theater on U. S. Route 6 just west of Bolton Notch, Bernard Menechelli of Manchester, president of the Manchester Drive-In Theater Corporation, told The Herald yesterday that work would begin on clearing the land today.
 Plans for a 3-D screen Menechelli also stated that the theater would be the first drive-in in the state to be equipped with a screen suitable for showing three-dimensional films. Capacity of the theater is expected to be about 600 cars.
 Construction will include a small building for concessions and projection room in addition to the screen. The roadway into the site, located between Dea's Drive-In and the Donald Miller property, will be widened and brought up to the grade level of the state highway. Contractors on the project have all assumed a "target" date of July 4, Menechelli stated.
 It is planned to put the theater in operation this weekend.
 A permit for the theater was issued last summer by the local zoning board after a public hearing. Opposition to the project was mainly heard from residents on Bolton Hill who feared an exit from the theater might be constructed at that point.
 John Calvoore of West Hartford is associated with Menechelli in the local venture. They also own the Stamford Theater in that town and the Star Theater in Hartford.
 Mrs. Hohmann Named Speaker
 Mrs. A. J. Hohmann of Andover will be guest speaker at the meeting of the PTA at the school tonight. Mrs. Hohmann, district leader for the Eastern Connecticut Division of Girl Scouts, will speak on organization of a Girl Scout troop and what it involves.
 Bolton has a Boy Scout troop but no troop in the Girl Scout movement. There have been many inquiries over a period of time about the lack of scouting activities for girls and Mrs. Hohmann has been invited to speak to supply information on what exists.
 To Discuss Penicillin
 The business meeting will discuss the annual family picnic usually scheduled in place of the June meeting. This meeting originally was a potluck family party with a program of entertainment. However, growth of the PTA made the affair too big a project and the family picnic idea was substituted.
 Vision Clinic Held
 The second vision clinic was held at the school yesterday and 21 parents took advantage of the opportunity to register children for

"The cancellation," Baldanza said, "will be more than a curbing of the four-engine aircraft firm declined to identify except to say he was a Bell employee, reportedly parachuted from the bomber."

A Bell spokesman said an one-way plane made it difficult to explain the loss of the two missing men fell from the mother ship.

It was indicated that both men were completely at sea when they were dropped out of the four-engine aircraft.

Destruction Follows Destruction

Heavy and steady rains followed the violent storm of Monday in Waco, Texas, hampering rescue operations and adding destruction. Heavy water in the streets is backgrounded by twisted wreckage.

The weather remained wet and cold. Two hours of sunlight yesterday were Waco had seen since the twister smashed the heart of the business district Monday.

At the search became hectic, organized, state highway patrolmen took over the responsibility for policing the ruined section.

Meanwhile, city officials studied these grim figures: damage estimated at $0 million dollars, 100 houses and manufacturing buildings destroyed, 1,850 other buildings and homes damaged or destroyed.

The 100th body was that of William Coates, who was talking on the telephone to his pretty red-haired wife, about 24, when the twister struck shortly before 11.

Senate Told Anglo Ships Red-Owned

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.) asserted today that a "sizeable number of ships" flying the British flag and trading with Red China are actually owned by Chinese Communists.

McCarthy tossed this into the snow of war, supplied to Red China for use in "killing our American young men" in Korea.

McCarthy said the value of British trade with Red China jumped from 74,000 pounds sterling last December to 1,300,000 pounds in January.

Reds Fold Tent City As Truce Talks Bog

Panmunjom, May 14.—(AP)—The Communists today said no to the latest Allied plan for exchanging war prisoners and neither side gave any indication of yielding on that last major barrier to an armistice in Korea.

Nearby, the Reds tore down tents used for exchanging sick and wounded war prisoners, indicating they're through leading the United Nations center staff stands.

The chief Allied negotiator, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., answered with charges that the Reds illegally looted foodstuffs across the Yalu River into Manchuria and used for labor troops.

He charged the Reds with reducing their "new prisoners" by impressing some 50,000 captives into the Communist armed forces, rather than the 100,000 at the front as the Reds have maintained.

Atlee Talk Discounted In Evidence

Washington, May 14.—(AP)—President Eisenhower said today he does not think the rift between Britain and America over dealings with Russia and policy in Korea is as wide as it might appear.

He commented at a news conference on remarks by Prime Minister Churchill and Clement Attlee, Labor party leader, in House of Commons debate, with special reference to Attlee's assertion that some elements in America oppose Korean peace.

He emphasized that point by permitting direct quotation of this portion of what he said: "I have met no one in America who does not want peace."

At the same time, reacting to Churchill's proposal for another meeting of top-level spokesmen for world powers, Eisenhower repeated that he personally would do anything that gives some promise of producing progress toward peace.

He said, however, he has seen no concrete evidence that Russia is willing to take steps toward peace.

Waco, Texas, May 14.—(AP)—Cold, drizzling rain fell on night probing tornado ruins that defiled downtown Waco. At dawn the known death toll stood at 101. Only one body had been found since midnight (c.s.t.). There still was wreckage to be searched.
