Chiefs to Mull U. S. Protection From Air Blow

The number of planes now on order, including those to be delivered this year, will just about supply the difference to make up the 120 wings—no more.

Nor is there certainty that more are contemplated. Wilson says the numbers are not so important as how good some of them are. The Air Force will concentrate not on numbers but on the quality and effectiveness of new planes and their missions.

There is a school of thought within the Air Force that in a recent war the U. S. might have fought with what was on hand when

Rockville-Vernon Gets Suspended Sentence For Stripping Car Parts

Rockville, May 18—(Special)—Jan. 23, 1950, the daughter of John and Helen Richardson Drummond, 21, of Rockville, was sentenced to a suspended sentence of 120 days and placed on probation in City Court this morning after being found guilty of stealing auto accessories.

Judge Robert J. Pidgeon gave Robert E. Deveau, 25, of 129 Birch street, a 30-day term and ordered a six month probation period. The Massachusetts man was charged with larceny under $50.

The companion case of Edward J. Armatost, 16, of 6 Main street, Manchester, was continued for one month and placed on probation. It is believed to be under probation at present from the Town Court of Manchester. His case is expected to be referred to juvenile authorities.

Both of the accused admitted theft of a 1948 Buick Wildcat and Torrington last night before coming to Rockville, where they were apprehended by Patrolman Edward Corning.

Prosecutor Harry H. Lings told the court that Corning noticed the car parked at an East Main street service station late last night, he stopped to investigate and found the Manchester pair tampering with changing a tire. Lings said the tire changing, however, was merely a cover-up of their theft of fender skirts from a nearby car.

The court was told a sun visor, hub caps and other accessories were also taken from the car. Deveau, which is owned by Deveau, police said.

In another case this morning, Louis P. Chagnot, 37, of RFD 1, Rockville, was sentenced to a suspended sentence of two weeks in return for which Judge Pidgeon suspended judgment on three counts, failure to carry his operator's license, and failure to reduce speed at an intersection and overcrowding the front seat of a motor vehicle.

Other cases disposed of this morning were: William J. Pheasant, Jr., 21, Barre, Mass., speeding, $18 bond forfeited; George B. Christie, 26, Watertown, Mass., speeding, $18 bond forfeited; Roland E. Hopp, 62, Edgewood, Conn., speeding, $24 bond forfeited; George K. Parker, 26, Holden, Mass., speeding, $12 bond forfeited; Frederick L. Rockefeller, 31, Dea Moines, Ia., speeding, $24 bond forfeited; Fred C. Cheever, 20, Springfield, Vt., speeding, $18 bond forfeited; Arthur A. Davidson, 20, Eastington, failure to reduce speed at intersection, $18 fine; Stanley Russek, 26, South Windsor, failure to grant half of traveled portion of highway, $12, passing on right, judgment suspended; Harvey Beachard, RFD 4, Rockville, intoxication, judgment suspended, retaining $25 bond; Howard J. Cheever, 48, of East Hartford, failed to appear on a charge of intoxication, and the court ordered a warrant to be chosen $50 bond posted.

Still being tried in the case of Carl H. Gebhardt, 30, of Rockville, charged with evading responsibility.

Mary G. Drummond, 73, a resident of Rockville for 44 years, died at her home at 30 Pleasant street this morning. She was born in Alva, Scotland.

Excess Profits Tax Is Termed Vicious by Taft

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said in a separate interview he believes many Democrats would support a direct presidential recommendation for continuation of the excess profits levy, at least until Jan. 1 when a 10 percent cut in personal income taxes is scheduled.

"I don't believe this is a political matter at all," Sparkman said. "Congress ought to weigh what the government must have in revenue against what it must spend and let that be the guiding factor."

"I don't like the excess profits tax at all and I would like to see it repealed as soon as possible for the practical problem of maintaining other taxes at high levels in order to get revenue."

Sparkman said he doesn't think the Republicans have "any more credit" with the public at present in the next fiscal year (beginning July 1) than I have of being of any use to the nation."

Taft made no claim for budget balancing in his budget, but he agreed with Secretary of the Treasury, James B. Connelley, that the nation can reach the "break-even" point by July 1, 1954, when the revenue would equal its spending.

This would pave the way for a balanced budget in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954, when the revenue would equal its spending. At the beginning of the congressional campaign, Taft said that if the excess profits tax is allowed to die six weeks before there will be economic "pressure" to make the scheduled cut in personal income taxes. He said he would support the bill.

Among the Democrats, Sen. H. H. Fisher, of New York, and Sen. H. H. Fisher, of New York, are the only ones who have not yet introduced a bill to repeal the tax.

U.S., Britain Swap Ideas For Truce

Weeks made frequent demands for greater British participation in the Panmunjom talks. The British claim the negotiations have reached a stage in which military voices at the conference table should be supplanted by those of skilled political men.

Churchill declined to reply when pro-Britain S. R. Silverman asked: "Will you agree that whatever the proportions of the cost and of the sacrifice that may have been borne by the United States, nevertheless this is not a United States proceeding for adventure but a United Nations enterprise?"

Churchill declared: "I think Mr. Silverman's statement will be on the record."

Laborite Woodrow Wyatt asked Churchill for a statement on the progress of possible big power talks but the prime minister replied: "I do not wish at present to do what I said during the foreign affairs debate a week ago."

Churchill said he believed a big-power conference "on the highest level" should take place soon. He did not name the powers he thought should take part.

249 at Reunion of MHS Class of 1933

Graduates of Manchester High School, class of 1933, held their 20th reunion Saturday night at the Garden Grove, Kenney street, with a total of 249 present for the dinner and the fun.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Quinby, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bailey, Mr. Quinby, headmaster of Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass. Mr. Bailey, who was a teacher at the local high school, succeeded Mr. Quinby as principal.

Thomas McPartland gave the welcome, and the invocation by Rev. Arthur Fallon, of the Nazarene Church, Binghamton, N. T., was read by President Hultine, as follows:

"Dear Heavenly Father: For 20 years we have been apart. Now, by Thy grace, we are privileged to be together again. With sincere hearts we thank Thee for all the blessings of life which have been ours these two decades. Though many have gone through difficult experiences, all of us wish to stop long enough to declare our appreciation to Thee for the many experiences of Thy love; for the presence of Thy Spirit in our hearts and classrooms; indeed we can say with the Psalmist: 'The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yes, I have a goodly heritage.'"

"We do invoke Thy blessing upon this gathering. May this be the beginning of a new era of peace and good will."

natural resources that belonged to all the people.

Proponents countered that refusal to clarify the title of the states to the rich lands would amount to robbing the states of something that traditionally belonged to them.

Walter Reuther, CIO president, said Saturday the President should reconsider his position and veto the bill. He made public a letter that he had written to the President, telling the President that "more than 100 million people are depending on the oil and gas resources of the states." Reuther said "special interests" are trying other federal resources.

At 22 Senators—21 Democrats and Senator Morse (Ind., Ore.)—made public letters to Attorney General Brownell asking if he intended to test constitutionality of the state ownership bill, and if so, to what extent. The bill, and the difficulties and dangers inherent in giving some states more than three miles offshore.

Under committee study in a bill by Chairman Carlson (Ile., Ore.) to authorize the Secretary of Interior to lease the offshore areas it differed basically from the House-passed bill.

The House bill would make state laws, except for levying of taxes, applicable in the federal area. Cordell's bill constrains offshore oil well platforms, rigs and other like structures to be ships and declares that cranes or other offshore equipment on the states are subject to maritime law.

Red ribbon winners from Bolton included: Beverly Kettle, best dress; her graduation dress; Marcia Gienney, best dress; Susan Shearer and Marion Styrac received white ribbons for sports dress entries and the following girls for best dresses, Linda Smith, Judy Evers, Irene Yahn, and Beverly Gage.

The dress revue winds up the club's season of regular meetings on September 10, when the final get-together of the group. Their work is conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Myron M. Lee of Hebron road, who also conducted an adult class in tailoring this spring. She is assisted in the 4-H work by Mrs. Robert C. Cheney.

Poem Steak Show
Frances Pagnello, second grade pupil, stole the show for some adults at the pre-planting ceremonies at the school last week. She recited the following poem, author unknown.

We planted a tree today
A slender little twig
That will grow with us
And be big when we are big.

We placed it on the land
In a spot of sunlight there.
We'll put a wire around it
And water it with care.
And some day when we're very old
And sitting in its shade,
That's what the tree we made
Will be for us to shade.

The tree planting program for the lower grades was arranged by Mrs. William C. Patrick, teacher of Grade 2, and included the acknowledgment of the gift of the two blue spruce trees from Mrs. Cannon Burr Nurseries given by Theresa Caldera of Grade 3. Marsha several of Grade 4 read Governor Lodge's Arbor Day proclamation. George Mortlock of Grade 4 gave a description of the blue spruce species, and Kirk Berthel of Grade 4 recited a poem entitled "Trees" by Grace Oakes Burton. The entire group sang "America the Beautiful" to close the program. Raymond Boma and Paul Bakus of the fourth grade were assisted by the custodian, Olive Gervais, in planting the trees.

The program for the tree planting by the upper grades was arranged by Miss Pagnello, seventh grade student. Leonard Howarth read the proclamation and Andrea recited "Salute to Trees." An original song about trees was sung by the grade pupils and the fifth grade described the "Antarctic" in completing a tree chart in jigsaw puzzle fashion as the story progressed. Actual planting of the tree was done by Lee Belcher of the seventh grade and Ronald Carr of the sixth grade.

Walk-ins will be welcomed, and transportation provided for those without facilities for reaching the center. If missed requests are received at Red Cross headquarters, 3-5111, before noon.

In addition to the delegates from the Manchester League, the state convention will comprise delegates and observers from the 55 other local Leagues in the state, representing the 6,800 members of the League of Women Voters of Connecticut.

Unpleasant Future?

IF YOU KNEW for certain that trouble was coming your way, you'd safeguard yourself against it.

Unfortunately, nobody knows what will happen next. So, we suggest a well-balanced insurance program . . . a program that will not cost too much, yet will give you the help you need if trouble strikes.

The program begins with games, which were played until all had arrived. The Senior Scouts then distributed tickets with which the Brownies could be admitted to the daily decorated booths at the penny circus set up on the camp grounds.

Two Senior girls were in charge of each booth. The feature attractions being games of skill, story-telling, fortune-telling, and the ever-popular refreshments. From all indications the older girls had as much fun as their younger sisters.

Two Seniors spent most of the afternoon with their heads poked through a sheet, making an excellent target for the Brownies who were waiting with their bows and arrows.

Group came under the festivities, all too soon for the enthusiastic group.

Many are now turning their thoughts to the annual day camp period which begins June 29 for both Intermediate and Brownie Scouts. Reservations for the day camp are now being taken at the Girl Scout office.

Senior Scouts who were responsible for the revel were Donna Robb, Bettie Lou Robinson, Louise Boyd, Judy Hansen, Jackie Holland, Susan Condit, Barbara McGinn, Charlotte Fayle, Carol Pigot, Dawna Reavell, Nancy Walsh, Emma Stephens, Cynthia Lewis, Adeline Dix, Nancy Silver, Cynthia Cochran, and Marcia Hazen.

All Intermediate Girl Scouts in Manchester are reminded that they will have their annual playday at Camp Merrit-Wood on June 6.

Brownies Revel At Penny Circus

A most successful Brownie Revel in the form of a penny circus was enjoyed by about 200 Manchester Brownie Scouts at Camp Merrit-Wood, Saturday afternoon. The success of the affair was due to the combined efforts of the program committees of the Manchester Girl Scout Council, the Brownie leaders and the Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 1.

The program began with games, which were played until all had arrived. The Senior Scouts then distributed tickets with which the Brownies could be admitted to the daily decorated booths at the penny circus set up on the camp grounds.
