U. S. Air Force Cancels All Plane Contracts with Kaiser

Order Hits Transport Type Units

Washington, June 24—(AP)—The Air Force today cancelled all its contracts with the Kaiser Company for the production of transport aircraft.

The Air Force said the termination of the contracts involved C-119s—the "Flying Boxcars"—and C-123s at the Willow Run, Mich., plant operated by the Kaiser interests.

The firm will be permitted to complete planes now in final assembly stages. The Air Force said the cancellation action was taken "completely independently of the present Senate hearings now in progress."

At these hearings, by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee, Chairman Bridges (R., N. H.) has been paying Kaiser more than five times as much for a C-119 as the same plane costs at the Hagerstown, Md., plant of the Fairchild Aircraft Company. Fairchild developed the Flying Boxcars and the Air Force made Kaiser a secondary producer.

Henry Kaiser has testified that the costs of the two plants are not comparable because Willow Run is a huge plant being operated at full capacity and Fairchild at Hagerstown is a small plant in full operation.

The top Kaiser officials, Henry J. and his son, Edgar, also have complained of troubles with subcontractors. For one thing, they said one subcontractor delivered 13 sets of defective aircraft wings.

The Senate hearing has developed testimony that a Kaiser-built C-119 cost $1,347,000 as against $285,000 for one from Fairchild.

Bridges recessed the hearing today shortly after word of the cancellation reached the capital.

Before Bridges announced recess, committee members huddled behind closed doors with Henry and Edgar Kaiser.

Washington, June 24—(AP)—President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders decided today "to utilize every possible means" in an effort to force action on the blocked bill to extend the excess profits tax.

Eisenhower made another personal appeal to Reed yesterday to let the bill pass. He urged Reed to let the bill pass.

Asked whether Reed should sign any bill of the kind, Martin declared that the committee chairman cancelled a session of the committee which had been scheduled for today.

Eisenhower said that he and other GOP leaders had conferred with the House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) and the House GOP leaders then would go before the House Rules committee and ask that it authorize the House to take up the measure without Ways and Means committee approval.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Senator Carlson (R-Cal.) has been acting as a go-between in the controversy as the President's request but without any success so far in working out a compromise.

Carlson, a former member of the House where he served for years on the Ways and Means committee, is a close friend of Reed and also an intimate of the President.

The Kansas has said several times it would be a political mistake for his party to let the excess profits tax die before individual income taxpayers get relief.

One compromise he is said to have suggested would extend the tax to the end of the year.

Christie Admits Slaying Three More Women

London, June 24—(AP)—John Reginald Christie's lawyers continued their fight today to prove that the confessed murderer of a stranger was "mad as a March hare" when he lured his wife and garden with female corpses.

Nervously working his fingers, Christie belatedly admitted garrotting three more women—totalling seven so far—as his trial progressed through its third day at London's Old Bailey court. Yesterday he admitted killing his wife and three other women.

He told the court there was "no reason, no sense" in the slaying.

The 35-year-old wartime special constable said the seven victims are the ones he "remembers something about."

Christie technically is on trial only for the murder of his wife, Elizabeth, whose body was found under the floorboards of the house. His lawyer says he is "guilty but insane."

The seven admitted victims also include three playgirls whose bodies were found in a wall-to-wall cubbyhole in the apartment, two other women whose skeletons were dug up from the garden, and the wife of a neighbor, Mrs. Herel Evans.

Christie's testimony from the same witness box in 1950 helped form the basis of the report.

Christie is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had moved from their home on an island in the Baltic.

Saugus Police Chief Roland Mansfield said Boynton admitted the crime with which he was charged and also admitted orally that he abducted an eight-year-old Lynn girl two weeks ago. The identity of the Lynn girl was not divulged.

Lynn police said they will seek a warrant charging Boynton with the abduction of the Lynn girl. Mansfield said the abduction was connected with the assault on the Lynn girl.

Batory Captain Seeking Refuge in Great Britain

London, June 24—(AP)—The Polish sea captain who hauled fugitive Gerhart Eisler to a Communist haven was a refugee from the Red today and Britain was expected to grant him political asylum.

The Polish, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski of the liner Batory, who was decorated by the Red Warsaw regime for his part in Eisler's escape from the U. S., stayed ashore with the ship's medical officer when the Batory sailed from Britain Saturday.

Officials, maintaining tight secrecy about the affair, said only that the asylum request was under study but responsible sources declared it undoubtedly would be granted.

London newspapers said both Cwiklinski and the medical officer identified as Dr. Taktster, were being held at Durham prison with the request was under consideration. There was no official confirmation of the report.

Cwiklinski is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had moved from their home on an island in the Baltic.

Drop in U. S. Jobs Over Two Million

Washington, June 24—(AP)—Federal employment dropped below the 2½ million mark on June 1 for the first time since July, 1951, and is expected to show another drop for this month.

The Civil Service Commission said today it does not have a tabulation of dismissal notices effective by June 30, but they are known to number several thousands.

The notices were issued in anticipation of cuts in funds for the year starting July 1. Some may be rescinded but a net reduction in personnel is anticipated.

A "yes" vote on Question 2a will authorize construction of a high school at Memorial Field at an estimated cost of $4,550,000. A "yes" vote on Question 2b will authorize the town to include in the high school an auditorium to seat 1,300 at an estimated cost of $300,000. A "yes" vote on Question 2c will authorize inclusion in the high school of a swimming pool at an estimated cost of $150,000. A "yes" vote for the project set forth in that question will not be made. #### Christie Admits Slaying Three More Women

London, June 24—(AP)—John Reginald Christie's lawyers continued their fight today to prove that the confessed murderer of a stranger was "mad as a March hare" when he lured his wife and garden with female corpses.

Nervously working his fingers, Christie belatedly admitted garrotting three more women—totalling seven so far—as his trial progressed through its third day at London's Old Bailey court. Yesterday he admitted killing his wife and three other women.

He told the court there was "no reason, no sense" in the slaying.

The 35-year-old wartime special constable said the seven victims are the ones he "remembers something about."

Christie technically is on trial only for the murder of his wife, Elizabeth, whose body was found under the floorboards of the house. His lawyer says he is "guilty but insane."

The seven admitted victims also include three playgirls whose bodies were found in a wall-to-wall cubbyhole in the apartment, two other women whose skeletons were dug up from the garden, and the wife of a neighbor, Mrs. Herel Evans.

Christie's testimony from the same witness box in 1950 helped form the basis of the report.

Christie is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had moved from their home on an island in the Baltic.

Saugus Police Chief Roland Mansfield said Boynton admitted the crime with which he was charged and also admitted orally that he abducted an eight-year-old Lynn girl two weeks ago. The identity of the Lynn girl was not divulged.

Lynn police said they will seek a warrant charging Boynton with the abduction of the Lynn girl. Mansfield said the abduction was connected with the assault on the Lynn girl.

Peabody Police Chief John Purcell said Boynton was sentenced to "the six-month house of (Continued on Page Six)

Batory Captain Seeking Refuge in Great Britain

London, June 24—(AP)—The Polish sea captain who hauled fugitive Gerhart Eisler to a Communist haven was a refugee from the Red today and Britain was expected to grant him political asylum.

The Polish, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski of the liner Batory, who was decorated by the Red Warsaw regime for his part in Eisler's escape from the U. S., stayed ashore with the ship's medical officer when the Batory sailed from Britain Saturday.

Officials, maintaining tight secrecy about the affair, said only that the asylum request was under study but responsible sources declared it undoubtedly would be granted.

London newspapers said both Cwiklinski and the medical officer identified as Dr. Taktster, were being held at Durham prison with the request was under consideration. There was no official confirmation of the report.

Cwiklinski is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had moved from their home on an island in the Baltic.

Drop in U. S. Jobs Over Two Million

Washington, June 24—(AP)—Federal employment dropped below the 2½ million mark on June 1 for the first time since July, 1951, and is expected to show another drop for this month.

The Civil Service Commission said today it does not have a tabulation of dismissal notices effective by June 30, but they are known to number several thousands.

The notices were issued in anticipation of cuts in funds for the year starting July 1. Some may be rescinded but a net reduction in personnel is anticipated.

Ready to Meet Dulles Courier

Soul, June 24—(AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today his forthcoming talks with U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson may "open new channels" to settlement of the tangled Korean truce situation. Rhee said "I hope Mr. Robertson's part will accomplish a great deal in cooperation with General Clark and Ambassador Briggs."

The 67-year-old Korean president added: "In connection with the armistice terms we are not able to agree on that so far, but Mr. Robertson's coming may open new channels to settlement of this problem. We are not sure that a settlement may be made more agreeable to us and perhaps more honorable to the United States."

Robertson, the State Department Far East chief, arrived in Tokyo today on a special mission in the truce crisis. He brought Rhee from Secretary of State Dulles and is expected to arrive in Seoul to see Rhee tomorrow.

In an interview, Rhee was asked whether he thought he had the full support of his people. He replied: "Well, some people may say that only a few people are supporting me and more people want to go against my wish. But you'll soon find it out. And furthermore I suggest you go and take a public vote. You will know exactly where I stand and where the Koreans stand. The Korean people are feeling that they know my sentiments and they know my feelings. We stand together. There is no such thing as the Koreans who do not follow my leadership."

Rhee was asked whether he thought Washington did not take him seriously until last week when he opened the prison gates to thousands of North Korean anti-Communist prisoners.

Rhee said he would like to see a move which would commit the UN to fight for Korea until again if it had not been achieved by political negotiations in 90 days.

The decisive step which the South Korean president has clearly said he will take, if a truce does not like it signed, is withdrawal of his forces from the UN Command. Such a step probably would be preliminary to ordering his troops to go on with the war, even if the UN and the Communists agree to an end of the fighting.

If the troops remain under command of Gen. Mark Clark, the UN (Continued on Page Seventeen)

Bolton Methodist Church to Have Band Concert on July 10

Bolton, June 24.—(Special)—The Salvation Army band of Manchester will be heard in an outdoor band concert at United Methodist Church on July 10, according to an announcement by Mrs. Edward J. Mack, president of the WSCS of the church.

Concerts of this band are an eagerly-awaited event in the community each summer. It is believed by both young and old since it invariably develops into a community-reunion type of lawn party.

The concert was instituted some five or six years ago through the efforts of the late William A. Perrell, a former member of the band and benevolent friend of the local church.

Paul Fiano is engaged in farming operations with his brothers on Birch Mountain and Peter Mangella whose plans are indefinite in the purchase of a new home in his father's construction and grading work.

Coventry Slim Referendum Balloting Costs Town $3.75 Per Voter

Coventry, June 24.—(Special)—Each voter cast in the referendum vote Monday was at an approximate cost to the town of $3.75, the Board of Selectmen announced.

Both questions were carried in the referendum vote on constitutional amendments. On the declaration of State Constitution, the vote was 90 to 10, and on the declaration of the election of state officers on Dec. 15, the vote was 90 to 10.

A total of 108 voters went to the polls, but six did not vote. This was about 25 per cent of the 2,700 eligible voters.

Wapping Amendments Draw Only 98 Voters

Wapping, June 24.—(Special)—At the special town meeting Monday, only 98 voters were cast on the adoption of two amendments to the state constitution. On the first referendum, to incorporate 47 amendments into the constitution, the vote was ninety-two to eight.

On the second, concerning certification of election of state officers, the vote was 90 yes and 10 no.

At the meeting it was also voted to sell the Pleasant Valley School building to the Pleasant Valley Club for $1, with the reservation that the building be used as a community center.

Rec Announces Crafts Program

A program of Arts and Crafts will be conducted on the playgrounds of Manchester again this summer. The program is sponsored by the Department of Recreation and directed by Nell Lawrence, a teacher of Industrial Arts in the Hollister Street School.

There will be a daily class at all playgrounds each afternoon under the direction of the playground supervisors, and weekly by class at each playground supervised by Lawrence.

Machinist Held For Abduction Of Young Girls

Boynton was shopping for his mother, with whom he lives, when he was arrested by Sausage police. His daughter was said to be living with his divorced wife.

After questioning at Sausage police headquarters, the suspect was taken to Pashley where he was questioned again before he was employed as a machinist. Gall said he has had frequent intervals of unemployment.

Police in adjoining communities are in charge of the vessel which was left.

The history is the ship on which Elzier, then awaiting deportation from the U. S. for making a false statement when he first entered that country, slipped away in 1949 and escaped to Europe.

Capt. Cwiklinski and 46 of his crewmen received the Polish gold cross of merit for opposing British-American attempts to seize Elzier when the battery put into Southampton on the voyage to Poland.

A British court ruled that Elzier would not be forced back to the U. S. He later made his way to East Germany and became a Communist propagandist chief but later has fallen into disfavor.

On his return voyage to New York, Cwiklinski declared the award "nothing to do with" Elzier's escape but had been given him for "outstanding services" in the Polish merchant marine after World War II.

At that time the American government detained the crew and 111 of the vessel's 183 passengers for an Ellis Island hearing. Two days later, an immigration official announced that the crew had been "cleared of any implication in the flight of Elzier."

California Police Hunt Missing Girl

Norwalk, Calif., June 24.—(AP)—Sheriff's detectives turned again today to a possibility of a sex slaying in the disappearance of Stella Darlene Nolan, 8, missing since Saturday.

The blue-eyed little girl dropped from sight while playing at a shopping center where her foster parents worked at a hot dog stand.

Officers last night located the child's natural mother in Texas, Texas, about a year. Lt. Dave Terry of the Los Angeles County sheriff's homicide bureau said.

Mrs. Eckols had been sought for a routine check since Mrs. Eckols told officers she was not the child's real mother, but that she and her husband had had a child together in San Diego.

Markham Refuses To Admit Red Tie

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—George F. Markham, union official and former Boston newspaperman, refused today to tell the House Un-American Activities committee whether he is or ever was a Communist.

Markham listed various reasons for his refusal, including his right to protection of the constitution and his guarantee that nobody can be compelled to testify against himself. The committee is investigating Communist influences in education.

The 43-year-old witness, now educational director for the New England district of the Industrial Union of Marine and Leather Workers, testified that as a result of what he termed a "kangaroo court" of Navy officers he was dismissed from the Naval service.

Markham said "wild statements" but no witnesses were produced. He said that after he was convicted was built around efforts to discredit his testimony.

Company Loan Quickly

Paris, June 24.—(AP)—President Vincent Auriol crossed political observers today and called on Joseph Laniel, a deputy little known outside his own Independent Republican Party, to have a try at forming a cabinet to end France's record political crisis.

Laniel has served in several French cabinets but always as a junior minister. He was first elected to the Chamber of Deputies in 1932—re-elected continuously.

The nomination was announced after former Premier Antoine Pinay, another Independent, gave up his attempt to put together the nation's 19th post-war cabinet.

Pinay was the seventh political leader to give up his attempt to form a cabinet since the death of Paul Ramadier.

NLRB Hearing In Second Day

Call Employes in Fight For New Union Vote At Manchester Modes

The National Labor Relations Board hearing in union charges that the management of two locally owned garment shops was guilty of improper activities in connection with a union election at the two plants in March ended its second day today with the possibility that additional hearings may have to be held, probably next week.

At the close of yesterday's hearing in the Federal building in Hartford, NLRB hearing officer Seymour Goldstein asked counsel for both sides to be ready to suggest dates for additional hearings if testimony of witnesses cannot be completed by today.

Stinging on the outcome of the hearings is the question of whether a second NLRB-conducted election in New Britain, to determine whether the 600 employes of the two plants want the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, AFL, to be their bargaining agent.

The ILGWU was rejected by the workers in an election March 20, but the union says management conducted an improper campaign and has petitioned to have the results of that election set aside and a new one held.

Yesterday, 15 employes, most of them union witnesses, took the stand to testify and were asked to search their memories for bits of conversation overheard and acts that occurred three or four months ago.

The union is expected to wind up its case this morning. In time for management to start presenting its case before the board.

Participating in the hearings in Sydney A. Covert, of the NLRB Boston office, which has already recommended that the March election be set aside. The regional office substantiated six of the 18 alleged violations contained in the union's petition for a new election.

whispered to Bridges after receiving word of the cancellation. Bridges said, "We'll go off the record," and the Senators, followed by the Kaisers, marched into an anteroom.

A few minutes later, when they returned to the public hearing room, Bridges said the Kaisers had informed the committee of certain information which has come to them informally.

As a result, Bridges said, the hearings are being deferred to some future date. Bridges fixed the date for resumption of the hearing, but said it probably would be in the near future.

"No comment," Edgar Kaiser said when reporters sought to question him. His father echoed the words. Bridges also declined to discuss the order.

Henry and Edgar related earlier that one of their headaches was the delivery by a subcontractor of 13 sets of defective airplane wings.

The Kaisers said in a prepared statement the wings had been treated with a cleaner which caused the metal to corrode, that some had to be sent back to the subcontractor, Whitcomb Corp., Jackson, Mich., and others re-worked at Willow Run.

But the Kaisers said they had even more trouble with inaccurate and out-of-date information from Fairchild, which had a $2,708,484 Air Force contract to provide technical assistance in the building of Fairchild C-119 airplanes at Willow Run.

Fairchild's technical assistance representatives at Willow Run were instructed to keep their reports on specific instances of K-P (Kaiser-Frazer) errors and mistakes—all for the purpose of building a record against K-F, Henry Kaiser said.

"We cannot agree the conclusion that Fairchild's objective was to bring about the cancellation of our contract with the hope that the work will be transferred to Magnavox."

To support their charge, the Kaisers introduced a sworn statement by William F. Sherbrook, a former Fairchild employe now employed by Kaiser-Frazer.

It quoted Sherbrook as saying that when he was assigned by Fairchild as a coordinator on Kaiser contract, his supervisor specifically ordered him to "maintain complete control over the spare parts program at Kaiser, in anticipation of the day when Fairchild would be asked to take over and complete performance of the Kaiser contract."

The statement added that Fairchild's representative at Dayton, Ohio, Robert Kellhofer, told Sherbrook he claimed personal credit for having the original Kaiser contract for 200 C-119s cut to 159.

Henry Kaiser said K-F built our tools from Fairchild's drawings, the results did not match the actual tools on Fairchild's floor.

"The aircraft parts we made from those tools would not fit together in the assembly."

"Finally, because we could not get the information from Fairchild, we had to send a group of engineers to Hagerstown to photograph tooling in and take dimensions so as to prepare drawings."

opened its normally closed doors today for a public discussion of a controversial proposal to let private business get into nuclear energy.

Dean was invited to open the hearings with a defense of his plan to encourage private development of atomic energy for civilian purposes.

Chairman Walter Sterling Cole (R., N. Y.) said the committee will hear representatives of government departments, research directors and scientists and the leaders of interested business concerns during hearings scheduled to run through July.

Dean told the committee in a secret session last month that the time had come to encourage private industry to undertake the development of civilian nuclear power.

He proposed that present laws, which limit major atomic activities to the government, be revised to permit private development of atomic facilities, private trading in fissionable materials and wider distribution of patents and information.

Cole said the committee does not intend making any changes in the law until the next year.

Dean has said that atomic power will not compete in industry now with coal and oil but may be economically feasible in a few years.

Most business leaders appeared before the committee in closed sessions have been quoted as saying private interest would government financial aid before going into atomic energy.

Representative Holtford (D., Calif.) has attacked Dean's proposal on the ground it would permit "unscrupulous" to get control of industrial nuclear power.

Representative Price (D-Ill.) said the supply of atomic energy is "dangerously" low in some categories and scarce fissionable materials should not be diverted to civilian use.

Both are members of the atomic committee.

McCoole to Lead First Aid Group

Joseph P. McCoole was elected president of the First Aid Instructors of Manchester, Tuesday evening at Center Springs Pond where the group held its final meeting of the season.

McCoole will be assisted by a board consisting of Edwin F. Nolan, vice president; James P. Irvine, treasurer and Mrs. Signe L. Hallin, secretary.

The short business meeting and election was followed by a picnic to which husbands and wives of members of the group had been invited. Dancing and a social hour in Center Springs Lodge completed the program.

However, the chances appear slim that Congress will clear the measure by July 1, the time present law requires Benzon to announce controls.

The controls will be necessary because what supplies have reached the legal surplus level. When supplies get to that point, the department must impose acreage planting allotments and marketings.

Under present law, Benzon would be called for a 30 per cent reduction in plantings—that is, from this year's 77 million acres to 50 million acres.

Republican leaders from farm states fear farmers would turn against the administration in next year's Congressional elections if such a big cut were called for.

The Hope measure would set the 1954 allotment at 66 million acres, a reduction of about 15 per cent from this year.

Department officials said Benzon could go ahead and announce controls in the absence of Congressional action and wait until July 15 to announce the size of the allotment. By that time Congressional action might be completed.

Such a delay, however, probably would require Congressional approval for a 30-day delay in holding a grover referendum on quotas. The law now requires that such a referendum on wheat be held by July 25.

Quotas must be approved by the Senate. The House has approved it. However, they control sales, while allotments are designed to limit plantings. Allotments do not require grover approval. Legislation is being introduced to require such a referendum on wheat to be held by July 25.

Wheat Control Plan for 1954 Set by Benson

Washington, June 24.—(AP)—Within a week Secretary of Agriculture Benson will announce that production controls will be invoked on the 1954 wheat crop, but it appears he will be unable to tell farmers how the controls will affect them.

The reason for this uncertainty is that a number of lawmakers from major wheat states have told Benson they think controls which would be required under existing law would be too drastic, and that farmers would rebel against them.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agriculture committee has introduced legislation which would require a less drastic cut in production and his committee has approved it. The bill has not yet reached the House floor for action, but may do so in a day or two.

The Senate Agriculture committee is scheduled to consider a similar measure tomorrow.

However, the chances appear slim that Congress will clear the measure by July 1, the time present law requires Benzon to announce controls.

Reds Try to Ease Tension in Berlin

Russian firing squads executed three of the picked East German "people's police" in East Berlin and shot two others in Gera for alleged complicity in the week of strikes and rioting.

MAJ. Gen. P. T. Dübrow, Soviet commander in East Berlin, lifted the ban on public meetings to permit operation of the East German satellite government's new discussion program, which the East press and radio trumpeted as a "new course."

"All differences among the government, the party and the workers will be taken up," the East regime's dominant German Communist party secretary general, Walter Ulbricht, announced.

Disgruntled senior workmen in plants and factories would have a chance to air their complaints without fear of reprisal, Ulbricht declared.

Radio Berlin commented that "many still do not understand our new course" and that at the meeting "explaners appointed by the party will engage immediately in this important work to develop Democracy on the German soil."

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl told a workers' meeting that new plans would be unfolded in the next several weeks to carry out the regime's promises of improvement in the working man's lot.

Already the Communists have abolished the recently-ordered 10 per cent work speedup, restored cheap rail and bus tickets for workers, increased pensions and separated sick leave from annual vacations.

To the rebellious farmers, the government has promised an end to collectivization and a review of the oppressive crop quota system. The government also has pledged revival measures for almost-eradicated private industry.

The Reds said they had turned 40 nationalized plants in Leipzig and East Berlin back to their former owners yesterday.

Grotewohl announced today that many East Germans arrested for joining in rebellion against Red rule are being released but he said the "guilty guilty" would be severely punished.

Grotewohl spoke to a rally of Socialist Unity (Communist) party workers. He emphasized that the machinery is already in motion for releasing the great numbers of East Germans rounded up after the rioting and the days following.

Western circles reported as many as 16,000 workers in Soviet zone jails, another 4,000 in East Berlin prisons. The severe punishment Grotewohl talked about was meted out by 27 summary executions by Russian army riflemen and evidence that the East German local courts are considering the same judgment in a few cases.

Truth Campaign' Launched by GOP

To spread in your communities and districts the record of achievement chalked up by the Assembly," Baldwin urged that the party officials "seek out and accept" speaking dates at every opportunity. He suggested they talk to church meetings, socials, picnics, and school gatherings.

"In other words," he said, "to anyone who will listen to you. In that way, and only in that way, will we be able to tell all of the people of Connecticut of the great job that was done for them in the General Assembly."

Baldwin labeled his plan a "Campaign of Truth" and said it is his firm belief it cannot fail. Disclosed to the party officials by GOP headquarters was a long list of accomplishments of the session and a basic speech about them that ran either be delivered as is or altered to emphasize single points.

The material praises the recent session as one that met difficult financial and policy problems head-on and predicts that the session will long be remembered as an outstanding one.

Top accomplishment, according to the GOP headquarters' listing, is the $225,000,000 cross-state highway.

The expressway, which will extend from the New York state line at Greenwich to the Rhode Island line at Killingly, was called the "most far-reaching and important single piece of legislation ever enacted in the history of Connecticut."

The list also highlights improvement made in the welfare program, expansion of labor benefits, expansion of the high courts, expansion of the state police department and extension of state aid for education as some of the high-light accomplishments of the recent session.

day that civilian government employment dropped 22,500 during May, the largest monthly decrease since June 1950.

The preliminary total for federal employees on June 1 was put at 2,483,100, down 73,382 from the total of 2,556,482 on Feb. 1. This was a reduction of about 2.8 per cent.

The Eisenhower administration announced early in February that all federal agencies had been directed to hold down on all employees on June 1 was put at 2,483,100, down 73,382 from the total of 2,556,482 on Feb. 1.

The commission listed the Post Office department as the agency having the largest number of employees. It said the total June 1 was 320,500, but this was the same total first listed as a preliminary estimate of Post Office employees as of Jan. 31 and repeated without change each month since.

Other June 1 figures by departments included: Army 305,000; Navy 451,400; Air Force 301,000 and Veterans administration 172,500.

Those five agencies employed 78 per cent of all federal workers. As of June 1 the commission figured there were 2,392,200 federal employees in the continental United States and 180,900 overseas.

Charles S. House Lauded by 600 at Testimonial Dinner

Judge-Appointee Cited For Service to Town

Citing his "extraordinary refinement of intellect," Gov. John D. Lodge last night lauded Attorney Charles S. House for his service as legal adviser to the governor for two and a half years and congratulated him on appointment to the bench of the Superior Court.

Lodge was principal speaker at a testimonial dinner honoring the Manchester attorney. More than 600 persons gathered at the State Armory to pay tribute to House who has served the town and the state in various capacities.

As an attribute which he said qualifies House for the bench, Lodge mentioned "his ability to face up to an issue with courage, but never with bravado. He sees the implications of problems, the roots in which the problems are entangled," the governor said.

Other speakers at the testimonial to the former GOP Senate leader, former member of the Republican State Central Committee, and present chairman of the town's Board of Education were Allyn L. Brown, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Errors; William J. Shea, Manchester, a superior court judge, who was lauded by the speaker; and Charles S. House, who was lauded by the speaker.

Judge Brown, who brought congratulations from the entire state judiciary, said to the assembled guests it is "like bringing coals to Newcastle, to come here and tell you how fine a man Charlie House is."

Alcorn described the guest of honor as a "most loyal, most faithful, and most stalwart public servant."

Receives Scroll
Martin, speaking for the town's administration, expressed regret that the town would lose House's intimate contact. However, on behalf of the townpeople and the Board of Directors gave House a scroll on which was inscribed a laudatory resolution passed recently by the board.

Judge Shea said House "has served with distinction and with credit and with honor" in offices he has held.

Cecil England, chairman of the dinner committee, presented House with a silver tea service as a gift from his friends.

England also presented the newly-appointed superior court justice with a scroll from the Manchester Education Association. The scroll commemorates his 14 years' membership.

Other guests included several men who will soon assume positions on the bench. They were Attorney Louis Shapiro of Farmington and Eimer Ryan of New Haven, who will be Superior Court judges, and Walter J. Sidor of Wetherfield, who will become a Common Pleas Court judge in January.

Democratic State Chairman John M. Bailey was also among the guests.

Many town officials, local members of both major parties, and Manchester attorneys attended the dinner.

During the speaking program, Judge Shea read congratulatory messages from United States Senator Prescott Bush, and Clarence P. Quimby, formerly principal of Manchester High School.

Jack Sanson, manager of the State Theater, led community singing before the meal. Hank Kerse, of Coventry, a former professional entertainer, accompanied the singing.

The invocation and benediction pronounced by Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, Mrs. Doris Roy Bull sang the Star Spangled Banner.

At a testimonial dinner to House last night at the State Armory, 600 friends and associates of the local attorney who was named judge of the state in various capacities attended the testimonial to pay tribute to him.

Attorney Charles S. House, superior court judge appointee, accepts congratulations from Governor John D. Lodge as the governor entrusts Mr. House, whose role in the new judge's success he lauded in an address last night.

Judge William J. Shea, master of ceremonies, presided at the dinner.

Democrats Fight GOP Tariff Move

Washington, June 24 (AP)—Senate Democrats were ready today to open their battle to prevent the Republicans from ending the 37-year-old bi-partisan Federal Tariff Commission.

The first test is due in the Finance Committee which meets at 10 a. m. e. t. i. behind closed doors to consider a one-year extension of the 18-year-old Reciprocal Trade Agreements Law.

The House, in passing an extension measure last week, put in a provision to add a seventh member to the Tariff Commission to give the Republicans a four-to-three edge.

Democrats have fought out sharply against this change, pointing out that the commission already has 10 members, five Republicans and five Democrats.

They contended the House amendment, set up to promote a tariff commission, would nullify the purpose of the reciprocal trade program, set up to promote world trade by cutting down tariff barriers.

The Tariff Commission has a key role in the program because it acts on applications from business firms for higher duties under the program.

And Jackson said, "You're the first man to come before this committee and admit you're not in sympathy with the philosophy of the laws you'll have to administer."

Wormer said Lyon had "overwhelming endorsements" from the mining industry.

Coming to Lions Club Horse Show

Washington, June 24 (AP)—The National Director of Red Cross personnel, said today the agency's field directors in Korea "possess a sense of Red Cross idealism and devotion the like of which I have never seen."

In a report on a recent trip to the Far East, prepared for the relief agency's 22nd national convention, Durfee said:

"These field directors average about 1,000 miles a month. Many times they may see only one or two GIs in a day—due to roads and distances.

"When they return at night, after having driven 70 or 80 miles to service one request, most of them type their own letters by flashlight."

Meanwhile, the 5,000 delegates mulled over a more worrisome subject—why the agency's last fund drive fell short, raising only $3 million dollars of a $9 million goal, and what improvements could be made in methods of soliciting contributions.

At panel discussions yesterday prepared for a full debate at the last business meeting today, Red Cross president F. Roland Harman called attention to the number of chapters participating in federated drives such as those of the Community Chest and United Fund.

Col. James E. Pepper, distiller and horseman, has donated a trophy to the Lions Club for awarding at the Horse Show scheduled to take place Saturday at Mount Nobis.

The trophy will be awarded to the horse which accumulates the most points in six jumping events. The charter cancelling bill will originate in the House today.

At the end of the year Colonel Pepper donates the Connecticut Horse Show Association Championship trophy which is presented at the annual annual banquet in January. A representative of Colonel Pepper's firm, above, will present the trophy at the show.

Rotary Told Of Action in Korean War

Spending 45 days at a time in an outpost on the battlefields of Korea gave the experience of John Alford, the only member of the Rotary Club to spend any time in that war-torn country, and he held the members enthralled as he told of his experience at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club last night at the Manchester Country Club.

This was his second hitch in the service, having spent three years in World War II. As a member of the Reserves, he was called into service again, this time for a year and a half, and most of the time he spent in Korea.

Alford left Seattle in Dec. 1951 on a boat loaded with some 150 soldiers and 125 women and children, bound for Japan. He had been seasick for three days as were most of the soldiers on the boat trip required 15 days.

The boat landed at Yokohama, Japan. Immediately Alford was sent to a camp where the men were assigned to various units. His assignment was to go to Chemical, Bacteriological and Radiological School, where they underwent intensive training for four weeks.

Alford was sent to Korea and assigned to the Second Infantry Division. Most of his time he spent in the rear area, where he was in charge of a unit of resistance.

The outpost is supposed to be in and out of contact with the main force, to take prisoners and get information on the enemy.

Alford's unit was sent to the front line, where they were to rest for six weeks, but in John's case the six weeks were spent in intensive training.

The outpost that Alford was assigned to was located on a hill which could not be scaled by trucks, so all supplies had to be brought to the base of the hill and it was a two and a half hour walk to get to the top.

Alford revealed that one of the new devices used on all the outposts was an infrared light called a "Snapperscope," which could pick up a human being from 100 to 1,000 yards in a dark night without the moon shining. The outposts were visited by military units and enemy outfits, and with binoculars, one could see the Chinese quite clearly, and of course they could see the Americans equally as well.

Alford said that a group of Americans would get together to talk to the Chinese, and they would be sent to an artillery barrage, and every one would duck for a hole in the ground.

Alford said the worst part of the outpost duty was that one was unable to change his clothes or take a bath for the whole 45 days. The first place they went upon relief was the shower, he said.

League Sponsors Child in Austria

The Women's League of Second Congressional Church has received its sponsorship, through the Save the Children Federation, for a child in Austria. It was announced today by the group's representative, Mrs. Anne W. Kuhn, treasurer.

The child is Monika Gregerer, selected as a case special need, by welfare agencies cooperating with the Federation in Europe.

The sponsorship, undertaken at a cost of $96 for one year, will enable the Federation to send the child a complete outfit of warm clothing and shoes, two wool blankets, textile and yarn goods, sewing materials, household linen, soap and other personal hygiene supplies, and writing materials.

Mrs. Lily Light, secretary of the Federation, in expressing appreciation for the gift, said:

Christie Admits Slaying Three More Women

(Continued From Page One) Sent Mrs. Evans' young husband, Timothy, to the gallows for the strangling of their 14-month-old daughter, Evans was thought at the time to have also killed his wife but was tried only for the murder of the child. Christie has not admitted killing the baby.

Defense lawyer Derek Curtis-Bennett asked Christie whether, while showing his flat to prospective renters, he was "conscious of the fact when talking with them in town on premises there were found four dead bodies."

"I never saw it," Christie said. "I don't think at all."

Christie answered softly: "No, I don't think at all."

Christie mumbled: "I didn't say whether it was conscious and deliberately."

The defendant said softly: "No, I wouldn't say that."

Christie said he put his wife's body under the floorboards "because I did not want to be separated from her and lose her—that is why I had her in the house."

Christie stepped haltingly from the witness box after two hours and 55 minutes of testimony that started last night at 10.15 p. m.

"I think he got some feeling of satisfaction in continuing to live in the village place with his dead bodies nearby."

Christie is very vindictive and angry at suggestions that he has been in public houses (taverns) and was more upset about this place of evidence than any other of the evidence about his killings.

He feels that going into public houses is very disgusting, and morally wrong.

"He told me that he saw his grandfather laid out after death and repeated some fascinating evidence in some of his descriptions of the heart valves, and an abnormal feeling of fascination for dead bodies."

A doctor developed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines to test the safety of designs for mine tunnels was certified for use to simulate the pressure of underground formations.

Living Testimonial to Heart Clinic

Peter Nock, 21, of 87 Birch street, is one patient who is happy that Manchester Memorial Hospital has a Heart Clinic. Over a period of four years, Nock was troubled with a heart ailment. His case was correctly diagnosed here, surgery performed and he is in excellent health again, ready to resume normal, active life again.

Nock is shown above being checked by fluoroscope, one of several machines used in the Heart Clinic, as Miss Maureen O'Shea, technician, gets a reading from the machine.

It was only a few short months ago that Nock was first examined at the Heart Clinic. He came here from his native West Wyoming. For four years ago and has been reading with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hilda-cavage.

He was employed as a feeder at Manchester Mould until his condition prevented him from working or engaging in any kind of average activity. His family physician referred him to the clinic in January when his heart condition failed to respond to medical treatment.

At the clinic, he received a thorough examination. An electrocardiogram and ballistocardiogram were taken and X-rays of his heart were made. A conference of heart doctors decided he was suffering from a severe narrowing of one of the heart valves, an abnormal feeling of fascination for dead bodies."

The heart surgeon, a consultant at the hospital and associated with the clinic, advised immediate heart surgery. Doctors agreed it was the only hope that could be offered Nock to relieve him of his serious condition.

The heart surgeon performed the operation in Hartford Hospital in May. It was successful and Nock says he is feeling fine again and hopes to return to his usual work within a short time.

Generous contributions to the Heart Clinic made possible the complete study and successful recovery of Nock. He is grateful for the aid he received from doctors, said he sincerely appreciated the Heart Clinic and extends his deepest gratitude to all those people who so generously contributed to the clinic.

150 Attending Summer Class

About 150 students began taking six weeks summer courses at Manchester High School today. The total enrollment has not been completed. Principal Edson M. Bailey said this morning, because there has been a large response for the free typing course for beginners.

There are two classes of typing and another class will probably be added, he said, depending upon the number of students desiring to take up the subject. He has established a waiting list for the class and students may register at the high school office. Students from the seventh grade up who reside in town can register for the class.

All subjects, except languages and short hand, are being taught from 8 to 12 Monday through Friday for those students who failed during the regular school year and must make them up before next semester.

Summer sessions are important for sophomores especially, because they change school hours in the fall under the double session schedule and no sophomore subjects will be taught in morning sessions.

If you have a bad memory, folks don't want you to pay it back.

New Schools Questions Now in Hands of Voters

Polls Open Tomorrow 8 a. m., Close 8 p. m.; Voter Rules Listed

Manchester will go to the polls tomorrow from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. to decide whether it will have a new high school and a new swimming pool.

The voters will also decide whether the high school, if they vote to build it, will contain an auditorium to seat 1,300 and a swimming pool.

Plans for the two schools represent the efforts of many town officials, including representatives of the Board of Education, the Board of Directors, and the School Building Committee.

Four polling places will be open during voting hours tomorrow. Voting Lists Unchanged.

Voters must cast their ballots at the polling places they used in last November's election. Even if they have moved to another district since that time their names will not be changed on voting lists, according to election officials.

According to information compiled by the League of Women Voters, the polling places are: East Side Recreation Building for District 1. You vote here if you live in the southeast section of town bordered to the north and west principally by East Center and Main streets.

West Side Recreation Building for District 2. You vote here if you live in the southwest section of town bordered to the north and east principally by Center, Main, North Main, and Union streets.

Community "Y" at North Main street for District 3. You vote here if you live in the northeast section of town bordered to the south and west principally by East Center, 21st, North Main, and Union streets.

Registered voters (persons who have taken the voter's oath at the town clerk's office in Manchester so that their names are included on the voting lists) may vote in the same polling place they used in the November election.

Property Voters at Armory Those voting only on basis of ownership of property alone must vote at a separate machine set up in the State Armory.

In addition to the some 20,000 people on the Manchester voting list any person older than 21 may vote even if he is not a registered voter, provided he can show a property assessed at $1,000 or more or personal property assessed at $500 or more on Oct. 1, 1952, the latest assessment date.

Free transportation to the polls is provided by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Manchester Automobile Dealers Association.

Publicly expressed opposition to the appropriations for the light, sewer, civic organizations have formally voted endorsement of the school planning group on the appropriations.

Director Walter Mahoney, Walter Hibbard, and Wilber Little, traditional foes of what they term extravagant in school spending, opposed the school appropriation at a June 3 public hearing.

The League of Women Voters supported the projects at that time. Several leading citizens also spoke in favor.

Since that time, the Kiwanis Club, the Rotary club, and the Exchange club have announced their support of the project.

Kiwanians have launched a telephone campaign to urge high school students distributed pamphlets to Manchester homes. The pamphlets, drawn up by the public utility committee, contained information about the school project and urged voters to go to the polls.

Attorney W. Dwight Keith, will be chief moderator for tomorrow's election and will be assisted by Charles H. Norris as deputy moderator in District 1 and William A. Allen as deputy in District 4.

None had been named at public election time today for the other districts.

Registrars Donald Hennigway, Republican, and Edward Moriarty, Democrat, will be assisted by Leonard A. Wiman, District 1; Paul Young, District 2; Newton Taggart, Sr., District 3; and Ed Woodhouse, District 4.

Checkers will be Irene Brennan, District 1; Eleanor Howard, District 2; and James Robinson and Daniel Hair, District 3, and Doris Belcher, District 4.

Other checkers may be used but have not yet been chosen. Hennigway said. He also said machine tenders have not been chosen. There will be no demonstrators.

Woman Injured Leaving Auto Attorney George C. Lesser was involved in a minor auto accident which resulted in slight injuries to a woman getting out of a car on Main street near Pearl shortly after noon today, police reported.

Mrs. Agnes Dermine, 300 Ben-Hur street, was treated for bruises to her arm and leg at Manchester Memorial Hospital and then discharged.

Police said she was getting out of a car that was facing north when the car, which was backing out of a parking stall on the east side of the street, struck the open door, pinning Mrs. Dermine between it and the body of the car as she was leaving.

The second car was being driven by Louis Coward, 117 Russell street, police said.

Patrolman Thomas R. Graham is investigating the accident.

Director of Rias Admits Red Link Berlin, June 24 (AP)—Eberhard Schütz, program director of Rias, admitted today that he had admitted a Communist link in the station in Berlin, said today he might as well be Senator McCarthy.

But, Schütz declared, he has been a fighter against Communism for many years and he denied that Communist propaganda is creeping into Rias broadcasts to the Soviet Zone of Germany.

Schütz said his past Communist experience helps him to be more effective in the state and anti-Communist broadcasts. He said he knows how those people think and operate.

Deputy Commissioner A. Earl Wood of Newington, Hill said, "will do all he can to relieve me in administering the program."

What is important is the release of anti-Communist prisoners of war in South Korea last week, dramatically illustrated is not what Hill says about a truce but what he does about it. Yesterday Lally was sentenced in the higher court.

Local prosecution of Lally's case, which involves the purchase of narcotics by fraud, had been delayed pending the disposition of a similar charge against him in Superior Court in Hartford.

Police Alerted This morning, Judge John S. C. Rottner ordered Lally's case to be heard in Superior Court in Hartford.

Lally was sentenced by Superior Court Judge John H. King to two months and to be placed on probation for the remainder of the term of the project and the toll resources to finance it.

The law requires that the engineers selected by the commission be made to establish the self-supporting nature of the project before bond commencing work under the act.

(Continued From Page One) Rhee broke into a hearty laugh and said: "That they didn't take us seriously is none of our fault."

As the bloody war ended its third year, these developments heightened the tension in this devastated Asian peninsula.

Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Walter C. Robertson, carrying a secret note to Rhee, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, landed in Tokyo and was expected in the South Korean capital.

Rhee served official notice he would sign his 16 division army from United Nations control if an armistice is signed on anti-Communist terms.

The leader of an anti-Rhee political party, Dr. Chough Pyong Ok, was severely beaten after speaking out against the Korean president's defiant truce stand.

The biggest anti-truce demonstration in South Korea—with more than a million taking part—was expected to be touched off Thursday—third anniversary of the UN truce.

Yoon Chi Ung, vice speaker of the UN National Assembly, and an outspoken Rhee supporter, insisted that his nation's armed forces "will not retreat a step back" from the present battle line.

In an impassioned letter to Gen. Mark Clark, Rhee declared that the UN National Assembly agreement "I do not see..."

The letter, released today by Rhee, was dated Saturday—two days before Clark conferred with the UN Command in Seoul.

The major attack followed several days of quiet along the 150-mile front. There had been no big-scale fighting since the UN offensive in May.

UN forces fighting centered about 200 miles north of the front line. UN forces estimated that 3,000 Reds were killed.

Allied fighter-bombers took off to bomb and strafe the attacking Reds as a heavy overcast began clearing late in the morning.

Marine Corsairs from the carrier Bairoko attacked Red supply lines near Changan on Korea's west coast. Returning pilots said they cut an important Communist supply road at several points.

About Town

The Covenant Congregational Church folks will hold their annual midsummer festival tonight at 7:30 at the church. An excellent program of music and readings will be presented by Miss Inez Carter of East Hartford, soprano; Mrs. Leland Howard, violinist; members of the church choir and Mrs. Carl Granstrom of Springfield, dramatic reader. Strawberry shortcake will be served.

Information has been received that the unidentified boy in the picture in last night's Herald admiring the pony ridden by Billy Cotter at the Lions' Club Horse Show last year is Peter Allen Koehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koehler of North Coventry. His sister, Joan Marie, and his older brother, James, participated in the show last year.

The Past Mistress Club of Daughters of Liberty, No. 123, will meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Samuel Haugh, 21 Edgerton street. All members are urged to attend as this will be the final meeting until fall.

The Past Chiefs Club of Memorial Temple No. 23, Pythian Sisters, will hold its last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Ethel Lindsay of 111 Main street tomorrow night, starting with a picnic potluck supper at 6 o'clock.

Ward Krause of Walnut street, music instructor and dealer in musical instruments, left this morning for five days at Camp Niantic with the Governor's Post Guard Band.

The Golden Age Club which was organized this season for men and women over 60 will hold its closing session until September at Center Springs Lodge, tomorrow from 2 to 4:30 p. m. George D. Edwards, president of the club, which now numbers 48, has mailed cards to all members, urging them to attend. He also advises them to provide box lunches. Games and other forms of entertainment will be provided.
