Under pressure from our colleagues in the newspaper to wear a coat, we have a coat on our heads.

Citizens Grab Killer Suspect In Dallas Area

Yesterday after being questioned by a number of others in the Parker slaying.

The 29-year-old Mrs. Parker stashed onto a street near Love Field, Dallas municipal airport, on the night of Sept. 26. Her throat was slashed. She died in the arms of policemen after gushing out that she had been stabbed and attacked.

Police controlled more than 200 men for questioning. Only yesterday, Fritz announced that the last suspect—possibly the man caught early today—was expected to be released shortly. Fritz had said that his investigation appeared to be at a standstill.

The arrested man claimed that he was in jail on a drunk and disorderly charge at the time of Mrs. Parker's slaying. He was jailed Sept. 29—the day before the slaying—but there appeared a possibility he had been released a few hours later.

Police said the spot where he was caught is not far from the home of a woman who was attacked and left for dead several days previous to Mrs. Parker's slaying.

The suspect told officers he had others holding him had stripped him of his clothing. But his clothes were found in a wastebasket hidden 25 feet away from the tree under which he had been sitting on a vacant lot.

The clothes included a blue and white striped shirt with a red and blue lightning design down the front, and underclothing.

"I didn't kill that woman," the suspect protested to arresting officers immediately after they arrested him and trebled his night patrols in the nights immediately following Mrs. Parker's slaying.

He called in a searchlight-equipped helicopter, never used so far as is known. Civilian defense organizations helped augment his patrol forces.

The roundup of suspects netted many men with records for minor and major sex offenses, including kidnapping and indecent exposure. But Fritz and his squad of homicide men to whom the case was turned over, were not able to find down anything in their grilling of suspects.

Questioned Earlier
Fritz said the suspect picked up

What has brought this about? Right after, steadily applied, we believe, has done it. The policy of House's, from its very beginning, has been to sell the best goods it could, charge fair prices for them, give good service to customers, treat its employees, suppliers, salesman and dealers fairly in all things, and finally never to forget "The man who wears them."

We would like to believe that all who in any way have been served by us over this span of years have been benefited. House's, in turn, is grateful for all the many benefits it has enjoyed from these associations.

We have at House's look-forward into the years to come, hopeful and confident that we merit a continuation of the help and support that you give us and may justify a continuation of the respect you have always shown us through-out the busy years now past and House's wishes to thank all its customers and the community of Manchester for the good will shown to us down this century of years.

Rotary Minstrel Is Entirely New

The entire 1953 Rotary Minstrel, staging, script, songs and costumes, will be new from the first curtain to the last, according to George Johnson, producer and general manager for the Rotary City.

Each year the club produces an entirely different show and this year, under the guidance of director William Aitley, lovers of minstrelsy will have another entertaining evening in store.

"For the 1953 show," Johnson said, "Aitley has prepared a script around a cowboy theme, buying the club performers in the big West. The action takes place at a dude ranch where the cowboys, cowgirls and roustabouts have gathered to entertain the guests of the ranch which in this case will be the audience."

The U. N. view is that only the 16 nations, Red China and North Korea should participate in a political conference. However, it did not rule out discussion of the question of admitting neutrals during a preliminary meeting to arrange details of the political conference.

Secretary of State Dulles and his special assistant on the Korean negotiations, Arthur Dean, were out of town over the weekend. But both were due back today, when representatives of the 16 U. N. allies are also scheduled to get together here.

The United States has been pressing for a political conference to begin by next Thursday in Geneva. San Francisco or Honolulu. Under terms of the Korean truce, the conference would be Oct. 28, but the actual date was not generally considered important.

Red China's new demand arrived Saturday by way of Sweden. North Korea joined in the demand in a cable to the U. N. handed by Moscow.

AN ANNIVERSARY MESSAGE FROM HOUSE'S

One hundred years in business in the same town—100 years of uninterrupted business. These statements sound rather remarkable—and we believe they are.

But time is itself is not the important thing. How well we have made use of it is the real question. We believe the answer lies largely in the fact that many men and women have lived, labored and prospered with us, also many additions and manufacturers in selling their merchandise and finally—many hundreds of men, women and children through the length and breadth of Manchester and vicinity have worn and continue to wear the best in clothing, furnishings and footwear.

What has brought this about? Right after, steadily applied, we believe, has done it. The policy of House's, from its very beginning, has been to sell the best goods it could, charge fair prices for them, give good service to customers, treat its employees, suppliers, salesman and dealers fairly in all things, and finally never to forget "The man who wears them."

City of Uranium Is Treeless Town

Uranium City, Neak. (AP)—This uranium boom town, most modern and scientifically laid-out community in Saskatchewan, will be a treeless town, even though it sits smack in the center of thousands of square miles of heavy bush and timber in the northwest part of the province.

In the planning stage, almost every thoroughfare in the new community was laid out as a wide, tree-bordered boulevard.

However, officials of the Natural Resources Department, with one eye on the masses of trees that reach right to the town limits and the other eye on the forest fire hazard this summer, ruled that Uranium City must be treeless.

Manfield, Ohio (AP)—Remember how you always worried when junior left the house to play when he was small?

Well, Ralph Kuhl of the National Safety Council says you should have worried more while junior was at home until he reached four years of age.

Kuhl said children under four are more likely to be injured, crippled or killed by accidents in the house than anywhere else.

...ing agriculture, that in truth it is to their best interests. These farmers may still be in the minority. But then for 30 years no political leader has had the courage to ask how agriculture is made healthy by plowing better into the soil, turning potatoes blue or discing the fields, or how to improve the farm's economy from its home government, and last Wednesday, a new French attitude was revealed.

The new position taken by the French delegates is being interpreted as one which now puts the political Federation of Western Europe into the classification of a "tangible possibility."

So the potential development in Europe which really represents a new and hopeful approach to the historic problems of Europe is alive again and moving forward again.

People Not As Stupid
 We wish to destain the accolade of rather full quotation upon the editorial recently appearing in the Wall Street Journal, titled "Political Cynicism." Anything which contends that the people are actually more intelligent than the politicians, or the public opinion experts, or their entertainers assume they are rings a bell with us. In this particular instance, it is the normal assumption of politicians and of political commentators which is being exposed and chided.

The Wall Street Journal editorial follows:
 "One of the accepted principles of politics is that in a democracy where people are allowed a say in their government, the voters will have their vote upon their own self-interest."
 "But out of this have grown two other political dogmas. One is that the mass of the voters do not have any sense enough to distinguish between something that satisfies an immediate and obvious self-interest and what is to their greater interest, the benefit or harm a proposal may do to the country. The other follows: it is that being thus stupid the mass of the voters can be carved up into pressure groups which will blindly vote at the dictates of leaders."
 "This is the faith of the demagogue. It is also the argument used by those who say that political disaster awaits anyone who challenges such group fetiches as the labor unions' hatred for the Taft-Hartley law or the farmers' self-interest in the price support program."
 "Perhaps this political cynicism is justified. But if so, there are some strange things in this country's political behavior that need to be accounted for."
 "The industrial workers have already given the cynics pause. Time and again Senator Taft's reelection in Ohio was only the most notable example—they have shown that they can see through yet little labels like 'anti-labor' and that they are not blind followers of any dogma. With regard to labor the dogma has been exploded as a myth."
 "With regard to farmers the dogma dies harder. Secretary Benson caused considerable consternation among the professional politicians by criticizing the farm price support program. That is supposed to be sure political death not only for Mr. Benson but for the whole administration."
 "Again, perhaps it is true. But our Mr. Otter, who left the politicians in Washington and went wandering among the farmers, has begun to wonder."
 "Mr. Otter's report, published elsewhere on this page, is no poll or glance into a crystal ball. Yet everywhere he went he found, strangely, farmers who would sit down and talk about what all the dogma says in their own self-interest."
 "The explanation of this puzzling phenomenon is not, we think, that farmers or industrial employees have been overcome with altruism and no longer view industrial affairs with self-interested eyes. The explanation is that people are not as stupid as politicians think."
 "The union members in Ohio who voted for Mr. Taft were not voting against their interests. They voted for him because he went to them and made them see that their true interest lay in a labor law which was good for the country and he convinced them that his own law was at least a beginning."
 "Mr. Otter's subsequent failures are ones who can look at the short-term created by the farmer's program and see that it makes the gain of gifts to it

Hal Boyle Nagging Wives Help Build Wise Marriage

New York (AP)—"Whatever you do, don't nag your husband," young brides are often warned. "If there is one thing a man can't stand in a wife's nagging, it is nagging." This is about the most ridiculous advice you could possibly plant in a young girl's head just before her husband staggers across the threshold of their new home, carrying her lightly in his arms. There are two reasons why:

1. A good wife can no more nag her husband than she can nag a quail.

2. Any husband whose wife doesn't nag him is bound to find out sooner or later how little she really loves him. Being nagged brings more real pleasure to a man than anything else in marriage, because it lasts longer.

Let's explore that first reason. Why must wives nag?

To begin with, it is a healthy way to get rid of the anxiety bottled up in them. The human race, whether it is kindled to the monkey tribe or set, as like the monkey in one respect—it is needlessly restless, and it has to let that restlessness out.

With a man it is easy. He can belly laugh, about the stars, and uncross his legs, scratch himself, yawn and stretch, rub his face, wave his arms, chain smoke a pipe, cigarettes or cigars, play cards half the night, eat too much, drink too much, get in following arguments with his wife, fight with cabdrivers. He can even play golf.

These almost male ways of getting rid of energy are either totally taboo to a woman or available to her in only limited measure. She is taught from childhood that nice girls simply mustn't act like wild little boys.

After the honeymoon, she still feels she is almost as repressed. Her husband is too tired to go dancing. Crocheting bores her. What shall she do with all the energy burning within her?

As a matter of fact, the real trouble with nagging is that the modern marriage is that the man doesn't do enough of it. Many a woman bemoans her husband today because he is too dumb to realize how much she needs to be nagged.

As a matter of fact, the real trouble with nagging is that the man doesn't do enough of it. Many a woman bemoans her husband today because he is too dumb to realize how much she needs to be nagged.

And from then on she has to nag somebody or lose her muscle tone. Of course, a few wives

The Lillian Gertrude Grant Expression Club, beginning its 19th year with the annual meeting Friday evening, elected Miss Mary B. Halligan of Hartford as President.

Other officers include Mrs. George H. Sullivan, vice president; Miss Grace Hassett, secretary; Miss Ann Bonkowski, treasurer; and Miss Anna Pihl, librarian.

President Halligan named 20 assisting groups for the year, appointing to the committee on Thanksgiving Mrs. Charles J. Tarjapian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Tarjapian, 13 Short St.

Miss Tarjapian is a graduate of St. Louis Grammar school, Notre Dame Academy, Tyngsboro, Mass., and is a member of Notre Dame alumnae. She attended Lowell Commercial College and is presently employed in the office of the Lowell Covered Rubber Thread Co.

Hebron Surveyors Help Woe on Citizenry

Hebron, Oct. 12 (Special)—As if Hebron people did not have sufficient to plague them, what with the whole town area parched and under dry, with dread of fire bursting out at any time, forestland to hunt, outdoor fires forbidden, well going dry so that a good many have to go to neighboring towns for water or drag some from wells with ropes, where pipes don't go down far enough to connect, with the weekly wash piling up, to say nothing of the fact that a mass of men from the state highway department appear on the scene to reurvey highway and property lines which about on the highway.

With the result that the Rev. W. R. Keen's garage was at first found to rest partly on William W. Hammond's land, though this was afterwards found to be in error, the surveyors admitting that their line was a little wobbly, and Mr. Keen was not sorry.

Hammond was informed his barn had been located partly on his neighbor's property for probably over 100 years, though he had never known anything about it, but by purchase a few weeks previously of a strip of land to straighten his line.

On the other hand, Walter C.

Most-liked low-priced car

...among people who want more for their money when they buy... and more money when they sell

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

...more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its brilliant Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive, and Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models.

Bolton Telephone 'Fan Out' Alert Planned for CD Exercise

Bolton, Oct. 12 (Special)—At 7 Westboro, Mass., this week for the p.m. Sunday, Civil Defense in this area will receive a red alert signal which will set in motion the training exercise the organization has outlined for itself. The alert at the firehouse will be sounded at that time but since it is inadequate as a means of alerting the entire town, the special telephone "fan-out" system of the several divisions of CD will also go into operation on receipt of the red alert.

Residents are reminded by CD personnel that the mock raid will occur at 2 p.m., and at that time only. An alert at any other time will be the real thing. An all-clear signal for the 2 p.m. session will be sounded at 2:10 p.m.

Communications under the leadership of John D. Avery, will have a short-wave radio at the Community Hall, Civil Defense headquarters. Radiological and biological services will have a Geiger counter available to determine radio activity. A medical kit on display at the Community Hall will give observers an opportunity to see what supplies are on hand for emergency use in town.

Part of the exercise will involve inspection of swatches from large tiles in Connecticut, which have been "bombed out." Anyone who wishes to act as an evacuee should report at headquarters in the Community Hall. Here they will be registered and a ticket issued designating the place where they will be taken for housing.

Medical services under the direction of Dr. B. J. Sheridan will render first aid and other treatment to those requiring it. They will be led by the group of women in charge of this division of welfare services.

They include: Mrs. Keeney Hutchinson, Mrs. John Schilling, Mrs. Eugene Gagliardone and Mrs. Byron M. Lee. Clothing will be issued where needed under the supervision of Mrs. John Erickson. Transportation personnel will then take the evacuees to the home to which they have been assigned.

Wardens under the direction of Julius E. Strong, will alert residents in their areas, advising them of danger and the need to take shelter inside their homes at the time of the red alert. Wardens also greet the evacuees assigned to their area and direct them to their destinations. Their final duty will be to report to the chief warden at the Community Hall.

The fire department will receive simultaneous calls to extinguish fire at the elementary school and Bolton Congregational Church. Police personnel will maintain a road system for CD use only, re-routings other traffic.

Final Rehearsal Set
A final meeting in preparation for the training exercise Sunday will be held at the Community Hall Thursday night at 8. All CD personnel are requested to report for this rehearsal.

Evangelists Talk, Sing at Nazarene

Large crowds heard the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Brand in the evangelistic services at the Church of the Nazarenes yesterday. Mrs. Brand played on the organ and sang "When Love Shines In" and "Love Lifted Me" and the Rev. Mr. Brand sang, "The Old Ship Zion."

Last night, the Rev. Mr. Brand spoke on the "Significance of the Three Crosses." He said in part, "The Person on the middle cross died as a sacrifice for sin—for the sins of others; the man on the second cross, the penitent thief, died for sin, renounced sin when he prayed, 'Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom'; the man on the third cross, the impenitent thief, died in sin—carried his sins with him into eternity."

"The penitent thief," continued the Rev. Mr. Brand, "symbolized the attitude required in every one who implores divine grace and love. The cynicism of the impenitent thief represented the attitude of all who harden their hearts by sinfulness against Christ."

The troop will hold its regular meeting at the school tonight at 7 o'clock.

Harvest Supper Planned
Mrs. John Erickson and Mrs. Charles Willard are making reservations for the harvest supper to be served by the WPCS of the United Methodist Church, Friday evening from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Miss Doris Skains is in charge of the event which is co-chairman of the event which will feature corned beef and cabbage.

PFA To Meet
Mrs. Charles Willard, Mrs. John D. Avery, Mrs. George Carr and Mrs. Lawrence Converse, Jr., will be hostesses at the regular meeting of PFA Wednesday night. The program will feature a regular discussion on the significance of a regional high school general open discussion will follow.

Election Scheduled
Election of officers will take place at the Men's Fellowship meeting tomorrow night at Bolton Congregational Church parish room. President Ellsworth E. Perkins is in charge of refreshments for the social hour. New members are always welcome at the meetings of this informal group.

New Arrival
The Ladies of St. Maurice are having two guests at their meeting tonight at the parish room of Bolton Congregational Church at 8. Mrs. Charles Jabou and Mrs. Albert Levere, representing State and area councils of Catholic women, will speak to the group on the question of affiliation with a council.

Scout Fund Drive Continues by Mail

The number of donors in the annual Boy Scout fund drive yesterday reached a high point, according to Winston Sharp, chairman of the committee that conducted the house-to-house canvass. The splendid fall weather, however, led many away from home for the day, which undoubtedly accounts for the fact that the collection did not add up to the figure expected.

VICTORY IS YOURS
Here are the official figures taken from Government tabulations

Almost a third of the ballots remain to be counted. The final count has not yet been made.

With a difference of 9 votes between "Yes" and "No" votes there are 140 ballots sealed in envelopes.

Of these 140 votes, 126 were challenged by the Company in an effort to keep them out.

They are "Yes" votes. They are the victims of the Company wave of layoffs preceding the election. Most of them were laid off last month. Most of them worked for the Company for many years.

We all thank the workers and community which made this victory possible

Two Foursomes Tie In Pro-Member Play

Two-way tie for first place in the annual Manchester Country Club's Pro-Member tournament resulted yesterday. The event was decided by a best ball net score of 107, shared by a hole-in-one by Frank Olszak. Twenty-three teams competed.

FRANK MENKLE, Oxford pro, teamed with Doc McKee, Fred Blah and Jim Taya, and pro Bobby Kay of Wampawan, paired with Henry Rockwell, Bill Deary, and Dick DeMarrin, to set the pace and shoot identical rounds of 39-68, 11 under par.

Individually, Kay carded a five under par 23-32-65 to pace the pro-ers. Burns' Charlie Sheppard turned in a 23-31-65. Former Manchester Club Champion Bobby LaFrance, awaiting overseas duty in the Army, paced the amateurs with a fine 37-67.

OLSKAZ SCORED his ace on the 18th hole. He used a iron to sink the 125-yard drive. It won Frank's second ace at the local course, the first being scored in 1925.

State PGA Champion Kay birdied the 3rd, 7th, 9th, 11th and 15th holes with his handicap a 15-foot chip on the 7th for a three.

LaFrance chucked up six birdies in seven holes from the 7th through the 13th. The fine streak came to an end when he three-putted the 8th and 6th.

Jack Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers played five different positions during the 1933 season. He played all four infield spots and left field.

Old style rock 'em and sock 'em football was the pattern of the day yesterday afternoon as the Manchester Merchants continued undefeated in their quest of the state's semi-pro championship.

Fumbles Hit Home Team in CCIL Tilt

By HAL TURKINGTON
There can be disappointment even in victory. Manchester High fell much to be desired even though it turned back a game of the Connecticut College Intercollegiate League (CCIL) 7 to 0 at Mt. Nebo Saturday.

It was the third win in as many starts for the Indians who took over sole possession of first place in the CCIL. They have lost once.

THE RESULTS should have been a net loss of six yards in the first half and a net gain of six yards in the second half. The first period was a five out of six times. Three occasions the Indians were inside the Connecticut line and halted the drive.

It took an electrifying fourth down pass and lateral for the Colts to get the ball in the middle of the fourth quarter. The Colts were on the 17 on the quarter.
