mediate reaction to Dean's offer... every corner... that the Russians be neither belligerent or neutral but a special "third party".

The Red proposal still listed Russia as a "neutral".

World "Never Agree" never agreed... to that point.

The spokesman who simplified Dean's proposal on Russia said:

"Russia will attend as a full participant with voting rights and bound by all agreements... but will not be listed as either a neutral or a belligerent but as a third party."

It will not be on the Communist team if she does not desire to be...

Dean also criticized other points of the Communist proposal.

He said the neutrals would have the power to make motions and take action part in the discussions... they are saying that the neutrals are not participants but have the rights of participants.

The Communists list "other neutrals" (to Korea) questions as an agenda item, he said, and added: "I assume that's the joke... that the purpose of dragging out such things as the administration of the United Nations."

Before submitting their proposal, the Red delegates criticized the U. N. plan submitted Saturday for the purpose of dragging out the discussions (with many intricate proposals in order to create controversy and make settlement impossible).

The Red plan would have members from attending any meetings at the peace conference.

It also proposes that all conference decisions be unanimous between the two belligerent sides.

The agenda proposed by the Communists include: Foreign relations; the question of withdrawing all foreign forces from Korea; peaceful settlement of the Korean problem; and other related questions.

Meanwhile, the Joint Military Armistice Commission, which is charged with the task of supervising the truce, said it will meet Tuesday at 2 p. m. (midnight Monday EST) to discuss a preliminary draft of the armistice agreement.

Communist efforts to work back anti-Red Korean and Chinese propaganda remained at a standstill with the Reds charging that the U. N. Command is ruining their explanation. The Communists have not held interviews for more than two weeks.

Talks to End Dec. 25

The 90-day explanation period ends Dec. 25.

A reliable source said he believes the Allied Command will begin interviews next week with 27 Americans, 11 British and 328 South Koreans who are listed as unwilling to return home.

A statement released by the Prisoner Registration Commission Sunday indicated that the Americans expect to meet the U. N. explanation teams but are determined not to go back to the states.

The statement was a 7,000-word document given to the commission three weeks ago. It was signed by Communist propaganda phrase and included complaints that letters from home are not being sent and that the prisoners are being held in "coercion" to win them back.

A commission spokesman said nine of the Americans had returned 13 letters—8 of them still sealed—which urged them to come home.

Waddell PTA Plans Panel on Children

A panel discussion on "Getting Acquainted with Our Children" will feature the December meeting of the Waddell PTA tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The PTA features especially fortunate in having secured the services of six people well qualified in their respective fields: Mrs. Francis Hickey, who has not only been a practicing physician but is also the mother of four children; Mrs. Helen M. Watson, consultant in school health in the Hartford office of the State Dept. of Education; Mrs. Esther Wolcott and Miss Muriel Smith, both teachers at the Waddell School, who will present the teacher's point of view; and Charles Stroom and Kenneth Hayes who will present the parent's view.

Alfred Werber, chairman of the parliamentary and legislative committee for the Waddell PTA, will serve as moderator of the program.

Topics to be discussed by the panel include the following: what are the special needs of the child; are we providing enough or too many activities for our children; and what type of discipline is best for children?

Rotary to Hear CAP Commander

"Civil Air Patrol" will be the title of a talk to be given by Col. Robert A. Frost, commanding officer of the Connecticut Civil Air Patrol, at the Rotary Club meeting at the Country Club, Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

Col. Frost has addressed many gatherings in Connecticut and Massachusetts, and his message promises to be both interesting and timely, inasmuch as this week has been designated as Civil Air Patrol Week.

In civilian life, Col. Frost is also representative for the Essex Standard Oil Co. in Litchfield County, and in 1944, Col. Frost was named by the Senate Committee on the hearing of "Military Activities Committee" in 1952.

Irving Kaplan - Federal agent from 1934 until World War II with WPA, Justice Department, FWA, WPA, FEA and Treasury Department. How typical are Connecticut teen-agers?

How typical are Connecticut teen-agers the other day and thought Connecticut's young people might like to make their own comparisons. These teen-agers in the course of an average week spend:

- 11.3 hours watching TV
- 9.2 hours on homework
- 4.3 hours reading for pleasure
- 4.4 hours on the telephone

That's a lot of telephoning... and proves it is important to know the party-line rules for good service. This means keeping calls reasonably brief, allowing time between calls, and giving up the line when asked to do so in emergencies. The Southern New England Telephone Company.

THE HAMMER, THE WORD, AND THE MAN WHO CHANGED THE WORLD!

"No man can command my conscience!"

Martin Luther's words roared into the world to break the shackles that bound the mind of man, as he nailed his 95 Theses to the church door... as he stood before the Emperor and declared -

"I will tell you what I think. I have the right to believe freely, to be a slave to no man's authority."

"If this be heresy, so be it. It is still the truth. To go against conscience is neither right nor safe. I CANNOT... I WILL NOT... RECALL! HERE I STAND..."

Hal Boyle Trellis Mae Learns Wilbur Can't Bear It!

Hometown, U. S. A. (By—) "Dear Mr. Editor: I am writing you to tell you how much I love Trellis Mae. She is the most beautiful girl I have ever seen. She is so smart and so kind. She is the only girl who can make me laugh. I love her so much that I want to marry her. Please tell her that I love her and that I want to marry her. Thank you very much for your help. Yours truly, Hal Boyle."

"How did you do?" Wilbur started to say, but Trellis Mae continued: "You were going to say that your face gets tired this time of year smiling at the boys and waiting for him to tell you how much the Christmas bonus will be."

"You were going to say that this year we might as well skip the gift party, but that if we do go, well, don't worry, as you certainly don't intend to make as big a fool of yourself as you did last year... and the year before... and the year before that."

"You were going to say that Christmas is no longer so much a test of character as it is a test of endurance, and for heaven's sake, do we have to give presents to all my relatives every year of your life, and before we even get into that argument, I will tell you the answer is yes."

"You were going to say that you asked me last January to be sure and mail our Christmas cards by the 4th of July, and you are still right now. I still haven't done a thing about it. Well, I haven't seen them all."

"You were going to say—oh, what difference does it make what you were going to say, Wilbur, tell me truth, do you know anybody who enjoys Christmas as much as you?"

"No, I guess not."

"Then why do you go on year after year saying bears are smarter than people?"

"Didn't know I did," said Wilbur "Sorry."

"He started reading the newspaper. A few moments later Trellis Mae put down the puzzle and stared reflectively at her husband. "Wilbur," she said.

"Wilbur, listen to me. Why is it you never talk to me? I never know what's going on in your mind."

Wilbur put down his newspaper. He looked at Trellis Mae's smiling face and said, "I have the hope of a midsize gasping up at Mt. Everest."

"Women!" he said, "are smarter than bears—or people."

Meter Television In Palm Springs

coin box installed and must take a minimum of 25 monthly in pay programs. I toured some of the subscribers' homes and got their opinions. J. W. Vocum, a retired paint salesman from Santa Cruz, Calif., lives in a 45-foot trailer and is a TV enthusiast. "Pay TV is great for retired people like me," he remarked. "I used to go to all the better movies in town, but now I can stay at home and see them for a dollar. And I don't have to put up with all the people chewing peanuts and popcorn around me. I usually have to move three or four times when I'm in a theater."

Mrs. Robert Konaston, who was the movie star Billie Dove, commented: "I think it's a wonderful idea. I probably shouldn't say this because I used to be in pictures, but we don't go to the movies much. We're great TV fans: at our other home in Beverly Hills, we have a set at the foot of our bed and another in the den."

"Now we can get the good movies here at home. We'll probably see them all."

Rudy Salazar, nursery owner and landscaper: "The four of us used to go to the movies every night; sometimes we'd go as far as Banning (22 miles) to see one. Since we got TV, we've been to two movies in the past month."

"I think TV is great. You can get Spade Cooley and the Western movies and the fights and everything. Now you can get the latest movies. I don't have to clean up and get out when I come home at night. I can sit at home in the living room and pay just a buck or so. Movies used to cost three or four bucks, by the time I bought the popcorn."

Bob Morrison, assistant lumber yard manager: "I bought the pay TV set for $10. I can get some big football games or fights. It's worth it to me. And it's a lot cheaper to watch movies at home. To get out to see, you have to pay the lady sitter $5; it's $6 before you're through."

"I may watch the movies. But not if they interfere with show like Kid Caesar. He's better than anything Hollywood can put out."

Stan Jallof, shop owner: "I'm having 45 people in to watch a new movie, and it only costs a buck. I think pay TV is great, especially for kids. They're home a lot more, and you can keep track of them."

Churchill Reaches His 79th Birthday

world figures who have known him in and out of the government. The reaction was a wide range. The noted British jurist, Sir Norman Bickart, in a section devoted to Churchill in the orator, remembered his famous speech at the low ebb of British war fortunes in 1940. "Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duties and do not despair because the British Empire and its Commonwealth last for a thousand years, men will still say, 'this was their finest hour.'"

That, to most, Britain's Churchill's finest hour—so far.

"I bought the pay TV set for $10. I can get some big football games or fights. It's worth it to me. And it's a lot cheaper to watch movies at home. To get out to see, you have to pay the lady sitter $5; it's $6 before you're through."

"He sets forth in the 50th year of his life without thought of turning from his labor to enjoy the tranquility of old age," the Independent Express said in an editorial. It continued:

"He works on tenaciously, seeking the path to peace. The settlement of the conflict between the nations—this is his last and most noble task. And the birthday wish which goes out to him from all men is this: 'May you live, air, to see the flowering of peace in your time.'"

The Conservative Daily Mail said Churchill was undertaking the long trip to Bermuda to try to win the greatest prize and greatest honor of all—peace in our time.

The old man on his flight to Bermuda, said the Liberal News Chronicle, "will carry with him a great freight of human hopes."

The birthday was chosen as the release date for two books. One was "Triumph and Tragedy," the sixth and final volume of Churchill's own history of World War II. The other was "Churchill by His Contemporaries," 125,000 words of reminiscence by British and

Victim of Crash Leaves Hospital

Mrs. Richard Gunther, 66, Forest Hills, N. Y., one of two persons injured in a flaming automobile accident Tuesday night, was discharged from Manchester Memorial Hospital yesterday.

The other victim, F. William Han, 37, of 12 Pearl St., who is still a patient at the hospital, was reported today to be in good condition.

The accident occurred, according to state police, when Han's car, going east on the Wilbur Cross Highway in the Cheshire section, struck the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Gunther's husband. The cars burst into flames after impact and were heavily damaged.

Mrs. Gunther suffered knee and possible chest injuries and Han received first, second and third degree burns of the hands, arms and face.

Town Approves Bill

At the special town meeting held here Tuesday all the items in the wearing were favorably acted upon. The Brault property was purchased on the recommendation of the School Site Committee. The selectmen and the town treasurer were authorized to borrow a sum of money not to exceed $15,000 to buy the land.

A Building Committee, consisting of the three selectmen, three members of the School Board to be elected at the next board meeting, Donald Fox and William Root were elected.

The Board of Education was authorized to act as a Building Committee to obtain plans, advertise and procure bids for a one-room addition to the Mary Hall School as an emergency measure.

Sharing Christmas Topic of YW Talk

Idea and suggestions on "Sharing the Real Meaning of Christmas with Your Children" will be presented by Mrs. Brooks & Johnson at the Manchester YWCA Homecoming Holiday program, Wednesday at the Community Y, starting with the usual coffee time at 8:30 a. m. The talk is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson, who is now director of religious education at the Center Congregational Church and who has had wide experience in youth work in the Hartford area, knows of many good books to use as family aids to understanding Christmas. She will have a display of some of these books and will share some of her stories as might be done in the home.

The public is cordially invited to these meetings. A nursery is provided for children from 2 to 6 years of age.

Weekend Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 29.—Dr. Ernest William Barker, 70, former Anglican Bishop of Birmingham whose unorthodox views—rejection of belief in miracles, virgin birth and physical resurrection of Christ; the Bible story of creation and campaign for euthanasia and sterilization of the mentally defective—were the subject of a religious controversy, died Sunday.

Big Timber, Mont.—Lester J. Greener, about 60, nationally known rodeo producer, rancher and former Montana legislator, died Sunday.

Dallas.—Edward F. J. Puckhaber, 58, Southern Methodist University professor and former chemical engineer who pioneered in the development of cellulosics, died Sunday.

Brooklyn.—Max Rosner, 77, owner of the Bushwick famous semi-pro baseball team of the 1920s, died Sunday.

Theresa, England.—Theresa Francis Poyne, 76, philosophical novelist and self-described "Princess Without a God," died Friday.

Minneapolis.—J. B. Howell, 50, traffic bureau chief of the Milwaukee Bureau of the Associated Press, died Sunday.

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Mitt Green, 58, cartoonist and author famous for his "Nite Baby" and "Dunt, Dunt" drawings and stories in Jewish dialect, died Sunday.

Zurich, Switzerland.—Sir Benjamin Masingham, 66, judge of the World Court at The Hague, Irish diplomat and one-time Prime Minister of Canada, died today.

Pottsville, Pa.—Charles A. Dallas, 58, Southern Methodist University professor and former Mount Carmel, Pa., died Sunday.

Concordia Ladies To Meet Tuesday

The Ladies Aid Society of the Concordia Lutheran Church will meet tomorrow evening in the church vestry, starting promptly at 7:30. The High School Round Table singers, under the direction of G. Albert Pearson, will entertain the society with festive carols.

The business meeting will follow the concert, given by these youthful singers. A free will offering will be taken for the Lutheran Home for the Aged in Southbury, Conn. This money is used to buy Christmas gifts for the old folks in the home.

A Christmas social will follow, with a grabbag and refreshments.

At matters of importance will be acted upon everyone is urged to be there early as the program can be started promptly.

New York City Papers Agree To Wage Pact

Telegram & Sun, Journal-American and Post.

Various television and radio stations increased the length and frequency of their news broadcasts because of the strike.

Tribune Not Affected

Herald Tribune engraving is done by an outside commercial firm, and the newspaper is not involved in the dispute between the publishers and Local 1 of the A.F.L. International Photo Engravers Union.

The six newspapers were forced to close down because members of other unions—including mechanical and other craft, and editorial and business department workers—have requested the Photo Engravers picket lines.

The photo engravers, who struck early Saturday in a dispute over demands for a wage increase and other benefits, make metal plates for the reproduction of pictures and illustrations on newspapers.

The combined circulation of the six newspapers is more than five million. The strike of the photo engravers idled about 20,000 newspaper employees.

Representatives of the union and the publishers met today to discuss the agreement's latest position before the full union negotiating committee this morning. The recess was called with the understanding that union negotiators would get out madam's latest position before the full union negotiating committee this morning.

Bernard J. Forman said, "No time for either meeting was announced."

As the negotiating recess came, Forman said in a statement, "The parties, working in harmonious and constructive atmosphere, succeeded in appreciably narrowing the points at issue." Forman declined to amplify this or to reveal to newspaper the status of union demands and management offers.

By agreement, there was no contact by management or union spokesmen. The negotiations—first since the strike began—had been going on continuously since 7:40 p. m. last night. Each side caucused frequently, and they returned to direct bargaining.

During negotiations the union asked for a package increase of $15 a week including wages, pensions and welfare insurance. The publishers offered a $3.75-a-week package. Current wages are $13 a week for day work and $131 for night work. The photo engravers' contract with the strike news papers expired Oct. 31.

Vote Rejection 97 to 147

The union members voted 97 to 147 on Friday to reject the offer by the publishers to submit the dispute to arbitration.

The Times, Daily News, Daily Mirror and Journal-American printed pre-dated Sunday news sections before picket lines were set up early Saturday. Late news could not be included. These sections were sent to distributors, who already had the news sections and comics which had been printed earlier.

The World-Telegram & Sun and the Post were unable to print Saturday newspapers. The Journal-American printed one Saturday edition as well as the Saturday edition of the Post.

The Herald Tribune printed a normal press run for Sunday, but its Monday morning editions it eliminated advertising except for legal and death notices. Its eight-page section of local news compared with an edition of 34 pages last Monday.

The Herald Tribune said in a front page box today that it "held this edition to the strictest possible advertising in order to print the maximum number of papers and thereby give the widest possible distribution to the day's basic news."

The Herald Tribune omitted cartoon engravings as well as editorial features and the day's features from the front of the paper in a feature of the other papers in the town of a circulating in New York City. The Herald Tribune's craft unions refused to reproduce this material.

Struck publishers previously had such a plan.

Spokesmen for radio and television stations said some stores that carry Christmas merchandise were taking air time to advertise Christmas merchandise.

New Power in "Six-Cylinder 261" Engine. It's the most powerful Chevrolet truck engine ever built! Extra reserves of power let you haul loads more efficiently and economically.

New Conformation Cab. New one-piece curved windshield gives greatly increased visibility. New instrument panel is easier to read and to reach.

New Ride Control Seat. Seat cushion and back move as a unit to "float" you over the roughest roads with ease and without irritating back-rubbing.

New Automatic Transmission.* Proved truck Hydra-Matic transmission is available not only on 1/2- and 3/4-ton trucks, but on 1-ton models, too!

New Four-Wheel-Drive 261" Engine. It's the most powerful Chevrolet truck engine ever built! Extra reserves of power let you haul loads more efficiently and economically.

New Bigger Load Space. New pickup bodies have deeper sides... new stake bodies are wider and longer to give you extra load space. In addition, they're set lower to the ground to make loading and unloading easier.

New Chassis Ruggedness. Heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger, more durable clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... more rigid frames in all models.

New Advance-Design Styling. New front-end design is more massive and sturdy in appearance. New parking lights are positioned to indicate the full width of the truck.

*Optional at extra cost. Ride Control Seat is standard on C.D.E. models, available on all other cab models at extra equipment. Rear cover windows in standard cab, optional at extra cost.

Sense and Nonsense

George had a proverbial green thumb. I somehow seem to lack one. My thumb that digs and plants and weeds.

It's against the law to eat rattlesnake meat on Main Street in Minneapolis, Kan.—Janet Schur, Minneapolis, Kan.

A landlady is known by the temperature her keeps.—Dan Bennett in Stavepost.

Jim—You're the most beautiful girl in the world.
Jane—Oh, you'd say so, even if you didn't think so.
Jim—Well, you'd think so, even if I didn't say so.

It's against the law to eat rattlesnake meat on Main Street in Minneapolis, Kan.—Janet Schur, Minneapolis, Kan.

An amateur painter called in a doctor friend of his to look at a painting he had just completed. It showed a man in the last stages of a terrible struggle against death. After the good doctor had spent about ten minutes inspecting it thoroughly the artist asked him what he thought of it.
"Looks like pneumonia to me," replied the doctor.

The last was brought a lot of displaced persons; looks like the next one will bring a lot of displaced places.

Frank—Say, how'd you get rid of that rear noise in your car?
Jerry—I make her sit up front with me now!

Rockville-Vernon City Going to Polls Tomorrow; Will Elect Full Slate of Officers

Rockville, Nov. 30 (Special).—One of the city's most important elections in many years takes place tomorrow at the biennial election, when the voters will elect their mayor, city clerk, treasurer, sheriff and assessor, and 12 members of the City Council.

This includes four Aldermen-at-large and eight ward aldermen; four for two years and four for four years. Under the terms of the new City Charter, there are no hold-overs in this election.

The pre-election campaign has been spirited with more than the usual amount of publicity, and interest increased as election day neared.

Mayor Frederick Berger, seeking a fourth consecutive term, is opposed by Republican Herman Olson, a furniture store proprietor who is new to city politics, although he has held municipal posts in Vernon.

Berger, who works for the Pratt & Whitney division of Sikorski-Pontecorvo Corp. in West Hartford, defeated Richard Hiller in 1951 by 532 votes, about half his winning margin in 1948. Olson, a resident of Rockville, was defeated by Hiller in the 1951 election.

The GOP candidates are as follows: Mayor, Herman G. Olson, 16, 29 Reed St., Vernon, operating under the influence bond $150,000, confined until Dec. 21 due to illness in family of Police Sgt. Earl Heek.

Michael Ferrone, breach of peace, $100; Gordon P. Barrows, 16, 29 Reed St., Vernon, operating under the influence bond $150,000, confined until Dec. 21 due to illness in family of Police Sgt. Earl Heek.

William S. Simpson, 55, Tullard, failure to pass on left of overpass, fined $12; Eugene Henry Morris, 19, 15 Capitol Ave., Hartford, reckless driving, $21, avoiding responsibility, $50, $12 re-imposed, operating without license, $5; Teddie Caro, 25, 15 Capitol Ave., Hartford, avoiding responsibility, $50, $12 re-imposed, operating without license, $5; Joseph A. Eubank, 25, 134 Orchard St., liquor laws, Francis B. Russell, 22, Boston, Mass., speaking, bond $24, forfeited; Bernard Kaminski, 21, Salem, Mass., speaking, bond $24, forfeited.

Bernard Castello, 75, retired State Highway Dept. employee, died yesterday at the Green Lawn Convalescent Home. He was born in Woodbury, N.J., Oct. 31, 1878, the son of Bryan and Bridget Chapman Samuel.

He is survived by three nieces: Mrs. Samuel Walton of Hazardville and Mrs. Robert P. Wall and Mrs. Arthur C. Wall of Windsor.

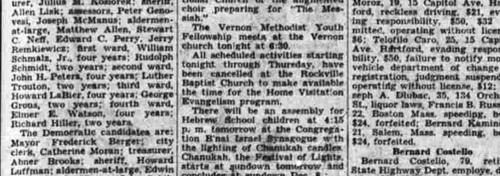

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 8:15 from the Burke Funeral Home and at 9 from St. Bernard's Church, Rockville.

The funeral home will be open tomorrow evening from 7 to 9 for the convenience of friends.

Ernest Oliver Clark, 83, retired grocer of Vernon Center, died at his home last night following a long illness.

Clark was in Vernon Center, Dec. 21, 1906. Clark was the oldest living member of the Center Congregational Church.

He is survived by his wife.

Mayor Frederick Berger

at the High School and was graduated from the University of Connecticut where he was a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

Is your new rug covered with bits of fluff? Don't worry about it; get busy with your vacuum cleaner. This fluffy material shows up on the surface of all new wool carpets and rugs. It's just loose bits of wool left in the floor coverings after the weaving and setting of the pile. Fluff never affects the quality or durability of the floor covering.

Local Man Wed in Florence, Italy

The Manchester man, proprietor of the Manchester Dry Cleaners, flew to Milan early this month. He arrived Nov. 8. His intended bride met him and they were married Nov. 14 at the city hall in an elaborately appointed room set aside for civil weddings.

The ceremony was performed by the mayor and attended by a few city officials as well as members of the bride's family and John Bywater, American consul general at Florence.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Milena Rosignoli, and her brother-in-law, Roberto Rosignoli, attended the couple.

A reception was held later for members of the family and friends at a Florence hotel. The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to the Isle of Capri where they remained a few days.

D'Agostino flew back to Manchester. Then came the sad parting and the return to Manchester.

Mrs. D'Agostino will remain in the home of her sister in Livorno until she comes to this country.

The time for the first performance of "The Sleeping Beauty" by the Wadsworth School Friday has been changed from 8 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

The Songster Brigade of the Salvation Army will hold a special rehearsal for its Christmas program tomorrow evening at 8:45 at the Citadel. Final plans for the refreshment booth and supper at the Christmas bazaar on Thursday will also be discussed.

Hose and Ladder Co. No. 1, GMPD, will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the firehouse.

G. Albert Hill, state highway commissioner, will speak on "The State Highway" at the meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce Friday at 8 p. m. in the club Friday at 8 p. m. in the Wadsworth Club Hall.

All members of the Center Church, are invited to attend.
