Salvadorans Guests of Andover Man

Slate Three Month's Visit With Gatchell

By DON FRIEDMAN
 Andover, June 4.—(Special)—Ernesto Meta and Francisco Ovaldo Riva, two young, but down-to-earth citizens from the city of Santa Ana in the Republic of El Salvador, represent the second phase of a good neighbor scheme hatched in the mind of Lt. Col. Nathan B. Gatchell back in the winter of 1953.

Ernesto, a 37-year-old coffee processor, and Francisco, a 23-year-old swimming instructor, are visiting here at the home of "Nate" Gatchell in what could be called reciprocal hospitality. The initial stage began when the colonel was guest of Ernesto and Francisco and their countrymen a little more than a year ago.

Breaks Down Barriers
 It all started when Gatchell, a motorcycle enthusiast who believes the best way to break down the barriers separating foreign peoples is to meet them at their own level of interest and wealth, struck up a friendship with the Salvadorans through their mutual love of "bikes."

Gatchell was completing the last leg of a motorcycle tour down through Mexico, Guatemala and El Salvador when Francisco and Ernesto, both members of the "Witch Riders" Motorcycle Club of Santa Ana, met the colonel and his companion, Dick Decker, at Manchester at the Guatemala-El Salvador border.

The Americans were escorted in style to the city of Santa Ana where they found reserved rooms and lavish hospitality awaiting them.

It is understandable that Gatchell should have invited his hosts to come up north and try out the hospitality of the United States and to perhaps learn something of their big Yankee neighbor on the grass road level.

Ernesto, who speaks in the nickname "Netto," acts as interpreter for the pair, since Francisco never learned to speak English. But, the latter, while a little lost during the conversation, feels right at home on a motorcycle no matter what make or nationality. Ernesto says they plan to stay up here about three months.

While north of the border, the plan to attend the New England regional motorcycle meet, an annual affair held at Lacoma, N. H. June 20. They also plan to drop down to a visit to New York. They landed in New York on their flight from El Salvador, but were only able to catch a fleeting glimpse of the great metropolis.

Already Ernesto and Francisco have visited New London, the Adirondack Mountains in New York and Hartford. Their impressions of the G. Fox & Co. department store were surprisingly accurate, mingled with awe and disbelief. Ernesto gravely described "the largest store I have ever seen in my life," he said.

While on the subject of the visit to Hartford, Ernesto ribbed Francisco, who was fast gaining a reputation as a voracious shopper. But even Ernesto had to admit that he "had never seen anything like it, only in the movies." He indicated, however, that certain luxury items which were available in El Salvador, carried lower price tags.

In line with his comments on the rather higher cost of luxuries here, Ernesto revealed that coffee, the principal crop in El Salvador, is served free in most restaurants as part of the meal. He added that many public places, such as airports, serve coffee free as a public service.

Coffee in El Salvador cost only 40 cents per pound, according to Ernesto. He offered his own reason for the unusually high coffee prices in the United States which have skyrocketed in recent months.

It seems from what this coffee man has been able to discover that the re-entrance of Europe into the coffee market as a competitor for the United States has served to increase the bargaining power of the main coffee producers, resulting in a proportionate boost in price. Ernesto explained that during the war years and early post-war time the United States had things pretty much its own way when it came to bidding for coffee. But with Europe's coffee producers are taking advantage of an unusual sellers market, Ernesto did lead to the some importance to the Brazilian

Motorcycle Cements Inter-American Friendship

Francisco Ovaldo Riva, on motorcycle, Ernesto Meta, center, and Lt. Col. Nathan Gatchell of Andover renew old friendships struck up when the colonel was a guest of the two Salvadorans in their native country. The trio are posing at the Andover home of Gatchell where the Central Americans are guests for three months. All three are motorcycle enthusiasts at the first order and the "bike" depicted in the picture was lent to the Salvadorans by a Willimantic automobile dealer. The boys said they felt lost without their motorcycle.

front of last year, but he indicated that was not the entire story. The cost of living in El Salvador, as described by Ernesto, seems to compare favorably with that of the United States. While short of the major luxury goods like automobiles, refrigerators, and household appliances in general, food costs seem to be much more reasonable.

Farmers Expect Big Berry Crop

The Strawberry Auction Mart, conducted by the Manchester Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Assn., will open for its 21st season at the Mart grounds on Charter Oak Street in a week or 10 days, with the exact date depending on the weather.

Armando Pease of North Coventry, president of the association, said an exact date cannot be set, far in advance of the opening because an unexpected cold snap could delay the ripening of the berries.

The berries now, however, are nearly ripe and farmers in the area to expect a bumper crop.

The association has about 100 member farmers from Manchester, Bolton, Hebron, Coventry and Glasgow. The market is open to all growers from this state, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New York.

The Manchester Trust Co. will serve as cashier for the Mart. Sylvester Cocchi, of Bolton, will be auctioneer and Fred and son, auctioneers, will conduct the auction mart.

Miss Jones Fetes Holiday Group

The YWCA Homemakers' Holiday group were entertained yesterday morning by Miss Millmont Jones at the home of her uncle, E. J. Hill, in Bolton. The beautifully landscaped upper lawn overlooking the lake provided a lovely setting for coffee and conversation.

Miss Jones then took the group through the house which is believed to be over 150 years old, and answered many questions about its construction and furnishings.

In the greenhouse anadragons, nasturtiums and geraniums were in full bloom, while many other plants in lesser numbers added to the color and fragrance. Outside an old-fashioned iris garden, a herb garden, new plantings of geraniums and chrysanthemums were among the points of interest.

All those attending agreed that it was a delightful way to end the season's program and expressed the wish that the visit might be come an annual event. The committee in charge of arrangements for the morning were Mrs. B. V. Harry, Mrs. Lewis Coddling, Mrs. Earle Howard, and Mrs. Herbert Hurfield.

Sense and Nonsense

The longer I live the more highly I estimate the Christian Sabbath, and the more grateful do I feel towards those who impress its importance on the community. - Daniel Webster

Being right occasionally is not enough. A stopped clock is right twice a day. The late John Barrymore was not walking one afternoon when he saw a certain notorious snob approaching. He tried to avoid the man, but the other singled him out with a hearty greeting: 'Snob-Good afternoon, Barrymore. You are positively the only person I've met today worth stopping to speak to. Barrymore-Really. Then you're much more fortunate than I am. Today's young man usually doesn't follow in his father's footsteps. He drives the family car. - Grit.

Brownell Asks Congress Study Anti-Red Laws

Harford, June 4 (AP)—A remark made earlier in the week by Republican State Chairman Clarence F. Brownell drew a sharp rebuff last night from a distinguished GOP leader who accused the state chairman of using patronage power to oppose party members who supported the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination two years ago.

Employees dropped he continued, include persons subject to blackmail, perhaps having relatives behind the Iron Curtain; 'chronic drunkards who can't be trusted with secrets; just plain blabmouths and persons associated with Communist front organizations.' Brownell said, 'Many of these may be loyal Americans but not the type you would want to trust in your own business, not the type to trust with sensitive positions in our government, not the type we call them security risks.'

BY DICK TURNER

Harper charged that in the 18 years he has been associated with the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Brownell has been a Republican party through the use of the Board of Directors. The deputy controller charged that Brownell used patronage to undermine any state official who had the temerity to continue his support of Brownell. An opposition to the wishes of the state chairman and his organization.

52 Injured In Chemical Plant Blasts

Charleston, W. Va., June 5 (AP)—Tons of water pumped from the Kanawha River held at bay today a dangerous chemical plant fire after a series of five "atomic-like" explosions shook the countryside and injured at least 52 persons.

Company officials said as far as they could tell all personnel were accounted for about 10:30 a. m. when a tank car exploded and set off a chain of four other blasts.

No full toll yet. A spokesman said there was a "possibility" some might have been caught in the blast.

About 40 of those hurt were employees of the plant. The others included numerous persons cut off or otherwise injured by glass and flying debris.

Unaccounted property damage resulted from the blast, which was felt within a 15-mile radius of the sprawling plant in the heart of West Virginia's chemical valley.

It was more than five hours before firemen got the upper hand on the huge fire in the styrene plant. Until electric power could be restored and water pumped from the nearby river, the fire raged unabated.

Homes and business places were shaken and windows shattered in South Charleston, St. Albans, Institute and Dunbar, scattered a few miles apart along the upper bank of the river.

The first explosion, with a fireball strikingly like that from an atomic blast, occurred about 8:40 p. m. Four hours later, firemen were beginning to gain on the chemical blaze.

Delbert Simmons of Dunbar, who was driving past the plant at the time of the first explosion, said all he saw was a bright flash of white fire and my car turned around.

The original blast and four succeeding ones spread fear and confusion throughout the area. At Wall Powell baseball park in Charleston, the roar of the explosion sounded like a roll of thunder.

Pete Dreddy, who resides about one and a half miles from the institute plant, said the first blast rocked his house.

"The third blast looked like a gigantic mushroom," he said. "The smoke and flames seemed to rise about 300 to 400 feet into the air. I saw pictures from the walls in houses all around here and heard windows rattling."

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) said today he has disclosed a "serious rift" within the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) over giving more power to its chairman.

The issue, he said in an interview, has been resolved before the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, of which Hollifield is a member, asked the five-AEC commissioners for more public information about the group's "policy objectives."

Commissioner Eugene M. Zuckert, who has opposed the proposal, said he has been "seriously" disappointed by the AEC's handling of the matter.

Two Back Equal Status. Commissioners Henry D. Smith and Thomas E. Murray both opposed the proposed change yesterday, and urged that the present equal status of all commissioners be retained.

Polite try to restore order in the chamber of Japan's Diet in Tokyo as Diet members engage in a brawl over a bill revising the nation's police system.

Members of the Liberal party and the equally conservative Progressive party voted to postpone indefinitely a bill to revise the Police Law.

The outbreak was unprecedented in Japanese political history. At the height of the turmoil, Speaker Yoshino Tamami proclaimed a two-day extension of the session scheduled to end Thursday night.

The Socialists held 135 seats in the Lower House, Yoshida's Liberals 229, and 166 seats and the votes of 75 Progressives were held by Independents and members of minor parties.

Democratic nominee for President told a bi-centennial conference of Columbia University he has been disturbed "by what seems to me the chaos at home and abroad of totalitarianism."

"That we are not invulnerable... is, I think, demonstrated by many symptoms," he said, "of which McCarthyism is only one."

Court Fight Faces Vote In Jap Diet

Tokyo, June 5 (AP)—The powerful Lower House of Japan's Diet voted tonight to extend its current session for 10 days in a brief order of session unmarred by either political violence or Socialist deputies boycotted the chamber but some of them forced cancellation of a scheduled Upper House session by forming a human wall outside the office of president Yahachi Kawano.

There were brief scuffles, but no serious disturbances. Upper House concourse in the extension vote was not necessary.

The morning political turmoil forced Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida to postpone indefinitely a bill to revise the Police Law.

U.S. Asks China Reos Return 83 Americans

Geneva, June 5 (AP)—The United States opened direct negotiations with Red China today in an effort to obtain the release of an estimated 83 American civilians and military personnel detained in China.

The exact number of those imprisoned was not known by the U. S. State Department, but an official breakdown indicated 54 civilians and 29 military personnel were either under arrest or were refused visas to leave.

The beginning of the negotiations was announced by the U. S. State Department in Washington, shortly after the first talks were held. It was the first direct contact the United States has had with Red China at Geneva.

The United States previously had refused to deal with the Peiping regime, which it does not recognize.

Korea Unity Again Topic At Geneva

Geneva, June 5 (AP)—The stalled Geneva conference turned back today to the question of how to unify Korea—a task already written off as hopeless by most western delegates.
