East, West in Accord on Viet Nam Partition.

U. S. Stands Aside at Geneva Conference

Geneva, July 20 (AP)—East and West, with the United States standing aside, agreed today to partition Viet Nam roughly along the 17th parallel, a French source said. He reported only technical difficulties remained to be settled before signing of a cease-fire agreement for Indochina.

The partition line, it was said, will run about 12 miles north of the important Highway No. 9, leading from Quang Tri on the coastal road to Saigonshot in Laos.

The French source said the issues involving Viet Nam were all settled with fixing of the partition line. Only a few language difficulties remained in the peace provisions concerning Laos and Cambodia.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, British Prime Minister, said the final details of the peace were being completed late in the afternoon in an hour's recess. They were scheduled to return later for final signing of the agreement.

Roy Conn Resigns As McCarthy Aide

an unpaid consultant on the subcommittee staff until he was fired last week. Roy Conn, McCarthy's chief counsel, resigned today after a long and bitter fight with McCarthy's aides over the subcommittee's handling of the McCarthy case.

Conn's resignation was announced today by McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy Cohn. Cohn said that he had been unable to get McCarthy to accept Conn's resignation and that he had therefore decided to resign himself.

Conn had been McCarthy's chief counsel since he was named to the position in 1952. He had been instrumental in getting McCarthy named to the position of chief counsel to the subcommittee.

Conn's resignation was effective today. He had been working for McCarthy since he was named to the position in 1952.

Knowland Sees Ike Victory on A-Law Changes

Specifically the group he heads is battling against an amendment which would split out authority of the Atomic Energy Commission from the Atomic Energy Act (AEA) to sign a private power contract for the Tennessee Valley.

Knowland had not outlined the strategy he had in mind to bring about a showdown vote. But he said that this can't be done the Senate will stay in session even later tonight.

Knowland, though important farm and foreign aid bills among farm legislation are being held up by the atomic measure, Knowland insisted "We will not put the atom bill in jeopardy."

Knowland, wrong on an earlier prediction that the bill would pass, might start late night, after the congressional debate and a week of unfavorable comment in the foreign press.

Knowland said that he would be able to adjourn by the July 21 target set by Knowland and other GOP strategists.

Gore had been speaking for Cohn at 20 when he was named to the position of chief counsel to the subcommittee. Gore said that he was not a lawyer and that he was not qualified to handle the case.

Knowland made his illiberal charge. Gore denied any such involvement and said the bill merely gave the Atomic Energy Commission power to exchange information with foreign government and permit the development of atomic power.

Numerous phrases have been attacked during five days of debate, but most of the argument has centered around the proposal for AEC to contract with TVA. A would-be power to be furnished to the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) at Memphis.

President Eisenhower has directed the Atomic Energy Commission to study the proposal for AEC to contract with TVA. A would-be power to be furnished to the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) at Memphis.

Flood Damage Two Million in West Virginia

editor James F. Constock of the West Virginia Leader here said the loss would run to two million dollars.

The flood fatalities was Thomas Martin, 72, who was struck by a heart attack yesterday as a National Guardsman and a policeman helped him from his flooded Richmond home. His son, Donald, remained on duty through last night with the National Guard.

The helicopter, from the Coast Guard Air Station at Elizabeth City, N. C., dropped Red Cross-supplied food late yesterday to residents of Weber City, Johnson and Hub Town, three nearby communities which were isolated after bridges washed out.

All utilities have been restored today except the water supply, which was contaminated. The Army trucked the water filter units which it hoped to have installed to provide the water supply.

A center for administering health inoculations was set up in the local Masonic Hall by local health authorities. Navy medical personnel and the Red Cross are assisting.

The swirling wall of water delivered its hardest punch here at Richmond, but lesser floor damage was spread over six-county areas. The center for the evacuation of the Nicholas, in which Richmond is located, included Braxton, Gilmer, Webster, Greenbrier, Boone and all in central West Virginia.

At that time a special committee headed by Herman Olson will discuss the various details involved in the publishing of the historical book form. A representative of the Coe, Lockwood & Brantland Co. of Hartford will attend the meeting and estimate the cost of printing the proposed book.

The committee which has been authorized by First Selectman Herbert Parker to study the project includes Edith Peck, Gertrude Fuller, Joseph McCusker, Clifford Knight, John Keeney and Franklin J. Williams.

The manuscript is the culmination of many months of study and research by Dr. Brown and is a history of both Vernon and Rockville.

High Court Gives Lesson in Cooking

the fitness of a bin of pork for human consumption.

The three, Dr. and Mrs. John Groopman and Sidney Silverman, said they contracted trichinosis, which affects the muscles, including those of the eyes of humans, as the result of eating the pork which had been roasted over a spit at the Groopman farm in Colpa, N. Y., in August, 1947.

They brought their suit before Superior Court Judge Abraham S. Burdick, but he dismissed their claims.

Sustaining Judge Burdick's decision, the high bench said the three persons did not cook the pork properly and went to explain: "It is well known that microscopic trichinae parasites in pork are not rendered harmless unless they are subjected to 137 degrees Fahrenheit for three hours. That cooking over an open fire was not the proper way to cook the pork, and the pork of the size (15 pounds) used here."

That there is "no known approved method for determining the presence of trichinae in pork which is to be sold."

The high court concluded the warranty of the pork's fitness for food "was not that the food was fit to eat, but that it was fit to eat after ordinary domestic cooking."

In another action, the Supreme Court rejected a 4 to 1, Norwich's motion to set aside a judgment directing that city to comply with the State Water Commission order, which was entered at an estimated cost of $150,000.

One of the city's principal arguments in its appeal was that the Superior Court engaged in an administrative function, rather than a judicial function, because it set aside the date set by the water commission for its compliance with the construction project.

The Superior Court did that because the date set by the water commission already had passed and the city appealed to the court for relief.

The High Court ruled the Superior Court was not overstepping its authority in setting new dates and ordered that the city was "in a position to comply" because the court's order gave more time than the water commission's order did.

One of the city's principal arguments in its appeal was that the Superior Court engaged in an administrative function, rather than a judicial function, because it set aside the date set by the water commission for its compliance with the construction project.

Hal Boyle Couple Makes Living By Quarreling

New York (AP)—Fighting between two married people often ends in black eyes and divorce suits. But 22 years of almost continuous verbal warfare have made Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich into one of Hollywood's most successful husband-and-wife-married teams.

Their long wordy quarrel has resulted in several jointly written Broadway plays, 22 movie scripts, and an annual income in the high clear financial stratosphere somewhere above $50,000.

"But if we take time out to do a play, as we have this year, we sometimes don't act a nickel," said Hackett.

Both started out as actors. They turned to writing during lean years. After their third play, "Up Goes the Devil," made the grade on Broadway, they went to Hollywood, married, and settled down with the MGM studio.

"We were in the doghouse for a long time," Miss Goodrich recalled. "It was easy to get into there. Then the studio had 150 writers, and everybody was taking a stab at the writer's job."

"Now they have only 30 writers," she said. "I'm a writer almost as long as I've been married."

French Make Plans To Evacuate Hanoi

himself and his family of five are leaving tonight for a combined evacuation of the French in Hanoi.

A consulate official said the Chinese made about 10,000 evacuees to the French in Hanoi. The French have been in Hanoi for many years and general manager of the Bond Hotels in Hartford. The Paris plan to move to Hanoi shortly but Mr. Rogers will continue in the banking and insurance business, spending only week-ends at the Somers Inn.

The Somers Inn is one of the palatial inns in Connecticut. It was built originally as a private home and has rare painting and chandeliers. There are fifteen rental rooms in the inn, all spacious and beautifully furnished.

Mr. Farr said this morning that the inn will be operated only for small family parties but also for bachelor dinners, wedding parties, country manufacturing and political groups to the number of 100, serving meals and other services.

The grounds at the inn are beautifully landscaped and there is on the premises a huge swimming pool as well as a concrete parking area.

The French evacuation problem for French, however, they are entering into a contract for power to be delivered directly to an atomic plant.

The pending amendments would authorize AEC to produce electric energy from atomic materials in commercial amounts and give government and public utility partnership in the development of power sold by AEC.

Under provisions of the bill, TVA could market only any power produced from experimental projects.

The Dove Is Busy

There is nothing to stop the Russians from making peace in the world if they want to work at it hard enough. They can, if they want to, outwit all the diplomats which may seek to impose conditions as a prerequisite to peace.
 No treaty has to be signed; no agreement reached; no formal declaration of peace made. All the Russians have to do is to keep nib-bing away at the suspicion and fear which exist in the world, until, eventually, these will dissipate themselves.

The Russians have just taken such a little nibble at the heart of the world, in the form of exchanging naval visits with Sweden. This has taken Swedish warships on a courtesy visit to Leningrad, and brought one of the latest Russian cruisers to Stockholm.

More than that, when an American reporter went down to the Soviet cruiser along with some 2,400 of the Stockholm curious, he found all security measures relaxing. There was no check on those who went aboard, and he found himself wandering alone unguarded in many sections of the cruiser.

Perhaps the Russians merely conceded that a cruise is a cruise, and that was that. But that is certainly not the world mood of the day, and to realize it we have only to imagine the hue and cry that would go up if some Russian reporter were discovered wandering through one of our own latest "fortresses."

The exchange of naval visits with Sweden, and the relaxing of security precautions are, of course, symbolic of many little things the Russians have been very busy doing in the past few months. A chess team to America, talks to France and Britain, more freedom of movement for foreigners inside Russia, a church congregation in Russia praying for former President Truman's recovery; all these little touches in the news represent an obviously concerted Russian effort to appear before the world as a pleasant, civilized nation. These efforts are not always successful. The Russian ballet happened to arrive in Paris the week of the fall of Dien Bien Phu which was slightly unfortunate.

But it has to be conceded that if the Russians work hard enough at this line it must begin to show results. And there is no reason for objecting to it, or opposing it.
 If the Russians want to create a different image of themselves, that is welcome, and one very good reason it is welcome is that the more the Russians build this kind of image in little things, the more obligation they will have to live up to in the big things. And from the larger point of view, the cold war is likely to end, if it does not by a treaty or declaration of peace, but by a gradual drift in the world atmosphere toward a feeling of live and let live. So it is encouraging, at least, to have the Russians working so hard with one hand to appear to be pleasant, friendly and civilized people. If they do bring that other hand—the arm of the sword—under some discipline too, they and the world can have peace.

CONVENTION SRRAPNEL
 One of the nominating speeches made for Comptroller Fred Zeller was such a dismal, low-level attempt that administration leaders almost revoked their peace pact in mid-convention. Best nominating speeches at the Republican convention, in fact, were probably those which were never delivered, as procedures were cut short in the late hours.

But a break in the routine would be dangerous. Once the public escaped from the spell, it might choose never to return. Once, if ever, it had time to think about the formula, it might have strange and rebellious ideas.

Once you have successfully beaten the public taste down to your own level, you must never let go, never give the public a moment in which to think what its own taste might be, nor break the routine. And if you do, don't expect to find ticks, tightly public

Iran, Britain Near Agreement on Oil

Amini predicted the Britons and his government would come to terms in three or four more sessions. The talks have been going on since last April.

Amini said Iran would pay AIOC roughly 73 million pounds ($274, 400,000) for the big refinery at Abadan and 13 million pounds ($46,400,000) for oilfield property.
 He said, however, that these figures would be subject to an adjustment.

Amini told newsmen an agreement had been reached in broad terms for consortium of American, British, French, and Dutch oil firms to operate the refinery and the consortium would have been registered in the Netherlands. Two of its seven directors will be Iranians.

Legal experts are now translating the general agreement into draft documents, Amini said.

The terms call for Iran to receive about $2 million dollars in royalties on the first year of oil production, 120 million dollars in the second year and 200 million for the third, according to the finance minister.

He said a technical committee is still trying to work out the details of the agreement while the consortium had sought a 10-year term, while the Iranians wanted it to end after 25 years.

"You can take it to 30 years," Amini said.

Oil production in Iran has been virtually at a standstill since the anti-British government of former Premier Mohammad Mossadegh took over AIOC's Iranian holdings three years ago.

Goose Down

A peasant with a troubled conscience went to a monk for advice.
 He said he had circled a vicar story about a friend, only to find that the story was not true.

"If you would make peace with your conscience," said the monk,
 "you must fill a bag with goose down, go to every doorway in the village and drop in each one of them one tuft of down."

The peasant did as he was told.
 Then he came back to the monk and said he had done penance for his folly.

"Not yet," replied the monk.

In the 13 years we have been using gas heating, we have never spent a cent for service—no repairs have ever been necessary. With the Hartford Gas Company budget set-up, we have no extremely heavy bills to meet . . . when summertime comes, no outlay for the past winter's heating."

Under the ordinance, Calvin Taggart, the sewage plant's superintendent, would be empowered to enforce the new legislation's provisions by disconnecting the sewer facilities of any violator who he finds has failed to take remedial steps or perform the acts required by the ordinance.

Taggart would make the final decision in the matter of an alleged offense and would be authorized to require a suspected violator to furnish proof of compliance with the ordinance's provisions.

The ordinance was pushed through by Atty. Raymond Johnson on the basis of similar ordinances already adopted by four other Connecticut municipalities.

Any liquid or vapor having a temperature higher than 100 degrees Fahrenheit, any solid or other flammable or explosive liquid, solid or gas, any surface or roof water containing a toxic or poisonous substance in sufficient quantity to injure or interfere with the district's sewage treatment process, equipment, and personnel.

Eighth District Board Seeks Sewer Ordinance

The Eighth District Board of Directors, in a move to protect the $80,000 investment represented by the recent improvements to the district's sewage treatment plant, has passed a resolution that would provide tight control over the use of North End sewers.
