Ike Backs U. S. Aides Probe Plan

Denver, Oct. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower has given his blessing to a new investigation program to uncover and prevent any now-criminal misconduct or improprieties on the part of federal employees in broad relation to their jobs.

And the White House says anyone who characterizes the program as a "snooping, Gestapo-like setup" aimed at prying into the strictly private life of government workers is "completely wrong."

Two Objectives
Murray Snyder, a presidential press secretary, last night announced Eisenhower's approval of the program—especially prompted in part by the Federal Housing Administration scandals—and said its objectives are:

1. To detect and prevent "loose practices by federal employees."
2. To achieve "better administration" in the executive branch.

Snyder's statement confirmed a published report about creation of the program. But he declared the report was "completely wrong" in saying "officials of some federal agencies have criticized it as a 'snooping, Gestapo-like setup.'"

He also said there was no basis for a further report that the Civil Service Commission and other agencies charged all along with investigative work have complained that the new order conflicts with their programs.

Supplements Probes
The order, Snyder said, was worked out in cooperation with the commission and such other agencies and supplements rather than "conflicts with their investigations."

The press secretary said the program was ordered into effect by Budget Director Rowland Hughes in a letter last June 14 to the heads of about 40 federal departments and agencies.

That was after Eisenhower and his cabinet had discussed it and the Chief Executive had given it his approval so far as the general objectives were concerned, Snyder added. "A news conference.

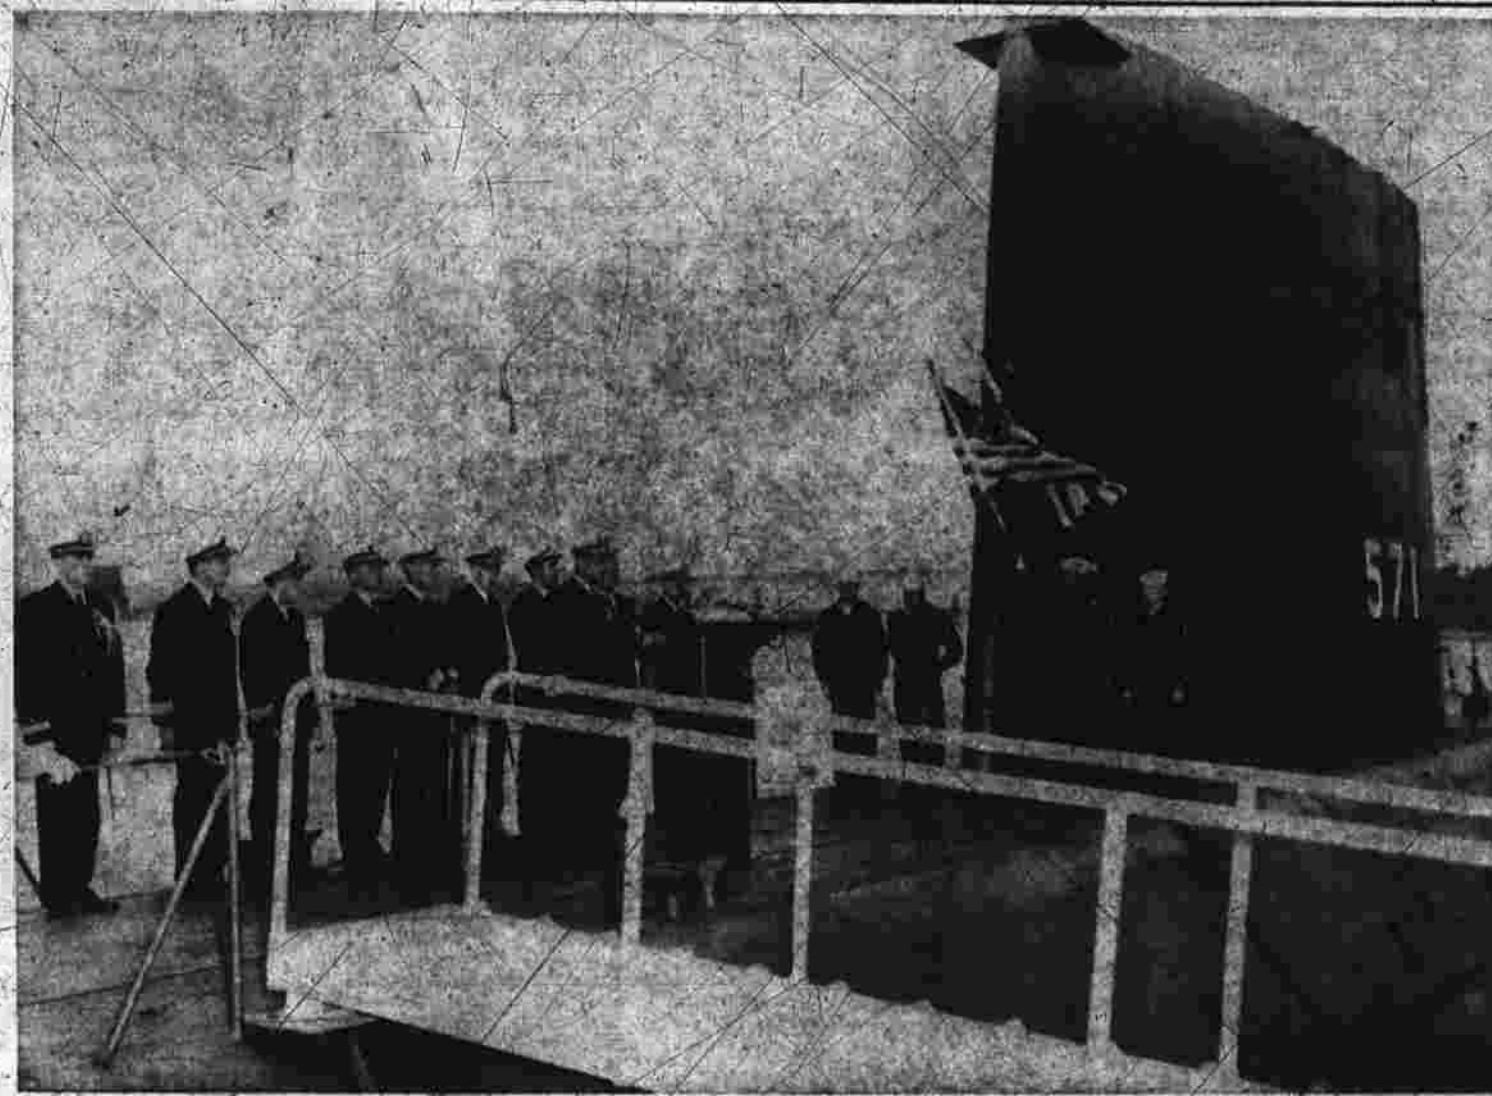

He said the program deals only with improper activities of government workers "short of criminal acts," which continue to be handled by the Justice Dept. And he said it has nothing to do, either, with the separate program for handling security risks among federal employees.

Under the new setup for dealing with cases of misconduct and impropriety, federal agencies are required to establish internal staffs—or supplement existing staffs—under supervision of officials of no lower rank than under the old plan.

World's First Atomic Submarine Joins Atlantic Fleet

Adm. Jerauld Wright, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet, delivers an address following the commissioning ceremony of the U. S. S. Nautilus at Groton yesterday. In his remarks he said the Nautilus, although the world's first atomic powered submarine, already is outmoded by new advances in scientific progress. The address was introduced by Commander Eugene P. Wilkinson, commanding officer of the submarine. The coming lower of this newest addition to the Atlantic Fleet appears on the right. Herald Photo

Big Three Set to End Occupation

London, Oct. 1 (AP)—The nine power conference bogged down tonight in disagreement after France unexpectedly rejected a compromise plan for controlling any runaway German rearmament.

A British spokesman told a news conference France's western partners had the mistaken impression last night that France was ready to go along with the proposal submitted by Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak.

"We are back on the wrong side of the hump again tonight," the spokesman said.

The spokesman said French Premier Pierre Mendès-France brushed aside last minute attempts by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Spaak himself to amend the proposals and make them acceptable to France.

London, Oct. 1 (AP)—Nine western nations today put the final trimmings on a package plan aimed at linking free and rearmend West Germany in a defense shield against Communist aggression.

France, historically fearful of Germans with guns in their hands, agreed with eight other nations who often have fought Germany in the past that West German soldiers and industrial might must be enlisted in a grand Atlantic alliance against the Communist world.

Foreign Ministers of the western Big Three conferred with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to draw up a general agreement for ending the nine-year-old occupation of the western part of defeated Germany.

Meeting Tomorrow
German sources said the four agreed to meet at 11 a.m. tomorrow to put the final touches on an Allied declaration of intent to dismantle the occupation. The outstanding problem was understood to revolve around what procedures to follow to get the agreement ratified by the four governments—Germany, United States, Britain and France.

The nine-power conference decided to speed Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the enlarged avianation Brussels Pact with tight safeguards against any revival of runaway German militarism.

"The question of the German

Nevada GOP Seeks To Halt Senate Test

Reno, Oct. 1 (AP)—Nevada's Republican legal talent battled the clock today trying to block an election to fill the remaining two years of the late Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran's term.

State Atty. Gen. William Matthews, a Democrat, ruled yesterday that state law provides for an election in November to name a successor. He said filings must close by 5 p. m. today—30 days before the Nov. 2 election.

Seek Injunction
State GOP leaders said they would seek an injunction today from the Nevada Supreme Court to prevent candidates from filing for the office.

The move was designed to place the appointment in the hands of Republican Gov. Charles Russell, who has said he would name a strong Eisenhower supporter.

The state GOP Central Committee last night named a candidate. However, one source said the nominee was Ernest Brown, 51, Reno attorney and former Washoe County (Reno) District Attorney.

Brown told newsmen, "I suppose I'll talk."

The Democratic State Committee will name a candidate today. A hot battle shaped up between supporters of the late Senator and young liberals. No names were mentioned.

A GOP source said Brown had the strong support of Russell and that the governor plans to appoint Brown to the post. Brown would serve until January 1955 if Democrats win the legal skirmish for a November election; until January 1957 if the GOP wins.

Russell presumably was waiting until after the burial here tomorrow of McCarran, who collapsed and died Thursday after a vigorous political speech at Hawthorne, Nev.

An impressive congressional delegation planned to attend services tomorrow for the 73-year-old Senator, who served 22 turbulent years in the Senate.

Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho) was the first to arrive. Due later were at least 10 more Senators of both parties. An Air Force plane carrying a congressional group headed by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) was off from Washington at 7 p. m.

Hundreds of political friends and foes filed past the body as it lay in state in a Reno chapel.

Justice Dept. to Check Dixon-Yates Testimony

Washington, Oct. 1 (AP)—Senate subcommittee testimony about operations of firms involved in the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract will be sent to the Justice Dept. for possible criminal prosecution, Sen. Langer (R-ND) said today.

Langer, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Anti-Monopoly subcommittee, announced the transcript will be sent to both Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Stanley N. Barnes, assistant attorney general who heads the anti-trust division.

Mississippi Power is a subsidiary of Middle South Utilities, Inc., one of the holding company partners in the Dixon-Yates group.

By direction of President Eisenhower, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) is in the late stages of negotiation with the Dixon-Yates group to build a 600,000 kilowatt electric plant at West Memphis, Ark. to serve customers in the Memphis area over lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). The power would replace current TVA supplies to atomic installations.

Kefauver placed in the record a copy of a letter from the Federal Power Commission (FPC) in response to a notation he sent the commission, calling attention to Slietner's testimony.

The FPC letter said the commission is taking steps immediately to examine the books and records of Mississippi Power. Referring to Slietner's charges that two sets of books are kept for the company, one in Jackson, Miss., and one in New York, the letter said if the New York accounts consist of supplemental information for tax purposes they are not "necessarily objectionable."

Daniel James, Middle South attorney, interrupted the hearing to

Delaware Bias Seen Restored By Milford Act

Milford, Del., Oct. 1 (AP)—Triumph segregation forces acted today to restore the bias of the temporary defeat of integration in Milford's high school.

The first step toward the goal of making sure that no Negro attend white schools in the state.

The pro-segregationists scored a victory yesterday when a new school board in Milford announced it was rescinding an order integrating 11 Negro pupils in the 10th grade of the Lakeview Ave. School "in the best interests of the pupils in the community."

Negro Pupils Absent
The 11 Negro pupils did not appear this morning when classes resumed at the Lakeview Ave. School. Today's attendance was obviously much larger than during other days this week when 10 Negro students attended classes and nearly two-thirds of the white pupils stayed home.

Milford for weeks has been torn with confusion over the segregation question. Negroes who admitted to the high school when it opened, but threats of violence later forced the school to close for a week.

The Milford Board of Education resigned last week after the State Board of Education had criticized it for admitting Negroes without

Nautilus Outdated By Second A-sub

Groton, Oct. 1 (AP)—The atomic-powered submarine Nautilus was officially part of the Navy today and an admiral says it already is "approaching obsolescence."

The world's first nuclear powered submarine was turned over to the Navy in commissioning ceremonies yesterday by its builder, the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

Adm. Jerauld Wright, Atlantic Fleet commander-in-chief, accepted the historic submarine and said it was the answer to Russia's mounting sea power.

But he said that the Nautilus is fast becoming obsolete.

The Sea Wolf, another nuclear-powered sub under construction here, is even further advanced in the use of atomic power.

Wright said Russia is "feverishly constructing a Navy" to challenge the United States for air and sea supremacy which, he added, "we must maintain if we are to remain a free nation."

Cites Soviet Gains
Russia's navy has risen from seventh place to second and within the past 10 years with a sea force that includes 250 to 400 submarines.

In a speech prepared for the ceremonies, Wright described the Nautilus as "a killer submarine with a primary task of whittling down the Soviet submarine force."

However, he omitted this in describing the speech:

The Nautilus was commissioned at 3:11 p. m. with the command "Quartermasters, hoist the colors," given by Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson of San Diego, Calif., who took over as skipper.

Officials say the first trial run of the Nautilus may be delayed because of the recent bursting of a steam pipe. The run was originally scheduled for late this month.

John Jay Hopkins, General Dynamics president, called the Nautilus "man's first successful attempt to utilize for propulsion the complex mysteries of nuclear fission."

Adm. Wright said Russia's fleet is growing so strong that the United States must do everything it can to keep control of the seas.

He called the Nautilus "a venture into tomorrow," and in the same breath said he "will probably be considered an antique machine within the next decade if events continue to march at the rapid pace they have during the past 10 years."

Adm. Wright said, "We pray to

West Cautious On Red Bid to Cut A-Weapons

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Andre Vishniak called last night for a step-by-step program of arms reduction with nuclear weapons to be eliminated at the halfway mark. The western Big Three cautiously termed the Soviet proposal a move in the right direction.

Winding up a policy speech of an hour and 40 minutes to the U. N. General Assembly, the chief Soviet delegate submitted a long resolution containing the most detailed and complex disarmament program his government has offered in the U. N.'s nine-year history.

Vishniak brushed over President Eisenhower's proposal of an atomic pool for peaceful purposes. He said the United States so far has failed to come up with any concrete ideas on atomic weapon control.

Lasts Soviet Terms
The Soviet delegate asked the assembly to have the U. N. Disarmament Commission prepare a treaty for the Security Council providing for this program of arms reduction and elimination of nuclear weapons:

1. Agreement by the nations on total cuts they would make in their arms, troops and military appropriations and the accomplishment of 50 per cent of these reductions within 6 to 12 months;
2. Creation of a temporary international control commission under the Security Council to find out whether the nations are complying with the treaty;
3. The remaining 50 per cent reduction in conventional arms to be made within 6 to 12 months after completion of the first disarmament phase.

Capehart Amazed At Publicity on Rift

Washington, Oct. 1 (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today he was "amazed" that an Eisenhower administration family squabble had broken out publicly between Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

Mitchell freely acknowledged at a news conference yesterday that he was having differences with Weeks on labor policies. It would "disturb" him, Mitchell said, if Weeks' views should prevail in the administration.

For his part, Weeks denied in a statement having any "split" with Mitchell, but admitted that "my initial views on some subjects do not always coincide."

Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder, at the summer White House headquarters in Denver, said the President would have no comment.

Capehart, saying he hadn't been aware of differences between the two cabinet members, told a newsmen "I'm amazed that they'd wash their dirty linen before the public—I'm amazed that Mitchell

Bolton Budget Will Be Main Topic At Monday's Town Meeting

Bolton, Oct. 1 (Special)—Chief business of the annual town meeting on Monday evening at the Community Hall at 8 o'clock will be consideration of the budget for the next fiscal year.

In addition to the routine request for authorization to borrow money in anticipation of taxes, the selectmen have indicated two other items in the call for the meeting. The town will be asked to vote on the question of reopening an old abandoned road running from School Road to Highway Road. The latter road intersects Shady Hill Road at the Deane residence and is also an improved road.

The town will also be asked to vote on a change in the length of voter-making sessions held on the fourth and fifth Saturdays preceding election in accordance with State statute. The statute sets the time of the sessions from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. but makes provision that the smaller towns may establish a shorter session by local ordinance.

Copies of the proposed budget have been printed and are now available for distribution at the Town Clerk's office. They will also be distributed at the meeting. The budget as approved by the Board of Finance calls for ordinary expenditures totaling $18,660.00 and capital expenditures of $5,200.00.

The appropriation for education under ordinary expenditures totals $12,025.00 and under capital expenditures, $3,200.00, giving a total of $15,225.00. The Board of Finance has estimated the ordinary expenditures of the town and $2,000 for capital expenditures on the Community Hall.

The Board of Finance has estimated that the smaller towns may establish a shorter session by local ordinance. Anticipated revenue other than general property taxes totals $17,100.16 and includes $3,700.16 in state grants for education; $30,000 in state grants for town aid roads; $5,000 under the public school building grant and $4,000 from liquor licenses.

Assuming the grant list will increase a quarter of a million dollars this year to $4,140,011, the Board of Finance has estimated the tax rate for the next fiscal year at 23 mills.

Windsor Man Gets Stiff Prison Term

Hartford, Oct. 1 (AP)—Stanley W. Harriman, 37, a Windsor father of three children was sentenced to four to nine years in prison following his conviction on charges of manslaughter and kidnapping to procure an abortion. The victim was Harriman's 21-year-old daughter, who was arrested May 23 after Mrs. Harriman died under circumstances which led to a police investigation. An autopsy disclosed that Mrs. Harriman died of injuries sustained in an attempt to procure a miscarriage. Harriman insisted that his wife had attempted the abortion herself but a physician testified that it was "highly improbable" that the injuries inflicted by the abortifacient of a fork were self-inflicted.

Superior Court Judge James E. Murphy sentenced Harriman to six years on the manslaughter charge and three years on the abortion charge.

TRAVELS FOR A DONKEY
By Joseph F. Lyford
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE

NEW BRITAIN—The Governor said his Commission of Labor thinks we have weathered a "mild recession very well." They ought to visit this industrial city. People are losing their jobs. Large percentage of plants are working with skeleton crews. Others are near to closing up shop completely. Former Mayor Henry Gwiazda is deeply concerned. The layoffs have hurt everybody. Merchants tell me their sales have been dropping off for three months. I hope the same stores here I have heard hundreds of times in other cities. Somehow the picture just does not fit the 1954 Republican campaign slogan of "Peace, Progress and Prosperity."

In New Haven I was asked about my support of the Flinders resolution to censure Senator Joseph McCarthy. I told about my first personal contact with the Wisconsin Senator, in 1950, when I heard him speak in Bridgeport. At that time I was profoundly shocked at his despicable attack on the patriotism and competence of our Senator Brian McMahon, and I concluded that no man who could make such a speech deserved to hold public office, no matter what his professed motives might be.

As Al Smith said, "Let's look at the record," in this case that of my opponent, Congressman Smith. On these occasions he voted against broadening social security coverage. He voted against increasing unemployment compensation payments. When the South Koreans needed our economic aid, he voted against giving it to them. He opposed our anti-Communist Point Four program for technical aid to underdeveloped countries. His vote handed over the public's tidal oil resources to private operators over Connecticut's $94 million in oil revenues. No wonder some Congressmen don't talk about their voting records.

Women, especially those who are in the act of rearing a family, seem to have a peculiar flair for politics. They have the special brand of vitality and curiosity that underlies the political impulse. They like to go to meetings. They are absolute masters of the telephone. Most important, in politics, women have that unappreciated quality of "perseverance" which comes from making small but finally precise their own laws.

I had a Tremendous beer with my fever in the Lockfield Town Hall, and tipped off a series of shouting scenes that practically blew up the first policeman's office. Apparently this agonizing experience had some beneficial results. As I was leaving the building, a man came up to tell me: "No doubt about it, mister, you made quite an impression."

Products Bring $1,319 at Mart

Total sales at the Manchester "Yearbook" Auction Mart were $1,319.45 on Thursday. Of 686 half bushel baskets of tomatatoes sold, 231 baskets of No. 1's went at a high of $3.60, a low of $1.10, and an average of $2.75 per basket. Sold at a high of $1.20 and a low of $1.50 per crate were 50 crates of cauliflower, six bushels of shell beans at $3.50 per bushel, and five bushels of wax beans at $1.70 per bushel.
