GOP Legislators Seek Three-Point Road Plan

State Capitol, Hartford, Feb. 10 (AP)—Republican legislative leaders proposed today a special program for meeting the state's highway needs, including completion of the Expressway "with all possible speed."

The program, made public by GOP House leader Norman K. Thomass, recommended also:

1. A program of urgent highway needs—first priority construction—to be completed within the next biennium with the use of temporary financing pending action of Congress on the Clay Bill.
2. Plans for a 10-year highway program sufficient to provide the state with reasonably adequate highway and street services, taking into consideration the other capital needs of the state and the federal funds and other revenues available to it.
3. The GOP recommendations were contained in a 5-page statement on which, Thomass said, he had House Speaker W. Sheffield and Senate GOP Leader Theodore S. Ryan are "in complete agreement."

The statement expressed the GOP leadership's confidence in the financing plan approved for the Greenway-Killgore Expressway by the 1953 Republican-controlled Assembly. Beyond that, if criticized Gov. Ruliford for initiating an inquiry into the plan.

The 1953 legislature pledged the state's revenue from its gasoline tax to retire the expressway bonds in the amount of $20,000,000. It is now being used for general highway purposes. It is not set aside for the expressway.

Before the General Assembly is proposed to increase the gasoline tax by one cent. Some have contended that use of the revenue from such an increase for other highway projects may be blocked because of the expressway bond pledge.

On that point, the leaders said: "The use of the gas tax as a standby is similar to an endorser of a note. He is called on only if the maker of the note fails to pay. Meanwhile, his own funds are free for him to use as he pleases."

Gas Tax Could Be Used

"Thus, the gas tax could be used today, if so desired, as the basis for the issuance of additional highway bonds to the amount of $20,000,000. It is now being used for general highway purposes. It is not set aside for the expressway."

In today's statement, the Republican leaders contended that it will not. They said:

"The gas tax is used only if the tolls and other revenues are insufficient to meet the principal and interest charges of the expressway."

Bolton Gas Station Decision Held Pending Further Reports

Bolton, Feb. 10 (Special)—A.R. Pratt, acting as the commissioner's deputy, at the public hearing yesterday afternoon at the Community Hall.

Local opposition to the proposed plan in that East Middle Turnpike gives it a five point approval on which Arthur R. Tolle, real estate representative for the Gulf Oil Corp., testified. He explained there would be two 50 foot drive ways on Route 44A separated by a 10 foot safety island 5 feet in depth. Two 50 foot drive ways would be located on Bolton Center Road separated by a 20 foot safety island of the same depth. The proposed building would be a three-story service station and restaurant. Gasoline pumps would be 35 feet from the black top. Tolle indicated.

Chas. O. Dorn, a civil engineer testified to many years of experience in the state and others on highway planning and traffic control and identified several pictures of the site for Rubiny who entered them in the record.

He described the intersection as that these would be multiplied by operation of a gasoline station at the site.

Pratt, who is division chief of the Dealers, Repairs and Gasoline Sections of the Dept. of Motor Vehicles, revealed his concern at the speed at which cars travel over East Middle Turnpike at the intersection. Obviously referring to the jurisdiction of his department over gasoline stations, Pratt continued opposition at the hearing that the site is zoned for business and that some other type of business is bound to go in there if the gasoline station is not built. He said the town would then have business without traffic control on the Highway Dept. does not put in the traffic control and others on highway planning and traffic control and identified several pictures of the site for Rubiny who entered them in the record.

Red Sphere Uneasy In Guns-Butter Shift

command may have purpose behind a military one. It could help to reduce the military's dependence on the Russian East European bloc under control, observers point out.

Economic conditions behind the Iron Curtain are not at all good. Despite a year and a half of the "new look" and emphasis on agriculture, the Red report indicates shortages in food supplies. Nor has there been a great increase in consumer goods.

Adding to the Red's problem, more consumer goods and less political pressure seem to have brought about an actual reduction instead of the expected increase in production of coal, electricity, power and the medium and heavy industries.

Argentine Removes 100 Catholic Priests

The chief change anticipated in the satellite leadership is predicted for Hungary. There, diplomatic sources believe, the Hungarian government will resign publicly or quietly.

Hungarian Communist party boss, Imre Nagy, recently re-emerged from the background into the news after being stepped after Stalin's death. In the interim he has made significant moves for the policy of more consumer goods.

Russia also announced, after a Moscow meeting that Hungary would revive its program of industrialization.

Otherwise the top men are expected to remain in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria, respectively now to party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The leaders of those satellites are all Stalin men, and "yes men" who have shown no Tito-like tendencies.

Death Soviet Advantage

Molotov's boast that Russia holds superiority in hydrogen bomb development may refer to discovery in 1953 of a short-cut method for igniting the fusion explosive. But if that was the case, American officials in Washington were confident of temporary advantage the Soviets had since been overcome.

In some atomic circles here there is a suspicion that Soviet nuclear scientists evolved a technique for setting off hydrogen bombs through the use of a compression of a high magnitude which required only insignificant amounts of the fissionable material used in conventional A-bombs.

There is the possibility that the Russian technique may refer to almost a year before American weapons worked out the problem, and may have been tested in the summer of 1953.

However, any Soviet lead made possible by that process-involving a huge saving in time and material—has been overcome by the overall program of the United States now has moved out ahead again, in the opinion of some American experts.

In a speech Tuesday, Molotov said the Soviet Union has developed hydrogen weapons with "such success that the United States could appear backward."

President Eisenhower was asked yesterday at his news conference about the Molotov statement. The president replied there was no proof to that effect, then added it would be a rather remarkable feat.

Russia is expected to continue major emphasis on nuclear weapons, airpower and air defense despite the accordant of famous ground force officers to high position in the government.

Competent Soldier

Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, new minister of defense, is an old career soldier who served in World War II with artillery, troops and tanks. But American officers who know him during the days of Russo-American alliance say he is well rounded in all phases of military operations and weapons.

Eisenhower, the former supreme Allied commander, recalls Zhukov as a competent soldier and well trained military leader.

So far, there has been no evidence that the resubmitting of top political offices has reached down to Moscow government levels involving administration and operation of Russia's nuclear weapons program.

Since the ouster and later execution of Lavrenty Beria, who along with his job as chief of secret police also headed the atomic program, there has been little information on the directorate of the nuclear weapons program.

Along with official claims for progress in hydrogen bomb development there have been hints of Soviet work in other nuclear weapon fields, including atomic artillery and guided missiles, similar to that in the American Army arsenal for at least two years.

Sense and Nonsense

Sadly Ben asks, "Why is it that the average woman can put her hair into a curl three times too small, yet can scarcely put a car into a garage with a ten-foot-wide opening?"

How 's Done
So they'll carry their years well. While traveling they read. Girls now and then drop one. To lighten the load.

— F. G. Kernan.

Junior—Daddy, what is the person called who brings you in contact with the spirit world?
Dad—Bartender, my boy.

TACTICS
I took my love by sudden storm. My plan was strong and careful; I left her helpless, dazed and warm.

Exactly as she planned it.

Friend—And how is your husband getting on with his exercises?
Woman—You'd be surprised—that battleship he had tattooed on his chest is nothing but a row boat!

An intruder who broke into the home of Peter Debo, of Syracuse, N. Y., merely used a washcloth and towel, plus enough soap and water, for a shower.

De—So you're marrying that rich Jackson girl, I suppose you'll have to quit playing poker and drinking now.
Mim—Yes, but I didn't marry her. I'd have to cut out eating.

The buck private and his girl were out riding in the country on horseback as they stopped to rest, the two horses rubbed necks affectionately.
Private—Ah, me, that's what I'd like to do.
Girl—Well, go ahead, it's your horse who has four legs but only two knees on the front leg.

It takes seven years of college study and 10 years of starvation to become a lawyer.

Little League to Expand, Erne Dowd Named President

Five Giant Performers To Face Nassiff Arms

One of the big reasons why the Milwaukee Hawks will rule favorites over Nassiff Arms in the exhibition contest at the Armory Wednesday night is their power over the batters. With left performers like Charlie Chase (6-11), Bob Pettit (6-9), Lew Hiltz (6-9), Chuck Cooper (6-7) and Al Hannum (6-7), the locals will have to be at their best to outscore the Hawks on either board.

Hitch could be the difference against George Mitchell's fast-moving pitching staff. The 20-year-old, 200-pounder from Illinois, Hitch is in his second full season with Milwaukee after spending two winters with the Minneapolis Twins. He has won three times and earned money laurels at Kansas State University.

Indians Need Triumph Friday in Willimantic

Whippets won first tilt 54 to 51 with second half attack although outscored from floor.
