eight landing strips each capable of carrying 200 troops. In the first 30 minutes of action, the Chinese air force sank the Col. Lu 7a of the Defense Ministry. He reported three of the four Red submarines were set adrift and possibly sunk.

Four hours later Nationalist propaganda still was pouring the remaining craft. Loaded with troops and supplies but not to be used for their mission. Possibly the Red was loading up their paratroops on Taishan, 15 miles off the coast, for an assault on Formosa.

The landing craft were ships of 200 to 300 tons, in some cases carrying 300 tons of lighter. Far to the south, Chinese Red submarines on the mainland and nearby islands buried 50 shells at the Red Islands.

Nationalist aircraft were reported earlier today, the military said. The Red guns and the Nationalist artillery roared out in answer.

Nationalists have voiced their determination to fight for remaining islands of Quemoy, Matsu and Nanchuan with or without U.S. aid.

The Red air force, with a total area of less than 100 square miles, is carried by 20,000 troops, mostly Communists and populated by 50,000 Chinese.

The conviction was growing here that an all-out Communist assault against Quemoy and Matsu would create a situation of explosive tension between the Red invasion of Yixiangshan Island.

The Red invasion of Yixiangshan a month ago led to a retraction of the Chinese Islands just to the south under protection of the U.S. Seventh Fleet.

The Communists have boasted again and again about their intention to "liberate" Formosa, but they have kept their Communist offshore islands to themselves.

Next Move up to Reds The next move in the Formosa crisis is up to the Red Chinese. Officials are coming around the world that the Reds may make it with military force.

The importance of what the Reds may do overshadows a rift between the United States and Britain over the Quemoy, Matsu and other coastal islands.

With British support, the United States has established a firm position in the Formosa area. Beyond this, the United States in effect said it will not use force to prevent any Communist assault on the offshore islands.

The Soviet news agency Tass said that a Soviet investigation was completed which had failed to substantiate any of the charges used in connection with my name in the Slansky trial, he said.

In this situation, the Communists have to decide whether they will try to take over either the coastal islands or Formosa itself by military means or by diplomatic maneuver.

Several months ago the Chinese Reds began stepping up the volume of propaganda from the United States.

Beyond Normal Propaganda Furthermore, diplomats here have been told that the Communists intend to take Formosa this year and will be selling rice from Formosa by the year's end.

These private boasts, coupled with the increasingly strong public stands, are regarded as being beyond normal propaganda in such a situation.

In effect, the Chinese Communist leaders are calling themselves to a program of force. That has some top American officials worried. However, officials declared that Secretary of State Dulles meant exactly what he said in New York Wednesday night.

Dulles asserted that the free nations could not make concessions in the Far East to try and induce the Communists to be peaceful without gravely imperiling the confidence of the free peoples of Asia.

Frank R. Ross, a truck driver who said Dulles has threatened the Chinese people, perverted the facts and made a mockery of the Soviet Union.

British officials are convinced that the Soviet Union is trying to use its influence to bring the Red Chinese into precipitating a big war in the Formosa area.

Let's take a week behind the iron curtain and see how the Russians get the same that we do so to us and, indeed, often do have an older origin than our own.

Our information comes from Tom Whitting, who has had opportunity to study Russian nomenclature during a 7-year assignment as an Associated Press correspondent in Moscow.

Most Russian names, like many well known American names, have a meaning, but the meaning is often the reverse of what we think.

Many Russian first names have a variation of the word "peace" (Mikhail, Evgen, Peter or Nikita).

Some names come from professions, such as the word "doctor" (Doktor) or "lawyer" (Pravnik).
