Bolton Supreme Court of Errors To Test Zone Amendments

Bolton, March 2 (Special)—The test of this town's latest zoning amendments is being made today in a case listed on the docket of the Supreme Court of Errors.

The local zoning commission amended its regulations last April to establish dimensions of a standard lot size of 200 feet by 200 feet, or 40,000 square feet in area, with not less than 100 feet frontage.

At a meeting Monday night, the Board of Finance voted to increase the appropriation of the zoning commission in the sum of $500 to cover the special fees.

Marcia H. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Smith, 27 Shady Hill Road, will be graduated from Manchester High School in a ceremony held Monday night.

Two other town girls earned the distinction of being members of the upper quarter of their class. The girls are: Elizabeth Bronck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guglio Bronck, of Brandy Street, and Maurine McClean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClean, of Johnson Road.

Members of the Public Library will be hostesses to the quarterly exchange meeting of area libraries next month. The group will meet at the Community Hall for the "swap" of books.

Program feature of the season will be a visit to the children's section at the Elementary School which is considered one of the best school libraries in the state.

Democrats Pick D'Alessandro for Baltimore Race

Baltimore, March 2 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro, Baltimore's patron saint of baseball, swept the city primary elections on a wave of personal popularity yesterday.

Winning his bid for nomination to a third term, the fiery little Democrat soundly defeated six other candidates, including an old political foe, City Council's President Arthur B. Price.

D'Alessandro used aims of his television campaign material. He was credited, even by such high Republicans as Gov. Theodore M. McKeldin, with the major role in bringing the franchise of the Baltimore Orioles to Baltimore last year.

D'Alessandro based his campaign on a theme of "progress" for Baltimore with numerous slogans appealing to voters to help him keep Baltimore "in the Major League" in every respect.

Political observers could detect little overall political significance in the election. If it proved anything it proved that D'Alessandro baseball are popular in Baltimore.

AT a meeting Monday night, the Board of Finance voted to increase the appropriation of the zoning commission in the sum of $500 to cover the special fees.

Union Aide Sees State Pay Lower Than Industry Scale

Hartford, March 2 (AP)—A union official charged today that the average weekly pay of most State workers, including lower level supervisors, is less than the average weekly wage of Connecticut industrial workers.

Frank Gallagher, president of Connecticut State Employees Council 16, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSE), declared that the weekly pay average for State workers in the first eight job classifications is $62.84.

Industry Pays $75.67

"According to the State Labor Dept.," declared Gallagher, "Connecticut industrial workers average $75.67 weekly."

Gallagher's statement came in an open letter in which he blasted the Connecticut Public Expenditures Council as being "unfairly biased and a juggler of statistics against a legitimate State employee pay raise."

Gallagher declared that the average pay for workers in the six State job classifications had been shown by a recent State personnel department analysis to be $62.25. He said that 71 per cent of all State workers fell within this classification.

The CEPAC had recently discussed what it called fringe benefits it said were enjoyed by State employees. Discussing them item by item, Gallagher pointed out that unlike some workers in private industry, State workers pay the whole cost of hospital and surgery insurance.

He said State workers pay at least two-thirds of the cost of their insurance, the benefits which are cut to a maximum of $500 should they retire.

Gallagher declared no State worker obtains free meals in addition to salaries except State policemen, and he added that State employees who get a seasonal "cost of living" break are "well-entitled to this sort of period of relaxation."

Good Retirement System

Gallagher said Connecticut has "a good retirement system" which "can stand improvement," one of which would be a 20-year retirement for workers on "extra hazardous jobs." He'd allow those who have devoted 25 years service to retire voluntarily regardless of age.

Concerning paid holidays, Gallagher said "we believe our legislators intended State employees to have 12 legal holidays as paid holidays. Noting that more than 15,000 State workers lost Lincoln's Birthday because it fell on a Saturday, he added that "industry gets double time for working on a holiday."

Gallagher's letter, addressed to Carter W. Atkins, CEPAC executive director, also deals with needed salary increases and such matters as sick and vacation leaves.

New Device Saving Lives At Jet Base

At Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., (AP)—This installation claimed a saving of seven pilot lives and some four million dollars worth of airplanes through the use of runway aircraft barriers costing a few thousand dollars.

Success of the new device has been so striking the Air Force has decided to install crash barriers at every base from which jet aircraft operate. It already has been installed at all five training command bases used by the crew training Air Force.

Nellis AFB, which owns or leases more than three and a half million acres of land—almost one tenth of Nevada—reported that since the barriers were installed, no aircraft has been lost due to runway excursions beyond the runways.

Pilots Uninjured

Furthermore, none of the seven pilots in the jet planes arrested by the barrier was injured by the sudden stop. Nor did any of the planes suffer structural damage.

Capt. Curtis Lutterbach, of Brackerville, Tex., operations and training officer, told visiting aviation writers that one of the saved planes hit the barrier at almost 180 miles per hour.

One of the most of the saved planes suffered engine failures on takeoff and had to come down to the far end of the runway.

Without the barrier they would have plunged across the runway, desert to probably destruction, the captain said.

Lutterbach added that as a result of the barriers, which cost an amount of repair work required on any of the planes was 16 hours. The repairs on the other planes ranged downward to a minimum of two hours.

The barriers consist of a strip of nylon webbing across the width of the runway about the height of a tennis net. The plane's nose gear engages this strip and causes the main landing gear to engage a steel cable across the runway.

Each end of the cable is attached to a huge steel chain composed of 243 links, each weighing 50 pounds. The weight of the dragging chain brakes the aircraft.

Adapted From Carriers

The barrier, adapted from a device aboard carriers, first was employed by the Air Force in Korea. On the basis of results there, it was installed here experimentally last. The initial outlay for the first barrier was $1,500.

Tax Filing the Easy Way

This NEW PUNCH CARD RETURN (1040-A) is simplicity itself and can be used by taxpayers whose total income was less than $5,000, made up of wages from which the tax has been withheld and no more than $100 total of other wages, dividends and interest. For these folks there is no adding, dividing or multiplying—just answer a few easy questions, sign and mail, and your District Director does the rest.

helped improve the accident rate at this air base.

Gen. Roberts said the number of accidents has declined 29 per cent from 1953 total, which was slightly more than 100. The fatalities declined from 28 in 1953 to 12 in 1954. This base totaled 138,000 hours of jet flying last year, compared with 149,000 hours during the same period last year.

Some 300 jet aircraft are based here, including the F-86 Sabre fighter, the T-33 trainer and half a dozen new F-100 Super Sabre super-sonic fighters.

The repairs on the other planes ranged downward to a minimum of two hours.

Lutterbach added that as a result of the barriers, which cost an amount of repair work required on any of the planes was 16 hours. The repairs on the other planes ranged downward to a minimum of two hours.

Brig. Gen. James E. Roberts, Training Officer, Nellis AFB commander, said the barriers have helped improve the accident rate at this air base.

Gen. Roberts said the number of accidents has declined 29 per cent from 1953 total, which was slightly more than 100. The fatalities declined from 28 in 1953 to 12 in 1954. This base totaled 138,000 hours of jet flying last year, compared with 149,000 hours during the same period last year.

Some 300 jet aircraft are based here, including the F-86 Sabre fighter, the T-33 trainer and half a dozen new F-100 Super Sabre super-sonic fighters.

The repairs on the other planes ranged downward to a minimum of two hours.

Lutterbach added that as a result of the barriers, which cost an amount of repair work required on any of the planes was 16 hours. The repairs on the other planes ranged downward to a minimum of two hours.

The barriers consist of a strip of nylon webbing across the width of the runway about the height of a tennis net. The plane's nose gear engages this strip and causes the main landing gear to engage a steel cable across the runway.

Each end of the cable is attached to a huge steel chain composed of 243 links, each weighing 50 pounds. The weight of the dragging chain brakes the aircraft.

Adapted From Carriers

The barrier, adapted from a device aboard carriers, first was employed by the Air Force in Korea. On the basis of results there, it was installed here experimentally last. The initial outlay for the first barrier was $1,500.

charge, Farrell was booked on charges of assault, robbery and rape of Mrs. Miller and assault and robbery of her stepfather, Charles Yeager of Hoboken, N. J. He was charged also with a weapons law violation and threatening Yeager and Mrs. Miller with a 12-inch butcher knife.

Farrell, an employe of a wood-working firm, is married to Mrs. Miller's sister and lives at 555 Hopkinton Ave., Brooklyn. Mrs. Farrell is expecting a third child.

Police said Farrell admitted being arrested on a juvenile delinquency charge in 1944 and serving time in the Training School at Warwick, N.Y. He was photographed later in the mood, presumably to forestall any possible claim that he was beaten.

Police did not give any details on how Farrell might have met Miss Yarrow.

They said their questioning about the attack on Mrs. Miller led to the Yarrow case when Farrell answered "yes" to the routine query: "have you ever done anything like this before?"

Miss Yarrow's mutilated body nude except for a sweater around her neck, was found by a friend from 1903 total, which was slightly more than 100. The fatalities declined from 28 in 1953 to 12 in 1954. Threat To Vernon Center

The Editor:

Vernon Center's First Congregational Church, whose roof was far back in the Revolutionary days, seems about to lose its identity if the present plans materialize. What has happened is that there has been a need for something of more room for the church school which has been expanding rapidly. There have been meetings and

Mother of Eight Jailed Because Son Quit School

Philadelphia, March 2 (AP)—Mrs. Emma C. Campbell, 36-year-old mother of eight children was jailed for three hours last night because she couldn't pay a $50 fine for her son's school truancy.

Magistrate John F. Daly imposed a 3-day jail sentence yesterday when the woman said she couldn't pay the fine imposed because her son, James, 14, had gone to work instead of attending his Junior high school classes.

She was released from Moyamensing Prison after friends raised the money. Magistrate's court records showed Mrs. Campbell paid a $15 fine about two Months Ago on a Similar Charge Involving James, a Son by a Former Marriage.

The woman's present husband, Francis, 48, is an odd-job man and builder.

Young James skipped school to work as a house painter.

"He was not out stealing or committing crimes," a friend of the family said. "This boy was not working to help his mother. He earned every cent he made over to her to help her run that family."

James is the oldest of seven children living with his mother and step-father in two small rooms. A 20-year-old married sister is self-supporting. The youngest child was born last July.

Daly said in this court you get the beginning of the delinquency picture. It is necessary to get tough at times... usually a fine does the trick—from then on the child goes to school.

Mrs. Campbell was among 40

Denver, March 2 (AP)—Joseph J. Priest won a divorce Monday after testifying that every time he put his arm around his wife, a man living with them would "hit" the family dog on him.

Priest said he and his wife took in the man 10 years ago and also have sheltered another man in the last two years because he felt sorry for them. He said his wife paints pictures and the two men sell them.

The Priests had been married 31 years.

Meriden Gets New Plant

Meriden, March 2 (AP)—Purchase of the majority of capital stock of Trima Wire and Cable Co., Inc. of New York was announced yesterday by the International Silver Co. Justice President Mathey Stuyvesant said that operations of the wire and cable company would be moved from New York to Meriden, where they will be expanded under management. Manufacturing will be located at Wallingford, with offices in Meriden. The New York firm develops and manufactures specialized coaxial cable, used by the electronics industry to transmit high frequency signals.

Cleanup Follows Australian Flood

Sydney, Australia, March 2 (AP)—Residents of towns and villages in western New South Wales pushed a vast cleanup today as floodwaters slowly receded from the devastated areas. Only a few small communities were still endangered.

The death toll was placed at 40. Police flood relief headquarters said this was considered a minimum figure but the actual total probably never will be determined. Some authorities estimated the damage might run into tens of millions of dollars but other estimates were more conservative.

Flushing waters still threatened a few small towns, including Nyngan and Walgett in the interior.

Hal Boyle Old Toper's Salvation Helping Alcoholics

New York (AP)—The Lord will help Dr. Frank Humphrey help 10 to 15 million alcoholics, says the elderly Virginia veterinarian, since sobering up 10 years ago after a 47-year bout with the bottle. He has helped reform hundreds of other alcoholics since then.

Often he has driven hundreds of miles to bring hope to a liquor-ridden man given up as hopeless by his friends and doctors. The work is more than a hobby to him; it has become his greatest reason for living.

"I don't mind going any distance if I can be of help," he said. "This has brought me more satisfaction and happiness than anything in my life. I used to hate myself. Now I don't."

But Dr. Humphrey is getting older, and last month he worked out a plan so the alcoholics can come to him. He bought a 250-acre farm near Chulpeper, Va., and is turning it into a salvage center for drunkards.

"It will simply be a place where alcoholics who want to rehabilitate themselves can come, get back on the right path, and put themselves in physical shape to go back to normal life."

"There won't be any doctors and nurses. I'm doing this on a shoestring. If a man needs pills and hypodermic, he ought to be in a hospital."

The farm, called "Lord Willing" in tribute to the higher power which Dr. Humphrey feels created him to straighten out his own drinking problem, will be equipped with cattle, sheep, and hogs. It will have a vegetable garden.

"I don't know of anything quite like this that is now being done anywhere else," said Dr. Humphrey. "The men will work under the supervision of a staff of farmhands. We'll be able to take about 10 men at a time and I feel we'll be able to put at least 10 men a year back on their feet. A month of simple outdoor living will work wonders in the way of health."

The project is supported by a number of local ministers. Neighboring craftsmen—carpenters, masons, and plumbers—have volunteered their services in putting the

Syria Leftists Most Powerful In Arab World

Damascus, Syria, March 2 (AP)—A year ago Syria was riding its crest of a rightist military dictatorship. Today this country has the most active left wing in the Arab world.

Syria is the only Arab state to elect an admitted Communist to Parliament. A third of its newspapers are leftist. And Syrian Communist leaders have emerged as leaders of all Arab Reds.

Communists here got their big chance in March, 1954, after military dictator Adib Shihabiyeh was overthrown. Shihabiyeh had suppressed Communism with a heavy hand. He also had suppressed all other parties. Accustomed to working underground, the Communists weathered the dictatorship in better form than more conservative parties.

Hold Small Minority
Communists still are a small minority in Syria, but their influence is strong, internally and externally. The party officially is outlawed, but its candidates enter elections as independents and its leaders are well known.

In last September's parliamentary elections, Communists elected their leader, Khalid Bekdash, to the Syrian Parliament. Communists running as independents polled a relatively heavy vote in Damascus. Throughout the country, the total Communist vote was around 45,000 in a population of about 3 1/2 million.

All these 45,000 are not Communists of course. Many voted for the left simply in protest against the West. Others supported Communists in exchange for political support of their own candidates.

Although their number is not large, the Communists have gained disproportionate influence through manipulating an informant "popular front" with the Socialist, resurrector party and the Moslem Brotherhood. These three can pull together point-mob strength for widespread demonstrations at almost any time.

Reds Infiltrate Press
Communists have also infiltrated the Syrian press. An American Embassy official estimated that one-third of Damascus newspapers follow the Communist line, another third frequently support the Communist, and the others are neutral. Even among non-Communist papers, almost every journal has at least one known leftist in a key staff position.

Damascus bookshops are flooded with low-priced, well printed Communist books. Featuring timely subjects, these books sell for around 30 cents each. In some rural areas, where school facilities are lacking, Communists have set up private primary schools, which are leftist propaganda cells. The Syrian and Lebanese Communist movements have merged into a single unit, headed by Bekdash. The party is underground in the rest of the Arab world, but Lebanese intelligence sources say Bekdash is Communist leader for all Arab countries.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE!
Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. John Luehrich was before the Nebraska legislative subcommittee fighting to keep the dove on the state's postage bird list.

"When a proponent of dove shooting commented that carrier pigeons are extinct, she spun and exclaimed 'carrier pigeons, not carrier pigeons, are extinct. Men who don't know the difference between carrier pigeons and passenger pigeons shouldn't carry a gun.'"

The dove hunting bill was killed.
