Hungary Premier's Ouster Indicated by Red Leaders

Vienna newspapers have speculated that the new premier might be either Defense Minister Mihaly Farkas or Vice Premier Javnan Hilda, formerly minister of heavy industry.

It appeared likely that Nagy would fall a lot farther than Malenkov, who was only demoted to a deputy premiership. The Soviet leader lost his job—officially—because he was incapable of running his government.

Hold Hearing Today on Bill Allowing Transfer of Cases

There were many tense moments at the bid opening yesterday in the Municipal Building as General Manager Richard Martin, at the microphone, read off the base bids submitted by 17 general contractors. Contractors and town officials jotted down the figures and made hasty comparisons. From the first bid onward it was obvious that the town would get the school built for a favorable price.

In the lower photograph, Edson M. Bailey, left, principal of Manchester High School, and Arthur H. Hill, superintendent of schools, two of the officials most closely concerned with the new high school, kept track of the bids in the corridor outside the hearing room.

Another one in the series of proposed bills aimed at establishing a branch of the Superior and Common Pleas courts in Manchester was scheduled for a legislative hearing this afternoon at the State Capitol.

The bill, which was submitted by Manchester Representatives Ray Warren and Thomas Rogers, would provide for the free transfer of cases between Hartford, New Britain and Manchester.

Free transfer in this sense means that a case can be transferred on the motion of the court or of one of the parties involved in the case. Ordinarily, a case cannot be transferred without the approval of all the parties involved.

At the present time, the Hartford and New Britain courts are operating under a statute which provides for the free transfer of cases between the two districts. The proposed bill would be an amendment to that statute. It could not be passed, however, unless the two proposed bills calling for the establishment of the high courts in Manchester are approved by the legislature. The hearings on those bills were heard last week.

The hearing on the bill today is being held by the joint House-Senate Judiciary Committee. It is scheduled to convene at 1:30.

This committee is holding a hearing on another "free transfer" bill tomorrow which would make obsolete the one the group is discussing today.

It was drafted by Atty. John D. LaBelle, who had a hand in drawing up the act under consideration this afternoon.

It would permit the free transfer of cases between any judicial district in the state. LaBelle said today that such a bill is needed in view of the fact that the State's court business is very unevenly distributed among the courts.

He said that while some court dockets are overburdened with cases, other courts have business enough for only one month of a season. He cited this as one reason for the docket log-jams.

LaBelle said the court or one of the parties involved in a case should be permitted, on a motion, to transfer a case from a court with a crowded docket to one where there is an opportunity for a reasonably prompt hearing.

If this bill, which would pertain to all the courts in the State, is passed, it would make unnecessary the bill dealing with the free transfer of cases between Hartford, New Britain and Manchester only.

Stocks Making Recovery After Tuesday Break

to $168.50, the sharpest decline since Jan. 17, when the average lost 3.50. The decline in the average was equal in a fall of about three billion dollars in the total valuation of all shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The selling coincided with testimony by Harvard economist John K. Galbraith before the Senate Banking Committee, which is studying the market's long. Galbraith said stock-buying should be put on a 100 per cent cash basis and other precautionary measures should be adopted to avoid a collapse in the future. At present, a buyer, if he is purchasing on margin, must put up 50 per cent cash. Until Jan. 3, 50 per cent cash was necessary.

Buyer Break Overdue

How much Galbraith's testimony may have had to do with yesterday's break was debated in Wall Street. J. M. G. of Hemphill, Noyes & Co. suggested that a break was overdue and that it was touched off by Galbraith's testimony. "The first serious statement to come out of the hearings," in Wall Street, a hearing statement is a pessimistic statement.

De Sienes added, however, that "we would have had reaction anyway." He noted that the market has been at an all-time high level in recent weeks.

A. J. Christie of M. G. K. & Co. also observed that the market was vulnerable at these levels. He said the market had a decline of about 10 per cent in the market since January.

Christie commented that while the boom in margin requirements in January was designed to reduce speculation, this had not occurred. He said the market had been in a steady decline in activity among blue chip (quality) issues and a sharp pickup in activity in secondary and speculative stocks.

Dulles Convinced U.S. China Nearing Military Showdown

ary activities of the Chinese Communist are not in fact the first sign of an attack against Formosa and the Philippines. He said that a cease-fire may be attainable. "We know that from conditions on their own responsibility, are seeking to find some way out of these hopes. Also, the United States is studying the matter in a search for a solution."

"So far these efforts have been determined to try to compel Formosa to try to compel Formosa."

"Small nations cannot easily be self-confident under the next door to Communist China. It is almost unlimited manpower, which is easily dominated, and could quickly engulf the entire area were it not restrained by the mutual security structure which has been erected. But that structure will not hold if it is worth alone. Essential is the United States and our willingness to put in the necessary resources to a military challenge."

"The Chinese Communist is determined to try to achieve such a balance. At the same time they are persistently trying to belittle our power and to throw doubt on our resolve."

See U.S. as 'Paper Tiger'

Dulles added that the Chinese Reds, by claiming great victories in Korea and in the recent Tachen Island evacuation, as well as in Indochina last summer, attempt to portray the United States as a "paper tiger" on whose strength small nations cannot rely.

"We must, if occasion offers, make it clear that we are prepared to stand firm and necessary meet hostile force with a greater force than we possess," the Secretary said.

Dulles described U.S. strategy in defense of Formosa as flexible. Knowledge of the Secretary's position is fully confident that the Quency and Matsui islands are "not going to be placed on any bargain counter" for a deal with the Chinese Communists.

The Senate's Republican leader added in an interview he is convinced "any major effort to take these islands will be resisted by us." The offshore island groups are held by Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

Knowledge thus related to a suggestion by British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden yesterday that the Nationalist Government in Formosa should be allowed to withdraw troops from some islands off China as a prelude to any cease-fire agreement.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told newsmen yesterday the loss of Quency and Matsui would hamper the defense of Formosa but "in the long run would not make too much difference in the result."

Knowledge avoided direct comment on the announcement but Sen. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he doesn't agree with Wang Kai-shek's forces on Formosa in readiness to strike back at the Communists if they should break the truce in either Korea or Indochina. Smith said, "To carry out such a strike, they would need Quency and Matsui as operating bases."

President to Deeds

Dulles, in his nationwide broadcast last night did not mention Quency and Matsui by name, but he obviously had them in mind when he said:

"How to implement the defense of Formosa the President will decide, in the light of his judgment as to the overall value of certain coastal positions to the defense of Formosa, and the cost of holding these positions."

Secretary Wilson, saying he does

Florida Drinkers Create Problem

Gainesville, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Florida has an estimated 91,000 to 94,000 excessive drinkers—"far ahead of other Southern states" but still well under California, the state with the highest level of alcoholism, says a University of Florida sociologist.

Dr. John M. MacLachlan told the Florida conference on a unit program for beverage alcoholism and narcotic education that he and his staff found this out in a survey of all Florida counties. "The problem is serious, he said, "Tests show that communities with a high level of alcoholism have more excessive drinkers."

Other results show, he said, that drinking problems among women are increasing faster than among men. Business executives and administrators are 50 per cent ahead of expectations for excessive drinking; but professional groups have only about half their share of alcoholism.

Coventry Public Health Nurse Made 73 House Calls in February

Coventry, March 9 (Special)—The public health nurse made 73 house calls in February, her first month on duty. In her report to the Public Health Nursing Assn. Mrs. O'Brien said there were 15 new cases and 60 revivals. There were 54 visits requiring bedside nursing care and 18 requiring health guidance.

At the Well-Child Conference 18 children were treated and 17 immunized by Dr. Louise C. Tobin, physician in attendance. Dr. Tobin was assisted by Mrs. Frederick C. Ryan, Mrs. Joseph P. Eaton of the Young Mothers Club. This club has several subcommittees of the P.H.N.A.

A dental clinic is scheduled for July when a dental hygienist from the State Bureau of Health will be present. This clinic will include cleaning and fluoride treatments. Appointments will be made to accommodate 60 pre-school children, with preference given to those entering school in September.

Volunteer help has been used for assisting telephone calls to her office between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. This public assistance was given twice a week by the P.H.N.A. to relieve Mrs. O'Brien of additional outside activity. Anyone wishing to call the office is asked to telephone FR 2-7112, or when inquiring of in-home care, call the Coventry Public Health Nursing Assn. number.

Supplies have been received from the Cancer Society for dressings. Mrs. Fred Walker is making dressings and pads for Mrs. O'Brien in her work. There have been offers from local organizations to help with this work, and as soon as more supplies are available they will be distributed to these groups.

In her report Mrs. O'Brien said it is interesting to note the number of people who are acquainting themselves with the new services and taking advantage of them.

Added to Committee—Mrs. Harold C. Demorey and Mrs. Leo T. Leary have been added to the Publicity Committee of the P.H.N.A. to assist Mrs. Richard G. Jodry. There will be a meeting of the group with John F. Chappelle, P.H.N.A. president, to make plans for future special events publicity. An emergency will be held in April in the Church Community House for the P.H.N.A. program benefit.

The food sale March 19 at the South Coventry Firehouse will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Food donations will be received at 10 a.m. that day. The public is invited to donate homemade bread. Chapelle can be contacted for pickup service for those unable to bring food to the firehouse.

The Young Mothers Club will have its annual banquet April 15 at Hillcrest Restaurant, Bolton. The committee includes Mrs. Robert Clapp, Mrs. Ronald Knapp, Mrs. Arnold Carlson, Mrs. Ethel Cargo, Mrs. Michael Drzewany and a new club member, In Tourney.

The local boys' team is entered in a tournament sponsored by the Toland School. One section is composed of Rockville schools and the other includes Toland, Hebron, Hill Memorial or South Willington, Storrs and Robertson of Coventry. One defeat eliminates a team. The winner of one section will play the winner of the other section in the championship.

The Time Table in Germany
 Just as our efforts to push Japan into heavier rearmament are threatened by the apparent difficulty in the new parliament of obtaining any two-thirds vote for the revision of the Japanese constitution necessary to make Japanese armament legal, so in Western Germany the rearmament we seek also faces prolonged and difficult parliamentary obstacles.
 Chancellor Adenauer got ratification of the Paris agreements by a healthy vote. However, it was in the minds of many of those voting for the rearmament that the fact that the fact of rearmament will depend upon all other votes.
 And also in many of these votes was the idea that the time being might be a time for diplomatic bargaining, toward the rearmament of Germany.

Familiar, Good Appeal
 A cause which has an old, intimate, and deep acquaintance with Manchester pocketbooks is or the canvas again.
 We have given to the Red Cross over the years, and give generously, because we ourselves have become sold on it, as an organization, and for the work we know it does.
 We know it is the one agency in the world organized and equipped to meet promptly, instantly, and efficiently, in the event of action. When it comes to action, the Red Cross is one organization, which by instinct and training, makes a practice of cutting red tape.
 The appeal to Manchester this year is for $20,000, an amount which has come to be the normal amount in these abnormal years. When the world is so full of uncertainty as at war, when uncertainty abounds every phase of the human venture, when American boys are stationed all around the world, we ought to fill this quota, for the cause itself, and with a cheerfulness which lets the campaign workers for the Red Cross know they are our friends, for calling on us in a good cause.

 Members from other posts are invited to attend. There are 56 members of the post. Reservations must be made by Monday. Tickets are available from committee members or officers of the post.

A Thought for Today
 Experience Proves that money-making affairs at church do not actually help a congregation — often are questionable in nature — substitute buying and selling for Christian giving — create uneasiness and competition with business firms — take time and energy from our people which is needed for spiritual work in the congregation — are a confession that our Christian giving leaves much to be desired.

Rockville-Vernon Residents to Dial Letters In New Telephone System

Rockville, March 9 (Special).—A new system for dialing telephone numbers will be instituted here April 3 according to an announcement by "Seabury" Lewis, manager of the branch office of the Southern New England Telephone Co.

Lewis states that almost all the existing numbers will remain unchanged but they will be preceded by the letter "V" which will require the user to dial TR before the numbers.

The change will necessitate issuing a new directory and though at first subscribers may be inconvenienced Lewis feels that all customers will realize it is a step toward the day when residents will be able to dial many of their long distance calls directly, eliminating the necessity of going through a long distance operator.

In April of 1951 the dial system was introduced in the area, and away with the use of operators for local calls. Long distance calls must now be handled by operators in Manchester.

The new dial system, TR, means, Lewis said that it was one of more than 200 considerations that were measured up to requirements.

Juvenile Court Refuses Trial; Youth Receives Suspended Sentence

Robert W. Pachesa, 16, of 122 Chestnut St., was fined $20, given a 90 day suspended jail sentence, and placed on probation for one year after trial in Town Court this morning on a charge of taking a motor vehicle without the owner's permission.

He was arrested by Manchester Police for an incident which occurred on Jan. 11 and involved several other youths.

When the case was heard shortly after 10 in Town Court, Pachesa was referred to juvenile authorities, according to Prosecutor W. David Smith.

In the period since then the youth was tried on a similar charge in West Hartford, with a suspended sentence and a year's probation.

The juvenile court authorities decided that Pachesa should not be treated as an adult in one court and a juvenile offender in another court, so they sent the case back to Town Court for trial and return to juvenile court.

He was defended by ATTY. Eugene Kelly who said the West Hartford charge was perhaps a result of a fraud by friends of Pachesa, whom he knew when he lived there. The youth has since moved with his family to Manchester for trial and return to juvenile court.

Vinson has said a main purpose of the hearings is to obtain information with which to answer questions on the House floor raised by Congressmen.

Top Navy officials have testified before the committee this week in Washington. The 3,000 ton Nautilus, first with nuclear power and now well advanced in builder's trials was estimated to cost $29,000,000, exclusive of Atomic Energy Commission costs.

The committee also approved naming the fifth center the USEC.

Chief Adm. Wilson D. Leggett Jr., chief of the Bureau of Ships, completed testimony by telling the committee that the bill contains specific authority for 16,400 tons of new naval vessels and 284,200 tons of conversions.

The new construction, he said, would be charged against blanket coverage previously authorized by Congress.

Suspends Judgment in Dentistry Complaint in View of Record

Ralph T. Gaston, 39, of Box 10, Dr. Vernon, received a suspended judgment in Town Court this morning on a charge of illegal practice of dentistry, alleged violation of Sec. 1696 of the General Statutes.

Atty. Herman Yules, defending Gaston, said Gaston had been chosen as a "scapegoat" in an attempt to bring down the Connecticut State Dental Assn. had instituted by making a complaint against Gaston after a private investigation.

Yules said it is a matter of common knowledge that the particular legislation under which Gaston was charged was voted several times in the past and has only recently been enacted. He added that a part of the act which section under which Gaston was charged—has been declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court.

Prosecutor W. David Keith said the complaint against Gaston, a dental technician, was made as the result of incidents which occurred on Feb. 11 and 12.

Allegedly, services were rendered which were in contravention of the statute, Keith added.

A plea of nolo was entered by Gaston and only been trying to render a service to a patient who said he did not have time to wait for a dentist's appointment, Yules said.

The attorney stated that Pinkerton detectives had been hired to carry out the investigation and that Gaston had attempted to return one of the two patients on which he worked to a dentist but the "patient" said he would wait.

In light of Gaston's record of work in the dental field since 1941 without incident and six years in Manchester without a complaint, Judge John J. O'Connor felt judgment should be suspended.

Oppenheimer-Harmin

Mrs. Alfred Oppenheimer
Miss Barbara Ann Harmin
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmin, 37 Greenfield St., Hartford, formerly of Manchester, was married Sunday to Alfred Oppenheimer, son of Mrs. Martha Oppenheimer, 132 Baltimore St., Hartford, and the late Carl Oppenheimer. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rabbi Hans Bodenshteyn at the Shantel, 566 Ashbur St., which was decorated with pink and white flowers.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Burton Harmin, as matron of honor, and by Miss Helen Williams as maid of honor. Ivan Edelman, Hartford, was best man. Others were: E. J. Harmin, 215 E. Hartford, and E. J. Harmin, 215 E. Hartford, as groomsmen; and Mrs. E. J. Harmin, 215 E. Hartford, as bridesmaid.

The bride's gown of hand-pleated tulle and nylon tulle, with a three-quarter length matching lace train, was designed by Mrs. E. J. Harmin. The bride's shoes were of hand-pleated tulle and nylon tulle, with a three-quarter length matching lace train. The bride's veil was of hand-pleated tulle and nylon tulle, with a three-quarter length matching lace train.

The ceremony was held at the Shantel, 566 Ashbur St., which was decorated with pink and white flowers. The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Burton Harmin, as matron of honor, and by Miss Helen Williams as maid of honor.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to the members of the immediate families and close friends. Later a reception was held for over 100 guests.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New York City, the bride was wearing a navy blue box suit, blue and white hat and navy accessories. On their return they will make their home at 130 Baltimore St., and receive their friends and relatives on Saturday.

The bride was graduated from Manchester High School and is a private secretary with the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. Her husband is a graduate of Weaver High School, Hartford, served with the Armed Forces and spent a year in Europe.

Powerful Opposition Faces Sales Tax Exemption Bills

Hartford, March 9 (AP)—Opposition to bills which would exempt certain automobiles from the state sales tax was small but potent yesterday at a hearing of the General Assembly's Finance Committee. House Majority Leader James E. O'Brien (R-Fairfield) praised the current sales tax for having few exemptions. W. Sheffield Covles (R-Farmington) speaker of the House and chairman of the Finance Committee in 1952, said exemptions ought to be reviewed every two years, adding that he is in favor of eliminating all of them. The chief proponent before the committee was a measure to change the sales tax law on purchases where an article traded in constitutes part of the purchase price.

Right now the three per cent sales tax must be paid on the full list price of all articles, says automobiles. In the case of automobiles, the tax is levied only on the cash payment made to the dealer after the trade-in allowance. "Three measures before the committee called for treating all merchandise as if it were new, while other bills called for specific articles such as books, marine engines and farm implements to be so taxed."

The main exemptions under the present law are food, children's clothing and prescription medicine. Still other bills before the committee would grant complete exemptions to such articles as soap and patent medicines. The committee has more such bills listed for a future hearing.

John Tarrant, research director for the State Tax Department, testified that according to a "minimum estimate" the proposal to change the method of levying the sales tax on trade-in sales would cost the state nearly $500,000 annually. He said elimination of all exemptions would boost the tax yield by one-third, Tarrant added that he is opposed to a limitation of the exemption on food.

Several witnesses testified that if the trade-in value on all sales is not exempted, then automobile buyers would be taxed the same as others. The present law is "purely discriminatory and manifestly unfair," said Theodore Steiber of Bridgeport, former Fairfield County treasurer. Steiber said he was "sure it (the law) would not stand the test of the courts."

Several boat builders complained that many of their customers buy in New York and Massachusetts to evade the sales tax. Covles said: "Once you start making exemptions, even for very worthy things, you'll gradually narrow the base to the point where you won't be getting the revenue you now get."

Parelli added: "If we start to open up our sales tax act by adding exemptions, there will be no limit. The two high-ranking House Republicans formed the only opposition to the bills at the hearing."

The committee has announced that a public hearing on the sales tax will be held in the hall of the House March 31. Bills to be considered include one to continue the present 3 per cent rate by the year July 1, when it is scheduled to drop to 2 per cent, and another to raise the rate to 4 per cent.

Storrs, Conn., March 9 (AP)—Two men employed by the University of Connecticut to help set up a U.S. Government-sponsored labor education center in the Philippines resigned in the face of charges of misbehavior. James E. Tully of Hartford and Cyril A. O'Brien of Somersville, Mass., said they turned in their resignations to the University yesterday.

The charges arose from their reported involvement in a Manila waterfront strike while in the Philippines to establish a labor education center under the annual sponsorship of the U.S. Foreign Operations Administration. The university had scheduled a hearing on the charges but the resignations cancel it out.

Tully said he and O'Brien had taken over the university to resign and receive three months severance pay. Tully is former AFL union official and O'Brien was an instructor at Boston College before going to Manila. The Philippines on the labor mission.

NORWICH MAN HINGED
Norwich, March 9 (AP)—Melvin T. Pearson went outside to see what was going on when a fire broke out yesterday on a second floor porch in the rear of the store where he is employed.

An unidentified person threw a burning floor mat off the porch and it landed on Pearson's head, setting his hair on fire. A passerby grabbed a handful of snow and pressed it on Pearson's burning hair. After Pearson received minor burns on his scalp and forehead, damage to the porch was estimated at several hundred dollars.

TPC Rejects Mott Bid For Property Rezoning

Deny Request to Change E. Center St. to Business; See Spot Zoning; May Appeal
Mott Supermarket's request for a change from industrial zone to business for property at 175 E. Center St. was rejected by the Town Planning Commission meeting in executive session last night.

The planners' statement released today, the Commission explained that a zoning change to business would constitute spot zoning and "would be in contravention of the Commission's plan for this immediate area."

The planners further stated: "To permit this change of zone is more than just reclassifying one single lot from Residence A to Business Zone II. It is a change of zone which would be granted a 'wedge' to be formed by other zoning changes for additional business zones. The Commission also said that the rezoning would create a precedent for other similar rezoning requests in the area."

Other disadvantages which could result from granting the Mott request, the planners stated, are: (1) Increased traffic volume; (2) Increased parking area; (3) Increased volume of traffic; (4) Increased volume of traffic; (5) Increased volume of traffic.

The Commission also cited as a reason for rejecting the bid a previous application for a change from business zone to residential zone on the proposed high school site.

The planners also said plans had been created to augment the permitted uses in Residence Zone C in the area. They reasoned that the established C zone provides a general character and appearance of the road with its residential type structures which can be converted to professional offices.

John S. G. Kottler, attorney representing Mott in his application, was out of town today and could not be reached for comment on an appeal of the Commission's decision. Kottler's partner, George C. Lerner, was also unavailable for comment.

Town Donor's Bid
In a companion decision rendered by the Commission, another application for change in business zone for property on E. Center St. was rejected. The request involved the application of Dr. Alvin Volmer and Theodore Rosen for property west of the Church property to Business II or III.

The same reasons for denying the application on the other property were given as cause for rejecting the doctor's plan.

Health, Hands, Head, Heart: Sewing Basket Filled With Nimble Fingers

By JOSEPH A. OWENS
Coventry (Special)—If the hometown girls are the best there is in New England, and who is to say they're not, it is because this is the "sewing" town anyone could ever hope to visit.

Mrs. Margaret M. Mott, a diminutive woman with blue eyes, is the key figure in the Sewing Basket club, and each Tuesday morning promptly at 9:30, eight women meet at 110, 112 and 114 years of age, converge on her home for the weekly meeting and lesson.

At the last meeting some of the members of the club, who have made Jean Stross a very busy woman, were present. Mamm, says "It's all right, Suzanne picks up the scissors and goes to work."

The executive assistant to the selectman of New Canaan recieve $400 each.

The town's three assessors, says the CEPAC, also receive $1,200 a year each for their services.

Martin Salary Fourth in State For Managers

Hartford, March 9 (AP)—Richard Martin, fourth, malarkey, among the city and town managers of the State, according to a report of the Connecticut Public Expenditures Council (CEPEC).

However, Martin's $12,020, coupled with his assistant's salary of $4,004, falls far behind Greenwich's aggregate executive salary of $29,060. Greenwich gave her first selection $7,500, each of the other two selections $2,500 and $3,160 to an official known as the executive assistant to the selectman.

City managers who are paid more than the local chief executive include: Hartford Manager Louis Hartford, $15,744; West Hartford, $12,500; New London, $12,200. Other salaries of managers include: Milford, $11,000; Norwich, $8,500; Farmington, $8,000; Windham, $7,500; Stratford, $7,500; Killingly, $7,250; and Bloomfield, $6,000.

State Constitution Shift Urged at Public Hearing

Hartford, March 9 (AP)—Repeal of the Connecticut constitution, a costly subject during any legislative session, drew a crowd of about 200 persons to a public hearing of the Judiciary Committee yesterday. More than 90 per cent of those in attendance were women.

John A. Bailey, Democratic State chairman, opened testimony with an appeal to Republicans to give the State's voters a chance to say whether constitutional revision is necessary.

Heard Two Main Bills
Specifically the Judiciary Committee heard testimony on two constitutional amendments to meet next January to draft a new Constitution if it considered one necessary. The amendments would require approval by the voters.

The second bill, which received the greater backing from witnesses, called for a referendum on next November to decide whether a constitutional convention should be held in the event the decision is to hold a convention.

Smith replied: "The market's some days it sells up, some days it sells down. What made it sell off yesterday, I don't know."

Roberts noted market prices were down again at today's opening and asked Smith facetiously if he thought his own testimony was responsible.

"I am much more certain," Smith assured him, "there has been nothing in my testimony that made the market sell off than that it really is a healthy market."

Robertson on the other hand, announced, somewhat in the manner of a reporter hearing good tidings:

"The latest word, Mr. Chairman, is that the market has started to rally."

There was general laughter in the hearing room.

Smith said he doesn't know whether stock prices in general are high or not.

"No One Knows

"I don't believe anybody else knows," Smith added.

Smith testified before the Senate Banking Committee, Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) asked soon after Smith had prepared his statement whether he thought the committee's inquiry into the market was any more than a "re-run of the price drop."

"I would doubt it very much," Mr. Chairman, Smith replied.

He went on to say that Fulbright, made a statement last Thursday when the hearing opened warning investors against buying or selling stocks on the basis of day-to-day testimony.

Smith said he believed that statement took on a new significance "extremely well."

Smith's view was pretty much echoed by Henry G. Riter III, new president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in a talk with reporters at the White House.

Riter had just had a visit with President Eisenhower, and said he told the President that business conditions generally "certainly are looking very good."

Asked whether the President agreed, Riter replied:

"I would say so yes."

Fulbright asked whether Smith would agree that if the market does fluctuate as a result of the hearings there is no justification for it.

"That is my opinion," Smith replied.

Fulbright began by reading part of an Associated Press financial dispatch saying some brokers believed the "trigger" for yesterday's price drop could be found in the Banking Committee's market study.

The AP account mentioned that the committee has asked the Pentagon for a list of companies with the biggest defense contracts. Fulbright has said the committee hopes to find out whether heavy defense spending contributed to the market boom.

The Arkansas Senator did not read the entire New York dispatch, which also referred to yesterday's testimony by Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith.

Galbraith urged that all market trading be put on a cash basis, and that other "precautionary" steps be taken to keep the 18-month-old market boom from getting out of hand and possibly ending in a crash.

Smith volunteered the comment:

Two Found Guilty Of Larceny Here

Two individuals were found guilty and two had charges noted in companion cases in Town Court this morning on charges resulting from the rifling of a pinball machine in the North End Book Shop late last month.

Found guilty by Deputy Judge John J. O'Connor were Arthur St. Pierre, 27, of Hartford, of being an accessory in larceny, and Harold Lark, 20, of 25 Mill St., of larceny.

The sum involved was the past $35, but in light of the past records of the two, the judge imposed the maximum penalty for the statute under which they were charged. Each was fined $25, given 90 day suspended jail sentences and placed on probation for one year.

Those who had charges of larceny noted were Thomas O. O'Neill, 16, of 19 Minis Court; and Charles E. St. Pierre, 36, of Box Mt. Rd. Bolton. This action was taken on recommendation of Prosecutor W. David Keith. He said that, after investigation, he felt the State did not have proof that O'Neill and Charles St. Pierre were aware of the circumstances or that money had been stolen.

Atty. Philip Ray represented Arthur St. Pierre and told the

Reds, Fascists Start Fist Fight In Italy Senate

Rome, March 9 (AP) - Italian Senate debate on the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany broke up today in a free-for-all fist fight between Communist and Fascist Senators.

Senate President Cesare Merzagora suspended the session while the battling factions and clear the hall.

The fight started when Red Sen. Emilio Sereni resumed a quarrel with Sen. Giovanni Messe, wartime Italian marshal on the Russian front and now a member of Premier Mario Scelba's Christian Democratic Party.

The Senate session was suspended Saturday in disorder - but short of blows - after Sen. Serafini called Messe a fascist and Messe accused Sereni of working against the Italian Army through his ties with Communist activities in France.

There resumed the argument today, Fascist Senators tried to shoot him down. Then half a dozen Senators from each side rushed to the center of the hall and began pushing.

Margaret Intends to Marry RAF Captain, Palace Says

only just before his abdication to marry her.

New rumors of the Margaret-Townsend romance were splashed in two of London's biggest Sunday newspapers three days ago.

The Manchester Evening Herald reported on Monday and Tuesday front-page what it described as interviews with Townsend in Brussels, started by the British air attaché in 1953 after tongues started wagging about the Princess' frequent appearances with him.

So far there has been no public reaction from the Church of England. Officially it is supposed that divorced persons re-marrying. But many clergymen take an opposite view toward persons who like Townsend are in indirect part in the divorce action.

Yesterday, Margaret sat beside the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, at a public luncheon given by the Lord Mayor of London to welcome her home from her Caribbean tour. The Princess and the Archbishop are old friends. Throughout the luncheon they talked together amiably.

The Archbishop has said publicly that he feels sympathy for the quandary of divorced church folk who want to re-marry. But he added that as the highest ranking prelate of the established church, he could not give official approval.

Margaret's sister, the Queen, has a high place in the church. The words "defender of the faith" form part of her title. Presumably she could not express approval of the marriage in her role as Queen of the Realm. But there have been well-substantiated reports that she has given her consent in a private, personal capacity as an older sister who has heavy responsibilities in the matter.

Townsend has avoided reporters scrupulously until this week.

Today the pro-royalist London Daily Sketch quoted him as saying in Brussels: "My life was hell when I first came here. My loyalty to Princess Margaret is unquestionable. I would undergo any difficulty because of that loyalty. I cannot answer questions about my friendship with Princess Margaret. That is my private life. But whatever the answer were, it would make no difference because of my loyalty to her."

There was no clear explanation of what he meant by "answer."

As for being sent to Brussels, Townsend said only, "I cannot remember whether I was sent for this job or was pushed into it."

Queen Elizabeth and Margaret both would be pleased to witness heavily the implications of Margaret's marriage to a divorced commoner.

Her uncle Edward's romance with the woman stopped back.

Study Activities In Home, School

Parents and teachers of the Holy Trinity school seventh grade students participated in a discussion on studies and activities in the home and school in the regular P.T.A. meeting last night.

It was noted that the seventh grade is not too early to start preparation for high school and to consider the courses to be taken there.

Parents were told of the present shop and home economics program and the group was unanimous in wanting to see their interest through the P.T.A. in a more extensive program. A similar idea was discussed to show interest in the British Commonwealth of Nations Loyalty and admission for the sovereign are an important element in the holding together of the globe-grinding British territories.

A marriage for Margaret after her 25th birthday Aug. 21 would relieve the Queen of any direct responsibility for assenting. The British constitution requires the sovereign's consent only until a member of the family turns 25.

Margaret, as a holy matrimony specialist, has had many romances of romance. But she has carried out her duty as a princess with a broken wrist.

Workers Canvas Town For Red Cross Drive

In a special plea to the people of Manchester, Town Clerk Samuel J. Turkington Jr., chairman of the Residential Division for the 1955 Red Cross Fund Drive, has asked that everyone be on the alert for the Red Cross worker soliciting funds in their neighborhood.

"Because of the very inclement weather during the past weekend, many of the calls that were to be made were omitted," he said. "Turkington, 'just put your money aside for a few days and your Red Cross solicitor will be at your home to ask you to give generously.' In an effort to thoroughly canvass Manchester there are about 400 workers but if anyone feels that he or she has some extra time and effort to give to the campaign fund drive, please contact Mrs. Kay Thompson at the Red Cross office or the Town Clerk's office and ask for me," Mr. Turkington concluded.

Bednar Sentenced For $38,000 Theft

Judge Molloy interrupted the lawyer.

"In other words," he said, "they are making a last minute deal with the court."

The lawyer said he was aware that no promise could be made his clients but that he was simply making known to the court how they felt about the situation.

The judge said that if the young couple decide to appeal their conviction to the Supreme Court of Errors, their bonds will be $25,000 each.

Members of the family in court, when sentence was passed, included the elder Bednars, his wife, three others of their 11 children and a sister of young Mrs. Bednar.

The mother, who herself was discharged as a defendant last week, cried quietly upon hearing the sentence.

Judge Assails Woman

Judge Molloy turned to young Mrs. Bednar after sentencing the young couple.

"I intended to make it more in your case," he said. "Because I believe that you have been an evil influence in this case."

The judge discussed the case in considerable length before imposing sentence, going into the various factors which prompted him to modify the sentence of three to 10 years in prison recommended by State Atty. Albert S. Sh.

Hebron Weekend Storm Hinders Travel

Hebron, March 9 (Special). Local events were pretty much held up during the three days of the ice storm Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It being a weekend, there was no question of closing school. Church services were well attended in spite of bad traveling conditions.

About 20 were present at the Lenten service at St. Peter's Episcopal Rectory Hall, led by the Rev. Richard D. Clark, Rector, and conducted a "true and unfair" test.

The Lenten services will be continued through the season in the Rectory Hall, at 7:30 p. m., Sundays.

Services of Holy Communion were held in all the churches here Sunday, the Rev. John G. Beck officiating at the Congregational church, and the Rev. Richard D. Clark, St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Parliament Battle

Paris, March 9 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure's government has won its first parliamentary battle as a budget issue involving limited pay increases for government employees and retired civil servants.

The National Assembly approved the budget article 362-342 last night after Faure won his two-week-old cabinet would resign if defeated. The Assembly turned down the same measure when it was first presented by former Premier Pierre Mendès-France.

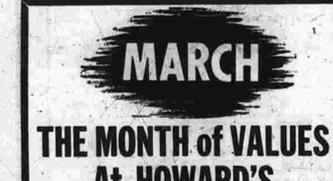

The article calls for a yearly raise equivalent to 2.71 for civil and military personnel, both active and retired.
