Bolton Poll Workers Have Holiday; 'Yes' Votes Score Shutout

Bolton, July 27 (Special)—These town just about made the predicted 40 per cent turnout of voters for yesterday's referendum. Only 40 people voted in the 13 hour session and eight of them were workers at the polls.

Of the people voting, 40 voted "yes" to the question altering the method of tallying ballots on constitutional amendments. There were no votes registered in the "no" column. Workers guessed that the four votes lost in the tally due to an error in counting the ballot. It was necessary to use the individual levers to register a vote and it was surmised that four voters had pulled the party lever which did not register a vote yesterday.

Workers played cards and visited during the long, boring session. Only 12 people had voted up to noon with most of the activity coming between 5 and 7 p.m. George Davies was moderator for the session; Donald Massey and Burton Thibbe, machanic; Mrs. Marcie Manigault and Mrs. Myron Lee were on duty as registrars; Mrs. J. Ernest Agnew and Mrs. Ruth Ducharme, checkers; and Mrs. August Midler, machine tender.

New Airport Cost Set at $3 Million

Hartford, Conn., July 27 (AP)—Advocates of a regional airport to serve 8 or 10 towns in the Hartford-New Britain-Middletown region say the proposed facility would cost a maximum of three million dollars.

Speakers for the Committee to Save Brainard Field were questioned by three Connecticut newspaper editors last night on a television program "Page One WVCB-TV."

After Brainard Field was abandoned for industrial expansion, the committee advanced the idea of establishing a regional airport to serve business aircraft operating out of the Central Connecticut area.

Howard J. Gross, committee chairman, said the proposed airport would cost a maximum of three million dollars and could be financed by a bond issue supported by the credit of the participating communities.

The field, he said, should be located somewhere along the Berlin Turnpike to make it accessible to all towns in the area in short driving time.

Gross said about 80 per cent of the cost of such an airport could be paid by the federal government under existing regulations. He said the cost could be paid off by revenue from concessions and rent from business that would base their operations at the field.

George G. Cary, chairman of the committee, told the editors such an airport would benefit all participating communities by offering their businessmen a day's biggest advantage in a jiffy wooded area for Brainard Field. Cary added.

Conducting the questioning was Stanford H. Wendover, editor of the Meriden Journal; Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant; and Eric Clemow, publisher of the West Hartford News.

Rallies After Shaky Start to Upset North Ends 6-3

Carlson Gains First Win 5 to 1

Carlson's pitching was the key to the victory over the North Stars in an Intermediate League game at the West Side Oval. The triumph, Carlson's first of the season, also moved the winners into a tie with the Motors for third place. Carlson gave up two walks and struck out five.

Southport Don Ponticelli also pitched a complete game, allowing seven hits, walking two and fanning four. But his team's rally came up with five runs after the loss had grabbed a 3-0 lead in the top of the fifth. Only one of the victor's markers was earned, the other four being the result of errors by the Motors.

Ryanider Ellis had a double in the fourth frame. No member of the losing team was able to get on base.

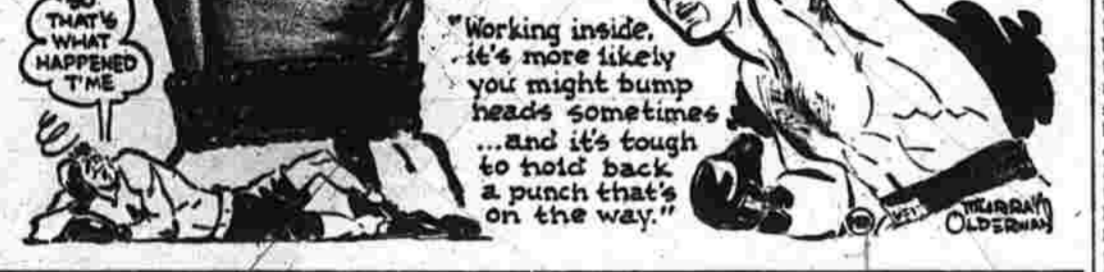

Next Intermediate League contest is scheduled Monday night at West Side Oval. The second-place Bantley Oil.

Perpetual Motion Ford Pockets Top PGA Prize

Detroit, July 27 (AP)—Doug Ford, the new PGA champion, is a 60-year golfer. Whether it is on the fairways or the highway, Ford is a man in motion—perpetual motion.

No sooner had he finished off Cary Middlecoff in yesterday's PGA final, winning a 4 and 3 thriller, than Ford was packing his pretty wife and three children into their house trailer and heading for Akron, Ohio, and another golf tournament.

He didn't even wait around for all the congratulations of a new champion. He said a nice thank-you, picked up his $2,000 check and was off.

A pile of unopened telegrams lay on his locker as he drove down the highway from "The Meadowbrook Country Club."

But these burry-up antics were no surprise to those who followed Ford through the seven-day PGA event by hitting three poor shots each—finishing 30 under par for 181 holes.

Wm. Medalist honors Ford with a 400-round tuna he took after a 30-minute battle. He caught the big fish on a 30-thread line using mackerel. His father, Herman Innes, is captain of the tuna team of Montauk Yacht Club which will compete in Atlantic Tuna Tournament this summer. (AP Wirephoto).

Antonelli Biggest Mystery In Collapse of New York

New York (NEA)—Leo Duracher started to sputter a rebuttal to the charges that he had left a "wide-eyed, 'you're crazy' look. But it still was a good question.

"In this," they were asking, "you're a mystery." Antonelli was seen in the clubhouse at the Polo Grounds, looking at the ground.

The query dealt with the collapse of the New York Giants. Antonelli was seen in the clubhouse at the Polo Grounds, looking at the ground.

Very Little Mileage In Circuit Clouts

New York, July 27 (AP)—Major league players didn't get much mileage out of their home runs in the afternoon as they were eliminated from the circuit.

Brooklyn's Freddie Thompson collected one home run in a 1-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. He hit a home run in the bottom of the ninth inning.
