with everybody, to do what we do in the world, but because Russia is in the world, but because we ourselves are in it and because ourselves are a certain kind of people. Once we achieve that kind of attitude in the world, it is conceivable we would find some good uses for some of our dollars. But respect and friendship must precede the dollars, or they will not follow them.

Kansas Firebrand

A breezy young political Lochinvar has stormed out of the West to become some of his elder statesmen. He is Governor Fred H. Brown, Republican of Kansas. In his speech before the National Republican Club in New York the other night, he laid down certain principles for Republican party conduct, and even managed to impress a hint that, if the party should not have Eisenhower running again, and needed somebody to pick up the torch, he would certainly have stepped up to the mark. He was, however, when he was hanging out his wash and spreading his back. The one who showed up was Dr. Schwab, but, being married, he isn't a Member and we won't let him join. If we did it's just making his feet bad when he saw the freedom that we bachelors enjoy.

Dollars Not Decisive Either

For a long time, this country has put its chief reliance in the field of foreign policy on guns. This policy of guns now seems to have begun to backfire, or, at least, not to be very fruitful.

What's the Matter?

"What's the matter?" he asked. "With such assets as peace and prosperity, and the most popular President in American history, how could there be any doubt about the outcome? Yet there is serious doubt about it. The Republican party is in trouble today because not enough Republicans are going the President's way. They do not believe in the President's philosophy and with the people who voted for the Republican party in 1952.

Still Consistent

There is more consistent sense in the Federal Reserve Board than in some of the experts who try to predict its policies. The consistent policy of the Board, this year, has been to try to tighten up and restrict credit. On the theory that, in this period of our danger, is one of inflation, and that we must have a little more deflation to bring us back to a normal level.

Full-Scale Shots Production Predicted by Polio Experts

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE (AP Science Reporter) Kansas City, Nov. 18 (AP)—Polio experts say the green light is on for full-scale production of the potent vaccine through removal of a troublesome bottleneck. Simultaneously, they answered some doubts and questions raised by some health officers concerning the vaccine at a meeting of the American Public Health Assn. (A.P.H.A.).

In essence, experts said there is no reason to doubt the efficiency or safety of the bulk polio vaccine. Spillover on vaccine.

One spoke a rumor that Canadians stopped making vaccine because they kept finding live virus in the vaccine. Dr. R. D. DePue of Toronto said the reason was they're building a bigger plant to carry on a much bigger vaccination program next year.

Others, including Dr. James E. Ball, who developed the vaccine, cited evidence that the vaccine could protect very young infants. That vaccination had nothing to do with the outbreak of the epidemic in Massachusetts, that use of even a single shot had drastically reduced paralytic polio in the United States this year.

But a couple of health officers held to their reservation that some inoculations of vaccine might have been the cause of spread of polio to other members of the family. Virus experts disagreed, or said the assumption was by no means proved.

A committee of experts appointed by the U.S. Public Health Service reported the cause of a troublesome bottleneck in vaccine production had been found and corrected. It lay in differences in ways manufacturers of vaccine strain or filtered "soups" of live virus.

This filtering is done before the viruses are exposed to a lethal bath of formaldehyde, to kill all the viruses used in the vaccine. The purpose of filtering is to ensure that all viruses are equally exposed to the chemical.

But the committee found evidence that sometimes the filtering was perhaps too coarse, or else done too far in advance. Sediments or clumps of viruses could form as the filtered liquid stood for weeks in bottles. Viruses could be clumps could not be exposed to the chemical and could survive the bath.

A change in filtering methods that sometimes the filtering was perhaps too coarse, or else done too far in advance. Sediments or clumps of viruses could form as the filtered liquid stood for weeks in bottles. Viruses could be clumps could not be exposed to the chemical and could survive the bath.

Japan Coalition Party Seen Step to Economic Stability

Tokyo, Nov. 18.—The formation of Japan's first united conservative party may be the first big step in the island empire's quest for economic stability. The merger this week of the Democratic and Liberal parties into the Liberal-Democratic party makes possible a solid majority government with the continuity of policy and planning needed to rebuild Japan's shattered trade fortunes.

Ellington Co-Op Will Meet Monday Evening

The gap between what Japan must not do and what it can pay for is still great—between $300 and $400 million a year. The co-operative movement is being fostered by purchases of U.S. service forces stationed here. Industrialists, businessmen and government leaders know that the U.S. forces will not always be here and the day is in sight when Japan must carry the full load.

The new Liberal-Democrats have 300 seats in the dominant 467-seat lower house of the Diet—almost twice the 154 of the Socialists. It is the greatest majority held by a single party in postwar Japan.

Mr. Weller Schlute and Mrs. G. F. Berry attended the neighborhood night meeting at East Windsor Grange Tuesday night. The program was presented by Dr. L. H. Eggleston, Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Eggleston, Mrs. Weller Schlute and Mrs. G. F. Berry.

A second test will come when the party's strength is tried in an election. This will offer voters a clear-cut choice between left and right of center parties and determine whether the slow socialist gains of the past three years will continue.

But in the long run, the great test of all will be the party's success or failure in solving the economic problems of the nation. Many feel the conservative must seek out markets in South America. At present, the United States is the main market for Japan's industries.

Coventry Scouts Undertake $250 Fund Drive

LUMBER BUILDING MATERIALS MASONRY SUPPLIES

Now Available In Any Quantity You Need . . . FIBERGLAS INSULATION Fill Your Needs At Once While Supply Is In Stock

With a fire safe barrier of Fiberglas, you'll find it easier to maintain healthy, comfortable and more uniform temperatures. In winter, you'll be snug as a bug and less more cozy, with fewer drafts, fewer colds, fewer doctor bills. And with insulation over your ceilings, you'll paint them less often because of dirt streaked bath marks . . . another saving.

"In summer, your home will be up to 10 degrees cooler. You can entertain in greater comfort. You can sleep better at night. You'll have more "get up and go."

EXTRA EFFICIENT—Fiberglas is the insulation in the best ranges and refrigerators. Its millions of tiny air pockets make it one of the most efficient heat barriers ever developed.

SELF-CONTAINED VAPOR BARRIER—On batt and roll blankets, a strong, tough, continuous vapor barrier, which exceeds FHA requirements, protects against moisture.

CANTY-REIN—Glass wool form, withstands fire, doesn't need "flameproofing" treatment to make it fire safe.

WONT' NOURISH VERMIN—Fibers of glass provide no food for pests, discourage them from making your home their home.

PERMANENT—Fiberglas insulation will not rot or decay. Nor will it settle. Vibration tends to make the material expand rather than settle. It will stay in place indefinitely, will probably outlast your home itself.
