Yugoslavia Elected In UN Lottery Deal

 The council to make it more representative, and that the split procedure might not be necessary. The United States and the Philippines' chief supporter, first proposed splitting the two-year term of the Security Council into two one-year terms, with the United States and the Philippines alternating in the first year and the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union alternating in the second year. The British, who backed Yugoslavia's candidacy, argued that the proposal set no precedent because it did not involve any written commitment by anyone to support the Philippines next year. The British also pointed out that addition of 16 nations to the U.N. membership at this session probably would require enlargement of the council.

Copter Delivers Yule Gift to Pair

Waterbury, Dec. 20 (AP)—A helicopter plucked a Waterbury woman from her flood-battered home during the August flood, and two members of the crew returned yesterday by helicopter to give Christmas gifts to her and her family. Mrs. Stanley Mark lost her husband in the flood, she was saved as she clung to a luggage trunk in the debris of her home, surrounded by the rampaging Naugatuck River. Her two-year-old daughter, Tina, was rescued from the wreckage by a volunteer shortly before Mrs. Mark was taken to the hospital. Mrs. Mark, who was taken to the hospital, subsequently agreed to appear the only way out of the predicament. As a semi-adjournment, word passed around the U.N. corridors that a number of key nations including the United States and the Philippines had not yet agreed to support the Philippines next year.

WRONG BUTT
 Baltimore (AP)—Police are keeping a grey suit in storage, tagged with a note: "Awaiting an owner." James A. Barney told the officers he found the suit, complete with white shirt and tie, in a box behind his house. He doesn't want it. Presumably no one in the police station wants it, either. It's the kind used by undertakers for burial purposes.

Rockville-Vernon National Guard Moving Into New State Armory

Rockville, Dec. 20 (Special) — The local National Guard unit has moved into the virtually completed new State Armory on West 81st, and will hold an inspection in the new quarters tonight.

The 45-man unit will be inspected in the new building tonight by Maj. Ragnar Peterson, Battalion Commander. The inspection will be part of the company's first regular training session in the Armory.

Capt. Richard Grant, Company commander, said civilian volunteers will have put the last touches on the building within the next few days. Some minor finishing details will be handled by the Quartermaster, according to 1st Sgt. Richard Dunn.

The main classroom measures 19 feet and is converted into two classrooms by means of a folding partition. The building was available in the Peeries building for drilling exercises. Sgt. Dunn said.

Examiner to Rule On Deme Petition Skywatch Schedule

A Federal Communications Commission hearing examiner, Basil P. Cooper, is scheduled to rule on a petition of Manchester Broadcasters to increase from 100 to 250 watts the power of the station it wishes to establish here.

This is one of the side issues remaining to be settled in the long fight for the radio wave length of former Hartford radio station WTTT.

Manchester Broadcasting, which is headed by John Demme, 136 Woodland St., sought the power increase after tests here showed that the soil is an abnormally poor conductor. Demme says that a power output of 250 watts is needed to provide coverage for the area intended to be covered by his station.

Demme's competitors for the wave length, Brothers Broadcasting Corp., which plans to establish a station in Hartford and Hartford Broadcasting Co., which plans to establish a station in East Hartford, have until Dec. 27 to file objections to the proposed amendment. Demme will have a week to reply.

The three parties will get together again on Jan. 27 to exchange information on finances and exhibits on engineering data.

This is the result of a Superior Court memorandum of decision filed at the clerk's office today. The decision was rendered in a case brought against Mrs. Cantor's two sons, Yale and Melvin Cantor, by Julius and Harry Wetstone, neighbors, who contended that the noise and odor created by the birds was offensive and disturbed the sleep of the plaintiffs and their wives.

It all started back in 1952 when the Wetstone brothers, East Longmeadow, Mass., and Effield tobacco growers, moved into two houses near the Cantor farm for the summer months because it was the best time to do so. As for the odor, it was explained in the dead chicken, in her own words, as "rotten." Born in Brattleboro, Vt., she died Monday.

According to the present schedule, the witnesses each want to cross-examine. The hearing will start Feb. 17 and continue until the hearing is completed. The witnesses will include the engineers who compiled the technical data for the applicants, as well as the owners of the companies and their associates.

Blamed in Knife Death Hartford, Dec. 20 (AP) — Corner Louis W. Scheffer yesterday found Mrs. Alice May Hunter primarily responsible for stabbing her 30-year-old husband Oscar, 30, to death Nov. 25. He said the pair had an argument over money, she grabbed $10 out of his hand, he twisted her arm to make her let go, and she stabbed him with a kitchen knife. "This was a criminal act not done without justification or provocation," said Scheffer.

Spencer Rubber Holds Yule Party

The Spencer Rubber Products Co. held its 10th Christmas party Saturday night at the American Legion Home, with Mrs. Ruth J. Spencer and W. Robert Spencer, mother and son, acting as hosts to employees and their families as in previous years.

The main hall was beautifully decorated by the party committee, including Santa's chimney and a Christmas tree.

Program highlights were the Round Table singers, who sang their beautiful rendition of "The Christmas Song." Then followed a visit from Santa Claus, each child receiving a special gift selected for him and the adults receiving grabbing gifts.

Dinner was a Christmas buffet, catered by John and Helen Pede, who at midnight served a smorgasbord. Music for dancing was played by "Rhythm-Air."

This was the largest party ever held by the company, a total of 242, including children, attending.
