Bolton SBC Advertises Annex Bids; Jan. 27 Listed Closing Date

Bolton, Jan. 10 (Special)—The School Building Committee advertised bids yesterday for construction of the proposed addition to the Elementary School. The closing date for bids is set for Jan. 27 at 10 a.m. at the school to open and read bids submitted.

The bids will be received by Raymond F. Jewell of the SBC at his Manchester office. Plans and specifications may be examined at the office without charge. The advertisement for bids also states the plans may be examined at Dodge Reports and the Commercial Record offices in Hartford; Gagny's Construction Newsletter office in Boston and at the Lowell, Mass., office of the architect, Percy F. Dibert Associates Inc.

The lengthy advertisement set forth many stipulations regarding submitting the bids including form, deposits for obtaining plans and a performance bond can be furnished and requirement of a bid bond or certified check in the amount of five per cent of the amount of the bid. Plans call for a 6-room addition to the school including a large basement and a large addition to the school building as an OVI Defense area. Preliminary plans were approved by a town meeting on Aug. 29 at which time a bond issue up to the sum of $150,000 was authorized based on the architect's estimated cost of $149,000.

Town Meeting Tomorrow—The item that seems to loom largest to most residents in the agenda for tomorrow night's town meeting at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall is the question of purchasing property at Bolton Center. Townspeople are discussing it without much fervor and with varying opinions. The plot owned by James Swanson of Manchester, is located west of the Green and directly opposite it. It contains approximately nine acres with about 468 feet on Hebron Rd. A few years ago local officials who were exploring the possibility of building a town office building approached Swanson about the availability of the land. At that time it was not for sale. When the owner decided late last fall to dispose of the property, it is offered to give the town the first opportunity to purchase it because of this previous expression of interest by townspeople. Some municipalities in the vicinity of Bolton Center to preserve its residential character has been reported. Developers and many residents have expressed opinions that the price of $150,000 is too high. Prominent townspeople stand on both sides of the question to buy or not to buy. It has been cited as the only ideal spot for any future town office building. Those following the school problem closely feel it is ideal as a first acquisition of land for a junior high school; but others follow this proposal with alternatives they feel equally attractive. The children of the seventh and eighth grades have been selected as a special invitation to attend and hear the speaker.

Benton to Speak At AJC Conclave

William Benton, former U.S. Senator from Connecticut, will deliver the keynote address at the first annual convention of the Connecticut State Council of the American Jewish Congress on Sun., Jan. 22, at the Statler Hotel in Hartford. The convention theme is "Responsibilities of the American Jew in 1956, according to Mrs. Seymour Stolsberg, State president and convention chairman. The steering committee working on general arrangements includes Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Silver of New Britain, Atty. Jerry Wagner of Hartford, Louis Horwitz of Manchester, Mrs. Norman Slater of Waterbury, Irving Aronson of Manchester, Mrs. Norman Slater of Waterbury, Irving Aronson of Manchester, and Samuel L. Gaver, director for American Jewish Congress of the Connecticut and Westchester regions.

At the luncheon session, where former U. S. Senator Benton will speak, Atty. Louis Penmark of New Haven is to be toastmaster. Mrs. Seymour Stolsberg will preside, and there will be greetings to extend greetings. The afternoon plenary session will hear High Sclater, director of organization and membership of American Jewish Congress, and Gertrude Kowoff, State legislator from Plainville. Dr. Bernard Burnham, president of the Waterbury Chapter of the AJC, will preside, and Atty. Jerry Wagner will summarize the session on "Our Responsibilities in 1956."

Plans call for a 6-room addition to the school including a large basement and a large addition to the school building as an OVI Defense area. Preliminary plans were approved by a town meeting on Aug. 29 at which time a bond issue up to the sum of $150,000 was authorized based on the architect's estimated cost of $149,000.
