Lexington, Va., May 1 (AP)—Funeral services for Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will be held tomorrow morning in Washington, where he served his state and nation for so long. In accord with the former Vice President's wishes, the services will be held in Foundry Methodist Church, Washington, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, chaplain of the Senate.

Burial will be Friday in Barkley's home town, Paducah, Ky. Barkley collapsed and died yesterday on a political platform which had known his tread for 31 years.

Barkley, 78, slumped to the floor after a keynote address to Washington and Lee University students assembled in a mock Democratic national convention. Dr. Robert Munger, who arrived seven minutes later as ambulance attendants were attempting to administer oxygen, said he died of a heart attack.

Today the storied "Veep" of the Truman administration made his final journey to Washington. Four students from Washington and Lee and four from nearby Virginia Military Institute accompanied the body to the capital.

Barkley, who described himself as "an old horse who has heard the bell," told the VMI students he had arrived here uncertain about going to the Democratic national convention in Chicago in August—but had made up his mind to attend. He said he wouldn't be a candidate for nomination for the presidency.

There were cries of "No, no," Reminiscently, he recalled he'd been a delegate at large to every national Democratic convention since 1920: a junior, then a senior member of Congress; a junior

Unprecedented Move

Contract Renewal Out, Some Steel Firms Say

Pittsburgh, May 1 (AP)—Some of the basic steel producing companies in an unprecedented move have notified the United Steel workers they intend to terminate the current labor contract June 30.

The union received such notices yesterday from several big firms. Among them were U.S. Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. The action paves the way for the steel industry to present a united front in event the union attempts to call a "selective strike" in coming negotiations.

U.S.W. President David J. McDonald said in the late stages of last year's wage talks he counseled U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin to permit members to continue work at other plants that the industry's usually united stand in labor negotiations.

Free to Strike June 30
Last week, McDonald notified 177 steel companies and iron ore mining firms that the union wants to negotiate a new contract for $30,000 of its members. The current one expires June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreement is not reached.

In the past the companies only replied with a letter of acknowledgment. This year, however, many of the firms also attached a notice similar to the one sent out by the union.

Under the Taft-Hartley Law both union and companies are required to give 60-days notice in advance of any new contract. Last year the companies had not given such notice at the time McDonald

Military Not Stressed In Moscow May Day

Moscow limited its May Day military parade to 45 minutes today. The Pope called anew for peace, saying:

"Order and peace, they are the supreme goals. Internal peace between sons of the same country, external peace between members of the great human family."

Rival Chinese Celebrate
On the other side of the world, rival Chinese governments made use of the day. On Formosa, President Chiang Kai-shek urged Nationalist workers to do everything possible to encourage urged by workers in Red China. In Peking, Mao Tse-tung took the lead in a parade of Red marchers which the Peiping radio said numbered a half million.

New Observance in Italy
Rome featured a new observance this year as thousands of Roman Catholic workers gathered to mark the liturgical feast of St. Joseph, the carpenter of Nazareth. The Pope this year in a clear effort to strip the holiday of the violence which often marked it in the past and give it a more Christian direction.

The Pontiff's call for the whole world of labor to return to Christ was an obvious plea to Communist workers made before 90,000 workers members of Italian Catholic Action at St. Peter's and was directed especially to 60,000 more gathered in Milan.

Chamber Jeers Butler's Views Of GOP Funds

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Boos and shouts punctuated a Republican-Chamber political debate today before 3,000 delegates to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce annual meeting.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler was jeered when he said the Republicans are receiving big contributions from "veiled wealth" and denied a contention by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) that the Democrats are aided by "compulsory contributions" from union workers.

The political debate had Republican Chairman Leonard Hall teamed with Goldwater vs. Butler and Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.). The audience of businessmen divided its applause fairly evenly for a time.

But tempers flared on the platform and tension mounted in the audience when Butler, replying to Goldwater's assertion that "Walter Reuther doesn't speak for his members," named as some sources of 1952 GOP contributions—"the Rockefeller, $94,000; the DuPonts $74,000; the Fews, $65,000; the Mellons, $36,000, and H. R. Cullen, $53,000."

Moderator Lawrence Spivak, producer of the television and radio "Meet the Press" program, asked Butler whether the Democrats complained when the "Raskobes" were making heavy contributions to the Democratic Party.

"The Democratic Party never was the beneficiary of any veiled wealth like this," Butler began to reply.

But he was drowned out by a roar of boos from the audience. He flushed and waited until the demonstration subsided, then said with some sarcasm:

"Thank you, fellow Americans, for the right to express myself."

Should Invest Overseas
Harry Bullis, board chairman of General Mills, Inc., said today in a speech at the meeting, that in the economic cold war with Russia the United States must spend and invest "billions of dollars" more abroad.

Bullis told the businessmen-delegates that Russia has loosed a "furious and ferocious" economic cold war.

He estimated the Communist world is spending three billion dollars.

Martha Raye's Fifth Husband Seeks Divorce

New York, May 1 (AP)—An attorney for comedienne Martha Raye's fifth husband, Edward Begley, says he is trying to serve a summons on her in a divorce suit.

Begley, 39, and Miss Raye, 38, last Saturday she was sued for alienation of affections by a 20-year-old housewife, Mrs. Barbara Ann O'Shea, of Westport, Conn.

Mrs. O'Shea accused the wide-mouthed comedienne of stealing the love of her policeman husband, Robert, who had been acting as Miss Raye's bodyguard in his off-duty hours. Miss Raye has a home in Westport.

The Westport police chief yesterday ordered the 27-year-old patrolman not to report for duty until further notice.

Meanwhile, Miss Raye's attorney, Shirley Woolf, arrived here from Miami. She said she had

Sergeant Drinking Liquor Before Marine Death Hike

Corps Will Revamp Training of Recruits

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The Marine Corps said today Staff Sgt. Mathew McKeon, under the influence of liquor, told his platoon of recruits that "those who couldn't swim would drown" before he led them in a night march into a South Carolina swamp. Six of them died.

Recommending court martial for the 31-year-old sergeant from Worcester, Mass., the Corps said McKeon added that "those who could (swim) would be eaten by sharks."

In addition to announcing that trial for McKeon on charges ranging up to manslaughter had been recommended to the Secretary of the Navy, Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, Corps commandant, told the House Armed Services committee:

1. He has ordered transfer for Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger, from the command of the Parris Island, S. C., base where the men were lost April 8.

The Pentagon said Burger goes to the command of Camp Lejeune, N. C., where there is no recruit training.

Pate also has directed a sweeping reorganization of recruit training, including special assignment of commissioned officers reporting directly to the commandant, and stringent reinforcement of rules against training assignments for men who make "intemperate" use of alcohol.

Files Complete Report
Pate gave the committee a hitherto-secret report on the findings of a Marine Corps inquiry court, together with his report on the actions he himself has taken in the matter and those he has recommended to the Secretary of the Navy.

He included a specific finding that McKeon did not have authority to take punitive measures against any member of the 18-man platoon.

The sergeant has said he took the men into the swamp on the night march "to teach them discipline."

With regard to action at the scene of the drowning itself, the inquiry court report said when panic developed as the recruits got into deep water, McKeon ordered them back to the bank.

McKeon and others attempted rescue, the report went on, but added that the rescue operations were "disorganized and mostly ineffective."

The effort went on the court found, "for a period of about five minutes until no recruits were observed in a dangerous depth of water."

The six who perished were Donald Francis O'Shea, 438 Bluebell St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Francis Reilly, 50 Water St., Clyde, N. Y.; Jerry Lamont Thomas, 2708 Elmwood Dr., Alexandria, Va.; LeRoy Thompson, 296 Quincy St., Brooklyn; Norman Alfred Wood, Downing St., Bay Shore, N. Y.; and Thomas Curtis Hardeman, Vidalia, Ga.

Last Man Out of Water
Survivors in interviews had credited McKeon with saving lives and being "the last man out" of the deep water.

The Navy said the office of the Judge Advocate General is now studying the recommendations with regard to McKeon and will make its own recommendations to Secretary Thomas as soon as possible. The possible penalties on the charges against McKeon range from one month to 10 years in prison.

When Pate completed his statement to the committee, Chairman Vinson (D-Ia.) congratulated him for "courage and forthrightness."

Stop Coercion On Defectors, U.S. Tells Reds

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The United States has approved notice to the Communists that it will not tolerate pressure on Iron Curtain refugees to give up sanctuary in this country.

The State Department yesterday afternoon handed Red Poland's Ambassador Kamulak Spasowski a note accusing him and other Polish government officials of abusing their diplomatic status in a drive to pressure Polish refugees in this country into returning behind the Iron Curtain. The note demanded: Stop it at once.

Spasowski indicated Poland would make a formal reply. He said that in the case of three Polish seamen who gave up U.S. sanctuary and went home last fall, the seamen approached the embassy first.

The U.S. note declared Polish diplomats had made "unsolicited personal visits" as part of a campaign to coerce Polish nationals out of their U.S. asylum.

Respects Rights of All
The note said this country respects the right of all aliens to seek voluntary repatriation and reaffirmed belief in the right of foreign diplomatic missions to make normal contact with their nationals.

But it rejected an undemocratic and beyond-accepted diplomatic practice, any coercive practice to make aliens quit the United States. It listed among such techniques the use of letters from relatives.

UAC Branch Site In Vernon Studied

Rockville, May 1 (Special)—The possibility that an industrial plant, costing between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000, may be erected in Vernon for use by a division of United Aircraft Corp. came to light today.

According to reports, the plant would be built by the Gilbane Construction Co., Providence, R. I., and leased by the United Aircraft Corp. for a minimum period of five years.

However, C. Allen Smith, director of new construction for United Aircraft Corp., said "no positive steps have been taken as yet."

In Providence, Thomas Gilbane, president of the construction firm, including Manchester, Danbury and Plainfield plus two other towns, on March 2 The Herald learned Neil Ellis, president of Gilbane Manor Estates, had submitted a proposal to the United Aircraft Corp. to build an $8,500,000 plant in Manchester.

No further word has been received by either party and today General Manager Richard Martin said he had no new information on the possibility of the United Aircraft building in Manchester. He also said he didn't know Vernon is being considered as a site.

Stassen Notes Vital Progress In Arms Talk

London, May 1 (AP)—Harold Stassen, said today that the East and West have made "important progress" in their disarmament talks but great areas of disagreement remain.

Speaking to a news conference, President Eisenhower's special advisor on disarmament said:

"Yes, there has been important progress. There have been some very significant steps to move together, but the areas of disagreement remain more important than the areas of agreement."

Stassen said a "low ebb" in the five nation U.N. subcommittee disarmament talks was reached when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev held their news conference in London last week.

He said this was because of their "negative attitude" toward disarmament. Bulgarian referred
