Britain Planning Step-by-Step Withdrawal of Troops in Egypt

Policy Opposes UN Call for Fast Action

London, Nov. 29 (AP)—The British government announced today its policy calls for a "phased withdrawal" of British forces from Egypt.

The United Nations last Saturday called for immediate and total withdrawal of British, French and Israeli forces.

Lord Salisbury, the government leader in the House of Lords, told the upper chamber tonight:

"Our policy is that of a phased withdrawal."

"I understand that a battalion has already left."

Shortly before Salisbury spoke, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons he was deferring a final statement on withdrawal pending consultations here tomorrow with French Foreign Secretary Christian Pineau. He said he would make a further statement Monday.

At the same time Lloyd strongly hinted that a step-by-step withdrawal was contemplated. After paying tribute to the United Nations for its continuing military buildup in the Suez area, Lloyd declared:

"Obviously the buildup of the force must have an important relationship to a phased withdrawal of our own and French troops."

A qualified informant said last night the British plan is to begin within a few days a withdrawal in stages, but to leave behind a Royal Navy unit and civilian United Nations clear the Suez Canal.

Lloyd told the House:

"The U. N. force has now been constituted and is growing in numbers, and I pay tribute to the speed with which the Secretary General and his advisers have acted."

4,400 Within 14 Days

"By Dec. 1, there will be about 2,700 men in Egypt and within 14 days there should be 4,400, among which will be some 700 Canadian troops."

Lloyd said there should be an organized U. N. force on the ground within two weeks, with two armored car companies and supporting units.

"Without elaborating on the 'phased withdrawal' he went on to say that other important matters to be considered are the speedy clearance of the canal and the negotiation of a final settlement with regard to the future operation of the canal."

Lloyd cheering from the Conservative benches interrupted him here. Then the Foreign Secretary said decisions on these matters had to be discussed with the French.

Referring to the U. N. General Assembly debates on Suez, Lloyd described as "unrealistic" a resolution, supported by the United States, demanding an immediate withdrawal of British and French forces.

U. N. Atmosphere Improved

But he added:

"I found the atmosphere in the United Nations considerably improved and a wider understanding of our position in certain sections of American opinion."

U. S. support for the "immediate withdrawal" resolution has sparked anti-American feeling in Britain, especially among the right wing segment of the Conservative party. A group of 122 Conservatives have put in a resolution "deploring" the American policy and condemning the U. N. resolutions.

Before Lloyd spoke, R. A. Butler, acting prime minister, was vacationing in the south of France. He said in a statement that he was in agreement with the House.

U.S. Ready On Oil Plan For Europe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United States is prepared to put into operation immediately an emergency oil aid plan for western Europe, once Britain and France declared their intention to get their troops out of Egypt.

U. S. officials told the London and Paris governments several days ago that the United States would have to have public evidence of the British-French intentions respecting Egypt before it could start operating the emergency petroleum supply plan.

At the same time, informants said, it was made clear to the London and Paris governments that administration leaders here were deeply disturbed over the progressive breakdown of friendly relations between the United States and its chief European allies and were anxious to act on oil as quickly as possible.

Worry over growing ill will toward the United States in Britain and France apparently led to a decision that this government would not have to wait for actual withdrawal of British and French troops but could act upon a declaration of intent to withdraw.

Five Part Program

The plans which have been worked out for emergency oil aid to Europe cover these main points:

1. Activating a Middle East Emergency Committee of 15 major oil companies, with the task of using all available oil tankers, including some to be taken from laid up reserves, in order to transport oil to Europe.
2. Establishing a Middle East Emergency Committee of 15 major oil companies, with the task of using all available oil tankers, including some to be taken from laid up reserves, in order to transport oil to Europe.
3. Establishing a Middle East Emergency Committee of 15 major oil companies, with the task of using all available oil tankers, including some to be taken from laid up reserves, in order to transport oil to Europe.

Depends on State Legislature

Wethersfield Convicts Plan Riots Unless Parole System Improves

Hartford, Nov. 29 (AP)—A judge assigned to investigate conditions at the State Prison at Wethersfield said he was told the prisoners "are going to tear this place apart" unless things improve soon.

State Referee Thomas J. Molloy, who made a one-man grand jury inquiry into a tough ex-reformer inmate, now a prisoner at Wethersfield, told him that would happen if the State Legislature doesn't pass an automatic parole bill and other legislation favorable to prisoners in the coming session.

Make Liquor at Prison

The judge also reported to Superior Court yesterday that inmates make their own liquor, steal drugs from the hospital, print obscene pictures, engage in sex perversion and gamble inside prison walls.

"How this could go on under the noses of the guards is beyond me," he said.

He made the investigation at the request of Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff.

Trouble at the prison started last July 27, when half of the 600 or so prisoners staged a sit-down strike. Warden George Cummings resigned the next day, breakdown.

Then the prison's Board of Directors met with the prisoners to sound out their gripes.

The prisoners objected to plans for what they termed a maximum security palace to reclose the 129-year-old prison building.

They wanted more human understanding and a better parole system instead, they said.

Warden Cummings charged that guards smuggled dope, liquor and obscene literature in to the prisoners.

That touched off the investigation.

Judge Molloy said he could find no evidence of smuggling by guards. He said the crimes were committed by the inmates, although he was unable to pin a criminal charge on a single inmate.

The judge commented that inmates showed that "necessity is the mother of invention." Among the examples he gave were:

- A card system at the prison store which purportedly showed the result of sale of handmade articles but actually was a record of gambling winnings and losses.
- A moving still, set up in the kitchen or boiler room, to make liquor for prisoners, as well as a system of making a stimulant from powdered nutmeg and the inner leaves of onions.
- A drug-saving plan, by which prisoners saved their drugs instead of taking them, to trade or use in big doses. (The judge said sick call complaints in the past year jumped from 30 to 130 a day.)
- Indecent pictures and cartoons, printed in the prison identification laboratory, and circulated for money or cigarettes.
- The judge quoted former Warden Cummings as saying sex perversion was "rampant," and blaming the guards for looking the other way. Molloy said one prisoner asked to be put in solitary to protect him from attacks by pervers.
- Molloy said the prisoner said he was attacked by four prisoners the night of the riot, but officials scoffed at his story. "I think this episode required closer examination than it apparently received," said the judge.
- He made a number of recommendations for the new warden to carry out, including the immediate segregation of sex pervers from the other prisoners.

Dag Deadline Today On Call by Hungary

United Nations, N.Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld will open the way for General Assembly action on Hungary's refusal to let in U. N. observers unless he gets definite word today from Budapest, informed sources said. The informants said the Secretary General had decided to set the immediate deadline on reporting success or failure to the Assembly after more than two weeks of evasive answers from representatives of Hungary's Russian-puppet government.

A U. N. spokesman said Hammarskjöld spoke to Hungary's Foreign Minister Imre Horvath again last night and got the usual reply that word had not come down from Budapest.

Subsequently Moscow Radio said Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar told a correspondent of the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda he was standing fast on his decision to bar both U. N. observers and Hammarskjöld from Hungary.

Kadar Explains Stand

(In Moscow Pravda said today Kadar refused to admit United Nations observers to Hungary for fear the people might mistake them for American troops. The Communist party newspaper quoted the Hungarian Premier as making the statement in an interview.

"The people have been told, hold out, American forces are coming. Hold out, American forces are coming," Pravda quoted Kadar as saying. "The people no longer are clear about the difference between American forces and United Nations observers. That's why arrival of United Nations representatives in Hungary could throw the people into confusion. Certain elements would not have surrendered."

(Pravda further quoted the Premier as asking why U. N. observers were necessary "when 600 foreign correspondents in Hungary saw everything, knew everything.")

Ike Picks Aide For Hungarian Refugee Study

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower today named Tracy S. Voorhees, former under-secretary of the Army, to coordinate the Hungarian refugee program and study whether more than 5,000 should be admitted to this country.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Voorhees, now a New York attorney and a consultant to the Defense Department, is taking over the new assignment immediately and will serve without pay.

The President recently directed that up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet oppression in Hungary be admitted to the United States. The first groups have been arriving at a reception center at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and elsewhere since Nov. 21.

Hagerty said anew today it has been a possibility all along that the quota might be increased to more than 5,000. He said Voorhees will study that matter with Scott McLeod, administrator of the Refugee Relief Law.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here, Hagerty said Voorhees will serve as the President's personal representative "in connection with Hungarian refugees and relief activities in this country."

Hagerty said Eisenhower decided to appoint Voorhees "to assure full coordination of this

Iraq's Premier Reported Firm Against Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Baghdad, Iraq, Nov. 29 (AP)—Iraq's Premier Nuri Said is reported to be leading a vigorous anti-Communist campaign aimed at stirring up trouble in Iraq and discrediting his government. The controlling pro-Soviet Army clique in Syria and the Egyptian government are believed sponsoring the campaigns.

Khalil Ibrahim, Iraqi information director, declared the Premier has no intention of quitting his post or making changes in his cabinet "for the time being."

Appeals for Calm

The Baghdad military governor broadcast an appeal to the people urging them to be calm and not to yield to "subversive elements" which the government says are trying to incite widespread demonstrations.

Nuri's government denied reports that dozens of persons have been killed or wounded in Iraq's main cities. It reiterated that only two civilians were killed and some police and civilians wounded in a clash in the Holy Moslem city of Najaf, in southwest Iraq.

Damascus Radio declared 104 Iraqis were killed in four days of anti-government demonstrations in Najaf. It asserted the "victims fell by police fire" as they protested against Nuri's government and demanded support for Egypt.

Iraq has accused Syria of waging a campaign of subversion against the Nuri government. Syria has charged Iraq with seeking to undermine the governments of both Syria and Jordan. Egyptian President Nasser is believed spurring the Syrians on.

Evidence of Syria's propaganda campaign is as marked in Baghdad as in Lebanon. It is sparked by radio broadcasts of inflammatory rumors.

Chapin Given Life Term For Springfield Killings

Boston, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Massachusetts Executive Council today granted clemency to Kenneth R. Chapin, 20-year-old double slayer, commuting his death sentence to life imprisonment.

The vote was 6-3. The same Governor's Council voted 6-3 last May against clemency and Chapin was scheduled for electrocution sometime next week.

The Springfield youth was convicted in 1934 of the bayonet stabbing murders of 14-year-old Lynn Ann Smith and 4-year-old Steven Goldberg for whom she was baby-sitting in the Goldberg home in Springfield.

Three councilors who voted against commutation last May were Le. Gov. Sumner Whittier (R), Charles Gabriel (R-Hingham) and Augustus G. Means (R-Essex).

Means, who stood firm in his belief that Chapin was not legally insane, told the council, "It is my belief that this marks the beginning of the end of capital punishment in Massachusetts."

Some Pure Confusion Brightens the Future

By HAL COOPER
London, Nov. 29 (AP)—"Well," said our friend, Percy the Bartender, "the international situation looks a bit better today."

We said it didn't look much better to us.

"Of course it is," said Percy. "At last they've produced a little pure confusion out of all that disorder."

We asked what did he mean by that?

"Why, for one thing," Percy returned, "the Jordanians have decided to finish with that friendship pact they had with us. So now in British won't have to fight the Israelis in defense of the Jordanians while at the same time fighting the Egyptians on the same side as the Israelis. This is a big improvement."

We asked, had he noticed any other improvement?

"Certainly," said Percy, "you take anti-Americanism for instance."

It used to be the Conservatives and their old colonial types that were putting up America as the world's greatest defender of freedom.

At that time the Laborites, who are anti-colonial, were condemning you Yankee as Dollar Diplomats and enemies of the welfare state.

"This Suez do has changed all that. The Conservatives now say the whole thing was a plot by you Dollar Diplomats to grab all the oil markets. Meanwhile the Laborites are praising you for telling Britain to get out of poor little Egypt, thus upholding freedom."

"You might say," Percy summed up, "that what you Yankee lost on the swings you have gained back on the roundabouts. We asked, did we hear many complaints about the gasoline shortage?"

"Quite a few," replied Percy, "but the ones that are complaining the loudest are the ones who couldn't afford to own a motor scooter if an inch of petrol fell daily at high noon, like rain."

"By the way," he added, "do the Americans think Eden has much future?"

We said we would prefer not to make any statements which might get us interned as an enemy alien.

"Well," said Percy, "we have three schools of thought on that in the pub right now. Here in the saloon bar one school says Eden has upheld our honor and will come back from Jamaica still Prime Minister, while a second school says he has bungled everything and will come back from Jamaica as the ex-Prime Minister."

We asked, what about the third school?

"Some of those rough types in the public bar," said Percy, "are saying he won't even bother to come back from Jamaica, especially if it's a cold winter."

We said we'd have another half pint of bitter.

"Better make that a pint," said Percy, "What with the petrol rationing they'll start missing beer deliveries soon and there'll be a shortage of that, too. Being a Yankee, you can imagine what chance you'll have of getting any."

We said on second thought make it a whisky. A double.

742 Yugoslav Soldiers Land At Port Said

Port Said, Egypt, Nov. 29 (AP)—Three Yugoslav ships landed 742 troops assigned to the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF) in Port Said today. British ships—part of the British-French expedition force holding the northern end of the Suez Canal—hoisted the Yugoslav flag in welcome.

The Yugoslav troops were scheduled to remain in Port Said only two or three days before moving behind the Egyptian front, 77 miles south of this city.

The Yugoslavs were the first U. N. troops to be landed in Egypt by ship. The other troops have been flown in, landing at Abu Qir airfield behind the Egyptian lines.

The U. N. force already stationed in Port Said totals 408 men. The first units were moved in to lessen tension between the Egyptian population and the occupying troops of Britain and France, but they have not begun patrol duty.

Although the Yugoslavs will move on south, the final U. N. contingent in the Port Said area is scheduled to be built up to about 1,000 men. A Norwegian unit that arrived here last week was joined yesterday by a Danish company and a headquarters organization.

Regional District 8 Curriculum Unit Considers Basic Program Requirements

Andover, Nov. 28 (Special) — The study of a curriculum unit for the Regional District 8 Curriculum Unit Committee reviewed Point 1, "Fundamental Skills and Knowledge Necessary for Later Learning," at a committee meeting in Manchester, Nov. 28.

Notes submitted by Chairman Howard Spradley to the committee were discussed and approved. The committee also reviewed this week a tentative draft of 10 recommendations for a musical education program, evolved at the last meeting.

Under Point 1, the objectives committee discussed basic studies required for all students regardless of their subsequent pursuits. These were noted as the "ability to read and understand, write clearly, take reports, use every day mathematics, understand government and the world."

These "basic items" should be repeated, wherever feasible, in all courses, according to the group. Committee members also recommended specific studies which would show need for basic skills in all their life activities.

A suggestion that reports for history, social science, chemistry and the English department for "comprehensive" and "general" studies was approved, but because it would result in overloading the English department, it was not adopted. It was felt that teachers in the suggested fields should have excellent ability to consider grammatical aspects of such papers.

The group also discussed the length of current educational systems of dividing students into advanced and less advanced groups, whether such systems create stigma upon students included in the retarded group or if elimination of such groups would lead to "watering down" of instruction.

Other systems discussed were the "buddy" system in which more advanced students are paired with less advanced pupils to help raise their study levels.

The "sociometric" system in which classes are divided into groups led by more advanced students was also reviewed. In such groups, advocates said, qualities of leadership were developed, exceptional students were less likely to be overlooked, and the premises being that contemporaries might be able to impart comprehension of the subjects more readily than the teacher in some cases.

It was generally agreed that any system which raises the level of less advanced students and that care must be taken under the "buddy" or "sociometric" system that the gifted child is not held back by helping others, and that teaching is done primarily by the teacher.

Community Guidance

Since few schools are able to provide the number of guidance counselors recommended by experts in the field today, one counselor to every 200 students, it was suggested that members of the three committees might consider students on the requirements in their fields of endeavor. Such guidance should be coordinated by the administration to be successful.

The group also discussed whether "home-room" systems would be practicable in the new junior high school, stating that continuing guidance which would involve daily contact is feasible under such a system.

A continuance of this discussion led to the question of whether guidance counseling, study periods, and other items, such as extra-curricular activities, should be considered in the longer school day needed to provide an adequate education.

In its initial approach to the study of Point 2, "The American Use of the Spoken and Written Word," the group re-emphasized the point that this should not be the responsibility of the English department alone.

The group felt student's ability to communicate with others would be developed through use of round-table discussions wherever possible, advancing to the level of panel discussions, and later, debating.

More opportunities should be provided, they felt, for participation in school projects, clubs and other forms of public speaking.

The necessity for school papers, written and edited by students with faculty members serving as consultants only, was expressed. The group suggested that the paper might be printed by the schools commercial department in mimeographed form; by a professional printer; or, possibly, in a format similar to the High School World page of The Herald.

Dr. W. Chris Healer, superintendent, strongly recommended development of a Student Council group in schools which a student body supervised be said a judicial system conducted by a student group had also proved highly effective.

Books Suggestions

Chairman Spradley asked other members of the committee to draft notes on items they thought ought to be considered under the remaining points of the "objectives" program and to present them at the next meeting at Andover Elementary School Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The other points are: "Proper Ideas of What is Good, Right and Beautiful"; "Ability to Think"; "Oratory"; "Good Study Habits"; "Possibilities of the Future"; "Standards for Measuring Achievement in Learning"; "Standing of Others"; and "Physical, Social and Emotional Health."

Chairman Spradley said it is his hope that the committee will classical, popular, modern, folk and jazz music.

Financial responsibility for the basic musical education program should be assumed by the Board of Education, members felt, making arrangements with a reputable musical instrument manufacturer or distributor for a buy-and-sell plan for the usual instruments.

They also recommended that the Board pay the rental fee for the first three months for any student to provide an opportunity for him to decide whether he has ability and desire to continue musical education program in all grade schools "is necessary to provide a basis for high school work."

The recommended musical education staff would consist of one vocal and one instrumental teacher, who are capable of conducting general music and musical appreciation courses. The committee also recommended that during class instruction if needed.

Other recommendations were that musical instruction should work with adult musical groups within the communities and to encourage development of wholesome attitudes toward music throughout the school.

They added that integrated musical education program in all grade schools "is necessary to provide a basis for high school work."

Legal Secretary Shot To Death in Own Bed

Hartford, Nov. 29 (AP) — A 30-year-old Hartford legal secretary who was declared guilty of forgery in superior court Tuesday, was found shot to death in her bed yesterday.

The body of Mrs. Rosaline G. Beare was discovered by two Hartford attorneys after they had been warned a short while before that the woman had made a phone call and indicated something might happen to her.

Not Necessarily Suicide

Preliminary examination of the body was made by Dr. Donald R. Hagan, but he reported that the shooting was not necessarily a suicide.

A .22 caliber rifle was found beside the body.

According to police, Dominic Serignese, proprietor of the White Star Restaurant in East Hartford had received a telephone call from Mrs. Beare between 8 and 9 a.m. According to Serignese, she had called him about a check which she had sent to him, explaining that she wanted to pay him. "Before I go," he then said he heard a noise.

Serignese then called the office of Atty. Francis P. Pallotti, Pallotti called Atty. Stanley J. Grudinski of his office then went out to the woman's home.

The two men forced their way in and discovered the body in the bedroom.

Mrs. Beare, who had been the secretary to Hartford Atty. Joseph J. Trantolo, was to have been sentenced by Judge Thomas E. Trantolo after probation officers made a pre-sentence investigation into her case. She was free under a $5,000 bond.

Asst. States Attorney Douglas B. Wright told Judge Trantolo that Mrs. Beare was suffering from a psychiatric disorder, although it is legally sane.

It was learned, Wright said, that Mrs. Beare had been hospitalized while serving in the Women's Army Corps and had tried to commit suicide after coming to Hartford.

Benton Raps City Tax for Work of Art

Kansas City, Nov. 29 (AP) — Thomas Hart Benton says an artist has no right to be called a businessman. He said his attitude toward the city's new tax on the work of artists is a result of his own attitude toward the city's new tax on the work of artists.

Benton pointed out he does his painting in a barn located in an area not zoned for business purposes. Paying the occupation tax might put him in a difficult position. Besides, he said, most of his financial transactions are handled in New York.

"I think the city hall should dig up a better excuse for getting dough out of me," he said.

ON SCHEDULE

Little Rock (AP)—Eight fire trucks raced to a downtown alarm box. The firemen saw a fire in a building and they pulled the lever I would get a schedule of city buses.

Art is a vocation. It is money that is the real business. It is not to be classified as those of a business. People practice art year after year with complete artistic success and never make a red cent out of it. Such devoted practice certainly should not be penalized.

As I interpret the ordinance, it is ahead if artists... must pay for the mere right to practice their art.

Chris T. Tocher, city commissioner of revenue, disagreed.

"As I interpret the ordinance," he said, "Benton is required to be licensed. He is carrying on a business enterprise like other people and should be taxed."

Tocher said an assistant reported a newspaper story which noted a $21,000 commission was awarded Benton for painting two murals for the St. Lawrence Power and Seaway Development. Hence the tax bill.

Tocher said commercial and advertising artists are licensed, as are architects, engineers, veterinarians and accountants. Benton said that is an entirely different thing.

Traffic Deaths Off 12% Across Nation

(Continued from Page One) Deaths on the streets and roads in October numbered 2,400. That was 12 per cent under the number...

who died in October 1955. And it was the lowest toll for any October since 1949. "Not since January of 1948," the council said, "had traffic deaths been reduced as much as 12 per cent in any month."

the rising trend of the first nine months of this year had carried through October, the October death total would have been about 808 higher. "This, in theory, at least, the sudden curtailment in October could be credited with saving about 800 lives."

states Ned H. Dearborn, council president, "must go mainly to the average driver and pedestrian, and certainly to alert public officials who were alarmed over the fact that the traffic accident problem was getting out of hand."

er. Dearborn said the October improvement had not eliminated the possibility that the 1956 total would top the record of 30,969 killed in 1951. But he added: "We are almost certain now that the toll will be well under 41,000, a couple of months ago it looked as if it might reach 42,000."

The council noted that the October decrease was spread out through all regions of the country. "Half the blindness taking place today could be prevented," reports Dr. Franklin Spoke of The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Fraser Arranges Yule Decorations

"When you work with flowers you are close to nature, and when you are close to nature you are close to God," philosophized Russell Fraser during a demonstration of flower arranging Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Daughters of Isabella in the cafeteria of St. James School.

Following the simple and lovely triangular style of the Japanese, he cleverly used pine branches and cones, candles, statuettes, driftwood, Christmas tree ornaments and flowers in his creations, after which he gave many unique suggestions for door and mantel decorations for the holiday season.

A social time followed, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Michael Gorman and her committee. California dairy farms produced 23,240,000 pounds of butter and 14,171,000 pounds of cheese in 1955.

Bridgeport Man Blamed in Death

Rockville, Nov. 29 (AP)—Harry E. Inman, Bridgeport, today was held responsible for the auto accident death of Millard A. Harriman, 35, also of Bridgeport, in a finding issued by Tolland County Coroner Bernard J. Ackerman.

Ackerman said Inman was operating a motor vehicle negligently and at an excessive rate of speed at the time of the accident in Willington Oct. 15. The coroner said Inman's car crashed into the rear end of a tractor-trailer operated by Roger L. Roulin, Torrington. Two passengers in Inman's automobile were injured at the same time. Harriman was killed. They have since recovered.

Harriman suffered a fractured skull and spine. Trucks parked overnight in Clancy National Park have to be fenced in. Favorite food of porcupines are synthetic rubber tires.

Hal Boyle How to Make Money In a Traffic Jam

New York (U.P.)—One test of a man's character is what he does during a traffic jam.

Do you remain a fuming prisoner of the passing moments in such a situation? Or do you—this is the mark of the superior man—employ them for self-improvement and thus score a victory over time?

Many busy people complain and day in and day out they tell you how long enough for them to get done half the things they'd like to. They complain often that traffic jams cause them to waste more time than anything else, and usually add, "but there doesn't seem to be anything that can be done about it."

They are looking at the problem from a short-sighted angle. They look for a solution that will end to do during traffic jams — go through college? — fact, why not? An average of 23 million Americans must waste at least 10 minutes a day in traffic jams. That comes to about 2,300,000 lost hours a year. Since a college student spends only about 2,200 hours on his studies in a 4-year course, the time wasted by motorists each year in traffic jams would send 18,600 people through college.

Maybe the idea of going through college while your car is stalled doesn't appeal to you. But you can at least study a few correspondence courses on how to get ahead on your job.

You can also even study for a new career while you are endlessly waiting for the car ahead to start. There are some jobs, of course, you can't practice while sitting in a stalled car—such as piano tuning, listening to their wife, or both.

With the possible exception of dirt watching, none of these activities fall into a constructive category. All the rest waste precious time and energy.

One might well ask you defensively, "Well, just what do you expect me

Hike Noted Here In Jobless Claims

Claims for unemployment compensation in the Manchester area shot up 45.3 per cent during the holiday-shortened week that ended Saturday, the State Labor Department reported today.

It said claims numbered 368, compared with 253 during the preceding week. Initial claims, which indicate new spells of unemployment, were up also, from 48 to 80.

Women last week accounted for 183 of the claims filed. This is 49.7 per cent of the total. In the preceding week, women accounted for 120, or 47.4 per cent.

Throughout the State, meanwhile, 12,268 claimants filed for benefits during the week. This is 3 per cent higher than the 11,896 of the preceding week, and marks the fourth consecutive week in which claims increased.

In all, 35 of the Labor Department's 109 State offices reported increasing the total paid in claims this year to $17,769,218. At this time

New Hike Forecast For Cost of Living

By SAM DAWSON
New York, Nov. 29 (U.P.)—The cost of living is up again with predictions for more of the same.

Government figures also put the average take home pay of factory workers at a new high. This is all to the good.

But more than half of the nation's bread earners don't work in factories. For those whose incomes haven't increased in line with the government's consumer price index the slow rise in the cost of goods and services is scarcely a cheerful prospect.

When the government announced its cost of living index had set another record, the pay of somewhere close to two million workers went up automatically. Each year more labor-wage contracts include this escalator device.

The latest rise in the cost of living index was credited in large part to the nudges given by the higher price tags on the new model cars. The rise in the index gave a million auto and farm equipment industry workers a 2-cent an hour pay boost. Higher price tags on new cars sent the index up, and automatically boosted the cost of making cars and tractors.

Much of the most recent rise in prices throughout industry has been credited to the hike in the price of steel that followed the wage boost at the end of last summer's strike.

The latest rise in the cost of living index also all but assures that steel workers will get a three-cent an hour pay boost automatically the first of the year. And even before this latest price part to the nudges given by the higher price tags on the new model cars. The rise in the index gave a million auto and farm equipment industry workers a 2-cent an hour pay boost. Higher price tags on new cars sent the index up, and automatically boosted the cost of making cars and tractors.

Evva Gabor, Mate Plan Separation

Hollywood, Nov. 29 (U.P.)—Actress Evva Gabor and Dr. John Williams say they have agreed upon a "trial separation."

The blonde Hungarian-born actress blamed career trouble for the split. They were married in April and Miss Gabor has twice been back to New York for television shows. The physician practices in Beverly Hills.

"I moved out," Dr. Williams said last night. "We haven't decided yet on plans for a divorce."

The marriage was her, third, his second.

The rise in the index gave a million auto and farm equipment industry workers a 2-cent an hour pay boost. Higher price tags on new cars sent the index up, and automatically boosted the cost of making cars and tractors.

What really affects the pattern of a family's meat purchases is the rise or fall in the family income. A government survey reports, the income of many families have risen in recent years — and so has the quality of the meat on the family table.

The cost of living index, in other words, shows the direction prices are going. The family pocketbook determines what you do about it.

lean beef, too. This will send the price of meat up — an unpleasant prospect.

But the government has also found that the average family goes right on spending a fairly stable percentage of its income on a cut in production. Cuts in production affect the take home pay of factory workers adversely thus reversing the spiral of recent months.

A rise in the cost of living index often is an entirely different thing than an actual rise in the cost of living. It may affect the price of steel that followed the wage boost at the end of last summer's strike.

Film Audiences Accept Issues, Delicate Topics

By BOB THOMAS
Hollywood, Nov. 29.—Can film audiences take it?

There is increasing evidence that they can. There once was a time when Hollywood steered clear of hot controversy and delicate topics. Sure, the movies took stands against Nazis, communists, injustice and bigotry, but you couldn't find much argument among thinking Americans on those scores. Critics claimed that in its zeal to offend no one, Hollywood ended up by pleasing no one.

The whole philosophy has changed. The studios are now attacking a variety of hot subjects and are stretching the production code as far as it can go. There is even a move under way to change the code.

George Stevens has helped light the way in the attack on controversy. One thing he has proved when he announced he would film "Giant." The book which had received in some Texas circles, one rugged long star stated even threatened, "If you show that damn picture, we'll shoot the screen full of holes!"

"Giant" has now played Texas and there are no reports of perforated screens. In fact, John Rosenfield, the noted critic of the Dallas Morning News, reported the film has been doing smash business in Texas. Rosenfield wrote: "Not one Texas theater reports abnormal audience behavior, other than youngsters ripping all pictures of James Dean out of the lobby display frames."

Stevens didn't pumpfoot in his treatment of the Edna Ferber novel either. He likes the Texans on their "humid" attitude, their displays of wealth. A crack is made about the 7 1/2 per cent oil depletion tax allowance which has created fabulous fortunes. And the climax concerns discrimination against Mexicans.

Happy over the "Giant" receipts, Texas theater chain operator R. J. O'Donnell remarked, "The public is not as touchy as you might expect."

Banned in Memphis. Future releases will further test the public's tolerance. For instance, there is "Baby Doll," the latest study in moral decay by Tennessee Williams and Ella Kazan. It picks up where "A Streetcar Named Desire" left off in the account of southern decadence. The picture is already banned in Memphis, which should delight the Warner Brothers. Having a film banned generally seems to help business.

"Baby Doll," a wild, weird movie of unbridled power, faces jeopardy on moral as well as regional grounds. The Catholic Legion of Decency has given it a condemned rating.

On a more wholesome note, but not lacking in controversy, is Columbia's new comedy, "Bill of Life." It is one of the most delightful films in years, dealing with pregnancy in as frank a manner as has ever been seen on the screen. Whether it will offend some sensibilities remains to be seen.

Other controversial films "Island in the Sun," a full-scale study of miscegenation; "Slender," a biting indictment of the scandalous; "A Hatful of Rain," about a dope addict.

The pattern is the same that books and plays have followed. When the movies took over the mass market, the older mediums had to treat more daring subjects. Now that TV has won away the masses, the movies must attract audiences by exploring new and controversial topics.

America's Olympians Stuff 19th Medal Bag of Gold, Court Cagers Trounce Russians; First Rhubarb Develops

Melbourne, Nov. 29 (AP)—America's Olympians stuffed their 19th victory into an already bulging bag of gold, set up another in the demanding decathlon and gave Russia a 30-point whipping in basketball today. But they surrendered the spotlight to the first full-fledged rhubarb of the 1956 Games.

The 3,000-meter steeplechase, which usually produces a surprise, came through in king-size fashion when rank outsider Chris Brasher of England won, led then again after hitting the water on a full 30 yards clear in a record-smashing performance.

At 1:27 of 5:56.4 he set a new Olympic record for the 3,000-meter steeplechase. Brasher, who had finished 14th in the 1952 Olympic decathlon, won the gold medal after he had finished second in the 1952 decathlon, the decathlon which he had won in 1952.

The Olympic jury of honor awarded Brasher the gold medal after he had finished second in the 1952 decathlon, the decathlon which he had won in 1952.

radio ace, chipped in with 14 points in the 100-meter dash, which he won in the four-team final round beginning Friday. Russia also advanced, despite the loss. Joe did Uruguay.

Meanwhile, U.S. swimmers, who will hold the main U.S. interest in the track and field portion of the games and Saturday, got off to a big start at the big glass-enclosed pool.

Reid Patterson, an ex-Greer swimmer, won the 100-meter dash in 1:10.8, a record which he set in the 1952 Olympic trials. Patterson, who had finished 14th in the 1952 Olympic decathlon, won the gold medal after he had finished second in the 1952 decathlon, the decathlon which he had won in 1952.

track and field squad and the cast for another was forged as Camp-Campbell, a former Indian track and field star from Plainfield, N. J., and Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingburg, Calif., pulled well in the decathlon and basketball.

Bill Johnson, who had finished 14th in the 1952 Olympic decathlon, won the gold medal after he had finished second in the 1952 decathlon, the decathlon which he had won in 1952.

Among the qualifiers for Saturday's 100-meter dash, which will be run at 10:30 a.m., were Australia's John Landy, who had finished 14th in the 1952 Olympic decathlon, won the gold medal after he had finished second in the 1952 decathlon, the decathlon which he had won in 1952.
