UAC Offers High School Math Prizes

Rockville, Dec. 1 (Special)—A student mathematics award program sponsored by United Aircraft Corp. offers cash awards to Rockville High School students for excellence in mathematics.

The local school is one of 49 schools in Connecticut and western Massachusetts invited to participate in the program.

A $50 prize will be awarded for excellence in Grade 9 elementary algebra, and a $100 prize for overall superiority in four years of mathematics at each of the participating schools.

Purpose of the program is to encourage increased study of mathematics among high school pupils, according to William F. Covino, president of the corporation.

High school students are invited to enter the competition to every regularly enrolled student. The award recipients will be selected by school authorities.

More than 100 prizes will participate in the annual Forty Hours Devotion and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament at St. Joseph's Church starting with the 11 o'clock Mass tomorrow morning.

The 3-day services are in honor of the 40 hours Jesus lay in the tomb before rising on the third day.

Sermons will be preached by the Rev. Henry Czeka, C.M., St. Vincent's Mission House, White Stone, N. Y.

Devotions will start at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday, and will include the singing of verses by the congregation, sermon and benediction. Masses will be sung Tuesday evening at 8:30, 7:30 and 9 a.m.

The Forty Hours Devotion will close Thursday evening at 7:30 with the singing of the Litany of the Saints by the priests present.

U.S. Seen Cool On Dollar Aid For Europe Oil

The extent of the drain on dollar resources, however, will depend on how long they must wait to get the dollar cleared and the big oil pipeline from Iraq is reported to be under way.

In advance of more precise studies, officials estimated that the extra dollar cost for European purchase of American oil might run more than $50 million a month.

Despite a shortage of tankers, government agencies seemed confident they could meet the 500,000 barrels of oil daily set as a goal to keep Europe's industry from grinding to a halt.

Officials again emphasized that no rationing is in prospect in this country, but industry officials said they would be watching prices more closely.

Late figures showed that all 400,000 barrels of oil daily had been moved from Gulf Coast ports to Europe during the last week in November.

The emergency invoked yesterday by 15 major American oil companies to pool tankers, production and reserves in order to make maximum use of all available resources until Europe's oil crisis eases.

Company representatives will meet in New York Monday to draft plans for a joint tanker and production and reserve pool.

Some 600 tankers, including 300 under foreign registry, are under their control. This fleet soon will be bolstered by the addition of 30 World War II surplus tankers and administration is taking out of mothballs to hand out during the European fuel emergency.

U.N. to Try New Appeal To Hungary

The Russian and Hungarian delegations have insisted that the Hungarian situation is an internal affair and none of the U.N.A. members should attempt to send troops to Hungary.

Although rejecting Hungary's attempts to send troops to Hungary, the U.N. members recently have welcomed U.N. supplies and indicated U.N. personnel could enter their country.

Heard Along Main Street

Anybody in the Rump? Here is a random selection of puns which have grown out of the controversy over the golf course.

All That Gitters The latest, if you haven't heard, is making your own decorations for Christmas.

And a neutral party close to the situation says the trouble with the "feed off" everybody wants the "feed off."

Country Club trying to "put" the club out of business. And then again there are many club members who fear the "greaseknives" won't be able to manage the deal.

Both sides want "gimmies." On the other side of right there is a comment that the proposed lease to the club is "for the birds."

Calvin Redell, manager of Prudential Life Insurance Company's new Manchester District office, welcomes Russell Hathaway, president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

A luncheon marking the official opening of Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America's Manchester District office yesterday was attended by 32 local town business and civic leaders.

The new insurance office, which is managed by Calvin E. Redell, seems to have already gotten off to a flying start.

MEAs to Request Increase in Wages

The Personnel Policies Committee of the Manchester Education Association and the Board of Education will meet soon to discuss teacher requests for an increased wage scale and other benefits.

No date has been set for the meeting, but it is expected to be held within the next 10 days.

The teachers who are being studied prepared their requests carefully and are ready to present them to the School Board committee.

Strengthening their hand, the MEA groups say, will be the knowledge of widespread teacher support of the requests to be presented.

This knowledge, the MEA group says, is based on a poll taken of all 365 of its members.

Each of the proposals, the MEA says, was supported by a minimum of the 91 per cent of the members who returned a questionnaire on them.

There was no indication in this dispatch as to the source of the MEA's information.

The struggle for power in Syria apparently involves not only Colonel Kuri and General Assal's Nationalist party, but the Socialist Movement, the Communist Party, and the Populists of Interior Minister Ahmad Qudus.

The latter group, the most anti-Communist, has the most influence in the parliament.

It has its own differences. "Persons just out of Syria say the country is in a state of anarchy, that there are more men in the streets than in the schools."

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd notified the House of Commons that the British-French intervention in Syria has not yet begun.

Given good faith on all sides, it is expected to start in a short time," Lloyd said.

Lloyd's announcement made it clear that the British-French intervention in Syria is not a military operation, but a political one.

It is a "Project River," he said. "It is a project to develop the river into a power source."

In an obvious reference to the Atomic Energy Commission, Secretary of the Air Force Quarries said during the hearing yesterday that "We have the development of such a plant in the air force research and development program."

His reply was to a question whether the Air Force has any plans which could make a nuclear power plant.

Syrian Crisis Involves Iraq

A crisis in the Syrian government was reported today by the Baghdad newspaper Al Shaab. It said Syrian Premier Sabri Assal resigned in a dispute with the Army.

Shukri Kuyatli refused to accept the resignation and was accepted as trying to patch up the government.

The paper said Assal tried to quit in protest against charges by the Syrian Army that Iraq attempted to supply arms for a coup in Syria.

At Shaab gave this account: "There was no indication in this dispatch as to the source of the MEA's information."

Hungary for Lag's Visit Later Britain, France to Push Poland Again Refuses U.N. Plea on Observers

Budapest, Dec. 3 (AP)—An official spokesman of the government of Janos Kadar reluctantly admitted today that Hungarians had been deported to the Soviet Union.

The dramatic admission was made by Istvan Szirmai, press chief of the government, to a group of five western reporters in the tank-surrounded Budapest Parliament building.

Szirmai also conceded that "scattered armed bands" were remaining in Hungary, that public security was not yet restored in the capital and that Hungarian mines were producing only a third of their pre-revolution output.

United Nations, N.Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—Hungary today refused once more to permit U.N. observers to enter Hungary, it told Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, however, that he would be welcomed in Budapest "at a later date."
