U.N. Police Seen Asked in Kashmir

Kashmir, Pakistan, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pakistan Foreign Minister Sir Feroze Khan Noon said today Pakistan might propose that a U.N. police force patrol the cease-fire line in disputed Kashmir.

Noon, who returned yesterday from the U.N. General Assembly in New York, told newsmen the United States is one of several alternatives Pakistan has for solving the Kashmir issue. Both Pakistan and India want the princely state in the northern part of the Indian subcontinent.

The Foreign Minister indicated Pakistan will seek replacement of Indian and Pakistani troops on either side of the cease-fire line by U.N. troops when the Security Council takes up the Kashmir dispute in January.

Noon said unless a permanent U.N. police force comes into existence "the U.N. will be completely a failure, like the League of Nations."

16 Awaiting Trial For Race Violence

Clinton, Tenn., Dec. 7 (AP)—Sixteen persons made bond pending trial and a 17th went to jail yesterday as federal court wound up the first phase of its action to halt racial disorders which closed Clinton High School.

The Anderson County school board scheduled a meeting with faculty members and law enforcement officers today to plan reopening of the school Monday. It was closed after a flare-up of violence Tuesday.

Fourteen men and two women from Anderson County have been before Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor to nearby Knoxville in the U.S. District Court in the last two days on charges of criminal contempt of court in the incidents.

The 17th, Joe Diehl, a farmer, was arrested and confined to a mental hospital for refusing to comply for handing out "inflammatory literature" which compared the roundup of the other 16 with Communist actions in Hungary. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

He may not know as much as should know, Taylor told Diehl, court-appointed lawyer. But to compare an action of this kind with that of Russian, German and the Hungarian peoples is to compare apples with oranges. The other 16 were charged with various threats of acts of violence against activities tending to interfere with integration of Clinton High in violation of a court injunction.

Aug. 29 and made it permanent. Rept. 8 when violent demonstrations followed addition of 12 Negroes among 800 whites at Clinton High under Taylor's segregation order of last January. Taylor said he would set the contempt cases for trial within 10 days. He has full discretion to set the penalty in a contempt case. H. T. Hill, chairman of the Anderson County White Citizens Council, and several others identified as being active in the pro-segregation group.

The school closing Tuesday followed a riot at the school.

Italy Bars Red Chief From Rome Congress

speculated that he might have been in Budapest being to crush the Hungarian revolt.

There also has been a report that Italy is planning a successful move to curb Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev's rapprochement with President Tito of Yugoslavia.

The high level importance attached to the Congress by the top Communist leaders.

Yugoslavia's delegation includes Politburo member Peter Stanbic and Veljko Vlahovic, the latter a leading exponent of Tito's independent brand of communism as opposed to Stalinist control from Moscow.

The Congress sessions could provide a testing ground to determine whether the Italian Reds pick their own "road to socialism" or stay on the rigidly defined Moscow path.

The Congress comes in the wake of a series of events and changes in the Communist world. The Kremlin's anti-Stalin drive, partly and government changes in Poland, France, and Hungary. All have resulted in a new Italian Communist rank. A Togliatti, head of the 2-million-member Italian party which is the largest outside the Iron Curtain recently has stuck closely to the Moscow line. He got back on that course after being called down by the Soviet party newspaper Pravda last spring, when he departed from Moscow.

Other Italian Communists have been showing increasing interest in the Yugoslav position in the Communist orbit. Luigi Longo, Togliatti's deputy, led an Italian delegation to Yugoslavia and came back with glowing reports.

Religion in Home Topic of Address

"Growing Toward God in the Home" was the topic of the Rev. Carl A. Hansen, speaking Wednesday evening at the combined meeting of the Women's Fellowship and the Mothers' Club of Central Congregational Church.

The speaker who is minister of the State Conference of Congregational Churches, stated that he felt the type of religious training in the home may vary greatly and still achieve the growth of religious persons in the family.

The spirit of love and development of human responsibility inside and outside of the home are of tremendous importance, as are the practice of prayer and family worship in many families.

A cited numerous examples of homes where family life is a blessing to the religious growth of children.

Following his talk he played a recording of a group of youngsters being questioned on their ideas and invited members of the audience to participate in discussion of their reactions to the record.

An old friend to Manchester and Center Church, the Rev. Mr. Hansen was welcomed and introduced by Mrs. Rupert Upping.

A worship service, planned by Mrs. Chester Bigelow and Mrs. Henry Kuhn participated and a group from the children's choir, directed and accompanied by Mrs. Sheron Adrian, sang two Christmas selections. Short business meetings of the Mothers' Club and the Women's Fellowship introduced.

Refreshments were served by the Mothers' Club and of the Women's Fellowship introduced.

92 Per Cent in Survey Say Memorial Hospital Well Run

In its third analysis of returns from its survey of public opinion on the community relations committee of Manchester Memorial Hospital today announced that 92 per cent of the participants believe the hospital is managed efficiently.

Nearly the same percentage of people representing a cross-section of patients of the hospital service was indicated in their questionnaires that the attitude of nurses and attendants toward patients is friendly, as very friendly. Only 10 per cent said nurses and attendants show indifference, while one per cent think they are "hard-boiled."

"It is highly gratifying to all of us closely associated with the hospital," C. Emory Watkins, president of the hospital, said, "to have so many people express their appreciation of the hospital's administration and staff, especially in light of the answers published in the first two polls analyses."

These revealed that the public knows the hospital's ability to serve its growing number of patients adequately is seriously handicapped by lack of room. Furthermore, they showed that area residents favor the best in hospital care, regardless of cost.

Latest returns also indicate that 80 persons out of every 100 consider the charges made by the hospital to patients to be fair. Only 17 out of every 100 believe the charges are too high, while one per cent call them low. "This favorable public estimate of the hospital's constant effort to keep charges as low as possible despite rising operating cost in a booming national economy," Watkins commented, "is most encouraging."

The steadily growing number of men, women and children seeking medical care at Manchester Memorial Hospital is reflected in the answers to the question: "Are you a member of Connecticut Medical Service (Blue Cross) or any similar plan for the prepayment of hospital bills?" Ninety-eight per cent of those replying hold such membership.

Watkins pointed out that the public clearly demonstrated its concern for health protection and its good will to the hospital in the reply to another question. Eighty-nine persons out of every 100 said they would make a request to the hospital in their will if they were in a position to do so. Fourteen of these would make the request substantial.

Many poll participants added their own comments to the questionnaires. Here are a few typical ones:

"I have been in the MEMH on two different occasions for surgery and wish to state that no finer treatment could be offered anywhere. Certainly the hospital should be enlarged again because sometimes it is extremely difficult to get a bed."

"I am the mother of eight children and have been to several hospitals, but never to one like as good as Manchester Memorial Hospital. The service, nurses, doctors and honey atmosphere are wonderful. That is why, even though we live in Hartford, I will go to MEMH. It is too bad more hospitals can't be run like yours."

"I have been in MEMH five times in the last seven years. I had very good care, but I think the attitude of the nurses is very indifferent."

"Three out of my four children were born at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The care and consideration I received there couldn't be matched anywhere else. Speaking as an individual, I have the highest regard and praise for the wonderful way your staff runs the hospital. I know there is a shortage of nurses and nurses aides but nevertheless, as a patient there (3 times) these nurses and nurses aides worked and cooperated with each other to see that the patients' needs were properly attended to as quickly as possible. I certainly wouldn't hesitate if it came to a choice of hospitals. It's Manchester Memorial for me."

"We are parents of three young children born at Manchester Memorial Hospital and we consider the care, nurses and food excellent. My husband had three operations at the hospital this last summer. He had excellent care and attention and thought the nurses were very nice."

Philippines Gains U.N. Council Seat

that, unless the assembly elected Czechoslovakia, he would veto any proposal to enlarge the 11-nation council to take into account the admission of 49 new U.N. members in the past year.

Supported by both the United States and Britain, Filipino delegate Felixberto Serrano expressed confidence his government would get the Yugoslav seat.

"What is at issue," he told newsmen, "is whether the government's agreement between Yugoslavia and the Philippines is to be honored."

But many delegates expressed concern that the prospective lineup promised another deadlock, with East and West throwing their votes behind their candidates.

Yugoslav informants said that their delegates expected to split the Philippines on the first vote ballot but that their agreement did not bind them to back Manila indefinitely.

Under that year's agreement, made when 30 ballots failed to break the deadlock, the Philippines and Yugoslavia agreed to split the 2-year term. They drew lots and Yugoslavia won the first year.

Kuznetsov held one of his rare press conferences yesterday when he said that the Philippines had agreed to split the 2-year term. He said that the Philippines had agreed to split the 2-year term.

Errant Missile Presumed in Brazil Jungle

that even airplanes have disappeared and never been located. There was no indication the missile carried any warhead or explosives.

Normally, a test missile is fired along the range to a designated point at which it is turned around and headed back toward the test base, so it can be recovered. Its course is checked both by radar and other observations along the range and by chase planes which follow it.

The announcement did not specify the type of missile fired. Both the Snark and the Navaho have been test-fired from the Patrick base. In at least one previous test, the snark has been fired on a 2,000-mile round trip over the 100-mile test range.

At daybreak today, the Air Force said, the missile was launched from the test base. It was observed by radar and other observations along the range and by chase planes which follow it.

Jet Victim's Name Learned by Navy

Quonset Point, R. I., Dec. 7 (AP)—The Navy today identified the pilot who was killed last night when his B-29 jet ran out of fuel while trying to land in the fog at the naval air station here at Quonset Point.

The pilot was identified as Lt. (jg) Dean J. Boba, USNR, 24.

The Public Information Office said the pilot was a member of the fighter squadron VF-82 at Oceana Naval Air Station, Va.

The office said it believed the pilot ejected himself from the cockpit of the jet when it ran out of fuel, but was too close to the ground for his parachute to open. His body was found around 10:20 p.m. about 50 feet from the plane by a Navy aviator from Quonset Point who was among searchers sent out after the crash to comb a 4-mile area.

The area was searched for more than five hours before wreckage of the F2H-3 Banshee was discovered 100 yards north of an access road leading to the Nike launcher site in Davisville.

Officials said the plane crashed while the pilot vainly attempted a ground controlled approach landing at the Quonset Naval Air Station.

They said the tier had about four minutes of fuel left when he began his approach.

The plane was one of two jet fighters which left Oceana, Va., for a training mission at Quonset.

Bad weather made a landing impossible at Westover and the two planes turned to Quonset. The other plane landed safely.

Hungarians Quit Exile for Home

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 7 (AP)—Fifty-one Hungarians who fled to Yugoslavia from their revolution-battered homeland voluntarily returned to Hungary today, the Yugoslav Interior Ministry announced.

The Interior Ministry's announcement disclosed that 509 Hungarians crossed into Yugoslavia since the outbreak of the revolution.

On Nov. 29 the Yugoslav and Hungarian governments reached agreement on 417 who had entered Yugoslavia by then, the ministry said. They went to other countries, it said, the announcement said.

A total of 302 Hungarians have returned to Hungary since the revolution, the ministry said.

Midwest City, Okla. (AP)—Reg. Martin M. Lynch celebrated his implementing the 1953 agreement with the Air Force, on June 19.

On the same day, his son, John J. Lynch, was sworn into the Air Force.

"He's following in his old man's footsteps," the father grinned, as Lynch is stationed at Tinker Air Force base here.

Over 1,200 Letters Mailed In Salvation Army Campaign

Coventry, Dec. 7 (Special)—More than 1,200 letters have been mailed to local residents in an appeal for donations in the Salvation Army fund campaign, Frederick C. Wellwood, service unit committee chairman, has announced.

To emphasize the need for funds, a telephone canvassing campaign is planned for next week. Heading the committee are Mrs. Herbert W. Love and Mrs. Henry Sherman. Wellwood said today, "We are aiming to live up to our slogan of more people giving, and the only way we can do this is by reaching every home."

Donations may be sent to J. Letoy Schweyer, unit treasurer. About 20 per cent of the funds contributed locally remain in the local service fund, to be used exclusively for needs here, the chairman said.

Among the activities carried on by the local service fund are emergency family welfare, dental, medical care, summer camping and Christmas tree gifts.

Cuban Planes Hit Rebel Garrison

Havana, Cuba, Dec. 7 (AP)—Cuban air force planes hit rebel headquarters with bombs and machine guns early today in southeast Cuba. An Army communiqué said three rebels were killed and two taken prisoner in the joint air-ground action.

The air force was called in after army units tracking down the rebels asked for aerial assistance.

"Three different objectives of the factious group were machine gunned and bombed," the communiqué said.

The action occurred in the Niquero region, near the site where a rebel force landed Sunday. The size of the insurgent force has been estimated at 40 to 100 men. About 1,000 government troops have been pursuing the revolutionaries in mopping up operations.

The landing followed a brief uprising Friday at Santiago de Cuba. The Army communiqué said that no deaths had occurred at several points. They said a small bomb exploded in a Santiago theater but caused no damage.

UConn Aide Hears Of Kin in Hungary

Storrs, Dec. 7 (Special)—The representative of a University of Connecticut, real-estate consultant, Mrs. Magdalene Felkey, over her son in Hungary has been relieved somewhat by the receipt of a terse cablegram to the effect: "All of us are well. Send packages. We are hungry," were the words of a cablegram from Gabriel, at Szabolcs, a small Hungarian town where her nephew works in a railroad office.

"Gabriel" was to have been a representative on a soccer team from Hungary to this year's Olympic Games and was missing in that country before the recent revolution broke out. Mrs. Felkey has been trying to contact her son since she heard that some members of the Hungarian soccer team slated for participation in the Olympic Games were killed in the revolution.

No Policy of Solution

It takes no great vision to see that everybody is agonizing about Hungary, but that nobody is doing anything fundamental about it.

Inside Hungary, the Russians have a tiger of a nationalistic revolt by the tail, and dare not let go of it, even if they would. Inside Hungary, the revolt itself has a dynamism, a bitterness, a flaming devotion to the cause of freedom which will not be quelled by mere Russian force, and which keeps erupting against it.

This situation, inside Hungary, represents a deadlock of wills, with Russian force stalemated by Hungarian spirit. The Russians may have lost Hungary, but for them, it is not Hungary alone which is at stake in Hungary.

Meanwhile the outside world, in response to its own principles and its deep emotions, is making certain moves with regard to Hungary. It is sending in food and medicine. It is offering haven to Hungarian refugees. And it is pressing the moral issue in the United Nations. These are all things which show where the world's heart is. They also exploit, to a powerful degree, the defeat Russia is taking in Hungary.

But they do not break the deadlock inside Hungary. If anything, they merely strengthen it, by giving heart and encouragement to the Hungarians. In so far as this supports the cause which is right, in so far as it increases the embarrassment and discomfiture and the disrepute of the Russians, it is well and good.

But it still does not resolve the situation, or end the deadlock, or guarantee that the killing has stopped, or produce freedom for Hungary.

Why, then, not go to the military-aid of the Hungarian people? Why not try to send a United Nations police force there? The answer is that even those who hate Russia must know that Russia is caught, in Hungary, in a position where it would have to fight, so that an effort to liberate Hungary by force of Western arms would be World War III, with no hope of survival for Hungary or anybody else.

The one thing that might be done, then, lies by the process of elimination, in the realm of top level diplomacy. The only way to resolve the deadlock in Hungary peacefully and fruitfully is to try to resolve the whole problem of Central Europe, and the whole problem of East-West, military confrontation in Europe.

The Near East crisis, by posing before the world a situation which had to be arrested if the world was to survive, produced emergency action of an unprecedented character, in which the world solved one problem, that of an international police force, in a matter of hours. And if the world follows through on its responsibilities in the Near East, there will be some surprisingly prompt basic settlements of the Hitlerite insubordinate problems there.

We now have to ask whether the companion crisis in Hungary does not bid the world to equally daring, and equally quick, to try to resolve some fundamental questions which have long been hanging fire.

We have on file from Russia, for instance, a proposal to withdraw both Russian and Western troops 200 miles from the so-called Curia. That would involve some kind of solution of the whole European problem, including that of Hungary. It might enable the Russians to let go of the Hungarian tiger, and it might shut off the flow of world-wide sympathy which has come in an instant if, with the Hungarian deadlock persisting, East Germany or Poland should suddenly develop uncontrolled revolutionary movements of their own.

It is not merely a question of rescuing Hungary. It is a question of rescuing both Russia and ourselves from a situation in which neither east nor west has a choice about World War III. That was also the situation in the Near East crisis, where it has been noted by held, unprecedented action nobody would have considered possible 24 hours before it happened. But in the Hungarian crisis no real policy has appeared as yet, and not even this country has done the best, clear thinking it did do in the Near East emergency.

the other hand, the ostentatious good fellow and the do-gooder may sometimes be the fellow to watch. We have now written ourselves into quite a trap, haven't we? How do we distinguish between the good fellow who is really a good fellow at heart, the kind who makes "life more decent and pleasant, and the good fellow who is spreading himself to cover up and excuse his own villainy? Shall we esteem meanness, and suspect goodness? Forget it all, say we, and continue to take them as they come—with, perhaps, some slight cautionary reservations both ways.

Wives Remember: Men Are Sensitive About Age. Too Men hate to grow old every bit as much as women do. But you wouldn't think it, the way some wives constantly make remarks that call attention to their husband's age.

Who doesn't know the wife who is always reminding her husband in front of others that he isn't as young as he used to be? Who doesn't know the wife who thinks her husband's baldness is something to be ashamed of? Who doesn't know the wife who thinks it is her duty to remind George that he had better be leaving the party? It is because, of course, poor old George just can't keep up late the way he could when he was younger.

Most husbands know the score and never, never say anything to make a wife feel she is growing old. They are even willing to keep reassuring a wife that she is even prettier than when she was young. They do this not because she is, but because it is pleasant and harmless bit of illusion to tell her so.

Why should a wife ever make a husband feel old when it means so much to her to have him make her feel young? (All rights reserved; NEA Service, Inc.)

Once again, we have three methods of trying to prevent a Pearl Harbor. One is a sharp military strength which would be certain not to be caught napping and which would be able to dash out at least as much as it received. Another is appeasement, which would let potential aggressors fatten on others, until they became stronger facing us. And the third is the development, and the enforcement, of international law, through the United Nations, which might have the power to stop little aggressions before they became big ones, and the impartiality not to play power bloc or spheres of influence favorites with aggressors.

How fallible can our judgment of human nature be, when we assume that we really "know" somebody, become? As recently as last Sunday, the people of one whole community that of Ellenville in upstate New York, were almost unanimously sure that they really knew their own neighbor and leading citizen, one William Richard Rose. They held a mass meeting of all their civic organizations to testify to their faith in him. A total of 3,000 out of the town's 4,200 population signed a petition expressing confidence in his integrity. After all, he had grown up there. The bank he headed had been headed by his father before him. He had been civic-minded, and he had been kind and considerate, a very "human" banker if there ever was one. And even after a few days before, there had been news that examiners had discovered some mis-up in the bank's books, many of his fellow citizens ostentatiously went to the bank and deposited more of their own money in it, giving stirring and practical demonstration of their belief in him.

It is difficult to conceive of any more precious tribute ever coming to one man, than this demonstration of affection and loyalty on the part of a whole community. Yet within an hour, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. had closed his bank and about the task of liquidating its assets, and the shortage in the bank's funds was estimated at $1,500,000. From such instances—one remembers especially the lovely lady down in Virginia, who believed everybody and even caused so generously—it is possible to construct a cynical law, to the effect that, the hard-boiled character who was the villain in the old melodrama, with not an ounce of human kindness visible in him, may have been the supremely reliable banker, after all. And, on

Andover Community Carol Sing Set For Dec. 21 at Town Hall

Andover, Dec. 7 (Special)—A group of about 25 carolers from the Andover Garden Club has been scheduled for Dec. 21 from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the Town Hall. The group will be singing carols and Christmas songs. The group is made up of members of the club and other interested persons. The singing will be held in the Town Hall, which is decorated for the occasion. The group will be led by Mrs. George Munson, as announced earlier.

Decorations Discussed

At the Garden Club's meeting Wednesday night, Professor Rudy Fawcett, of the University of Connecticut, demonstrated the wind-plans to decorate with wreaths, swags and roping. He recommended balsam for indoor decorations since it would not drop as soon as other types of greens.

Other tips for keeping interior greens at the peak of their attraction

He recommended balsam for indoor decorations since it would not drop as soon as other types of greens. Other tips for keeping interior greens at the peak of their attraction were the use of sphagnum moss or moistened straw as a base for displays arranged not earlier than Dec. 18. In this way, the decorations would retain maximum freshness and appeal for the festive season.

Future club meetings will be scheduled for the fourth Wednesday of each month with the regular 1 p. m. to which all interested members are invited to attend.

Christmas meeting of the Mothers Club will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Donahue, Bear Swamp Rd., instead of the home of Mrs. George Munson, as announced earlier.

Sunday Church Services

For the second in a series of four sermons on "Advent Impressions," the Rev. Stephen R. Chamberlain will preach at the Congregational Church Sunday at 4 p.m.

A Christmas concert will be held at the Congregational Church Sunday at 4 p.m.

The Windham High School Choir will perform under the direction of Timothy Quinn. A special selection of Christmas chorals will be sung.

Of the 49 singers, ten are local students comprising the largest number in this high school activity.

To Attend Conference

Mrs. Hazel Floyd, a member of the Elementary School staff, will attend a State-wide legislative meeting of the Connecticut Education Association which opens at Wethersfield High School tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Floyd is secretary of the CEA legislative committee.

Simpsons to Move

Andover will lose one of its most active couples today when the Kenneth Simpson family moves to Avon, Mass., a family town outside Concord.

Simpson is also well-known in area towns as a former chairman of the Columbia Chapter of the American Red Cross, chairman of the local American Cancer Society branch, and a former state director representing the Nathan Hale Jaycees.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were serving their second year as co-chairmen of the P.T.A. Ways and Means committee.

In addition, Mrs. Simpson was organizing a local Ground Observer Unit.

Simpson had been transferred to the Newton Center office of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., plastics division.

Probe Opens On Gambling At Sub Base

New Haven, Dec. 7 (AP)—The arrest of an alleged horse race bookie has opened up a full-scale investigation into what a U.S. attorney calls "wide open gambling at the U.S. Navy Submarine Base at New London."

U.S. Attorney S. Cohen said last night the alleged gambling apparently involved civilians employed at the base, a key submarine port on the East Coast and home of the atomic submarine fleet.

Cohen said he hopes his investigation will tell whether gambling was going on "within the knowledge of responsible persons at the base."

Cohen launched his investigation after the FBI arrested Joseph A. Scialabba, 28-year-old refrigeration mechanic at the base yesterday. Special Agent Joseph J. Chaper said Scialabba was arrested on the base and had in his possession "numerous" betting slips.

Scialabba was ordered held for trial in U.S. District Court here on a charge of gambling on a government reservation.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Francis J. McNamara Jr. said there were "apparently a great number" of civilians employed involved.

"We hope to find out who they are," he said, "and we hope to discover what persons in authority at the base were responsible for allowing this situation to exist."

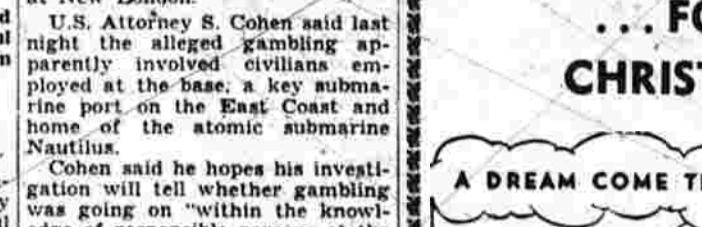

McNamara said horse race bets were apparently the main gambling activity.

The gamblers would line up to be paid off," he said.

Details on MMH Expansion To Be Announced at Dinner

Specific plans for the modernization and enlargement of Manchester Memorial Hospital will be announced Monday at 6:45 p.m. during a dinner at the Masonic Temple here by a citizens committee of nearly 300 Manchester and area residents.

Committee organization and methods of raising the money to finance the expansion building program will be discussed by the formation of the Citizens Committee for the Modernization and Enlargement of Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The meeting, which climaxes months of preliminary research and planning, will mark the conclusion of a public opinion survey, the results of which (see page 4) show overwhelming sentiment in favor of expanding the hospital to meet growing demands for its services.

At the dinner the amount of money to be solicited by the fund raising groups and the total cost of the addition will also be announced.

The Honorable Harold A. Turkington, Mayor, will bring the official greetings and endorsement of the town.

Walking in Parade

Elmore Watkins, president of the hospital, will preside for the first part of the evening's proceedings and will speak about the need for a larger and improved hospital.

A comprehensive outline and plan of the expansion program will be given on behalf of the hospital board of trustees by Raymond W. Goslee, chairman of the Building Committee. Dr. James J. Roberts Jr., chief radioologist, will comment on the situation from the doctors' point of view.

Guests at Head Table

Guests at the head table will include Joseph C. Barry, president of the medical staff; Mrs. Myrtle Case Crowell, one of the original members of the hospital board; Robert E. Hathaway, treasurer of the building fund; Mrs. Alexander P. Manning, chairman of the women's auxiliary; and Edmund J. Thoms, hospital administrator.

The dinner will be given by the hospital board of trustees, with the Rev. Fred R. Edgar, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the benediction by Father John F. Hannon, of St. James Church.

November Meter Tally at $2,464

Parking meters yielded $2,464 in pennies and nickels during the month of November, according to the collector of revenue's monthly report to the general manager.

This brought the total collected from this source so far this year to $8,827.75. Another $372.13 in municipal parking revenue was collected in November. The total for the year brought the total of both sources to $9,200.88.

But while a balance on hand on Aug. 15 leaves the fund with a present balance of $2,186.86, expenses last month took all but $1,063.77.

The expenses, amounting to $2,127.69, represent almost entirely the salaries for two years of the policemen who check the meters and are paid out of their receipts.

According to the collector of revenue, $10,000 was a reimbursement of the town's general fund. Last year's salaries were paid out of this fund, but the town did not bill parking meter fund until after Aug. 15, the end of the fiscal year.

Another $10,000 was paid into a special account out of which the policemen are being paid this year.

The White Elephant table and grab bag attracted the young people attending the sale.

A new type of road surfacing—numbered by persons commencing with the letter "R"—has been used by the department to pave Bridge St., Litchfield St., Avon St., Portland St., Hackmead St., St. James St., Maple St., Robert Rd., Broadfield St., from E. Center St. to the high school and the drive over the dry brook to the Municipal Building parking lot.

He also said the material, which eventually supersedes the use of road tar in the maintenance of highways.

Classes in all three buildings will be as follows:

The East Side Rec. on Monday evening, The West Side Rec. on Tuesday evenings, The Community Y on Thursday evenings. Starting time in all three buildings will be at 8:15 p.m.

If after the first few lessons the classes become quite large they will be divided into two groups. This will be up to the decision of the instructors.

Boys interested in participating in this program should contact the personnel working in any of the three buildings.

Sense and Nonsense

The young man was singing at the village concert, and the audience was in front of my singer (thinking). Ah! I have captured their emotions with my song.

He turned his head proudly, then his expression changed. There was a pained look on the face of his accompanist. What was the matter? Was he singing the wrong words? Surely he was not out of tune?

Singer: "I'm singing between verses—Am I going wrong?"

The pianist looked up, tears in his eyes.

Pianist (agonized): "No, but I'm sitting on my pipe and it's all right!"

The attractive woman psychiatrist was attending a convention. At one of the lectures the man sitting next to her began to pinch her. Annoyed, she was about to give him an angry retort when she changed her mind.

"Why should I get angry?" she decided. "After all—it's his problem."

Police said today they have recovered some of the goods stolen Tuesday night from Stanley's Service Station, 20 Dillard Pike.

Several cases of wool and polka-dot cloth and other items were found yesterday under a truck parked in the service station parking area. Investigations into that truck and another at Hagedorn's Service Station, 108 Toland Pike, are continuing.

NO MORE THEFTERY

Memphis, 7—From now on the guy that gets the sabre from Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest's bronze side will need a good howl torch and plenty of patience. After several irritating sessions of "who's got the sabre" the city has ordered the over-size weapon into the scabbard.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Arnold of Wynoka, started gnawing the live cord and finally got down to the wire. He was burned about the mouth but the injuries were not serious.

New Strike, Unrest Loom in Hungary

only possibility to restore order and create a normal life.

"It continues, the confidence of workers will be lost completely and those who direct provocations will reach their goal turning the workers' class definitely against the government.

"The end will be a general strike, bloodshed and a new national tragedy."

The proclamation was made public today in every Budapest factory. It is to be handed to the government later.

"Our negotiations with the government did not bring the required results," it said. "It appears that Premier János Kadar does not have the power to limit certain persons who are still around him and who are hated by the workers. These persons maintain their attitude about the will and the mood of the Hungarian people—these 'hintermen' from above the purge of the state apparatus."

The proclamation was issued as the city was reported quiet—at least on the surface—after three days of turmoil.

Some sporadic strikes were reported. The Kadar government apparently is determined to break every resistance. Police last night threatened to take severe measures against counter-revolutionary activity—a brand that can be used apparently against anybody.

The proclamation said in part: "As we see it, the government does not build the peace between the workers councils in spite of the promises by Kadar. The workers' council presidents and members who circulate our publications are arrested."

"The situation is that police drag away presidents or members and many turned back to leaf through windows as flames enveloped the car.

A CTA spokesman said the dead motorman, whose body was badly burned, was Daniel Cullen, 47, of 2007 Birchwood Ave. He was half a mile from the scene of the accident.

The first car was destroyed, the second badly damaged. Other cars in the train were not affected.

Lane said many passengers in the train were calmly opened windows and dropped to the ground, including himself, walked to the second car and jumped to the ground.

Lane said, "I saw a number of riders prostrate, some with faces blackened by fire and smoke. Other were bleeding from cuts on legs and arms as fellow passengers calmly opened windows and dropped to the ground, including myself, walked to the second car and jumped to the ground."

Police, fire department and private ambulance quickly converged on the scene and took injured to hospitals.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Eden's Regime Keeps Control Of Parliament have only 60 members than all other parties in the House.

—Slap at Eden

The government's majority was reduced on the second vote by 10 Conservatives who abstained. This was a direct slap at Eden by Conservative backbenchers of a long standing, now constitutes a humiliating reverse leaving British and France without any gains from the invasion.

But the small number of abstentions in itself was a Conservative victory, since more than 100 members of the party a week ago signed a petition deploring the U.N. and U.S. demands for the evacuation of the government.

Possible Here

The votes came after a 2-day foreign policy debate during which the Conservative party's determination to ride out the storm and fight for the party's principles was set forth by acting Prime Minister H. A. Butler, heading the government while Eden is resting in Jamaica and regarded by many as Eden's heir apparent.

Later Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan, the only other likely successor to Eden, referred to the next 2 1/2 years as a "long life before it."

Eden and his Conservatives were elected in May 1955, for a 5-year term. British governments usually call for new national elections well before the end of the full term of office. Butler's appointment as chief of the full term of office was still widespread.

Many political observers insisted he would resign soon after the government's term: certain polling cloth and other rigors were found yesterday under a truck parked in the service station parking area. Investigations into that truck and another at Hagedorn's Service Station, 108 Toland Pike, are continuing.

Some ten million people have violated the Statute of Liberty since the official count was started in 1932.

Fire Aboard Train Kills One, Hurts 40

reporter who was riding in the second car, said the sudden blaze, three passengers were killed and 40 hurt.

Lane said the first car, which the blaze started, "went up like a torch." He said some passengers in the forward car fought their way to other cars while many riders leaped through closed windows to the elevated right way.

The train came to a halt south of the Howard Street Station, near Jarvis Avenue where passengers were reported suffering from a fractured arm.

Lane said he walked to the rear of the long train and dropped to the ground, including himself, walked to the second car and jumped to the ground.

Eden Wants India to Keep British Link

New Delhi, Dec. 7—Prime Minister Nehru today said he wants India to remain in the British Commonwealth despite the British-French invasion of Egypt.

Nehru spoke in opposition to a Communist resolution in the upper house of Parliament demanding that India quit the British family of nations because of the landing in the Suez Canal Zone. The resolution was defeated.

The Communist author, S. N. Mazumdar, said it reflected the "strong convictions of a considerable section of Indian public opinion."

Nehru said in reply he was "for everything that brings us together without using us in any way." He said his government opposed such linking as the Bagdad pact, NATO and SEATO—military alliances he has spoken against many times before—but not "such a free association of nations as the Commonwealth represented."

Seeking to underline the non-binding character of the commonwealth, Nehru said the "United States is closer to the British-led group than India is, and India is closer to Burma and Indonesia than she is to any Commonwealth member."

Then he added: "I am going next week to the United States, the greatest, most powerful, most influential country in the world, to meet the President of that country who has recently been again elected."

"Vast masses of the American people have shown their fundamental belief in the United States as a friend."

Month's Building Down from 1935

The amount of new construction undertaken in Manchester last month was considerably less than during a comparable period last year, according to a report submitted by Building Inspector Griswold Chappell.

The report says new taxable buildings in Manchester last month amounted to $225,304. This is about 60 percent less than the $378,200 in construction started in November, 1935, the report adds.

A sharp decline in the number of dwelling units accompanied the drop in the total of new construction. Last month, 10 permits for the construction of houses were issued. Last year, the number was 23. The total number of construction jobs was only two less last month, 72 compared with 74 in November, 1935.

Police Recover Stolen Articles

Police said today they have recovered some of the goods stolen Tuesday night from Stanley's Service Station, 20 Dillard Pike.

Several cases of wool and polka-dot cloth and other items were found yesterday under a truck parked in the service station parking area. Investigations into that truck and another at Hagedorn's Service Station, 108 Toland Pike, are continuing.
