Polish Election
 Poland has held a relatively free election in which Gomulka, a Communist, has emerged triumphant. The relative freedom of the election existed in two respects. First, there was no government or police pressure forcing people to vote for or against Communist candidates at the polls. At the polls, those who wished to vote in secret could do so. Many of those who wished to vote against Communist candidates did so, however, boldly in the open.

Polish Election
 Second, it was within the power of the voters, if they wished, to make at least a symbolic rejection of Gomulka's Communist. Candidates they wished to vote for were listed on the ballot. It is not clear whether this was done in a symbolic manner.

A Thought for Today
 Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches.

A Prayer for the Church
 O God, we pray for Thy Church, which is set today amid the perils of a changing order, face to face with a great new task. We remember with love the nurture she gave to our spiritual life in its infancy, the strength she gave to our growing faith, the influence she has exerted. When we compare her with all human institutions, we are filled with admiration and awe. In all this, Poland, and the world, have been fortunate because it has been able to halt its own evolution half-way, at a peaceful stage, and because it has, by its election, been able to strengthen Gomulka both against the Stalinist Communists in Poland itself and against Russia. But even a strong Gomulka might not survive unless he could convince Russia that he was not a puppet. He has laid the lid on the Polish revolution, and also preserved the gains of the revolution, and the people of Poland have had brains enough to help him do it.

North Carolina Overtakes Kansas in Weekly AP Cage Poll

DeSpirito in Comeback, Captures Claiming Race

Miami, Fla., Jan. 22 (AP)—Tony DeSpirito rode what was perhaps the most important race of his career at Hialeah Park yesterday. Remember Tony DeSpirito? He's the champion jockey from Lawrence, Mass., who at the age of 17 in 1943 set a U.S. record with 3000 wins, breaking a mark that had stood since 1909.
