USY Delegates Leave Tuesday For Convention

Seven USY'ers from Temple Beth Shalom will leave tomorrow to attend the seventh National Convention of the United Synagogue Youth of America in Chicago, Dec. 28 through 30.

The USY is the national organization for Jewish youth affiliated with the United Synagogue of America and is designed to inspire and guide individuals through higher spiritual values and to activate leadership through Judaism. For four days approximately 1,000 teenagers and their advisors, representing all areas of the United States and Canada, will hold workshops, plenary sessions, discussion panels and business meetings. The theme of the convention is "Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep It Holy."

The Manchester delegates are Leslie Hochberg, Joseph S. G. L. Daniel Firestone, Stanley Auerbach, Marvin Hass, Alan Schoedel and Kenneth Tarlow, who will be under the guidance of a Rabbi Leon Wind, spiritual leader of the Manchester Synagogue. Rabbi Wind has been invited to lead several of the seminars at the convention.

The present local membership is 35 and the recently formed Junior USY Junior High School age group numbers 40.

The Manchester chapter has been recognized as one of the outstanding groups for their participation in local, regional and national programs. One of the requirements for USY membership is regular attendance at the weekly Sabbath services held on Friday evenings which are planned and conducted by the USY's teacher. They are also required to attend Sunday School in addition to their high school education.

Within the Connecticut region, many constructive programs are presented throughout the year, such as regional week-end seminars and a 10-day convalesce at Camp Martin. These programs are all designed on the same theme which lead up to and culminate at the National Convention.

The local USY chapter is sponsored by the Brotherhood of the Temple, which supervises and subsidizes many of their activities.

Realtors Present Scholarship

Judith Broverman, a 19-year-old freshman at Pembroke College, has been awarded a $200 scholarship by the Realtors of the Greater Hartford Area. She plans to become a psychologist or a college history teacher.

The money for the scholarship was taken from the general fund of the Board of Realtors. The award was presented by the Realtors Association of Greater Hartford, which was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph B. Hooverman, 120 Green Lane Rd. in West Hartford, where the Realtors Association of Greater Hartford held its annual conference.

Miss Broverman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Hooverman, 120 Green Lane Rd. in West Hartford, where she graduated second in her class at Manchester High School in June and was class salutatorian. While attending high school she was a member of the National Honor Society and was elected vice president in her senior year. She has the representative from the Current Affairs Club to the Connecticut State Conference of Girls' Leaders. She plans to become a psychologist or a college history teacher.

State Accidents Take 7 Lives Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Seven persons, including three children, met violent deaths in Connecticut during the Christmas holiday weekend. Six died in traffic accidents. Police were participating in a "Merry Christmas" drive in Groton, two 16-year-old boys died Friday night when they were struck by a car while walking on Route 4 at a main highway between New London and Providence. They were Rosa Wayne Johnson and Richard Shook, both of Groton. The driver of the auto Robert W. Waters, 28 Natick, told police the boys appeared suddenly in front of his vehicle as he was about to pass another car.

John Buckley, 33, was killed in Bridgeport's South End Friday night when he was struck by an automobile while crossing a street. The driver of the car, Ralph Rich, 30, of Oxford, struck two parked cars as he swerved in an attempt to avoid hitting the pedestrian. He was unharmed.

In Williamstown, Alfred LaFramme, 24, was killed Saturday when the auto in which he and four companions were riding, Route 250, crashed into a fence and overturned. A second car, containing four passengers, crashed into the wreckage. Three of LaFramme's companions were injured. The occupants of the other car were unharmed.

Francisco Vasquez, New Haven, was killed Sunday in Southbury when his car ran out of control on Route 4A and crashed into a stone wall.

Police said the driver of the auto, Angel Pagan, 18, also of New Haven, was injured critically. Edward Rawson, 20, West Haven, was killed Saturday when he fell from a pole on a Millford farm. Police said Rawson was repairing an electric light damaged in a wind and rain storm when he fell.

2 Directors Still Favor Short Lease

Two Democratic Directors today repeated positions in favor of a short-term lease of town land to the Manchester Country Club with a definite termination date.

According to Director Cummings, an independent lease is as good as a 3-year termination clause inasmuch as the town would be required to purchase the land at a price which would be "very desirable."

In the opinion of Director James Mahoney, the people want a short-term lease. The two Directors are members of a 6-man committee of the club to study the question of a new lease to the club. The voters rejected a 30-year lease Oct. 22.

The people who defeated the 30-year lease will be satisfied, Cummings said. "I think the voters are in the best interests of everybody."

The Director added that various proposals for play of the town-owned golf course operated by the club should be considered. The town would include public use of the course. The voters rejected a 30-year lease on Nov. 19.

A minimum of two years and a maximum of five years was suggested. Mahoney said, "I think the short-term lease is the best thing to do through study to different possible uses."

Director Gene Kelly, the third Democratic member of the committee, said he had not yet decided on his position. He said the 30-year lease proposal is "not in the best interests of the town."

Another meeting of the committee will be held after General Manager Martin Froneo's report on different types of leases. Kelly said.

Martin proposed a combination short-term independent term lease allowing the club to lease other town property from the land presently occupied by the first committee meeting.

The former lease on the town-owned golf course expired Sept. 30.

Director Gene Kelly, the third Democratic member of the committee, said he had not yet decided on his position. He said the 30-year lease proposal is "not in the best interests of the town."

Indonesia and Dutch Push Evacuation

Indonesia over the bottleneck in interland shipping caused by the Indonesian takeover of the Dutch KPM Shipping Co. KPM said 37 of its 48 vessels are being operated by Indonesian hands, but the Indonesians so far have been unable to get them operating.

Despite reports of Japanese offers to ship shipping home, officials in Tokyo have expressed doubt that the Indonesians could make satisfactory arrangements to pay for the ships of the Japanese ships.

Prosecutor John FitzGerald said that the violation of probation was referred to the grand jury. The grand jury returned a verdict of guilty on Jan. 6.

FitzGerald said that according to the report of Beaman's violation of probation, the violation was due to laziness in finding and holding steady employment.

Beaman's mother appeared in court and stated that her son had made an honest effort to seek employment. She also said that her son had kept within the 10 o'clock curfew hours set as a condition of probation.

Hartford Court on the assault charge.

The case of Rabbi Shalom I. Eisenbach, 36 of Storrs and Essex St., Cambridge, Mass., was both charged with negligent homicide as the result of separate traffic fatalities, were held in Town Court this morning by Judge John Karp.

Rabbi Eisenbach was charged following an accident on Nov. 11 on E. Center St. at the intersection of Benton St., where a car driven by him struck and killed a pedestrian.

A coroner's report stated that the driver of the car was negligent in that he was driving with the headlights on at a speed in excess of 30 miles per hour.

Rabbi Eisenbach was charged with negligent homicide following the death of a child in a car accident on Oct. 21.

The coroner's report concluded that the victim, a major stationer at 171 W. Main St., was struck by the car when it was driving with the headlights on at a speed in excess of 30 miles per hour.
