Jimenez Says Revolt By Air Force Crushed

Bogota, Colombia, Jan. 2 (AP)—A broadcast purporting to come from a rebel transmitter in Venezuela asserted today that the Navy had joined the Air Force revolt against the Government. The station identified itself as the air base at Maracay. The broadcast was heard at 3:15 a.m.

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—Independent reports from Venezuela today indicated the government still is not in complete control of a revolutionary uprising begun New Year's Day.

Barranquilla, Colombia, Jan. 2 (AP)—Thirteen Venezuelan Air Force officers arrived by plane today from Maracay, the big Venezuelan air base west of Caracas.

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 2 (AP)—The government of President Marcos Perez Jimenez announced before dawn today that it had crushed an Air Force revolt in less than 24 hours.

The Army chief of staff, Gen. Romulo Fernandez in a broadcast said the rebellious garrison at Maracay, center of the revolt, had been taken by government forces at 3:30 a.m.

Fernandez added, however, that scattered pockets of rebels were being mopped up.

The Army Chief repeated the claim by President Perez Jimenez in a broadcast last night that the rest of the country—the world's No. 2 oil producer—was completely calm.

Fernandez said that the rebel leaders fled by air. He reported that Aurelio Tamayo, commander and governor of the State of Aragua, had been restored to his post along with his chief aide. Maracay is the capital of Aragua State.

Fernandez and other officials had been seized by rebel troops at 5 a.m. yesterday, Fernandez said.

At 4 a.m. this morning, Fernandez announced 25 Air Force planes from bases at Palenque and Boca Del Rio in Maracay were at the main Caracas airport in the service of the government.

17 Polio Fighters Put in Hall of Fame

Warm Springs, Ga., Jan. 2 (AP)—Jacob von Heine, a German, first clearly identifiable polio as a medical target in 1840.

Today, he and 16 other polio fighters, including vaccine discoverer Jonas Salk, and a polio sufferer, Franklin D. Roosevelt, were honored in a Polio Hall of Fame.

In dedicating bronze busts of the 17, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis began a 2-day celebration of polio as the beginning of a new era in the control of disease—an era in which the National Foundation, supported by the American people, will go on to conquer other of mankind's ills.

About 300 doctors and other dignitaries attended the unveiling, including all except six of those honored in the Hall of Fame.

William Fay of Joliet, Ill., trustee of the National Foundation, said:

"Each of these men and women has left an indelible mark upon the history of our civilization."
He gave this thumbnail description of some of those in the Hall of Fame:

Jacob von Heine—Author of the first book on polio, published in Germany in 1840.

Oskar Medin—Swedish scientist who first recognized polio as an acute infection in 1890.

East Hampton Fire Loss Set at $30,000

East Hampton, Jan. 2 (AP)—Fire heavily damaged the Tocranogus Hotel on Lake Pocotungus here early today, driving the hotel's 15 to 20 guests into the 3 a.m. cold. None was injured.

Returning to headquarters later, he estimated the damage to the 30-year-old, 4-story wooden building at $30,000 to $40,000. He said the fire started in the kitchen, but its cause was undetermined.

The kitchen, part of the rear porch, six bedrooms and two bathrooms were wiped out. The dining room was damaged.

Free Formosa Aide Detained in Cairo

Tokyo, Jan. 2 (AP)—A Formosan independence advocate said here today he was held incommunicado for six days by Egyptian police to prevent his attending the Asian-African conference in Cairo.

B. K. Khan, self-styled minister for information and culture of the exiled "Provisional Government of the Republic of Formosa," returned to Tokyo tonight.

"Police picked me up as I stepped off the plane at Cairo," Khan said. "An officer asked me to sign a document in Arabic. I couldn't read it so I refused."

"They kept me at the airport police station until Dec. 31. I had to sleep in a chair. They did not even give me a blanket."

Khan went to the conference to make an appeal for Formosan independence. The so-called provisional government headed by ... Thomas Liao is composed of Formosans who proclaim they are struggling against Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and are equally opposed to Communist China.

"One Egyptian official informally told me that there was no misunderstanding about my detention."

Senators May Cut Joint Chiefs' Duties

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee has under consideration a series of proposals that could lead to legislation curtailing the Joint Chiefs of Staff of their military commands.

The subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, has heard contradictory testimony from military leaders and scientists about the amount of service rivalry that still exists under supposed unification of the armed forces.

But it can be said that most of the subcommittee members now are convinced there has been so much confusion and bickering among the military and satellite programs have been seriously handicapped.

Following this up in preparation for resumption of hearings Monday, the subcommittee's staff has delved far back into the records in its effort to determine where this conflict best can be dissolved.

While there is no unanimous opinion, the prevailing impression among subcommittee members seems to be that it might be best to start at the top of the military structure in any recommended shakeup. This could take the form of relieving the Joint Chiefs of command duties.

The Joint Chiefs, consisting of the heads of the three services, have the dual role of overall military planning and of operating the individual services. This has led to some suggestions that their loyalty to their individual services has interfered with their decisions on overall military plans, although Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, has denied this in public testimony.

In exploring the situation, the subcommittee's staff has gone back as far as the 1949 Hoover Commission report. At that time, a minority, of which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson was a member, recommended that Congress create a single chief of staff over the Joint Chiefs. The present chairman of the Joint Chiefs has only an advisory role.

The minority said the existing structure "operates to prevent our disinterested and able independent- (Continued on Page Nine)

New Year's Car Deaths Hit Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Year traffic deaths set a record for a one-day celebration of that holiday.

The total also exceeded the toll of 260 predicted by the National Safety Council (NSC).

But it fell far short of the 225 lives lost on the streets and roads in the recent one-day Christmas observance.

A tabulation today that included belated reports showed deaths between 6 p.m. Tuesday and midnight Wednesday numbered 157 in traffic, 14 in fires and 20 in accidents of other types for an overall total of 191.

Ned H. Dearborn, NSC president, commented:

"This toll is a jolting reminder that along with the threats of war from overseas and of new and bigger Sputniks from outer space, this nation faces a relentless enemy from within that is making a mockery of our claims to leadership in civilized living."

"How long can America endure or tolerate such a needless drain on its manpower? Let us hope that 1958 will bring a stop to this slaughter."

The previous high for a one-day New Year celebration since World War II was 110 in the 1947-48 transition, while the low mark for a 30-hour New Year holiday in the same period, was 93 in the 1946-47 transition. The all-time high in traffic deaths for any one-day holiday since World War II was 253 in Christmas 1946.

Ray and snowy streets and highways in much of the Midwest and rain in New England were considered added hazards to the heavy holiday travel.

The New Year traffic toll was far in excess of the total reported in an Associated Press survey in a non-holiday period last month. In the 30 hours from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10 to midnight Wednesday, Dec. 11, 84 persons were killed in highway accidents. Fire deaths numbered 15 and 27 persons were killed in other accidents for an overall total of 126.

New York led the state traffic toll by a wide margin, with more than 20 deaths in the New Year holiday. Ohio, which led the states in the Christmas count with 31 deaths, reported 8 highway deaths in the New Year holiday. No traffic fatalities were reported in more than a half dozen states.

11,800 DIE IN FIRES
Boston, Jan. 2 (AP)—The National Fire Protection Assn. reports that approximately 11,800 persons were killed in fires throughout the United States in 1957.

The non-profit fire-safety organization also reported last night that fires cost the United States a record loss of $1,270,000,000 last year.

In 1956, the United States had 10,600 fire deaths and $1,231,576,000 property loss.

Chances for lives in 1957 were reportedly about $135 million with approximately 600 fire deaths.

Road Deaths Drop For State in 1957

Hartford, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Connecticut highway death toll has dropped for the second consecutive year since Governor Abraham Ribicoff's anti-speeding program went into effect in 1956.

The Governor's office reported yesterday that highway accidents took 277 lives last year, 11 fewer than in 1956 and 47 fewer than in 1955, the year preceding the anti-speeding program.

A spokesman for the Governor said the drop in death toll has been achieved despite an increase of 510,000 licensed drivers, 65,000 registered vehicles, and a mileage increase of 1,250,000,000.

The above figures, the Governor's office said, is based on the sale of gasoline in the state.

Under the anti-speeding program, motorists automatically lose their licenses for 30 days for a first speeding conviction and for 60 days on a second.

In 1955, 324 persons died on the highways. In 1956, the number dropped to 288.

Albania Reds Force British Plane Down

London, Jan. 2 (AP)—The French legation in Communist Albania reported today that five men and a woman aboard a British cargo plane forced down by Red fighters are safe and well.

Britain has not had a diplomatic mission in the Balkan satellite of the Adriatic since 1946 and asked the French to investigate the downing of the plane. The Albanians accused the aircraft of trespassing.

The French minister in the Albanian capital of Tirana, Louis Keller, protested the incident and began negotiations for a quick settlement.

The DC4 Skymaster owned by British Independent Air Travel, Ltd., left Dueseldorf, West Germany, early Tuesday on a cargo flight toward the Soviet Sea to Damascus, Syria, carrying machinery. Its final destination was Singapore.

Tirana radio said the plane entered Albanian air space in the Semari River area.

New Turnpike Joins State Roads Network

Both Ends Opened in Rites Today

Greenwich, Jan. 2 (AP)—With the snip of a scissors that cut an 8-lane strip of white ribbon, the widow of a former Governor today officially opened the 129-mile, $464 million Connecticut Turnpike.

The latest addition to Connecticut's highway system, running from Greenwich to Killingly, provides a new link between New York and New England.

More than 300 official guests, shivering in 26 degree temperatures, saw Mrs. Elizabeth McConaughy cut the ribbon. She is the widow of Gov. James L. McConaughy, who died in office nearly 10 years ago.

She called the experience a "great and tremendous thrill."

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff hailed the turnpike as a great construction achievement. He said it will "spur the growth and development of a large area of the state and relieve traffic congestion."

The ribbon stretched across the turnpike near the exit leading to the Boston Post Rd. (U.S. Route 1).

For the next year, or perhaps more, turnpike traffic will have to use the Post Road into New York state pending completion of the last 15 miles of the New England section of the New York Thruway and completion of a bridge over the Blynn River.

At the turnpike's eastern end, on the Rhode Island border in Killingly, traffic will feed into U.S. Route No. 6, the main highway to Providence. Eventually proposed Massachusetts and Rhode Island highway projects will link the Connecticut Turnpike with the Massachusetts Turnpike to the north.

Hailed by Lodge
John Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Spain and Ribicoff's predecessor as governor, represented all of the state's living ex-Governors. He described the turnpike as a "splendid achievement" bringing the residents of three states closer together.

Lodge paid tribute to the late George C. Waldo, editor-in-chief of the Bridgeport Post and Telegraph, papers which long supported the turnpike project.

"I know he would have loved to have been here," Lodge said. "A last minute guest at the dedication who had just received a warm greeting when introduced by Gov. and Mrs. Ribicoff was 10-year-old (Continued on Page Ten)

Flying Governor Recalls Cry: 'Bring Farmers Out of the Mud'

By GEORGE BAZAN

Killingly, Jan. 2 (AP)—A former Connecticut Governor who was flying for business and pleasure aboard Lindbergh's epoch-making flight to Paris in 1927 today snipped a ribbon that officially opened the eastern end of the Connecticut Turnpike, the nation's newest toll highway.

Former Gov. Joan H. Trumbull of Plainville, who remembers when the cry in the state was for more roads to "bring the farmers out of the mud," today viewed a 129-mile superhighway spanning the state from the New York to the Rhode Island borders.

At 84, Gov. Trumbull is the state's oldest living Chief Executive, but his journey today through Connecticut's teeming, shoreline cities and northward through its rolling farmlands was "no trip out of the past for him."

As he started the ceremonial scissors with the old gubernatorial experience, his eye was as much on the future as it was when he foresaw the potentialities of aviation and became nationally known as "The Flying Governor."

Gov. Trumbull has yet to retire from active business and "public life."

He is quick to say that he doesn't do as much as he used to, but he still reports to his business office each weekday and is still a member of the State Aeronautics Commission.

His voice is firm, his mind quick and alert. He responds to a reporter's disconnected queries as nimble as he might have when Governor from 1925 to 1930.

As a State Senator and later as Governor, Trumbull helped to bring the "horseless carriages" out of the muddy rut of the past. "We got the farmers out of the mud and on to the highways—a much more dangerous place, he says, grimly, noting the appalling death toll on today's highways.

He told an interviewer he supposes highway deaths inevitably have to accompany progress, but he adds: "It's a pretty high price to pay for progress."

He halts the turnpike for what it may do to improve highway safety.

"The more of these roads we get the better it may be," he says.

Gov. Trumbull's appearance at the turnpike ceremonies received for many persons memories of a brilliant career that began near here in Ashford as a farmboy, the son of Irish immigrant parents.

The career included success in the business world as one of the founders and as president of the Trumbull Electric Co. in Plainville.

Year in Entertainment

New Formulas Tried With Mixed Results

Here are capsule reports on entertainment in 1957 and the trends for 1958 in movies, television and Broadway from AP specialists Bob Thomas, Charles Mercer and William Glover:

Hollywood
The movie industry sought its salvation in higher budgets during 1957. The year was flooded with routine entertainment, Hollywood gurgled big attractions would draw the public away from home sets. The results were mixed, both artistically and commercially. Producers were obviously dashed by the big returns of "The Ten Commandments" and "The Sandlot." But they found difficultly assembling the showmanship elements of those two winners.

There also appeared to be a market for small pictures of special exploitation value—quickly made pictures about teenagers, rock 'n' roll, and features from outer space.

Hollywood looks to the new year with one great hope: that pay TV will bring a new era of prosperity.

New York
Crystal ballgazers see no great changes forthcoming in the nature of television entertainment in 1958. The past year has seen a record number of Westerns on the home screen, spurred chiefly by ABC-TV's "Gunsmoke" and NBC-TV's "Wagon Train."

It also was a year of a record number of variety shows. There was more than escapist visible on the TV screen, however. These were—and continue to be—some of the outstanding regular programs presented by all the networks.

Broadway
Broadway spent the theatrical year in a golden day of eager ticket buyers and copious production cash. Less glittering was the qualitative output from fresh stage texts, notable tunes or new talent.

The playhouses received 55 dramas, comedies and musicals. Of these 31 departed in haste. The hits that left the classics and most experiment to the lustre of Broadway movement. There were, however, new trips from William Saroyan and "The Time of Your Life," the year's prestige grand slam was scored by Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night." A late arrival that lived up to the billing was Ketti Frings' dramatization of Thomas Wolfe's "Look Homeward, Angel," the general production of 1958 season from the Manhattan neighborhood of significant innovations.

Senators May Cut Joint Chiefs' Duties

ten brilliant—high ranking military men from performing the best service of which they are capable for their country."

A 1953 report of the Rockefeller Committee on Defense Reorganization recommended that the existing system "be revised to remove the command function from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in order to enable them to work more effectively as a unified planning agency."

This was essentially what Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development proposed in urging the subcommittee to recommend that the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gavin suggested they be replaced as a planning group by men of three or four star rank who would hold no command functions at the time and would never return to their individual services.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, former head of the wartime Office of Scientific Research and Development, also proposed a central military policy planning board, made up of military men already retired, or about to retire.

Air Force Lt. Gen. James M. Doolittle (ret.) told the Johnson subcommittee there ought to be a Pentagon reorganization leading to the formation of a single general staff for the three branches of the service.

Doolittle said he thinks eventually this country will have to go to an "old type general staff with a head." He said the office of the Secretary of Defense ought to be strengthened with an advisory military staff to help him resolve differences between the services.

But any drastic change in the present Joint Chiefs system tending toward a stronger single general staff is likely to meet opposition from Chairman Russell (D-Conn.) of the parent Armed Services Committee.

"I'm not a single department man," Russell said in a year-end interview. He declined to comment directly on the subcommittee hearings, but said he has always been rather leery of the old Prussian general staff idea. One branch can dominate any general staff."

Russell said tighter unification of the rival Army, Navy and Air Force Departments is necessary but this could be accomplished under existing laws. The President could do this under his broad powers for reorganization of government departments and agencies, he said, or the secretary of defense could move under the present Uniformed Act.

"We must trust the executive branch with most administrative responsibilities under our form of government," he added.

December Climate

Hartford, Jan. 2 (AP)—December was the warmest in Connecticut in 40 years and the second warmest in the state since 1931. This was the gift of the monthly weather summary issued Tuesday by Dr. A. Hoyt Pack, state climatologist of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Mr. Pack said temperatures during the month averaged six degrees below normal, with the exception of higher elevations in the state. He said temperatures dropped below 32 only twice during the month. The lows were in the 5 to 10-degree range, the highs were 60.

Albania Reds Force British Plane Down

Air Force of the People's Republic of Albania, using the established international signals, that it had violated Albanian Air Space and was forced to land on an Albanian airfield, the broadcast said.

The "Vlone-Domani" area of Albania projects westward to narrow the Adriatic at its mouth so that a plane flying down the sea would have to turn to avoid going over Albania.

The Italian news agency Ansa said the plane was "tricked" on radar at Brindisi, Italy, just across the neck of the Adriatic from Vlone.

Two jet fighters of Albania's Soviet-equipped Air Force were seen on radar to intercept the Air frigate, Ansa said.

Tirana Radio said six persons were on the plane but did not disclose whether they were under investigation or arrest. A diplomatic source in Tirana told a spokesman by telephone: "All members of the crew are in good health."

The plane's owners said three pilots were aboard, including a managing director of the company.

Shaded Area Depicts Land on Option for Bolton Schools

Bolton School Group Signs Options on 32-Acre Tract

The School Sites Committee, State Department of Education, in which the tract is recommended for a school site, inspected the property Dec. 12 and found all land suitable, with one gentle slope "which should make for good drainage." He also said the environment is excellent, the location central and easily accessible. He said the tract is well developed and the price was reasonable.

The Board of Education which recently forecast the immediate need for a junior high school and more elementary classrooms. The Board foresees the need also for a senior high school in the near future.

The land now under option is owned by Leslie Bolton, Olive Toomey, and James Rogers and is expected to sell for between $33,000 and $35,000, or about $1,000 an acre. Final cost figures depend on the results of a survey of Leslie Bolton's land to determine the exact acreage.

Bolton owns at least 22 acres of the optioned land and possibly more. The Toomey land is nearly seven acres and Rogers' land is two acres, fronting on North Rd.

The options, secured in the name of Rooney Hutchinson, chairman of the School Sites Committee, run for 60 days. They were prepared by Atty. Louis Polvora of Manchester. The committee reports it will letter from Dr. George Sanborn, associate consultant of the School Building Section, State Department of Education, in which he states the tract is recommended for a school site.

The committee met this morning at 8:30 with a representative of the State Department of Health to make the necessary arrangements for the approval of the local Board of Education in respect to location, site, environment and safety factors. It has also been reviewed by the Town Planning Commission, the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Finance.

The letter boarder to Cooper's Hill Hospital, Mr. Thomas, the former Lois Cooper, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Cooper of Birch Mountain Rd. The lady was born on the first wedding anniversary of the Thomases. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Thomas of New Haven.

Sense and Nonsense

What would the world be without its little jokes? She wouldn't be alive. The two men were happily contemplating their hunting trip. First Hunter: 'I'll bring the pure and blankets. You bring the provisions. The next morning they met at their appointed spot. The first hunter was laden down with guns, shells, sleeping bags, etc. The second was carrying two loaves of bread and two cans of whiskey. A few people get up bright and early, but most of us just get up. When a woman loves a man his head thinks for her heart. The 'landlady' is a popular bawdiesque in the mountains made a point of asking her departing guests to write something in her visitor's book. She was very proud of some of the names of the people inscribed in it, and of the nice things that they wrote: 'Landlady—But there is one thing I can't understand and that is what a screw-driving man put in the book after stopping here. Visitor:—How old are you? Youngster:—That is a difficult question. The latest personal survey available shows my psychological age to be 15, my moral age 4, my anatomical age 7, and my physiological age, I suppose, however, that you refer to, my chronological age, which is 18. That is an old-fashioned, that I seldom think of it any more. Wise:—Well, what happened when you were asked, 'What is your age?'' Robby:—Why, he was like a lamb.

It Won't Be Too Late In 19 and 58

New York (AP)—Once a year we try to be a fortune teller, and once again we must say: "The year ahead is fortunate."

It is a welcome reading in a crystal ball too often cloudy. The usual things in light will distort the picture. Things like earthquakes, people, weather and other things are not included.

The endless changing pattern of change itself will define our lives as always, closing doorways on the family by a pull and by a pushing away down to low and high flying days and other ways.

There, a man will invent a doll which he will guarantee will not weep, sleep, cry, weep, cry, weep, cry. It will be called "Dumb Doll," and it will sell 12 million copies. Children will cry to have this strange toy, so different from themselves.

In the National League it is said to have 15,000 members and is the American League after the Yankees. It is the only sport team in Kansas City less than a year old.

There are other possibilities: In the year ahead thinking, they replace bowling as the national pastime; it must also consider that people weary of outside entertainment will look more into themselves for retirement. This could build larger stadiums within the heart, or it could happen in another year. A gain will be made in 1958.

For the rest of it, the pattern of 1958 seems reasonably clear: In North Carolina to March a lady driver will hear a strange buzzing in her car. On investigation it will turn out to be a snake.

In Minnesota in June another lady will hear a strange noise in her car, and it will turn out to be a baby alligator, and the question will be: How did it get there? In California in September a wife will unexpectedly greet her husband returning from a business trip, and there'll be a gift in the front seat.

New Year's Car Deaths Hit Record

Washington (AP)—Although cars usually go to market when they are 26 weeks old, Government researchers have found that a 16-week-old bird roasts well and has less fat and up to 8 per cent more edible meat in proportion to its size than the older bird.

The NEPA said approximately 6,000 United States fire deaths in 1957 occurred in buildings and 4,500 in automobiles, airplanes, boats, field fires and other non-building fires.

Penalties Galore as Montreal Edges Boston

27 Dealt Out By Officials In Beantown

Boston, Jan. 2 (AP)—Montreal's pace-setting, Canadian, and the Boston Bruins still were licking their wounds today after one of the roughest National Hockey League games with memory of local fans.

Twenty-seven penalties, including seven minors and 10-minutes suspensions, were dealt out by officials last night in Montreal's 6-2 victory, the highest score in 56, but a game total of 20 is the exception rather than the rule.

La Rose, Boston's right wing, was taken to Carney Hospital in Montreal following a fight with Montreal's center, Bernie Goulet, for an operation on a broken thumb on the ring finger of his right hand. La Rose also sprang five away penalties in the emergency repair of his left eye.

Teammate Jack Branda was scheduled for X-rays of the right hand damaged when he clattered into Montreal's defenseman, Frank Armstrong, of the Bruins had a large purple swollen area around his left eye.

Six penalties were collected and collected six minutes off the clock and Moore came off with multiple facial cuts.

Their injuries for the most part were minor. Boston's defenseman, Bill Johnston, who was free-for-all last night, minutes, cleared both hands and knees three times from the penalty box.

Coaches glared when Armstrong and Andre Provost tumbled into the ice.

Fifteen seconds later, Boston's top two ranked college basketball players, Joe and Tommy, were together on the boards to touch off the main event.

Four police officers ventured on the ice in an effort to aid officials in the removal of the players, who were being carried off by stretcher. One of them was being carried off by stretcher.

The Duke University star, who had a half of blows even after hostilities were ended, it was an additional six minutes, hoping to be carried off by stretcher.

High-Scoring Contest Expected Here Friday

Although most of the attention will be focused on Bridgeport's diminutive Frenk Viera Friday night when the Highlanders engage the Green Bay Pros in a Connecticut Basketball Assn. game at the Verplanck School, several other visitors will be watching.

Indians Play In Silver City Friday Night

Perhaps Coach Ed Zatorsky's green squad will prove a "Pony Club" of the road this year. The answer may be known tomorrow night when the Indians engage the Green Bay Pros in a Connecticut Basketball Assn. game at the Verplanck School, several other visitors will be watching.

Another shoe shooter, Jack O'Connell (5-11), ex-Fairfield University star, will lead the team in the backcourt. Viera, one of the country's leading amateur basketball players while performing at Quinnipiac College and Duquesne were teammates of the Bridgeport Central High School quints which captured the New England championship in 1950.

reserves with the high-scoring duo of Fred and Wally Babin (6-6) of the University of Bridgeport and Roger Lushbaugh (6-6) of the University of Bridgeport. Lushbaugh, who has a 44.3 percent shooting average, is expected to be the team's leading scorer. He has scored 100 points in a game and has scored 100 points in a game.

The Indians have played twice at home, including the Alumni Center and have yet to show a win. But, in its lone start away, from home the Red and White produced a thrilling 57-52 triumph over a West Virginia team.
