Brooks Makes Stand Against Newest Elementary School

School Board Member Albert Brooks spoke against the proposed elementary school at the Board of Education meeting last night. He pointed out that the Board had never voted that there was a need for a new elementary school, but only asked that future action be taken. After a discussion, The Board will send a congratulatory letter to the Selectmen on their action in planning for a new school.

Breaking The Package?

Responsibility for the breaking-up of the United Nations sponsored disarmament talks at London last summer has never been allocated. The story could be told, it was, once more the mutual responsibility of both the United States and Russia.

Boy Scouts Net over $380 In Yearly Drive for Funds

John Hagan, chairman of the local Boy Scout Troop Committee, has announced $380.96 was contributed by townpeople in the scout drive for funds.

The amount is only slightly less than contributions received last year when the total reached about $425. He attributed the smaller amount raised this year in some part to the adverse weather conditions.

Hagan expressed the gratitude of the committee and the Boy Scouts for the fine support given the drive by local citizens.

Plans were made Monday night for the father-son overnight stay at Camp Plover in New Hartford this weekend. Two cars and a truck loaded with boys and equipment are expected to leave the Community Hall at 9 a.m. Friday.

The group will stay at the camp Friday and Saturday nights, returning to town after dinner Sunday.

Stephen Drizger, Hartford Eagle Scout, fascinated local Scouts with his report on the Valley Forge Jamboree and Golden Jubilee in England last summer.

Drizger showed an excellent collection of color slides and displayed "loads of souvenirs." He began his "traveling" with a 3-day preparation stay at a Litchfield County camp for the week-long Valley Forge experience.

His group then sailed for England where they arrived ahead of other units and spent several days touring England while the remainder of the group waited at a U.S. Air Force base.

The club said yesterday "this may be the end of skating this year." He described the ice as "moo ice," a mixture of slush and honey-combed, the type of ice that will not support any weight.

He emphasized that the pond is in a dangerous condition until and if "we get a good freeze" and cautioned that no one should walk on the pond.

Rt. 15 Rezone Opponents Fail To File Appeal

No appeal was taken on the Toland County Superior Court decision which upheld the zoning commission of the Vernon Fire District in its rezoning of 63 acres on Rt. 15 for industry.

The period for appeal expired yesterday. The decision upholding the District was handed down Feb. 11.

Charles Brown, zoning commission chairman, said today he hopes an industrial commission of factory men from the city and the fire district can be set up to promote the area for industry.

He said Vernon "obviously needs industry" and the commission was pleased that the court agreed with his plan for industry along Rt. 15.

Mr. Brown said he will now proceed to get photographs of the land and plot maps. He will also determine where access roads might be located and whether the land is feasible for industrial purposes.

The settlement received yesterday ended a Hartford County Superior Court trial of the action he had brought against John B. Carbone of 46 Bradford St. The case had gone to trial before a jury on Thursday.

Mrs. Simons claimed to have suffered a broken leg and eight fractured ribs on April 6, 1956, when a cat driven by Carbone climbed the sidewalk in front of her home and struck her.

Buyer Sees Economy Status In Reduced Purchase Power

By RAM DAWSON
New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—To most of us today the state of the economy isn't something to be understood by the use of big words—deflation, recession, production.

It simply is that in spite of the talk of surplus and easier money, our pocketbook doesn't stretch any farther than it did a short time back.

That may be because retail prices tend to stay high although commodity and industrial material prices have fallen. Or it may be that our income has been cut by shorter work weeks on layoffs. For those who go through both things are going in the wrong direction.

Not do the big words help the jobless man understand why he can't find work.

Experts disagree.

Even the experts can't agree about how the big words apply to why some of the old economic laws don't seem to function as they once did. And when you listen to the politicians discuss whether we are going, you get confused, indeed. Inflation seems to be linked—on paper at least—to the average man's inflation just means high prices and he can't see that inflation is linked at all. Certainly he can see no deflation, since to him deflation means today's money is worth more than it was a few months ago. To the economist, price deflation means the leveling of the supply of money and credit so that there's more of it to compete for. When money and credit are plentiful, prices go up. The visible result is higher prices, especially for the necessities. The most desirable goods are

Whites to Greet Negro Neighbors

Norwalk, Feb. 25 (AP)—A resident of an exclusive all-white neighborhood is planning a small reception for some new neighbors.

All the average consumer can see, however, is that money may have given way to slump, but retail price inflation hasn't given way to price deflation.

Armed Boy of 15 Held in Robbery

Westerly, R. I., Feb. 25 (AP)—A nervous 15-year-old boy today was accused of robbing a food market of $150 with a shotgun last night.

The boy was captured an hour and 15 minutes after the robbery at the Groton, Conn., end of the New London Bridge state troopers with drawn guns.
